While beside him brimful of hope's nectar
Untouched stood the goblet of life.
God knew all about it, how noble,
How gentle he was and how brave,
How bright his possible future,
Yet put him to sleep in his grave.
God knew all about those who love Him,
How bitter the trial must be,
And right through it all God is loving
And knows so much better than we.
—Ever lovingly remembered by his mother.

Fighter Base Opening Soon

OTTAWA, Aug. 21 (CP). — Opening of an important RCAF fighter base at North Bay, is expected to be announced soon.

Indications are that it will be used to train pilots and navigators in use of the new CF100 Canuck, the long-range, all-weather jet fighter designed for defence of Canada's wide open spaces, particularly the Arctic.

The first Canucks are expected to come into RCAF use fairly soon.

North Bay, 175 air miles north of Toronto, is in a good strategic position for an operational base for northern defence, too.

Destroyer Nootka Home From Korea

HALIFAX, Aug. 21 (CP). — The Canadian destroyer Nootka arrived home from Korea today. The blue and white flag of the United Nations rippled from her masthead and she looked trim and unscarred as she steamed toward a quiet welcome at the navy dockyard.

The Tribal destroyer, under command of Cmdr. A. B. Fraser-Harris of Halifax, logged more than 62,000 miles and captured seven enemy junks on her nine-month tour of duty.

Biggest Bull Ever In Canada

Visitors to Peterborough's Exhibition this year will have the opportunity to see the highest priced Guernsey bull ever purchased or sold in Canada, Crossland Farm's prized Imperator.

Imperator was originally imported into Canada by a London breeder, as a calf, at a price of $5,200. Crossland purchased the bull from London at a price of $6,000, making him Canada's highest priced Guernsey bull. He won the Grand Championship and the Senior Championship at London in 1948, and the Senior and Grand Championships at Markham in 1949.

Crossland Farms are now selling the artificial insemination services of the bull in Canada. The most noted customer is the Agricultural College in Truro, Nova Scotia, who have several cattle by Imperator. Several other breeders in Ontario also use the services of the famed bull.

A smaller bull, and also one of the prize animals in the Crossland herd is Crossland's Imperator's Don. He won first prize as senior calf at the Markham fair in 1950, and also won honourable mention in the All Canadian honours for a junior bull.

The herd, along with many other fine cattle may be seen at the extreme north end of the cattle barn, in the east end of the exhibition grounds.

Tried To Force Count Home

MONTREAL, Aug. 21 (CP)— An attorney for Count Jacques De Bernonville claimed today that French authorities were attempting to force the count's return to his native land to face a treason trial at the time he flew to Brazil from Montreal last Friday.

"I have learned that there have been goings-on between the French and Canadian governments to force De Bernonville to go back to France," Attorney Jacques Perrault declared.

De Bernonville, who entered Canada illegally in 1946, was engaged in a legal battle against deportation proceedings when he left Montreal. He had sought to remain in Canada on the grounds he was a political refugee, under sentence of death in France on charges of wartime collaboration with the Germans. De Bernonville denied the charges and said he had no chance to defend himself before a people's court which tried him in absentia.

Perrault said the count hal been offered a job in Brazil and probably would not attempt to return to Canada where a final judgment on his deportation order is expected next month.

Chiang Fires 2 Men Serving In US Posts

TAIPEH, Formosa, Aug. 21 — (AP) — The Chinese Nationalist government fired two of its representatives in the United States today and ordered them home immediately.

First, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek suspended Lt.-Gen. Mao Pang-chu as deputy commander of the Chinese Nationalist air force and delegate to the United Nations Military Staff Committee.

Chiang in a mandate accused Mao of "dereliction of duties and disobedience of orders." A government spokesman said Mao had failed to account for $19,440,000 of funds to buy equipment for the air force and to train its personnel.

Next, air force headquarters announced dismissal of Col. Hsiang Weir-suan, executive assistant to Mao, and ordered him home to face charges of dereliction of duty and suspicion of being a Communist agent.

It was doubted here that either would return voluntarily to Formosa.

Movie Star's Son 15 In Paternity Suit

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Aug. 21 (AP).—The 15-year-old son of the late movie star, Richard Dix, has been named in a paternity suit filed in behalf of a child expected to be born next month to Jo-Ann Beaman, 16.

The suit was filed yesterday by Mrs. Marianne Y. Beaman for her unmarried daughter. She asked $1,000 medical expenses, support for the baby and legal fees. She stated that Richard Dix, Jr., has admitted fathering the expected child.

750 Workers Strike In Tobacco Plant

GRANBY, Que., Aug. 21 (CP)— Some 750 employees of the Empire plant of the Imperial Tobacco Company went on strike today, joining those in Montreal and Hamilton who walked out a week ago.

The number now on strike is roughly 3,700.

Close to 3,000 went on strike last week at the main plant and the General Cigar Company in Montreal and about 400 at the Tuckett plant in Hamilton.

The workers are asking a wage increase of 10 cents an hour. The company has offered three cents, with bonuses based on the cost of living.

Radio Draw For Jr. Farmers

To help finance their work of sponsoring the boys' and girls' clubs in Peterborough county, Junior Farmers are selling tickets on a radio at the Exhibition.

They are also offering stencils which they will cut for such practical purposes as identifying milk cans, mail boxes, crates and so on.

The Juniors will have a tent of their own as one of the rural headquarters at the Exhibition. Seats will be provided for people to meet their friends.

Peterborough Juniors have assumed a large part of the responsibility of the directing of the calf and wheat clubs, forestry and tractor clubs. They also assist in carrying out the program of Thursday—Junior Farmers' Day.

Their work is widely known among the farmers of the district who can lend a hand this week by buying stencils for their home use, and also picking up tickets on the radio. Best way to help the Junior cause is to buy a book of tickets.

Union To Make New Approach

HAMILTON, Aug. 21 (CP). — Although city council Monday night rejected the plea of city office workers for further cost-of-living bonuses this year, the "outside" workers will make a new approach to board of control.

Officials of Local Five, Hamilton Civic Employees' Union (CCL) said the new approach was decided at a meeting Monday night. The local includes garbage loaders, sewage and waterworks maintenance men.

Today members of Hamilton Municipal Employees' Association Local 167, were smarting under the rejection by city council of at least a partial gesture toward compensation for the rising cost of living.

All employees are tied to a ceiling of 180 over which the city is not obliged to bonus them for the cost of living.

Rita Says No Chance Of Reconciliation

NEW YOK, Aug. 21 (AP)— Rita Hayworth's lawyer said today there is "absolutely no chance of a reconciliation" between the actress and her husband, Prince Aly Khan, and that she probably will file for a Nevada divorce "within a week."

Lawyer Bartley Crum arrived from Paris by plane at New York international airport.

Asked if the reason for the break between the couple was "because of Aly's gambling and staying out nights," Crum replied:

"I will say this. Any American girl likes her husband to come home at night."

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stinson enjoyed a few days' vacation recently at their cottage on Lake Scugog.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Stewart and Mr. Bruce Stewart left on Friday for a motor trip through the maritime provinces. They were accompanied by Mrs. Donald Lowes, Bethany.

The board of directors of the Durham County Co-Operative Health Association held their August meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rae Stewart, Ida, on Thursday evening. There were 12 members present. At the close of the business discussion the host and hostess assisted by Mrs. Robert Moffat, Orono, served lunch.

UK Railmen Ask Increase

LONDON, Aug. 21 (Reuters) — Half a million British railroadmen today handed in a pay claim that would add about £14,000,000 to the annual payroll of the nationalized roads, already operating in the red.

They acted soon after National Trade Union leaders, in a special report, warned the Labor government that wages would have to go up to keep pace with rising living costs.

The Trades Union Congress, which has 8,000,000 members, officially abandoned its three-year policy of withholding pay demands with publication of the report Monday night.

The railroadmen are asking for an over-all increase of 10 per cent in wages. They already have had a 7½-per cent increase this year.

Other unions are drafting wage increase demands in the wake of the TUC report.

Ontario Fire Hazard Reported Medium

TORONTO, Aug. 21 (CP). — The Ontario Lands and Forests Department reported today that the fire hazard across the province is generally medium.

Nine fires are in the mopping-up stages.

Of these, four are in the Sudbury district, two around Cochrane, and one in each of the White River, Port Arthur and Sault Ste. Marie districts.

Fined $200, Costs For Illegal Possession

KITCHENER, Aug. 21 (CP) — Alfred Hergott of Waterloo was fined $200 and costs Monday when he pleaded guilty to illegal possession of beer.

A Maryhill man, Kenneth May, 21, was fined $50 and costs when he pleaded guilty to supplying liquor to minors.

Police said May had obtained 12 bottles of beer for two youths 18 and 19 years old.

Two Pastors Sent To Jail

VAL d'OR, Que., Aug. 21 (CP) —Two Regular Baptists who attempted to hold a street meeting Saturday were sent to jail for two months Monday. They were charged under a Val d'Or traffic bylaw.

Jailed at Amos, Que., were the Rev. Lorne T. Heron, pastor of Val d'Or Regular Baptist Church, and Howard Killick, a student at the Central Baptist Seminary, Toronto.

It was the fourth sentence for Heron, who was released from the Abitibi county jail only last week after serving a two months' sentence imposed for a similar offence last June.

Meanwhile, the Rev. Leslie Barnhart, pastor of the Regular Baptist Church at Lasarre, Que., charged that he had been given a "rough time" Saturday evening as he sought to conduct his usual street meeting in that town, just west of Val d'Or.

He said he was dragged from the meeting place, first by Chief of Police Edouard Carpentier, and two special constables and forced to leave.

Housewife Writes Songs, Poetry

CLIFFORD, Ont.—(CP)—Mrs. Elvira Keeso, a housewife in this town near Owen Sound, has written two songs in collaboration with a Hollywood song publisher and believes they may soon be on the market all over the continent.

Mrs. Keeso, who has been writing poetry and her own music for years, wrote music and lyrics for a children's play at a nearby church a few months ago. A former Hollywood song writer who attended a performance was so impressed with Mrs. Keeso's work that she worked with Mrs. Keeso on two of the songs and passed them on to a recording firm.

Now they've been recorded and Mrs. Keeso has been asked to prepare others. The two are "My Make Believe World" and "On the Board Walk." The former is a love song, telling the story of a lonely young man's dreams, but the second is a lively Easter piece.

CPC Cooking Classes On CHEX Stage

Of special interest to women should be the cooking school to be conducted by Miss Brenda York, dietitian with Canada Packers Company, Toronto, on the CHEX stage at Peterborough Exhibition, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

This distaff feature will be at 2.30 p.m. and 7.30 p.m. each of the three days. It is designed to be helpful to women by presenting the details of new recipes and short cuts in cooking. Necessary kitchen equipment will be set up on the CHEX stage, south of the manufacturers' building.

These cooking "classes" will run around an hour to an hour and a half, and incidentally there will be twelve prizes given away at each show.

"CHEAP? I DON'T OWN NUTHIN 'CHEAP except you," tough millionaire junk dealer Harry Brock tells his babe, Billie Dawn. But dumb Billie shows Harry that she wasn't born yesterday and doesn't come cheap. These principals in this week's Summer Theatre production, "Born Yesterday," are Mary Sheppard and Murray Westgate, newcomers to the Queen Mary Stage. They give outstanding perormances.—Examiner Staff Photo.

Dim Blonde Puts Democracy To Work; Audience Keen

By T. J. ALLEN

Initial interest in "Born Yesterday" centred on the two newcomers to the Summer Theatre, both experienced Canadian actors: Mary Sheppard and Murray Westgate. Miss Sheppard first appeared in her two mink coats at once—at least the magnificence made the skins seem like double and mink. There was a spontaneous female suspirant Ahhh from the crowded house Monday when the cope and the girl in it came on stage, as Billie Dawn the lovely dumb concubine on whom a Pygmalion transformation was worked during the play. The other principal, Murray Westgate as Harry Brock, the millionaire junkman plotting to junk Washington and democratic government, took only three phrases to justify his $100,000-a-year lawyer's description that "He has always lived at the top of his voice."

The special opening interest quickly merged with the play and the whole company's outstanding production of it. The play is not a frothy comedy-turn; it is serious, with a politico-social theme designed for Americans; an exercise in democratic instruction concocted by a deft New York playwright whose sentimental intensity of belief in the American framework of government is relieved from mawkishness by his wit and stagecraft.

Canadian Translation

The translation of this paly to a Canadian stage is interesting. It of course loses some of its emotional jabs, but one may be surprised by the familiarity which even a Peterborough audience displays of American institutions and Washington politics circa 1945-50. One wonders, too, at the maturity of Americans who can take an exposure of Washington like this without wincing. What would happen in Canada if Ottawa's weaknesses were as bitingly portrayed as this? Would there be a cry of lese majesty? Probably we would laugh embarrassedly, for our parliamentary democracy seems to be more ingrained and sure, less self-conscious and solemn. It is not learned and taught as a man like playwright Kanin seems to have acquired it.

Mary Sheppard gave a magnificent and extraordinarily personable performance; she was as lovely a creature as Billie Dawn, and quite properly not as stupid as dumb millionaire Harry Brock thought and made her. I thought her lapses between tutored and untutored language and her facial expression were not sufficiently studied, particularly in act 2, where sometimes her voice and gesture were more lady-like than they should have been.

Broad, Wide and Tough

Murray Westgate as uncouth Harry Brock played broad, wide and tough. He has an arresting voice and presence and it is craft and his own personality — not mere loudness — which do it, in fact, he played with subtlety. But I sensed something lacking in the first act. His loping pace took too long to establish itself. He seemed spasmodic and not merely the slow-firing mind of a groping yet sure junkman, whose power was swelling to envelop Washington senators and legislation. It almost seemed that he was fluffing lines and cues. This awkward pace put the first of Act 1 out of kilter.

Frank Perry was the incorruptible newsman, tutor and subsequently lover to Billie Dawn; the true Voice of America. He did a good job in a part which was not first rate. (His spectacles reminded an habitue of his schoolboy role in 'The Browning Version'.) Bill Needles as the 'bought' ex-Assistant Attorney General, now undermined by alcohol and loutish Brock, established an effective, quiet personality. It was a good reading of the part, but I felt that he could have given a bit more evidence of controlled inebriation at the opening.

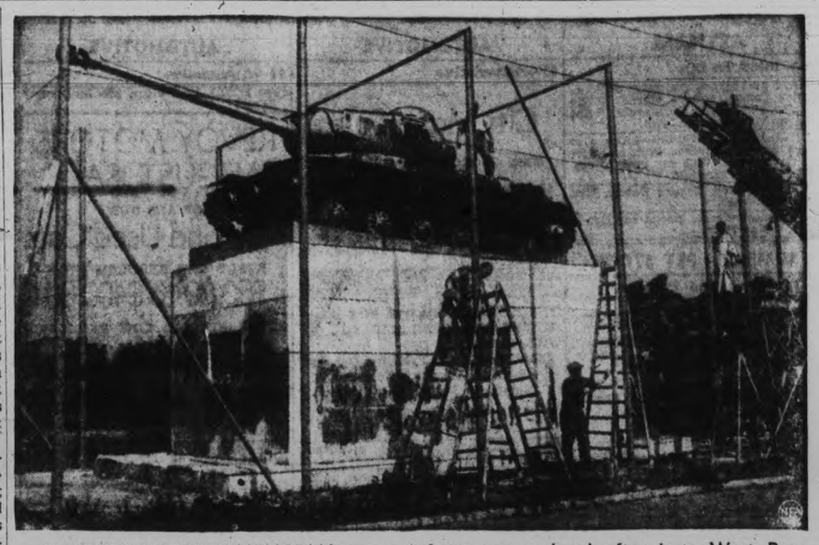
Supporting parts were taken by Peter Mews, Ann Murray, Ron Bailey, Cal Whitehead and Pat Atkinson. Physically, Whitehead and Bailey could have exchanged parts with profit to the production. Young Frank Jobbitt was the hotel boy.

Excellant Set

The set designed by Peter Mews was excellent; it deserved several rounds of applause. I like particularly the stairway effect and the lighting, both making possible remarkable exits and curtains.

The criticisms above may seem carping, but the total effect was so good that they can only highlight its lustre. There were many wonderful comic passages — for instance the miming over the card table between the two 'couth' principals.

The production it is among the best of the season.



'OFFENSIVE' SOVIET MEMORIAL gets a fence—American authorities in Berlin ordered an 18-foot ire fence built around this Soviet war memorial tank erected by the Reds soon after Berlin fell in what later became the American sector. The fence was ordered after irate West Berliners tried to burn the monument, resulting in exchange of sharp notes between U.S. and Russian occoupation authorities. The Reds rejected a polite suggestion that the offending tank be removed.

Negro 15 Sentenced To Death For Rape

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Aug. 21 (AP)—Criminal Court Judge C. E. Chillingworth sentenced a 15-year-old negro to death Monday for raping a white woman, but said he would ask the state pardon board to commute the sentence to life imprisonment without parole.

The death sentence for Otis Neal Jackson, who was convicted of raping a 23-year-old mother here last Jan. 18, was made mandatory when a jury returned its verdict without a recommendation of mercy.

Judge Chillingworth said he would recommend the commutation because of the boy's age.

Jackson testified at his trial that he had the woman's consent.

capped by the stodgy man-in-motion rule common to the American game which enables even the spectators to discern which way the ball has gone now and then.

Anybody's Guess

Just before the T-formation quarterback takes the ball, his four fellow backs burst into motion like a covey of quail, going every which way. The ball-handler may appear to hand it to as many as three of them in the wild melee which follows. Your best guess is, probably, that he still has the thing concealed about his person and will, presently, throw a pass.

While there is considerable good, honest ball-lugging in the Canadian game, the passing predominates, even to a slightly greater extent than in the modern American version. The reason is, primarily, that the Canadian team gets only three downs in which to make 10 yards instead of the Americans' four.

Faster Game

"You've got to do it in a hurry if you're going to do it at all," explains Ratterman, who recently jumped New York Yanks of the United States National professional League in favor of a $20,000 contract with the Montreal club "A long series of first downs is almost unknown in this game, which I think is faster than the American."

Ratterman already looks as if he had been quarter-backing a Canadian team all his life. He is one of the game's greatest passers, and he takes delight in the fact that the field used in Canada is nearly 12 yards wider than the American. That extra space is wonderful, George says.

Outside the fact that there's an extra hand in the backfield and that the offensive team gets only three downs, the principal characteristic of the Canadian game is the absence of downfield blocking. Once a ball carrier is 10 yards beyond the line of scrimmage he's strictly on his own.

Given Chance

The American linemen playing in the Canadian league like the fact that the defensive players have to stand a yard away from their opposite numbers. It gives the offensive man a chance for his life.

"Those guys just can't reach out and slap your face into the ground like they do down home," remarked import Ray Cicia, a guard who joined Montreal last year.

The scoring is different, but not enough to matter. A touchdown is good for five points, instead of the American six. A field goal counts the customary three. A punt which goes into the end zone and is not run back beyond the line is good for one point. This makes for some spectacular action, and Canadian fans love it.

Not so many single points are scored as one might think, because when a team gets stalled within shooting distance of the goal line it goes, naturally, for a field goal.

There are no time outs in Canada except for injuries. Must be wonderful for the spectators.

To Abolish System

TOKYO, Aug. 21 (AP). — The Japanese Government has announced it will abolish the "convertible yen" system after Dec. 31. This special currency was created for the convenience of foreign traders in obtaining daily necessities, so that they could avoid the red tape of converting dollars into regular yen and since they are ineligible to use occupation military scrip.

Ontario MPP Builds His Own Home

HEARST—(CP)—A one-man solution to the housing shortage is Marcel Leger, Progressive Conservative member of the Ontario Legislature for Cochrane North.

Three years ago he decided he needed a house for himself, his wife and their four sons and one daughter. "Money was the problem so I decided if we were going to have a house at all, I would have to do the building myself," he explains.

The frame shell of the house was partly built when he was elected to the legislature in 1948. Working alone in the evenings he managed to get the roof on and to make the place habitable before the snows fell that year.

Last Summer he erected a stone exterior wall on the north side and this Summer he's finished the job.

Many Interruptions

"I was pretty slow," he admits, but he explained the duties of his office often interrupted his house-building.

Besides digging the cellar, doing all the carpentry and plumbing, Mr. Leger did the plastering and paperhanging, made the doors and sashes and then painted the works. Up to that time his only building experience was as an amateur carpenter.

Their pleasant home overlooking the Mattawiskia River features a boys' dormitory, a large sunny room for his sons.

Mr. Leger was brought up on a farm at Plantagenet near Ottawa and came north in 1937. He taught school for 10 years before becoming the district welfare officer.

Railroad Line World's Smallest At Huntsville

HUNTSVILLE, Ont. (CP). — The world's smallest commercially operated railway is the proud claim of the Huntsville and Lake of Bays line. Dubbed the portage railroad its rolling stock puffs steadily over 42-gauge rails, 1⅛ miles between North and South Portage in the Lake of Bays district of Ontario.

The little line runs over a hump separating Fairy Lake and Lake of Bays to complete steamer and motor-launch services operating on the two lakes.

The rolling stock consists of two small engines, two flat-cars and one box-car. Passengers ride in what were once Toronto and Atlantic City horse-drawn streetcars. The railroad has its own telephone line, roundhouse, water tank and terminals.

Runs Three Months

Running only three months of the year the service last year carried 15,000 passengers and 500 tons of freight as well as mail. Fares have risen in line with general mosts everywhere. Now 50 cents, in 1947 a return fare was only 15 cents.

But despite the increased cost per ride the tiny train remains a favorite with summer visitors. However, though summer passengers are now its main source of revenue, it was originally built to haul tanbark over the portage.

45 Years Old

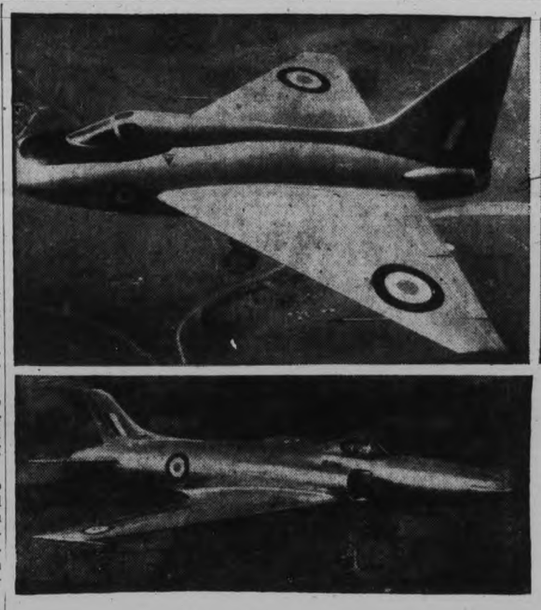
Built in 1906 by G. O. Shaw, father of the present owner, Mrs. Pauline Gill of Brockville, Ont., it was granted a government charter in the year of its construction.

The line is now managed by a board of directors and its president, C. R. McLennan of Huntsville. On the payroll are four South Portage residents, although only one is a permanent employee. He is Lou Thompson, the superintendent, who has been with the railway since 1919.

The trains run eight single trips each day an da special is put on, at a cost of five dollars; for canoeists and campers who want their kit carried.

The trains can reach a speed of 20 miles an hour but normally travel through the picturesque countryside at only 14. Only one accident mars the line's safety record. Ten years ago a cow wandered on to the right of way, derailed the train and was killed. No passengers were injured.

Industrial strife is apparently foreign to its employees. During the nation-wide Canadian rail strike in 1950 service to Huntsville and Lake of Bays line was maintained.



PIONEERS in jet aircraft, the British, who are redoubling their already doubled air force under a $13 billion defense program, are making sure that it packs the latest jet-powered punch. Top Left: The Boulton Paul P. III, delta-wing (shaped like the Greek letter "D") experimental jet. Details of its performance are secret. Bottom left: Another experimental job, the Vickers Supermarine 535. Powered by a Rolls Royce, this swept-back wing, jet fighter is said to have exceptional climb and speed. Top Right: Yet another experimental jet, recently successfully test flown, the HP 88. Two companies, Handley Page Ltd. and Blackburn and General Aircraft have collaborated with it. A Rolls Royce Nene supplies its power and it has an experimental wing design. Bottom right: Now in full production for the British Navy, the de Havilland Sea Venom. Performance details are not given, but this fighter is powered by a de Havilland Ghost turbo-jet, and, radar equipped, has a crew of two.

Manufacturing Projects To Bolster Newfoundland

By FRED CHAFE.
Canadian Press Correspondent.

Newfoundland's traditional fish-forest-mineral economy is being bolstered by a string of manufacturing projects as the industrial development program of Premier Joseph Smallwood's government gathers speed.

Backing private enterprise with financial aid and guarantees, the government announced in rapid-fire sequence this summer a group of industries ranging from leather crafts to heavy machinery.

European capital figures heavily in the province's industrial expansion. Many of the contacts were made by Dr. Alfred A. Valdmanis, former Minister of Finance Trade and Industry in Latvia, who is now Newfoundland's Director General of Economic Development.

Big Tool Plant

Of the group of factories to be centred around St. John's on the east coast Avalon Peninsula, biggest will be a $5,000,000 industrial machinery and machine tool plant to employ 500 men when it swings into the first stages of production next year.

Also starting operations in 1951 will be a three-phase textile plant. Its 850 workers will process raw cotton and wood pulp and weave it into finished cloth. Most of the output of its looms will be manufactured into garments in the plant's fabricating mill.

Swiss, French and United States capital combined for this project. Their $2,000,000 outlay will be matched by the government on the basis of a loan repayable over 10 years.

With Canada importing $120,000,000 in textiles last year, the operators hope to find one of their main markets right in the Dominion.

Leather Work

Another 700 to 1,000 workers will be employed in leather craft and fur-dyeing plants, and a tannery at the Conception Bay town of Carbonear.

The Carbonear plant is designed to use modern European techniques in the manufacture of such raw materials as fish skins, hides from domestic animals, and even moose and caribou skins.

About 200 Europeans will bring their specialized skills for the fur, machine and textile projects. In turn, a score or more Newfoundlanders will be sent to Europe to study the same techniques.

A cement mill and two gypsum plants are now nearing completion on the west coast, but first of the new industries to start production will be a birch plant near St. John's. Veneer and dimension stock will be rolling from its saw shortly.

Says Timber Firms Aim Against Unions

FORT WILLIAM, Aug. 21 (CP) —A left-wing labor leader Monday charged that Ontario timber companies are secretly arming "private forces for use against peaceful bushworkers."

The charge came from Bruce Magnuson, secretary of the Communist-dominated Canadian Union of Woodworkers, who issued a statement after a weekend meeting in Port Arthur with Ontario officials of the union.

He said he had asked Attorney General Porter for an investigation.

D. A. Clark of Port Arthur, president of the Nipigon Lake Timber Company, termed the claim "fradulent and trumped up."

Canada Returns Historic Medal To British Unit After 85 Years

OTTAWA (CP).—The only Victoria Cross ever won on Canadian soil has found a resting-place, after 85 years, with the British unit whose private soldier won it in 1866.

The prized decoration was won by Pte. Timothy O'Hea at Danville, Que., during the time of the Fenian Raids when invasion from the United States threatened.

O'Hea, then 20 years old, was one of four soldiers of the British Rifle Brigade placed in charge of a trainload of ammunition, including 95 barrels of gunpowder, which was sent from Quebec City to the frontier at Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ont.

As the train pulled into Danville, O'Hea, an Irishman from Bantry, County Cork, saw that one of the ammunition trucks was on fire. While officials retired to a safe distance, he found a bucket, ladder and water, and doused the blaze in 19 trips up the ladder, working alone for an hour.

His citation, instead of reading "For conspicuous bravery in the presence of the enemy," as is usual with a V.C., read "For conspicuous courage under circumstances of great danger."

Taken Around Globe

Shortly after the episode, O'Hea headed for New Zealand. Later, he went to Australia, and after leaving his V.C. medal with a friend, died during an expedition inland. The medal remained until last year in the Australian National Art Gallery.

Thomas Dunabin, former press attache to the Australian High Commissioner's Office here, arranged last year to have the V.C. brought back to Canada, to rest in the Archives or the War Museum here. External Affairs Minister Pearson was a supporter of this back-to-Canada move.

However, word of the medal got to Lord Wilson, Colonel Commandant of the Rifle Brigade, who wrote Mr. Pearson suggesting it would be a gracious action on Canada's part to have the V.C. return to its old regiment.

Accordingly the medal and accompanying documents were turned over at the Rifle Brigade's regimental dinner in London. Tim O'Hea's V.C. now reposes in a glass case at the Regimental Museum at Winchester, England.

British Cabinet Has Emergency Session On Iranian Dispute

LONDON, Aug. 22.(AP)—The Cabinet met today in emergency session on the prospects of imminent collapse of the British-Iranian oil dispute negotiations. Prime Minister Attlee presided over the session, which was attended by Sir William Frazer, chairman of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company, whose holdings in Iran have been nationalized. The Tehran government's reply to a British oil mission's ultimatum has been delayed, a foreign office spokesman reported, adding that Prime Minister Mohammed Mossadegh of Iran asked for—and got—an extension of the deadline until after his Cabinet met tonight.

Richard Stokes, Lord Privy Seal and Leader of the British oil mission in Tehran, was expected to fly back to London at once should the Iranian answer to British demands be a flat "no." But some officials said he might delay his return by 48 hours or so, should Iran show the slightest inclination to come to terms.

Face Problem

Collapse of the Tehran talks would face British leaders with the question whether troops should be sent to occupy the Iranian oil refinery port of Abadan on the Persian Gulf. A government spokesman in the House of Lords said recently Britain would occupy Abadan under certain circumstances, which he did not define.

However, many observers said it was unlikely Britain would risk charges of aggression before the United Nations by undertaking any military expedition in Iran.

The Tehran Parliament gave a vote of confidence today to Premier Mohammed Mosadegh on his stand rejecting the latest British proposals for settlement of the Anglo-Iranian oil dispute. But the Lower House urged him to continue the oil crisis negotiations which are threatening to break down.

The vote in the Majlis (Lower House) was 72 to nothing. Earlier the Senate had approved the Nationalistic premier's uncompromising policies by a vote of 33 in favor with three abstentions.

This new parliamentary move came an hour after the original deadline set by Britain's chief negotiator, Richard Stokes, who on Tuesday said he would return to London unless Mossadegh abandons his stonewall stand against the British proposals.

A British spokesman said Stokes extended his ultimatum deadline to 3 p.m. today (8:30 a.m. EDT) in view of the fact that parliament appeared to want to keep the talks from breaking down.

There was little debate in the public session of the Majlis when Mossadegh appealed for support. But in a preceding private session an informed source said deputies made it clear they wanted to try to avoid a breakdown.

$340 Million Trade Deficit Since January

OTTAWA, Aug. 22 (AP). — An unusual $5,000,000 deficit in Canada's world trade in the first half of 1950 snowballed into a $340,000,000 deficit in the first half of 1951, the Bureau of Statistics reported Tuesday.

The deficit — compared with surpluses in past years — developed partly from these problems:

1. An upsurge in purchases from the United States with no countering balance in sales.
2. A weak, meandering trade with Britain resulting in a sharp slump in trade surpluses.
3. A continuing demand in Canada for raw materials and finished goods partly to help Canada become a more powerful industrial country.

Trade Up

Canada's total trade for the first six months reached a record $3,865,000,000, up almost $1,000,000,000 from $2,901,200,000 in the first half of 1950.

Imports, mostly from the US, rose to a record of $2,102,400,000, up almost $700,000,000 from $1,453,100,000 in 1950. Exports did not maintain the pace, climbing only $300,000,000 to a postwar record of $1,762,600,000 from $1,448,100,000.

June told the same story as previous months. Imports climbed to $360,400,000 from $282,500,000 a year earlier. Exports increased only to $315,800,000 from $291,800,000, causing a monthly deficit of $44,600,000, compared with a small surplus of $9,300,000 last year.

Purchases from the US in June climbed to $241,500,000, a sharp, 28.8 per cent jump from $188,300,000 last year, bringing the half-year total to a record $1,471,000,000 from $1,004,500,000.

Exports Increased

June exports to the US increased to $290,500,000 from $179,800,000, bringing the six-month total to $1,126,900,000 from $916,900,000.

The resulting deficit rose to $344,100,000, about four times the $340 MILLION

US Tourist Drowns At Chemong

Boat Overturns Near Reserve; Dragging For Body

Paul G. Trunick, 49, theatre manager in Corapolis, near Pittsburgh, Penn., was drowned Tuesday night 200 yards from Cliff Whetung's wharf on the upper end of Chemong Lake. His boat tipped over less than 100 yards from the place where Chief Coppaway was drowned a month ago.

Between 8:30 and 9 p.m. Tuesday, Miss Rosamond Coppaway saw Trunick in his outboard motor boat driving northeast-ward up the lake. Suddenly the back of the craft seemed to submerge as though a wave had swept into the boat. Then it tipped and she saw Trunick climb on top. The water at that time was whipped by a strong west wind.

Miss Coppaway ran to her brother, Eldred Coppaway, 35, for help, but when she returned with him Trunick was gone.

Begin Search

Immediately the Reserve Indians set out in five boats and searched the area but Cliff Whetung, Dow Taylor, Austin McCue and Coppaway failed to find the body. The overturned boat was taken to shore by Coppaway and his son, Clarion.

Minutes before Taylor and McCue had followed Trunick up the lake against the waves with a pair of field glasses. The American visitor then went around a point shutting off their view. Then the craft upset.

Shortly before the drowning, Trunick's son, Robert, 23, and Jim Coppaway had left the Reserve to go to a dance or the drive-in theatre.

Feared Three Drowned

Provincial police were called to Gail Park resort at 10 p.m. Early information led OPP Constable Russell Pollard and searchers to believe that the Trunicks and Jim Coppaway, a Reserve Indian, were all drowned. The Trunicks had arrived there for a holiday Tuesday afternoon.

Malcolm McWilliams, Gail Park summer resort owner, saw Trunick at supper when the father bought groceries at the store.

Hint Hamilton Operators May Be Connected With Luciano Network

Pair Picked Up On Street By RCMP, Bail Set At $20,000; 5 Arrested On Drug Count Since August 13

HAMILTON, Aug. 22. (CP)—RCMP said today they believe they have smashed a dope ring that operated in Ontario cities and may be connected with an international network run by Charles (Lucky) Luciano. Their statements came as Louis Gallow, 49, and Maxine Morrison, his 19-year-old common-law wife, were remanded today until Aug. 27 on charges of conspiracy. The Mounties said the charges were laid in connection with undercover investigations in Hamilton into the sale of narcotics.

The arrest of Gallow and Miss Morrison Tuesday brought to five the number picked up since August 13 when Carl Stout, his wife and his brother Charles, were arrested on charges of illegal possession of narcotics.

May Be Members

Bail was set at $20,000 for Gallow and $3,000 for Miss Morrison.

The five will face charges of possessing narcotics, of distributing and transporting drugs.

Police said there was more than a "slight possibility" that Stout and Gallow are members of Luciano's ring which they said operates a $30,000,000-a-year drug traffic.

RCMP officials in Toronto, however, said they doubt there was any connection between Gallow and Stout and the notorious Italian—deported from the United States to his native country several years ago.

Supply Gone

Gallow and his girl friend were arrested on a Hamilton street. Said one RCMP constable:

"We could have arrested both of them 10 days ago when we picked up their boss, Carl Stout, and seized about $20,000 worth of drugs."

So far, Hamilton police have seized 240 capsules of heroin, worth up to $3 each on the illicit market. They said 40 capsules were found on Carl Stout when arrested and 200 more were found when his home was searched.

Said one Hamilton police official today: "Dope addicts in Hamilton are probably walking around with their tongues hanging out. They can't get the stuff now."

Hurricane Heads For Tampico, City Prepares

TAMPICO, Mexico, Aug. 22 (AP)—A killer hurricane hovered ominously over the Gulf of Mexico 230 miles southeast of Tampico today as weather experts tried to figure out where it would strike next.

Early today the United States Weather Bureau at New Orleans said the storm—after remaining almost stationary for several hours—was beginning to move slowly towards Tampico.

Tuesday night's advisories had predicted the swirling winds, which killed 155 persons in devastated Jamaica, would hit this port of 100,000 population and nearby rich Mexican oil fields before noon today.

Hoping to ride out the rampaging fury, if it strikes, Tampico authorities have ordered thousands of residents in the lowlands moved to higher ground.

The centre of Tampico is built on a hill, but the outlying districts are on low ground subject to flooding.

Winds at the core of the hurricane are said to reach 115 to 130 miles an hour. They extend 75 miles in all directions from the centre.

Raging seas lashed Mexico's gulf coast.

Dispatches from Merida, Mexico, said the storm wrought havoc when it swept across Mexico's Yucatan peninsula Monday.

Pinned By Throat In Accident

BELLEVILLE, Aug. 22 (CP).—Eight-year-old Lance Beer is in hospital today with possible concussion and spinal injuries suffered when he was struck by a truck and pinned by the throat against a wire fence.

The accident happened at Ivanhoe, 19 miles north of here, earlier today as the boy was feeding calves in a ditch at the side of the road.

Nathan Reid, who was helping the boy feed the calves, managed to jump clear as the truck careened off the road. Before he was able to cut the wire pinning the boy to the fence, the boy's face had blackened from strangulation.

Police seek the truck driver who ran down the road and jumped a fence into a cornfield on the Reid farm.

Do Without Wolfe Toronto Decides

TORONTO, Aug. 22 — (CP) — Gen. James A. Wolfe won't adorn Toronto's University Avenue after all.

Mayor Hiram McCallum announced today that a plan to purchase a two-ton bronze statue of the hero of Quebec, taken from a demolished New York building and offered to this city for $5,000, had been dropped. The Board of Control had authorized its purchase.

The mayor didn't say so, but published criticism of the plan may have influenced the decision. Many persons considered the price—to which would have been added an estimated $33,000 for transportation and a granite base—too much for a statue.

Allies Accuse Reds Of Cheating

MUNSAN, Korea, Aug. 22 — (AP).—The allies accused the Communuists today of making "a universal symbol of bad faith" out of Kaesong, site of Korean war truce talks.

The charge was broadcast after a sub-committee held its sixth session in Kaesong without sign of breaking the deadlock over where to draw an armistice line across Korea.

The sub-committee scheduled another try for Thursday.

Armistice negotiations were complicated by a dispute over latest Red charges that United Nations forces violated the Kaesong neutrality zone. "The Voice of the United Nations Command" broadcast from Tokyo to Korea, said the "Communist charges border on the ridiculous."

Soviet Sub Fleet Very Powerful

HALIFAX, Aug. 22 — (CP) — Vice-Admiral Harold T. Grant, chief of the Canadian Navy, said today "if the Russians start something tomorrow their submarine fleet has the strength and development of the German undersea fleet at its peak effort."

Here on an inspection tour, he told reporters that the development of the submarine has outstripped defence against it. This is viewed with "some concern" in naval circles.

Air reconnaissance will play a part in the Canadian effort against the submarine and three helicopters have already arrived in Halifax with their crews to aid in this work. At least one of the craft will be attached to the carrier Magnificent, whose role will be chiefly anti-submarine.

During the interview Admiral Grant straightened out a couple of misconceptions which he said were generally held. The first concerned recruiting. He said newspaper readers learned that recruiting figures were good.

"But this doesn't mean a hell of a lot," he said. It took two years to train seamen and much longer to train officers. This made a long gap between the recruiting figures and the time when the sailor would be useful to the navy.

This was especially true in the technical branches of the service. The recruiting of technicians was slow and the navy's program to train her own technicians took time.

Defence Surprise Brings Recess In Korean Trial

SEOUL, Korea, Aug. 22. (CP)—The defence called the prosecuting officer to the stand today as Pte. Glen Roland Blank of Winnipeg went on trial charged with murder. Blank, 27, is the first of three privates of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry to be tried by court martial for the grenade death last March 17 of a South Korean army lieutenant.

Blank pleaded innocent and his defending counsel, Lt.-Col. John A. Hutchins of Montreal and Regina, promptly launched a "trial within a trial." The surprise move forced a recess until Saturday.

Col. Hutching called the prosecuting officer to the stand in an effort to determine whether Blank had been properly informed of all legal resources at his disposal at the time when summaries of evidence were being taken.

Orders Adjournment

Col. W. Clement Dick of Toronto, president of the court martial, ordered adjournment to Saturday to enable four officers of Blank's unit, the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, to describe the means employed to inform Blank and his fellow-defendants of their rights.

Blank's co-defendants are Ptes. Donald Michael Gibson of Ottawa and Allan Roy Montgomery Davis of Vancouver, also members of the Patricias. They will be tried separately.

The full charges against Blank include murder and attempted rape, but he is being tried for murder only at the present hearing.

The specific charges arose from the death of a South Korean army lieutenant, Ee Chong-sun, at the village of Chungwoon near Chipyong March 17. Two other persons died in the same incident, but the three men are accused only of responsibility for the lieutenant's death.

Appeal Court Changes Remington Conviction

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.(AP). — The United States Court of Appeals today reversed the conviction of William W. Remington, former government economist, on charges of perjury in denying he had ever been a member of the Communist party.

The court's decision, written by Chief Judge Thomas Swan, was unanimous. The case was returned to the district court for a new trial.

Remington, 33, was found guilty by a jury last Feb. 7. He was sentenced to five years in prison and fined $2,000.

The reversal was based in large part on technical grounds. Judge Swan agreed with the defence that the definition of membership in the Communist party, contained in the charge of the jury, was too "vague and indefinite."

Get Two Extra Years For Fleeing Jail

SUDBURY, Aug. 22 — (CP) — Two men who escaped custody at Burwash Industrial Farm Aug. 10 were sentenced today to two years consecutive with the terms they were serving at the time of their escape.

The pair, Arthur Neven, 28, of Montreal, and Gerald Baker, 22, of Vancouver, pleaded guilty to the escaping charge and to an additional charge of car theft.

In their first appearance before Magistrate W. F. Woodliffe, the two denied theft of a car belonging to Dr. Frank Flowers, of Gatchell.

After a hearing on the car theft count had been adjourned, the pair changed their minds and decided to confess.

The magistrate imposed a two-year concurrent term on the car theft charge.

Say Sextuplets May Be Born

CHICAGO, Aug. 22 (AP). — The Chicago Herald-American Tuesday said "a Chicago area woman is about to make medical history by giving birth to five or six babies, according to obstetricians."

The newspaper said it had agreed not to use the name of the expectant mother or her physician.

"Top men in their profession honestly disagree on the number," the story set forth. Some, using stethoscopes, have detected heart beats from six babies. All have easily detected five heart beats.

"The babies are expected to be born late this month or early in September."

The newspaper said there is no record of sextuplets who survived.

There are two sets of living quintuplets, one set in Argentina, and the famed Dionnes at Callander, Ontario.

Japan Believes Russians Will Sign Peace Treaty

TOKYO, Aug. 22 — (AP) — There is a growing belief in Japan that Russia will do the unexpected and sign the Japanese Peace Treaty in San Francisco next month.

Reliable, if unofficial, Japanese circles express the view that the Russians will sign after putting up a strong fight for inclusion of one major provision.

They say the Reds will agree to keeping an American military establishment in Japan—but will demand a definite date for departure. They are opposed to a unilateral treaty between Japan and the United States.

This view was expressed despite Tuesday night's threats from the Chinese Reds' Peiping radio that Japan's acceptance of a peace treaty not approved by both Red China and Russia would be considered an act of war.

Red China wasn't invited to the peace treaty conference. Russia accepted after considerable delay.

The feeling around Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's Allied headquarters had been that the Soviet delegates en route to San Francisco are carrying brief cases loaded with monkey wrenches.

But Japanese sources predict the Russians will sign the treaty if they can thus prevent a separate treaty between the US and Japan.

The present plan is for the United States and Japan to sign a unilateral treaty as soon as the ink is dry on the treaty at San Francisco.

This unilateral treaty would provide for the stationing of American troops—between two and four divisions of ground troops plus an air force and a navy—in Japan until the country is able to defend herself.

Russia is believed willing to sign if the provisions of the military establishment are placed in the treaty and a date set for the last American soldier to leave Japan.

Failing in this, the Russians may go ahead and sign anyway.

Tank Out Of Control In Living Room

LONDON, Aug. 22 (AP).—Alan Tamplin built a 280-pound radio-controlled model tank and turned it loose on the living-room floor

The four-foot-long squat monster of aluminum aloy and bronze got out of control.

It rumbled about the room smashing furniture and frightening Mrs. Tamplin.

Inventor Tamplin brought the tank to London today for a demonstration at the model engineer's exhibition. He says he has the controls working properly now and it will lay a smoke-screen, fire three rounds of ammunition from its turret gun or squirt jets of water at any little boys who try to tamper with it.

But Mrs. Tamplin still calls it "that horror."

Man Killed By Train In Sulphide District

BELLEVILLE, Aug. 22—(CP)—George Heatherington, an elderly man from the Wiarton district, was killed Tuesday by a train near Sulphide, some 30 miles northeast of Belleville. Word of the accident reached here today.

Heatherington, visiting friends in the Sulphide district, was walking west on the CPR tracks when struck by a westbound train. He was known to be hard of hearing.

Frenchmen Finally Aware They're Wackiest Drivers

PARIS, Aug. 22 — (AP) — Frenchmen, at long last, are aware that they are among the wackiest automobile drivers in the world and that they are killing a lot of people.

"One automobile in eleven kills somebody during its life," said a headline in the weekly news and picture magazine, Match.

The newspaper Figaro recalled that last year 3,175 persons were killed in automobile accidents, and 34,000 seriously injured.

In France there are 2,500,000 automobiles and it is figured that one person is killed a year for every 771 automobiles on the road.

In Paris there are no stop signs at the entry into main thoroughfares. The car coming from the right, even from the narrowest alley, has right of way, even on the grand boulevards.

There is no speed limit in Paris and a driver can make a left-hand turn at any intersection he chooses and from any part of the road.

Honking cars is a Paris specialty. During the day drivers are supposed to honk at every intersection, and most do. Others honk all the time.

The principal cause of accidents is speeding. Figaro noted that 40 per cent of the accidents happened on straight country highways empty of other cars. The drivers roll their cars over, or hit trees. Seven of 10 of such accidents result from speeding.

There are only 737 traffic cops with motorcycles in the whole of France.

Oddly enough, in this wine-drinking country there isn't much driving while drunk.

Allied Troop Relations With South Koreans Good—Pace, Collins Say

By DOUGLAS HOW

OTTAWA, Aug. 22. (CP)—The American Army's two top men struck back Tuesday at people who say the United Nations has already lost the war in Korea by incurring the hatred of the Korean people. Army Secretary Frank Pace and Army Chief Gen. Joseph Lawton Collins told a press conference they know of "no major examples of poor relations between UN troops and the South Korean people." It was a minor problem.

"In fact," said Mr. Pace, "relations have been so good and our troops so well disciplined that we haven't had to indoctrinate them in civilian relationships to any degree."

He said he knew of no murder charge against US soldiers such as those facing three Canadians.

Gen. Collins added that in any community of 250,000 it would be amazing if there were no murders in more than a year.

Other Points

Other points they made as they talked with reporters after 3½ hours in secret conference with Defense Minister Claxton and the Canadian chiefs of staff:

1. Canadian-US army relations "are excellent in every degree." The discussion covered "the whole range of our mutual problems."
2. The US army is planning no major new developments in Canada.
3. The US is "not dragging its feet" in the search for a common rifle. It is wholeheartedly seeking a solution along with the British. The US-UK split is not rooted in selfish pride, but in differing judgments about what sort of a rifle is needed.
4. The US has produced a lighter version of the bullet used in its .300 weapons, one of which will allow one-third more bullets to be carried for the same weight. It also is developing a lighter rifle.
5. They hope and believe a sound solution can be found, but it would hardly be one which embraced both the .300 and the new British .280.

Mr. Pace said he was delighted when a reporter raised the question of relations with the Koreans. From there on, he and Gen. Collins made these points:

US medical aid in particular has prevented any major epidemic. The US has provided clothes and food where possible and had mapped a plan for rehabilitation of Korea.

Minor Problem

Poor relations were a minor problem. The record would compare favorably with the Second World War. Time and again the generosity of UN troops had won the hearts of the Koreans. Never had they heard of South Koreans attacking UN soldiers. The eagerness of North Koreans to flee south was an example of the way things were.

A reporter asked if they had read a US dispatch about the murder trials of three Canadian soldiers in which, the reporter said, there was a strong implied crack at general UN troop conduct and what was being done to check it.

Mr. Pace repeated: "I have no knowledge of any major problems . . . in fact the very opposite prevails."

Gen. Collins said he knew of nothing to indicate the UN forces were unpopular any more than fighting soldiers, by the nature of their work must inevitably incur some disfavor.

Tropical Disease Feared As 4 Die

HAGUE, Sask., Aug. 22—(CP)—Fear that a tropical disease may be spreading in this area as expressed Tuesday by a doctor following a report that two more babies have died in the Mennonite settlement six miles east of town. Death toll now stands at four. Many more children are reported seriously ill.

The settlement is the home of some of 62 Mennonites who left here last May in a vain attempt to reach the Honduras. They were turned back by Mexican authorities, after reaching that country.

Dead are Peter Jansen, 14 months, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Jansen, and a 9-month-old son of the Peter Friezen family. Neither of these families was on the ill-fated trek to the Honduras.

The Friezen baby died Monday night. The Janzen boy was ill nine days and was taken to hospital in Rosthern, Sask. He was later returned home, where he died last Tuesday.

A Rosthern doctor said an investigation is under way. There was nothing definite as to the cause of the deaths. However, he and his associates thought they may have been caused by some tropical disease. Other medical men are expected to visit this area.

Asked Change Route Of New Dual Highway

WINDSOR, Aug. 22 — (CP).—The Ontario Highways Department will be asked to change the route of the proposed new dual highway into Windsor, following a meeting of the suburban Sandwich West Council and Planning Board Tuesday night.

A department surveyor said that definite consideration would be given to the proposal.

The West Sandwich Council told the surveyor, W. J. Fulton of Toronto, that it would like the new highway to meet the old Number 3 Highway further east than was planned.

The new route will eventually connect Windsor and Toronto.

3,653 Children Attend Playgrounds In Week

Total attendance at city playgrounds last week was 3,653.

Turner Park led with a week's attendance of 777. Inverlea Park and Riverside Park were in second and third places with totals of 674 and 655.

The remaining playgrounds' attendance was: Fleming Place, 590; Confederation Park, 410; McKellar playground, 384; Hamilton Park, 163.

3-Way Fight Starts Over Niagara Project

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22 (AP)—A three-way fight developed today among Niagara river power project supporters at a US Senate public works sub-committee.

To a disagreement over whether the army engineers or the New York Power Authority should build the project there were added arguments for a third proposal—development by private enterprise.

Representative William E. Miller (Rep.-NY), who has offered a House bill to permit private development, was allotted time today to argue for his proposal.

The private development plan is before the committee in a bill presented by Senator Homer Capehart (Rep.-Ind.)

Left from Tuesday were 1,000 cattle, including 400 weighty steers.

Common to medium heifers sold from $27-$32. Good heifers traded from $32.50-$33.

Medium to good cows were $26-$28.

Good bulls sold at $28-$29.

Common to medium stockers were $28-$33.

Calves were steady at $35-$36 for choice vealers, with common to medium $26-$33.

Hogs were $35.75 for grade A, with sows at $26 dressed.

Lambs were steady at $34 for good ewes and wethers; bucks were $33. Common to medium sheep sold from $10-$16, with good light shep selling up to $21.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, Aug. 22 (CP) — Further good buying by shippers, exporters and others came into oats in early trade today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. Some of the buying was for American account.

Shippers and export buying also was indicated in barley. Rye trade was mostly local, while flax was not open.

All prices showed a steady tone in face of liberal offerings.

11 a.m. prices:

Oats: Oct. ⅛ higher 82B; Dec. ⅛ higher to unchanged 81¼; May ¼ higher 84A.

Barley: Oct. ⅞ higher 1.16¼A; Dec. ⅜ higher 1.12⅞B; May ⅜ higher 1.15.

Rye: Oct. unchanged 1.70½A; Dec. unchanged 1.67⅝; May ⅛ lower 1.69⅞A.

Flax: Not open.

Stock Market Prices Slip On Exchange

TORONTO, Aug. 22 (CP). — Stock market prices slipped slowly today in early afternoon dealings.

Textiles edged ahead while agricultures, constructions and manufacturing companies were mixed. Foods, retail stores and miscellaneous industrials weakened. Steels, Tuesday's strong spot showed fractional losses. Papers, utilities, liquors, refining oils and banks were also down.

Base metals continued to decline. Consolidated Smelters dipped 2⅜. Falconbridge, International Nickel and United Keno Hill lost fractions. Mackeno, Sherritt-Gordon, Steep Rock and United Asbestos were down pennies.

Western oils also turned lower.

Senior golds weakened. Hollinger, La Luz, Teck-Hughes and Wright-Hargreaves slipped. Dome and Giant Yellowknife went against the trend for fractional gains. Secondary issues showed a wide list of penny losses.

Obituary

MISS EVA McCORMACK.

The death of Miss Eva McCormcak, 858 George Street, occurred this morning at St. Joseph's Hospital. She had been ill only a week.

Miss McCormack was born 68 years ago in Lakefield, daughter of John McCormack and his wife Matilda Gibson. She had lived in Peterborough 40 years.

Four members of this household have died in the last two years. Miss McCormack is survived by one sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Detcher. She was an active member of St. Andrew's United Church and of its Women's Missionary Society.

The body is resting at the Kaye Funeral Home until Friday at 2 p.m. when the funeral service will be conducted by the Rev. H. Cotton of St. Andrew's Church. Burial will be at Ray's Cemetery, Lakefield.

Dollar Up

MONTREAL, Aug. 22 (CP) — The American dollar today opened at 5 11/16 per cent premium to the Canadian dollar, up 1/32 from Tuesday's close. That is, it took $1.05 11/16 Canadian to buy $1 American.

The pound sterling was $2.95-15/16, up ⅛ from Tuesday.

Albert Bravest Boy I Ever Operated On Doctor Says Of Boy Hurt At Pontypool

Thirteen-year-old Albert Miller of Toronto was in critical condition in hospital here today after three doctors operated together in an attempt to save his life.

Skin was torn from the boy's legs, his back and stomach half way up his chest Monday when he fell and was drawn into a gravel and asphalt mixer near Pontypool, 28 miles west of here.

His body is encased in a plaster cast and doctors said it will be a "medical miracle" if he lives.

Albert with his parents was spending the summer at Pontypool. He had hitched a ride on the machine with friends, and fell under the wheels. He was thrown out of the rear of the machine onto the side of the road.

In hospital, drugs were being administered to him at 10-minute intervals to deaden the pain.

"That boy was the bravest kid I ever operated on," said one doctor.

Must Find Solution

One deputy was reported in private session to have told Mossadegh he must resign if he cannot find a solution to the dispute with Britain over nationalization of the British-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil Company's vast installations in Iran.

Mossadegh did not commit himself to continue the negotiations, begun 18 days ago. But Maljis speaker Sardar Reza Hekmat announced: "This vote of confidence is for Mossadegh to continue the discussions."

It is up to the aged and ailing premier to convince Stokes he is willing to make some concession.

In the earlier senate session Mossadegh showed the strain of long illness and the pressures of the last few days as he began reading his report.

When senators asked him to speak louder, he finally turned the prepared statement over to Finance Minister Ali Varasteh to read.

Tries To Stall

Stokes had made his ultimatum after announcing he had withdrawn the British proposal for placing the much-needed British technicians and experts of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company under a British manager who would work for the nationalized Iranian company.

Mossadegh last night tried to delay Stokes' ultimatum by asking for "more details" on the proposals for keeping the British technicians working. The Premier has admitted in the negotiations that the British technicians must stay on if the vital flow of oil is to continue.

But Stokes replied in a letter this morning that he already had explained everything "quite clearly."

"I cannot believe," Stokes wrote, "that it is your intention to make it impossible for us to work out a businesslike arrangement which will enable the British staff to continue to serve Iran and contribute to the prosperity of the country."

Question Officer

Col. Hutchins questioned the prosecuting officer, Capt. Lawrence M. Hanway of Amherst, NS, as to steps taken to acquaint the defendants with provisions of the forthcoming National Defence Act.

While the act is not yet in force as a whole, some of its provisions became operative Feb. 1. One of these stipulates that an accused person is entitled to representation by a defending officer or counsel at the taking of a summary of evidence.

Col. Hutchins asked Capt. Hanway: "Was the accused to your knowledge acquainted with these provisions?"

Hanway: "Not until either May 1 or April 30 when we definitely knew that he was among five who might be in serious trouble and then he was told he had a right to be represented by counsel."

Hutchins: "He was not told that he could be represented by a lawyer at the taking of the summary?"

Hanway: "No, there was none in the theatre at the time."

$37,600,000 deficit in 1950, but still $144,000,000 below the $488,000,000 unfavorable balance in 1947.

On the other hand sales to Britain in June declined to $51,400,000 from $52,600,000 last year, bringing the six-month total to $254,200,000 from $237,100,000.

Imports from Britain, however, were moderately higher at $39,900,000 against $37,100,000 increasing the six-month total to $224,600,000 from $187,200,000.

The result was that Canada's usual surpluses in trade with Britain which in 1947, for example reached $269,000,000 for the half year, dropped to a mere $29,600,000 in 1951.

Hawaii Has Heaviest 'Quake Water Problem

HONOLULU, Aug. 22 (AP).—The heaviest earthquake ever recorded on the volcano island of Hawaii cost the Kona coast district most of its treasured water stores—with two months of normal drought ahead.

Property damage was estimated officially at between $750,000 and $1,000,000, but the water loss was the most critical.

The quake jarred the largest of the Hawaiian islands early Tuesday. It wrecked or damaged more than 200 wooden water storage tanks of cattle ranches.

An after-shock bumped the Kona coast Tuesday night. Police said it was weak and no damage was reported. The after-shock rattled dishes and windows in Honolulu.

Families along a 30-mile stretch of the Kona coast, on the west slope of Mauna Loa volcano, use tanks for storing drinking and household water.

No Eruption.

Tuesday's tremor was centred deep below the undersea slope of massive Mauna Loa. The volcano rises 13,680 feet above sea level and slants 18,000 feet under water to the ocean floor.

There was no evidence of any impending eruption by Mauna Loa, one of the world's most-active volcanoes. It spilled molten lava into the sea a little more than a year ago.

Trucks were hauling emergency water supplies to Kona coast residents. The Kona coast normally receives no rain until well into October.

Coffee farmers, with their crop at harvest ripeness, rushed to rebuild their water tanks.

Haliburton Woman Victim Of Polio

Mrs. Robert Richmond, 24, Gull Lake, Haliburton, was rushed from Peterborough Civic Hospital to Riverside Isolation Hospital, Toronto, by ambulance Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Richmond was diagnosed as a poliomyelitis case in Peterborough hospital earlier this week.

One more poliomyelitis case has also been reported by hospital officials. Three new suspect cases are under observation at the hospital.

This brings the city and district total to 25.

Later he saw the two boys, Robert Trunick and Jim Coppaway, leave in a canoe headed for the Indian village. Then Trunick called to them, saying "Don't take my boat."

Women around the camp saw Trunick leave alone in his craft.

Continue Search

After McWilliams heard that the boat was found empty, he notified provincial police. In a search around the Trunicks' cottage, he found that Trunick's light grey car was gone. No one could remember seeing anyone leave in it.

Reports from nearby places around the lake said that the two boys were not in the vicinity. Then police and neighbors thought there had been a triple drowning.

The younger Trunick was seen at the cottage earlier by George Dotterweich and Louis Harmon, both of Buffalo. They had called back and forth just before the boys left in the canoe.

At 11 p.m., police were told that the boys had been seen with the car and had left about 8 p.m. for a dance or show. That reduced the possible fatalities to one.

Unable to start dragging operations on the rough water, the search was abandoned at midnight. Shortly after, Robert Trunick returned to Gail Park and learned of the accident.

OPP Cpl. Joseph Hanson went to the drowning scene at 9 a.m. today but rough water kept the boats off the lake. Dragging will commence when the water calms.

FALSE TEETH
That Loosen
Need Not Embarrass
Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wabbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH the alkaline (no-acid) powder on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

Official forecasts issued by the Dominion public weather office in Toronto at 9:30 a.m. EDT:

Synopsis:

Ontario's storm which swept through central regions Tuesday may have seemed like the Mexican hurricane, but there really was no relation between the storms except that they both had high winds. The strong northwesterly winds which brought low dark clouds and cooler air will subside today and Thursday. General clearing will occur in all regions by Wednesday evening and it will remain clear Thursday.

Regional forecasts valid until midnight Thursday.

Eastern Lake Erie, Lake Huron, Lake Ontario, Niagara, Georgian Bay regions; Toronto, Hamilton, London cities:

Cloudy and cool today. Clear tonight. Sunny and a little warmer Thursday. Winds northwest 15 with gusts to 25 today, light tonight and Thursday. Low tonight and high Thursday at St. Thomas, London, Wingham and Trenton 50 and 75, Toronto, St. Catharines and Hamilton 50 and 75, Muskoka 45 and 75.

ALMANAC WEATHER

The almanac has it that the weather this week should be sunny and warm. Possibly its promises are based on the law of averages. At any rate the Exhibition temperature has dropped a long way from the sweltering heat of the last two years.

Spiritual Side Of Life Given Divorce

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 22 — (ENS).—The Campbellford Rotary Club met Monday noon with H. S. Staples as guest speaker.

After being introduced by President Frank Linton, Mr. Staples gave an interesting speech on the subject of the Inseparable Twins. "In asking ourselves where the material side and the spiritual side of our national, domestic and business life begin and end, we will find they are 'inseparable twins' and the attempt of men to separate them have never been satisfactory," he said. "A combination of both gives life that is worthwhile, beautiful and lasting."

He went on to say that the material things are tangible. These relate to business, industrial, commercial, educational and welfare work. "However we have only touched the perimeter of human need."

The spiritual twin has been cloistered in monasteries, and chapels, beyond the reach of man, divorced from the other working companion. Her place is with the material, and only then can be created that which is lasting.

Separately, these two factors have failed completely to produce that which is good and lasting, and it could be that the spiritual failure is worse than that of the material.

Mr. Staples stressed that in order to achieve the highest success in life, "we must bring these twins together, as the greatest Humanitarian of all time did when He said 'Men shall not live by bread alone. Come and dine' or 'I go to prepare a place for you.'"

Rotarian Ward Baker extended his thanks to the speaker on behalf of the club.

Two Nurses Join Health Unit

COBOURG, Aug. 22 (ENS) — Two more public health nurses, appointed by the Northumberland and Durham Counties Board of Health, are reporting for duty. Matrimony has depleted the ranks of the nurses very effectively in the past year and the Board of Health has had to take on several nurses to fill the vacancies.

Miss Margaret Coogan, a graduate of St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough, and the Ottawa University public health nursing course, started to work Tuesday in the central part of the Health Unit, using Cobourg office as headquarters. Miss Coogan has been with the Health Unit in the counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry, but is not a stranger to the area in which she will be working as she lived in Cobourg as a child, and for several years worked on the staff of Cobourg hospitals.

Miss Vera Clark will be carrying out public health nursing duties in the southeastern part of the unit and working out of the Brighton office starting August 27. Miss Clark's family home is in Seymour township. She graduated from Peterborough Civic Hospital. After graduation in the public health nursing course at Western University, London, Ont., Miss Clark had extensive experience with the Victorian Order of Nurses and recently in the school nursing service in the city of Moncton, N.B.

With those already appointed, these two new nurses will bring to six the number of new appointees. Although the public health nursing staff of the Health Unit has not yet been brought up to the normal complement to compensate for the resignation in recent months, including the six nurses who resigned to get married, the new members of the staff have had a wealth of practical experience gained in various branches of public health nursing in different parts of Canada.

Braund's HOME FOOD MARKETS

Here's one of the recipes that make salads a hit at our house!

Says Mrs. P. MacKenzie, Wilson Heights, Ont.

"I've found the magic ingredient that makes my family love every salad," says Mrs. MacKenzie. "I use Hellmann's Real Mayonnaise."

Hellmann's Real Mayonnaise is the very finest quality you can buy. Most folks use Hellmann's Real Mayonnaise as it comes from the jar . . . its subtle flavor brings out the true salad goodness. Many women vary Real Mayonnaise . . . make it spicy, tart or sweet . . . to suit their salads. Here's Mrs. MacKenzie's favorite variation for fruit salads:

HONEY WHIP

Add ¼ teaspoon salt to 1 egg white, beat until stiff. Add 2 tablespoons of honey slowly until mixture will stand in peaks. Fold in 1 cup Hellmann's Real Mayonnaise. Sprinkle 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind on top for garnish. Serve with your favorite fruit salad. Try Real Mayonnaise in sandwich fillings, devilled eggs, as a spread for bread.

Because it is a blend of pure salad oil, whole eggs, added egg yolks and other fine ingredients . . . because there is no starchy filler . . . Hellmann's Real Mayonnaise is worth more than ordinary salad dressings. You save with rich, Real Mayonnaise because it goes farther, so many ways! Write for free recipe book "Soup to Nuts" to: The Best Foods (Canadian), Ltd., 75 Hughson St. N., Hamilton, Ont.

HELLMANN'S BLUE RIBBON
Real Mayonnaise
IT GOES SO FAR—SO MANY WAYS

TRY THESE FAVOURITES TOO
Hellmann's French Style Dressing: A robust, tangy dressing especially favored by men!
Hellmann's Sandwich Spread: Smooth and pickley . . . husbands and young-uns love it!
Hellmann's Home Style Salad Dressing: Spicy 'n' nice . . . like Mother used to make, maybe better.

Fair Days

This evening the Peterborough Exhibition will be officially opened; actually, the Fair got off to a good big start this afternoon, "Children's Day." From now until Saturday evening people of this city and district and their summer visitors have the chance to see a real Fair; nothing as splashy as the Toronto show but a Fair that is representative of the pursuits and produce of this Peterborough area. And who can want to see more when so much is contained in so little? True, there are outside exhibits —monster bulls, amusement wheels, exotic candies and barkers to garnish the Peterborough showings, which are the core of the Exhibition. These foreign accretions are mere rubrics on what we ourselves have to offer.

* * *

Prize flowers, prize cakes, prize heifers, prize heifer-judgers, prize horses and races, prize pigs, prize products of our factories and produces of our shops; what a galaxy of prizes are there to glitter in the eye, stir the heart and tickle the fancy! The Exhibition this year is a good one; its Directors have laboured long and carefully to put on a show worthy of the history of the Peterborough Fair and this district. For local tradition, civic pride and genuine interest and amusement, not a citizen of city and district who can walk should fail to visit the Fair Ground and see the wonders that have been wrought. Our Fair is the last fling of Summer; we recommend that you take it.

Korean Brigade Ceasing To Exist

When the Special Service Force was being recruited a year ago—the "Korean Brigade"—two conditions set it apart from the Regular army. The men could enlist for a period of eighteen months, and they were enlisting specifically for overseas service, to form a special brigade to be used by Canada to fulfill its commitments to U.N. The Korean Brigade eventually went to Korea and enough men were left behind of the ten thousand to form the nucleus of a second U.N. brigade. The distinction between this special force and the regular army was maintained. Now all that is going by the board in fact if not in theory, and Canada again is getting one army.

The evidence of the disappearing difference is this: the eighteen-month term is now an illusion. The men who enlisted for eighteen months are obviously going to be retained longer than that. Many who so joined and went late to Korea will hardly be back in Canada again under the new rotation plan before the year and a half have passed. Actually, the eighteen-month term was problematical from the beginning, and not long after enlistment under it was begun the term was extended to three years. Actually, all soldiers, even the eighteen-monthers, enlisted under a usual qualifying clause stipulating the definite term or as long as their services would be required in the national interest.

The second indication that the Special Brigade force as such is no longer distinguishable from the regular army is this: the first battalion P.P.C.L.I. will be sent to Korea to replace the 2nd. The news was broken to the Princess Patricias at their Currie Barracks, Calgary, by the commanding officer on Monday. These men are all enlisted in the Regular army.

Why was there a Special Force in the first place? Why the distinction? There were two good reasons. First, since the war the infantry brigade of the Regular army has been set up as an airborne brigade. All P.P.C.L.I. men were trained as parachutists. The role of the permanent infantry was therefore to defend Canada against airborne attack from the north. This long training could not be sacrificed last year, and the northern gate left open, to send the Regular infantry to Korea. The second reason for having a specially-recruited force was that thereby National Defence Headquarters could hope to enlist ex-soldiers and other men who wanted to go abroad but would not have been attracted into the arm by the prospect of doing all their service in barracks at home. That this policy proved successful is shown by the high rate of enlistment for both the Korea force and the brigade now being formed to go across the Atlantic.

Now that there seems to be enough opportunity for overseas service for regulars and special force men, and the immediate danger of airborne attack over Canada is lessened, it is well to consolidate all Canada's ground forces again, and, where possible, by the rotation plan to give them all the experience of service outside the country.

Canadian Fingers In World Cauldron

The House of Commons has a Standing Committee on External Affairs. In the last session six meeting were held between May 17th and June 6th and the witnesses called before it were principally the Secretary of State for External Affairs, Mr. Pearson and his Under-Secretary, Mr. Arnold Heeney, accompanied by various officials of the department.

Here is a partial list of the topics on which they were questioned during the six meetings: 1. Formosa 2. Proposed Japanese Treaty; 3. The Korean crisis 4. Membership in the North Atlantic pact; 5. The Iran question; 6. Western Germany, its armament and its relation to the defence of Europe; 7. CBC International Service broadcasts and personnel; 8. The Pan American Union; 9. Canada's relations with the United States; 10. Allocation of commanders under the North Atlantic Council; 11; Nature of the European army; 12. Shipping of strategic goods to Hong Kong and China; 13. Representation abroad; 14. Military reports emanating from Korea; 15. Offers of assistance to South Korea; 16. Organization of the North Atlantic Council; 17. United Nations Information Division; 18. Recognition of the Peiping Government; 19. United Nation resolution concerning the 38th parallel and the ceasefire proposals to Korea; 20. Nora Rodd's broadcasts from North Korea; 21. The St. Lawrence seaway project; 22. Russia's membership in the United Nations; 23. Landing facilities at Goose Bay and relevant proposed agreements; 24. United Nations' Rehabilitation Commission.

Mr. Pearson and his colleagues were also examined on such matters as the status of refugees and stateless person, on the Tibet situation, on External Affairs personnel and staff turnover, the passport office and accommodation abroad.

This is a lengthy list. It shows how wide nowadays are the ramifications of Canada's external affairs, and how alert Parliament is to them. Such standing committees to question department heads are, we think, a sensible and excellent extension of Parliament's voice. Partly because of the intricacies and immediacy of national and international affairs these days, Government by the Cabinet has increased. It is good that Parliament, through specially selected standing committees representing all sides of the House, can and should question Cabinet Ministers and their senior advisers on details as well as principles of their operations. Incidentally, it conserves Parliamentry time.

Listening To Corn Grow

North American colloquial speech is festooned with exaggerations. "It's as cold as hell"; "I'm so hungry I could eat a horse"; "It's so hot you can hear the corn grow". But time and human predicaments and enterprise, particularly on this great big exaggerated continent, have a way of making overstatements merely sober truth. Take that phrase: "I could eat a horse"—well, tens of thousands are eating horse-meat these days. And now that we have dry ice which burns the flesh when touched, is the phrase "cold as hell" all wet? Who knows but that hell is an inferno of crackling dry ice, formed by terrific condensation under immense pressures? As for hearing corn growing: agricultural professors at Madison, Wisconsin, submitted last week that they did hear it, through an electrical recording machine placed into a field of corn.

When these scientists played the recording back they could identify the noise of a mosquito, a passing aeroplane and other sounds, but there was one curious crackling noise left over which they believe to be the noise of growing corn. No, it was not the wind; wind gauges in the field showed that there was no wind blowing; other instruments showed that there was no atmospheric interference.

The professors got the notion that corn growth was audible from the editor of a local paper who was stranded with a punctured tire one night beside a corn field. He heard a distinct crackling. A local agricultural teacher told him that corn is known to make eight per cent. of its growth in the night, and sometimes grows as much as five inches between sunset and sunrise.

Next time you are walking by a quiet cemetery at midnight and hear sudden alarming whispers, keep your poise—it's the grass growing.

NOTE AND COMMENT

"Dimples One Of Fair Sex's Most Fascinating Features" says a beauty headline. Yes, if they are not inside out.

Reuters reports that the Royal family hates any kind of intrusion into its privacy. They should live on our street.

A Chicago man has been fined for throwing lighted matches at his mother-in-law. Perhaps she was a dry old stick and he wanted to burn her up.

"Over-exposure to the sun may affect the mind" writes a physician. The moralists, however, are more worried that it may affect the passions.

"Eyes Are Man's Most Precious Feature," says a headline. No: woman's perhaps, but man's most precious feature is the nose he pays through.

Well-Oiled Edmonton

by
K. P. OBANK

NEON signs flashed incongruous reflections in the slushy pools of the furrowed, unpaved street. The car sank axle-deep in mud as we pulled up outside the brand-new Waldorf Hotel; inside, earthy footprints crisscrossed the uncarpeted lobby.

We had reached Leduc, the small Albertan grain centre, where the striking of oil four years ago had gushered in a new era of Canadian development.

At that time Canada was importing 92 per cent of her oil requirements. Today, as a result of that strike in 1947—the fruit of 30 years' costly, untiring search—the prairie province of Alberta is producing 40 per cent of the Dominion's oil needs, and in another five years may make her self-sufficient.

THE change wrought by the oil discovery in the fortunes and ever-widening prospects of this Social Credit province is more easily detected in the buoyancy and striding confidence of its people than in the outward signs of an altered landscape. Leduc itself has grown, but not surprisingly so. It is little more than the base from which prospecting teams go out on their "wildcat" searches, and where in their leisure hours they turn to a strange fancy called "redeye"—beer mixed with tomato juice (Albert's liquor laws permit the prospectors of 1951 their beer parlours but have banished the whisky saloon).

Even the new township of Devon, in the heart of the Leduc oilfield, is so trim, so established, as almost to belie the fact that as late as spring of 1948 there was nothing there but a barley field. Its 1,200 inhabitants share 230 houses; an hotel, a theatre, a swimming pool and a comprehensive cluster of shops; Oldsmobiles, Buicks and the boldly ubiquitous Austin Devon stand at the garden gates giving all that lordly, possessive air of settled London suburbia.

NO forests of disused derricks rise to show that within forty-five miles of Edmonton lie all the major oilfields of the Dominion; for today the drillers use portable steel derricks instead of the old wooden ones, which were more cheaply left on the site than moved on to the next one. Once or twice in every forty acres you may spot an insignificant "Christmas tree" (oilwell control head), and, less often, the cylindrical shapes of a production battery. But the barley still waves its head, and it is through buried pipelines that the prosperity-bringing oil flows silently to the separators and thence, perhaps, on its 1,150-mile journey to the Great Lakes.

The change is more marked in the provincial capital itself. Edmonton's population has increased by half in the last few years, and is growing still by 500 to 1,000 a month. There is ant-like activity everywhere. Banks and hotels, those twin attendants on prosperity, are bursting at their seams while they await completion of bigger and better premises; new industries are moving in to join the band-wagon and spin an unvicious circle. And Edmonton—born 150 years ago as a fur-trading centre—already covers an area as large as Chicago.

MOST satisfied of all Alberta's 900,000 people—still fewer than four to a square mile in a province that boasts it could "absorb" Britain, Belgium, Holland, Denmark, Switzerland, Austria and Hungary and still have room to spare—must be their "humble preacher" rulers, Premier and Treasurer Ernest Manning, whom you can hear every Sunday at the Bible Institute, and Minister of Mines Norman Tanner, an eight-generation American with Indian blood, who looks like George Raft, but happens to be a Mormon bishop.

Minister Tanner is a demon performer with astronomical figures which, in the full flood of his devoted enthusiasm defy note or memory. But what they boil down to is this. Oil brought the provincial treasury a bonus of 40,000,000 dollars last year. Everybody in Alberta is sharing the benefits directly or indirectly—in income from leases, or royalties, in reduced rates and taxes, cheaper petrol, better schools. Canada as a whole is being relieved of a tremendous burden in American dollar expenditure. The natural gas that has been tapped along with the oil is already meeting Alberta's own needs, leaving scope for export. The by-productive output of sulphur is mounting significantly. And —"we have only scratched the surface yet."

THIS is demonstrably no idle boast. Every day of 1950 two new oil wells were drilled and brought into production; and vast reservoirs lie in sedimentary rock yet untouched. And beyond looms a still further horizon—the tar-sands to the north, where there is "more oil lying on the ground than has been used by man to date." Tar-sands is a magic word even to the boom-happy.

Mr. Tanner talking of his fruitless mission to London in 1939 in search of "risk capital," pointed to an ashtray. "You could have bought an oilfield then for the price of that area today." The exaggeration—if such it was—was intended, perhaps, to emphasize his renewed invitation to "come and help in the interests of Canada and of the British Commonwealth." "There is room for British capital in large amounts." No, it wasn't too late. "I think the ball has only just begun to roll," he said.

A Dangerous Suggestion

(Toronto Globe and Mail)

A news story telling of a decision to give Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh a civic reception at the City Hall after their arrival at the Union Station suggests that the Royal couple will be given "a spontaneous ticker tape reception" on the drive up Bay Street.

If there is any idea that a ticker tape reception would be either appropriate or wise as a method of greeting our Royal visitors, the notion should be destroyed immediately. The custom is entirely foreign to the Canadian temperament and a dangerous indulgence in hysteria. The authorities should see that nothing whatever is thrown out of any window as the Princess and her husband pass by. If anything should be thrown out the offenders should be dealt with to the limit of the law. Their Highnesses are not overnight idols of the mob, and should not be treated as such, anywhere in Canada.

Appeasement — Compromise

(Oshawa Times-Gazette)

One result of the Korean armistice negotiations will probably be to emphasize the difference between compromise and appeasement.

HE TOPS 'EM ALL!

The Lucky Hat

(MEDICINE HAT NEWS)

EDMONTON is growing so fast it is having money troubles. The cost of money—interest—is going up. Money for loan to cities by way of debenture issues is becoming scarce because investors are beginning to fear the ability of the borrowing municipalities to repay. Towns and cities traditionally boast about their growth in population. Increased census figures are considered a sign of progress and virility. A fast- growing municipality is supposed to be good for business, and it is, but it also brings its headaches.

Edmonton has learned this lesson, and recently Lethbridge found its credit, in the eyes of investors, depreciated by an eight per cent discount. The best bid Lethbridge received in the marketing of $227,970 worth of its municipal bonds was $91.63 per $100, about the same rating given in Edmonton bidding earlier in the year, although in the capital's case it could not find a market for its complete issue. Lethbridge received bids from seven groups of securities houses, ranging from the accepted quotation down to a low point of $88.02.

With urban municipalities now pressed for money with which to provide the public works, utilities, schools and hospitals needed to serve a larger population, not a few of them and possibly the Irrigation Capital of Southern Alberta," would be willing to call a halt in growth for a few years. When hospitals cost $12,000 a bed to erect, and schools $1,000 a pupil to build and $200 a pupil yearly to staff, rapid growth of population places a strain on municipal finances which many of them do not care to undertake.

Other Alberta cities are learning a costly lesson of the price of progress. The picture in Medicine Hat is much brighter, due in part to its sound financing program followed in the past 10 years; in part to its low net debt structure, and in part to a consistent policy of building reserves against future contingencies. The City of Medicine Hat will have an overall reserve fund of close to $500,000 by the end of 1951. This has been the desirable objective of financial governors. Interest on the fund invested in sound government bonds will provide for future normal capital programs, and will permit future net earnings to be applied against expansion needs.

The very satisfactory financial position of Medicine Hat, rated the best of any city of Alberta and probably in Western Canada, augurs well for any further borrowing needs. The position is such, however, that the municipality can now be placed on a pay-as-you-go basis. Financing of the Calgary Power project will have no effect on this picture. Of the $3,000,000 needed to build the new plant, the city's share of $500,000 is to come from the provincial self-liquidating projects fund with a charge of two per cent for the money. The remaining $2,500,000, guaranteed by Calgary Power, will come from open market sale and these debentures may carry an interest rate of 4¼ to 4½ per cent and should find ready acceptance.

Medicine Hat obtained a premium bid of 101.34 on its last offering of debentures in late 1949. The amount was $100,000 and the interest 3½-3¾ per cent for 10 and 20-year serials. Proceeds were used for domestic sewers and deficiencies on the dual gas main and installation of the new turbogenerator. The previous issue of 1948, brought a premium bid of 103.42. This was in the amount of $185,000, 3½ per cent bounds, to cover storm sewers and the purchase of public works equipment. The $35,000 issue to buy the aerial fire ladder truck was bid in by the general fund reserve account trustees at par. Civic finance authorities are of the opinion that this encouraging financial acceptance will be accorded Medicine Hat debentures in the future, and despite the trend in other municipalities, local bonds will continue to command a premium in the world's money marts.

Where Is Sir Benegal Rau?

(Ottawa Journal)

As this clatter of dispute between India and Pakistan grows louder, one voice which not long since rang out for peace seems conspicuously still. The voice of Sir Benegal Rau.

Remember him at Lake Success last winter? He was then all for peace, all for good will, all for compromise with Chinese Communists; so much so that he became the darling of appeasers, the hero of all those who said that perhaps if we didn't notice the Chinese Communists in Korea they might go away, or that, if we did have to notice them, they should be approached with olive branches in our hands. After all, these Chinese, even though they were killing U.N. soldiers, might only be "agrarian reformers", or at worse Titoists, who had merely entered Korea because they feared the bad Americans might cross into Manchuria.

One might have thought that Sir Benegal, so passionate for peace and understanding, so doughty for full justice when it came to Chinese Communists, might be making all of India ring now for peace and understanding with Pakistan.

Maybe some of his disciples can explain his silence.

West Point Scandal

(New York Times)

Athletic prowess is a splendid thing. Winning teams are a pleasure, if one's sympathies happen to be on the winning side. But there are other things vastly more important in an educational system and one of them is character. Actually, the character of some institutions of learning and of some individuals who attend them has been seriously undermined by the false system of values that athletic overemphasis has set up.

West Point is paying a grievous price today for some of that overemphasis. It is not the only institution, by any means, that has suffered. That suffering will continue until there is a return to balance and perspective in this matter.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

My son, forget not my law; but let thine heart keep my commandments....Let not mercy and truth forsake thee: bind them about thy neck; write them upon the table of thine heart: so shalt thou find favour and good understanding in the sight of God and man.

Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding. In all thy ways acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy paths. Be not wise in thine own eyes. (Prov. 3: 1, 3-7.)

✧ ✧ ✧

This I say therefore, and testify in the Lord, that ye henceforth walk not as other Gentiles walk, in the vanity of their mind, having the understanding darkened, being alienated from the life of God through the ignorance that is in them, because of the blindness of their heart. (Eph. 4: 17, 18.)

Letter To The Editor

ADVANTAGES OF MODEST CITY SIZE.

Sir: I have only been in Peterborough a few years and in that time have come to like the city very much. Before arriving here it tok me at least forty-five minutes by bus to get to my office downtown, I didn't bother driving a car because there wasn't any place to park it, here I can get to my office in ten minutes by bus or walk in twenty. Instead of eating in a restaurant at noon I can get home. My taxes here for the same type of accommodation are about 20 per cent less.

If I want to get outside the city it only takes me five or ten minutes; it formerly took me at least 30 minutes. The only thing that Peterborough hasn't got that a big city has, is a cocktail bar. Traffic on the main streets during the weekend is bad enough without any further development. I think Peterborough is big enough.

It may hurt the pride of some of the local citizens that the city is not listed as one of the six Atom Bomb targets in Canada, but I would much sooner be able to act as a host to refugees from some other centre than to be a refugee myself.

There seems to be something in the makeup of residents of this continent that demands a constant growth, and a standard that judges by size rather than by quality. Today national prudence points to a dispersion of population and of industries and not to a concentration into one target area.

Usually one of the inducements to new industry is tax or land concession. This puts an increased burden on the other tax payers. More people put heavy demands on public utilities. Bigger sewage disposal and water treatment plants can only be made possible by more taxes per capita. The expansion of Peterborough has made necessary the new hospital and the new collegiate; we can see the new costs of expansion in our present taxes.

I would suggest that if new industries want to come into this area that the city fathers and the new Industrial Commission tell them to go to—Lindsay.

Yours truly,

C. KENLES

The Prisoner's Gift

(Saint John Telegraph-Journal)

An inmate of Dorchester penitentiary has made a model yacht, sold it for $30, and donated the proceeds to the Red Cross. This refreshing news goes to show that men convicted of breaking the law are not wholly bad. Even some of the worst offenders against the rules of society have better instincts. The prisoner who gave the profits of his craftsmanship, instead of saving the money for his own use, did more for charity in one simple gesture than many law-abiding people who wouldn't give a cent to save a soul.

"Let me see now—there's me two boys at Eton, there's me yacht at Cowes, there's me annual subscription to the Pytchley, me string of 'orses at Newmarket, me butler's salary . . ."

Workers Want Peron Run As President

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Aug. 22 — (AP). — About 5,000,000 members of the government's master labor organization laid down their tools today in a country-wide "strike" to demand that President Juan D. Peron and his blonde wife Eva, rule Argentina for the next six years.

Workers representing every major city and hamlet began converging on the capital three days ago for a mammoth demonstration today, sponsored by the government-backed General Confederation of Labor, the Peronista Party, and Mrs. Peron's Women's Peronista Party.

Peron and his wife are scheduled to speak at the meeting after union leaders urge them to run for president and vice-president in the November 11 elections.

Police are alert for any move on the part of the Opposition to capitalize on the rally. Special guards have been placed on all trains bringing workers to Buenos Aires for the demonstration. Others have been stationed at important public buildings, bridges and power plants.

Can Be Drafted.

Peron has said repeatedly he does not want a second six-year term. But during recent months he has left little doubt in the minds of his followers that he can be drafted. If Mrs. Peron agrees to run with him, she will be the first woman in Argentine history to seek election for public office. It was she who fought to get Argentine women their right to vote.

If the couple chooses to run, their victory appears almost certain. Oposition parties are prevented by law from forming a coalition to buck the huge Peron political machine.

FRANKFORD, Aug. 22. — Frankford Merchants won their way into the Trent Valley Softball League finals against Wooler by edging the RCAF Trenton Flyers, 3-2, here Monday night.

The homesters took the lead with a pair of runs in the bottom of the third, but the Airmen came right back to knot the score at 2-2 in the top of the fourth. Frankford tallied the winning marker in the fifth when umpire Al Steenberg awarded home plate to a Frankford runner when interference was called against the Flyers' shortstop.

It was a tough game to lose for southpaw Vic Burtt, who allowed but two safeties and claimed 13 on strikes. In addition Burtt led his mates at bat with a pair of safeties. Bruce McComb kept eight hits well scattered while striking out five men.

Norwood Victors

NORWOOD, Aug. 22 (ENS). — Norwood beat the Quakers 7-2 here, Monday night in a fastball game. Martin in the field made some fine plays for Norwood. Scott and Spencer both brought in two runs each with Kelly, Bill Garden and Martin one each. Hillier starred for Quakers, bringing in their two runs. Payne pitched a good game until the last of the eighth when it broke out in a free-for-all with the spectators joining in. Payne lost a tooth when struck in the mouth by the bat of a Quaker player, Payne being sent to the bench and Evans taking over. Horton pitched for Quakers with Shine spelling him off in the sixth.

US Couple Takes Canoeing Lesson 400-Mile Trip

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., Aug. 22 (CP)—The Barren Lands of Northern Saskatchewan and Manitoba, hazardous rapids and inexperience didn't discourage two Americans who have arrived in Prince Albert after a 400-mile canoe trip.

Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Hamm of Berkeley, Cal., arrived in Winnipeg June 18, bought a canoe and took their first instruction in paddling it.

"We didn't know how to fish or hunt and we didn't know how to handle a canoe, but we've had experience now," Mr. Hamm said Tuesday.

From Winnipeg they went to Norway House, Man., at the northern end of Lake Winnipeg, by steamer, and began their trip up the Saskatchewan river. They arrived in La Ronge last weekend.

"We're just fools, with a lot of good luck on our side," Mr. Hamm said.

They travelled without a watch; their only guides some special maps picked up in Winnipeg and pointers from trappers met along the way.

Tuesday they left Prince Albert by canoe for The Pas, Man.; Winnipeg and Chicago.

"Some time we expect to travel the Mackenzie," Mr. Hamm said. The Mackenzie runs northward from Great Slave Lake to the Arctic Ocean.

Narrow Field To 3 Candidates For Baseball High Commissioner

By JOE REICHLER.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22 (AP). — The new baseball commissioner, who may be named at the major league joint meeting in Chicago Sept. 20, will be either Warren Giles, governor Frank Lausche of Ohio or Ford Frick.

In a meeting here Tuesday, the club owners narrowed the field of candidates down to these three men, The Associated Press learned today. The owners also voted that the executive council call a meeting for Sept. 20 to elect a czar, with increased powers and a larger salary than any of his predecessors. However, the fact that three names remain, does not mean that one must be elected commissioner. Happy Chandler, the ousted commissioner, was a dark horse when he was elected.

Del Webb, vice-president of the New York Yankees and chairman of the screening committee, announced at the close of Tuesday's session that the field had been whittled down from 11 to five.

It was learned on good authority, however, the two of the five Webb had in mind were Douglas MacArthur and Milton Eisenhower, president of Penn State University. The others were Lausche, Giles and Frick. Giles is president of Cincinnati Reds and Frick is president of the National League.

Eisenhower and MacArthur could still be considered last-minute candidates if either decides to throw his hat into the ring. Up to now, both have said they felt "honored but could not accept the position." However, it was felt in some quarters that they might change their minds.

Thus, the former list of 11 candidates, which had a strong military flavor, has been stripped of all uniformed candidates—with the possible exception of MacArthur. Among those eliminated were Gen. Dwight Eisenhower; Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, commander of US Air Forces; Gen. Clifton B. Cates, commandant of the US Marine Corps; Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, assistant US chief of staff. All of these men are believed to have declared themselves unavailable, due to the unsettled global situation.

A club owner who did not wish to be identified revealed that Giles drew the most support in an informal vote at yesterday's session. Giles, generally regarded as the best-versed person on technical baseball law in the majors, received 10 of 16 votes. Frick and Lausche got nine each. In other words, none received the required 12 votes that is necessary to win.

Orphans Split With UEW In The Finals

Fans in goodly numbers gathered at East City Bowl Tuesday night to watch the UEW and Orphans continue their best-of-seven series for the senior city men's softball championship, and again saw the teams divide a double-header.

Orphans took the opener 5-4, behind the four-hit pitching of Terry Woods opposing Reg Gordon, UE ace; but Howie Dalton's league-leading crew of the regular schedule wreaked vengeance in the nightcap by a 28-11 count as the shop lads swung the willow with gusto, to pile up a cricket score.

Thus the teams have won two apiece and meet again tonight at 7 as the hot battle continues.

Last night's curtain-raiser was a thriller from bell to bell as both teams fought hard. Both twirlers toiled well with reasonably steady support afield, and Reg Gordon's homer in the seventh was the only extra-base clout of the close contest. Each team registered one in the first and third innings, then Orphans tallied thrice in the fourth as Lewis hit, Withers walked, O'Donoghue singled, and Murph McGrath rapped to left scoring his mates. He completed the circuit as the boys in the pasture allowed the melon to get past to the fence.

Nearly Made It.

Howie's boys notched a single in the seventh on Gordon's smash and again threatened to take it away in the ninth. Castle and Graistein walked and Gordon's fielder's choice nipped the former at third; but Casey scored Grafstein with a fly.

The nightcap saw fireworks in the third after UE had jumped to a 4-2 lead. Fourteen batters faced Woods in their inning, 10 scored and one died on the pond as UE banged out six solid hits, which combined with two walks and five miscues, told the story.

Both twirlers were hit freely in the nightcap, but Orphans were unable to bunch hits in any one frame for more than two runs as the steady Gordon held his end up without much trouble. Five homers featured the second contest by Dalton, who drove in five of his team's aggregate total of runs, Bill Thompson, who smacked in four and Speed Currie, Mark O'Donoghue, and Red Sullivan. It was the redhead's sixth playoff homer including two in the Revoy semi-final series.

Thompson, Walton, Dalton and Castle all tripled for UE; Thompson, Casey and Woods had doubles as base-hits flew hither and yon. Dalton and Wade fielded well for UE, with Castle playing his usual steady game. Tom Walton played a fine game behind the platter. Orphans booted the apple in the second and UE kicked in a few costly errors too, in this slugfest. The teams:

UEW — Casey 2b, Thompson 3b, Dalton ss, White lf, Robson rf, Wade cf, Castle 1b, Walton c, Gordon p.

Orphans — M. McGrath c, Jaquith 1b 3b, Sullivan ss 1b, Scriver cf ss, Currie 2b, Lewis rf, Turner lf rf, Withers lf, O'Donoghue 3b cf, Woods p rf, J. McGrath p.

Umpires—Smith and Borland.

Score by innings:

First game—

Orphans	101 300 000—5	8	6
UEW	101 000 101—4	4	4

Second game—

UEW	31-10 330 071—28	22	6
Orphans	022 010 222—11	10	13

Has Formula For Speed Demon

EDINBURGH, Aug. 22 (CP) — A scientific formula devised by an Oxford University medical professor, points to Roger Bannister, Britain's speed demon of the cinder paths, as a cinch to break the world's mile record within a year.

The prediction was made by Dr. R. W. Parnell of Oxford's department of social medicine, at the concluding session here of the British Association. The formula, he said, was based on the scientific relationship of physique to physical attainment.

The professor said he had worked out his yardstick by measuring the length of leg, height, weight and by X-rays the size of hearts of a group of sprinters and middle-distance runners. By taking the results and applying the formula it was possible to tell whether an athlete would make a good miler or a 100-yard sprinter.

In the case of Bannister, he said the calculations had produced a figure much higher than for any of the others.

"This man, I predict, will break the mile record at the Helsinki Olympic games next year."

But to make the prediction a reality, Bannister must beat the record of 4:01.4 set by the Swedish star, Gunder Haegg, in 1946.

Havelock Wins

HAVELOCK, Aug. 22 (ENS).—The girls' softball team of Havelock district visited Nepheline Mines recently where they defeated the lasses of that place by a score of 28 to 18. It was the fourth game in the series and Betty Barrie was the star performer for the local team by knocking two home runs and bringing in three.

Randal Ellis of Havelock officiated as umpire with Don Matthews of the Mines.

Seventh Knockout

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 22 — (AP).—Harry (Kid) Matthews, 172, Seattle, extended his knockout string to seven by stopping Jose Basora 172, New York in 2:33 minutes of the fourth round Tuesday night. Referee Eddie Volk stopped the fight after Matthews had delivered a terrific right cross to Basora and floored his Puerto Rican opponent for the third time.

The baseballic Petes have to pick up several more games in Toronto ere ending their Viaduct Major League schedule, and 'tis expected playoffs will commence sometime next week. Ed Whitehill's good squad — just good enough to lead the parade since early in the season — should finish in top spot, though Oshawa has been crowding 'em closely the past few weeks. In any case, the Petes can't finish lower than the second slot. Not wishing to have a Toronto member of the Viaduct Loop left out of things, the TBA has ruled than Oshawa and the Petes (though entitled to a crack at the league title are on their own when it comes to OBA playdowns, so that'll mean a series betwixt the Merchants and the locals before too long. Ah, good old Toronto.

Hockey thoughts persist as autumn approaches, and we were thinking the other day what fine puckists we have in our midst on the Petes' senior lacrosse squad. If they'd decide to stay here after the gutted-stick season finishes. Some of them will, of course, but several stars will return to minor pro hockey once more. Offhand, we can think of Nit O'Hearn, Bobby Thorpe, Ike Hildebrand (the pros), and Arn Dugan, Dootch Vitarelli and Curly Mason, ace amateurs. With maybe one or two other fine hockeyists on that OLA team. With these and the pick of the other Peterborough puckists — of two senior "B" clubs — wouldn't we ice a potent outfit? But away with dreams.

* * * * * *

Men's Finalists Tied

Final OLA scoring figures haven't come through yet from Chuck Rowan, but he did give out the 10 leaders the other day. The Crowe crew showed why they finished atop the heap by placing five in the first 10 scorers. Harry Wipper was second on points to Don McPhail, but actually led in goals scored. Ike Hindebrand, Arn Dugan, Curly Mason and Russ Slater, were others in the charmed circle, all of them having 67 or more for the campaign, playoffs being separate. Besides this offensive power in the pack, the Petes have a solid defence and the best goalie in the business, Moon Wootton being tops among Canadian net custodians. A championship club.

* * * * * *

Fergus Thistles showed lots of fight for a tired bunch of lacrosse battlers last night, but they faded in the final half and the Petes earned an 11-2 win. Second scrap of the best-of-five Eastern Canada finals will be tonight at Fergus, with the third one here Friday. Could develop into a hot series, too, as the Thistles were full of fight in the late stages. Powless and Foote drew majors in the fourth for fighting, followed by Hildebrand and Chambers for tossing punches. The Thistles also wanted to rough up the refs after, but the law stepped in. Slater and Fitz led the scorers, closely followed by Creighton, Wipper, Mason, Vitarelli, Thorpe and Hildebrand, showing it was pretty well spread around. Uncertain weather held down the crowd somewhat.

* * * * * *

Yeah, Class Will Tell

Orphans and UEW are still tied in the men's city softball finals. Each has won two in the best-of-seven serial, and they resume tonight at seven bells in the Bowl o'er Ashburnham way. It was 5-4 last eve in the first fray for Orphans with Terry Woods and Reg Gordon again electing to chuck the twin bill—Gordon getting a homer, also. But the big UEW bats got booming in the nightcap as O's started booting the apple around the orchard and it ended up 28-11 for the Dalton bunch. Five homers in this cricket match, Dalton, Thompson, Currie, O'Donoghue and Sullivan poling the four-baggers. It's been quite a series to date and anything may happen yet.

* * * * * *

Following a fracas Monday evening in Norwood during an Industrial Fastball League contest with Quakers, Bergen Payne of Norwood has been suspended indefinitely from industrial ball by the league. Seems he was ordered off the field by Umpire Al Quemby for using abusive language. Instead of leaving, he attacked the umpire and both teams mixed it up then on the field, with the ump and a couple of players receiving minor injuries. Norwood won the game. The league has also warned the Norwood management that umpires must be protected at games in that centre or further action will be taken. This circuit is now ready for its playoffs.

Foresters: Parnell cf, Collins c, Roberts 1b, Henry 1b, Mortimer 3b, Walling rf, Davidson ss, Hobson ss, Doughty 2b, Tyndall lf, Revoir p.

Macken, Rochon Capture Round

WINDSOR, Aug. 22 (CP)—The Canadian lawn tennis championships moved into high gear today with the arrival of the top-ranking competitors.

Fresh from the hurly-burly of the tennis wars at Quebec City, a plane load of top-seeded stars blew into town Tuesday and almost at once began thwacking their opponents unmercifully.

Canadian Davis Cuppers Brendan Macken of Montreal, Lorne Main of Vancouver and Henri Rochon of Montreal all won their second - round men's singles matches. All had drawn first-round byes.

Macken defeated Gert Lukk, Sarnia, 6-1, 6-1, Main stopped Frank Skierski, Hamtramck, Mich., 6-2, 6-0, while Rochon topped Mario Paperella, Detroit, 6-0, 6-1.

Pat Macken of Montreal and Pat Lowe of Toronto, who accompanied the Davis Cuppers here from Quebec, did not see action Tuesday. They are seeded No. 1 and No. 2 among Canadian entries in the women's singles event.

Tony Vincent of Long Island, N.Y., seeded No. 1 among US entries, saw his first action too, scoring a pair of rapid-fire victories after his late arrival.

Vincent knocked off Jim Taylor of Toronto 6-0, 6-0 in the second round of the men's singles, and came right back to eliminate Alex Hetzeck of Detroit 6-1, 6-1 in the third round.

Seymour Greenberg, Chicago, Ill., seeded No. 2 behind Vincent, won his only match of the day, stopping Jacques Gigeure of Quebec, 6-2, 6-3.

Smythe Denies Hockey Unsportsmanlike

TORONTO, Aug. 22 (CP). — Is pro hockey an unsportsmanlike game which develops savagery and brainless bruising in place of intelligence?

Not any more than it's ever been, says Conn Smythe.

The general manager of Toronto Maple Leafs told an interviewer Tuesday that "in hockey as in other things, we can thank God" that things aren't as they were."

He was commenting on recent statements of Frank Fredrickson of Vancouver, a great amateur and pro centre star years ago. Fredrickson said more illegal tactics are prevalent in today's sport and intelligence was being sacrificed for the "brainless bruiser."

Smythe said he remembered Fredrickson as "the equal to the greatest amateur centres of all time," when the latter played with Winnipeg Falcons in 1920.

Short Memory

"But what he knows about pro hockey shouldn't be judged on what he did at Pittsburgh (when he managed, coached and played for the then National Hockey League club in 1929-30). Under his leadership practically a vacuum existed in the rink."

Smythe added that Fredrickson "must have a conveniently short memory about unsportsmanlike tactics."

"During the time he was with Boston Bruins and just after he left there were a couple of incidents such as Eddie Shore teeing off on Ace Bailey (of Toronto Leafs). . . I think we have thinned out such happenings. . ."

Smythe said the game had changed greatly since that time. Sport was "like any other business" and "if you don't streamline your business over the years, you're going to go under. . ."

Here And There In Sports

By The Canadian Press

The American League Tuesday banned playing midgets.

Will Harridge, president of the league, ruled that St. Louis Browns could not use the three-foot, seven-inch Eddie Gaedel in future games.

The 50-pound mite was inserted into the Browns' line-up as a "pinch batter" against Detroit Tigers at St. Louis last Sunday.

Harridge said he did not approve Gaedel's contract for the best interests of baseball.

In St. Louis owner Bill Veeck of the Browns said he was "grieved" by the ruling but he would not protest.

Added Veeck: "I assume they feel that Gaedel provided unfair competition."

In his appearance, Gaedel, 26, was given a base on balls as the first batter in the first inning for the Browns. The midget was replaced on the base lines by Jim Delsing as a pinch runner. Tigers won 6-2.

At Columbis O., Bill Curtis, a 17-year-old Detroit caddie, Tuesday won medalist honors in the sixth annual United States caddie golf tournament with a three-over-par 75-72—147. The tournament ends Saturday.

He won a $300 college scholarship donated by the Canadian Professional Golf Association. The match play champion will get a $1,500 four-year scholarship and the runner-up a two-year $750 scholarship.

Rod Goodes, Hamilton, Ont., fired rounds of 87 and 91 for a total of 178 while Jack James, also of Hamilton, had 94-85—179.

At Vandalia, O., George Genereux of Saskatoon Tuesday became the first Canadian to win a grand American title when he defeated Ronald Gaude of Natchez, Miss., in a shootoff for the junior championship at the 52nd grand American trapshoot.

The 16-year-old Canadian broke 193 of 200 clay targets in the 16-yard finals to tie Gaude and then defeated his opponent 49 to 48 in the extra event.

A North American amateur boxing team defeated Britain, six bouts to four, Tuesday night in Wembley Stadium. The loss was Britain's first in post-war competition.

Len Walter of Vancouver, a featherweight and the only Canadian on the team, defeated Percy Lewis of Britain.

The high cost of living must be worrying people these days. Art Hatch of Hamilton, motorboat pilot, has entered three boats in the fifth annual Harwood Trophy race around Manhattan Island Sept. 9. The names of the boats are Costa Living, Lotsa Costa and Costa Lota.

Lebaron A. Reid, president of Moncton Hawks club of the Maritime Major Hockey League, said Tuesday night he had air mailed the "biggest contract ever offered a coach in the Maritimes" to Tommy (Cowboy) Anderson, of Drumheller, Alta.

Anderson, former coach of Pittsburgh Hornets of the American Hockey League, agreed to terms by telephone several days ago, Reid said. He declined to reveal the salary the former National Hockey League player would receive but said it included "substantial" bonuses based on the position in which the team finished in the league standings.

Petes Down Fergus, 11-2 To Open Lacrosse Playoffs

Roaring back hard in the last half at Miller Bowl last night, the Petes trounced the Fergus Thistles 11-2 to open their best-of-five Eastern Canada senior lacrosse semi-finals. They play tonight in Fergus and back here Friday in the third game. The winner of this series gets a bye into the finals in the east, with the eventual victor going west after the Dominion title.

Tiring in their third tough game in three nights, the Thistles faded somewhat in the last two quarters. They held the leaders to a 1-1 count in the first frame, and Don Crowe's crew just edged them 2-1 in scoring next chukker. But the homesters slapped home five without a return in the third and had a 3-0 scoring margin in the fourth period. Play was speedy in spots but slow at other times with some close, careful checking seen. Both goalies pulled off a number of fine saves. Threatening weather held the crowd down some.

Two Mixups

Though clean for three quarters, tempers were short in the fourth and two fist fights drew major penalties for four players. Ross Powless and Jack Foote — who had been feuding most of the evening—tangled twice briefly before being gated, and right afterward Ike Hildebrand and Frank Chambers mixed it for a second or two. All were given five-minute penalties and chased from the game, their spots in the sin bin being filled by other players. As referees Lou Vipond and Joe Murphy left the field at the end of the game, several Fergus players started pushing them around, but police soon broke it up.

Russ Slater had three goals for the Petes, and Jerry Fitzgerald aided on three, to lead the local snipers. Two points apiece were gained by Em Creighton, Harry Wipper, Curly Mason, Dootch Vitarelli, Bobby Thorpe and Ike Hildebrand, as singles went to Don Ashbee and Ross Powless. The losers' goals were counted by Harry Kazarian and Don Campbell. Teams:

Fergus: Goal, Speck; defence, Killingbeck and McWhirter; centre, Kazarian; wings, Hill and Campbell; rover, Halls; alternates, Harris, Chambers, Abbott, Foote, Lumley, Black and Smith.

Petes: Goal, Wootton; defence, Fitzgerald and O'Hearn; centre, Thorpe; wings, Ashbee and Vitarelli; rover, Creighton; alternates, Wipper, Magee, Mason, Slater, Powless, Hildebrand and Crowe.

Referees, J. Murphy and L. Vipond.

CANADIAN SPORTS PARADE

GOOD footballers and hockey players have made new and greater names for themselves in the field of government during their post-career. Similarly, good paddlers and scullers make good businessmen and the commerical world recognizes the fact. No doubt, the same drive and tenacity which won on the water, ice or playing field still sustains our athletes when the glamour days are done. A few months ago, in this column, we endeavoured to bring the records up to date on a few former athletes who are now prominent men in Canada's business. Here are other names you know.

The Ice Men

One of the outstanding centre men of the Boston Bruins was William Mailes Cowley. For years he travelled and played with Clapper, Shore, Weiland and the rest of those great Bruin teams. Bill Cowley still holds the NHL record for highest number of points, 594 (195 goals, 353 assists in regular season play, 12 goals, 34 assists in Stanley Cup playoffs). Today, at 39, Bill lives in Ottawa with his family (two girls and a boy) and is Manager of the Ottawa office, Lands and Forests Department, Provincial Government.

Reginald "Hooley" Smith went a long way after he starred with the Granites when they became Olympic Hockey Champions in 1924. The centre of the "Big S" line of Stewart, Smith and Siebert, Hooley in his greatest days was the guiding light of the old Marauding Maroons of Montreal. Today, Hooley Smith (48) lives and works in Montreal as President of the Smith Sanitary Supply Company. He has one daughter, Barbara, age 16.

If you have occasion to visit the Ottawa Railroad Terminal and pass the CNR traffic office, you may see a slight figure bending over a desk. A 270 goal man in the NHL, a member of Hockey's Hall of Fame, Aurel Joliat (50) is living and working in his home town. Everyday routine must be a far cry from the magic days with Canadiens when Cleghorn, Mantha, Morenz, Vezina and Joliat were in their prime.

The Water Boys

It's twenty three years since Joe Wright, Jr., made his second bid for the Diamond Sculls at Henley, England, and brought them home to Canada. Still active on the gridiron and in the water affairs of the Argonauts, Joe Wright (45) is a senior executive with the Weaver Fuel Company at Hamilton.

Denis Barclay, a prominent paddler in the 'thirties, out of St. Lambert, Quebec, remembers the "day of the big wind" (1930), at Hamilton Bay when the British Empire Games were under way. Many of the boats were swamped but Barclay and company won the Junior 4's. A winner of the Eastern Intermediate Singles at Lachine, Denis Barclay (38) has flown 30,000 miles in two years as Regional Public Relations Officer for T.C.A.

A long-time member of the Argonaut "eights" was Rod Denison (1931-37), the well known clothier. A stickler for precision and balance on the water, Denison (41) recalls an inquisitive step too many off the dock in the early spring. Chill Lake Ontario was no respecter of Argonauts.

Gridiron Greats

The names Frank Turville and Brian Timmis will bring back memories of the Terrible Tigers of the '30's. Turville, the long booter of many a tensioned afternoon, is now an executive lawyer for the CPR. "Old Man of the Mountain" Timmis (52) is industrious as ever as Supervisor of Sales for Calvert Distillers.

One of the greatest Canadian football players of all time was Harry 'Red' Batstone of Queen's. Today Batstone (52) is resident doctor at the Ontario Hospital, Kingston, and practises his profession within a quarter mile of the scene of his greatest triumphs.

Time marches on!

Feller Wins 20th Game Pitches Indians To 6-0 Triumph Over Nats

By RALPH RODEN, Associated Press Sports Writer

Bob Feller has reached the first of two goals set before the start of the 1951 season. The 32-year-old Cleveland right-hander set 20 victories and a World Series triumph as his prime tarkets for the season. Feller realized his first ambition Tuesday night as he became the Major's first 20-game winner and the way the Indians are travelling these days he stands a good chance of attaining the other. The no-hit master pitched the Indians to a 6-0 triumph over Washington Senators to preserve Cleveland's one-game edge over the runner-up New York Yankees. The Yanks hammered Detroit Tigers 11-4, while St. Louis Browns upset the third-place Boston Red Sox 6-4, and Chicago White Sox defeated Philadelphia Athletics 13-5 in other American League games.

In the National League, New York Giants stretched their winning streak to 10 games, beating Cincinnati Reds 7-4. Philadelphia Phils nipped Chicago Cubs 3-2 in 12 innings in completing a suspended game of July 22 and then downed the Cubs 4-1 in the regular scheduled game. Boston Braves clipped Pittsburgh Pirates 3-1. Rain washed out a game between St. Louis and Brooklyn in the third inning.

Feller allowed only singles and was in command throughout. It is Feller's first 20-victory season since 1947 and his sixth in 13 seasons—a feat matched by only five other American League pitchers, Cy Young, Walt Johnson, Lefty Grove, Wes Ferrell and Eddie Plank.

Larry Doby hit his 19th homer for the winners in the seventh. The loss was Washington's 10th straight.

Yogi Berra, Gene Woodling and Johnny Mize led the Yanks' 17-hit attack against the Tigers. Berra poled his third homer in as many games to open the Yank scoring. Woodling drove home four runs on as many hits and Mize featured a five-run fourth inning with a two-run homer.

Jim McDonald turned back the Red Sox on two hits at St. Louis. The Browns clubbed a trio of Boston pitchers for 10 hits.

8-0 Lead

Chicago ran up an 8-0 lead over the A's in the first two innings to win in a breeze. Luis Aloma, who took over in the third from Saul Rogovin, gained credit for his fifth victory without a loss.

The Giants poled three home runs in the eighth inning and scored six runs to beat the Reds. Homers by Ed Stanky and Whitey Lockman tied the score at 4-4 and Wes Westrum followed with a three-run blast off Frank Smith to win the game.

Bill Nicholson walked with the bases loaded and none out in the 12th inning to force home Philadelphia's winning run against the Cubs to complete the suspended game. Bubba Church was the winner and Monk Dubiel was the loser.

Ken Johnson, with help from Church, squared his record at 4-4 in the nightcap. Ralph Caballero, with three hits, led the Phils' 12-hit attack against Cal McLish.

Jim Wilson turned in his first complete game triumph for the Braves in stopping the Pirates at Boston. Wilson scattered eight hits including a home run by Joe Garagiola.

BACK TO WINDY CITY — After a year and a half with Detroit Red Wings, centre George Gee will be back with Chicago Black Hawks next season, following a $75,000 purchase of six players by the Windy City team. Gee started his National Hockey League career with Hawks in 1945, staying with them until being traded to Detroit in the 1948-49 season. Born in Stratford, he is five foot-eleven, 180 pounds, shoots left. He started his professional career in 1941 with Kansas City, returned there after three years' war service. In 1950-51 regular season he scored 17 goals, had 20 assists, added a goal and an assist in Stanley Cup playoffs.

Buffalo Edges Toronto 3-2 In 12th Inning

By The Associated Press

Archie Wilson's prolific clutch-hitting for Buffalo Bisons is making him one of the most feared batsmen in the International League.

The slugging Buffalo outfielder became the first player to drive in 100 runs when he blasted his 26th home run Tuesday night. The circuit clout came in the 12th inning and gave the Bisons a 3-2 victory over Toronto Maple Leafs.

Wilson is now only three home runs behind the Baltimore Orioles' Marv Rickert, who tops the league in round-trippers with 29.

The belting Bison also possesses the most hits in the loop, 163, and is the second leading batter with an average of .315.

Homers Help

All of Buffalo's runs came as the result of homers as Wally Post socked a four-master in the first frame with a man on base. Johnny Ostrowski bashed a sixth-inning home run for Toronto that tied the score and enabled Wilson to break the deadlock. Ray Shore, making his 50th mound appearance, suffered the setback, while Mike Schultz gained the triumph.

Bill Baker and Loren Babe sparked Syracuse Chiefs to a 7-4 victory over the Ottawa Giants. Baker smacked a grand-slam home run in the opening frame and Babe rapped out four hits in five trips as Lefty Bill Miller won his 13th game of the season.

Baltimore clipped the second place Rochester Red Wings 3-1 behind Jake Schmitt's seven-hit performance. A home run by Damon Phillips aided Schmitt in attaining his tenth victory.

The Montreal-Springfield game was rained out.

Colborne Bests Cobourg 3-2

COBOURG, Aug. 22. — Karl Higgenbotham scored after Irvin Post's long flyout to give a 3-2 win over Cobourg Legionnaires here in a Lakeshore League intermediate baseball game.

Higgenbotham, US Negro, slashed a double through second in the fifth inning with the score tied 2-2. From then on starter Bill Ball, the Colborne speed ball pitcher, was unbeatable.

Davey Shorey was forced to retire in the fifth when Higgenbotham collided with him at home plate. The crash caused a probable fracture of Shorey's nose.

Ball held Cobourg to four hits and struck out 11 men.

Williams Sr. W. Williams Jr., Gordon Fallis, D. Ireland, F. McLaren, Misses Ann Davis, Mary Evans and Joy Finnie. Those unable to come who sent gifts were Mesdames Gordon Puffer, Bertha McLeod, Agnes Ranger, Frank Allen, Cy Whatley, D. Daws, Edgar Roberts, Miss Betty Mason and Mrs. Fred Pew of Vancouver.

AS SUITS BECOME the backbone of a woman's wardrobe once again, blouses, too, take on a new importance. Blouse emphasis this autumn is on color. Soft, delicate shades such as wheat gold, dazzling color found in gold aster, rich copper brown called copper leaf, all make the wearing of a suit more fun. There are deep reds, some of them softened to paler versions: wild rose, thistle pink and cyclamen. A tailored blouse (left) in a washable tissue faille fabric by Bur-Mil has short sleeves, a criss-crossed, notched tie. It's done in many colors, from soft to bright to dark. The fine tuck bib that decorates another short-sleeved blouse (right) in a faille from this same house is lighted by the gleam of small rhinestone buttons. Collar is a tuxedo wing. This blouse, too, is found in a range of rich color.

CGIT Camp Staff Lunches At YW

The CGIT annual girls' camp opens Tuesday at Camp Kawartha for 10 days with 62 girls registered. Camp director is Miss Marion Sibald of Toronto who arrived in Peterborough at noon today and met for luncheon in the YWCA cafeteria with the members of her staff. They are Jean Gardiner and Miss Keoka of Toronto, Orlene Shunk, Joyce Abernethy, Carol Landry, Ruth Mortlock, Marion Brown, Lynn Davidson and Christine Monk, senior councillors, Ruth Hendren, junior councillor and Miss June Agnew nurse, all of Peterborough. They were joined by Mrs. C. H. Crowe, representing Peterborough Girls' Work Board, who has been in charge of registration.

Adair-Brown

HAVELOCK, Aug. 22 (ENS)—Nuptial vows and rings were exchanged in Havelock United Church Saturday afternoon as Elsie Irene Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orvil Brown, of Belmont township, became the bride of Eric Morley Adair, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Adair, of Schomberg. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Gordon Hunter, of Schomberg United Church, under an evergreen arch entwined with summer flowers. The wedding music was played by Donald Pollock and Mrs. Donald Adair, of Brantford, sister-in-law of the groom, sang "Because" prior to the ceremony and "O Perfect Love" during the signing of the register. The guest pews were decorated with white ribbon bows.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white chantilly lace over satin, fashioned with stand-up collar, long sleeves coming to a point over the hands, princess waistline, fastened at the back with tiny satin buttons. The hoop skirt fell into a long train. Her net veil was finger-tip length and was caught to a tiara trimmed with seed pearls and sequins. She carried a cascade of red roses.

Miss Fanny Brown, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, gowned in blue net over taffeta. Miss Elaine Graham and Miss Arlie Brown, sister of the bride, were the bridesmaids, wearing gowns of pink net over taffeta. The attendants' gowns were fashioned in similar style with sweetheart neckline, puff sleeves and skirts cut on full princess lines. They wore shoulder length matching veils caught to floral wreaths and carried nosegays of 'mums and tea roses.

Sandra Adair, of Erin, niece of the groom, was flower girl in a pale blue organdy dress, with puff sleeves. The skirt was scalloped at the bottom and caught with pink roses. She carried a nosegay of 'mums and tea roses.

Donald Adair, of Brantford, was groomsman for his brother, and the ushers were Irwin Brown, brother of the bride, and Ivan Adair, of Malton, brother of the groom.

A reception was held in the Sunday school auditorium of the church where a wedding dinner was served by the Women's Association. The bride's mother received in a gown of navy sheer, with matching accessories and a corsage of red roses. She was assisted by the groom's mother, who wore Queen Anne blue crepe with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

When leaving on a motor trip to Ottawa, Sault Ste. Marie, Chicago, Buffalo and Welland, the bride wore a grey tailored suit with shell pink blouse and hat, white gloves, shoes and purse. Her corsage was white gardenias. They will live in Schomberg.

Guests At Nuptials

HAVELOCK, Aug. 22 (ENS)—Guests at the Adair-Brown nuptials on Saturday were: the Rev. Gordon Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. Walter McLean, Mr. Robert McLean, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Adair, of Schomberg; Mr. and Mrs. Ivan G. Adair and son Wayne, of Malton; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Adair, of Brantford; Mr. and Mrs. Hammond, Mr. R. J. McLean, of Tottenham; Mr. and Mrs. D. Butcher, of Peterborough; Mrs. J. M. Yateman, of Belleville; Mr. and Mrs. J. Hughes, of Alliston; Mr. and Mrs. M. Sills, of Campbellford; Miss Orma Lewis, of Aurora; Mr. and Mrs. J. Deshane, of Cordova Mines; Mr. and Mrs. C. Cole and daughter Helen, of Vansickle; Mrs. W. Parcels, Mr. and Mrs. H. Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Buchanan and son Elmer, Mr. and Mrs. B. Johnson, Mr. Gordon Toms, Miss Joan Graham, Miss Lois Fraser, Mrs. C. Harnden, of Havelock; Mrs. L. Stevenson, of Norwood.

Women Have Say About Royal Tour

WINDSOR, Aug. 22 (CP) — Women are going to have a say in the arrangements here for Princess Elizabeth's visit, city council decided Tuesday night.

The city's woman alderman, Mrs. Cameron H. Montrose, told the council that women's organizations had not been named to the arrangements' committee.

She won assurance that the committee would be expanded to include prominent women's groups.

Fashion Flashes

A WIDE RANGE of wool jersey blouses, a favorite fashion, is appearing in the shops preparing for fall. Navy wool is used for a handsome blouse with full sleeves of matching blue woollen lace. The blouse closes with tiny rhinestone buttons.

✧ ✧ ✧

A FAVORITE almost the year round every year, the new versions of the faille suit are as smart as ever. A black faille suit has a snug bodice that eases down to a crescent peplum, and its velvet revers are softly beaded.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE EMPHASIS is on fabrics for better coats and suits. An exquisite new coating is a sheared angora composed of silk and wool. It is used for a handsome coat, loose and flowing. It has a high buttoned neckline and tapering sleeves. The color is a deep, creamy white. Or very pale beige.

✧ ✧ ✧

ONCE AGAIN, come autumn, the well-handled suit of fine tweed will reap sartorial honors. Brown and black checked tweed, with a faint red overplaid, makes a smart classic, with big stiffened patch pockets at the hips topped by tiny, buttoned change pockets.

✧ ✧ ✧

IMPROVED styling has made the utilitarian storm coat a really handsome garment. A grey, blue and green tweed mixture makes a new model, this one lined in the usual alpaca pile, but with a wide shawl collar of Australian opposum, rather than the usual mouton. The grey fur matches the grey in the tweed.

✧ ✧ ✧

STILL AROUND for fall will be that favorite wrap, the duster coat, but in sturdier fabrics, of course. Brown velveteen is used for a keen version, edged with black braid at its choir boy collar and high-pleated pockets.

✧ ✧ ✧

TIEING UP the mode smartly is ribbon. For instance, one designer has done a charming sailor of beige net, the medium brim covered with loose, knotted little ribbon strands in rose beige, using 350 yards of ribbon in all.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM CUMMINGS, the bride formerly Dolly Gerth.—(Duke Studio Photo)

Cummings-Gerth

In George Street United church Saturday the Rev. E. W. Rowland performed the marriage of Dolly Gerth, Peterborough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Gerth of Kitchener, to William Cummings, son of Mrs. Ethel Cummings of Peterborough.

Sprays of gladioli decorated the chancel and music was played by organist Mr. Charles Allen.

Given in marriage by her father the bride was gowned in white satin with an overskirt of nylon net trimmed with Chantilly lace, topped with a satin jacket. Her veil of tulle fell in a full length train from a crown of orange blossoms and she was carrying a cascade of red roses.

Matron of honor was her sister Mrs. K. Barr of Peterborough and Miss Marie Joseph was bridesmaid. Their frocks had layers of net in the skirt topped with bodice of eyelet, Mrs. Barr wearing blue and Miss Joseph in yellow. Flower girl Betty Chamberlain was dressed in pink taffeta. Each wore a shoulder veil caught with orange blossoms and the attendants carried fans of pale yellow gladioli and the flower girl had yelow and bronze 'mums.

Groomsman was Kenneth W. Barr and Charles Lobb ushered.

The reception was in the Colonial Room, the bride's mother receiving in a dress of beige and rust tones with beige hat and corsage of sweet peas and baby 'mums.

Mr. and Mrs. Cummings will live in Peterborough after a short wedding trip. The bride went away in a turquoise sheer dress, wearing navy accessories and an orchid corsage.

THE PATTER OF RAIN ON A PLASTIC ROOF—A pneumatic rain hat that protects the wearer and at the same time leaves the hands free for carrying packages is the ingenious invention. The hat, which is made of lightweight, flexible plastic, is carried in a small case that fits the purse. It is quickly and easily inflated, left, to the size of an umbrella and ties on with attached ribbons, as seen at right. The invention promises to eliminate the "umbrella-rib-in-the eye" hazard of crowded city streets during a rain.

SURVIVE HURRICANE — Screen star Linda Darnell (right), in Jamaica on a movie-making chore, chats with Sheila Chong, a local girl with a part in the film. Both were in the path of the hurricane which battered the island, leaving more than 40 dead. The actress was reported safe after the storm passed the area.

DOROTHY DIX

Widow Must Decide About Remarrying

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a young widow of 22, with two children. I have been going with a boy 21 for about a year. He is a hard worker, doesn't drink, and we are very much in love. We want to be married but my in-laws are bitterly against it and are trying to turn my children against me. This boy is very fond of my children.

KAY

Dorothy Dix

ANSWER: Unless he is very mature for his age, a boy of 21 is too young to take on the responsibility of a ready-made family. However, the decision of a second marriage is yours, and yours alone.

Their Intentions Good

Your in-laws undoubtedly have the interests of their grandchildren at heart, and are trying to advise you to the best of their ability. Consider the points on which they object to your marriage, and perhaps you will see justice in some of them. Weigh the pros and cons carefully. Your boy friend has fundamentally sound characteristics, which will not be lost by waiting. A postponement of a year or two in your wedding plans won't hurt either of you, and will give you both a better chance to know each other.

DEAR MISS DIX: My husband and I are in disagreement over this point: I believe that the golden rule is correct, and he says you should expect others to do unto you what you would do unto them. He believes I let people take advantage of my good nature and generosity. Actually, the things I do are small, such as minding a neighbor's child, or lending things, and I am sure the people I help would do the same for me.

This seems like a small item but it has brought on many quarrels between us.

ANSWER: As a code of living, no one has yet improved on the golden rule of "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you." If you are a naturally generous person, it is useless for your husband to try to change you; love and consideration for one's neighbor cannot be killed. They are the enduring traits of good people; the hope of the world.

Be careful that your home and family are not neglected for your good deeds. Carelessness in this respect will give your husband a basis for quarrels. Careful training on your part should bring him around to your point of view. Be sure to emphasize for his benefit every favor done you, or him, by a friend.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 18 years old and married to a man of 20. We have been married two years and have no children. We moved to a farm a year ago and I work in the fields driving a tractor every day he works. He has only bought me two sweaters and one pair of shoes since we have been married. He never gives me any money and will have nothing to do with my family, though his mother is living with us. Shall I leave him now while I am still young or remain with him and try to make a go of it?

ADA

ANSWER: You'll have to do more than "just try to make a go of it" to have any happiness with a stingy husband. You're very young now, and can demand concessions much better than you will be able to later on. Since you work in the fields with your husband, tell him you are at least entitled to a field hand's pay. You work hard to help earn the money; you are certainly entitled to at least enough of it to buy decent clothes.

Stinginess is one of the worst habits to cure in a husband. Love of the almighty dollar gets a grip on a man that nothing can loose. Few things are worse than existnce with a man who has to be begged for a week to part with a nickle. Take a stand now, Ada, and stick to it!

Girl Supervisor Paddles To Teach Indians

MOOSE FACTORY, Ont. (CP) —Getting in the mood for a new job as supervisor of 80 small Indians and Eskimos, 17-year-old Jennifer McVicar of Toronto paddled a good part of the way to her post in a canoe.

It's some 360 miles between Ottawa and Abitibi and many more by canoe.

Jennifer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kay McVicar of Toronto, decided she would like a change this year from previous summer jobs on the farm or at summer camps and hotels. She obtained a post as temporary supervisor at the Bishop Horden Memorial School here from the Department of Indian Affairs.

Because her job didn't start until Aug. 1, Jennifer, who got her senior matriculation last spring, accepted a chance to travel from Ottawa to Abitibi by canoe. From these she came on by train to Moosonee.

Her first days were busy, helping to prepare for the centennial celebration of the settlement of the mission and watching the influx of Indians who came from as far as 200 miles away in war canoes.

Likes The North

In a letter to her mother she noted that there is only a day school during the summer, but in winter the Indian children stay here while their fathers move off to the bush. She has been keenly interested in the Indian ceremonials and social events.

An evening service in the Cree language that she attended "was very beautiful to listen to," although she knows only a few words of the Cree language.

"There have been three Indian weddings, with a dance after each one," she said. "I was very disappointed to find that the bride wore satin and not native costume.

"There is no point in going to a wedding before 11 o'clock as they just start then and dance until dawn. They dance a form of square dance with six couples. In between sets the men do what is called a step-dance, trying to outlast one another."

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Special Menu Not Dinner Or Supper

I am going to surprise you this time and give you a special-purpose menu that is neither a dinner or a supper. It is a "brunch." It could be used though for a supper, if you used the first course for the dessert.

We had guests for the weekend and my sister wanted to entertain them for at least one meal. We decided that breakfast-time was the only way we could work it on the heavy schedule they had, so planned, that if the day was fine, we would have brunch in her garden on Sunday morning—down in what they call the Ash Grove. Now that is not because it contains ashes, but because it grows about five big trees the names of which nobody can tell us. The majority of those questioned wrinkle their foreheads and mutter that they think they are some type of ash. My arboreal ancestors are too far gone to be any help to me in this case at this late date.

Brunch In The Ash Grove

Quarters of Honey Dew Melon with Lime
Pan Fried Side Bacon and Kidney
Sliced Tomatoes
Genuine Southern Cornbread
New Black Currant Jam
New Comb Honey Coffee

You do not have to hunt very hard to see what makes this meal memorable and worth copying. Every item in its was tops. Southerners might eat the cornbread out of hand, but it was moist and this seemed too abandoned to me. I cut mine with my knife and fork, added a touch of butter, and speared a piece of bacan too and ate them tandem.

Fried Bacon and Kidney

We used wide slices of smoked jowl for bacon and fried it fairly crisp. The kidneys were pork and cut in halves, with the veinous portion removed. They were soaked one-half hour and then dipped in salted flour and fried quickly in the bacon fat. Do not overfry kidney. As I have said about liver many of the people who do not like these "fancy" meats have developed the dislike because they are not cooked properly—and this usually means over cooking.

Southern Cornbread

One and one-half cups milk, 1 cup yellow cornmeal, 1½ tablespoons shortening, 2 eggs, 1½ teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons sugar. Scald the milk very hot, and pour it over the cornmeal. Stir, then Add the beaten eggs, baking powder, salt and sugar and mix well. Pour into greased shallow pan and bake at 425 deg. Fahr. for about 22 or 25 minutes, or until golden brown and crisp on the bottom and light brown on top.

The new comb honey came from my friend Barb's hives and was appreciated for we knew with what gingerly care it had been taken from the hives, for both Barb and her husband are novices at the new honey-raising project.

The black currant jam came from currants from our bush—one bush—and the total yield was twenty-two jars — averaging eight ounces. Pretty slick for city folk

EATON'S Presentation of Fashions Framed in Fur from
EATON'S Travelling Fur Collection
Leaves PETERBOROUGH
Thursday at 2 p.m.

Time is flying. Soon it will be too late to see, to buy from, EATON'S Travelling Fur Collection. It must leave Peterborough by Thursday, 2 p.m., in order to fulfil a busy schedule. So, come Now, while there is still time to select your Fur Coat, Jacket Cape, Stole or Scarf; still time to consult the EATON Fur Expert and to benefit by his experience and advice. Of course, your purchase from EATON'S Travelling Fur Collection is covered by the EATON Guarantee, "Goods Satisfactory or Money Refunded." And Budget Plan Terms may be arranged if desired. Remember, EATON'S Travelling Fur Collection will leave Peterborough on Thursday at 2 p.m.

Caught In Current Boy 9 Drowned

SARNIA, Aug. 22 (CP)—Dragging operations started in Lake Huron Tuesday for the body of Richard Drouillard, 9.

The boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Drouillard, was caught in a strong undercurrent while swimming with several other children.

Jean Drouillard, Richard's 10-year-old sister, made an unsuccessful attempt to grab his arm before he went under.

Taxi Fares To Be Boosted

KIRKLAND LAKE, Aug. 22—(CP)—Taxi fares will be increased in Kirkland Lake and the cabs fitted with meters if Teck township council grants a petition from eight of the nine taxi firms here.

The petition was shelved for decision on Sept. 4. Reeve Anne Shipley suggested that action be delayed until then and that in the meantime the cabmen draw up a zoned map.

The petition says the cabbies want a starting price, or mark up of 50 cents for the first three-fifths of a mile, and five cents for each one-fifth of a mile thereafter. After hearing an estimate of what local runs would cost, the reeve remarked that she had travelled in "lots cleaner cabs in various towns and the markup was less than 50 cents."

Transient Run Over By Train, Killed

SIMCOE, Aug. 22 (CP) — A transient, identified only as Gordon Howe, died in hospital Tuesday night of injuries suffered when run over by a train.

Howe was struck by a Canadian National Railways train at the southern limits of the town. His right arm was severed at the shoulder and toes of his right foot were cut off.

Nurses' Residence Needed At Hospital

LINDSAY, Aug. 22—The board of the Haliburton Red Cross Outpost Hospital discussed the proposed new nurses' residecnce. Such a building is urgently needed in the village, as most of the nurses have to reside in private homes, and these are not always available close to the hospital. Plans for the hospital and ways and means of raising the necessary money were discussed at considerable length.

W. O. Bailey, T. W. Rutherford and G. Hughes reported that they had visited the reeves of the nine townships in the connection with the building of the proposed new nurses' home, and that special meetings were to be held to discuss the matter.

The meeting also had under discussion the necessity for a new home for the aged, as the one at Lindsay was overcrowded.

It was stated that should the Red Cross Hospital decide to build, operations would not begin before April, 1952.

City Workers Demand Foreman Be Fired

WELLAND, Aug. 22 (CP) — Twenty of Welland's 26 street department workers Tuesday night told city council in a letter to replace their foreman within 24 hours.

In turn, council gave the men until Thursday noon to remove their names from the letter or be dismissed.

The letter carried signatures of the 20 men and called Lounsbury a "slave driver."

Says Cost Of Living Bringing Disaster

TRURO, NS, Aug. 22 (CP)—Pat Conroy, secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Congress of Labor, said Tuesday that Canada is marching to economic disaster unless something is done to stop the rising cost of living.

Speaking at the annual convention of United Mine Workers (CCL) District 26, Mr. Conroy said working people will have to find a middle road between Communism on the left and big business on the right. Policing of business affairs was the answer, he said.

Hope To Aid Older Veterans

CORNWALL, Aug. 22. (CP)—A resolution aimed at reducing unemployment among older veterans was one of several approved Tuesday by the Ontario Command of the Canadian Legion.

The resolution, adopted by delegates to the command's 17th biennial convention, asked for the appointment of officers in all large unemployment offices in Canada to deal with the employment needs of older veterans.

Other resolutions urged the establishment of Legion homes for aged and disabled veterans and of summer camps for the children of needy veterans. Delegates also recommended that Legion homes and institutions be used to assist immigrants coming into Canada.

Killed In Crash

BRANTFORD, Aug. 22 (CP)—Frederick Simon, 30, of Paris, injured early Tuesday when the truck he was driving struck a telephone pole near the old Brantford airport road, died in hospital late in the day. A motorist found Simon lying in a ditch beside the road to where he had crawled after the crash.

Frost Certain Canada Able Handle Seaway

OTTAWA, Aug. 22 — (CP) — Premier Frost said Tuesday he is convinced Canada can go ahead alone with development of the St. Lawrence seaway and power project.

In an interview following discussions with Prime Minister St. Laurent and Finance Minister Abbott, Mr. Frost said the St. Lawrence projects are not too big for the people of Canada.

The Premier said he discussed the credit situation generally with the federal authorities. During the discussions reference was made to the financing of the St. Lawrence seaway and power projects.

Interested In Power

The people of Ontario, he said, are interested as Canadians in the development of the seaway. But they are fundamentally interested in the power end of the project.

Ontario would be asked to contribute toward the cost of power developments on the International Rapids section of the river. Ontario would obtain an additional 1,250,000 horsepower from the development, he said.

While the total cost of the power development would be great, it would still be more favorable per horsepower than any power project now contemplated by the province.

Adam Scott Lost His Savings Building Mill In Cobourg

MRS. GERALD MARRYAT

In 1817, when Adam Scott was living at Smiths' Creek, Port Hope, he built his first mill, and then took a contract to build another for old Squire Henry in Cobourg.

This contract resulted in heavy financial loss to Scott for he had brought with him from Scotland about $8,000, according to various accounts, but in 1818, he was without means. He was one of those unfortunate individuals who operated long before the system of "cost plus" in contracts had been thought of; and was probably in wrong with the Cobourg tradesmen who wanted the job. Many years afterwards a young Scotsman, William Houston, who built the annex to the Crooks grist mill at Hastings, tried to edge into the building trade at Cobourg and found himself at a loss in estimating costs in a new country. So Adam Scott was more to be pitied than blamed if his nest egg was lost on his first venture as a millwright.

His mill stood the test of time, however, and William Catternole, a traveller, in 1831, noted that Henry's Mills, and the estate adjoining, had been purchased by Mr. Ham, of Bath, for £6,000, as Mr. Henry was retiring from business.

Fate took a hand in Adam Scott's affairs at this crisis in his life and sent him off on what must have looked like a wild goose chase across Rice Lake plains and up the Otonabee River as far as the present city of Peterborough. It may be one of fate's little ironies that his name will always be connected with it when his earlier and more successful mill-building is forgotten. It does explain how he had to conduct his later venture on such a limited scale.

But who was Old Squire Henry and what sort of man was he to hold Adam Scott to his contract? What had his life been that he was so firm in his dealings with others?

Robert Henry was born at Albany, NY, in 1778, and died at Cobourg, May 10, 1859, at the age of 81.

Owner of Large Flour Mill

In September, 1822, when Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Stewart arrived at Cobourg on their way to Douro Robert Henry was "the owner of one of the largest flour mills in Canada," and when we realize that Adam Scott built it, we get a better idea of his capabilities. As the nearest flour mill to the settlers in the back country it was known far and wide. As agent for the Commercial Bank, Robert Henry was a power to be reckoned with in a day when credit was the privilege of the few.

Mrs. Stewart in "Our Forest Home" related how the very name of Robert Henry of Cobourg had a sobering effect on the rough, surly, vulgar wretch who was the captain of a schooner in which the Stewarts travelled from York, and when they stayed for a time in Cobourg, Mr. Henry proved to be most entertaining and friendly, and told her of his adventures during his 25 years in the North-west fur trade when he never came home once in all that time. Of how he and his party had to cut up their shoes and leather aprons to stave off starvations.

In Mrs. Stewart's day, the Henrys lived across the road from the Bethunes in what was afterwards known as the "Minaker house" opposite St. Peter's Church, Cobourg, where the Rev. A. N. Bethune, later Bishop of Toronto, was rector for many years and where Robert Henry was a church warden. A tablet therein commemorates his service to the church and states that "on August 20, 1819, four acres of ground, where the church and rectory stand, were given solely for the use of the Episcopal Church and its appurtenances by John Spencer to Robert Henry and Walter Boswell, church wardens—for ten pounds of lawful money." The church was commenced in 1820 and the Rev. Alexander Neil Bethune was appointed in 1827.

The Stewarts and Henrys remained friends long after they had settled in Douro. When they planned a visit to the lake front it was Mr. Henry's wagon that awaited them on the south shore of Rice Lake. It was through him that they met all the Cobourg gentry, including old Mrs. Bethune, a fine, merry old lady who lived in a cottage near St. Peter's Church and who was worth going to see so nicely was her cottage furnished and fitted up, English style with a tea-urn, the only one in Upper Canada to Mrs. Stewart's knowledge.

WHEEL-CHAIR COACH — Outings in comfort for wheel-chair-bound persons are possible with this custom-built coach designed by Walter Callow, 57, of Halifax, himself blind and paralyzed. Callow, severely injured in the First World War when with the Royal Flying Corps, now has three of the coaches and hopes to have as many as 150 by 1954 — enough to be available to every crippled person in Canada. Callow's injuries left him barely able to move his lips, but today he works 14 hours a day and keeps four secretaries busy.

Hopes To Have Special Coaches For All Cripples In Canada

By KINGSLEY BROWN

HALIFAX, Aug. 22 (CP)—Under the best conditions, it's hard enough to build a dream into reality.

Imagine how the difficulties are multiplied when you are paralyzed, blind, in almost constant pain and barely able to move your lips.

Walter Callow, who wants Canada's wheel-chair patients to share the pleasures of the man on the street, has hurdled these difficulties. Now he is moulding his ambition into what looks like a "sure thing."

A Callow-designed coach has just been delivered here from an Ontario manufacturing plant. It is another cog in the machinery which Callow hopes will revolutionize the lives of wheel-chair sufferers.

Has 3 Coaches

He now has three custom-built coaches and by 1954 expects to have enough—perhaps 150—to look after every crippled person in Canada.

Now 57, Callow knows what these coaches can mean. He was at his best during the First World War but was severely injured in 1917 in the old Royal Flying Corps when his plane cracked up during a test flight.

Years In Bed

The crash ruined his career as a promising mechanical expert and made him a helpless patient. He became paralyzed and blind.

But 21 years in bed failed to break his indomitable spirit. He has the drive of two ordinary men; works 14 hours a day and keeps four secretaries busy during the winter.

"The new coach will be as smooth as a high-class pullman," Mr. Callow said in an interview. "Sounds boastful, doesn't it? But it isn't.

"It has airplane hydraulic shock absorbers, and the springs were custom-built in Montreal. Overdrive and five-speed transmission make it accelerate like a passenger car. There's nothing like it in its class in North America."

Have Pneumatic Tires

Even the wheelchairs, which enter the special vehicle by a hydraulic-operated ramp, are fitted with pneumatic tires.

A recent survey at the Nova Scotia hospital where most patients are mental cases showed that some 130 of the 400 patients could be taken out on occasions. Callow's buses took them to the local baseball games.

"Doctors claimed it was not only good recreation, but the best treatment they could have," he said. "It put them back into circulation."

Many Outings

The coaches carry polio-stricken children, crippled veterans and invalids to hockey and baseball games, and on excursions into the country. It is believed that every wheel-chair patient in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick has been on at least one outing this year.

Made 22 Trips

Ernie MacLellan of Bass River, NS, is a good example. Ernie, a veteran at Halifax's Camp Hill hospital, broke his back and was "out" three times in nine years. Last year, in Callow's buses, he made 22 trips throughout the province.

George Mumford of Halifax is another. George, now 29, became paralyzed at the age of six. He never left home in 21 years. Then a Callow bus took him to a local art school. The school's principal says George will be earning his own living in a year.

High Prices

VANCOUVER — (CP)—Mike McCormick, Vancouver Tourist Association secretary, claims American tourists are refusing to buy Canadian goods because of "exhorbitant prices." He says American visitors spend only 25 per cent of the money they bring across the border.

Modern Methods Make Bad Land Grow Good Crops

BRADFORD — (CP)—An impoverished 100-acre farm near here is paying off for Jim Steers, a 31-year-old farmer with a firm belief in modern methods of agriculture.

The land wasn't much for yield when Jim started working it 12 years ago. Most of it was sloping and every time it rained the topsoil started heading for the hollows. The crop didn't have a chance.

Jim, who had taken short courses at the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph, invited the college experts to help him. They told him how to map out his farm, how to follow contours, to seed grass waterways and what crops should be planted where. They also gave him a five-year program that has proved successful.

Spruce-Mead, as he calls his holding, is actually a dairy farm. All the crops are planted with that in mind. Mixed grains and plenty of hay are the main items. He once planted a corn crop but had to give it up. It proved difficult to handle on hilly land even when planted on a contour.

Scientific Use

On one side of his sloping fields this year, he has four or five acres of alfalfa planted in two-year rotation with grain. The lower areas are kept in hay crops as much as possible to prevent erosion. Grass waterways are provided to drain off rain without removing soil.

As well as being a successful hay and grain farmer, Jim has followed the latest methods in cattle raising. Last year he built a loafing barn and milking parlor for his dairy herd.

He is also something of a contour missionary. Other farmers in the district have started working their farms across the slope.

Flower Show Entry List Larger

Abundant Rainfall Made Possible Wealth of Beauty

Fragrance and color pervade the flower show at the Exhibition which is again under the auspices of the Peterborough Horticultural Society.

W. C. Wilks, chairman of the committee, reported today a slightly larger number of entries than last year, a gift of the fairly frequent rains of the season up to the beginning of the harvest time.

Gladioli are resplendent in their variety of color, asters and zinnias and a wide range of other annuals transfer to the recently vacant building a wealth of floral beauty from gardens of the city and district.

Snapdragons, petunias, carnations contribute their colors to the composite bouquet, and stocks are rich in perfume.

The judges were Bert Hick, of Lindsay, and J. H. Jose, of Newcastle. They had reached only the half way circuit of the exhibits by noon.

Prizewinners

Some of the winners according to the prize cards were:

Floral basket, any flowers: 1, Thomas Aitken, of King George St., and 2, G. W. Downer, both using zinnias, which have been developed in both size and shades of color.

One class of floral baskets of gladioli went to Herb W. Cardwell and George Clarke, both of Wallace Point.

The Rev. V. E. R. Zufelt, of Omemee, was first for basket of lilies, and G. W. Downer second.

Floral basket of asters went to Martha Aiken and Mr. Downer. Tom Aitken was first with a basket of snapdragons and Mrs. G. Shearer, of Indian River, second.

The Rev. Mr. Zufelt was awarded a first for a grand display of sweet peas. Mrs. A. Heideman, Chemong Park, showed a first prize basket of roses.

George Downer usually accounts for most of the dahlia prizes, but in the floral basket section first went to Miss Mina Stewart, of Otonabee, the Downer basket placing second.

Mr. Cardwell and Mr. Clarke were one-two in a floral wreath section. The winner was a soft tinted symphony of pink gladioli and white asters. Mr. Clarke's was predominantly white.

Mr. Aitken took a first in floral sprays with Mrs. Chris Plunkett, of Keene, second. The flower show has a large display of African violets.

CGE PARKING LOT

Canadian General Electric Company has laid out a new parking lot on the west side of Monaghan Road on part of the former DVA property which the company eventually bought long after the fire that destroyed the hospital for veterans. The parking area within the company's fencing along the east side of Monaghan Road is now vacant, but one of these days it may spring into new life. CGE has another parking lot along the CPR on Park Street.

New Weekender To Carry Palooka

Unlike certain of his real-life contemporaries, Joseph Palooka, the comic strip box fighter can always be counted on to comport himself with the most admirable dignity whether inside or outside the ring: that's what his millions of fans like about him.

Joe's creator, Hammond Edward Fisher, now a heavy-set balding, 51-year-old, first got the brawny, lovable character into public prints more than 21 years ago. And their relationship since then has been harmonious and prosperous.

Readers of The Examiner can now look forward to keeping tab on his activities each Saturday on the cover of the colored comic section of the giant Weekend Examiner which starts Sept. 8.

Of course, all Joe's sidekicks will be on hand — his manager, Knobby Walsh, hair restoring problems and all; boisterous Jerry Leemy, the champ's second, wartime buddy and all-round confidante along with blimpish Humphrey Pennyworth, strongest man in the world and Joe's bosom pal.

Real-life Model

There's a well-worn anecdote in connection with the birth of Joe Palooka. It seems that one day in 1921 a youthful Ham Fisher was striding briskly past a pool hall in his home town of Wilkes-Barre Pa., when he encountered a local gladiator with all the markings of a Damon Runyon pug.

"Hi'ya, Ham?" said the large bumpkin. "How about I an youse havin' a game of golluf up at the muni-sippel course?"

Mr. Fisher didn't say whether he joined his hulking acquaintance in recreation but did say he was suddenly inspired with an idea for a comic-strip character based on the individual. He immediately set to work and produced Joe the Dumbbell—name was later changed to Joe Palooka.

Then a combination reporter, cartoonist and advertising salesman on a Wilkes-Barre paper, Ham rushed from syndicate to syndicate with sets of the strip . . . "But they all turned me down cold," he recalled. "And this went on for eight years."

No Takers for Years

But after a stint as part-owner of an ill-fated newspaper in his home town, Ham set sail for New York, where he landed a job as an ad salesman, all the time plugging Palooka, but with no takers.

He moved on to peddling features for a major syndicate and in the process snitched some of his employer's time to show Joe around to prospective clients. "In 25 days I sold 30 big cities and after that Joe was no palooka."

Ham Fisher likes to think his interest in drawing was all a result of parental influence. "Mom had done some writing," he recalled, "and could draw a lemon that almost looked like one."

But there has never been anything sour about the work done by Mrs. Fisher's son Hammond. His Joe has gone through a lot of mortal struggles during a ring career characterized by clean, wholesome sportsmanship.

Most of his adversaries inside the squared circle have been just so many big, bad, bruising bounders—with a few singular exceptions, of course. Most recent of this latter type was Lt. Solly Levin, the handsome, clean-cut air-force officer whom Joe rallied to cut down in the 15th round.

Many fight authorities are of the considered opinion Joe is slowing down a trifle, especially after the ding-dong Levin battle. But Mr. Fisher dispels with alacrity any suggestions that old age is tapping the "cham-peen" on the shoulder.

Still Young Fellow

"Why I venture to say Joe isn't much over 25 years old" he says. "Sure he's been around a long time but what most people forget is that it sometimes takes a week to describe in a strip what really happens in one night."

The word "palooka" was coined in the early 20's as meaning third-rate pugilist but Fisher has been responsible for changing the connotation. Palooka's blunt features, 30 feet high, are in limestone near New Bedford, Ind., and can be seen for 20 miles either way, while a mountain lookout near Wilkes-Barre has been renamed Mt. Joe Palooka. In Bridgeport, Conn., they have an annual civic function known as Joe Palooka Day and in Australia an annual horse race is called the Joe Palooka Stakes.

The strip is produced in a midtown New York office by Fisher and two assistants, who share the pencil sketching and inking pin, but only Ham draws Joe, Humphrey and other leading players. "They're my babies," he explains.

Mail response to the strip is terrific. It has run as high as 32,000 letters a week, all of which makes Hammond Edward Fisher "mighty thankful my mom could draw a lemon that almost looked like one."

Judges Start As Big Fair Is Under Way

Opening Day Breaks Chilly and No Sun But Brightens at Noon

Opening day at the Peterborough Exhibition started off slowly as only a few hundreds showed up at the fair grounds before noon. A chilly and gusty north wind was partly to blame for the slow start.

By noon, however, the overcast sky broke up and the sun was shining. Children, coming early in scattered handfuls and later in more regular quantities for their day at the Ex, paraded through the grounds, climbing on tractors, and gazing curiously at the animals in the horse and cattle barns.

Start Early

Judging of some exhibits started as early as 8 a.m., and by noon, half the poultry had been judged. Horticulture judges began their slow inspection of the banks of flowers at 9 a.m.

At the southwest corner of the track stable boys were walking harness horses, and owners were seated on boxes at the end of the horse barn, talking over chances for the night's racing.

In front of the grandstand, performers were doubling in brass as electricians and carpenters, working toward the afternoon and evening shows.

Along the midway, the carny hands were setting up the refreshment and games booths, the rides and the girly shows. They were shouting for help from "Joe and Shorty," who, they were pretty sure, were somewhere grabbing breakfast.

Final Touches

Exhibitors in the manufacturers' building were putting final touches on their exhibits; painting here, and wiping slight touches of dust from the shiny finishes of new cars.

At the secretary's office, general manager G. A. Gillespie and his staff were busy filling out passes and concession cards for exhibitors and others. Trucks were pouring in and out of the Lansdowne St. gates in a steady stream bringing groceries, soft drinks and last-minute additions to exhibits.

The crowd that had gathered by noon was estimated at about 400 or 500. Sunny, warmer weather this afternoon was expected to draw many more.

Elect F. G. Mann Deputy Grand Master

Fred G. Mann, 199 London St., was elected deputy master of Sovereign Great Priory of Canada Knights Templar, at the 68th annual assembly which concluded in Hamilton on Tuesday. Harry Minchin of Calgary was named grand master succeeding John Henry Eydt of Hamilton.

Mr. Mann has been a member of the grand council since 1945. He has been a member of the order for almost 25 years. He is a past preceptor of Moore Preceptory, Peterborough and a past provincial prior. For a number of years he has been registrar of Moore Preceptory.

Dr. H. M. Yelland was elected provincial prior and both he and Mr. Mann were installed along with the other officers by A. B. Barr of London, a past supreme grand master. Dr. Yelland will represent the grand master in Toronto district which includes preceptories in Toronto, Oshawa, Port Hope, Barrie, Owen Sound and Peterborough. He is also a past preceptor of Moore Preceptory.

A Roundabout Trip

Freight Blocks Crossings Buses Forced To Detour

By HARRY THEOBALD

This is a memorandum for the special traffic committee of the council, possibly with incidental reference to certain railway details of Faludi's Master Plan. It is a brief story, but its significance is in the roundabout quest of a bus driver to get from one side of the town to the other, past the obstruction of a CNR freight train sprawled through the centre of the city at 11:30 o'clock Tuesday night.

Westbound on Charlotte St., the driver of the Monaghan Road south bus waited impatiently for five minutes in a line of traffic. Finally he turned south through the CNR station yard.

South to Dalhousie St.

King St. was blocked by the freight. So he wheeled out to Aylmer St. and went down to Sherbrooke St. The red signal light at the CNR crossing was swinging back and forth. So the driver, having set out to circumvent the CNR freight drove south on Aylmer to Dalhousie.

A glance to the right showed that this crossing was clear. So the bus turned west, and continued to Park St., then north to Charlotte St. Looking back east the passenger could see that the main street was still blocked but the train was in motion, north bound.

A Master Plan

Possibly the freight, before it decided to get out of the public way, had reached up to Simcoe St. It may be recalled that the city paid $10,000 for the Master Plan, the zoning details, and so on. One of the recommendations advised Peterborough that the railways, long established at the heart of the city, should be encouraged to find new connections with this community.

The railways obtained their present routes when Peterborough was a town of a few thousand people. The CNR acquired possession of Bethune St., and as the Faludi report intimated, the city continues to grow but the railway movements are right in the midst of it.

Furthermore the Bethune St. right of way was based largely on required entrance of the old Midland Railway from Port Hope. Only a few months ago the CNR cut off that service, but the incident of Tuesday night, frequently repeated from week to week, shows the freight in possession of one of the central streets of the city, traversing other central streets that cross it at right angles.

Diver Recovers Body Of Boy

COBOURG, Aug. 22 (ENS)—Discovery of the body of seven-year-old Jimmy Niles, Tuesday, who drowned Monday afternoon, came only by chance. Fred James, Peterborough diver, was unable to see in the water as the heavy rain, plus a strong wind, made visibility nil. The diver was feeling with his hands in a crevice formed by one concrete block overlapping another at an angle, when he felt the body. Had he missed it, the search would have gone on much longer.

James, who had experience during the war in the navy, told Acting Chief of Police H. Pearse that making his way among the broken concrete under water was one of the most difficult jobs he had encountered. The body was found only a few feet from where Bobby Brown, eight-year-old friend of Jimmy, said he saw him disappear.

Dragging operations or probing with pike poles would never have located the body, police said.

Rambling Reporter

COURTESY

The courtesy of a George St. driver Tuesday amazed pedestrians. Shortly after the 5 p.m. rush the car was going south on George St. just above Brock St. Two boys, about eight years old were midway up the block ready to dart across the street when the traffic cleared. The driver stopped his car, held up following traffic, and motioned for the boys to cross safely. The blare of horns from behind was all the thanks the driver received.

3-Lb. Loaf Sold For 24 Cents 30 Years Ago

Thirty years ago—to be exact August 21, 1921—a Peterborough housewife paid 24 cents for a loaf of bread.

This was not inflation price, because at that time loaves weighed three pounds—twice as large as the present one and one-half pound loaf.

When bakers decided to wrap loaves, about 1925, both the shape and size of the loaf was changed. From the former square it was given the shape it is now and brought down to one and one-half pounds. The price was 12 cents.

Since that time, only the price has changed—the shape and weight remains the same. The lowest quoted retail price for bread was seven cents, in depression years, 1930-32.

As conditions got better, bread prices were raised to 10 cents and this was a stable price until after the Second World War. In 1948, bread, along with everything else, increased in price, selling then at 13 cents.

Today, a Peterborough housewife pays 18 cents for a loaf of bread—one and one-half times as much per pound as 30 years ago.

Jaw Fractured How Happened?

"He couldn't talk, and we don't know what happened."

This statement was made to the Examiner today by Mrs. John Boyce, RR 2, Ida, when she was asked what happened to Howard Barker, 47, who was admitted to Civic Hospital with a fractured jaw Tuesday night at 9 o'clock.

Barker lives with the Boyce family on their farm about seven miles west of Peterborough and five miles north-east of Ida.

Hospital officials do not know how Barker received his injury, Peterborough Provincial and city police and also Cobourg Provincials have no record of any accident or incident in which Barker might have fractured his jaw.

All the information Mrs. Boyce gave was that Barker drove into the farm suffering from a fractured jaw and her husband drove him to Peterborough hospital. She said she had no idea where Barker received the injury.

So until Barker's jaw allows him to talk, the story will remain a mystery. It is reported his condition is satisfactory today.

Five Kiwanians Plan To Attend Convention

W. Warren Graffam, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, sales executive and trustee of Kiwanis International, will be one of the main speakers at the 1951 convention of the Ontario-Quebec-Maritime Kiwanis district.

The convention will take place in Murray Bay, Quebec, September 9-12.

Five members of the Peterborough club will attend the convention. They are president Gordon Hancock, W. A. Richardson, D. J. Fitzgerald, John Lewis, and Charles Huffman.

Delegates from 114 clubs in the district will represent a membership of 7,200. The presiding officer will be Ralph D. Steele, Chatham, Ontario, director and governor of the district.

Another featured speaker will be the Very Rev. Ritchie Bell, former moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

$300 A MONTH

Miss Elsie Bennett, jeweller, and L. E. Morrison, optometrist, will be the new tenants of the city's store on George Street formerly occupied by Buehler Bros. Property committee of the Council Tuesday recommended lease at $300 a month. It is undrstood the increase is around $100 a month.

Suffer Slight Injury Truck, Car Collide

Two men were shaken up and a young woman taken to hospital for X-rays Monday night following a car-truck accident south of Young's Point on Highway 28.

A car, driven by John E. Lowes, 183 Charlotte St., attempted to pass a Department of Highways dump truck. Just as the car was alongside the truck, it started to turn into a driveway.

The impact stopped the truck on the highway while the Lowes car shot up the bank and then down, without turning over.

Miss Mary Braund, 657 Bethune St., a passenger in the Lowes car, was taken to the hospital for X-rays but was discharged shortly after. Lowes suffered minor injuries to his chest.

Harry Garrett, Lakefield, riding in the department of highways truck, received a crack on the nose during the impact.

Car, Truck Collide One Driver Arrested

Charged with driving while his abilities were impaired by alcohol, C. W. Johnson, RR 4, Lakefield, was remanded in jail today until Thursday's police court. The charge was laid following an accident at the intersection of Lansdowne and Park Sts. on Tuesday.

A car driven by Jack Doleman, 544 Edison Ave., was proceeding along Lansdowne St. and when two-thirds across the intersection met in collision with a truck driven by Mr. Johnson. He was taken to the police station where the charge was laid today.

56 Bales Of Hay On Exhibit New Feature Of Exhibition

The public may observe a rather humorous aspect to the special poultry exhibit which Fred McIndoo, Cavan township, and his associates promised some time ago as a sample of the present day interest of producers.

Apparently they were allotted space in the tent south of the flower building which is otherwise occupied by the showing of agricultural products, grain, vegetables and so on,—and particularly the new hay show.

Before noon today Mr. McIndoo was putting the finishing touches to the new poultry feature which is intended to reflect the commercial trend in the production of eggs, chickens and dressed poultry.

It is exactly what poultrymen and some of the directors of the Exhibition have been advocating as a means of making the fair practically useful.

But, Melville Johnston of North Monaghan and Robert Armstrong of Cavan, in charge of agricultural products looked as if they were wondering what had happened to them. In the figure of a camel and the Arab, they had been unintentionally, of course, elbowed to the back area of the tent,

Part of their space showed a pile of 56 bales of hay and 16 bushels of chopped hay, actually at the rear of the poultry exhibit.

"We're just wondering what's going to happen when the judge opens all those bales," Mr. Johnston remarked, as if thinking out loud. "Where are we going to put all that hay?"

That was the humorous note, the grain and hay committee men in behind the poultry display.

The hay show and the poultry exhibit are both new features, and both have sprouted so fast that somehow the space each required was skimped in calculation.

Bobby Armstrong and Mel Johnston had an appearance of being poor relations at the fair.

The judge of the hay show for which the first prizes are $50 is Prof. O. R. Kennedy of the animal husbandry branch of OAC. He had not arrived up to 11.30, and when he opens up those 56 bales Messrs. Armstrong and Johnston will have to take themselves outdoors or upstairs in the tent.

Frank Paterson, agricultural representative was delighted with the number of bales. He had been doing some worrying that possibly farmers might be discounting the quality of their grasses and legumes from effect of rain.

Woman Found Dead In Bed

Mrs. William A. Mowry, 71, of 189 River Rd., was found dead in bed this morning, after police had been asked to investigate by a niece, Mrs. W. F. Bell, River Road. Her death was due to natural causes and occurred about midnight.

Mrs. Mowry, whose husband is absent in Minneapolis, was last seen at 10:15 Tuesday night by her sister, Mrs. George Lush. Mrs. Bell, who lives nearby, became alarmed today when there was no sign of life around the house and notified police.

Constable Louis Roderique investigated, and her physician Dr. H. M. Yelland and Coroner Dr. Herbert Young were present. They stated death was due to natural causes and had taken place around midnight.

Surviving are her husband, William A. Mowry; a sister, Mrs. George Lush (Jessie) of Peterborough; and a brother, William of Painesville, Ohio.

The body is resting at the Comstock Funeral Home, 356 Rubidge St. and funeral announcements will be made later.

$1,300 Holstein Tops At Strathroy Sale

STRATHROY, Aug. 22—Sixty-four purebred Holsteins brought $35,340 here Monday at the dispersal sale of the herd maintained for the past 25 years by the H. C. Downham Nursery Co.

John Powell, of the Holstein-Friesan Association, Brantford, said the general average of $552 for animals of all ages was considered satisfactory particularly since $1,300 was the top price paid. Only two head exceeded $1,000.

$1,300 For Cow

Cattle were sold to buyers from Ontario, Michigan, Ohio and Pennsylvania. The highest price of $1,300 was bid by Lakefield Farms, Clarkston, Mich., for a seven-year-old cow, Riven Rag Apple Susan. Two bred heifers brought $900 each, both going to William J. Murphy, Lindsay.

Murphy also paid the second highest price of $1,075, this for a six year-old cow. Heifer calves sold up to $775, which was paid by Elston A. Speiran, Brussels. Adolphus Dick, Northwood, bought a bred heifer at $750 and a baby heifer calf at $500.

Top Bull Price

Top price for a bull was $725, paid by Frank Ideson, Arva, for the junior herd sire. A three-months-old bull went to H. C. Robson and Son, Denfield, at $525. Other high prices included $825 paid by Stephen B. Roman, King, Ont., for a seven-year-old; $785 by Ross Marshall, Kirkton, for a two-year-old; $700 and $600 by M. M. Griswold and Son, Norwich, for a pair of milking cows and $710 by J. O. Fenstermaker, Homerville, Ohio, for a two-year-old. J. M. Fraser, Streetsville, bought a cow at $800 and immediately re-sold her at a handsome profit to Dr. F. H. Stires, Canton, Ohio.

A Setting Hen

An elderly Negro had a hen that contributed an egg now and then for her keep. One day she became broody and started to set. The old man tried every device he could think of to discourage the maternal instinct and finally appealed to an experienced poultryman. "Dat ol' hen," he said, "she sot an' sot. I done ever'thin' I knows of, but hit ain' do no good." The poultryman suggested putting some thorns in the nest.

"I done dat," said Mose, "I put thorns an' briars under her —an' doggone if she don't stood up an' sot!"

Ayrshires First Exhibited About the Year 1703 By Kilmarnock Farmers

One of the great breeds of dairy cattle, the Ayrshire traces to a little corner of southwest Scotland, as related by E. Wilson Richmond, editor of the Canadian Ayrshire Review.

Ayrshires were originally descended from a distinct strain of the native Kylo cattle of ancient Britain.—Kylo means Highland cattle. These were developed and improved by a small number of farmers in the Dunlop district of Ayrshire. Perhaps there is no apparent evidence of foreign importations direct from abroad to Scotland, but there is a possibility that there was the introduction of other blood either at first or second hand.

"The fact remains that the development has come about through judicious selection and improvement of the native brand by the early pioneers."

Search For Origin

In searching for some authentic record of the breed's origin we note that in 1703 the Kilmarnock Farmers' Club was formed and it was probably at the shows of this Club or Society as it is now called, that Ayrshires were first exhibited.

In that year the minutes speak of the "Black breed of cattle," but in 1811 the word "Black" is left out, as at that date there were large numbers of Brown and White cattle in district of Ayrshire.

A few years later, in 1814, the minutes of the Club referred to the cattle as "the real Cunningham breed."

Cunningham it might be mentioned, is the northern part of the county of Ayr. The other two parts being Kyle in the centre and Carrick in the South.

In referring to these areas I'm reminded of the adage:

"Kyle for a man
Carrick for a cow
Cunningham for butter and cheese
And Galloway for 'oo."

Other views as to the designation of the breed was held by some historians, who in writing state that the real name by which the breed was first known was that of "Dunlop Cattle" derived it is presumed by Mr. Dunlop of Dunlop House or from the "Parish of Dunlop." This view is supported by Rawlins who writing in 1704 says: "They have another breed called the Dunlop, which are allowed to be the best race for yielding milk in Great Britain or Ireland not only for large quantities, but also for richness and quality.

Pasture Land Poor

Let us think for a moment about conditions in those early days. When it is considered that the pasture land in most of Scotland was poor and undernourished, cattle were poorly fed and of diminutive size, and when it is also considered the buffetings they would receive as a result of fierce storms which would sweep in from the Atlantic Ocean. Then the productive capabilities of the Ayrshire cow in these adverse conditions were all the more remarkable and praiseworthy.

What a magnificent foundation to the hardy disease-resisting qualities of the Ayrshire which were to play such an important part in the breeds' rise to prominence within the next century.

Rapid Spread

In the march of progress, farming in all its branches was improved pasture, feeding, stock management, eac., and with these improvements the breed spread rapidly to other districts in Scotland. A number of farmers from the Ayrshire district emigrated to seek their fortunes in Dumfriesshire and Galloway taking with them their native breed. Time added to this influx of man and beast until eventually such counties as enfrew, Lanark, Dumbarton, Argyll, Stirling, etc. the Ayrshire became the predominant breed and dairying the principal farming activity.

The first Herd Book was published in 1878—73 years ago—by Ayrshire Cattle Herd Book Society. Total entries of animals for year ending December 1949 reached a record total of 58,678. Membership total 7,800.

Homes First

VANCOVER (CP)—City council has refused to have three blocks of houses torn down to make way for park developments. Council endorsed an alderman's belief that housing in the city was tough enough "without tearing homes down and putting people on the street."

Grand Stand Show Promises Best Of Ex's Entertainment

The International Capers Review, a host of grandstand performers that are old hands at entertaining, will offer a program of high-class talent that will thrill young and old at the grandstand of the Exhibition this week.

Itonia, known as the human pretzel, is one of the best-known contortionists in the business. She appears to have no bones in her upholstery, and will subject her body to amazing contortions. She was with Jack Teagarden's Orchestra.

Jack Lee, MC of the program, will keep the folks laughing with his feats of magic. Jack says he is going to pull some rabbits out of a hat for the kiddies on Kids' Day.

Then there is Eddie Collins. Eddie plays a banjo like nobody else on earth. Eddie played with Art Mooney's Band, and was largely responsible for most of the banjo recordings the band made famous. Most well known of these was "Four Leaf Clover," which stayed on top of the hit parade for a long, long time. Eddie intends to stay in the area for a while to spend a holiday when the show closes on Saturday, and says he is going to get a muskie, or bust.

The man who supplies the music is "Smittie." No other name—just Smittie. His band has made a ritual of playing at the annual opening of the Cincinnati Reds' baseball games.

Danny Daniels is another of the cast. He was formerly with Guy Lombardo, and does comedy acts, juggling and a few musical numbers.

The sensational Kays will entertain and thrill the crowds on the high wire, while Trixie and her horse Silver Dollar will provide patrons with plenty of entertainment with trick riding, rope tricks and other feats. Her horse is well trained, and will show the folks a few tricks also.

A group of eight pretty girls, known as the Sparklettes, have what it takes when it comes to song and dance numbers. They are featured as one of the highlights of the show.

Record Crops Of Ontario Are Hay And Grain

The total production of hay and grain crops in Ontario this year will be the best on record, according to the latest report issued by S. H. H. Symons, Director of the Statistics Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Although a large portion of the hay was spoiled by rain, the quantity harvested shows an increase of 35 per cent over last year. Providing weather conditions are favorable, recent reports from agricultural corespondents would indicate that the grain crop will be well over the 200,000,000 bushel mark of last year and possibly over the 1918 record of 213,356,000 bushels.

Wheat Above Average

The production of oats is well above the yearly average, and is about nine per cent higher than last year. Fall wheat showed a decrease from last year, but is still far above the average yearly production.

The harvesting of most of the spring crops is well under way, and if weather conditions remain favorable, the average yield will be higher than in previous years for oats, barley and mixed grain.

Pastures have been excelient all summer, and are still above average. All live stock are in good condition, and milk flow is above normal, although the total production of milk is probably not any higher than last year, due to the reduction in herds during the past twelve months.

Late crops, such as dry beans, soybeans, roots and buckwheat are slightly below average but there is still time for further development, and the yield should be quite good, once again depending on the weather conditions.

Great Tobacco Crop

An important item in this latest crop report is that the harvesting of flue-cured tobacco is well under way and present indications are that an all-time record will be established with the production totalling 122,000,000 lbs.

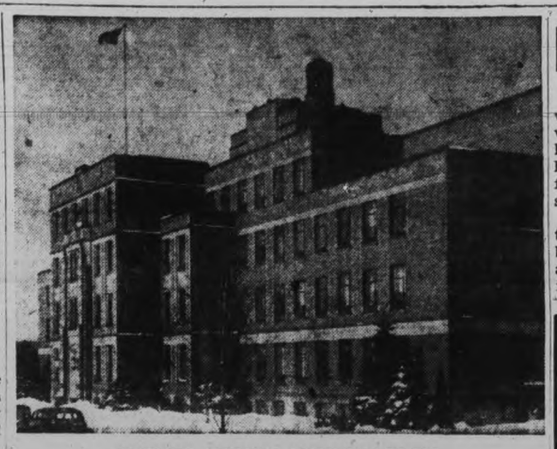
Potato acreage is 30 per cent lower than last year and this in turn is the lowest acreage on record. The corn crop is spotty, and prospects are for a below average yield. Other vegetable and fruit crops appear promising and local markets have liberal supplies.

LET'ER GO

MacTavish and his girl were walking down the street past a cafe. In the window a big turkey was being roasted. They stood and watched.

"My goodness," she said, "just seeing that turkey makes my mouth water."

"Go ahead and spit," replied MacTavish, "nobody's looking."



SCIENCE SERVICE HEADQUARTERS

Million Dollar Loss From Smut In Fall Wheat Crop

More than a million dollars will be lost by growers of winter wheat this year, a loss that could have been averted if the wheat had been adequately treated last fall. Cause of the loss is bunt, or stinking smut.

Reasons for the outbreak are that weather conditions have been favorable for its formation, and also that there is a mistaken idea abroad that the variety of winter wheat known as Cornell 595 is resistant to bunt. Mr. W. H. Waddell, Chief in Research in Winter Wheat at the OAC points out that Cornell 595 is resistant to loose smut, but not to bunt, or stinking smut. In fact, none of the common varieties of winter wheat grown in Ontario are resistant to bunt, which thrives best when wheat is sown under unfavorable conditions late in the fall. Delayed planting favors infestation.

To prevent outbreaks of bunt, all varieties must be treated with one of several mercuric compounds. These compounds may be used as dust, "slurry," or liquid. Two common products are Ceresan and Panogen, and the directions of the manufacturers should be followed.

Fitting Stock For Show Ring

Getting livestock ready for the show ring entails so much work at this season of the year that many a farmer balks at it and decides to let the prizes and kudos go to the other fellow.

Kudos in this case is the record of ribbons that can be displayed or written into the background when animals are being offered for sale. Although help is scarce, and the autumn job must go on, the animal husbandry division of Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, offers some pointers on fitting.

Training animals to lead on a halter at an early age is most important in preparing for exhibition, for in close competition the judge will be attracted to the good qualities of the animal which leads and stands well.

All show stock should be blanketed with a light to medium weight blanket two to three weeks before the showing. Frequent and thorough brushing will improve the condition of the hair coat.

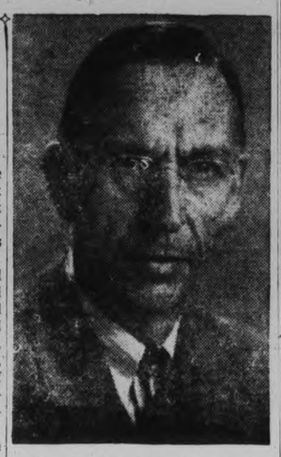
It is common practice to clip the tail, face, ears and neck on a line down to the shoulder, but care should be taken to avoid over-clipping. Beginners may well seek the advice of an expert showman. The hoofs should be pared periodically.

On the day before the exhibition, animals should be washed and kept covered with a medium-heavy blanket. Ample bedding should be provided. The tail should be braided into several braids and on the day of the exhibition combed out into a wavy switch.

The horns should be scraped and sandpapered and then polished with an oily rag before the animal goes into the ring. Wiping the animal down with an oiled cloth will give the hair a desirable sheen.

In the ring the exhibitor should show the animal to the best advantage all the time and should be alert both in handling the animal and in receiving directions from the judge.

It should be remembered also that everyone cannot win and, win or lose, the experience gained in the ring makes winning more likely in another class or at another fair.



Under the direction of Dr. K. W. Neatby (right), scientists of the Canada Department of Agriculture, work in this attractive building in Ottawa. In addition to the research and experimentation carried on in Ottawa, the building is the centre from which the work of other scientists in 68 laboratories across Canada is organized and supervised.

Fire Relic

GEDDINGTON, Northants, Eng. —(CP)—A 200-year-old manually-operated fire engine has been dragged out of retirement for the Festival of Britain. Silkhatted volunteers who tested it found it could throw a jet of water 500 feet into the air.

Frowning Fence Replaced At Exhibition Park Inviting Public Goodwill

The new open work fences at Morrow Park are an indication of the attitude of the postwar Exhibition directors toward the public. Once upon a time you could hardly find a knothole for a one-eyed peek, and to see over the high boards you'd have to bring a stepladder. But, what with patrols of special constables, outside as well as in, there was slim chance of a free and uneasy perch. Patient small boys, after thoroughly casing the meagre opportunities of getting inside with money in their pockets, contrived to outwit the plain-clothes constabulary. To them that was the spice of the adventure of outwitting the board of directors and their minions.

For the 51 other weeks in the year the enclosing board wall was an offence to the public eye, and a blight on the neighbourhood, and its property values. If it failed to impress the municipal assessor as a depreciating influence, it caught the eye of the directors reviving the Exhibition after the war as they appraised their property when the military authorities had marched out.

Attractive Acres.

With Hugh Stewart as president, the Board decided the fence had to go. They wanted people to see into the expanse of green lawn. Expense was only a temporary deterrent. First the Lansdowne St. fence came down and with such confirming assurance of being on the right track that the Park St. Wood vanished this year.

In the previous slighting of public relatitons ,(probably it should not be recalled), directors had put up a secondary fence of exclusion and eye-filling around the east arc of the race track. Its purpose was to discourage people from parking their cars in that dubious and long range vantage point, thereby evading the grandstand and its admission charge.

Begot Opposition.

The only effect of that attempt at exclusion was to sow seeds of resentment. Directors of that time needed all the money they could get at the outer and inner turnstiles. The public did not realize, perhaps, that those men had signed a substantial note at the bank, for which they were collectively and it was said, individually responsible.

People who were uninvolved in such liability, and unconcerned about it, drew their conclusion that the big stick, that is the tall board approach to increasing revenue was a mistake.

Any way, it is a forgotten chapter in directorial ways and means. The directors of this year have spent quite a chunk of money on wire fencing. Probably they believe that the more the people can see the green acreage, the more favorably they will be induced to appreciate its worth in the community.

Minimum of Exclusion.

That's the substance of the new deal and the change of official psychology in public relations.

Directors are hoping that public reatcion will be reflected by increased receipts at the necessary turnstiles ,and that the spirit of invitation symbolized by the new fencing will pay off.

The atmosphere of exclusion and compulsion has been reduced to a minimum. The planning of directors has been aimed at creating friendly public feelings toward the Exhibition. It is a new investment in goodwill.

GORDON HANCOCK—When the late Tom Brown retired from the presidency of the Exhibition in 1946, he was succeeded in office by Mr. Hancock who carried on until 1949 when Hugh Stewart became chairman of the Board that decided to restore the Exhibition to activity.

George Henry At Temiskaming

George W. Henry, Todmorden, Ontario, 1st. Vice-President of the Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada was the principal speaker at a twilight meet attended by over 400 Holstein enthusiasts of the Temiskaming district. The gathering was held at the farm of Julian Loronger & Sons, Earlton, Ont. Mr. Henry and Holstein-Fieldman, Gerry Nelson, report keen interest in dairying in the Temiskaming district and a heavy demand for foundation stock.

Double Feature

LACHUTE, Que. (CP). — A Holstein cow on a nearby farm was found in the pasture with a newborn calf. The cow disappeared again that night and was found again next morning, with a second calf at her side. All three are doing well.

Fertilizing Corn 100 Years Ago Described In 'Cultivator'

The practice of farming in New England more than 100 years ago is reflected in a little item from "The Cultivator", Feb. 1844, in which the editor reported a good yield, and added a few editorial comments . . .

"Another example of a good crop of corn is that of Mr. Bugbee of Palmer, Mass., who raised from five acres of land 540 bushels, or 108 bushels per acre. The following is the account given by Mr. B. of his mode of culture:—'Last spring I plowed up a piece of green sward, measuring about five acres, and prepared it for corn as well as my means would permit. After plowing, 30 loads of manure to the acre were spread over the ground, and thoroughly mixed with the earth by means of the harrow, without turning up or breaking the sod. The ground being now prepared, on the 30th of May I planted my corn. A small quantity of ashes, lime, and plaster of paris, mixed together and prepared for the purpose, was used at the time of planting, or put in each hill. Of this mixture, there were 2½ bushels of lime, 2½ bushels of plaster, and 25 bushels of ashes for the 5 acres. The corn was hoed but twice, a third hoeing being unnecessary.'

"This crop affords another of the many proofs already existing of the excellent effect of such a compost of lime, plaster and ashes, especially on inverted sward, as that prepared by Mr. B. Those farmers who sell off their ashes, and harvest corn crops of only 30 or 40 bushels per acre, would do well to imitate Mr. B. in the use made of his."

Central Ontario Juniors C.P.C. Dinner Guests Ending Thursday Programs

Of the 235 rural young men and women of seven counties who compete in the junior division of Peterborough Exhibition, Thursday, Aug. 23, the public is hardly aware of their presence. The boys assemble at Morrow Park at 9 a.m. for registration, and the girls meet at the same time at the market hall, corner of George and Charlotte Streets.

Separate programs occupy their day until 6 p.m., when they come together at the Empress Hotel for dinner as guests of Canada Packers Limited, where the winners of the various competitions are announced. Adjournment takes them back to the grandstand at the park for the night show.

The members of the committee in charge of this department are also directors of the Exhibition. They are: Don Milburn, chairman, John Edmison, Reg Ferguson, Keith McIntyre, Burritt Mann, Allan Drummond and Glen Stark.

Associated with them in the details of the Thursday schedule are F. C. Paterson, agricultural representative, and his assistant, Robert E. Bell.

Peterborough originated the junior department years ago, when it also received the approval of both departments of agriculture. The counties represented by competing juniors are: Ontario, Durham, Victoria, Peterborough, Northumberland, Hastings and Prince Edward.

Extensive Programs

The morning program for the young men begins at 9.30 o'clock with the judging of beef and dairy cattle, heavy horses, sheep and swine.

The afternoon program is in four sections: identification and classification of common weed, hay and pasture plants, seeds of agricultural crops, and so on.

That is followed by an agricultural quiz, devised by Mr. Paterson and Mr. Bell. Then there is a tractor defects test, tree leaves and twigs, and also a quiz of ten questions on forestry and conservation.

The girls' program includes: homemaking club exhibits and judging in meat in the menu, the cereal shelf and home gardens; homemaking clubs in clothing and house furnishing; inter-county demonstrations open to teams of girls from the represented counties. Miss Jean Noble, of Bowmanville, who is in charge of the home economics work among girls of this district, is represented by other representatives of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

The young men's division is for two groups: members of all junior club projects in 1951; and the other is open to farmers and farmers' sons who have not reached their 26th birthday on Aug. 1, 1951, are residents of the counties mentioned, and who have not completed two years at an agricultural school or college.

That is an outline of the junior department of the Exhibition. Agricultural representatives of the seven counties share the details of the competitions at Morrow Park, and W. S. McMullen, of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, and J. A. Garner, of the extension branch of the Ontario Department, are expected to be present.

Miss Noble will be joined at the market hall by Miss Florence P. Eadie of the Ontario Department.

Test Of Knowledge

The Junior Department brings together several hundred young men and women of the rural area of Central Ontario. It tests their knowledge of practical phases of farm work and interests (the girls have their separate enterprises), and it serves as a special training experience in rural activity and responsibility.

Peterborough junior directors are graduates of club work and the junior department of the Exhibition. They attend meetings of the board throughout the year, and take an active part in planning.

Senior directors have encouraged local farm youth to take their part in larger affairs. Some of them are likely to occupy the position of president in their turn and it is significant that president Norman McConkey has advanced by that path and also from boys' club work.

Canadian Grain Tieup Seen Wartime Calamity

OTTAWA, Aug. 22—(CP)—A Commonwealth official said Tuesday that Canada's grain transportation shortage could bring chaos if the Communists decided to launch a war in Europe this fall.

Britain had a fairly good stockpile of wheat and could get along so long as there was a minimum movement of Canadian wheat overseas. But there could be a calamity if a war suddenly broke out.

"And historically," said the official, "war in Europe breaks out in the autumn—right after the autumn harvest."

Canada has an export quota of 231,000,000 bushels of wheat to be filled by July 31 next. Of this about 113,000,000 will go to Britain.

The shipping shortage, with the problem centred mainly on a lack of Great Lakes vessels, became the main concern of J. C. Lessard, federal deputy transport minister, as he returned Tuesday from annual leave.

Bureau of Statistics figures showed that on Aug. 9, Canada had about 160,000,000 bushels of wheat still in storage—and this did not take into consideration the possibility of a record 582,000,000-bushel wheat crop this year.

Mr. Lessard said the committee likely will consider two possibilities as means to ease the shortage:

1. Diversion of shipping from coal and iron on the Great Lakes. This will increase the tonnage available for grain.

2. Appointment of a transport controller to order lake tonnage and rail movement wherever needed. Such an appointment would be for the cabinet to decide.

Cut Size of Papers

AURICH, Germany, Aug 22—(Reuters) — Seven newspapers here anounced Tuesday they would cut their size to four pages because of newsprint shortages. Previously the papers had from eight to 12 pages.

Conspiracy Charges

HAMILTON, Aug. 22—(CP)—A Hamilton couple, Louis Gallo, 49, and Maxime Gallo, 19, Tuesday were arrested and held on $20,000 bail on conspiracy charges. RCMP officials disclosed only that the alleged offences occurred between May 9 and Aug. 18.

Convicts Start Eating

SALEM, Ore., Aug. 22—(AP)—An end of the week-old state prison strike appeared Tuesday night as about 1,200 convicts were given their first food i nfive days. The convicts started eating after James H. Audett, head of a former prison grievance committee, said he had been given assurance that 90 per cent of the men were willing to return to work today. The convicts went on a sit-down strike last Tuesday demanding removal of a guard from within the walls. Their hunger strike started last Thursday.

BISHOP OF EDMONTON — The Rt. Rev. W. F. Barfoot has been Bishop of Edmonton since 1941. Before that time he was on the staff of Emmanuel College, Saskatoon, and St. John's College, Winnipeg. He also spent some time in Malaya. He is married, with no children.

Railway Experiment

VANCOUVER, Aug. 22 (CP)—An experiment in railway refrigeration which may revolutionize traffic in perishable commodities was started here Tuesday when 40 tons of frozen fish were loaded aboard two new-type Canadian Pacific Railway refrigerator cars for shipment to Toronto and Montreal. Equipped with redesigned ice tanks, the cars are expected to maintain a temperature close to zero. Under present icing methods, temperatures from 10 to 20 degrees are obtained.

Full-Dress Reception

TORONTO, Aug. 22 (CP). — A full-dress reception, with all the trimmings including a parade and a civic banquet, are in store for Winnie Roach Leuszler when the English Channel swimmer comes home to suburban North York township. Reeve Nelson Boylen said Tuesday that even if Toronto doesn't welcome her officially, North York will go all out to greet the 23-year-old mother of three children who last week won second women's prize money in the Daily Mail channel swim.

Won't Return Ships

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22 (AP) —Russia refused again Tuesday to return 670 small lend-lease naval ships as demanded by the United States. The Soviet contended the US is welshing on an old agreement to sell them. At the same time, the State Department disclosed Russia's negotiators have indicated a willingness to increase their "final offer" of $240,000,000 to settle Moscow's long-overdue lend-lease account. The US has demanded $800,000,000.

Changeover To Division Almost Unnoticed By Men

By BILL BOSS

WITH THE CANADIANS IN KOREA, Aug. 22—(CP)—It's all gone so smoothly that no one seems to have noticed it.

The 1st British Commonwealth Division—first of its kind in history—has taken the field in Korea, comprising troops from Great Britain, Canada, Australia, New Zealand and India.

One day at high noon, as with simple ceremony the divisional ensign was broken out for the first time at divisional headquarters, its constituent formations were transferred from the command of United States army divisions and placed in the hands of Maj.-Gen. A. J. H. (Jim) Cassells.

At the same moment Brig. John M. Rockingham turned over to divisional headquarters the operational command of service troops in his 25th Canadian infantry brigade group, retaining essentially only his fighting units.

Administrative Control

Rockingham, however, retains administrative control of the Canadians who now function as "div troops," and is responsible for "paper work" like their pay, promotion and discipline. He made that clear to the men during parades after the change-over.

The soldier in the infantry battalions or the armored squadron finds life under one divsion much the same as life under another.

He is getting the same rations (American) and ammunition.

His mail, if anything, is coming in better and more regularly, and his beer (British mainly) is much more plentiful. The consolidation of mail and welfare services has brought important improvements there.

Only operational troops who transferred to divisional control on the formation of the division were the gunners, the 2nd regiment Royal Canadian Horse Artillery. Gunners always are in the line, (or just behind it), so when the Canadian brigade is at rest divisional headquarters switches them around to support 28th or 29th British brigade as the situation dictates.

Have Own Gunners

When Rockingham's troops are fighting, however, they will be supported by their own gunners.

Service troops now functioning under division include the engineers, signals, medicals, ordnance, army service corps, electrical and mechanical engineers and provost.

Most of their work still is done for the Canadian brigade. The sappers, however, may support any of the three brigades.

Medically, Canada has made the largest contribution to the division. The No. 25 Canadian field dressing station under Maj. William R. Dalziel of Toronto has just arrived and has been set up in Seoul as a divisional "sick-bay" to take care of men whose illness does not warrant evacuation to Japan.

Full Dental Company

There soon will be a full Canadian dental company of nine clinics with the division. Five now are with the brigade. Four, under Lt.-Col. G. E. Schragge of Kenora, are en route from Canada to serve divisional installations.

Altogether Canada has contributed a field ambulance, a field dressing station, a motor ambulance column, a field surgical team, and a field transfusion team.

It is on the command level that the difference is felt—in terms of less work. Instead of operating what amounted to a miniature division, Rockingham's job (and that of his staff) is that of fighting three infantry battalions with their artillery and armored support.

Light Interest

OSLO, Norway—(CP)— A $24,000,000 loan granted to Norway by the United States will be repaid in aluminum ingots.

FIRST, BUT FIFTH—First to arrive at Windsor in the all-women international air race was Mrs. Peggy Lennox, of Tampa, Fla., who made the trip from Orlando, Fla., in seven hours and 33 minutes. On a handicap basis, however, Mrs. Lennox was placed fifth, first place going to Miss Margaret Carson, of Ottawa.

Battle Raging

HONG KONG, Aug. 22 (AP) — The independent Chinese newspaper Wah Kiu Yat Po reported today a battle is raging on the Indo-China border between guerrillas and Chinese Communist troops. A dispatch from Nanking said the fighting was inside Red China, in Kwangsi province. The newspaper's dispatch quoted Communist authorities in Kwangsi province as admitting resistance was tough.

Six Counties Represented In Girls' Club Exhibits

A total of 120 girls will represent six counties in the junior department homemaking club exhibits, judging and demonstration program of the Peterborough Exhibition.

The junior department day will be held Thursday.

Peterborough county will be represented by approximately 20 girls from Cordova Mines, Belmont, Fairview, Fraserville, Buckhorn and Keene.

The program is open to girls between the ages of 14 and 20 and will be held in the Market Hall.

The judges will be Miss Florence Eadie, Toronto, Ontario Supervisor of junior extension with the Ontario Department of Agriculture; Miss Luly Row, Toronto, junior extension clothing supervisor; Miss Elsie Irwin, Napanee, home economist for the counties of Hastings, Prince Edward, Lennox and Addington and Frontenac; Miss Jean Steckle, Toronto, summer home economist.

Need Blood Donors

MONTREAL, Aug. 22 (CP). — The Red Cross blood bank Tuesday night said it has only 23 bottles of blood left to supply 58 hospitals here which normally use 1,500 bottles a week. Maj.-Gen. E. J. Renaud, vice-president of the provincial division of the Red Cross, said the situation is critical. He called for emergency donors for "hospitals where patients are now waiting transfusions."

No TV Aerials

TORONTO, Aug. 22 (CP). — The Toronto Housing Authority decided Tuesday that television aerials will not be put up in the 1,062-unit Regent Park housing development. The development was built for low-income families. Said Mayor Hiram McCallum: "If the development were strictly confined to those people eligible under the Housing Act, they would not be able to afford television."

Sexy Heroines Urged By Gale Robbins

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 22 (AP)—Today's lesson in the problems of Hollywood comes from a sharp-looking redhead named Gale Robbins.

Now don't go away in a huff. Miss Robbins is serious about this subject, since it concerns her future in the movies. Who knows? —the ramification of this subject might even concern the future of the entire film industry.

Here's her argument:

"Sex is in a rut on the screen. Every time screen writers portray a sexy girl on the screen, they immediately place a bottle in her hand, a gun in her fist or make her appear — unwed—in some man's boudoir. Shame on the screen writers!".

Good and Attractive

"Why does a girl in a movie have to be bad if she's sexy? Why can't she be good and yet have a wholesome, inner warmth that makes her attractive to men, why does the other woman have to be the sexy one and the heroine a wide-eyed sexless creature? It's an insult to American womanhood.."

Miss Robbins sees a good number of movie scripts. In her search for roles she invariably passes up the routine ingenue parts, even though they usually offer more footage on the screen that the parts she takes.

Miss Robbins gets the kind of role she's talking about in her current film, "The Brigand." She plays a fiery damsel who is courted by Anthony (Valentino) Dexter.

Benny's Plaudits

The other day Jack Benny delivered high praise of Jerry Lewis, the screwball member of the Martin and Lewis team. Said Benny: "He is the greatest new comedian I have seen since Ed Wynn, who in his prime was the funniest man I have ever known."

But that doesn't stop Benny from ribbing the younger comic. When he returned from Korea, he called up Lewis and said with mock disgust, "I don't mind your breaking my theatre records in New York, Chicago and Detroit, but to do it in such a sneaky way —when I was in Korea entertaining the boys."

Provincials Asked To Police Haliburton

HALIBURTON, Aug. 22.—After a long period of efficient service in the village, Constable William Dovell, is to be replaced by an officer of the Ontario Provincial Police.

H. J. Black, reeve of the Dysart township said the council has been endeavoring to make some such arrangement for several months. It is felt it will make for closer co-operation between Haliburton and the surrounding district.

Recently Haliburton has been the scene of several Saturday night disturbances. On one occasion the tires of Chief Dovell's car were slashed and several arrests made, and the following week, the police swooped down on a dance hall and laid 34 charges of having liquor in an illegal place.

200 Junior Farmers At Belleville Fair

Douglas Harry of Hastings county was the winner of the senior boys' events in the Junior Farmers' judging competition at Belleville Fair last week. His score was 562.

Bill Curle, 547, and Alfred Gooding, 528, both of Northumberland, were second and third.

In the junior section Gerald Harry of Hastings finished in front with 545 points; and Jack Forland, 541, and Melvin Merrill, 532, both of Northumberland, were second and third respectively.

A. O. Dalrymple, agricultural representative, Stirling, reported 200 boys and girls registered from Hastings, Northumberland and Prince Edward.

United Counties 4th Polio Case

COBOURG, Aug. 22 (ENS) — Another case of polio, the fourth in the health unit area, has been reported by the Northumberland and Durham Counties Health Unit in its list of communicable disease cases occurring in the week ending August 18. The fourth polio case has its origin in Cavan township, second for the township. The other two cases occurred in Cobourg and one of the Cobourg patients was seriously afflicted.

Norwood Fair CompetitionShows Value of Fertilizers

By G. A. BRETHEN, PRESIDENT OF NORWOOD FAIR

The judging of the fields in the Norwood Fair demonstration Beaver oat competition has been completed, and both judge and farm owner agreed . . . "it pays to use commercial fertilizer".

The estimated yield of several of the fields runs from 75 to 80 bushels to the acre, and a striking feature of the fertilized fields that were seeded was the wonderful growth and strength of the new seeding. In many fields the clovers were up to the bands (of the twine), and covered the ground.

With the exception of Trefoil and ragweed, the competing fields were fairly free from noxious weeds. Wild oat plants, considered one of the most objectionable weeds in an oat crop for seed purposes, were practically absent in both the 1950 and 1951 competition fields.

In all the fields, the evidence of increased yield was quite marked in the fertilized strips, over the unfertilized in the same field, the official judge estimating the increase as running from 5 to 20 bus. and acre.

Samples For Threshing

In the demonstration field where four measured acre strips of Beaver oats were treated with 250 pounds of fertilizer per acre of different analyses, six square yard measured samples were recently taken from each plot, including the no-fertilizer check strip, by representaitves of Agricultural Chemicals Ltd., Port Hope.

These samples were carefully tagged and will be threshed at the farm later by a small threshing machine brought from Port Hope for the purpose. The time and place will be announced later, and those interested in the valuable experiment will be given an opportunity to attend.

The field scores on fields judged were sent directly to Toronto, and field placings will not be divulged locally until Norwood Fair day when they will be used in conjunction with the scores on sheaf and bushel lots from these fields, to determine the final placings and the winners of the many regular and special prizes in this contest totalling well over $200.

Police Drag Bay Find No One

COLLINGWOOD, Aug. 22 (CP) —Police spent three hours dragging Georgian Bay Tuesday before deciding they were wasting their time.

The dragging began after a fisherman reported his trolling line snagged something heavy and he brought up a piece of cloth. Provincial police after three hours came up with a matching piece—wrapped around a hunk of scrap iron.

Anti-Newcastle Disease Vaccine Said Promising

OTTAWA, Aug. 22—Scientists of the Federal Department of Agriculture indicated Tuesday they were hopeful they were on the track of a new vaccine that would master dreaded Newcastle disease in poultry.

On the basis that test tube results were not always borne out in actual field use, department officials shied away from any definite claims for their discovery.

Ditribution Possible

But within a couple of months or so, research work may be finalized, the results made public and a start made in the general distribution of the anti-serum. All this, of course, if current tests justify the optimism now entertained.

While information concerning the vaccine still was regarded as hush-hush, it was reported to be a "kill" or inactivated vaccine, one concocted to provide immunity from Newcastle disease without exposing flocks to the risk of infection from the vaccine itself.

In th US "live" vaccine ha been used with considerable suc cess, but as this type produce the disease in poultry in orde to combat it, all poultry produ ers in a given area are compelle to use it when one poultrym employs it. Otherwise, there the risk that a vaccinated flo might spread the disease to othe

Tapering Off

Meanwhile, departmental ficials said the disease definit was tapering off in Canada—' that this in all probability w seasonal. A chart of the disease in the few years' experience this country has had with it indicated the contagion broke out in the early spring and then waned towards October.

At the moment, the disease was down to a comparatively small number of flocks. However, there was no guarantee it would not break out again around March of next year.

Department officials said the disease in the main was "fanned out" through the country in shipments of eggs and chicks from hatcheries. In some cases, however, the origin of the disease could not be determined.

While individual poultrymen had suffered tremendous losses from this year's outbreak, the department said inroads made by the disease did not constitute a major impact on the industry as a whole. Canada's poultry population was something close to 70,000,000 birds. About 500,000 had been destroyed in the government's slaughter policy of combatting the disease.

Compensation Payments

In the fiscal year ended March 31, 1951, the government paid out a total of $875,000 in compensation payments to poultrymen and farmers whose flocks were wiped out because of the outbreak.

According to a report issued today by Dr. T. Childs, veterinary inspector general, compensation payments totalled $245,350 in the four-month period April 1 to August 4 of this year. A total of 424 infected flocks was destroyed.

British Columbia, hardest hit by the disease, saw 117 flocks wiped out since the start of the fiscal year. Compensation paid to BC producers reached $149,804.

Ontario, second hardest hit, lost 35 flocks and received federal compensation of $39,357.

Other totals were: Alberta, 63 flocks with $10,511 in compensation; Saskatchewan, 81 flocks with $16,477 compensation; Manitoba, 128 flocks with $30,231 compensation; Quebec and the Maritimes none at all.

Pay Way At Notre Dame For 90 Cadets, No Sports

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Aug. 22—(AP)—Any or all of the 90 recently expelled West Point cadets can attend Notre Dame University with expenses paid, if they avoid all Varsity athletics.

This offer, disclosed Tuesday by Notre Dame, was made by an annoymous person. He was quoted as saying he made it because:

"I feel with millions that in the American tradition a man who makes a mistake should have a reasonable chance to rehabilitate himself."

Notre Dame called the offer "in keeping with good christianity."

Among the 90 cadets dismissed from the US military academy at West Point were almost all members of the army football team.

The Rev. John J. Cavanaugh, president of Notre Dame, announced the offer. In addition to barring those who accept it from engaging in any varsity athletics at Notre Dame, it requires that they need the financial help.

He said the donor does not condone any violations of the academy's honor code in connection with cribbing on examinations.

The offer affecting the Roman Catholic university applies to both Catholic and non-Catholic cadets. Applicants must meet Notre Dame standards and academic requirements.

When Cattle and Horses By Rail, Boat, Wagon And Afoot Came to the 'Ex'

By CHARLES E. MOORE

"The past is not something that we have left behind us; it is something that moves along with us. About the year 1852, agricultural fairs were first organized in Ontario. Shortly after in this section they became a reality. Last year Millbrook celebrated 100 years of Fair activity. Peterborough has had a fair for practically the same time. In its early days the place where it was held changed, and at one time it was carried on where the Collegiate Institute and Armories are now situated.

After occupying various premises it was through the generosity of the late R. A. Morrow given a permanent location south of the city in the township of North Monaghan. In his deed to the Agricultural Society, he set aside practically 30 acres of land for Fair purposes for all time.

Suspended During War

He stipulated that if at any time it ceased to be used for fair purposes, it would revert to the city of Peterborough to be used as a park for all its people. In the event of the city failing to take it over for this purpose, then it was to be sold and the proceeds given to his heirs.

Through all of the years till the present this show has carried on. A break occurred during war years, when the board ceased to function in order that our nation would be served by its use as a training ground for the troops.

During the fair's long service many changes have occurred in this locality. What was practically a rural site has become the centre of a large and rapidly expanding city. The old sheds which formerly housed the horses, cattle, sheep and hogs have given place to large, modern places for exhibition stock.

Many of us who exhibited in the first stables remember our feelings yet, when trying to sleep in the stalls, after a hard day's work, to awake in the night, not once but often, with nature's gift of rain gently dropping on our bed.

When Cattle Walked

The manner of bringing livestock to the fair has changed greatly in its method. Where formerly we drove our cattle and led our horses on foot, and conveyed the sheep and hogs and poultry by wagon or buggy or buckboard—now, all these animals come to the "Ex." in trucks, arriving in a fraction of the time formerly required and in a much better condition.

What of the men who have guided this show all the years of its activity? The board has always been composed of city and rural folk. Men who had at heart the ideals of better livestock, better farm machinery, better grain, and now hay. Men and women who desired to inculcate in our young folk the love of better stock, improved returns from farm and garden and home. This ideal has motivated the successive boards of the Peterborough Exhibition. Its presidents have given much time and effort freely to the achievement of these ideals. The board members likewise have through the years served with the same thought and without any remuneration to accomplish today an exhibition to be proud of.

Met All Liabilities

For many years we carried a heavy overdraft at the bank, caused by large building costs. The board each year endorsed this individually. This was a deterrent to some continuing in office. However, after the fair previous to closing for war purposes, the board headed by the late Thos. Brown paid off the bank note in full. This payment only left sufficient funds to pay our exhibitors 75 per cent of their winnings. At a later date after some years, the balance of that debt was discharged.

What of our future? May I wish for a better patronage of the fair by our rural and urban folk. May the time soon come when our differences regarding the Memorial Centre cease to exist and it will stand in the fair ground of today, a memorial to both the donor of this fine property and the brave men of this district who freely gave that we might live in freedom and liberty."

Afoot To The Fair

Mr. Moore recalled to the Examiner a dark Saturday evening of a forgotten September when as a young man he drove 20 head of cattle home from the Exhibition Park, a distance of five miles.

That was the common and necessary practice of exhibitors. Horses and cattle were brought to the fair on foot in those days before the automobile and the motor truck simplified transport, put an end to the slow motion of travel.

"I remember sheep breeders named Westingham and Lane of Northumberland county. They came from the area of the plains south of Rice Lake, and they had excellent sheep.

They had some kind of special wagon fitted with strong springs to reduce the jolting over the old macadam roads, that were anything but smooth. It was drawn by three horses, hitched abreast, and sheep were made quite comfortable for the long trip to Peterborough fair. At least it was quite a long journey for those days.

G. A. Brethen of Norwood used to show livestock at the fair, and I think they were transported in a CPR freight car from Norwood.

The late Fred Field, who started a big Jersey farm, at a beautiful place east of Harwood, and fronting on Rice Lake, sent some of his cattle to the "Ex" for several years, by boat and barge from his farm."

Junior farmers of today have no memories of those times of getting about by rail and boat and steel-rimmed wagon wheels.

The gasoline engine wrought a great change in the habits of the people, and the comfort and speed of automobile and truck are refinements which the young folks of the farms take for granted.

Central Park Fair Ground In Early Days

When Little Lake Cemetery and the Methodist Cemetery on Hillard St. were organized 100 years ago the old burial ground which is now Confederation Square was taken over by the Peterborough Fair Board and for a number of years the Exhibition was held in the park.

Complete with race track, the grounds were surrounded by an old fence Ed. Manning, who for more than 80 years has been a resident of Peterborough, recalls. Mr. Manning said as a boy the fair was held in what is now Confederation Park. The barns or actually sheds which housed the livestock surrounded park. These old sheds were always a source of fun for the boys who would climb them when the fair was in progress and from the sheds get into the trees which often sent their trunks right through the roofs. There they were free to watch the fair.

New Appointment

PARIS, Aug. 22 (AP) — The Economic Co-operation Administration today anounced it has named Waldemar A. Nielsen as information director in the ECA European headquarters. Nielsen, who formerly worked in the US department of commerce, succeeds Roscoe Drummond, who returns to his former job as chief of the Washington Bureau of the Christian Science Monitor.

Bomb Fires Problem

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 22 (CP) —Fires lit by bombing raids are the biggest new problem to face the fire departments in Canada and the United States, Horatio Bond of Boston, chief engineer of the National Fire Protection Association said Tuesday. "Whether we like it or not, we have to be prepared for them," he told the 43rd annual convention of the Dominion Association of Fire Chiefs meeting here.

Back From Hawaii

VICTORIA, BC, Aug. 22 (CP) —The destroyer Crusader is scheduled to return to Esquimalt today from a training cruise to Hawaii. She will immediately begin preparations for her role in the forthcoming Royal visit. Crusader visited Pearl Harbor with cadets from the Canadian services colleges and university naval training divisions.

Meat Market Owners Fined Over Scales

WINDSOR, Aug. 22 — (CP).— Zalman Kamen and Julius Chiefit, joint owners of the Canadian Meat Market, were fined $60 and costs here Tuesday on three charges of having unbalanced scales in their shop. A scale inspector testified that he had found three of the scales with an average discrepancy of 1½ ounces.

To Be Given Pearl

MANILA, Aug. 22 (AP) — President Elpidio Quirno will present President Truman with a large pearl from the Sulu Sea when they meet in Washington Aug. 30 to sign the Philippines-United States mutual defence pact. The pearl was brought to Manila by a Moro delegation Tuesday night. They requested that Quirno present it to Truman as a gift from the Filipino people.

Appoint Group To Make Inquiry

OSHAWA, Aug. 22 — (CP). — The Oshawa and District Labor Council Tuesday night appointed a committee to investigate statements that the local office of the Unemployment Insurance Commission is trying to steer unemployed men into the Army.

Matthew Katchaluba said he was told: "There were no jobs available for young fellows and that there was a job waiting for us in the Army." He said he found a job without the assistance of the commission.

William Rutherford, delegate from Local 222 of the United Automobile Workers (CCL-CIO), said he could produce other men who had similar experiences.

Last month Labor Minister Gregg, in a letter to the council, said an investigator sent to investigate such charges "was unable to find out what men actually made the charges." He assured the labor group the commission does not countenance such conduct on the part of its employees.

Autopsy Shows Man Strangled

DRESDEN, Ont., Aug. 22. (CP) —Provincial Police said Tuesday that a second autopsy on the body of Grant Wallace, 37, found floating in the Sydenham River Friday, showed that he died of strangulation.

The body was exhumed Tuesday on the order of the Ontario Attorney-General's department because police apparently were not satisfied with an earlier autopsy.

The discovery touched off a province-wide search for Wallace's killer and suspects are being questioned in Dresden, adjoining townships, and Windsor.

The body of the Dresden negro was released for burial after examinations Friday revealed no indications of foul play.

Poultry, Swine Show Increase

TORONTO, Aug. 22 (CP) — Figures in the Ontario Agriculture Department's annual statistical report for 1950 show that the numbers of poultry and swine on Ontario farms have greatly increased in the last 67 years.

Poultry flocks have more than tripled since 1884—from 6,237,600 to 23,460,000—while swine herds were doubled, from 916,158 to 2,213,100.

Sheep dropped from 1,890,733 to 504,100. Cattle were up from 1,925,670 to 2,807,300.

As for dobbin, in 1884 there were 535,953 horses on Ontario farms. In 1950 there were 378,300.

Jockey Questioned For Three Hours

TORONTO, Aug. 22 (CP) — John Bromby, apprentice jockey, was cross-examined for three hours Tuesday by the Ontario Racing Commission at an inquiry into allegedly fixed races.

He was one of two witnesses during the day. Earlier, blonde model Betty Spencer, 25, formerly of Winnipeg and on $1,000 bail as a material witness told the commission she knew nothing about any fixed races. She was released from bail.

Bromby, under indefinite suspension from Ontario tracks, was making his third appearance at the hearing. All officials would say Tuesday was that the investigation of his case has not been completed.

Bromby rode North Drive when the horse won during the Fort Erie race meeting earlier this summer. Large sums of money were reported to have been collected on the winner.

Picketing Dispute Ends Quietly

MONTREAL, Aug. 22 (CP) — The M. V. Massey, picketted briefly Tuesday in a dispute between two rival seamen's unions, left port Tuesday night after discharging 30,000 bushels of grain.

Harbor ofifcials said the lake boat was unloaded despite a small party of men who identified themselves as pickets protesting against the working of some crew members overtime without compensation. The "pickets" left shortly after unloading began.

Company officials termed the dispute "a tempest in a teapot." It started when two of the 24-man crew left the ship and joined the Seafarers' International Union.

The National Seamen's Association, bargaining agent for the crew, claimed the SIU was "raiding" its members by illegal means and force.

Treat Minor Cuts

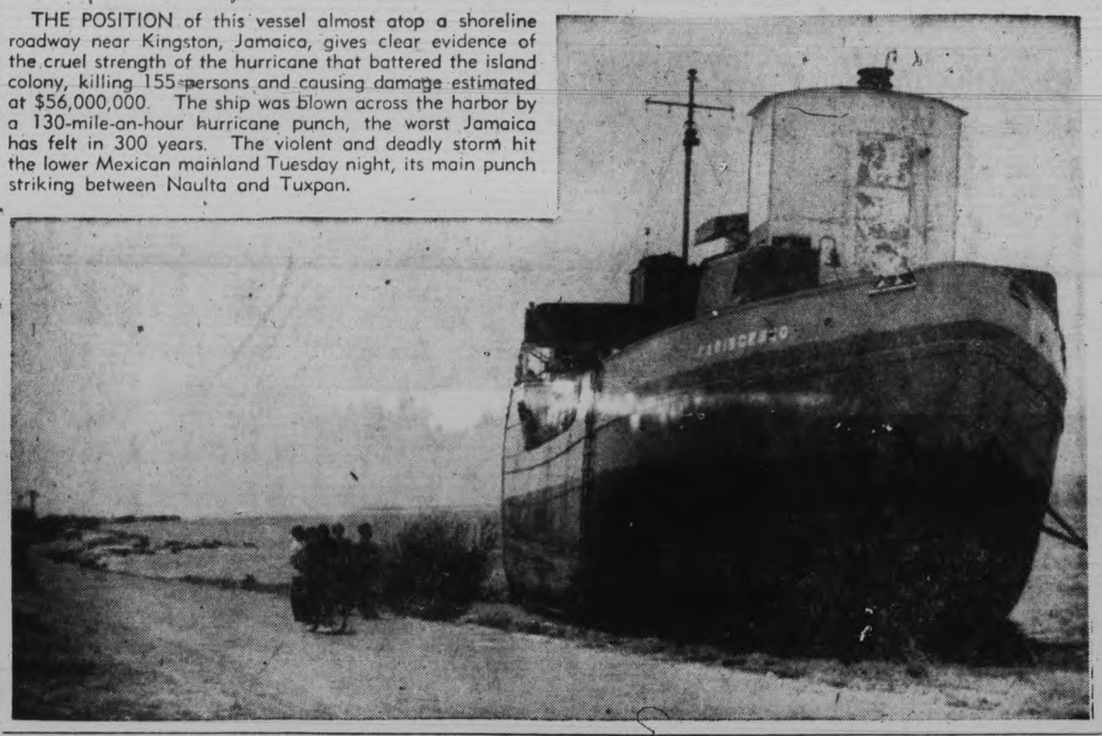
Harry Wipper, 21, received a small laceration in his upper lip Tuesday night during the Petes-Fergus senior lacrosse game.

He was treated at Civic Hospital after the game. Wipper plays defence for the Petes.

Vincent Crum, 32, Sterenville, Ohio, holidaying in the district, was treated in hospital for a lacerated right thumb Tuesday night. He cut his thumb on a car fender.

James Pollard, 53, 258 Bonacord St., was treated for a cut left ear Tuesday night.

THE POSITION of this vessel almost atop a shoreline roadway near Kingston, Jamaica, gives clear evidence of the cruel strength of the hurricane that battered the island colony, killing 155 persons and causing damage estimated at $56,000,000. The ship was blown across the harbor by a 130-mile-an-hour hurricane punch, the worst Jamaica has felt in 300 years. The violent and deadly storm hit the lower Mexican mainland Tuesday night, its main punch striking between Naulta and Tuxpan.



Blood Plasma Low

NEW YORK, Aug. 22 (AP) — New York Red Cross officials said Tuesday that a sharp drop in blood donations is seriously hampering their program to supply blood and plasma to the armed forces. They attributed the drop in donations to summer vacations and the current truce negotiations in Korea.

Pimmett and Cadesky Win Shorthorn Titles

Shorthorns from the Peterborough area more than held their own in a strong Regional Show held at Oshawa. This show was open to cattle from Ontario, York, Durham, Northumberland, Peterborough, Victoria and parts of Simcoe.

The senior and grand champion female, Aberfeldy Violet Vale, was shown by M. H. Pimmett and Sons, Indian River. Reserve senior, Lancaster Queen 7th, was the entry of Roslyn Flett, Oakwood. The junior champion (and reserve grand) was Louada Princess Royal 3rd, for L. Cadesky, Peterborough. Reserve junior was another Pimmett entry, Strahore Duthie Violet.

The senior and grand champion bull, Maple Leaf Indemnity 7th, was shown by John Howden, Columbus. Reserve senior and reserve grand, was Glenburn Quarterback, for K. E. Deacon, Unionville. A Cadesky entry, Louada Celebrity, was junior champion, with reserve junior going to Deacon on Glenburn Remarkable.

Say 300 Employees Affected By Cutback

HAMILTON, Aug. 22. (CP)— About 300 employees of the Canadian Westinghouse Company Ltd., will be affected by a production cutback scheduled to take place in the next three weeks, H. H. Rogge, president, announced Tuesday.

He said as many as possible of the workers involved would be transferred to other divisions of the company but that some would be laid off.

Mr. Rogge blamed a continuation of the adverse business conditions which led to the lay-off of 270 Westinghouse employees last month.

Quebec Industry Booming Reports Show

By ALAN RANDAL

QUEBEC, Aug. 22 —(CP)— From the business and industrial point of view Quebec province—and Quebec City in particular—is bursting at the seams.

On all sides there is new construction for new business establishments, industrial plants and workers' homes. From Premier Maurice Duplessis comes this description of Quebec's industrial development: "Marvelously extraordinary."

The trade and commerce department is making a new compilation of new industries established in the province since the end of the Second World War. Most recent published figure is 4,000 covering every enterprise from paper making to shoe making.

Altogether there are about 14,000 manufacturing enterprises in the province where, since 1945, population has increased from about 3,500,000 to more than 4,000,000. In the last 10 years the population of Quebec City has jumped from 150,000 to 200,000.

62 New Industries

In Quebec City alone, since 1945, more than 62 new industries have been launched, 32 of them located in St. Malo, one of the most modern industrial zones on the continent.

In this historic centre of Canadas beginning the business expansion is indicative of a shining future, according to Armand Viau, president of the Association of Industrial Commissioners of Quebec.

He says:

"Quebec City will be the hub of the wheel of tomorrow's development—the vast semi-circular arc of industrial development which will sweep through Hollinger, Abitibi, the Saguenay district, Chicoutimi, the North Shore, the Gaspe coast—just as Montreal is the hub of earlier industrial development of the province."

He describes Quebec as a natural deep water port, a seat of government, an international tourist centre, a religious capital, a commercial, shipping and industrial centre, with one of the largest dry docks in the world.

Premier Duplessis estimates that in the next two years, $1,500,000,000 will be spent in Quebec on hydro-electric and mining development.

Supplies of power are the key to the province's current boom. Since the war, power output in Quebec has gone up from 4,500,000 horsepower to the present figure of more than 7,000,000. This is about 57 per cent of power development in all Canada. Government surveys indicate that the province's power potential is about 18,000,000 horsepower.

Electricity will make possible development of the Ungava iron mines. The $200,000,000 iron-mining project undertaken by Hollinger North Shore Exploration Company includes, $35,000,000 for electricity development at Eaton Canyon on the Hamilton river.

Power development is projected or in progress all along the St. Lawrence north shore from the Marguerite river at Clarke City to the Megiscane in northwestern Quebec.

Probably north shore electricity will be carried across the St. Lawrence to Gaspe where Noranda Mines Limited plans $30,000,000 expenditure on development of copper deposits estimated at 50,000,000 tons.

A ROYAL MARINE and other officers stand by on the quarter deck of the British cruiser Superb as Vice-Admiral Sir Richard Symonds-Taylor hands over the famous Shannon Bell to his old Canadian shipmate, Rear Admiral E. R. Mainguy. The bell bears the scars of the shortest engagement in naval history when the Shannon captured a heavier armed American ship and brought the prize back to Halifax 138 years ago.

Nationalization Divides British Labor

LONDON, Aug. 22 (Reuters)— Britain's trade unionists are choosing up sides for a battle over further nationalization that may seriously affect the Labor Government's ability to stay in power and its chance of winning the next general election.

The battle will be fought out when the Trades Union Congress, parent organization of Britain's 8,000,000 union members, holds its annual conference at Blackpool beginning Sept. 3.

Many unions already are critical of the government for not holding down prices and profits. Now a large group, led by Jack Tanner, president of the 700,000-member Amalgamated Engineering Union, is prepared to demand more nationalization and state control. Industries most often mentioned in this connection are sugar, insurance, cement, and the distribution of some foods, including milk and meat.

Another group, led by Arthur Deakin, whose Transport and General Workers Union is the largest in the Western world, believes further nationalization would be ill-advised. Deakin said recently that if labor campaigns on such a platform, it will get its "biggest whacking."

Any split within the TUC would weaken the Labor Government, already beset by inflation and austerity, and handicapped by a tiny majority in the Commons.

Has 34th Fracture

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Aug. 22— (AP) — Six-year-old Raymond Kline stretched as he sat watching television Tuesday night. He put his foot on the floor, and winced. His leg was broken. It was the youngster's 34th fracture. He has a rare bone disease that causes him to break bones turning over in his bed, walking or just raising his hand.

Elected President

CALGARY, Aug. 22 (CP). — Thomas Horsler, 50-year-old Fairville, NB pharmacist, was [illegible]d president of the Canadian [illegible]tical Association on Tuesday as the druggists' convention drew to a close. Council members include Percy Moisley, Timmins, and Alan Hobley, Walkerton.

FAMOUS PHRASE

Sir Wilfred Laurier's famous phrase, "The twentieth century belongs to Canada," is said to have been coined by a Klondike miner.

De Bernonville Arrives In Brazil

RIO DE JANEIRO, Aug. 22 — (Reuters). — Count Jacques de Bernonville — decorated for gallantry in the First World War, condemned to death in his absence by a French court for collaboration with the Nazis after the Second World War — arrived here Tuesday from Canada.

Reports were that he had been offered a job with a business firm here and has obtained a permanent Brazilian visa.

Britain Gives Iranians New Chance

Say New Bid Based On Harriman Plan, Will Stay In Abadan

LONDON, Aug. 23. (AP)—A Foreign Office spokesman said today Britain has decided to give Iran another opportunity to reopen the critical discussions on the future of the billion-dollar Anglo-Iranian Oil Company.

Britain made clear they will stay put for the time being in Abadan, centre of the giant oil industry that produces around 500,000 barrels a day—a vital source of western Europe's defence needs.

LONDON—AP)—Britain announced officially her determination to remain in Abadan until Iran permits oil production to resume again. A foreign office statement warned Iran that Britain will take "the necessary measures" to ensure safety of British personnel in Abadan.

The spokesman said the new bid to reopen the talks will be based on the previous recommendations drawn up by W. Averill Harriman, the American trouble-shooter in Iran. These formed the basis for the talks just concluded.

Harriman stayed on in Tehran after the talks came to a halt Wednesday. He appeared more optimistic than other officials in Tehran, saying that the discussions were merely suspended and not broken off. Iranian Premier Mohammed Mossadegh said, however, that "it is finished."

Count On Harriman

It is obvious that officials here are counting on Harriman to try once again to talk Iran into a more accommodating attitude toward Britain.

There were predictions by informants here that if Harriman fails, President Truman may intervene once more in the dispute.

Richard Stokes, head of the British negotiating team in Tehran and Lord Privy Seal, is expected here Friday morning. He will give the cabinet a first-hand account of the talks and try to reassess the chance of reopening them.

Informed sources stressed that there will be no "dramatic" actions such as the landing of British military forces in Abadan unless circumstances demand it.

The Anglo-Iranian Oil Company, meanwhile, announced it has ordered about 300 of its British, Indian and Pakistani employees to leave their posts in the oil fields and concentrate in Abadan.

Friendly Talks

Stokes described his farewell visit with Mossadegh in Tehran as "most friendly."

The British negotiator expressed hope the Iranian government would change its mind on British proposals to keep their technicians on the job at Abadan, and said Britain would be glad to resume the talks.

Have Stage Coach Ride

CALGARY, Aug. 23. (CP) A stagecoach ride is on the books for Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip when they visit Calgary Oct. 11. The president of Calgary Exhibition and Stampede said on Wednesday part of their tour in Calgary will be in an old coach that carried the Royal mail from Dawson to White Horse in the Yukon before the turn of the century.

CCL Asks Frost To Arbitrate Timmins Strike

OTTAWA, Aug. 23—(CP)—The Canadian Congress of Labor today disclosed that it has asked Premier Frost of Ontario to act as final arbitrator in the six-week Hollinger Gold Mining strike at Timmins.

Pat Conroy, CCL secretary-treasurer, said in a statement that he has proposed the following settlement plan to Mr. Frost:

1. That one of the questions in dispute, union security and the check-off, be subject to voluntary arbitration with Mr. Frost acting as arbitrator. "Both the union—the United Steelworkers of America (CIO-CCL) — and the company would agree in advance that the decision of Premier Frost as arbitrator would be binding," Mr. Conroy suggested.

2. That on questions of wage rates, pensions and incentive bonuses, these be dealt with by negotiation with an Ontario Labor Department representative acting as mediator. This, said Mr. Conroy, is in accordance with a standing offer by the Ontario Labor Department.

3. That if any of the money questions remained unresolved after mediation efforts, they should be taken up by Mr. Frost for arbitration on the same basis as union security.

Mr. Conroy, in his letter to Mr. Frost, emphasized that the proposals were made even though normally the Canadian trade union movement is against enforced arbitration of trade union disputes.

Mr. Conroy emphasized that the strike at Hollinger was serious and was the reason for the unusual proppsal by the Congress.

"Your decision," Mr. Conroy suggested in his letter to Mr. Frost, "would be accepted by both parties as final and binding, and would be included in any contract that might be arrived at between the disputants."

Decision To Break Off Conference Talks Taken Hours Before Charge

No UN Planes Anywhere Near Kaesong Commanding General Declares; Communists Leave Door Ajar For Talks

TOKYO, Aug. 25. (AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway said tonight that Communists must have decided to break off Kaesong truce talks even before they charged an Allied plane bombed the truce city. In a statement issued at midnight (10 a.m. EDT), the United Nations commander said the Red action breaking off the talks came so quickly after the alleged bombing that it must have been decided in advance. He said the decision could be made only by a high level of the Red command. It was delivered only a few hours after the asserted incident by a Red liaison officer.

Ridgway's words were:

"As has been brought before, the decision to declare all meetings 'off from this time,' which required a decision from a high level command, could not have been arrived at and transmitted to Colonel Chang, Communist liaison officer, for delivery to the United Nations command liaison officers, in the interval from 2320 (11:20 p.m.) on August 22 to 0145 (1:45 a.m.) on 23 August."

It was apparent the UN commander meant that the decision to call off truce talks had been made some time before UN liaison officers were called out of their beds in the dead of night and brought to Kaesong to investigate the alleged bombing.

Frame-up Incident

An earlier announcement from Ridgway's office said investigation "clearly suggests the whole incident is a frame-up, staged from first to last."

Ridgway's statement actually disclosed nothing new about the so-called bombing incident. It was mostly a repeat of what his liaison officers and others in the UN command reported previously.

He said investigations disclosed no planes "under the Far East Air Forces control" were over Kaesong at the time the Reds say it was bombed.

He also said investigations showed no US Navy planes were over the area.

Mining Magnate John P. Bickell Dies In New York

NEW YORK, Aug. 23—(CP)—John Paris Bickell, adventurous mining magnate and financier best known to Canadian for pioneering in the development of Northern Ontario's rich McIntyre Porcupine gold mine, died Wednesday. He would have been 67 Sept. 26.

The big rugged bachelor, who started his own brokerage business in Toronto at 23 and became a millionaire in his early 30s, became ill on the way here from Toronto Monday. His death in New York Hospital was due to heart attack.

His achievements included the stepping up of aircraft production in Britain and Canada during the Second World War. He was one of the "four busy B's" on the all-Canadian team headed by Lord Beaverbrook. The others were the late Viscount Bennett, former prime minister, and Beverly Baxter, Canadian-born member of the British House of Commons.

He was a Presbyterian minister's son, born at Molesworth, Ont, near Listowel, in 1884. He received his education at St. Andrew's College in the Toronto-area community of Aurora. In 1907 he established a financial brokerage business in Toronto and operated it successfully during the exciting years when prospectors and developers opened up the golden treasures of the Porcupine and Kirkland Lake.

Took Big Chances

As a speculator, he liked to take chances on big odds. He could smile at the loss of $400,000 in an afternoon—and at a gain the next morning of $500,000.

27 Injured In Hurricane

TAMPICO, Mexico, Aug. 23.—(AP)—The killer hurricane that raged over tropical seas all week taking more than 150 lives and causing millions of dollars in damage, was blowing itself out today in the mountains of Mexico.

The storm — described as the worst recorded in Mexico—spent its final fury over the oil port of Tampico Wednesday. At least one person was killed here and the damage was expected to run far above $1,000,000.

Twenty-seven persons were officially reported injured here—unverified reports placed the casualties as high as 300.

Twice the fierce winds hit Tampico with destructive force—first when the hurricane's front roared over, then when its back force followed up the mid-day calm of its central "eye."

Communications Broken

Broken communications and the black-out of a power shut-off prevented a check of all possible casualties and damage.

There were unconfirmed reports of dead and injured at Soto La Marina, 120 miles up the Gulf coast.

The hurricane which began its murderous rampage over Jamaica last weekend, killing about 150 persons there, hit Tampico full force. Its velocity measured up to 160 miles an hour.

High winds buffeted the flooded city all night as the storm trailed gales behind it.

Advance warning and knowledge of hurricanes probably saved

Will Lay Criminal Charges Against Postmaster, Priest

MONTREAL, Aug. 23. (CP)—Postmaster-General Edouard Rinfet said today criminal charges will be laid against the Rev. Alfred Roy and the postmaster of St. Germaine Boule, Que., Wilfrid Begin, alleged to have tampered with mail.

"Nothing must be allowed to interfere with the sanctity of the mails," said Mr. Rinfret at his Montreal office. "If there is such interference the Post Office has no alternative but to prosecute, no matter who is involved."

The postmaster-general said details of the manner in which the prosecution will be handled are still being worked out in Ottawa.

"The decision to prosecute was taken some time ago," he added.

St. Germaine Boule is a Quebec hamlet near Rouyn and the decision to prosecute the priest and the postmaster follows complaints by Baptist pastor Leslie G. Barnhart of Lasarre, Que., that religious pamphlets addressed to residents of the hamlet failed to reach their destination.

Had Special Order

Mr. Barnhart wrote a letter of protest to the postmaster-general claiming he had been told by the 22-year-old daughter of the postmaster, Gervaise Begin, who supervised the post office on behalf of her father, that "we had some special order about that mail."

Mr. Barnhart asserted that he was told the missing mail had been taken away by Father Roy. He said he was told that Father Roy had given the order that the pamphlets were not to be delivered.

Recently Archbishop Leger of the Roman Catholic diocese of Montreal in a statement, said that if the reported actions of the priest were true, they were wrong and he called on people of goodwill "not to implicate the whole church in a culpable act of one of its members, even though he may be a minister of religion."

Nine Killed On Alaska Plane

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Aug. 23 (AP).—A United States Air Force C-47 transport plane with nine persons aboard crashed Wednesday night at Summit, 152 miles north of here on the Alaska railroad.

First reports indicated all were killed.

The plane was en route to Eielson Air Base near Fairbanks from Elmendorf Air Base at Anchorage.

The Alaska railroad sent an ambulance car to the crash site with doctors and a rescue team.

Toronto Mayor Panned Again

TORONTO, Aug. 23 (CP) — Toronto's Board of Control and Mayor Hiram McCallum are being panned again.

Hardly had the fuss over whether or not the statue of Gen. James A. Wolfe should be purchased as a University Avenue adornment (at a cost of $38,000) been settled when Alderman Nathan Phillips hit at them today for what he called "wishy-washyism at its worst."

He exclaimed:

"Four memorable blunders in a single day! . . . A new course record!"

The "blunders:"

Only five minutes' consideration to a recommendation for a successor to the vacant $10,000-a-year medical officer of health post.

A decision to hold a civic reception for Winnie Roach Leuszler, conqueror of the English Channel, on her return home—after the board previously had refused such a display on the grounds that she is a suburban North York resident.

(In the past, Toronto has tendered civic receptions to such things as a trained seal and a mechanical horse.)

Reversal of the board's decision of last week to buy the statue at what Mayor McCallum considered a bargain price.

Mayor McCallum's remark that residents of a mid-town, low-rental housing development can't have television because they can't afford it.

Order Bus Line Pay $29,250

TORONTO, Aug. 23 — (CP)— Families of two miners killed last February in a collision between a train and a bus in which nine persons died will receive $29,250 from the Nickel Belt Coach Lines Ltd.

The amount was set in a settlement approved Wednesday at Osgoode Hall by Mr. Justice H. A. Aylen.

Mrs. Edna Landriault, 28, Sturgeon Falls, will receive $7,000. Her three children, Richard 5, Paulette 3, and Robert 2, will receive a total of $12,000.

Mrs. Marie Beauparlent 46, will receive $8,250. Her two children Yvon 17 and Mae 15, will receive a total of $2,000.

Baseball President Resigns Over Brawl

ROUYN, Que., Aug. 23 (CP)—Ted Soucie resigned Wednesday night as president of the Rouyn-Noranda Junior Baseball League in the aftermath of a flurry of charges that junior athletes in this area drink in clubs and taverns.

The 45-year-old theatre owner, who has been a baseball executive since arriving here 10 years ago, said in announcing his move to the press: "Beer and liquor were the bottom of the entire affair and I hereby re-affirm my statement that beer and liquor have no place in our sports."

The general manager of the J. P. Ross junior baseball team demanded Soucie's resignation at a meeting of the league executive held Aug. 13 to investigate a brawl among members of the team a few days earlier. He said he made the request "because he (Soucie) is not doing his job."

King Farouk's Life Threatened

CANNES, France, Aug. 23 (AP)—French police scanned all new arrivals on the Riviera today, looking for two Egyptians reported on the way here to try to assassinate King Farouk.

Police reported an anonymous note delilvered to them said the two Egyptians, identified by name had crossed the Swiss border in secret and had arrived on the French Mediterranean coast.

King Farouk has been visiting the Riviera gambling resorts for several weeks on a honeymoon with Queen Narriman.

The police information said that the two suspects were members of an Egyptian political group which opposed the king.

The guard around King Farouk has been considerably increased police said. It now consists of 30 Egyptians and four Frenchmen.

Aircraft Plant Plan For Simcoe

TORONTO, Aug. 23 — (CP).—Toronto real estate brokers said today a giant aircraft industry is planned for the Simcoe area of Western Ontario where a multi-million-dollar deal is reported being negotiated.

Simcoe farmers disclosed Wednesday night that between 10 and 15 farms in the district have been purchased at prices ranging from $700 to $1,000 an acre. The normal price was said to be $400 an acre.

Brokers here, said to be acting as agents and working through an unidentified Simcoe realtor, estimated the total cost of the land to be purchased at more than $2,000,000.

A Toronto group was said to have deposited $250,000 in a Simcoe bank to cover options, good until the end of 1952, on a number of farms.

Eugene Caswell, a tobacco farmer in the area, said Wednesday night he had given an option on his 79 acres to sell for $60,000 with a 10 per cent payment for the option. James Moore, another Simcoe farmer, said he will collect $77,000 if an option for his 100 acres is taken up.

Acheson Plans To Review German Question At Parley

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23 (AP) —State Secretary Dean Acheson is making tentative plans to meet here with the British and French foreign ministers Sept. 10 to review German problems and other key cold war issues.

Acheson has suggested, it was learned today, that the American-British High Commissioners in Western Germany also join the three-power talks.

Informed officials said the US secretary will discuss problems ranging through Europe, the Middle East and Far East during a conference with Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison and Foreign Minister Robert Schuman of France.

The three plan to fly back here Sept. 9 for their round of talks after attending the Japanese peace conference at San Francisco.

Officials said the No. 1 item on the agenda probably will be a three-power agreement on Western Germany's manpower contribution to the proposed Atlantic Pact army led by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The US and Britain are reported ready to back the idea of full German divisions to be integrated in this army, as demanded by the West German government. France is reported reluctant to accept this and is clinging to the idea of German combat brigades of 5,000 to 7,000 men with strict safeguards against a revival of the German general staff.

Acheson is hoping to get a common stand agreed upon in time to report to the 12 Atlantic Pact foreign ministers who are to meet in Ottawa Sept. 15 to discuss Western Germany's role in European defence, among other things.

Informed diplomats said that during their talks the foreign ministers would likely deal with these problems:

1. Plans for giving the Western German government more freedom in political and foreign policy matters.

2. The Iranian oil crisis.

3. Egypt's demand that Britain evacuate its troops from the Suez Canal area and allied policy toward the continuing Arab-Israeli differences.

Licensing Of Boat Liveries Proposed After Drownings

STROUD, Ont. Aug. 23 CP)—An inquest jury made a strong recommendation that the Federal Department of Transport license boat liveries and take other steps to prevent water fatalities.

The jury inquired Wednesday into the death of James Beverley Leslie, 40-year-old Toronto public school principal, one of five persons drowned in Lake Simcoe July 22 when a boat overturned. Two persons were saved. The boat was built to hold a maximum five persons.

Paul Gray, who rented the boat to the party, and George Hunter, the owner, were cleared of negligence in connection with the drownings.

But in a lengthy rider, the jury recommended that all boat agencies be licensed by the transport department and that boat manufacturers be required to mark plainly the carrying capacities on new boats.

Boat liveries should be required to provide life jackets or cushions in number equal to the carrying capacities of the boats, it said.

The recommendations came after Dr. Smirle Lawson, chief coroner for Ontario, told the jury that regulations regarding boats for hire are "deplorable and a disgrace to the province."

He said that the boat in which the five persons lost their lives was "crowded to the point of danger," at the time of the accident. The 16-horsepower motor was "unnecessarily powerful."

"Overcrowding of small boats and the presence in them of persons who cannot swim," said the coroner, "is too often practised on our waters . . . and must be stopped."

South Koreans Win Battle For Hills

US EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Aug. 23. (AP) —A five-day "battle for the hills" in east central Korea has ended with South Korean troops in firm control of all their objectives, the Eighth Army said today.

Gen. James A. Van Fleet, army commander, indicated the positions won would be strategically important if the latest breakdown of cease-fire talks means a resumption of full-scale war across the Korean peninsula.

Official estimates placed Red casualties at 9,019, including killed, wounded and captured. South Korean casualties were comparatively light.

The battle was the most severe action along the front since early June. Opposing forces closed in bitter hand-to-hand fighting with bayonets and hand grenades.

6 Young Desperadoes Free In Jail Break

FLEMINGTON, NJ, Aug. 23—(AP).—Six to 14 young desperadoes who escaped from two prisons in the biggest mass jail break in New Jersey in 20 years still were at large today.

A hunt by scores of armed men over a 14-mile area led to the capture of three escapees Wednesday night and one early today.

Herbert Simpson, 20-year-old convicted burglar who sawed his way out of Annandale Reformatory with seven other prisoners Wednesday was caught.

Police collared the other three last night when they tried to crash a road block near Ringoes, five miles south of here.

Some Of City Strikers Return To Work

WELLAND, Aug. 23 (CP).—A strike of 20 of Welland's street department workers that began Wednesday morning showed signs of breaking today. Almost half the available working force showed up for work.

Twenty employees had signed their names to a petition demanding the removal of foreman Morris Lounsbury, described in the petition as a "slave driver."

The petition, sent to the city council Tuesday night, demanded his removal within 24 hours. Council gave the petition-signers until noon today to remove their names from the letter or be dismissed.

Five names were erased this morning. The five went back to work.

The remaining dissidents, however, made no appearance at the municipal yards.

Timber Dues Increased, Scott Announces

TORONTO, Aug. 23 — (CP).— Lands Minister Harold Scott on Wednesday announced a sweeping increase in timber dues that will add "several million dollars" each year to the Ontario treasury.

Increased in some cases 100 per cent above the old, the new rates will affect about 1,000 pulp and paper and sawing companies.

Although these new rates are retroactive to April 1, 1951, the revenue will not show until the fiscal year ending March 31, 1953, as cutting bills are not rendered until 1952.

Mr. Scott said the new revenue would be used "to take care of the expanded program of forest management and reforestation in Ontario."

Mr. Scott also announced that the province is discontinuing use of the Doyle rule on all future timber sales. Existing agreements using the rule will disappear in the next five years, he said.

The Doyle rule is a method of estimating the board measure of sawlogs in a bush.

International Rule

Serious consideration was being given, Mr. Scott said, to adoption of the international rule to replace the Doyle rule for that part of Ontario's cuttings measured into board feet of lumber.

The new dues applicable to all timber cut on ungranted public lands, and patented lands where the timber remains the property of the Crown, are as follows:

Sawlogs—Ash, basswood, cherry, elm maple, oak, and yellow birch, $5 a thousand feet board measure as compared with a previous rate of $2.70; beech, poplar, white birch and other hardwood, $3 a thousand feet b.m., as compared to $2.25; cedar, hemlock, and tamarack, $3 as compared to $1.70; red pine and white pine, $5 as compared to $2.85.

For pulpwood the rates are balsam and jack pine, $1.40 a cord, as against 95 cents and 70 cents; respectively. Poplar and other hardwoods $1 a cord, as compared to 50 cents. Spruce is set at $2.80 increased from $1.70.

Fishing, hunting and yachting were his other sports.

His interest in hockey went beyond serving as the first president of Maple Leaf Gardens and later as a director. He owned the old St. Pat's Hockey Club in the 1920s. In his later years he attended the Toronto Maple Leafs' home games regularly when he was in Toronto and occasionally would fly to Boston or New York from Nassau or elswhere for games.

He was a flying enthusiast and for many years had his own planes. In 1938 one of his planes, in which he was travelling with former Ontario premier Mitchell Hepburn, was forced down in the Yukon. The next year he flew with Lord Beaverbrook on a trip in the maritimes.

Hot Reception

He and a financier friend, Bernard E. (Sell 'Em Ben) Smith, took off from San Francisco in 1939 on a spur-of-the-moment flight to Shanghai that turned into an around-the-world trip. They arrived in Shanghai in time to see the start of the Japanese bombing, got out to Dairen and came home the long way, through Asia over the trans-Siberian railway.

He and Mr. Smith circled the globe again last year, returning from Europe by way of Tokyo, Alaska and Edmonton.

He was credited with getting the transatlantic ferry command going during the two wartime years he was with the British Ministry of Aircraft production. Another part of his job was to arrange for crippled planes to be hustled from forward bases to repair depots and back into operations.

Back in Canada, he became president of Victory Aircraft, government-owned company at Malton near Toronto that turned out many Lancaster bombers for the RCAF. He resigned from the company in 1944.

Cattle Breeders Try Experiment

MANYBERRIES, Alta—(CP)—Brahma bulls from India, Canadian buffalo and conventional beef cattle are being bred at the experimental farm here to develop cows that live longer and provide an extra roast or two.

Experiments to develop cattalo —half buffalo and half bull— have been conducted in Canada for more than 20 years without success. Last year herds were shipped here for another try.

So far cattalo bulls have been sterile and the mixed offspring have been born with the tapering hindquarters of the buffalo. However, the long-maned cattalo with the distinctive hump have been able to withstand winter weather better than their beef cattle forebears.

Next year, officials plan to breed their beef bulls with the hybrid calves. If the smaller hindquarters and sterility among the bulls are eliminated, the plan will be a success.

Also planned is cross-breeding of Angue cows and Brahma bulls.

"We might be able to retain all the desirable qualities of beef cattle and gain hardier strains and longevity by the use of Brahma bulls instead of buffalo," superintendent Hobart Peters said.

Army Engineers Compile Record

OTTAWA — (CP)—The Royal Canadian Engineers, whose proud boast is that they can do anything, now have turned their hand to writing a history of their corps.

Col. A. J. Kerry, an RCE officer now living in England, has been appointed honorary historian of the corps with the task of compiling the "Sapper History."

Working on the belief that thousands of heads are better than one, he has asked all sappers and former members of the RCE to dig into their memories, wartime letters and diaries for items which have a bearing on the history of the corps.

Ottawa Negotiating Fisheries Treaty

OTTAWA, Aug. 23—(CP)— A three-power treaty for the protection of west coast fisheries is being negotiated by Canada, the United States and Japan, government officials disclosed today.

The treaty is being negotiated under the newly-drafted Japanese peace treaty, which requires Japan to negotiate fisheries treaties with signatory nations seeking one. The peace treaty is to be signed in San Francisco next month.

Fisheries Minister Mayhew is on the west coast now discussing details of the fisheries treaty with British Columbia's fisheries industry. With him is Stewart Bates, deputy minister.

The breakdown of talks put Premier Mossadegh on the spot. He faces tough economic and political problems which are bound to increase as long as the refinery at Abadan remains idle.

Anti-government newspapers in Tehran today did not condemn Mossadegh for rejecting the British proposals, but said it was up to him to find a way to sell Iran's nationalized oil and thus make good his promise to give the country a daily income of approximately $840,000 from that source.

How he can do this without British technical know-how is a tough problem for the premier to handle.

Colorful Stamps

NEW DELHI—(CP)—The next series of Republic of India postage stamps to be introduced shortly will depict typical scenes of Indian life and culture, with subjects as agriculture, health, labor, transport and the armed forces.

Home Cooking Exhibits Drop

Increased cost of the ingredients of home cooking must have something to do with the noticeable decline in the number of exhibits in that domestic section of the Exhibition, Mrs. G. K. Fraser, chairman of that committee, remarked to the Examiner Wednesday afternoon.

People still have to eat, housewives may be buying more prepared foods, and it is hardly likely that culinary ability has decreased since the show of last year.

Mrs. Fraser was frankly stumped to find the reason for the comparatively lean table the home department is offering this week.

Friends were welcoming Mrs. Fraser in her own department and also at the flower show after a lengthy illness during the winter.

Decision To Break

Ridgway said a liaison team on the spot "could discover but one individual who claimed to have been an eyewitness to the attack. He stated that the airplane he saw had its headlights on throughout the attack which is not the practice engaged in by any UNC (United Nations command) aircraft during night operations."

Found No Damage

"The alleged bombing incident revealed no damage to any building, to personnel or to crops in the area.

"Colonel (Anthony J.) Kinney, an experienced air officer, was certain that the hole, 24 inches in diameter and 12 inches deep, pointed out to him by the Communists as a result of the attack could not have been a bomb crater.

"Colonel Kinney agreed with Colonel (James) Murray that the hole might have been the result of a hand grenade explosion present in the ground."

The UN commander said the on-the-spot investigation also failed to disclose any evidence of an actual bombing.

"The flush riveted piece of metal which was identified by the Communist liaison officer as part of a Napalm bomb utilized in the attack is not of the type of construction used by the United Nations command as flush riveting is not employed in the manufacture of Napalm tanks. They are of rough construction, more economically produced since they are used only once."

Charged Bombing

Reds broke off the talks shortly after midnight on the grounds a UN plane had bombed, firebombed and strafed Kaesong shortly before midnight.

Investigating American officers said "the evidence was ridiculous."

The complaining Red colonel said he didn't know how many bombs were dropped. Peiping radio said there were four.

The Red officer refused to continue the investigation into daylight. He also refused to leave the evidence—a few pieces of metal, a patch of scorched earth and a small depression—undisturbed for examination in daylight.

He had summoned the American investigators at midnight for an immediate investigation. And he once pursued them a quarter of the way to Munsan to take them back to Kaesong to see more evidence in the blacked-out town.

The Americans saw the "evidence" only in the darkness and rain. Communist correspondents were already on hand when they arrived.

Ready For Attack

If full war is resumed, UN commanders have expresed confidence their forces can meet any Red onslaught. "We'll slaughter them," field officers said.

Allied troops are dug in on the best positions they have ever held in Korea.

First intimation of the new incident came in an urgent midnight telephone call from the Reds at Kaesong to the UN truce camp at Munsan.

The talks, arranged by the highest military commanders on each side, were called off by a Chinese colonel whose first name was not even known by the UN command.

Admiral Joy, head of the UN truce delegation, and his staff remained at their tent camp in Munsan. They kept a telephone line open to the Communists in Kaesong for any further message from the Reds.

The so-called bombing incident was the latest of a series of charges by Reds that the Allies violated the Kaesong neutrality agreement. Admiral Joy rejected them all. In a detailed reply delivered seven hours after the Reds broke off negotiations, he said some were "fabricated."

Council Suspends Veteran Policeman

CRYSTAL BEACH, Aug. 23—(CP—John Sandel, veteran Crystal Beach policeman, was suspended indefinitely Wednesday night by this Lake Erie resort's village council.

Sandel, summoned to a closed council meeting, was asked by Reeve Claude Brewster to sign a statement prepared by Alan Brooks, village solicitor, withdrawing insinuations he allegedly made during the Crystal Beach police enquiry last month.

At that time, Police Chief Gilbert Robertson was fired for alleged laxity and Ontario Provincial Police were asked to assist in policing the village.

Sandel told council he would sign no statement but was willing to make a verbal retraction of implications which Reeve Brewster and council claim reflected unfavorably on them.

Sandel allegedly told newspaper men that the village "was filled with vice and crime" and that he was conducting a "one-man police crusade against bootlegging."

Maple Worker Killed By Bull

MAPLE, Ont., Aug. 23 (CP) — The battered body of Alfred Jones, 56, employee of the Maple Cattle Breeders Association, gored by a bull, was found in the association's barnyard here Wednesday.

Police said he may have been dead some time before his body was found. The attack was made by a 1,700-pound Holstein bull which Jones was leading to an exercise ring.

Maple is about 200 miles north of Toronto.

HAVE DAILY REGULARITY IN 3 DAYS—Or Double Your Money Back!*

As you grow older, haven't you noticed — the more pills you take the worse you get? Haven't you suspected there must be something wrong? Decide today to break that vicious habit of dosing yourself with harmful drugs.

Now there is a better, more effective way to daily regularity, designed especially for people over 35.

It is Serutan — based on nature's fresh fruit and vegetable principle — the corrective method for constipation that today stands medically approved above all others.

Serutan contains no chemical drugs—no salts — no irritating roughage. Its gentle "push" differs completely from violent action methods.

Serutan is a more lasting way to help you be regular the way you want to be.

Stock Market Prices Continue Mixed

TORONTO, Aug. 23 — (CP) — Stock Market prices continued mixed today in early afternoon dealings.

Utilities and textiles remained firm in industrials. Papers, agricultures, constructions, foods, liquors and refining oils were mixed. Steels found a little support but remained generally weak. Banks and miscellaneous industrials tended lower.

Base metals held gains and losses in balance. Fenimore Iron was active after Wednesday's report of a strike on its property and showed penny gains. Base Metals, Golden Manitou, Noranda, Normetal, Quebec Manitou and United Keno Hill edged higher. Steep Rock and Falconbridge slipped moderately.

Western Oils tended slightly higher.

Senior Golds were weak and secondary issues showed losses outnumbering gains two to one.

Dollar Up

MONTREAL, Aug. 23 —(CP)— The American dollar today opened at 5 13/16 per cent premium to the Canadian dollar, up 1/32 from Wednesday's close. That is, it took $1.05 13/16 Canadians to buy $1 American.

The pound sterling was $2.96¼, up 1/16 from Wednesday.

Driver Flees Into Bush

MADOC, Aug. 23.—Provincial police were still combing dense bush Wednesday night for a young truck driver who fled after his truck pinned an eight-year-old boy by the neck against a wire fence.

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Leo Ryan, 24, charging dangerous driving and leaving the scene of an accident.

The boy, Lance Beer of Belleville, is recovering in Belleville Hospital after having been saved by the quick action of companions. He was standing with a friend, 12-year-old Don Seymour, watching two farmers feed calves through a fence Wednesday on a farm near Ivanhoe.

"We had just finished feeding one of the calves," Nathan Reid, one of the farmers, said. "The truck came roaring down the road. It crossed to our side, jumped the ditch and headed straight for us. Three of us jumped one way and Lance jumped the other. At first we thought everyone was all right, but we missed Lance. Don found him pinned to the fence."

Walton Reid, the other farmer, raced to the barn for wire clippers. "I don't think he would have lived another two seconds. He was blue in the face when we cut him free. I'm sure he would have died shortly."

The driver, seeing the boy, jumped from the cab and ran into the woods. Police, led by Cpl. Jack Hatch, spotted the wanted man once but lost him again in the bush.

Rejected Love Blamed For Dynamite Blast

GUELPH, Aug. 23 (CP). — A story of rejected love was told Wednesday at the preliminary hearing of George McMillan, Minto township farmer charged with dynamiting the home of Clayton G. McPhail, Clifford implement dealer.

Mrs. Ruby Glikinson, McPhail's 33-year-old housekeeper, said McMillan proposed a marriage to her before she began working for McPhail. She said she refused and later accepted a proposal from McPhail.

McMillan was committed for trial on a charge of causing the explosion that tossed McPhail from his bed in his second-storey room July 31, ripped off two doors and tore up the ground floor.

Perons Will Run In Argentine Election

BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 23 (AP) —President Juan D. Peron and his dynamic blonde wife, Eva, were hailed as running mates in the Nov. 11 presidential elections. Their followers demanded Wednesday that they "lead Argentina forever".

Formal acceptance by Peron and his wife of the draft call by the Peronista party and leaders of the government-controlled General Confederation of Labor is considered a certainty. They told wildly-cheering throngs Wednesday they would "abide by the will of the people".

The powerful husband-and-wife team which has ruled Argentina since 1946 was nominated Wednesday night by the president's Peronista Party Superior Council in a closed session.

Cars Finished Big-Time Sailing Says Old Skipper

TORONTO (CP)—Marriage and motor cars have been the doom of big-time sailing, says William Churchill, a devotee of canvas and polished brass for nearly 70 years.

The 85-year-old sailor says nowadays the trend is to smaller craft—dinghies and one or two-man jobs. He is the owner of a 45-foot cutter, the Madora.

He says the automobile is the main reason young men aren't spending the time they used to under sail.

"Now they go by car to the lakes they couldn't reach in the horse and buggy days," he says. But the wedding bells are almost equally responsible.

"Years ago fellows used to come looking for a chance to get in a boat crew. They'd work hard at it too— for free. Now the trend is toward smaller boats because you can't get five or six men to stick together. As soon as they're married, you never see them again."

Churchill was born at Portugal Cove near St. John's, Nfld. That meant he was all but born with a tiller-sheet in his hands. As a boy he sailed the Grand Banks on Bluenose schooners. At 20 he left the sea and came to Toronto to work as a plasterer.

At the turn of the century he was sailing the waters of Lake Ontario in the Dolphin, at 35-foot sloop which he and his brothers built.

A few years later they built the Madora. Oak and other materials were cheap then and the craft was completed for about $1,800.

"You couldn't build her today for under $18,000," Churchill says.

The veteran yatchsman has been watching the Toronto sailing scene for over 60 years. He regards the period just before the Second World War as tops. Since then the number and size of sailing craft has fallen off.

Churchill now sails only a few times a year, and because it takes four men to sail the Madora, he will have to dispose of the cutter.

"I'm going to scrap her," he says. "I'd rather scrap her than see someone fooling around and making a mess of her."

PIONEERS REMEMBERED—The centenary of the migration of Scottish pioneers from Nova Scotia to the South Seas was marked with ceremonies at Waipu, New Zealand, and at St. Ann's, Cape Breton Island, N.S. Waipu was founded by these migrants and descendants still live there. Here members of the Waipu Highland Pipe Band inspect the monument to the pioneers. It carries emblems of Canada and New Zealand as well as reliefs of the migrants' ships and details of their owners, captains and dates of arrival in New Zealand.

Hides In Car Assaults Woman Driver

PORT HOPE, Aug. 23—Provincial Police in Cobourg report that a 24-year-old married Port Hope woman was assaulted and raped by an unknown man late Tuesday night. The unnamed victim is the mother of three children.

According to police reports the woman and her sister-in-law attended the theatre, leaving their car near the town hall. After the show, the victim drove her sister-in-law home, following which she started out for her home. It was then that the alleged assailant made his presence in the back seat known. He told the woman to drive north of Port Hope where he is said to have forced her out of the car and committed the criminal act. The woman put up a struggle and as a result is said to have been cut and bruised.

Constable Bill Baluk, of the Provincial Police detachment in Cobourg, took the woman's car to Toronto where it will be examined for fingerprints. The victim did not know her attacker.

Working A Third Of The Time For The State

The biggest buyers of the last several years have been our governments—Federal, Provincial, municipal. They are buying in million-dollar orders goods ranging from military clothing to planes, from hydro dynamos to gravel for roads, from office desks to municipal skating rinks. Our three wings of government are now spending a third of the net national income and thus compelling the average Canadian to work a third of his time for the state. Government buying, at the three levels, is among the largest stimuli to inflation, for buying on this scale tremendously increases the gap between the amount of goods available for domestic consumption and the amount of money chasing after the goods. Governmental buying reduces the gods that consumers can get and at the same time gives them more money to spend on the reduced amount of goods. Thus prices shoot up and the dollar loses its real value.

• • •

The Winnipeg Free Press considers that "one of the most urgent needs of the time is a reduction in the governmental demand for goods of all sorts in competition with the consumer. Since the major demand of rearmament cannot be reduced and will increase there is all the more reason for economy in non-defence spending, of which there is no real sign in Ottawa, in the provinces, or in the municipalities." The Free Press rightly speads the responsibility for large unessential expenditure among the three levels of government. Ottawa is not the only easy, large spender. Our provincial capitals are equally culpable. One reason that both Ottawa and the provinces tend to spend liberally is that they both have lots of money; they are taking in more than they really need; they have surpluses which are not good teachers of economical spending.

• • •

Municipalities likewise have spent huge sums in the last five years, but being closer to the taxpaying consumers they have had different reasons for spending, and often have done it under duress. New sewers, schools, hospitals and streets were needed. These had to be built. In the first wave of post-war enthusiasm for building, municipalities also indulged in unessential spending—they built new halls, new Memorial centres, new hockey rinks. The municipalities seemed to have the money and when many of the unessential projects were approved by vote, the tax rates were not unreasonable. The tax rates soon caught up with the whole program of expansion and new building. Towns are now very wary of new financial commitments, but there are still some who have money in a kitty and want to get it spent on memorial arenas and the like. An arena is not essential; it can wait. Communities which urge Ottawa to cut down on non-defence spending cannot justifiably commit themselves to new and unessential building programs.

• • •

If Ottawa is to be urged to make-do with old offices, slightly worn equipment and minimum staffs in order to reduce the demand on Canada's straining productive capacities, so must municipalities and the Provinces trim their spending and postpone unessential public work, if goods are to be available to consumers and the dollar is to keep any recognizable value. Unless governments at all levels do cut expenses at every possible turn, Canadians will soon be working half their time for the state, instead of merely a third.

$340 Million Deficit

It's like old times—the times of three years ago when Canada was in the abyss of a "dollar gap." During the first half of this year Canada had a $340,000,000 adverse balance in her trade. This was caused chiefly by the same two things which brought on the dollar crisis of three years ago and led to sharp restrictions in importing American goods: (1) Canada bought far more from the United States than the U.S. did from Canada. Actually, Canada purchased $1,471,000,000 worth of goods across the border and sold the Americans (in goods and services) $1,126,900 during the six months. Result: deficit. (2) Export trade to Britain fell off, and this trade, formerly a surplus counterbalance for the perennial deficits with the United States, no longer takes up the slack. The U.K. has not got the dollars to pay us back; or if she has, she wants to use them elsewhere.

Does this trade deficit mean that import restrictions must again be imposed? It could, if the deficit continues to mount at the some rate or even a rate considerably lower. But there are indications that it will not. American buying of military goods in Canada has hardly got under way, whereas Canada has already bought largely in the American market. There is some expectation, too, that British buying and investment in the Canadian market will increase. Further, Canada's economy is pretty robust now, sufficiently fat to withstand a considerable deficit in trade. Canadian foreign investments are mounting, as well as investment at home. Britain had trade deficits for half a century, her wealthiest half-century, and nobody was appalled.

The size of the deficit must be considered in relation to the size of the total trade during the six months: a $340 million deficit compared with a total trade of more than 3¾ billion dollars—$3,865,000,000. It was the largest six-month trading period in Canada's history. In the first half of this year the foreign trade of Canada was more than twice as large as the total foreign trade for the entire year 1939. That is a large increase, even making allowance for the depreciated dollar values.

Confucius Banned

An edict has gone out that books of Confucius may no longer be used in schools of Canton. Presumably the ban will spread to other parts of the New China. We doubt that this will materially ease the work of missionaries in Christianizing the Chinese. The Red leaders of China are not any better disposed to the Bible of Christians than they are to the bible of Confucius.

Confucius has of course a stronger hold on the minds and morals of the Chinese than Jesus. For one thing, Confucius was born some 550 years before the founder of Christianity, and has been around China for a couple of thousand years longer. The sayings of Confucius on every subject from government to gastronomy as set down by him or reported by his disciples are household words in almost every Chinese home. Tens of thousands of the people have great passages of his works by heart, as formerly Christian children could quote (the result of Sunday School prizes?) chapters of the Gospel. His sententious sayings, his wisdom, have largely moulded the Chinese character. It is unlikely that a teacher whose service record is 2,500 years old can be ousted by an edict of Canton. As early as two and a quarter centuries after the death of Confucius the Chow dynasty tried to purge China of Confucius; his books were burnt and scholars with them, but Confucius could not be extinguished.

Why is Communist China making the attempt today? The trouble may be that Confucius taught a class system and purified fedualism which are out of keeping with new China's principles. Further, some of the sage's wise sayings cut too close to criticism of the new ways; he had dangerous thoughts. Once as Confucius and his disciples were travelling they saw a woman weeping and wailing at a grave. The sage stopped and sent a follower to ask the reason of her grief. "My husband's father was killed here by a tiger, and my husband also, and now my son has met the same fate," she replied. She was then asked why she had not left the place made so dangerous by tigers. She replied that it had no oppressive government. "Remember this," Confucius said to his disciples, "remember this, my children, oppressive government is fiercer and more feared than a tiger."

Bad With The Good Soldiers

Three Canadian soldiers in Korea are being tried for murder by a Court Martial, and two senior Canadian officers have flown out to conduct it with a field officer already in Korea. The soldiers are charged with having murdered a Korean civilian last March.

Canadians in uniform are under special military law which includes all the ordinary laws applicable to civilians. Murder by soldiers, whether the victim is an enemy civilian or soldier, is still murder. A Korean has been killed in circumstances deemed foul enough to bring three Canadian soldiers to court to face murder charges.

Army life is not delicate and civil; it is often rough and bloody. But it is not bestial. Sometimes beasts or criminals do manage to sneak into His Majesty's uniform, disgrace it and mar their country's reputation. Such men have to be dealt with, and more severely by military law than by civil since their crime is an offence both against their flag and comrades, and against victims who are without the protection which police and civil laws usually provide, since in a battle area, the civil authority has ceased to exist.

The three Canadian soldiers are being tried for murder. Let us hope that they are not guilty of the crime with which they are charged. But if they are, let them have the full penalty of the law. From accounts we have read in the last several months, some U.N. officers and men in Korea have been acting grossly towards the native population. It should be remembered by them, as well as by people at home, that Koreans are human beings, thousands of them innocent helpless victims of a war which has left them destitute.

A pair of stockings contains about four miles of thread, we are told. And when worn, of course, a couple of extra feet.

Middle East Defences

By ALASTAIR BUCHAN

THE security of the Middle East is of intense concern to the non-Communist nations for three reasons. Across it run the direct sea, air and cable communications from Europe to India, South East Asia and Australia. It is the land bridge between Africa and Asia, and the only place from which Russia could penetrate into Africa without a seaborne landing. Finally, it is one of the three great oil-producing centres of the world.

But from Russia's standpoint the Middle East is not only an area of potential conquest; it is also the Achilles heel of her own defensive system. The Middle East countries and Afghanistan abut on the only part of Russia—apart from the Russo-Finnish border—which is not protected by a "shelter belt" of satellite countries. This is the area of Russia where, in the event of war, Allied air and naval activity could penetrate deepest into the Russian heartland and do the greatest damage at the smallest cost.

THE Middle East is therefore of considerable military significance. But the old framework of Middle East defence has crumbled.

The traditional method by which Britain effected the security of the Middle East was to deploy small air and naval forces throughout the Arab countries and ports, while the existence of the Indian Army and the British Army in India acted as a reserve of force to deter any Power which had aggressive ambitions.

NO such reserve of power can now be called upon directly, and while the Indian and the Pakistan Armies continue to glare at each other in Kashmir there can be no certainty that their forces would be available for the defence of the Middle East in the event of Russian aggression. Moreover, the British military bases in Egypt, the Canal Zone and Palestine are either no longer available or are held on terms so insecure as to make long-term military calculations very difficult.

Any attempt to increase the strength of the 35,000 British troops in the Middle East would worsen the already bad relations between Britain and the Arab countries, none of which is even remotely strong enough for effective self-defence. Nor is there much hope that the Arab countries would co-operate in a joint defence arrangement, as the West European countries have agreed to do under N.A.T.O. Their one point of agreement is distrust of Britain and the other Western Powers. Singly or jointly, the Arab countries do not at present provide the material from which to shape a new Middle Eastern defence system to replace the old imperial British one.

THERE is, however, one hopeful new factor in the Middle East: the re-emergence of Turkey as a strong and solid military Power. Turkey has between 300,000 and 400,000 men under arms, and an efficient system of reserves by which double the number could be mobilized in a few weeks. The Turkish Army has been equipped since the war with fairly modern American equipment, which could be modernized still further at short notice. Moreover, Turkey has shown herself more ready than any of the Arab countries to co-operate with the West; she has a keener sense of the Russian danger.

There is no doubt that with a strong and well-armed Turkey, backed by effective British and American support, a military attack in the Middle East becomes a less attractive proposition to the Russians. An attack on Turkey herself, across her forbiddingly mountainous Russian frontier, would need, in the opinion of reliable observers, 1,000,000 Russian soldiers; the only alternative would be a seaborne landing, a type of operation which the Russians detest. For years the German General Staff planned an attack on Turkey, but in the end found the geographical obstacles too formidable. To by-pass Turkey and attack the Middle East through Persia has the double disadvantage of very long lines of communication, and reliance on a railway system which is too small and tenuous to support a modern army of any size.

THIS is not to say that the problem of the Middle East defences has been overcome, but rather that it is not hopeless. Even if Turkey were much stronger than she is, there remains the strategic danger of vesting the defence of the Middle East in a country which would be in the front line, and subject to aerial attack, from the first day of hostilities. In that sense a strong Turkey is a poor exchange for a strong Britain-in-India, but it is the only exchange available at present. And it has one great advantage over the old system: it enables Britain and the West to build up a system of defences capable of deterring Russia without having to rely on complete co-operation from the Arab States.

✧ ✧ ✧

HENCE the American decision, in which Britain has now concurred, to link Turkey—and Greece—to the Atlantic Treaty system, rather than make them the nucleus of a separate Middle Eastern defence arrangement. This is in the first place a strategic decision, but it may have important political implications. With Turkey as the main bulwark of Middle Eastern defence, there is much to be said for locating the headquarters of any inter-Allied command outside the Arab States.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANOTHER question which will inevitably arise is how to associate non-N.A.T.O. Commonwealth members, traditionally interested in Middle Eastern defence—South Africa, Australia, perhaps Pakistan—with a defence system based on Turkey. But the most urgent task is to decide on the nature and extent of direct American participation in Middle Eastern defence. It is often assumed in Washington that the Middle East is not a proper sphere of American interests, and that the United States, by giving military aid to Britain, should enable Britain to take the lead in that area.

This problem arises acutely in any question of joint Anglo-Turkish measures for defence, since, thanks to Mr. Truman's emergency action in 1947, the Turkish forces are now American-trained and equipped. Whether training and organization are to be based primarily on British or on American methods, or (as in Europe) on a synthesis of both, is a question that should be settled without delay.

(Copyright to the Peterborough Examiner from the London Observer)

The Middle East forms today apart from Southeast Asia, the most dangerous gap in the defences of the non-Communist world. An analysis of the defence problems of this region by Alastair Buchan is given in our Third Column today. The proposed accession of Turkey and Greece to the North Atlantic Treaty, to which Britain agreed last month, marks the beginnings of a bold attempt to put the defence of the area on a new and realistic basis. It invests Turkey with a key role in Middle Eastern defence and will necessitate a large-scale reorientation of British and Commonwealth Middle Eastern policies.—(Bip Pares Map, Copyrighted)

Metered Courtesy

(SUDBURY STAR)

WHETHER municipalities introduce parking meters as a means of solving the parking problem or producing revenue is a question that has been debated at some length.

Ostensibly the meters are for the purpose of regulating parking on congested streets, but when the meters invade the residential areas adjacent to the business district then it may be a question of looking for more nickels.

The village of Middlefield, Ohio, makes no bones about wanting to make money from its parking meters, but the good burghers don't want to annoy anyone with fines for overtime parking.

When the police see a car beside a meter on which the time has expired, they drop in a nickel and leave a card signed by the chief constable, which says:

"The chief of police has dropped five cents in the meter rather than tag you. You want him to have his money back, so hand this card, with the amount he has paid to him, or leave it at any place of business and it will be returned to the chief. Thank you, and come again."

The Sudbury police might try a system like that in the interests of good public relations. It would certainly solve the problem of the doctors who complain of getting tags for overtime parking. And, of course, it would mean a constant patrol of the meters during the time they are in operation.

Raze Berchtesgaden And Eagle Nest

(NEW YORK HERALD-TRIBUNTE)

NEWS that the Bavarian Government has decided to destroy Adolf Hitler's mountain hideaway at Berchtesgaden will be welcomed by all who wish to see the physical as well as the spiritual vestiges of Nazism removed from the earth. In Hitler's days there really were three Berchtesgadens, one of which, the town itself, long antedated the Nazis. The Berchtesgaden Hitler built was a fortified estate, perched on a mountainous plateau called Obersalzberg, 3,300 feet high. Here the Fuehrer constructed a private home, guarded by a chain of guard posts, pillboxes and dugouts, all connected by a five-mile tunnel. Finally, at the very summit of the 7,000-foot Kehlstein stood the famous teahouse, or Eagles' Nest, accessible only by a twisting road cut into the solid rock and, finally, the mountain-top elevator.

The Eagle's Nest got most of the publicity, but it was at Obersalzberg that the Nazi bigwigs used to gather and dream of the thousand-year Reich as they brooded upon the cloud-shrouded mountains of Bavaria. Here, too, foreign diplomats were carried on high to be told what was expected of them. In the last days of the war, Obersalzberg, which might have served as a final hide-out for the Nazis, was thoroughly bombed by Allied planes. The Eagle's Nest, which was a monument to megalomania and nothing more, was left untouched. Both places eventually became Army tourist centres and were well decorated with the names of visiting G.I.'s. The news dispatches do not make it clear whether only Obersalzberg, or the Eagle's Nest as well, is to be razed. One hopes it is both, though even as Obersalzberg stands today it is a fitting enough memorial for the man who built it—a roofless ruin with hardly enough wall left for a tourist to scrawl his signature.

Fashion Show Held in Prison

(UK Information Office)

The first fashion show ever staged for British women short term prisoners was held at Holloway jail a short time ago. More than 200 prisoners in thick cotton smocks gasped in admiration as mannequins displayed a collection of 21 luxurious suits, cocktail dresses and evening gowns. Eager hands reached out to touch new materials as the lovely models swished by.

The man who organized the show was one of London's "Big Ten" designers, Victor Stiebel. He said the garments the women convicts saw were part of a new winter collection which would not come off the "secret list" until the 23rd of August.

After the hour-long show, Stiebel gave the prisoners fashion tips and he was so deeply impressed by their attention and interest in the clothes that he named one scarlet evening gown in his collection "Holloway."

Tourists In Tronna

(Brantford Expositor)

According to Ontario Travel Minister Cecile, Toronto's inhospitable attitude toward U.S. tourists has probably been one of the reasons that city is getting less tourist business than formerly. Its police department, which announced a few months ago that it would follow a "get tough" policy with tourists, its hotel prices, its crowded downtown streets and the Toronto Transportation Commission's unwillingness to part with exchange on American dollars could scarcely be expected to make tourists feel welcome. Apparently the Hogtown appellation still applies to dear old Tronna.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

The Lord hath given me the tongue of the learned, that I should know how to speak a word in season to him that is weary: he wakeneth morning by morning, he wakeneth mine ear to hear as the learned . . .

Who is among you that feareth the Lord, that obeyeth the voice of his servant, that walketh in darkness, and hath no light? let him trust in the name of the Lord, and stay upon his God. (Isa. 50: 4, 10.)

✧ ✧ ✧

The preparations of the heart in man, and the answer of the tongue, is from the Lord . . . Commit thy works unto the Lord, and thy thoughts shall be established . . . . A man's heart deviseth his way: but the Lord directeth his steps. (Prov. 16: 1, 3, 9.)

The hearing ear, and the seeing eye, the Lord hath made even both of them. (Prov. 20: 12.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Doth a fountain send forth at the same place sweet water and bitter? Can the fig tree, my brethren, bear olive berries? either a vine, figs? so can no fountain both yield salt water and fresh.

Who is a wise man and endued with knowledge among you? let him shew out of a good conversation his works with meekness of wisdom. (James 3: 11-13.)

BBC Television

The BBC Television Service which at its inception in 1936 was the first regular television service in the world, this week examines itself in a feature programme 'British Television.' This broadcast in the General Overseas Service is timed to coincide with the National Radio and Television Exhibition at Earl's Court, London, from August 28 to September 8. 'British Television,' written by a former BBC television producer, John Glyn Jones, describes this form of entertainment to people in other lands who perhaps may not have seen it, and tells them of the effect it is having in the British home.

Television aerials are sprouting now in many parts of England and Wales, and in addition to the 897,000 licence-holders there are probably some millions of other viewers. From the early experiments of John Logie Baird and others, television has developed a programme service of approximately forty-five hours a week and of a range and variety comparable with those of sound broadcasting. It has its children's programmes, its newsreels with three editions a week, documentaries, drama and ballet. Viewers in the last few months have seen the Festival of Britain, the Trooping the Colour, Wimbledon, Test cricket, the opera at Glyndebourne.

The transmitter at Sutton Coldfield now serves the Midland area of England, and stations are being built to serve the North and West of England and South Wales, and most of Scotland. When they are completed it is expected that seventy-eight per cent. of the British Isles will be able to see BBC Television.

Jonah In The Whale

(Ottawa Journal)

What were Jonah's thoughts while he was in the belly of the whale? In the reign of Charles I, Zarchary Boyd, minister of Barony Church, Glasgow, made a verse translation of the Bible. Here is part of his rendering of Jonah's soliloquy:

"What house is this: here's neither coal nor candle
Where I nothing but guts of fishes handle;
I and my table are both here within,
Where day ne'er dawned, where sun did never shine;
The like of this on earth man never saw,
A living man within a monster's maw,
Buried under mountains which are high and steep,
Plunged under waters hundreds fathoms deep!
Not so was Noah in his house of tree,
For through a window he the light did see . . ."

The entire verse translation was bequeathed by Boyd to the University of Glasgow Library, along with his library and a large sum of money.

RED PARADE WATERED DOWN—Streams of water play across Berlin's east-west border from the United States sector to force back Communist youths after an attempted propaganda invasion of the American zone. The youths, taking part in the Russian-sponsored World Youth Festival, later fought with West Berlin police in an attempted motorcade invasion. The skirmish followed a Red Square ceremony during which a half million young Communists, fists aloft, swore allegiance to Stalin.

More People Wearing Wigs

TORONTO (CP). — Customers of Anton Wurm can let their hair down more than most people. But most of them don't, particularly women. He makes wigs.

"Nature tells you you should have hair on your head. When you lose your teeth you get false ones, eh? Why not hair? It helps morale and you do not catch cold,"—nor dandruff, he says.

Mr. Wurm has been making wigs for 60 of his 76 years. He has made them for men, women and even children and says that wig-wearing is more common today than ever before.

More people are becoming bald through worrying too much and eating the wrong food, he claims.

Wearing a hat, he is convinced, has nothing to do with it. "It is in your stock," he explains.

In his third-floor room he sits with his assistants amidst a clutter of human hair and wooden-block heads. The hair comes mainly from convents and women's jails of Europe. Each hair which goes into a wig is knotted individually into a fine silk netting which is stretched over a wooden block.

Proud of his product, Mr. Wurm has worn a wig for 30 years.

Income Tax Dept. Fires 18 On Staff

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 23 (CP)—The wife of an income tax department employee said Tuesday that 18 local employees had been discharged without notice during the last week. Some of them had more than nine years service, she said.

The woman, who refused to be identified, said her husband had returned from holidays Aug. 18 to find a registered letter stating that he was discharged effective Aug. 15.

Budenz Says IPR Under Red Control

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23—(AP) Louis Budenz said Wednesday the Institute of Pacific Relations was "completely under control of the Communist party" when he was a party member several years ago.

He said the Communists spoke of the IPR as "the little red school house."

Budenz, a former editor of the "Daily Worker," Communist publication, broke publicly with the party in 1945 and now is on the faculty of Fordham University.

The one-time Communist leader testified before the Senate internal security sub-committee, inquiring whether there have been subversive influences on US Far Eastern policy.

The IPR is a private organization, formed in the 1920s, with the declared aim of promoting knowledge of the Pacific area.

37 Countries Accept Treaty Invitations

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23 (AP)—State Secretary Dean Acheson said 37 countries have formally accepted invitations to the Japanese peace treaty conference at San Francisco next month. Eight other countries have advised informally they will send delegates.

Acheson told a press conference that after consulting with other interested governments, the United States also now has invited the three French-sponsored states of Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia, in Indo China to attend.

This raises to 55 the number of countries invited to sign the treaty.

Fergus Upsets the Petes To Even Lacrosse Playoff

Playing desperation lacrosse on their home floor last night, the Fergus Thistles upset the dope back to beat the strong Petes 7-5 before a large and noisy crowd. The win evened up the best-of-five senior playoff series between these clubs, third game being here Friday, fourth in Fergus in Saturday and fifth, if necessary, back here on Monday.

Goalie Ralph Speck was practically unbeatable in the Fergus cage and he had a fighting bunch of fools in front of him, battling bitterly every minute of the melee to stay in the hunt for Eastern Canada honors and a crack at the Dominion crown. On top of that, the Petes were off in their shooting, and they had several bad breaks. They criticized the refereeing of Bill Fitzgerald and George Claverly of St. Catharines plenty in every quarter. Eight of the 12 penalties given out went to Peterborough.

Two Apiece

Veteran Hec Mackenzie and speedy Don Campbell led the winners with two goals each, one going to Jay Hill. Johnny Lumley and rugged Harry Kazarian, the latter also aiding on a pair. An assist apiece went to Elmer Harris and Frank Chambers. Leading the Petes' Timbermen were Bobby Thorpe and Russ Slater with two goals, Don Ashbee counting one, and an assist each going to Nit O'Hearn, Ike Hildebrand and Curly Mason. Probably the pick of the Petes were Slater, Thorpe, Wipper (though his shooting was off) and Fitzgerald. Moon Wootton made a flock of hard saves in the hard, even scrap.

Penalties hurt the Petes' chances plenty in the first quarter as they were handed four rather cheap ones. Vitarelli was off for tripping and Ashbee also in the sin bin for slashing when Mackenzie got an odd goal. It was topped by Wootton, who sat on it. O'Hearn came over to pick it up, expecting a play stoppage, but the ball rolled into the net and the referee allowed it. Mason drew a couple of minor tripping penalties but there was no further scoring, both goalies clicking well.

Hot And Even

It was hot and even in the second. Thorpe scored early on a screened shot but Campbell got in close to even that shortly. Then Campbell was given another goal which never went in the net. Wootton kicked violently on this one, aided by his mates, and the goal judge was removed but the count stood at 3-1 for a time. Despite close checking, Slater got loose to pass around defence and whittle the count down before the finish.

Thorpe was over for tripping in the third when Hill scored on neat combination with Harris and Kazarian. Later, Thorpe tallied a nice one around defence, picking a net corner. Kazarian tore in seconds later to blast one which Moon partly stopped but not entirely. Mackenzie drew the first Fergus penalty then for wrestling a player down. Smith and Wipper nearly tangled near the close of the period as the score stood 5-3 for the Thistles.

Hit On Neck

Speck was hit on the throat early in the fourth and took a short rest. Fitzgerald and Harris were gated for roughing as close-checking in the even fray made tempers short. Fergus began stalling to hold their lead, forcing several faceoffs. Lumley finally broke loose from a Petes' attack to roar around defence and sink it to make the score 6-3. Slater got that one back from O'Hearn on a neat play all around with Speck having no chance. Hildebrand and Mackenzie got the nod next for roughing, and Mason was robbed on a thrust. Mackenzie returned to score from Kazarian and Chambers, then Ashbee rattled in the final marker on passes from Hildebrand and Mason. Just before the gong, McWhirter and Wipper were waved over for roughing. Teams:

Petes: Goal, Wootton; defence, Fitzgerald and O'Hearn; centre, Thorpe; wings, Ashbee and Vitarelli; rover, Creighton; alternates, Wipper, Magee, Mason, Slater, Powless, Hildebrand and Crowe.

Fergus: Goal, Speck; defence, McWhirter and Harris; centre, Kazarian; wings, Hill and Campbell; rover, Halls; alternates, Black, Smith, Gear, Lumley, Chambers, Foote and Mackenzie.

Tigers Capture Peewee Title

Tigers took the city peewee lacrosse championship Wednesday with a convincing 16-7 win over the Petes. The Tigers captured first place in the round-robin series, conducted by Harry Wipper, minor coach, while the Petes placed second and the Athletics third.

In Wednesday's game the Petes took an early lead in the first quarter 3-2 but fell behind in the second quarter when the Tigers outscored them 5-2. The Tigers kept up the pace in the third to make the score 12-7, finishing the game with four markers in the fourth quarter.

Anthony led the scoring with six goals for the Tigers, backed by hattricks by DeNoble and Patterson, a pair by Falkner, singles by Robinson and Danohy. Hamilton topped the losers with three, Casey and Davis each scoring two.

Tail-End Dodgers Knock Off Merchants

LINDSAY, Aug. 23.—Sparked by two Negro stars, the last place Colborne Dodgers knocked off the first place Lindsay Merchants 5-4 in a Lakeshore Intermediate League game here Wednesday night.

Husky Le Miles hurled six-hit ball for the Dodgers and Carl Higginbottom came on in the sixth to stop a Lindsay rally, walking one and fanning four in a row. Higginbottom also led Colborne at the plate, booming out a triple with two on in the first and smashing a single for another run in the third.

Higginbottom's second blow sent Lew McTaggart out of the box and Doug Loucks took over and set the remaining 14 batters down in order, striking out seven. Three of the hits off Miles went for doubles to Hank Debois, Lew McTaggart and Vic Jewell.

Mimico Shades Excelsiors 15-14, St. Kitts Wins

By The Canadian Press.

Mimico Mountaineers made it two straight when they won the second game 15-4 in their semi-final lacrosse series with Brampton Excelsiors. Monday night they won an 11-8, less decisive victory.

A fast paced rally that netted eight consecutive goals gave St. Catharines Athletics a 12-6 win and a one-game lead over Hamilton Tigers in the second game of their play-off test. Monday night they see-sawed to an 11-11 deadlock after two overtime periods.

Polished Game

Mimico, playing in Brampton, had their fast-passing game oiled and polished as they flowed over the Brampton crew. Don McPhail, Ken Dixon and Denny Peterson showed the way with three goals each. Ted Downer got two, while singles went to Wilf Chard, Archie Dixon, Chuck Simpson and Ken Lytle.

Bob Sutherland headed Brampton with two goals and one each came off the sticks of Al Garbutt and Ralph Gowland.

The St. Catharines Athletics, in a home game, bounced back from a 4-6 deficit in the third quarter to notch eight markers while Hamilton was held scoreless. Ken Croft led the point-making with four goals. Hamilton's Barney Welch and George Masters earned two each.

Fergus will play in Peterborough Friday night while Mimico meets Brampton at Mimico in their third and, possibly, deciding game.

Marylebone Has First Defeat

VANCOUVER, Aug. 23 (CP).—England's touring Marylebone cricket team Wednesday suffered the first defeat of its Canadian tour as against 10 wins and one draw in its previous matches.

A strong mainland league side beat MCC by a score of 110 runs to 82 before 1,200 spectators at Brockton Point grounds. It reminded them of the day in 1932 when another local XI beat the Australians by 147 runs to 129, an Aussie team that included the famous Don Bradman.

The Governor-General, Viscount Alexander, attended Wednesday's game during the afternoon and stayed until the finish.

Tired after their long train trip from Jasper, Alta., the MCC players did not reach Vancouver until 11 a.m. Wednesday and were out on the field at 1:45 p.m.

They won the toss and went in to bat first, but lost the wickets of M. M. Walford and W. G. Keighley with only 20 runs on the board. Skipper R. W. V. Robins put a different complexion on matters when he made 45 runs, which included three hits over the leg boundary for six each.

Decide No More Lace Decorate Tennis Court

NEW YORK, Aug. 23—(AP)—No more Folies Bergere on the tennis courts. Patrons attending the national championships starting Saturday at Forest Hills will have to take their tennis straight.

That was the edict handed down today by the sedate fathers of the ancient sport who are horrified by the growing trend toward lace panties, low necklines and other fashions that accent feminine charms.

"A few innocent kids have been falling for daring tennis costumes designed purely for commercial reasons," said Russell B. Kingman, president of the US Lawn Tennis Association.

"It's time this was stopped. What we want, and now insist upon, is more good tateste, with emphasis on competition instead of questionable fashion displays."

Quakers Take Title

Quakers defeated McGinness in fastball last night by a 3-1 score. They were outhit by seven to five but McGinness had four miscues to one for Quakers. The scoring started with Jensen's homer in the sixth, McGinness tying it next heat as Killingbeck scored on Caccavella's triple. Quakers won then when Shine and Hillier tallied on Land's double in the ninth. Lomas fanned three and Sabourin four. Teams:

McGinness: Metcalfe c, Fowler lf, Killingback 2b, Gordinier 1b, Caccavella ss, Corrigan 3b, Sabourin p, Broadhurst rf, Hill cf.

Quakers: Jensen c, Isaac 1b, Prescott ss, Shine 2b, Hillier cf, Land 3b, Lomax p, McClellan lf, Nolan rf.

Umpires: Quemby and Stevenson.

PAYDIRT DRIVE — Bob Shaw, highly touted Calgary Stampeder outside wing by way of Chicago Cardinals, adds further proof to his reputation as he eludes tackler Ed Hughes of Toronto Argonauts and heads for a touchdown. Shaw was tossed the pass by Keith Spaith. The combination clicked three times for major scores but Argos came out on top with 36-35 score in the exhibition game at Calgary.

Buck Legrow advises us that the Revoy's softball team entered in the CNE tournament on Aug. 30 is an all-star local squad. It includes these players Bob Crowe, George Hawkes, Tony Giardino, George (Red) Sullivan Russ Scriver, Reg Gordon, Howie Dalton, Blair Thomson, Phil Pryde, Haddy Eakins, Jack Mackness, Ken Guilfoyle, Bob Wyatt and Harold Legrow. Each team may dress 15 players for each game. It's a knockout tourney, one loss and you've had the course. These players are asked to contact Buck before this weekend for further info on the trip. Phone either 7412 or 5440. The first game is against Toronto Prince of Wales at 6.30 p.m. one week from tonight in Toronto, next one being Sept. 5.

A couple of local hockeyists have been invited to try-out with Philadelphia Ramblers of the USHL when they gather with the Cleveland Barons in September. They are Dave Casey and Bill Edgar, Dave being a former junior "B" player here and Bill Edgar having subbed in goal for the senior "B" Petes. Both moved to Port Hope for hockey under Red Creighton last winter, along with a few others. Bill would have been regular goalie for the Petes, except that they had Ray Harding available. Red's plans for the coming winter are uncertain, but the eldest one of the Creightons is doing some puck scouting on the side.

Juniors Need This One

A highly important OLA junior joust is an tap at Miller Bowl this Saturday evening at 8.45 of the clock. It's between Mimico and Lou Vitarelli's local huskies, with first place in the junior "A" race at stake. Mimico beat the Falls the other p.m. and are proving a serious threat for the leadership, though the Young Petes still cling to top spot. Since the two leading teams clash in a best-of-five series for the "A" title and the right to go after the Minto Cup and Canadian crown, getting that first home game means plenty. So, both clubs will be giving it all they have when they tangle here this weekend. The boys rate plenty of fan support from here on in.

As a matter of fact, lacrosse playoff fever is starting to sweep this borough with both our gutted-stick squads setting their sights for Dominion titles. Fergus Thistles tackle the senior "A" Petes in Miller Bowl tomorrow night in their next playoff clash, the series also being a best-of-five affair. Winner gets a bye into the Eastern Canada finals. St. Kitts and Hamilton have to declare a winner to meet the survivor of the Mimico-Brampton series in the other semi-final bracket. The pot of gold, of course, at the end of the rainbow is the trip west for the Eastern Canada victor to meet the British Columbia champs for the coveted Mann Cup, emblematic of Canadian supremacy in senior lacrosse. The Friday fray here should pack 'em in.

Five Goals Not Enough

That 7-5 setback the Timbermen met at Fergus last eve showed Don Crowe's crowd that the chips are really down, and that the Thistles can be thorny in a money series. While Ralph Speck sparkled in the home net and his buddies fought fiercely—and the officiating wasn't good—the Petes can't really expect to win games by scoring only five goals. Their shooting was off in this number. Should have had half a dozen sure markers, plus the five they did get. However, close doesn't count, and 'twas an important victory for the Fergus fighters. Wootton, Fiztgerald, Thorpe, Slater and Wipper went best over the route for Peterborough, while Mackenzie, Campbell and Kazarian were most effective on the attack for Thistles. So, it's here Friday and there again on Saturday.

Looking o'er the girls' and men's softball setups. Lasses go tonight in two tilts, Westclox vs. Woollens, and the second playoff of a best-of-five intermediate final betwixt Marines and Ashby's. The Clockers go into PWSU quarter-finals 'gainst Oshawa or Toronto Aug. 29. Bill Flint advises. At the Bowl last night, Terry Woods again came up with fine flinging as the surprising Orphans hammered the ball hard for a 20-3 win over UEW. O'Donoghue hit a four-run homer and Currie also clouted for the circuit. UEW were bad in the field. Orphans now lead the city finals three to two, and it resumes next Tuesday night. In OASA intermediate "A" playdowns, UEW go to Oshawa tonight and are back here Saturday at eight p.m.

Woods Pitches Orphans To A 20-3 Win

Terry Woods Orphan's one-man play-off pitching staff in men's senior city softball finals, twirled his sixth win in 10 games' toil since August 10 (nine complete) to bring his team within one game of the city championship. Orphans now have three of seven and UEW two wins.

The tall, lean meal-ticket seemed better than ever in Wednesday night's triumph as he limited the tough UE sluggers to six bingles, fanned five and was never in serious difficulty. It was another grand display by a courageous gamester. The teams conclude their crucial set Tuesday night next week, when a twin bill will settle the issue. Meanwhile, UE will commence intermediate "A" playoffs against Oshawa there tonight, and here Saturday night, in the interim.

Started Early

Orphans took kindly to the offerings of Ken Hall last night to register four in the first frame on a walk to McGrath, Currie's fielder's choice, Sullivan's single, Lewis' homer Scriver's hit and Withers' out. UE came back for one in the bottom half as Dalton banged out a hit and scored as Woods walked White, Robson, and Grafstein in a temporary wild streak. The Dormer crew continued their heavy stickwork each inning however to pile up a comfortable lead by the fifth of 9-3, though the Dalton boys scored a pair that inning as Howie doubled, scored on White's single and the latter came in on Robson's fumbled poke.

Sullivan, Currie, Jaquith, O'Donoghue and Withers fielded good. Currie and Sullivan each handled eight chances faultlessly for four putouts and a like number of assists, in a sparkling keystone display.

Mark O'Donoghue socked a grand-slam homer in the seventh, to drive in four and lead his mates in the RBI column while Currie also hit for the circuit in the eighth with none aboard. Casey tripled for UE while Dalton had a double for the only extra base blows by the home team. Bill Lewis drove in three runs, Sullivan and Currie a pair for Orfs, while Grafstein, Jaquith, McGrath White and Robson all accounted for one. Wee-wee Withers played well at first for Orphans while Howie Dalton again proved a bright star on a shaky UE infield. It was an off night for the shop lads with Orphans hot both ways.

UEW: Casey 2b, Thompson 3b, Dalton ss, White lf, Robson cf, Grafstein 1b, Hall p, Walton c, Hinton rf.

Umpires: Borland and Smith.

Heavy Fairways Greet Amateurs At Ottawa Club

OTTAWA, Aug. 23 (CP).—The course is hilly and rolling but entrants in the Canadian Amateur Golf Championships at the Royal Ottawa Golf Club, from Aug. 25 to Sept. 1, had better not count too much on a rolling ball.

The 6,235-yard layout plays long. A ball travels in the air a lot farther than it will roll on the fairways.

One of the outstanding courses in Eastern Canada, the Royal Ottawa, is on the Aylmer Road in Quebec, just across the Ottawa River from Canada's Capital. This will be the seventh time the club has played ho t to the Canadian Amateur, but the first time in the last 25 years.

If any golfer slices many strokes off the par 71, he will surprise Ernie Wakelam, Royal Ottawa professional, who say the best single round in tournament play has been a two-under-par 69. Slightly lower rounds have been made in ordinary play.

It isn't surprising then that Royal Canadian Golf Association officials don't plan any special toughening of the course for the contests—the eight-team Inter-provincial Willingdon Trophy contest, the Canadian Junior Championship and the Canadian Amateur Championship.

Varsity Coach Expects Top Notch Team

TORONTO, Aug. 23 (CP). — Bob Masterson, Toronto Varsity football coach, is feeling good.

He's been looking over the list of players who will start training Sept. 1 at the Ontario Athletic Commission's camp at Lake Couchiching and he's calling for the best senior Blue squad to hit the Intercollegiate League in "some years."

They play their first exhibition against Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph, Sept. 22.

With returning Varsity lettermen, the best of last year's intermediates, the top interfaculty players and high school prospects, Masterson pictures the outlook as much better than last year at the same time.

For centre spot the Blues will have Al Dancy and Gerry Sutherland from last year, and Ray Yakasovich from the intermediates. Dancy, injured in the second game of '50, was sidelined for the rest of that season.

Jack Roberts, another casualty last year, heads the insides with Marsh Hames, Bruce Miles, Don Longmore and Walt Sitarski, Roy McMurtry up from intermediate and Harry Hyde, a middle last season.

All-star Johnny Evans is back at middle with Joe Harris, Dunc Ellis, Bob Dougan and Eric Jones, with McMaster in 1949 and ineligible last year, Charlie Shellhorn, North Hogarth, and Bruce Johnson.

Syracuse Will Train In Lindsay Rink

LINDSAY, Aug. 23.—"Red" William Mitchell, director of recreation, and Ald. V. Cote, chairman of the Kiwanis Arena, announced that Eddie Shore will bring his Syracuse club and a large number of amateurs to Lindsay for a four weeks' training grind.

Over 125 players from various parts of Canada and the United States will be billeted at the local hotels. Shore was well impressed with Lindsay, folowing his experience with the Kin juniors of Lindsay last season.

Indians Edge Nats 6-5 As Yankees Drop 7-6 Game To Detroit

By RALPH RODEN, Associated Press Sports Writer

Cleveland's stretch drive for the American League pennant enters another critical stage today as the Indians clash with the runner-up New York Yankees. The Indians, out in front by two games, have three of their aces ready for the Yankees. Manager Al Lopez will shoot Bob Lemon (14-9), Early Wynn (14-11) and Mike Garcia (17-8) against the defending champions. Bob Feller (20-5), of course, is in reserve. The Yankee pitching plans are not as formidable. Vic Raschi (17-7) will face Lemon today. Jack Kramer (1-3) is scheduled for Friday night's game and Ed Lopat (15-7) is scheduled to work in the series finale Saturday.

Allie Reynolds (12-7) originally was scheduled to go Friday night, but the righthander worked four innings Wednesday as the Yanks dropped a 7-6, 12-inning decision to the Tigers. Kramer started the game and lasted less than two innings.

Indians Gamble

The Indians rested their big four Wednesday and gambled with rookie Bob Chakales against Washington. Chakales didn't last but the Indians pulled out a 6-5 14-inning victory.

Bob Avila homered with two out in the 14th off Sandy Consuegra to give the Indians the edge over Washington. Dale Mitchell sent the game into overtime for the Indians with a three-run homer in the eighth.

The victory was the Indians' 18th in their last 22 starts and their 15th straight at home. Steve Gromek pitched the last seven innings and allowed only three hits to pick up his sixth triumph.

Johnny Groth singled home George Kell from third with the Tigers' winning run against the Yankees. The Yanks jumped off to a 4-0 lead in the first inning and led 6-3 into the eighth when Pat Mullin blasted a three-run homer to send the game into overtime. Virgil Trucks permitted only two hits and fanned five in the last four innings to gain credit for the victory.

In other American League games, Philadelphia Athletics swept a twi-night doubleheader from the Chicago White Sox, 5-2 and 8-1, and Boston Red Sox beat St Louis Browns 3-1 in 13 innings.

Stops White Sox

Bob Hooper stopped the White Sox on eight hits in the opener and Sam Zoldak limited Chicago to six hits in the second game. Gus Zernial homered in each game for the A's to boost his output to 27, tops in the American League.

The Red Sox won out in the 13th when Brownie Tommy Byrne granted a single and four walks. Byrne walked 16 during the game. Leo Kiely was the winner.

In the National League, Brooklyn Dodgers captured a day-night doubleheader from the St. Louis Cardinals, 4-3 and 8-7. The runner-up New York Giants ran their winning streak to 11 games by defeating the Cincinnati Reds 4-3. Philadelphia Phils downed Chicago Cubs 4-0, and Boston Braves edged Pittsburgh Pirates 4-3 in 10 innings.

10-Inning Affairs

Both Dodger victories were 10-inning affairs. Gil Hodges singled home the winning run in the first game and Jackie Robinson drove in the payoff counter in the night contest with his fifth hit. Clyde King won both games in relief to boost his record to 14-5. The Dodgers have now won 14 straight from the Cards.

Whitey Lockman doubled home Al Dark in the eighth inning to break a 3-3 tie and give the Giants the nod over the Reds. Sheldon Jones was the winner in relief.

Robin Roberts blanked the Cubs on five hits for the Phils. The triumph was Roberts' 17th and his sixth shutout. Sibby Sisti scored the Braves' winning run against the Pirates from third base on a wild pitch.

Say Alouettes Shaping Up As Fast Team

By W. R. WHEATLEY

MONTREAL, Aug 23 (CP). — Montreal Alouettes with proved Canadian talent and a flock of imports, are shaping up as a faster, snappier team than that which bowed out before reaching the Big Four football playoffs last year.

That's the opinion of Coach Lew Hayman, who ventures that far out on the pre-season limb and then stays put without another word.

Some of the more loquacious football-minded are already tagging Alouettes the team to beat in the East. Their predictions may well depend upon import George Ratterman in the quarterback slot vacated by Frankie Filchock who joined Edmonton Eskimos after two big Alouette seasons.

Ratterman may turn out to be Hayman's prize. At 185 pounds and six-feet-one, he came to Montreal after three seasons with Buffalo and one with New York Yankees. Before that he was an All-American star with Notre Dame University.

The Yankees wanted him back so badly they went into court. The case won't come up again until late in September. By that time Ratterman expects to be proving his worth to Alouette and caring less about any legal decision as to his status in American football.

Has 10 Americans

In the big squad practising these days, Hayman has 10 Americans, two now qualify as non-imports because of long association with Alouettes. They are Virgil Wagner, shifty backfielder, and Herb Trawick, 250-pound Negro middle wing and 1951 team captain.

From end to end, Alouettes' line this season will average about 210 pounds, the fast backfield will average about 187. The heaviest beef is packed into the middle-wing positions, where Trawick leads with his 250 pounds.

Canadians predominate for the outside wing jobs, where Yonaker is the only newcomer. There Alouettes have such well-known performers as Ralph Toohy, Keith English, Glenn Douglas and Johnny Taylor.

Bruce Coulter, a top-notch Canadian quarterback will handle the team when Ratterman is not playing.

There is plenty of good Canadian talent in the backfield—halfline Westerners Pete Thodos and Rod Pantages; Tommy Manastersky, versatile hockey - football man, and Bobby Cunningham.

GREENTREE STABLE'S favored Hall of Fame (left, 8) with jockey Ted Atkinson astride, streaks across the finish line to capture the $80,725 American Derby at Washington Park Saturday. Abbe Sting (right, 3), was second and Bernwood (2nd from right), third. Hall of Fame did the mile and a quarter in 2:01 1/5 and paid $4.80.

Royals Sweep Doubleheader

By The Associated Press

Dan Bankhead, Negro right-hander, finally has shown the form that made him an International League standout in 1949

Bankhead, back with the Montreal Royals after a winning season with Brooklyn in 1950, gained his first victory against four defeats Wednesday night as the Royals swept a twin bill from Springfield Cubs, 8-5 and 14-6.

The 30-year-old veteran allowed only one hit in four innings of relief pitching as the Royals came from behind to win the first game. The Royals snapped a 5-5 tie with three runs in the eighth on three hits, two errors and a walk.

Montreal pounded out 19 hits to win the second game in a breeze. Ross Grimsley coasted to his fourth victory of an unbeaten season. Grimsley helped his own cause, driving in three runs on as many hits.

On Batting Rampage

Syracuse Chiefs also went on a batting rampage as they smeared Ottawa Giants 18-1. The Chiefs belted 16 hits as Loren Babe led the parade with a double, homer and three singles. Babe also scored five runs. Carden Gillenwater drove home five on a homer and single.

Bob Habenicht pitched Rochester's runner-up Red Wings to a 3-2 victory over Baltimore Orioles. Habenicht allowed six hits, including Marv Richert's 30th home run.

Toronto Maple Leafs defeated Buffalo Bisons 5-1 behind the seven-hit pitching of Johnny Hetki. Johnny Ostrowski and Charlie Grant led the Toronto attack with home runs.

One-Armed Pitcher Also Heavy Hitter

COTTAM, Ont. (CP.—The pride of this Southwestern Ontario town is Ronald Hicks, 22-year-old, one-armed softball pitcher.

Ronald lost his right arm when he was 14 while sawing wood on his father's farm. But the loss of his right flipper didn't get him down.

He was captain of his team in a high school softball league and won a service club trophy two years ago. He's never batted less than .300.

Ronald has tried his one arm at baseball but has never been successful at it. It's the glove. Playing baseball he would have to pick up the ball with his gloved hand, slip off the glove and then make his throw. He doesn't need a glove playing softball.

Life isn't just a game, however, to Ronald. He's a cabinet maker, a trade he developed after he left high school.

There's only one thing he can't do and that's countersinking a nail. "I have more work than I can do and I have hired a man," Ronald explains. "He countersinks nails."

Yesterday's Stars

By The Associated Press.

Batting: Bob Avila, Indians — Homered with two out in 14th inning to give Cleveland 6-5 victory over Washington.

Pitching: Clyde King, Dodgers —Gained his 13th and 14th victories in relief roles as Brooklyn won a day-night doubleheader from St. Louis, 4-3 and 8-7, each game going 10 innings.

Here And There In Sports

By The Canadian Press

Scene of the Ontario Racing Commission probe into alleged "fixing" of races on Ontario tracks will shift to Niagara Falls, Ont., it was decided Wednesday. The Commission met Wednesday in Toronto and adjourned to next Tuesday at Stamford Park, near Niagara Falls where a race meeting now is in progress.

The Commission will sit Tuesday and Wednesday at Stamford Park and return to Toronto where the probe will continue next Thursday, it was announced.

Wednesday a Toronto police officer, Sgt. of Detectives Edwin Tong conferred briefly with the commission. There was no announcement following his talk with the probers, as to why he was called in.

Dr. E. W. Hagyard, 88, a native of Brampton, and widely-known in the thoroughbred racing world as a veterinarian, died at his home in Lexington, Ky., Wednesday. He established his professional practice here in 1890.

All rumors to the contrary, Eddie Sawyer will manage Philadelphia Phillies next season, it was disclosed Wednesday by an authoritative source who declined use of his name.

Rumors have persisted for several weeks that Sawyer might be moved up to general manager and that the Phils would seek someone to replace him as field pilot.

First club member to score a hole-in-one at the St. Marys course, Kitchener, is Perce H. Foster who Tuesday sank his drive off the sixth tee. Only other person to get an ace on this course was Harry Odbert of Stratford, several years ago.

Tony Hulman, Jr., of Terre Haute, Ind., will captain the United States team in the eighth international tuna tournament at Wedgeport, NS, Sept. 12-15, it was announced Wednesday.

Hulman was on the winning United States team in 1948 and 1949 and was also a member last year when the Cubans won the title.

The national United States men's doubles finals, three times postponed because of water-logged courts at Brookline, Mass., will be played at Forest Hills on Sunday afternoon.

The United States Lawn Tennis Association made the announcement Wednesday.

Two Australian teams will vie for the doubles crown.

Mathews In Finals Down Huff Motors 7-3

COBOURG, Aug. 23.—Mathews, first placers in the Cobourg and district softball loop moved into the final round of the playoffs here when they whipped Huff Motors 7-3, in the second game of the best-in-three semi-finals.

The loop winners, Port Hope's best softball squad, had taken the first one 7-1. Lance Mills bested Jimmie Hoy, with a big fourth inning providing the edge when Mathews bunched four hits for four runs.

Five Canadians Three Americans In Tennis Fight

WINDSOR, Aug. 23 —(CP)— Five Canadians and three Americans battle today in the quarter-final round of the 60th annual Canadian lawn tennis championships.

Brendan Macken of Montreal and Lawrence Barclay of Vancouver will meet at noon, EDT, and Lorne Main of Vancouver will clash with Richard Dixon, Ann Arbor, Mich. Henry Rochon of Montreal clashes with Seymour Greenberg of Chicago, and Beau Summers of Toronto meets Tony Vincent, Long Island, NY.

Doris Popple, Des Moines, Iowa, last year's women's singles champion, has already reached the semi-finals, having defeated Louise Brown, Toronto, 6-3, 6-4, in one of Wednesday's early mathes.

Canada's Davis Cup stars, top-seeded players in the men's singles event, chalked up third-round victories after token difficulty.

Macken stopped William Mikulich, Ann Arbor, Mich., 6-2, 4-6, 7-5, in a thrilling struggle. Lorne Main defeated Paul Willey, Vancouver, 6-4, 6-0, while Henri Rochon tripped Richard Lincoln, Ann Arbor, Mich., 6-1, 4-6, 6-1.

M.C. Rose Chalks Up Smashing Victory

TORONTO, Aug. 23 (CP). — M. C. Rose, the sterling trotter which set a new track record at Thorncliffe raceway a week ago, came back with a smashing win in Wednesday's stake race, although he finished only second to Billy Stout in the second heat, he won the first heat in easy style with Billy Stout coming home in third.

Billy Stout travelled the second heat at 1 1-16 miles on the rail to win the handy time of 2.16 3-5.

In winning the first heat of the feature, M. C. Rose had gone in 2.08 4-5 which was creditable time over a track that had been made heavy by two days of rain.

An excellent week-day crowd witnessed the sport, after a one-day rain-out and a record crowd for the season is anticipated today when the Vondale Cup and a special race for lady drivers will feature the program.

EARL FREADY, 11-year-old cowboy, and his dog, arrived in Azusa, California, after hitchhiking from his home at Harlem, Mont. Earl, dressed in faded blue jeans and cowboy hat and wearing a junior sheriff's badge on his shirt, told Sheriff's deputies that he lived on a ranch in the Big Hole Basin and just wanted to see some of the country before school started. He had been on the road five days and had eighty-four cents left out of a five dollar bill.

Youngest Uncle

HAMILTON (CP)—Mrs. Grace Bingham, who became a grandmother a year ago at the age of 34, has given birth to a son. The infant thus becomes the uncle of her grandson.

AND THE WIFE SAID—

"Well—of course, we might have changed to Mother Parker's long ago, but I thought you were satisfied with the tea I'd been getting."

"What did you say?"

"Well, I thought I was satisfied till we had some Mother Parker's at Clara's last week."

"And then you tasted a difference?"

"Oh gosh, yes, its quality and flavour are right out of this world."

"Yes, no wonder they say it's Ontario's fastest selling Tea."

Millers Tie With Legion In Playoffs

COBOURG, Aug. 23.—Baltimore Millers pulled up on even terms with Legion juniors in the playoffs of the Cobourg and district softball loop here when they whipped the kid team, 12-7. Legion had won the first game of the best-in-three set.

Once again it was a case of the Ball brothers turning the trick for the villagers on the mound. After Chub McIvor had homered for the juniors with the bases loaded in the fourth frame, Lyle Ball, the starting pitcher, gave way to brother Donny and he put on the brakes and pulled out the win. Both boys helped their own cause by hitting home runs.

Fred McMillan also had a round tripper in the win.

Jack Irvine started for the kid team, but yielded to a Baltimore rally in the fourth and Sleep Dawe finished up.

Dick Turpin with four for five and McIvor, who had a double and single as well as his round tripper, led the losers.

MILK can make your child's eyes shine...

JUST CHANGE IT INTO DELICIOUS RENNET DESSERTS

Apricot Surprise Rennet Desserts

½ cup sweetened apricot puree
2 cups milk (not canned)
1 package "Junket" Rennet Powder, vanilla flavor
chocolate sauce

Set out 5 or 6 dessert glasses. Distribute apricot puree amongst them. Make rennet desserts following directions on package—takes only a couple of minutes. Pour mixture at once, while still liquid, over apricot puree in dessert glasses. Do not move until set—about 10 minutes. Then chill. Just before serving, top with a small spoonful of chocolate sauce.

You don't need magic to interest children in MORE milk—only "Junket" Brand Rennet Powder or Rennet Tablets. The rennet enzyme changes milk like magic into creamy, custard-like desserts.

Dauthuille Earns Split Decision Over Hairston

By VIC MORRIS, Jr.

MONTREAL, Aug. 23 —(CP)— Flashy Laurent Dauthuille of Montreal and France earned a split 10-round decision over silent Eugene Hairston of New York, Wednesday night in a chilly main bout at the Montreal baseball stadium.

Despite the temperature — around 54 degrees—10,347 customers poured $33,345 into the gross gate for the battle, previously washed out twice by rain.

Dauthuille weighed 160 and the New York negro 160¾.

The loss marked the ninth in the 54-professional-fight-career of Hairston, who has been a deaf mute since he was stricken with spinal meningitis when two years old.

His punches seemed to have little effect on the 25-year-old Frenchman who has made Montreal his fighting headquarters. Hairston concentrated on Dauthuille's face while Dauthuille had considerable success in his two-fisted body attack.

The Canadian Press score card gave Dauthuille seven rounds, Hairston two, and sored one even. The fourth round was awarded to Hairston by referee Tommy Sullivan after Dauthuille landed a low punch. He was warned about it earlier in the round.

Judges Varied

The judges were widely varied in their decisions.

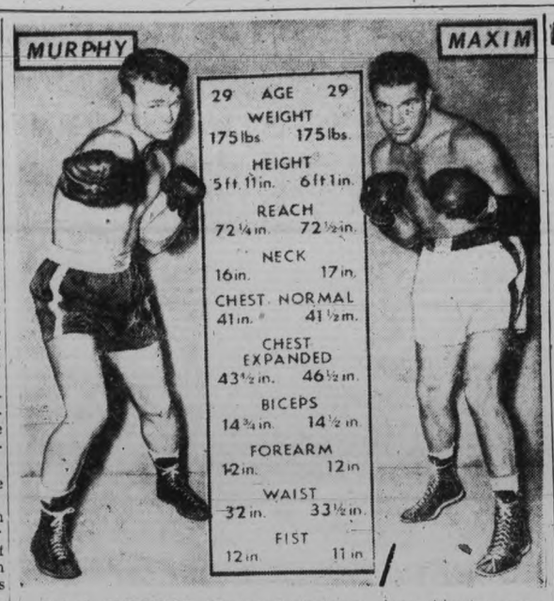
Leo Germain gave Dauthuille six rounds, Hairston three, and one even; Rene Ouimet favored Dauthuille with five, Hairston three and two even; Billy Zedd gave each fighter three and scored four even.

The crowd stormed the ringside after the decisions were announced some thought it was an even fight while others claimed Dauthuille should have had a unanimous decision.

Dave Rochon, Montreal athletic commissioner, said he was "not satisfied with the official decisions" and indicated one official would be barred from judging further fights here.

Promoter Raoul Godbout suggested the fighters should have a return bout and suggested Sept. 17.

Hairston, who holds a decision over Kid Gavilan, gave his best display in the second round, scoring with a half dozen jabs that made Dauthuille wince.



IN A SURPRISE 15-round decision, Joey Maxim captured the lightweight crown by defeating tough Bob Murphy. There was no arguments over the decision.

Maxim Wears Lightweight Crown In Surprise Decision Over Murphy

By TED SMITS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23 (AP). — Joey Maxim settled the world's lightheavyweight crown tightly on his swarthy brows today by virtue of his surprising 15-round decision over free-swinging Irish Bob Murphy.

It was a case of boxing science versus brawling and science won.

Three tough challengers await Maxim. Most probably the champion will fight Bob Satterfield in Chicago Dec. 7. There is talk of a fight in London with the British champion, stocky Don Cockell. And out on the Pacific coast there is Harry "Kid" Matthews, who, his supporters claim, is the best of the lot.

The action-packed fight in Madison Square Garden Wednesday night came as a shock to the experts, who picked Murphy to win and made him the 12-5 betting favorite. This was Maxim's first defence of the title since he won it 19 months ago in London from Freddie Mills.

"About the seventh or eighth round I thought I had things under control, but he scared me every round," said Maxim afterwards.

Needed Extra Zip

"I felt very strong but I just didn't have that little teeny zip you need," said Murphy. "I had him sick plenty of times. If it hadn't been for the ropes he would have gone down in the first round, and if he had gone down I think I might have finished him."

From the fifth round on Murphy fought with his right eye almost closed, peering grotesquely out of his left but wading in fearlessly, and taking repeated sharp combination punches to the head and body. Murphy wanted to fight at close range and was willing to take cruel punishment to do so. Maxim managed to keep him at a distance at least half the time, and hurt him both from short and long range.

There was no argument over the decision. Referee Ruby Goldstein scored it 10 rounds for Maxim, three for Murphy and two even; the judges, Harold Barnes and Charley Shortell, made it 10-5; The Associated Press scored it 11-4.

Looked Like Strain

The reason Murphy was the big favorite was simple. Last May 30, Maxim, swollen up to 181½ pounds, was mercilessly beaten by the then heavyweight champion Ezard Charles. He got down to 173½ pounds for this fight, one pound lighter than Murphy. And it looked like too great a strain.

The surprise came when Maxim took all that Murphy could throw, held him off in neat and artistic fashion, made him swing wild, and peppered his head and body. Maxim did not escape unhurt. He was bleeding at the nose after the first round, and his left hand was damaged early in the fight.

"I never did think I could knock him out," said Maxim in heartfelt tribute to his tough foeman.

The fight did well, drawing 9,525 who paid $48,148. And there was an additional $100,000 from television and radio. Maxim gets 40 per cent of the net gate and the same percentage of the TV and radio income. Murphy's share of each is 20 per cent.

Marmora Wins

HASTINGS, Aug. 23 (ENS).— Hastings intermediates lost a heartbreaker last night in their first game in the OASA playdowns as Marmora edged them 11-10 before a good crowd.

In the sixth McInroy was sent in to relieve, and when the smoke cleared away five runs were across. In the ninth they fell a run short of tying it up, as they crossed the plate twice.

McComb started for Hastings and went good, but his support was shaky at times, and Smoke went in, in the fourth to finish the game.

Maynes for Marmora and Crowe of Hastings hit circuit clouts. The next game is slated for Tweed Saturday night under the lights.

Irradiation Of Grain Seeds Being Conducted

REGINA, Aug. 23—(CP)—The continent's first large-scale tests with irradiation of grain crop seeds and plants are being conducted at the University of Saskatchewan

The research is financed by a scholarship grant from the National Research Council to a student of the College of Agriculture. This year's scholarship winner, Tom Lawrence of Colonsay, Sask., is doing the tests unde the direction of Professor L. H. Shebeski of the Field Husbandry Department.

"The main purpose of this research is to see if the straw strength of Montcalm Barley can be improved without reducing the quality or yield," Prof. Shebeski said.

Irradiation of the seeds and plants was accomplished by use of different energy rays. Radio-active phosphorus, neutron and gamma rays were used separately and together along with betratron rays.

The irradiation idea came from a Swedish publication which said greater straw strength could be produced by X-ray treatment.

In some tests, the seeds were treated with one or more of the active substances. In others, the plant itself was treated at different stages of growth with one or more of the active substances.

In some cases the treatment was given only once while varying numbers of treatments were used for other tests. For each row of experimental plants, a row of untreated barley was planted for comparison.

Prof. Shebeski said the treatment of plants and seeds with energy rays produced a remarkable number of mutations, many of which would be crop improvements.

He predicted that irradiation will become an important tool of plant breeders in the future.

A mutation is a sudden change in the inheritance of one or more characters of the plant. More than 15 have been produced by the current irradition experiments. Many of them show the improved straw strength that is sought.

Montcalm Barley is a six-rowed variety of smooth-awned barley, often difficult to grow because the straw is weak and much lodging occurs.

GIVING THEMSELVES A WEIGH at the midway of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition, children availed themselves of half-price and succeeded often in beating the barkers to win themselves kewpie dolls and fancy canes. Cavan Farmer Captures Two Top Hay Prizes At Ex

Walter Bowles of Cavan gathered in $150 with two entries in the cured hay show at the Exhibition Wednesday.

His winnings were: $50 for the best bushel of cut hay; $50 for the best bale of second cutting of hay, and that bale drew an additional $50 as the best of the 56 in the show.

The "grand special" was donated by Cliff Curtis of International Harvester and Stewart Hall of Massey-Harris.

The $50 for the best bale of first cutting of hay went to J. E. Wilson of Garden Hill. Incidentally Durham grass-landers cut quite a wide swath through the prize money.

Apparently Mr. Bowles nearly doubted himself out of the bale of greenback bills, according to G. A. Gillespie, manager of the "Ex." He had a notion that possibly his crop samples were not good enough for competition, and was leading from doubt when he telephoned an enquiry as to when the bales were due at Morrow Park. Mr. Gillespie told him to be sure and bring them along. The result was that the 1951 grass-land title, which was not restricted in boundaries of exhibitors, went to the Bowles farm just west of Scott's Corners.

Prize Winners

The awards by Prof. O. R. Kennedy of OAC were.

Bale of first cutting: J. E. Wilson, Garden Hill, $50. J. W. Boyd & Son, Orono, $25; Fred Trewin, Nestleton, $15; and six prizes of $10 each to David Wilson, Garden Hill; Bruce Snider of Maple, York county; Wesley Wilson, Omemee; Gordon Wilson, Garden Hill; Henry Sharp, Smith; Bruce Fisher, South Monaghan.

Bale of second cutting: Walter Bowles, Cavan, $50; Clarence Coons, Lakefield, $25; J. W. Boyd & Son, Orono, $15; and six prizes of $10 each to Fred Trewin; Ken Savigny, Otonabee; Gordon Wilson; Carman Bell, Smith; Clayton Sanderson, Smith; Bruce Snider, Maple.

Bushel of cut hay: Walter Bowles, $50; Clarence Coons, $25; Clayton Sanderson, $15; and six prizes of $10 each to C. E. Moore, Smith; Henry Sharp, Clarence Mann; J. W. Boyd & Son; J. E. Wilson; David Wilson.

RHEUMATIC PAIN
Can Be Costly!

"This winter I had to quit work because of rheumatic pain," writes Mr. T. Glofcheskie, Wilno, Ont. "I became fearful of being laid up as on a previous occasion with rheumatic pain. My pain became increasingly severe and spread from hip to ankle. Out of bed, the leg felt cold as though in cold water, so I stayed in bed. A friend persuaded me to take T-R-C's and I'm glad I did. In a short while I was relieved of my pain and was soon on the job again."

Don't suffer from Rheumatic or Arthritic pain. Take Templeton's T-R-C's—Canada's LARGEST-SELLING proprietary medicine to bring quick relief from such pain. Only 65c, $1.35 at druggists. T-846

May Get Jobs

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23 (AP) —The nearly 10,000 conscientious objectors in the United States may be assigned to non-military tasks in Europe, Representative Clarence Brown (Rep. O.) said today. These tasks would include those of hospital corpsmen, mess attendants and construction workers.

Congregation Honors Minister And Wife

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 23 — (ENS).—About 75 parishioners and friends of Rev. Donald White and his wife, met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George McNutt to wish them farewell. Mr. White has been Free Methodist minister here for five years. He is leaving for Clarendon in eastern Ontario.

On behalf of the gathering, the host, George McNutt, presented Rev. and Mrs. White with a trilite lamp. Rev. James Hicks read the address.

The evening was spent in the playing of games and musical entertainment. A tasty lunch was served at the close.

Honest Mistake

PIERRE, SD, Aug.23 —(AP)— It appears it was an "honest mistake" and it isn't likely any action will be taken, State Attorney Martin Weeks, Jr., said Wednesday after conferring with Attorney-General Ralph A. Dunham about the deaths of two persons Aug. 15. The victims, Mrs. Ardys Pearson and Jack Clofford, died after an injection of a wrong drug during an experiment with sedatives at the University of South Dakota.

Convict 2 Soldiers

FRANKFURT, Aug. 23 (AP)— Two American soldiers were convicted today of attempting to rape two German girls. Pte. Berlin E. Bunch, 24, Lawndale, Calif., was sentenced by a court-martial to 12 years in prison and a dishonorable discharge. Pte. Bill Adams, 20, Ysleta, Tex., received nine years and a dishonorable discharge.

Condition Fair

SALEM, Mass., Aug. 23 (AP)— An inch-wide steel rod was removed Wednesday from between the soulder blades of Herman O. Knight, 23. His condition was reported "fair." The rod fell 130 feet from a magnetic hoist at a power plant, and six inches of it pierced Knight.

Jewels Stolen

NEW YORK, Aug. 23—(AP)— Mrs. Margaret Osborne Du Pont, United States single tennis champion, reported to police Wednesday the theft of jewels she valued at $20,595. Mrs. Du Pont said the gems were taken from a suite at the Savoy Plaza Hotel while she was asleep.

Go Down Drain

NEW YORK, Aug. 23—(AP)— New York City's rainmaking program officially went down the drain Wednesday. Meteorological instruments of Mr. Wallace E. Howell are being turned over to Hunter College. Howell was hired at $100 a day during last year's critical water shortage to produce or stimulate rain.

Trapped 17 Hours

SKULL VALLEY, Ariz., Aug. 23 (CP)—Mrs. Thad Delk, 53, remained trapped for 17 hours with her dead husband after their automobile plunged over an embankment yesterday. Her cries for help went unnoticed. Finally a passing motorist spotted the wreck and summoned aid. She suffered a broken arm.

Charges Brokers Swindling Citizens In US

TORONTO, Aug. 23 —(CP)— Chairman O. E. Lennox of the Ontario Securities Commission says 35 of Toronto's active broker-dealers use high-pressure telephone and mail methods to sell fly - by - night securities that swindle United States citizens.

He told the Ontario crime committee Wednesday that he suspects some of them are "fronts" for other shady operators. Fronts were divided into two camps, controlled by different heads.

In reply to a question, he said 135 firms or persons are registered with the commission as broker-dealers. Thirty-five are out-of-town dealers. Of the other 100, about 20 have been inactive this year in selling.

Creating Trouble

Some 35 of the remaining 80 have been creating trouble between authorities in the United States and Canada by fleecing US residents with worthless stock, he said. US officials have accused Ontario of lack of co-operation in curbing the swindlers and has asked to be allowed to put them on trial in the States.

Mr. Lennox said he was not notified when Canadian postal authorities removed mailing privileges from 12 Toronto brokers under fraud orders issued last March. He said he did not seek information about it because he considered the action had accomplished nothing, since the big offenders were unaffected.

Lakefield Cubs Have Successful Summer

LAKEFIELD, Aug. 23 (ENS)— The Lakefield Cubs which have continued to meet during the summer, even though a number of the boys have been to camps, farms and on holidays have now closed until school opens.

The wind up of the summer's activity will be an overnight camp of twelve cubs to be held at Nassau, at the Peterborough District Boy Scout camp site.

Two badges which the cubs have worked for this summer were the athlete's badge and the swimmers badge—two of the twelve proficiency badges a cub may earn.

Jerry Henderson, swimming instructor at the Lakefield pool gave the cubs their swimming test on Friday evening. Those who were awarded the swimmers' badge: Cubs Paul Henry, Terry Stenner, David Payton, Beverley Frost, Terry Coons, Garry Spencer, Peter Burger, Douglas Shippard, Jimmy Galvin, and Bob Clements.

Cub master Jerry Burger deserves a great deal of credit for the splendid work he has done with the pack.

26 Teachers Register At Work Shop

LAKEFIELD, Aug. 23 (ENS)— Twenty-six Public, Separate, and High School teachers from Ontario registered today at the Lakefield Preparatory School for the Social Studies workshop being held there this week.

Principal of the summer school is Mr. Michael McHugh of Glebe Collegiate, Ottawa, with Lloyd Smith of Etobicoke township, and Mac Boyd of Ottawa High School of Commerce as assistants.

The worship has several purposes. One is to discover how best the resources of the community can be used in the teaching of social studies in the intermediate grades. (Grades 7, 8, 9 and 10.)

Another aim is to give the teachers an incentive to try a new and experimental approach to the teaching of social studies. To enable the teacher to give the student a practical knowledge of his own community so that he can branch out and know about the world in general.

The sychology behind the course is much the same as the Hope Commission Report.

At the school, the teachers by living together, doing their field work together, forming their committees, choosing their chairmen, and doing their own reports will see how democracy really works.

Special guests who will assist with the classes will be Mr. George Douglas, of Lakefield, well-known author and engineer; Mr. O. Guillet, Historian, who is summering at Juniper Island, and Mr. G. Winder Smith, Head master at the Grove School.

At the closing of the school recommendations, based on the information regarding source material that they have been able to locate, will be sent in to the Department of Education.

Those registered are: Miss Mary E. Cole, Minesing; William Breese, Lindsay; Miss Helen Babington, Meaford; Sister Moira (Monica Quinn) of Saint Agnes' Convent, Fort William; William Shea, Welland; Thomas Hawkins, North Bay; Mrs. Mabel Fells, London; Lorne Wiseman, Haileybury; Margaret Love, Ailsa Craig; David Macleod, Oshawa; Mrs. Edna Spafford, Kingston; Keitha Smith, Kingston; Cecile McCrea, Copper Cliff; Mrs. Marian Smith, Merlin; Herman Fawcett, Brantford; Mrs. V. Rose, Sterling; Edith Donkin, Burlington; Jean McLachlin, Ailsa Craig; Emerson Tyers, Toronto; Ross Martin, Fort William; Don Grant, Toronto; Miss Mary Maloney, Peterboro.

Rugby Setup Surprise To Americans

By GALE TALBOT

MONTREAL, Aug. 23 (AP) — Canadians, not disposed to worry their minds over small matters, have never been able to get themselves too worked-up over the line of demarcation between an amateur athlete and a professional.

Hence, it came as only a mild surprise to learn that their booming football set-up — the same which has begun to raid the United States Professional National League of some of its choicest play-for-pay operatives —is officially classed as an amateur organization.

The eight clubs in the Interprovincial Rugby Football Union and the Western Canada Conference form the Canadian Rugby Union, overlord of all the country's amateur football. Nobody seems to see anything incongruous in this somewhat remarkable alliance.

Lew Hayman, the dynamic little boss of Montreal Alouettes, was asked as a matter of interest why he and his fellow magnates didn't haul out of the Union and form their own professional league. After all, they're wielding mighty big cheque books to be calling themselves amteurs.

Need Co-operation

"I can explain it," said Lew easily. "We're anxious to develop many good Canadian football players as we can, and the only way we can do so is by working closely with the Canadian Rugby Union. It runs the little league, which has got to be the source of our material, and we are in position to give them important financial help.

"Unfortunately, we haven't hundreds of colleges and universities turning out finished players for us the way your National League has. Our university graduates are only about on a par with your high school players, so we've got to fill out our squads from the little league and the sandlots. The only way we can hope to do that is by working closely with the amateurs. After all, each of our teams is permitted to carry only seven Americans."

Hayman conceded that the CRU pretty much attends to its own business and permits the Big Four and the Western Canada Unions to conduct their own affairs.

The big league boys know now that they can sign as many good American players as they want. Their mail from across the border tells them so — especially since Hayman plucked quarterback George Ratterman right off the payroll of the U.S. National League New York Yanks.

CORNWALL, Aug. 23—(CP)—Abner Hulse, of Aurora, near Toronto, Wednesday was elected president of the Ontario Command of the Canadian Legion at the 17th annual biennial convention. He succeeds Lt.-Col. G. M. Fitzgerald, of Toronto.

Mr. Hulse served in the Second World War with the Canadian Armored Corps. He is a practising lawyer and father of two children.

Other officers include: First vice-president, G. B. Tolley; regional vice-president, G. Countryman, South Porcupine; assistant honorary treasurer, N. Brunton, Sudbury; representatives to the Dominion Council, Les Cunningham, St. Catharines; vice-chairman, Frank Threadgold, Whitby; Imperial representative, Len Owen, Guelph.

Board Of Control Won't Back Protest

WINDSOR, Aug. 23 — (CP).—Board of Control refused Wednesday to go along with a Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities protest against proposed Bell Telephone rate increases.

The Federation in its brief proposed that municipalities opposed to the rate increase, contribute to the expense of fighting the application before the Board of Transport Commissioners.

Controller W. E. Atkinson said the Telephone Company was entitled to an increase, since all costs had risen. Controller L. A. Delziel said he could agree with the protest but not with the suggestion that the city contribute.

MOH Appointment

TORONTO, Aug. 23 — (CP) — Board of Control recommended Wednesday that Dr. L. A. Pequegnat be appointed medical officer of health for Toronto. Dr. Pequegnat has been assistant health officer for 22 years under Dr. Gordon P. Jackson who died about a week ago. City council will make the appointment at a special meeting Sept. 5.

Mystery Deal Proves Costly

SIMCOE, Aug. 23 — (CP) — A mystery land deal—apparently a multi-million dollar affair—is said developing between here and Port Ryerse, seven miles south.

Farmers who have given options on their land say between 10 and 15 farms have already been bought, at prices between $700 and $800 an acre, compared to a normal price for the district of $400 to $500 an acre.

Farmers say they have no idea what their land is wanted for but point to a government report last year that Lake Erie shoreline west of Port Dover and Port Ryerse was suitable for a deep-water harbor.

It is back of this frontage that land is being bought.

60.8 Mill Rate Set For Millbrook Village

MILLBROOK, Aug. 23 (ENS)—A rate of 60.8 mills was approved by the village council at its meeting with all the members present. Of this rate 36.4 mills will be required for village purposes; 11.7 county levy; one mill Millbrook and Cavan arena; 1.7 fire engine debenture; 7.3 schools debenture; 2.4 mills school debenture (new boiler heating); 5.1 mills Durham County high school and 6.9 mills Millbrook public school.

Tenders will be called for the purchase of an issue of debentures for $2,500 for the Millbrook and Cavan arena.

4 Teen-Agers Hurt

COLLINGWOOD, Aug. 23 (CP) —Four teen-agers were injured here Tuesday in a two-car collision. J. R. Griffiths and A. Moore, both of Toronto, and June Cadesky and Alma Kenwell, both of Collingwood, suffered cuts. Their small car rammed into the rear of one driven by Ruth Dance of Collingwood.

Ask New Vote

OTTAWA, Aug. 23—(CP)—Residents of Ontario's Peel County have asked for a new vote to decide whether the sale of alcoholic beverages should be permitted within the area. A petition has been received by the Secretary of State's Department requesting the vote under provisions of the Canada Temperance Act. A similar vote was taken in 1947 and the area decided to remain dry.

Seymour West WI Honors Grandmothers

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 23 — (ENS).—Seymour West Women's Institute meeting took the form of a grandmothers' day. Mrs. Ed. Hawley graciously opened her home for the meeting at which a large number of grandmothers were in attendance.

A silent prayer was said for all grandmothers, after which Mrs. Stephens gave a reading entitled "Times Have Changed." Mrs. Allan Lewis displayed a wedding veil worn by her mother 65 years ago, and Mrs. C. G. Stephens showed the ladies a linen towel which has been in her family for over 100 years. Mrs. Frank Little recited "If you meet a man of woe" and "Faith of Our Fathers" was sung by the ladies.

Mrs. George Longmuir, who is 84 years of age, was the oldest grandmother present and was presented with a lovely bouquet of flowers by Mrs. R. A. Rutherford. Mrs. Longmuir still takes active interest in institute work.

Current events were given by Mrs. Fred Hendy after which Mrs. Allan Lewis, president of the Seymour West branch, introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Charles Puffer, Warkworth, Percy Women's Institute.

Mrs. Puffer interested the ladies with some of the highlights of the Guelph conference held in the spring and was thanked for her speech by Mrs. Harry Jacques.

Mrs. G. G. Stephens was in charge of a contest, "Things found around grandmother's" for which Mrs. Thomas Campbell and Mrs. Mac Waddell's group won the prize. The singing of "God Save the King" brought the meeting to a close, and a lunch was served to the ladies by Mrs. Allan Lewis, Mrs. James Black and Mrs. Thomas Dunham assisted by Mrs. James Clark and Mrs. Gordon McCulloch.

Cattle Rustlers In Kitchener Area

KITCHENER, Aug. 23—(CP)—Cattle rustlers are on the prowl in the district, provincial police said Wednesday, and night patrols are being strengthened to prevent further outbreaks. Police blamed the high price of meat for the rustling.

So far seven animals have been stolen in this area. Nearby counties also have been hard hit.

Police are flagging down all trucks moving by night to make routine checks on the loads. Farmers are moving their stock to inner fields, away from roads which would provide easy access for thieves.

Lana And Husband Hope To Make Up

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 23 (AP)—An MGM spokesman said Wednesday that Lana Turner had had some misunderstanding with her wealthy husband, Henry J. (Bob) Topping. He denied the two were separated.

"Topping is out of town at present," the spokesman added, "but Miss Turner expects him to return shortly and hopes at the time that their problems will be reconciled."

The actress and the millionaire were married in April, 1948, at a lavish ceremony that brought official censure on the Presbyterian minister who married them.

Topping had been divorced only three days by actress Arlene Judge when he married Miss Turner. Law of the church forbids the marriage of divorced persons until a year after their decree is granted.

Official Says Controls Eliminated Black Market

By HAROLD MORRISON

OTTAWA, Aug. 23—(CP)—A defence production official has disclosed that a "black market" in nickel existed in Canada last spring but that this now is virtually eliminated by government controls.

The controls were imposed several months ago. They brought stability to a market in which speculators were getting $3.40 a pound for virgin nickel that normally would have sold at 60 cents, the official said. The market now is steadying at about 70 cents a pound.

The official said the speculation in Canada was considered "illegitimate," but it was no fault of nickel-producing companies. They sold nickel at normal prices. But when pressure on demand increased, some speculators, with large stockpiles, decided to make a "killing".

Under government restrictions, abnormal stockpiling now was impossible. Buyers were drawing nickel from producing companies at the rate of 60 per cent of 1950 purchases.

Different To US

The situation in Canada was in contrast to that in the United States. In Washington, nickel buyers told a U.S. Senate Investigating Committee Tuesday that racket was "too mild" a word for the US nickel market. One buyer termed it "vicious".

The US buys most of its nickel from Canada, absorbing about 65 per cent. of Canada's production. Buyers told the US committee that nickel is commanding five and six times the price it did a year ago. One said he paid as much as $4.50 a pound for 10,000 pounds—all purchased from American dealers.

The Canadian official also disclosed:

1. Pressure on demand for Canadian nickel, particularly by the United States and the United Kingdom, is continuing.

2. An international conference in Washington is considering "equitable" world allocation of Canadian nickel. Canada produces about 90 per cent of world supplies.

3. Production in Canada is increasing at the rate of about 500 tons a month.

Warships To Use Rideau Canal

OTTAWA, Aug. 23 (CP)—Six RCN patrol craft, manned by naval reservists from the Great Lakes, will travel from Kingston to Ottawa through the Rideau Canal system this month, naval headquarters announced Wednesday.

The cruise will mark the first time warships have navigated the waterway linking the two cities.

The trip is part of a summer training schedule. Arrival of the reservists will coincide with the third annual Great Lakes Naval Regatta to be held here from Sept. 1-3.

The group will sail Aug. 29 from Kingston and arrive here Aug. 31.

New Ship Device

SCHNECTADY, NY, Aug. 23—(AP). — Development of an automatic marinepil ot system, designed to keep a ship unerringly on its course, was announced on Wednesday by the General Electric Company. GE engineers said the device, developed for the Navy, would permit a vessel to vary from its course an average of less than one-half of a degree.

Will Pay Visit

TORONTO, Aug. 23 — (CP) — Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt will visit the Canadian National Exhibition on international day, Sept. 4. The widow of the former president of the United States will attend as a representative of the United Nations and later will be given a civic reception.

Freeze Rubber Tires

RANGOON, Aug. 23 (Reuters) —The Burma Government Wednesday froze all stocks of rubber tires and tubes in the country as a preliminary control over the sale of these "strategic" goods.

Will Officiate

SAULT STE. MARIE, Aug. 23—(CP)—The Anglican Synod office said Wednesday that the Rt. Rev. W. L. Wright, Bishop of Algoma, will officiate at the ordination of Reginald James Inshaw and Kenneth Rutter at Bracebridge, on St. Bartholomew's Day, Friday. The office also announced that the Rev. Morse L. Goodman of Fort William will become Rural Dean of Thunder Bay and the Rev. A. E. Minchin of Powasson, Ont., Rural Dean of Nipissing, effective Sept. 1.

Ask Fireworks Control

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 23—(CP) —Controls covering the use and retail sale of fire works in Canada were sought Wednesday by fire chiefs from all parts of the Dominion. They endorsed a resolution urging Provincial government and municipalities to ban the retail sale of fireworks to persons under 12 years of age, advocating also they should be sold only for seven days preceding May 24 and July 1.

Help On Prairies

WINNIPEG, Aug. 23—(CP)—One hundred farm youths from Ontario and Quebec passed through here Wednesday on their way to Northern Saskatchewan to help harvest the fast-ripening grain crop. The harvesters come west under the Dominion-Provincial farm labor agreement. The Federal and Provincial governments share transportation costs in excess of excursion rates allowed the men.

Billion Dollar Cut

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23—(AP) —A cut of about $1,000,000,000 in President Truman's Foreign Aid requests was voted Wednesday by the Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations Committees. Truman had asked $8,500,000,000 for both military and economic aid.

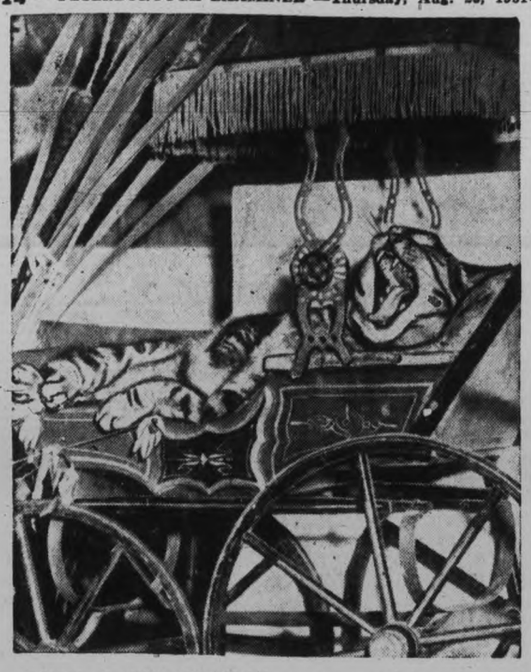
SERVING CANADIANS SINCE 1919



TIGER, A FOUR-YEAR-OLD tomcat, couldn't understand why so many people stared at him in Hallowell, Maine, when there were so many other attractively decorated shop windows in town. The cat has been sleeping in this same doll carriage with a fringe on top, since an antique shop acquired it several weeks ago and put it on display in a window.

Union At Ford To Take Vote

WINDSOR, Aug. 23 — (CP) — Ford of Canada workers, members of Local 200 United Auto Workers (CIO), will be asked to vote Sunday whether the union is to demand 40 hours' pays for 32 hours' work, or insist on company adherence to the contract to provide a 40-hours work week.

It is expected 10,000 workers will cast ballots.

Calling for a vote of the general membership was the result of a meeting Wednesday night of the policy committee of the local.

Jack Taylor, president of Local 200, said Ford is laying off 3,000 men, but is trying to make the union share the burden.

He said, "We refuse to let the Ford Motor Company push us into a share-the-poverty position."

President Taylor said that the company "through greedy production policies earlier this year and the Canadian government through its round-about policies of channeling workers into defence production, made it pointless for Ford workers to go on a four-day week or less."

The company announced earlier Wednesday that declining sales, which it blamed on government credit curbs, had forced it to lay off 3,000 men and to introduce a four-day week that would spread the work among the remaining employees.

Union Talks Break Down

SHAWINIGAN FALLS, Que., Aug. 23 (CP) — The Aluminum Company of Canada, in a statement Wednesday, said negotiations between the company and employees' union here have broken down.

The company said that although it has reduced the work week from 48 hours to 42 hours and granted wage increases varying from 34 to 39 cents an hour, "the representatives of the National Syndicate of Aluminum Employees have brought to a standstill the negotiations started a few days ago with the management of the local Alcan plants."

About 1,000 workers were reported involved and it was indicated union leaders would take a strike vote.

The company said the basic hourly rate now is $1.29 and the maximum rate is $1.73.

PETERBOROUGH EXAMINER

VOL. CIII. No. 44 — THURSDAY, AUGUST 23, 1951 — PRICE FIVE CENTS

Believe Boy Will Walk After Injury

Injured By Grader Boy's Condition Said Not Critical

"Albert Miller is not in critical condition so far as life is concerned."

This statement was made to the Examiner this morning by the attending surgeon.

The 12-year-old boy, who is the son of Irwin Miller, Toronto, was rushed to Peterborough Civic Hospital by ambulance Monday from Pontypool where he was visiting. He had fallen from a moving grader and his legs were caught under the machinery.

Today the attending surgeon stated that the boy's condition was fair. He explained that the skin had been torn off all of his left leg and from his right leg to the knee.

There were no bones broken, nor were any of the vital nerves or muscles of his legs damaged. Operation on the boy was a matter of cleaning the injured legs and sewing up skin, all the while fighting any infection.

Miller has been given plasma and blood transfusions and is in a cast, but his condition is such that attending doctors expect that he will be able to walk again if no serious setbacks are suffered.

The attending surgeon explained that treatment may take a long period of time depending on the success of the initial skin grafting

Miller will be taken to the Sick Children's Hospital, Toronto, Friday for further treatment.

The four attending doctors also made the statement that they were not consulted nor did they issue any statement whatsoever to the report of the accident or of Miller's condition which appeared in the Wednesday edition of the Toronto Star

ARGUMENT TO SETTLE

A hurried voice on the telephone to the Examiner Wednesday evening asked, "Can you tell me if there is an iron lung in Peterborough?" The reply was given as hurriedly, with the thought "Another case of polio," to the effect that an iron lung is owned by St. Joseph's Hospital, and has been in use at both hospitals recently. The inquirer then said, "Will you repeat that statement, please, and I will tell you 'when.'" Evidently an argument was being settled, for, after repeating the fact on signal, another party said quietly, "Thank you very much."

Hon. W. A. Goodfellow Opens Exhibition

Hon. W. A. Goodfellow, Minister of Welfare for Ontario, officially opened the 1951 Peterborough Industrial Exhibition on Wednesday evening, before a grandstand crowd of 1,500 spectators. The minister, along with the platform guests, arrived in front of the grandstand in a cavalcade of five motor cars, headed by the Peterborough Citizens' Band. In his opening address, Mr. Goodfellow complimented the president and the Board of the Exhibition for the splendid job they had done in organizing the show. He said the fair was an example of the freedom Canadians enjoy. "We should take stock of ourselves and allow ourselves to appreciate the great advantages we have in this country."

Mr. Goodfellow spoke warmly of Peterborough and its hospitality.

"I like to get back to your city, and meet some of my old friends," he said.

The speaker was introduced by John Kitney.

Among those on the platform were Donald Milburn, G. A. Gillespie, Frank Paterson, President Norman McConkey, His Worship Mayor Swanston, Gordon K. Fraser, MP, Ald. Dr. Herbert Young, Hon. Harold Scott, Ian McRae, Clare Collins and Peter Pearson.

The duties of MC were handled by Mr. Collins.

Grandstand Show

The official speeches were followed by the grandstand performance. Feats of juggling by Dannie Daniels, who also MC'd the show, gave the crowd a chance to see juggling as it should be done. His comical antics, and comedy musical numbers delighted the crowd. Eddie Collins, the man who helped Art Mooney make Four Leaf Clover and other records, showed what he could do with a banjo. Eddie is reputed to be one of the best banjo players in the US, and anyone who watches him operate will no doubt agree.

No show would be complete without the chorus girls, and eight of these ladies did a number of dance routines that demonstrated team work and timing.

High Wire Act

In the field of tight-rope walking and high wire comedy tricks, the man and wife team of Fritz and Betty Huber are hard to beat. They had spectators agog at their antics on the high wire, displaying remarkable balance and skill.

Itoyna, who must be made of rubber, showed what could be done with the human body by twisting hers practically inside out. She is a contortionist of the first order, and pleases crowds wherever she appears.

The antics of the clown kept patrons laughing throughout the entire program.

In the draw for a mixmaster, Mrs. P. A. McArthur of 471 Mark Street was the lucky winner. Mr. Offa Williamson of 252 McGill Street was the winner of the gold watch.

500 Pies, 300 Lbs. Of Meat Used Daily In Dining Tent

Breakfast was ready at 6:00 o'clock this morning in St. James' United Church dining tent at the Exhibition for the men in charge of exhibits of livestock, commercial booths, and some of the midway crew who preferred the home cooking.

Mrs. Grattan Harris, Princess Street, president of the Women's Association of the church, estimated that the staff will provide approximately 500 sandwiches by the end of the week, 500 pies a day, and unmeasured gallons of coffee. The meat order to the tent is 300 pounds a day.

Nearly 150 men and women of the church divide the work in shifts from morning until past 10 o'clock at night.

Demand for meals Wednesday required the setting up of an extra stove this morning to enable the staff to cope with the appetites of the crowd. Full course dinner costs a dollar, and Mrs. Harris said that was the lowest price anywhere in the city. The menu offers roast beef and pork, two cooked vegetables, changed for each meal, tomatoes and cucumbers, choice of four kinds of pies, pudding, tea or coffee, and salads in the evening.

Recover Body Of Man In Lake

Curve Lake Indians recovered this morning the body of Paul G. Trunick, Corapolis, Penn., who drowned Tuesday night in the upper end of Chemong Lake.

Jonas Jacobs, Dow Taylor, William Taylor, Sam Taylor and Wellington Williams found the body a few yards from the place where Trunick's boat was swamped. The body was in 12 feet of water.

The wind which whipped the waves over Trunick's boat were still lashing the eastern shore all day Wednesday and made dragging operations impossible.

Miss Rosamund Coppaway, 24, saw Trunick in the boat driving northeastward up the lake. Suddenly a wave seemed to submerge the back of the boat. Then it tipped. She saw Trunick climb on top.

Miss Coppaway ran for help but when she returned with her brother Eldred, Trunick had disappeared.

Funeral arrangements are being made by Hendren's of Lakefield.

Left Leg Broken In Car Crash

Wife of an employee of Bernard and Barry's midway show at the Exhibition, Mrs. Marcel LaBel was injured in a traffic accident at noon today at the corner of Sherbrooke and Aylmer Streets.

She was removed to St. Joseph's Hospital for X-ray examination of possible fracture of her left thigh.

Mrs. Mary C. Firehock, 6020 Tyler Place, West New York, N.J., driving west on Sherbrooke St., made a U-turn at the Aylmer St. intersection.

Mr. LaBel was travelling south on Aylmer St. He saw Mrs. Firehock make a turn at Sherbrooke, but thought that she was going to stop.

Instead, it was reported that Mrs. Firehock completed the U-turn, forcing LaBel to pull to the west side of Aylmer St., hitting a hydro pole. The front of his car was crushed, his wife was painfully hurt, but Mr. LaBel escaped injury.

POLIO

Two more diagnosed cases of poliomyelitis were reported by hospital officials today. One was an 11-year-old girl and the other a 14-month-old baby boy. One new suspect case was also reported. This brings the city and district total to 26 cases.

YOUTHFUL POET

Felicia Hemans, English poetess who died in 1835, published her first volume of verse at the age of 15.

Thomas Flannery Collapses At Ex

Thomas Painter Kemp Flannery, 61, 50 Water St., suffered a heart attack on the Peterborough exhibition grounds Wednesday afternoon and died in the ambulance en route to the hospital.

Mr. Flannery was on his way over to the Park St. gate from the horse sheds to get a pail of water when he suffered the attack, about 4:40 p.m. An ambulance coming in the gate at that time rushed him to Civic hospital, but he died before reaching the hospital.

Mr. Flannery was born in Peterborough, son of the late John Flannery and Mary Kemp and lived a lifetime in this community.

He was the original owner and operator of the Toronto-Peterborough Transport and was a molder by trade. He was employed with the Wm. Hamilton Co. and the G. Walter Green Foundry and retired six years ago.

A member of George St. United Church, Mr. Flannery was also a member of the Orange Order.

He leaves his wife, the former Gertrude Squires, one daughter, Mrs. Hugh J. Davis (Blanche), Peterborough and three sisters, Mrs. Fred Roberts, Mrs. Jack Roberts and Mrs. Eva Allen, all of Peterborough.

The funeral will be held Friday at 2:30 from the Nisbett funeral home. The Rev. C. G. Boyd of St. Paul's Presbyterian church will conduct the service. Burial will be in Little Lake cemetery.

Air Cadet Interviews London's Lord Mayor

LONDON, Aug. 23 (CP).—WO Robert Fox of London, Ont., a Canadian air cadet, went to the Mansion House today for an interview with the acting lord mayor of London, Sir George Wilkinson.

Fox, here with a party of touring cadets, presented a letter from Mayor Alan J. Rush of London, Ont., stressing the links between the two cities. Sir George, who was London's lord mayor during Second World War blitz days, replied that Canada's feeling for the Old Country had been vividly shown in wartime messages of sympathy and contributions of money received by London from Canada.

Young Men, Women Judge At 'Ex'

Harvest Operations Cut Number Junior Farm Entries

Eighty-five young men from seven Central Ontario counties registered for Junior Farmers' Day events at the Exhibition this morning. It was expected that their attendance would exceed 100, but the harvesting of the big crop of spring grain was bound to keep at home some of those who had intimated that they were hoping to come to the Peterborough show.

The girls' section in the market hall drew 120, for a total of 205 young people from the district who meet this evening as guests of Canada Packers for dinner at the Empress Hotel. From there they go to Morrow Park tonight for the grandstand program.

R. G. Bennett, Toronto, assistant director of extension with the Ontario Department of Agriculture, and Miss Kay Vale of the Department's head office were present to help in getting the judging competitions for boys under way.

Total attendance of the juniors was about 20 fewer than was anticipated. That shrinkage was accounted for largely by the extent of the job that remains to be done at home.

Frank C. Paterson, R. E. Bell and Miss Evelyn Scott of the local office of the Department assisted in the registrations and other details of Junior Farmers' Day.

Junior Homemaking

Girls arrived from as far as Bloomfield, Prince Edward county, and Queensboro, Hastings County, to take part in the judging, arranging exhibits and the other activities.

Representatives from the various clubs judged menus, vegetables, and clothing. Demonstrations were given on topics including cottons may be smart, being well-dressed and well-groomed, fashion show, the cereal shelf and cotton accessories for the bedroom.

Nine homemaking clubs representing the counties of Victoria, Durham, Peterborough, Northumberland and Hastings showed garden exhibits.

In addition groups of girls were busy working on test buttonholes, and taking part in cereal quizzes.

Observing and judging the work was Miss Florence Eadie, Toronto, Ontario supervisor of junior extension with the Ontario Department of Agriculture. Also judging were Miss L. Row, Toronto, junior extension clothing supervisor; Miss Elsie Irwin, Napanee, home economist for the counties of Hastings, Prince Edward, Lennox and Addington and Frontenac; Miss Jean Steckle, Toronto, summer home economist.

Police Are Checking On Water St. Speeders

Car, truck and bus drivers who like to pretend Water St. North is a speedway had better change their way of thinking or they will be visiting the city police court.

Chief John Thompson said today that traffic officers are clamping down on the speeding, especially during the evening and after the drive-in shows are out. This action has been prompted by numerous complaints from the northend residents.

Already in the past three nights the police have nipped a number of offenders.

Collegiate Boys Refused Nicholls Oval

With less than a week before practices begin for PCVS football teams, the coaches have been told that Nicholls Park will not be available this year.

Ald. P. J. Anglesey, chairman of the parks committee, said today that the parks superintendent, Armar Butcher, had advised him that the large grounds should be given a rest this year, the grass being now worn off This, he said, has been caused by the spikes and cleats on the baseball and football ball players' shoes.

Ald. Anglesey added that if the football teams used the Oval this year the whole area would have to be resodded next year.

"A lot of damage can be caused in the fall of the year."

Mr. Anglesey explained that no definite action has been taken nor will be until the next committee meeting in September, about two weeks after the teams start practices.

If the teams stay off the field this year, they will be able to use it next year.

Has Had No Word

Coach G. B. Goulding, who still awaits official reply to a request he made some weeks ago to city council, said that the three Garnet and Grey teams will have to use the "postage stamp" at the school.

"Can you picture these teams practising there?" he asked.

He said that when told about the Nicholls Park condition, he asked about Riverside Park. He was told that there was "little chance" because there was some work to be done there.

Mr. Goulding added that the Exhibition grounds would be too far for the boys to go for practices after school. To hire a bus for practices would cost about $25 weekly and "we'd soon be broke at that rate," said Mr. Goulding.

Practices for the senior squad will begin next Monday at the school, not at the Nicholls Park as scheduled. Until school starts there will be no cramping on the school grounds.

If there is no alternative, Mr. Goulding said that the school will have to drop one of its teams from the league.

MAIN ST. TOPICS

THERE'S CORN AT THE EX.

Optimists Club put on a corn roast at the Exhibition Wednesday night, and apparently sold a lot of buttered cobs.

WON BICYCLES

Winner of the boy's bicycle in the draw at the grand stand on Wednesday was twelve-year-old Wayne Hamilton, of 654 Stewart Street. Eight-year-old Judy Trotter of 1117 High Street was the lucky winner of the girl's bicycle.

MINOR ACCIDENT

A car, driven by Harold Dunford, 209 Rubidge St., hit a parked car, owned by Jack Hughes, 14 Inverlea St., early today in front of 492 George St. Slight damage to both cars is covered by insurance. Constable Harold Andrew investigated.

MOWRY FUNERAL ARRANGEMENTS

Funeral service for the late Mrs. William Mowry, 71, of 189 River Road, who died suddenly at her home on Wednesday, will be held on Saturday at the Comstock Funeral Home at 1:30 p.m. The Ven. Archdeacon C. W. Balfour of St. John's Anglican Church, will officiate and burial will be at Little Lake Cemetery.

Women Drivers

LONDON—(CP)—A group of 24 girls—all between 17 and 20—are learning to become expert drivers to help Britain in emergency. Fees have been paid by the Royal Automobile Club.

Opening Day Attendance At Exhibition Hit By Chilly Weather

9,625 Attend Industrial Exhibition On First Day of 1951 Fair, 3,978 Children Mark Their Big Day

Attendance on opening day of the Peterborough Exhibition was down 1,959 from opening day, 1950. Receipts were up, however, due to an increased admission fee. Chilly weather Wednesday morning and evening was suggested as a possible cause of the decrease in attendance. Grandstand attendance was up, but receipts were down, since the ratio of children to adults was greater than last year.

Wednesday's attendance totalled 9,625, compared to 11,584 on opening day last year. Grandstand attendance showed a small increase of 46 from 2,400 to 2,446.

Receipts for the day totalled $3,432.10, including the grandstand take of $738.10. Opening day receipts in 1950 were $3,127.05, including a grandstand take of $778.20.

By gates, attendance was as follows: main, 7,101; McGill St., 1,650; Park St., 874.

Wednesday being children's day, it was a fine day for the 3,978 children who came, ate hot dogs and pop, got lost, and went home feeling pretty happy.

One of the lost children, a four-year-old girl, disappeared in the flower exhibit. Minutes later, the public address system announced that she was missing and said "She is a little girl in a yellow dress and answers to the name of "Butch."

The midway booths, not very busy all day, weren't patronized much by the children. They headed for the rides—ferris wheels, boat rides, merry-go-rounds, and a miniature hook and ladder truck complete with jangling bell, siren and flashing red light.

Not only the rides drew the children; they were fascinated by the animals, sleek dairy cattle, chunky beef cattle, and grunting hogs. In the home department's exhibit, they hung over the barrier, sniffing the appetizing aroma of prize pies and loaves of home-cooked bread.

The midway booths, in operation by early Wednesday afternoon were doing little enough business in the evening. Weight and age guessers drew more than most of the games of chance.

Much busier than the midway were the buildings housing exhibits. From early evening until late at night, visitors crowded the animal barns, the manufacturers' building, and the other displays of cars, farm equipment, etc.

The evening grandstand show, which included the fair's official opening by the Hon. W. A. Goodfellow, Ontario Minister of Welfare, was well received by an enthusiastic crowd of about 1,300.

$390,000 Bylaw For Norwood School Passed

Peterborough county council has a $390,000 debenture bylaw to cover the cost of building a school in the Norwood high school area. But the county is not going to call for bids until later, dating the debentures December 20 when the county rates become payable.

Until the bidding on the debentures in December the county will finance the cost of the building which is already under construction. It will be completed for the 1952-53 term.

A week ago the council held a special meeting to consider financing high schools in Norwood and Lakefield. The Lakefield request will be dealt with later.

The bylaw authorizes the issuing of debentures amounting to $390,000 at an interest of 4½ per cent over a term of 20 years.

Reeve William Griffith, Belmont-Methuen township, opposed the county issuing the debentures at the special meeting, saying that ratepayers in the three municipalities, Belmont-Methuen, Havelock and Asphodel, are opposed to it.

How It Is Financed

On Tuesday night, Reeve R. R. Stewart, of Otonabee, said that ratepayers there did not understand the financial arrangement.

Trucker's Cow Makes New World Record

With a total production of 57,975 lbs. milk an Alberta Holstein has established a world record for two lactations on twice-a-day milking. She is Seymour Nora Ormsby owned by H. L. Ahrens, Red Deer, Alberta. A year ago Nora became western Canada champion for yearly production of milk on twice-a-day milking by giving 28,450 lbs. milk containing 894 lbs. fat. This championship mark she has raised in her latest 365 day test to 29,525 lbs. milk and 1,002 lbs. fat.

Nora is one of the few cows ever to make over 100,000 lbs. milk in first five lactations on twice-a-day milking having given a total of 104,417 lbs. milk and 3,508 lbs. fat. Her fifth lactation was started as a six year old and two of her records were made in the 305 day division. During her latest test she averaged 80 lbs. a day and on her best day gave 108 lbs. (43 quarts.)

Her world record total of 57,975 lbs. milk for two lactations replaces the mark of 57,190 lbs. established by Pontiac Dutchland DeVries in 1935 in the herd of Byron Rath, Mossley, Ontario.

Commenting on the champion's performance Mr. Ahrens said, "Due to the dry summer in 1950 we had no pasture and Nora did not produce as well as she might have and was getting thin last winter. However, she made up for it in May and June of this year with lush pasture and actually gained in weight. She milked like a fresh cow and looked like one."

Mr. Ahrens has just 20 acres of land on the outskirts of Red Deer and keeps only a few head of cattle. He is a trucker and is frequently away from home when the care of the cattle falls to his 16-year-old son. Nora was machine milked throughout. She has that common characteristic of all great producers, the ability to consume large quantities of feed. She is always looking for more. Probably her most remarkable feature is the manner in which she maintains her production right to the end of her lactation.

INDIAN LEGEND

Onion Lake, Saskatchewan, was named after an Indian legend of a maiden drowning herself after a quarrel with her lover because she ate onions.

Hangover Lodge Plan For Drinker

HOPE, B.C. — (CP)—Cocktail bars should provide some way of getting the elbow-bender back on his feet, says W. A. Scharffenberg, executive secretary of the International Temperance Association.

In an interview here he said the bars should provide the means of social recovery since they provide the facilities for getting a man drunk in the first place.

He says establishment of "Hangover Lodge" would be one way of reducing the dangers arising from drinking. Persons who had taken one too many — or more — could be left in the lodges until sober.

Before serving a drink the bartender would ask the customer if he was driving a car.

"If the answer is yes," says Mr. Scharffenberg, "the bartender should ask for the keys and keep a record of drinks. If a man has imbibed 10 ounces of liquor, he should be placed in the hangover lodge for five hours."

Civil Servants Ask Cost Of Living Bonus

OTTAWA, Aug. 23 — (CP) — A cost-of-living bonus of $1.25 a month for each one-point increase in the cost of living from July 1 has been requested for federal government employees by the Civil Service Federation of Canada.

A brief submitted to the Civil Service Commission, now preparing a report on salaries for Finance Minister Abbott and the Treasury Board, urged that salaries of civil servants be increased by $284 a year to bring them into line with increases in the cost of living up to July 1. It asked that an additional $1.25 a month be paid for each one-point increase in the index after that date.

Scientists Cut Papermill Odor

VICTORIA, BC—(CP)—Scientific experiments on the Pacific coast may result in substantially reducing an objectionable odor from papermills that produce stiff kraft products.

Dr. S. E. Middigan of the British Columbia Research Council said that research on the oxidation of the "black liquor" which comes from the mills promises to remedy the situation, at least in part.

A semi-pilot test mill at Port Alberni has shown elimination of 90 to 100% of odorous materials, he said. Tests to be completed shortly will show how it actually reduces the smells.

Dr. Middigan said another important research success is the production of fuel gas from wood waste which has hitherto been burned. He said a process has been developed which will produce gas from 200 pounds of dry wood waste at an estimated cost of 29 cents compared with 39 cents for oil with equal heat value. As a by-product it also produces charcoal.

Shows Many Films To Troops In Korea

WITH THE CANADIANS IN KOREA—(CP)—George Voth of Edmonton and Chilliwack, BC, looks more like a boxer than a projectionist for the 25th infantry brigade group in Korea.

But Cpl. Voth, carrying a compact 189 pounds easily on a five-foot-seven frame, has been showing films to Canadians in Korea for more than seven months.

As the Canadians moved up and down the "fluid" Korean war front, so did Voth. Something like 756,000 feet of film have wound through his projector, unravelling 168 different stories of love, murder, comedy, sport and even of war for the troops.

Cpl. Voth trained as a projectionist in the army after the Second World War. He was with the film library in Edmonton for four years.

400-Pound Safe Taken By Thieves

WOODSTOCK, Aug. 23 (CP)—A 400-pound safe containing $350 in cash was carted away, probably in an automobile or truck, from the Simpson Order Office here early Wednesday.

A constable on patrol found the rear door forced and the safe gone. Nothing else in the store had been touched. A pair of gloves and a small pry bar had been left behind by the thieves.

"The Good Old Days" may have fond memories but none of us would want to return to the living standards of the high-button-shoe era. Today personal comfort is a 'must' . . . and old-fashioned ideas of 'good enough' just won't do. That's why NANCY BATHROOM TISSUE has won such an enthusiastic welcome in so many Canadian homes. Made of genuine Face-Elle facial quality tissue, it offers a luxurious softness and absorbency which has set a new high in personal comfort! It isn't just another bathroom tissue . . . it's a different kind of tissue that makes an important contribution to modern living standards. I'd be glad to send you a sample roll. Just drop me a note — Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q. — and enclose 15c in coin or postage stamps to cover mailing and handling costs.

Ask Any Doctor and he'll agree that every housefly you destroy helps to safeguard your family's health. You see, polio, typhoid and dysentery are only 3 of the many diseases spread by the filthy feet and bodies of these dangerous pests. So remember these simple precautions — keep doors and windows carefully screened; keep food and garbage covered; and every day spray every room with FLY-TOX. Yes, Fly-Tox is the finest of all insecticides . . . quick-killing, long lasting and inexpensively priced. Ask for either Fly-Tox Liquid Spray or the handy, economical Fly-Tox Aerosol Bomb — now available at your corner store!

Are You Busy Pickling? I hope it's not too late to tell you about the thriftiest way I know to buy pickling vinegar! Get HEINZ WHITE VINEGAR in the big gallon jug instead of in smaller containers and save 2½ cents on every cupful! And of course, you get more than economy when you buy this vinegar packed by the folks who made pickles famous! You get the full-bodied flavour and uniform strength so necessary for preserving the fresh taste, texture and colour of your pickles. So order Heinz White Vinegar by the gallon jug . . . you know it's good because it's Heinz! And, incidentally, if the gallon jug you buy doesn't have the FREE RECIPE BOOKLET — "Pickling Success" attached — just write to me for it — Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q.

Now's The Time to think about getting the youngsters ready for school in September. When you're making their back-to-school clothes, be sure they're easy to wear—easy for a child to get in and out of . . . use LIGHTNING SLIDE FASTENERS for convenience and safety! Just think!—no long hours of sewing on buttons—your young 'uns will be neat and tidy with no extra effort on your part! Lightning Fasteners take all manner of wear and tear—and they stay put! For Lightning is the zipper with the automatic lock—it locks where it stops with never a slip. Lightning Fasteners come in a wide variety of sizes and colours — ask for them, in the smart red and black package. Lightning was the first zipper—and it's still the best!

It Doesn't Cost you a penny more . . . to have your favourite breakfast cereal shot from guns to make it light 'n' fluffy! Yes, QUAKER PUFFED WHEAT is shot from guns! Premium grains of sun-ripened wheat are exploded up to eight times normal size to make 'em crisp and tender . . . and, wonder of wonders, Quaker Puffed Wheat costs less! Next time you're shopping, compare its price with the price of other breakfast cereals. It's a real money-saver, isn't it? And, mm-m-m . . . what a delicious dish! Serve Quaker Puffed Wheat to your family tomorrow—topped with luscious fresh peach slices . . . a light-hearted, delightful breakfast treat for a hot August morning!

"I Don't Avoid Mirrors like I used to when my hair was tattle-tale grey!" Marj said the other day. I'd told her what wonders NESTLE COLORTINT had worked for my greying hair so she tried it and she's delighted. Nestle Colortint is not a dye—yet it keeps greying hair a secret that only you need know! It hides greying hair with youthful, natural-looking color—lasts through three shampoos yet lathers out when you want it to. Nestle Colortint comes in 10 enchanting shades—6 capsules for just 39c. And to highlight the beauty of your hair—there's wonderful NESTLE COLORINSE. It rinses in—shampoos out—leaves your hair glossy and lovely to look at. 6 rinses—just 39c.

How Do They Think Of These Things? I have great admiration for the "inventor" of that marvellous "Yellow Quik" bag that BLUE BONNET MARGARINE comes in! Makes it so easy to make Blue Bonnet look as good as it tastes! All you do is press the colour button on the Yellow Quik bag—knead it gently—and in just two minutes, Blue Bonnet is golden-yellow, ready-to-use. And no dishes to wash up! You'll love that country-sweet, fresh Blue Bonnet flavour, too! And you'll like what Blue Bonnet does for your budget. There's no doubt about it—you get a lot for a little when you buy delicious Blue Bonnet Margarine in the handy Yellow Quik bag!

Labor Day? — not in my kitchen! I'm a member of the Afternoon-off Union, 'cause I've got a FRIGIDAIRE REFRIGERATOR that lets me do my whole week's shopping all at once — and a FRIGIDAIRE ELECTRIC RANGE that turns itself on and off to cook whole oven meals while I'm away. It's a wonderful feeling, girls. Why don't you join me? And don't think you can't afford to! Why with a Frigidaire Refrigerator, for example, you can actually save enough to meet the monthly payments! Better scurry 'round to your Frigidaire dealer's and let him prove this to you on the "Savings-Finder".

A Touch of Magic! . . . yes, the tangy, tantalizing flavour of lemons makes that much difference in the flavour of iced tea . . . particularly when the lemons used are SUNKIST CALIFORNIA LEMONS! Whether your warm-weather refreshment is iced tea or lemonade . . . do be sure to use these tangiest, juiciest of all lemons! I always keep a supply of Sunkist Lemons on hand these warm days. Then, when the heat "gets me down" I give myself a real lift with an icy glass of tea with Sunkist lemon wedges—or a glass or two of Sunkist lemonade. So zestful, taste-full and refreshing!

You Not Only LOOK Better — people also tell you so . . . when your skin is a warm, healthy, summertime colour! And here's just the thing for summer skin-beauty . . . TROPIC TAN to wear over your tan — or to make you look like a South Seas siren even if you're city-pale! Tropic Tan is the gorgeous, glamourous WOODBURY POWDER SHADE that honeys your skin to a deep warm gold! And because Woodbury is the powder with the foundation cream ingredient, it smooths your skin to velvet-softness — gives it a natural, not powdery look. And you'll love the lovely, crushed-flower fragrance of this fabulous face powder. Tropic Tan is just 23c, 45c and 75c . . . and the bright, sunny-red lipstick color to go with it . . . Woodbury's "Red Poppy" . . . perfect for a tropical temptress! . . . 23c and 55c!

Whew! Hot, Isn't It? . . . Just think of the cool luxury of a refreshing swim or shower. And you needn't give up these "Summer Comforts" on any day of the month when you use TAMPAX sanitary protection! Perfected by a doctor, Tampax is based on the well-known medical principle of internal absorption. Worn internally, it has no belts, pins or outside pads. Nothing to cause embarrassment in bathing suits! Try it yourself and see. . . . Made of highly absorbent cotton, Tampax is compressed in easy-to-use applicators. Easy to change and dispose of! Yes, Tampax means wonderful relief on a hot day . . . no extra warmth—no chafing—no odour. Be sure to ask for Tampax now—at drug and notion counters everywhere. It is sold in three absorbencies—Regular, Super and Junior.

G. W. Downer Captures 18 Firsts In Exhibition Flower Show

Although cold weather wasn't welcomed particularly by visitors on the opening day of the exhibition, flower exhibitors and flower lovers said they were all for it. They said it kept the blooms in good shape for display.

Top exhibitor in the open and amateur classes was G. W. Downer, 125 Morrow St., who took 18 firsts, 11 seconds, and seven thirds.

For the Aitken family of King George St., the flower show was a family affair. They won 11 firsts, nine seconds, and five thirds.

Other outstanding exhibitors were Mrs. C. H. Bacon, 697 Ross St. and the Rev. V. E. R. Zufelt of Omemee.

A display of cacti and succulents from Dundas, shown by Ben Veldhuis, drew the eyes of many of the visitors, as did the gladiolus display of the Kawartha Gardens.

To Visit RAF Cadets

LONDON, Aug. 23 (Reuters)—Air Secretary Arthur Henderson left Wednesday night for Canada to visit RAF cadets in training there. Henderson will spend nine days in Canada and will hold talks with government ministers. He said 350 cadets are training in the Dominion and altogether 700 will be trained there this year.

Gift For Italy

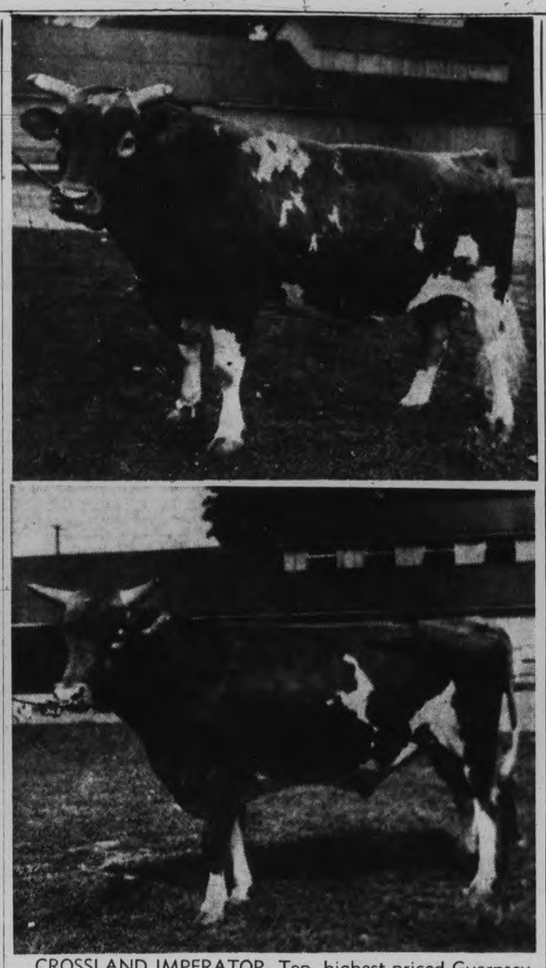
ROME, Aug. 23— (CP). — The first shipment of Canadian arms for Italy—enough for an entire military division — is scheduled to arrive at Naples Friday. Most of it is material left from the Second World War and is a gift from the Canadian Government. Italy is the fourth West European country to receive Canadian arms help from the Atlantic Treaty. The contribution to Italy was part of a $50,000,000 gift of arms and military aid.

World Polio Congress

NEW YORK, Aug. 23 (Reuters)—Plans to establish a permanent World Polio Congress were revealed by Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation who left Wednesday to attend the International Poliomyelitis Conference in Copenhagen, Denmark, opening September 2. "The new congress we envision would provide a pooling of knowledge on all phases of the disease and its treatment," he said.

Has Own Ensign

OTTAWA, Aug. 23 — (CP) — A Canadian ensign flies outside No. 24 Susesx St. when Prime Minister St. Laurent is at home. The new official residence for prime ministers, opened earlier this year, now flies the ensign when Mr. St. Laurent is "in residence". When he leaves town, the flag comes down.



CROSSLAND IMPERATOR, Top, highest priced Guernsey bull ever purchased or sold in Canada. Imperator was originally imported by a London breeder as a calf, at a price of $5,200. Crossland Farms later purchased the bull for $6,000. He can be seen in the cattle building at the west end of the Exhibition grounds. Smaller bull, Lower, is also one of the prized animals of the Crossland herd. He is Crossland's Imperator's Don. This bull won first prize as senior calf at the Markham fair in 1950, and won honourable mention in the All Canadian honors for a junior bull. He is also being shown at Peterborough's Industrial Exhibition.

"Finest Cup of Coffee I Ever tasted!"

You too really enjoy coffee—when it's good. With Nescafé you cut out the guess work. You can't fail to make good coffee and you can have a good cup any time you want it, instantly, and without fuss and bother. It can also be made just as easily in your coffee-server. Simply use one teaspoonful of Nescafé for each cup required then add as many cups of boiling hot water. Nescafé* is made for you by coffee experts from the world's finest coffee beans. So relax with a cup of Nescafé, and you too will say, "The finest cup of coffee I ever tasted."

NESCAFE

*Nescafé (pronounced NES-CAFAY) is the exclusive registered trade mark of Nestlé's Milk Products (Canada) Limited to designate its soluble coffee product which is composed of equal parts of pure soluble coffee and added pure carbohydrates (dextrins, maltose and dextrose) added solely to protect the flavor.

NO ESCAPE—The youth at right, a member of the German Communist youth group, F. D. J., is beaten by an East Berlin Communist policeman (center) and an accomplice (left) as he is dragged back into the Russian sector of Berlin. Like many East Berliners, he tried to flee into West Berlin, but was intercepted as he attempted to cross into the American sector. This is believed to be the first actual photo of such an incident.

Bees Of 1951 Do Good Job Turn Out High Grade Honey

Literally Ontario is a land flowing with milk and honey this season, by way of mentioning two dietary components recommended from biblical times.

You can take the milk for granted from the high dairy standards which have been established in this country. And, as for honey, Allen T. Brown told the Examiner today that the Exhibition display of the Central Ontario Honey Producers is a commercial example of apiarian quality credited to the bees of 1951.

That is not to belittle the bees of other years. They have to depend on the co-operation of nature and the weather. A great crop of sweet clover this season provided them with a bountiful store of nectar, and they came through not only with high quality but also with a heavy crop of honey.

The display of the Central Ontario Producers confirms attractively the general reports that have been heard in the last month or two about the 1951 yield from many sections of Canada. It is set up in the home products and fine arts building.

Most of the honey that is shown in this exhibit by a group of producers would classify at least as "water white" by government graders, and that's the apiarian apex, so Mr. Brown says. And the experienced consumer can see for himself the truth of that rating.

The bloom of the sweet clover provides high class honey. Alsike is another clover that helps the honey industry, and there is also the basswood bloom. Alfalfa might help, too, although not in quality with the white sweet clover, but forage practice today requires the cutting of alfalfa just as it is coming into flower.

Ages ago men discovered the merits of honey, but after all those centuries consumers appear to be divided into those who like honey and those who have missed that good and simple fortune.

Mr. Brown said that some families buy up to 100 pounds a year. During the couponing restrictions during the war some folks got up to 200 pounds, using part of that stock as a delectable substitute for sugar. That comment probably should be reversed to the effect that sugar has become a substitute for honey. The average home, rating honey high, takes 40 to 50 pounds out of the available supply. Most others are content with 20 to 25 pounds.

District bee-men have co-operated in the present display at the Exhibition as a first local effort, and for the benefit of those who do not yet appreciate honey and its virtues the bees have turned out for them this year a high class product.

Havelock Man Safe In Jamaica

HAVELOCK, Aug. 23 (ENS) — Mrs. W. T. Davies received word Wednesday from her husband, the Rev. W. T. Davies of Kingston, Jamaica, that he is safe and well after the recent tropical storm which struck that city a few days ago.

Mr. Davies went to Jamaica last January, and is serving as a minister of the Apostolic Church there. Mrs. Davies with their daughter Anne and infant son, William, who was born since Mr. Davies went to Jamaica will leave here in September to join her husband there.

Mr. Davies was minister of the Havelock Apostolic church for two years. He was educated at Aberdare, Glamorgan, South Wales, and served in Scotland for two years before coming to Canada. On arrival in this country he served in the Apostolic church at Montreal before coming to Havelock.

Frost Asks Talks Renewed

TORONTO, Aug. 23 — (CP) — Premier Frost has asked both parties in the Hollinger strike to renew negotiations to halt the six-week-old work stoppage, it was learned here Wednesday.

He also instructed Louis Fine, the province's chief conciliation officer, to contact company officials of the United Steelworkers of America (CIO-CCL), representing the striking miners, with a view to arranging further meetings.

The actions were taken after the Premier received a telegram from Pat Conroy, secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Congress of Labor, urging him to act as mediator in the dispute.

Two Girls Winners Queen's Scholarship

KINGSTON, Aug. 23—(CP)—Joan Greenleaf of St. Catharines and Jean Pickering of Newmarket Wednesday were awarded the Ontario scholarships at Queen's University. They will receive three years' tuition plus $100 a year.

The scholarships are given to attract to Queen's students of exceptional ability from all parts of Canada.

A special group of nine scholarships worth $915 each, bearing the names of former officers of the University, went, on the basis of Ontario matriculation examinations, to students now entering the university. Winners include:

Grant scholarship in history: Lois M. Scouten, Napanee.

Leitch scholarship in French: Sheila D. Nelson, Sault Ste. Marie.

Williamson scholarship in physics and chemistry: G. Dennis Murphy, Kirkland Lake.

Gordon scholarship in English: Honor to Lois M. Scouten, Napanee, award to E. Joan Cummings, Carleton Place.

No Cotton Allocation Necessary–Officials

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23—(AP)—The International Materials Conference announced Wednesday there is no need to allocate cotton and cotton linters during the 1951-52 season because of the favorable cotton crop prospect in the United States.

The decision was made by a 13-country committee of the conference after a review of worldwide cotton availabilities during the year beginning Aug. 1. Canada is a member of the committee.

It's here! Procter & Gamble's latest, great discovery!

NEW! PATENTED!

cheer

No matter what soap you're now using, cheer guarantees you a cleaner, whiter wash!

You're probably using a perfectly good soap now.

But because new CHEER is, beyond question, an important improvement in washing products, you owe it to yourself to try new CHEER—at least once.

And the very first time you do use it, you'll see, at every washing step, how new Cheer works to give you a cleaner, whiter wash than any soap you ever knew . . . even in the hardest water!

Also available in the giant economy size.

Next washday, you be the judge!

1. Prove Cheer's Guarantee— IN YOUR WASHING MACHINE!

You'll find new CHEER isn't just another washing product, but the grandest help a woman ever had to do her wash. You'll watch thick, long-lasting suds spring up in a flash . . . see them work to remove, not only toughest, greasiest dirt, but also the dulling film left on clothes by soap-washings! And without bleaches, bluing or water softeners.

2. Prove Cheer's Guarantee— ON YOUR WASHLINE!

When you rinse and wring out, you'll hang up a wash so clean and white it fairly shimmers on the line. You'll see your clothes dry so soft and fluffy, so fresh and sweet-smelling, you'll want to hug them! And you'll discover new CHEER is safe for colored washables, kind to hands.

3. Prove Cheer's Guarantee— ON YOUR IRONING BOARD!

You'll find your clothes iron beautifully—gleam white and bright as the iron sails over them. CHEER leaves no soap film to yellow under the iron's heat! They're cleaner, whiter than any soap will get them! If you don't agree, just mail the CHEER box top to Procter & Gamble and get your money back.

P.S. Wonderful for NO-RINSE WASHING too!

If you wash without rinsing, no washing product on earth can give you a cleaner wash than CHEER. CHEER will give you the cleanest no-rinse wash that it's possible to get.

Try cheer once... and you'll cheer forever!

Larry Parks Idle Since Testifying

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 23 (AP) —What has happened to Larry Parks?

I called at his house to find out the answer. Little has been heard about Parks since he testified before the House of Representatives Un-American Committee last March that he had joined the Communist party in 1941 and dropped out in 1946.

I record his replies verbatim:

Q: Have you done any work since you testified

A: No.

Q: Why not.

A: Because there have been no offers for my services. You know how Hollywood is.

Q: What about your plans to produce a picture with your own company? Did you have the backing?

A: Yes, we had backing. But if you can't get work for any other producer, it's pretty risky to make a picture on your own.

Q: What do you plan for the future?

A: I don't know. I have thought about other lines of work, but the movies have been my chief occupation for the last 10 years. I suppose I will have to decide about the future soon. I've never worried about how I'd get along, but you have to think about it when you have two kids.

Q: What kind of mail did you get about your testimony?

A: I received about 575 letters and only 14 were derogatory.

Gen. Eisenhower Wants Canadians Soon

By DOUGLAS HOW

OTTAWA, Aug. 23 (CP)—Gen. Eisenhower would like to see Canadian troops in Europe this year. Present signs are that he will get his wish.

Parliament, due to resume sittings Oct. 9, is expected to be asked for early approval of movement of the army's 27th Brigade Group to Germany before snow flies.

An RCAF fighter squadron, forerunner of an 11-squadron air division, would leave about the same time as the soldiers, probably in October or November.

With these movements, Canada's manpower commitments for the great Atlantic Pact experiment in deterring war through strength applied at a strategic spot would be really on their way to fulfilment.

So far as is known, no final decision about the movement to Europe has been made by cabinet but the question is very much in the wind. The army is anxious for definite orders, one way or the other, and has advised that the brigade should move either this fall or next spring, not during the winter.

Expensive Proposal

LONDON — (CP)—Only the wealthy can afford to be married at St. Paul's Cathedral or Westminster Abbey. Weddings in the Abbey cost upwards of £100 and at St. Paul's the red carpet alone costs £100.

Police Seek Slayer

DRESDEN, Aug. 23—(CP)—Provincial Police here said Wednesday night they were concentrating their search in this district for the slayer of Grant Wallace, 37-year-old Second World War veteran. Wallace's strangled body was pulled from the Sydenham River near here on Friday.

President Of Exhibition As Boy In 1916 Showed Sheep When G. A. Gillespie Prexy

President Norm McConkey recalled to the Examiner at the Exhibition this morning that when as a boy he first exhibited registered Oxford sheep back in 1916, that was the first year of the presidency of George A. Gillespie, now secretary-manager.

"What I specially remember is that the president of the Exhibition gave me such fine encouragement as a first time exhibitor that I felt I would always want to be an exhibitor the rest of my life, whether I could or not. Mr. Gillespie was then speaking as a man and also president to a boy, and I have always thought of it with grateful feeling.

"I can recall also that the other exhibitors of Oxford sheep were Hy Curtis of Warkworth and W. L. Holdsworth of Cobourg. They were both prominent sheep breeders of Northumberland county."

Charged With Arson

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 23 (CP)—John McGuffin, 35, Wednesday was charged with arson in connection with a fire Tuesday that destroyed the 10-by-12-foot shack home of Frank Heam, a gardener. McGuffin was remanded until Aug. 28 and released on $1,000 bail.

Bailieboro WI Holds Grandmothers' Party

BAILIEBORO, Aug. 23 (ENS)—Mrs. W. C. Steinkrauss, president of the Local Council of Women of Peterborough on Tuesday gave a very inspiring address on "Our Own Canada" at the "Grandmothers' Party" under the auspices of the Bailieboro Women's Institute.

Mrs. Russell Kidd presided for the program and called on Miss Anne Stewart for a solo; Mrs. E. Grey for a reading and Mrs. W. Smith for a reading.

Prizes were given during the afternoon to:

"Most recent grandmother"—Mrs. George Beebe.

"Oldest grandmother"— Mrs. Janet Dawson.

"Grandmother with most granddaughters"—Mrs. M. Rutherford.

"Grandmother whose birthday nearest August 21"—Mrs. H. Beebe.

"Great - grandmother whose wedding day nearest August 21"—Mrs. J. Dawson.

Lucky chair—Mrs. Jim Wood.

Contest prizes to—Mrs. W. Smith, Mrs. H. Campbell, Mrs. J. Heaslep, Mrs. R. Eagleson.

Lunch was served at the close.

Great-grandmothers' included—Mrs. J. Heaslip, Mrs. J. Dawson and Mrs. M. Rutherford of Peterborough.

Grandmothers — Mrs. Frank Brown of Roseneath; Mrs. Brisbin of Cobourg, Mrs. Percy Barnard, Mrs. M. Rutherford of Peterborough, Mrs. Luck, Mrs. W. Gaynor, Mrs. George Beebe, Mrs. Harold Beebe, Mrs. Stuart Thompson, Mrs. G. Nurse, Mrs. Alf. Anderson, Mrs. W. C. Wood, Mrs. Chas. Dawson, Mrs. D. Rutherford, Mrs. Reg. Perrin, Mrs. Lightle, Mrs. James Whittington, Mrs. S. Fallis, Mrs. W. Bateman, Mrs. Everett Wood.

SEVEN-YEAR-OLD Jimmy Lucas of Toronto, got lost in Baltimore when he strayed from the home of relatives he was visiting. But he didn't panic, even with the realization that he couldn't remember the address. With calm detachment, he approached a policeman and asked to be put on television on the chance that people living in the neighborhood he was visiting would see him on their sets. It worked and Jimmy's safe at home again. He's shown here being 'shot' on television by camerman Charles E. Rappold.

Federation Honors Retired Teacher

TORONTO, Aug. 23—(CP)—A retired woman teacher from London, Ont., Wednesday night received the highest honor in her profession. The Federation of Women Teachers' Associations of Ontario presented Clare Brenton, one of North America's best-known specialists in primary education, with an honorary membership.

Four other outstanding woman teachers were similarly honored including Etta Holmes, a principal in Oshawa 29 years.

Alberta Will Harvest Biggest Grain Crops

EDMONTON, Aug. 23—(CP)—Provincial agriculture officials said Wednesday that with any decent breaks from frost and wet weather Alberta will harvest the biggest grain crops in its history.

Almost 170,000,000 bushels of wheat, 130,000,000 bushels of oats and 110,000,000 bushels of barley are predicted this year.

Officials said the crop right now is in almost perfect condition. They are counting on the farmers to find extra storage space until shipping facilities can be arranged.

Safeguard Your Children By Choosing Baby Sitter With Care

REALIZING THE IMPORTANCE of exercising caution in choosing and instructing those who are to care for her youngsters in her absence, this wise young mother (upper left) takes time for a leisurely explanation of important information jotted on blackboard. This insures against some of the woes that may befall time-watching father and anxious mother (upper right), who are inviting trouble with their hurried goodbyes to baby and inadequate instructions to too-young sitter. Mature sitter (lower left) devotes her full attention to keeping child safe and happy, while irresponsible girl (lower right) lets infant upstairs cry unheeded while she noisily entertains male caller.

Most Canadians are pretty careful people when it comes to safeguarding their property. They check their hats when dining, insure their bags when travelling, and burglar-proof their homes against night-time prowlers. But when it comes to their most precious possessions—their children—arrangements are likely to be somewhat hit or miss. Almost any community can cite its own baby-sitter scare story to prove this point.

Extremists, reviewing this sorry situation, are likely to scream "parental negligence," and let it go at that, whereas cynics mutter these things can't be helped as long as mothers and fathers want around.

Product of Modern Living

The National Safety Council, however, takes a broader view. Baby-sitting, they realize, is a product of modern living, since few households today include the elderly aunts or spinster cousins who performed this chore in another era.

Almost any young parents today, if they are to have any freedom of movement at all, must occasionally call in an outsider. Recognizing this necessity, the safety organization has instituted a program for helping parents safeguard their offspring in their absence. There are numerous things mothers and fathers can do to take their away-from-home hours out of the crossed-finger division.

The first rule, of course, is to choose a sitter in whom the parents have confidence. It's best to employ someone you actually know, or someone recommended by a friend whose judgment you respect. Make sure, too, the sitter is old enough, both in years and experience, to respond to the very real responsibility you are imposing upon her.

Avoid frantic, last-minute arrangements. The first time a new sitter is engaged, you'll find it pays off to ask her to pay a preview call at your home so that both you and your children may become acquainted with her.

For her first sitting appointment, as well as for subsequent ones, ask her to arrive a few minutes before you're scheduled to leave the house. If you're standing ready with your hat and coat, impatiently tapping your foot, and dash out the minute she enters the front door, you're inviting calamity. It's better to arrive five minutes late for your engagement than to give your children the feeling you're tossing them into the first arms that present themselves.

Hasty verbal directions, poured out in a flood while she's taking off her coat, will not do the trick. Either have them written out in advance, or jot them down in her presence, explaining exactly what you mean.

Emergency Instructions

A small blackboard, of the type that's kept in many nurseries, is excellent for this purpose. Information should include address and telephone number of your destination, the name and telephone of another responsible adult should she for any reason be unable to reach you there, your doctor's name and telephone number and possibly police and firemen's numbers.

Take time to explain to her exactly what your child's routine is and the way in which you customarily conduct it. Many an infant has refused his supper and gone to bed hungry simply because his mother forgot to mention to the sitter that he refused to eat cereal unless brown sugar was sprinkled on it.

When there's food or medicine to be given, specify amounts. Caution her about the temperature of the formula bottle, and if there's a bath scheduled, tell her about the elbow method of testing the heat of the water.

Make a point, too, of letting your sitter know exactly what you expect of her. Chances are, you won't approve of her having her current swain calling at your home while she's tending your child. Tell her this is taboo to forestall any claims she might later make that she didn't realize you'd mind. This should be handled tactfully, however.

Try to put yourself in her place, when you're deciding just what to tell your sitter. Remember, she's a stand-in trying to play, with no rehearsal, a stellar role in your household. It's your job to give her the proper cues.

Of Interest to Women

Blind Widow In Competition

TORONTO—(CP)—Mrs. Eva Bamber of Hamilton won't be able to see her knitted socks and cushion with crocheted flowers on display at the Canadian National Exhibition.

The 67-year-old widow, blind, deaf and partially crippled, is one of the 75 blind men and women exhibiting handicrafts in the women's building at the big fair.

Altogether 230 articles are entered by members of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind. Alma McIntosh of Kitchener, took first prize last year with a handmade dressed china doll. This year she is showing stuffed animals and baby clothes.

Young, chairman, and Mrs. Young, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Miller, and Col. and Mrs. J. A. Dewart. After dinner the guests drove to the Exhibition grounds to attend the grandstand performance and official opening of the fair by Mr. Goodfellow. The procession was greeted at the park gate by the Citizens' Band.

Baking Exhibits Few At 'Ex' Blame Cost Of Ingredients

Exhibits are few in the domestic science class at the Exhibition this year and the high cost of living is considered to blame. The committee has concluded that housewives feel the prize money is not sufficiently tempting to risk the cost of ingredients for a good cake or pie which cannot be eaten. It is therefore considering the future possibility of offering a small sum in cash to reimburse exhibitors, as well as re-consideration of the prize money offered.

Prizes for baked goods went mostly to women of the district, but such is not the case in the home crafts division. Two women taking much of the prize money live in Regina; several others with entries in more than half the sections live out of the Peterborough range for shopping, etc., yet they are taking most of the local prize money. Added to what they realize by exhibiting the same articles at all other fairs they can reach, they are making a nice income each season.

Mrs. Gordon K. Fraser, chairman of the Home Department, is asking for suggestions on how to improve things another year, and will be happy to receive letters during the next few months. If some pressure is brought to bear on the committee it might be arranged to have some sections of the prize list closed to other than local entries. Women of the county could surely be induced to spend the long winter evenings preparing exhibits for their local fair if assured they would not be competing with "ringers."

An example of what can be accomplished locally with no previous experience is in the exhibit of children's work done at the playgrounds this summer, displayed by Recreation Commission. This is really worthwhile for every parent to see.

Public demonstration of handcrafts, leather, pottery, weaving and metal is being presented daily for fair visitors and is attracting considerable interest.

The fine arts section is crowded this year and the work is excellent. This is due to the activity of several organized art groups in the city.

Prizewinners in the two classes for women are as follows:

DOMESTIC SCIENCE, CLASS 44

COLORLESS HEIRS

Color-blindness is believed to be transmitted from grandfather to grandson in the male line of a family.

YOUNG EDITOR

George Thomas Lanigan became editor of The Montreal Star in 1869 when he was 23 years old.

Fashion Flashes

A GREAT DEAL of thought has gone into the foundation garments to be shown this fall. Such shades as orchid and mimosa yellow with touches of ecru or black appear in one line, with matching bras. Much elasticized lace is used, and there are fanciful lace overlays. Bras are of lace over net.

✧ ✧ ✧

RISING to new distinction, after something of an eclipse, is the good little black dress for late afternoon wear. Black silk taffeta for one dress that has a demure little crystal-beaded collar that hugs the throat, a basque bodice, and a skirt composed of five finely pleated tiers.

✧ ✧ ✧

A LATE STARTER for bridging the sartorial seasons is the simple suit or two-piece dress of black silk crepe with a tiny woven motif, usually a small rosebud in red and green or a tiny violet bouquet. Jackets are softly fitted, skirts moderately full, to make for a slim, yet easy silhouette.

TWO DOORS FROM THE ODEON THEATRE

False Glamor Surrounds Old Sweetheart

Dorothy Dix

DEAR MISS DIX: Seven years ago I was very much in love, but we parted and both have since married. Now my sweetheart of old has come back into my life. He wants me to go out with him, and says he still loves me. I love him, too, and don't want to lose him again. Should I continue seeing him now, or wait until he gets his freedom?

ESTHER

ANSWER: My advice is short and to the point! Send him back to his wife and forget you ever saw him again! Don't say you can't do it, that you can't forget him! Decency and prudence have no other course. You're just building romantic castles in the air out of nothing. Come down to earth and look facts in the face. You're a day-dreamer, Esther, and while occasional dreams are fun, it is the reality of everyday existence that forms our lives.

Renounce Him

By creating a big renunciation scene, you'll be able to spend the rest of your life with a slightly shattered heart, which will give heroic stature to the humdrum days ahead. This will be a good deal more satisfactory than breaking up two homes, and embarking on a second marriage that will, itself, be broken before too long. Two unstable people cannot make a satisfactory home, and both you and your sweetheart are too vacillating to make a worthy attempt at settling down.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a girl of 19, engaged to a boy 22. We have been going together for three years and are very much in love. He is very kind and I know he would make a good husband. My mother, however, does not approve of him. She would like me to marry a professional man with no family ties. My boy friend works in a dairy, never finished high school, and has his mother to support. I don't think I could ever learn to like his mother. Another problem is that I want to start at the university this fall. I plan to be an art teacher. If I decide to marry next spring I probably won't finish the course. Is our love strong enough to conquer these difficulties or will they, as our friends believe, conquer us?

ANSWER: "Love conquers all," you know and it is more than just the title of a play. You do have a lot of difficulties to overcome, and some of them may easily lead to trouble after marriage. I think you should postpone your wedding until you finish your university course. This seems like a long time, but I agree with your friends, you probably won't finish if you marry earlier. Having a profession such as you will be trained for is an asset not to be lightly discarded.

Another obstacle that deserves long and careful thought on your part is your future mother-in-law. Since your boy friend is her sole support, you will probably have to share your home with her. The uncongeniality existing between you both will certainly not be conducive to a harmonious home.

Continue your education, and give careful thought to your other problems which are not trivial ones.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a young widow with a 6-year-old son. I have been going steadily with an older professional man for several years. He is separated from his family. He takes me out occasionally but most of the time just makes himself completely at home at my house, where he eats most of his meals. I care for him, but he says he can't get a divorce because the resultant scandal would be detrimental to his professional standing. What do you think his intention towards me are?

LAURA

ANSWER: Your friend's intentions are simply to make things as easy and pleasant for himself as possible. He'll enjoy the hospitality of your home and your cheerful companionship as long as convenient, then—well, you can just worry about yourself! This may seem a callous summing up of the situation, but it's better for you to face the bitter truth now than wait for a tragic disillusionment later.

Homemade Pickles Can Be Most Profitable

By MARY MOORE

If there were more people in our family who liked pickles, you people would get more pickle recipes. But I feel selfish when I make pickles for I am the only regular pickle eater present. Even Pete the Eater can take 'em or leave 'em. (I talked to him in Oregon today — he is due to leave for home and, while I alibi and say I called because I want him to make a stopover in Vancouver, I really called because I wanted to hear his voice — as if you hadn't guessed.)

The recipes I have chosen for you this time are ones I like especially well and that I can recommend. If they do not happen to be the ones you were hoping I would give you, write to me and if you can wait three weeks you do not need to enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Tomato-Catsup-With-a-Ping

Two 6-quart baskets of ripe but firm tomatoes, ½ cup salt, 1½ or two tablespoons freshly ground black pepper, 2 tablespoons ground giner, 2 teaspoons cayenne pepper (reduce this or leave it out if you care to), 4 tablespoons dry mustard, ½ pint spirit or malt vinegar. Wash the tomatoes, then cut them up and bring to boiling point, stirring most of the time. Let simmer until soft then put through strainer, pressing to save all but the seeds. Add the remaining ingredients which have been stirred into the vinegar, and let the whole thing boil at lowest possible heat for 2 hours. Watch carefully to prevent burning. Pour into sterile jars or bottles and seal while boiling hot.

Simple Nine-Day Pickles

(The leftover vinegar-syrup from this pickle often stands me in good stead. If I do not have enough lemon juice or vinegar to make mayonnaise I take some from the pickle crock. It is also good for basting baked ham, or for flavoring tomato jelly moulds.)

Six-quart basket of 3 or 3½-inch gherkins or larger cucumbers cut in 1½-inch chunks. 2/3 cup salt, 3 lbs. sugar.

Syrup: One-half gallon vinegar, 4 tablespoons each dry mustard and salt and sugar, 3 tablespoons whole pickling spices, and if desired piece of alum size of hickory nut. Wash and dry the cucumbers. Cover with boiling water then add the salt, and mix in with hand or wooden spoon and let stand 24 hours. Drain and dry each pickle. Boil the ingredients for the syrup and then let cool and pour over the dried cucumbers in a large crock. Add 1 cup of sugar every day until sugar is used up — that is the 3 lbs. in the above recipe. The cups should be scant so this takes nine days — so the pickles will be truly named! Let pickles stand in the crock in as cold a place as possible without freezing. They should be well covered with a thick cloth and a plate or very heavy parchment paper under plate.

Favourite Mustard Bean Pickle

One peck of fresh wax beans, 3 pints malt vinegar, 6 cups brown sugar, 1 cup mustard, 1 cup flour, 2 tablespoons turmeric, 2 tablespoons celery seed. Cook the beans until three-quarters tender in salted water to cover. Drain. Mix together the flour, mustard, turmeric, aid celery seed with a little of the specified vinegar to make a paste. Add the remaining vinegar and stir over low heat until thick. Pour over the beans in kettle, bring to boiling point, stirring and bottle while boiling hot. Seal.

NOTE.—Beans may be cut or not as desired.

Let me know what other pickle recipes you want to see in this column.

6—In Memoriam

DUCKER—In remembrance of mother, Minnie Jane Ducker, who died two years ago today at 23 Otter Ave., Toronto.

Today recalls sad memories,
Of a dear mother gone to rest.
And the one who thinks of her today
Is the one who loved her best.
—Lovingly remembered by her son Bill and daughter-in-law and her grandchildren.

GRAVELLE—In loving memory of my husband, Henry Gravelle, who passed away one year ago today, Aug. 23, 1950.
I think of him in silence,
His name I oft recall,
There is nothing left to answer
But his picture on the wall.
—Sadly missed by his wife, Ida.

GRAVELLE—In loving memory of our dear dad, Henry Gravelle, who died Aug. 23, 1950.
Nothing can ever take away
The love a heart holds dear,
Fond memories linger every day,
Remembrance keeps him near.
—Always remembered by sons Harry, Gilbert, Peter and Phillip and daughters Della, Alberta, Eleanor and Cecelia.

7—Cards of Thanks

I wish to thank all friends and neighbours who sent gifts, cards and flowers and those who helped in any way during my recent accident. — Mrs. Allan Tucker, RR 2, Peterborough.

The family of the late W. Edgar Wood, wish to thank attending doctor, Rev. H. B. Harrington, Rev. E. W. Rowland, relatives, friends and neighbours for the floral tributes, expressions of sympathy and kindness shown at the time of their recent sad bereavement.—Elizabeth, Jean and Stanley.

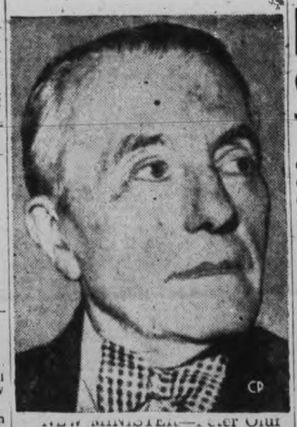
Makes Second Trip To Teach In Korea

VANCOUVER—(CP)—For the second time in six years the Rev. Dr. William Scott has left Vancouver to start life anew in war-shattered Korea.

He first went to Korea in 1914 with the Rev. Dr. E. J. C. Fraser, who also accompanied him on the latest voyage. Dr. Scott was interned by the Japanese in 1942 and evacuated in an exchange of civilian prisoners.

When he first returned in 1945 he found the Communists had taken over his school and burned his home at Hamhong in North Korea. Last year the new Korea invasion forced him from the United Church theological college at Seoul.

Now he intends to do relief work near Pusan in South Korea but hopes to be able to return soon to Seoul to rebuild the college there. His wife however is staying in Toronto until women civilians are again allowed in Korea.



NEW MINISTER—Chef Olaf Treschow, new Danish minister to Canada, is scheduled to arrive in Ottawa this weekend to take up his new post. He succeeds G. B. Holler.

Set Up Clinic For Ringworm

SAULT STE. MARIE, Aug. 23 (CP)—An X-ray therapy clinic will open here Aug. 31 in a final effort to stamp out a ringworm epidemic that has plagued some 1,400 Sault children for 18 months.

Dr. N. C. Crang, Sudbury radiologist, will supervise the treatments until 200 remaining cases have been taken care of.

Dr. J. E. Gimby, Sault medical officer of health, said today that X-ray equipment at the Plummer Memorial Hospital had been approved for the treatment by Dr. Crang.

Dr. Gimby added that although the therapy does not kill the ringworm germ, it causes hair in the treated area to fall out within 18 to 21 days, thus freeing the scalp of the disease.

The Sault Board of Health decided Aug. 16 to pay costs of converting the hospital equipment after turning down an Ontario Department of Health suggestion that the children be sent to Sudbury for treatment.

Patients will be charged for the treatment, with board help in cases of need. Total cost is expected to range between $5,000 and $6,000.

May Make Leap Saturday—McFadden

NEW YORK, Aug. 23—(AP)—Bernard MacFadden's plan to parachute over Niagara Falls is "definite," says an aide of the 83-year-old physical culturist.

He may take the leap Saturday, said Edward Bodin.

MacFadden picked out the spot for the jump last Sunday while on an airplane flight over the Niagara Gorge just below the falls, Bodin added.

The physical culturist and publisher made his first parachute jump on his 81st birthday. He planned to make another leap over the falls, on his 83rd birthday last week. But he postponed the feat to await the right kind of weather, Bodin said.

$390,000 Bylaw

Estimated assessments and population for the Norwood High School district are:

	Assessmts.	Popltn.
Asphodel	$ 1,101,869	1,288
Belmont and Methuen	535,150	1,400
Hastings	343,554	850
Havelock	413,374	1,200
Norwood	363,549	921
Otonabee	2,451,525	3,092
Percy	980,000	2,200
Total	6,188,921	10,951

The average population of slightly more than 1,500 will allow a capital and transportation grant of 75 per cent, according to the grant regulations.

If the school costs $390,000 on which grants are paid by the Department of Education up to $360,000, the annual debenture payment will be approximately $28,000, plus $2,200. The grant of 75 per cent applies on the $28,000 which leaves $7,175 for the municipalities to share.

In addition the municipalities must pay the $2,200 which is the payment due on $30,000 over and above the $360,000 on which grants are paid.

The total debenture would be $9,395. The assessment per capita taking total populations and total assessment, comes to $590 which would give a grant of $124 per pupil.

Estimating the enrolment at 275 the maintenance grant would be $34,000. The cost of operating the school with 275 pupils, including teachers' salaries, caretaker, heat, light, insurance and water, is estimated at $46,000. This would leave about $12,000 to be raised by levy.

Transportation Costs

An estimated 200 pupils will be transported to the school at an average cost of $100 per year per pupil, making a total cost of $20,000. The grant of 75 per cent would then apply on this $20,000, leaving $5,000 to be raised by levy.

Deducting from this $5,000 a grant of $2,000 on the number of school sections in the district reduces the transportation cost to $3,000.

Therefore the total cost to be raised by levy would be: debenture, $9,500; mainteance, $12,000; transportation, $3,000; total, $24,500.

The total actual assessment of the district is approximately $2,900,000 which raises about $2,900 per mill. This gives a rate of 8.3 mills over the district and includes debenture, maintenance and transportation costs.

Hastings Soil Survey Begun

A complete survey of the soils of Hastings county is already under way, Oliver Dalrymple, agricultural representative, Stirling, reports.

The two men armed with suitcases and shovels are: J. E. Gillespie of the field husbandry branch of Central Experimental Farm, and William Pelton who it attached to the soils department of OAC.

"The purpose is to make a study of the profile and nature of the soil, and eventually their report will be available to anyone interested in Hastings land. They have covered a considerable acreage to date, and farmers of the county may expect to see them some time this fall."

Mr Dalrymple says it is all right to ask questions of the soil surveyors, "but please do not monopolize their time for they certainly have a big job to do, and we know they are capable of doing it."

Legion Decides Meet In Sudbury

CORNWALL, Aug. 23—(CP)—Delegates to the 17th biennial convention of the Canadian Legion's Ontario Command voted Wednesday night to hold their 1953 convention at Sudbury.

Concluding their four-day sessions here, delegates elected officers and approved five committee reports and 30 resolutions.

They criticized the Canadian National Railways for its refusal to pay railway service pensions to ex-service personnel currently receiving veterans' pensions.

Delegates recommended that pensions should be free from any economic means test or any standards other than the degree of pensioner's disability.

Major Pat Biggs, secretary, reported a four-per-cent decrease in Command membership during 1950. Membership for the first seven months of this year totalled 46,046. It was expected the year's final figure would exceed last year's 65,505 total.

Last year's poppy campaign netted the Command a $24,570 profit.

Guild Gets Permission Prosecute Press News

OTTAWA, Aug. 23 (CP).—The American Newspaper Guild (CIO-CCL), has been given leave to prosecute The Canadian Press and its subsidiary Press News, Ltd., under the Federal Labor Code, a Labor Department official said today.

The union, certified as bargaining agent for units of editorial employees in the companies, applied last May for permission to prosecute, charging the companies with failing to bargain collectively within the meaning of the Industrial Relations and Disputes Investigation Act.

Permission to prosecute had to be obtained from Labor Minister Gregg.

60 Dutch Families Building Church

BROCKVILLE, Aug. 23 (CP)—Long without a place to worship, some 60-odd Brockville and district Dutch families are building themselves a church near this Eastern Ontario city.

Facing on the Toronto-Montreal highway, the church will be of the Bethel Christian Reformed Movement, analogous with the Presbyterian sect in Canada.

There has been difficulty in the past when the new Dutch families found it difficult to follow English services. The new church will offer services in both Dutch and English.

Morrison To Lead British Delegation

LONDON, Aug. 23 (Reuters)—Foreign Minister Herbert Morrison will lead a 24-man delegation to the Japanese peace treaty conference which opens in San Francisco Sept. 4.

Morrison will reach San Francisco by air Sept. 5 until he arrives the British delegation will be led by State Minister Kenneth Younger, who with most of the delegation will fly from London by way of New York Aug. 31 or Sept. 1.

Steeplejack Killed In Head-on Crash

SUDBURY, Aug. 23 — (CP) — Steve Petryna, 34 - year - old steeplejack, was killed, and another man was injured seriously in a head-on truck crash 30 miles east of here early today.

Harry Dumontelle, 42, building contractor returning to Sudbury from Mattawa with Petryna, suffered multiple lacerations to the head and legs and shock.

A light truck driven by Dumonville collided with a four-ton truck driven by Elmer Corriveau, Lavigne, en route home from Manitoulin Island.

YOUNG BRITONS EN ROUTE HOME—Bringing to an end a three-week tour of Canada, 40 British schoolboys, all between the ages of 17-19, left Montreal for Quebec recently to make ready for the sail home. The boys' trip was sponsored by the Rhodes Canada Educational Trusts which was founded in 1938 by Mr. W. H. Rhodes, a Yorkshire industrialist of Brantford. The object of the tours is to foster the spirit of friendship between the youth of Canada and Great Britain. In the photo above Mr. R. G. M. MacDougal, master in charge of the boys, and some of the 40 visiting lads wave goodbye to Canada.

"Miss Michigan" In Drug Case

LANSING, Mich., Aug. 23 (AP). —Peggy Ellsworth, "Miss Michigan" of 1947, appeared as star witness Wednesday before a legislative committee studying the narcotics problem in Michigan. She said it is "absolutely ridiculous" for anyone to contract the narcotics habit.

"I thought I'd find out what it was all about," she said. "I thought I was strong enough to stop, but I wasn't."

She said she had cured herself by "holing up" alone in Northern Michigan and depriving herself of drugs. "It was agony," she said.

"If my notoriety serves any good purpose, it is to warn others."

A former Detroit cab driver, sentenced as an addict, said he quit his job and turned to armed robbery to obtain drugs. A Detroit negro, also a convicted addict, estimates he staged more than 100 holdups to get money for dope and spent between $50 and $100 a day for his supply.

Work Delayed As Cage Sticks

TIMMINS, Aug. 23 (CP). — Work at the Aunor mine here halted tmporarily Wednesday night when a cage carrying the cage-tender and his helper stuck at the 2,300-foot level.

John Findlay, Aunor manager, said today all men who were underground at the time of the accident, including the two men in the cage, were brought safely to the surface shortly after midnight. No one was injured.

Cause of the mishap was undetermined. Men on the day shift were notified not to report for work today.

EASY DOES IT—The Royal Navy submarine Artful, sister ship of the ill-fated Affray which sank in the English Channel earlier this year, edges into its pier at Halifax as it arrives for several months training exercises with the Canadian Navy. Prior to its arrival, the sub collided with a Nova Scotia fishing vessel off Lockport.

Will Lay Off 2,000 Workers

WINDSOR, Aug. 23 — (CP).— A darkening economic picture worried this automotive city today following an announcement that 2,000 Ford of Canada employees will be laid off August 31.

The layoff will bring to 3,460 the number removed from Ford's payroll since Federal credit restrictions started last spring. It means a payroll drop of about $250,000 a week.

Windsor merchants braced themselves for possible layoffs in feeder plants which, before Ford layoffs started, employed 7,000 men.

Rhys M. Sale, Ford president, announced in a statement Tuesday that 2,000 workers would be laid off indefinitely at the end of the month, and that the remaining employees would go on a 32-hour week.

"The simple fact is that we cannot go on making cars and trucks faster than we can sell them," Mr. Sale said. "There is no doubt credit restrictions and high taxes triggered a swifter collapse of demand than anyone had expected."

BRUCE BROWNSTEIN, seven-year-old Philadelphia youngster, takes a two-fisted grip on a wrench as he works on a drain pipe under a bathroom sink after he was granted an official city plumber's junior apprentice card. Bruce showed up in the office of the city plumbing inspector and asked him for a licence "because my Dad's a plumber and I want to be one too." He was granted the card with the provision that he make good marks in school.

Silk Grattan Wins 2:15 Class

Opening day harness races at the exhibition saw out-of-town horses taking most of the money.

In the 2:26 class in the evening, The Admiral, owned by P. J. Davey of Westport, took three firsts. An Arnprior horse, Spud Volo, owned by Dr. J. Finlay, took three seconds in the same class.

A Peterborough horse, two-year-old Lady Victoria, showed her heels to the others in the afternoon 2:30 class, taking two firsts and a second. She is owned by Dr. Art. Johnston.

The 2:15 class in the evening, the best race of the day, was won by Silk Grattan, owned by Clint Hodgson of Haliburton.

Woodstock Paper Uses Teletypesetter

TORONTO, Aug. 23 — (CP).— Teletypesetter transmission of The Canadian Press news report was extended to Woodstock today, completing the initial group of daily newspapers receiving the report over the first circuit of its kind in Canada.

The circuit opened May 14 to Welland, Chatham and Sarnia. Subsequently, Oshawa, Kirkland Lake, Timmins, Galt and Guelph were added. Addition today of Woodstock, the ninth point, completes the group.

Teletypesetter is an automatic typesetting device, through which copy punched on coded tape in a central location may be set up in several distant newspaper offices automatically.

Hayes Holds Batawa To Four Hits, Four Runs

BROCKVILLE, Aug. 23 (CP). —Lefty Jim Hayes of Brockville chalked up his seventh win of the season Wednesday night as he set down Batawa Shoemen on four hits for a 6-4 victory. Brockville Memos, leaders of the Central Ontario League scored their two winning runs in the final inning.

Art Pierce, Brockville right-fielder, slammed out a triple and a double to score three runs.

Keeping It Secret

NEW DELHI, Aug. 23 (AP)— Whether India will take part in the San Francisco conference on the Japanese peace treaty remained a closely-guarded secret today. Informants said the cabinet reached a decision on the question Wednesday night, but Foreign Office sources refused to comment. (A source close to the Indian delegation to the United Nations said Wednesday that India has decided to attend the talks.)

Heavy Fog Stalls Traffic Around Sault

SAULT STE. MARIE, Aug. 23 (CP).—St. Mary's River traffic was almost completely paralyzed, cars travelled at a snail's pace and all air traffic was stopped until almost 10 a.m. as a heavy fog blanketed a 15-mile radius of Sault Ste. Marie Tuesday night.

Temperatures dropped to 42 during the night and the fog which developed over the St. Mary's River and nearby inland lakes reduced visibility to almost zero.

However, temperatures will soar to 70 above or more, the weather bureau said today.

Continue Fight In Forest Fires

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 23 (AP).—Weary firefighters continued their battle today against scores of forest blazes in the Pacific northwest.

Twenty-two new fires broke out in Washington Wednesday. One of them had covered 400 acres by evening.

In Oregon two major blazes continued out of control despite Wednesday's higher humidity and rain sprinkles. A fire which has blackened 15,000 acres in the Vincent Creek area of west central Oregon burned furiously over hundreds of acres more.

Further south in the Hubbard Creek district, a fire which has levelled 11 farm homes, still was out of control after searing more than 10,000 acres.

Lodge Burned

LONG POINT BEACH, Ont., Aug. 23 (CP).—Loss was estimated at $20,000 after fire early today levelled a 15-room lodge at this Lake Erie resort. Owned by Joseph Kuhn, the lodge was occupied only by the Kuhn family.

Poultry Show Acclaimed By Judge R. J. Messervey

"Better balance, be r quality," were the remarks made by Roy J. Messervey, judge of the poultry, water fowl and pet stock division at the Peterborough Exhibition.

Mr. Messervey was through judging by five p.m. Wednesday and his praise of the 1951 representation was enthusiastic. "A much better show than last year," was one of his comments.

The number of entries showed an increase of 150 more than last year. The number this year was estimated at more than 700. In 1950 there were approximately 550 entries.

The four top men of this division were: A. Ayre, 984 Simcoe St., Peterborough, Frank Andrews, Norwood, Ontario; R. M. Brown, Peterborough and W. H. Mark, 31 Tecumseh, Ave., London, Ontario.

"Good Medicine For The Stomach, Made Me Sleep"

Troubled "Years and Years" With Gas, Sour Acidity, and Dizzy Spells. Praises Syntona After it Brought "First Real Relief."

All people who suffer from stomach disorders and feel tired, nervous, rundown should be interested in the following experience of Mrs. David Keast, Grand Valley, Ontario, who told recently how she suffered this way for year, tried many different things and then got prompt relief simply by taking a short treatment of Syntona Herbal Compound.

"I had tried about everything I knew of but nothing seemed to do any good. Then recently a friend recommended Syntona so highly that I got some and this medicine has given me the first real relief. The gas, sourness and bloating are cleared off better than they have been for years. No. I enjoy all my meals once more, have a good appetite, and dizzy spells do not trouble me. This is certainly a good medicine for the stomach, it made me sleep, and I feel ever so much better than I did before."

"For years and years I had to be so careful about what I ate," said Mrs. Keast. Even the lightest foods would give me distress with awful gas, sour acid risings, and bloating. I would get light-headed, dizzy spells and nearly every day my stomach would feel so miserable and upset that when night came I couldn't get my proper sleep.

Syntona is sold and recommended in Peterborough at Elliott's Drug Store. Find out how it can help you, too. (Advt.)

Red Letter Hints Willingness To Continue Talks

TOKYO, Aug. 24. (AP)—Only a tiny ray of hope remained today that Korean truce talks might be resumed. If they break down completely, the United Nations ground commander said his troops will go back to fighting "with hate and eagerness." "We feel very confident we can whip the enemy in the present battle area," Gen. James A. Van Fleet said at his Eighth Army headquarters. The UN command in Tokyo had not abandoned all hope for the armistice talks.

Officers searched through a new message from top Communists for an indication that they might want to resume the Kaesong armistice talks which they broke off abruptly Thursday. It was in this harshly worded message they found a ray of hope.

The message was from Kim Il sung, North Korean premier and supreme commander, and Gen. Peng Teh-huai, commander of Chinese troops in Korea. It was addressed to Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway.

The protest, formally adjourning negotiations, was based on the charge an Allied plane bombed Kaesong, narrowly missing Red truce delegates—a charge dubbed by President Truman as a "new Communist masquerade" containing "no truth."

Wait For Action

The message said:

"It is our hope that the armistice negotiations will proceed smoothly and that a just and reasonable agreement acceptable to both sides will be reached."

But, it continued, because of "the deliberately murderous bombing" the Reds declared "the meeting adjourned as from August 23rd" to wait for Ridgway "to take responsible action with regard to this serious provocation by your side."

The message closed:

"We lodge our serious protest with you before the eyes of all just people throughout the world, and await your satisfactory answer."

This request for a satisfactory answer caught the eye of some officers in Tokyo.

Slight Crack

These officials reckoned that if Kim and Peng meant to end the talks completely, they would not have requested a reply. Instead they would have stood on the original statement by their liaison officer that negotiations were "off from now on."

Rule Pensioners Allowed Earn $240 Yearly

TORONTO, Aug. 24 — (CP) — Maximum income which a needy person may receive and still qualify for a full old-age pension is to be increased from $120 to $240 a year, Ontario Welfare Minister Goodfellow said Thursday. The new arrangement is expected to become effective Jan. 1.

The change in the pension regulations will be carried out under the recently announced Dominion-Provincial pension scheme. Under the new scheme the federal government will pay pensions to all at 70. The province and the federal government will share the cost of pensions to the needy from 65 to 70.

Effective with the new scheme, single persons over 65 who qualify for pensions will get $40 a month and will be permitted to earn $240 a year in addition. Couples will be permitted a total of $1,200.

The changed pension legislation will also simplify regulations covering assets a pensioner may have.

Special Session

Premier Frost also announced Thursday that a special session of the Ontario Legislature will open Sept. 24 to pass old age pension legislation.

He said the session would be devoted solely to pension legislation and that he expected all the details of an agreement with the federal government on pensions for those between 65 and 70 would be completed by that date.

The Premier said he was anxious that the legislation be expedited so that pension cheques can be sent to the over-70 group and to those eligible between 65 and 70 by New Year's Day.

He also announced that the government will give each applicant a form authorizing the Ontario government to look at Dominion census records for proof of his age.

"With this system . . . I think we can prove 99 per cent of the cases," he said.

Name Fowler In Investigation

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP).—A Canadian, R. M. Fowler, of Montreal, was mentioned Thursday before investigating Senators in connection with the Institute of Pacific Relations.

The name of R. M. Fowler, not otherwise identified, came up as members of the Senate Security Committee went over correspondence of the IPR. The committee is trying to establish whether the IPR, a private research foundation, was used by Communists to influuence US policy against Nationalist China.

A letter was produced, written in 1946 by E. C. Carter, IPR secretary-general, to Fowler about a proposed visit to Canada of Sumner Welles, former US Undersecretary of State. The letter asked Fowler to display prominently in his library "IPR books" which the letter said Carter was forwarding. Welles was to visit Fowler.

(The Montreal directory lists only one R. M. Fowler, president of the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association, who declined to comment.)

Coast Guard Gets SOS From Freighter

NEW YORK, Aug. 24 (AP)—The Coast Guard said today it has received an SOS from the 3,688-ton Spanish freighter Castillo Guadalest.

The distress signal gave the ship's location at about 600 miles northeast of Bermuda.

Nature of the vessel's trouble was not given.

The Coast Guard said that subsequent efforts to make radio contact with the striken ship had been unavailing. The original SOS came at 12.45 p.m. EDT.

Want 35-Room House Must Be Furnished Too

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24 — (AP)—If there's a landlord here with a 35-roomed furnished house to rent, San Francisco's tourist and convention bureau is interested. So is the Kremlin.

The accommodations are wanted by the Soviet delegation coming to San Francisco for the Japanese treaty - signing sessions next month.

Konstantin A. Efremov, former Soviet Consul-General here, visited the bureau's offices Thursday and said if a 35-room house can't be found the Russian delegation want these hotel accommodations:

Sixteen twin bedrooms, four three-room office suites, eight living suites and four de luxe living suites.

Bureau personnel pessimistically began a search for the house. But just in case the quest is fruitless, they made tentative reservations at a downtown hotel.

Entire Village Wiped Out By Flooding

Big Dam Gives Way After 7 Inches Rain Fall Near Mexico City

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 24. — (AP) — Fifty persons were feared drowned today from the flood of a bursting dam which Thursday wiped out a whole village in the wake of a spent-out hurricane.

The dam at Cardenas, 150 miles north of here; crumbled under the pressure of heavy rains which followed the hurricane. The hurricane itself had left more than 150 dead in Jamaica, slammed into the Gulf of Mexico and left one person dead in the oil port city of Tampico before spending itself against the Mexican mountains.

The government said 27 bodies of persons living in the town—a few hundred feet below the dam—had been recovered. About 23 others were missing. Searchers still were hunting in the corn fields below the dam.

Have 7 Inches Of Rain

The 60-foot dam, holding about 375,000,000 gallons of water for the railway shops at Cardenas, gave way about noon Thursday after more than seven inches of rain had fallen in 24 hours.

The dam broke without warning and cut a cluster of 75 workers' homes to the foundations.

A relief train to Cardenas was held up by a landslide which covered nearly a mile of the tracks. Word from the train was that it would be there many hours before it could get through.

Meanwhile, Tampico began digging itself out of the mud and debris left by the hurricane. Troops patrolled the streets to prevent looting and the residents were kept in their candle-lit homes by a 9 p.m. curfew. Damage was expected to run far above $1,000 and Associated Press correspondent Robert F. Allen said about 1,000 lightly-built houses were blown down.

About half the 10,000 refugees from the lowlands around Tampico had returned to their battered homes. Water still covered some parts of the city.

TORONTO, Aug. 24 — (CP) — A middle-aged man, gagged and hands tightly bound behind his back, stumbled to the door of a suburban York township house early today and told a story of being beaten, robbed of $200 and left in a ditch where he lay for seven hours.

Jack M. McLaughlin, 53-year-old real estate agent, who suffered three broken ribs and cuts and bruises to the head and face, said two men jumped into his automobile when he stopped for an east-end traffic light at 4 p.m. yesterday. One pushed a revolver against his side and said: "Drive."

The next few hours were a blank, McLaughlin said. He remembered turning off North Yonge Street onto a sideroad about 8 p.m. He then was forced out of the car, beaten and robbed and left tightly bound. Seven hours later he recovered sufficiently to stumble a quarter-mile along the road to the home of G. K. Kay.

Anything Like a Barrel To Be Suspect At Niagara

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Aug. 24—CP)— Anything that looks like a barrel will be suspect this Saturday at Niagara Falls.

With one man's intentions to shoot the falls in a barrel announced and another rumored ready to follow suit, harried provincial police will be combing the river shores.

They're ready to carry out the order of Premier Frost of Ontario to halt such foolhardy exhibitions. And as if that wasn't enough, on Sunday they'll be treated to the sight of several dummy - carrying parachutes drifting into Niagara's stormy rapids.

The wave of Niagara-defying stunts—and Premier Frost's edict — followed the Aug. 5 dteath of William (Red) Hill, veteran river man who shot to his death over the falls in a flimsy contraption of inner tubes and netting.

Now the cops have to look out for Leslie Sander, New York interior decorator, who has said he'll dive over the cataract in a barrel-shaped object simlar to Hill's.

His reason: He wants to draw attention to the seriousness of the world situation.

A young Toronto steeplejack (unidentifned) was reported Thursday ready to take the big leap Saturday in a $600 barrel made of three layers of steel. Rumor has it that his name is Hank, that he took up the proposition on a dare from his fellow workers, and he doesn't want his name announced until it's over. The reason? He doesn't want to frighten his mother.

The dummy - carrying parachutes Sunday will be preliminary drops to check air and water currents for Bernard McFadden, the 83-year-old physical culturist. He plans to plop himself in the waters below the falls during the Sept. 2 weekend.

The reason? He wants to show what he can do at his age.

Severe Dysentery Epidemic Among Mennonites, Sask. Officials Worried

SASKATOON, Aug. 24. (CP)—A government doctor said Thursday night there are more than 50 severe cases of dysentery in the Bergthal Mennonite settlements east of Hague, Sask., where four babies already have died. Dr. B. T. Dale, director of preventive services for the Saskatchewan Health Department, said three new cases are "very serious" and that one baby boy cannot possibly live more than a day or two. "We expect many more cases before the epidemic is checked," he said.

Today he planned to warn the Manitoba Government that the epidemic may spread to Mennonite settlements through the West unless Mennonites who have been exposed to the disease are located immediately.

The disease—an inflammation of mucous membrane and the intestinal glands—is mostly found in tropical and semi-tropical regions. It is accompanied by severe pains.

Appalling Conditions

Dr. Dale said he found Mennonites living under appalling conditions. Fourteen children lived in one room and slept seven to a bed.

There were "unbelievable conditions" of filth and disease in the settlements.

Dr. Dale made an all-day tour of the Bergthal communities on Thursday to investigate conditions which led to the four deaths.

Seek Arsonists In Forest Fires

VANCOUVER, Aug. 24—(CP)—British Columbia's forest fires had slowed down today—mainly because of cooler nights—but the situation remained dangerous.

Thousands of acres have been flame-swept in timberlands dried out by the long summer-drought.

In the Nelson forest district, where fanatical Doukhobors were blamed for five fires, conditions were better. Rain and cooler weather reduced the danger.

District Forester H. B. Forse blamed one or more Sons of Freedom Doukhobors for the fires. Three of them were one-quarter mile apart, far from any travelled highway, he said.

Close To Headquarters

The fires were close to the radical Doukhobors' headquarters at Krestova, 17 miles from Nelson, and scene of many disorders during Doukhobor demonstrations.

"The only settlement in the whole area is the Sons of Freedom sect at Krestova," said Forse. "The fires were definitely incendiarism."

RCMP today were investigating his report. Earlier they had recruited some 200 Doukhobors for the firelines.

One of the worst fires in the Nelson district is an 8,000-acre blaze at Yahk, 20 miles from Cranbrook. It was held in check, but still menaced rich timberlands.

At East Sooke and Lake Cowichan districts on Vancouver Island the situation has eased. Homes in the two districts were out of danger and the fires were partially controlled.

Trains Collide 12 Die In France

METZ, France, Aug. 24 (CP)—The Basel-Calais express rammed into the rear of a Frankfurt-Paris train near here today. At least 12 persons, including two Americans, were killed, and possibly 40 others, about half of them United States soldiers, were injured.

Seventeen French soldiers were among the injured.

US army headquarters at Orleans, France, sent two officers to investigate reports that the baggage and mail cars of the trains had been pillaged.

The wreck occurred when an express from Basel, Switzerland, to Calais, France, smashed into the rear of a train from Frankfurt, Germany, to Paris which carried many American soldiers.

Eyewitnesses said the accident scene was one of horror with a hand here, a leg there and one body cut in two. Baggage was strewn over hundreds of feet of track.

The train from Basel was going about 50 miles an hour when it hit the Frankfurt train which was running 30 minutes late.

Millionaire's Widow Charged With Murder

DALLAS, Aug. 24 (AP) — The widow of millionaire oil operator Thomas W. Doswell has been charged with his murder.

Doswell was shot to death as he and his wife, Rebecca, sat in an automobile outside a hotel here Monday night.

Mrs. Doswell told police the gun discharged accidentally as she attempted to remove it, wrapped in a towel, from a glove compartment.

Homicide captain Will Fritz said two shots were "fired on the spot" and he added that he also had evidence the gun was not wrapped in a towel at the time it was discharged.

Two empty cartridges were inside the gun. Only one bullet was found. "A double action gun just doesn't go off twice," Fritz commented.

Car Tossed 20 Feet Man Has Sore Leg

TRENTON, Aug. 24 — (CP).—Walter Wilson, 21,complained today of a "sore leg" after his automobile was tossed 20 feet through the air and skidded 200 feet on its roof down a Trenton street.

Police said Wilson lost control of the car yesterday attempting to make a curve. The car skided for 300 feet, struck a curb and was tossed into the air, landing upside down and sliding another 200 feet.

Plane Only 5 Minutes From Field

Find Debris, Bodies In Deep Ravine No Roads Near Scene

OAKLAND CALIF., Aug. 24. (AP)—Fifty persons died on the crest of a low hill near here today as a $1,000,000 airliner crashed and disintegrated. There were no survivors.

Hours later, broken bodies were being taken from the shattered wreckage of the United Airlines plane. At the top of the hill lay the body of a little tow-headed boy. His skull was crushed. Others lay in tangled debris in a ravine.

The plane, a DC-6-B, was flying non-stop from Chicago to Oakland. The flight originated in Boston Thursday night, and the four-engine ship had stooped at Hartford and Cleveland, in addition to Chicago.

In Chicago, United Air Lines said the list of 44 passengers was sketchy, with some names incomplete, and few home towns listed.

Near Landing Field

Only five minutes before the plane was to have landed at Oakland airport, it crashed inexplicably into a low hill 1½ miles east of Decoto, a farming community about 10 miles southeast of Oakland.

Three minutes before the crash, Pilot Marion W. Hedden had given the control tower a routine report.

Then residents of the area were startled by a flaming flash and the rumble of a blast. The six crew members and the passengers died when the huge liner plowed into the hill. Shattered debris rained down for 200 yards as the plane slid into the sharp-ribbed ravine at the base of the knoll.

No Road To Crash

There was no road to the tragic scene. Ambulances and other rescue cars slipped and slid over the smooth dry grass as they tried to make their way up the slopes and through the many small ravines.

About two acres of grass and scrub brush burned as the fire and blast shook the giant liner to pieces.

16 Steers Die From Poisoning

SAULT STE. MARIE, Aug. 24 (CP)—Sixteen choice steers have died on a farm near here and officials today opened an investigation to see if the animals were poisoned.

Wray Stewart, a Leeburin township farmer, told the Department of Agriculture that he lost half his livestock within the last two days.

Department officials said cherry leaves were found in the animals' stomachs. However, it has not been established that the greens were poisonous.

Possibility of a disease was ruled out.

Dr. J. Henderson, of the Ontario College at Guelph, has been asked to conduct the investigation.

Dr. William Brisbane, of Desbarats, a veterinarian, said the animals may have died from prussic acid. The poison is found on old cherry tree leaves.

The animals were valued at a total of some $4,000.

Canada Annoyed At US Delay Answering Protest

OTTAWA, Aug. 24. (CP)—The External Affairs Department said in a press statement today it is "unsatisfactory" and "surprising" that the Canadian Government has not been given a chance to deal with reported charges against unnamed Canadian officials before a United States Senate committee. The statement was issued following unsuccessful Canadian attempts to find the basis for a New York Journal-American story of Aug. 16, saying: "Two Canadian Government officials of high rank" had been listed before the committee as associates of Red espionage agents.

The Department said:

"In reply to repeated inquiries that have been made, the Department of External Affairs wishes to state that in spite of constant efforts, it has been unable to obtain any information from the Senate sub-Committee on Internal Security about charges which, according to reports in some United States newspapers, have been made before the committee against high but unnamed officials of the Canadian government.

Very Unsatisfactory

"It is to the Department as unsatisfactory as it is surprising that, a week after they were given currency in the press, no opportuinty has been given of considering charges which, if they had any foundation at all, would be of grave consequence to those concerned and to the Canadian civil service."

The statement came 11 days after the Canadian government protested strongly to the US State Department against the way an official of the same Senate committee had made public a charge of Communist suspicion against a top Canadian diplomat.

That charge was an allegation by a committee witness, at a secret session, that Herbert Norman, acting chief of Canada's UN delegation, had been a member of a Communist study group in the US in 1939.

The Department expressed full confidence in Mr Norman, saying he had been subjected to a double security check.

The Canadian protest was the strongest this country has delivered to the United States in years. So far as has been made known, no official reply has been received.

5 Wrong Diagnoses Child Dies Of Poisoning

NEW YORK, Aug. 24 (CP)—After five wrong diagnoses, a two-year-old girl died of lead poisoning Thursday. It took an autopsy to prove it.

Celeste Felder was taken by her frantic father, William, a Negro subway clerk, to two private doctors and three hospitals from the time she became ill several weeks ago until her death. All passed her off as "not seriously ill."

The child's affliction was called intestinal grippe, virus infection, inflamed throat, tonsilitis and blood poisoning, each by a different doctor.

Arrest Pickpockets

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, Aug. 24 (AP).—Police announced today they have arrested a gang of 14 picknockets who specialized in robbing police officers. Recruits, police said, started picking the pockets of police lieutenants and gradually worked up to captains and higher officials. They quoted the leader of the gang as saying "we ignored ordinary policemen because they are too poor."

Leninist Theories Spoiled Parley In Iran–Stokes

LONDON, Aug. 24 (AP). — Richard Stokes, Britain's chief negotiator, today blamed "Marxist-Leninist" theories dreamed up behind the scenes by Iranian leaders for the breakdown of crucial oil talks in Tehran.

He said, however, that with goodwill on both sides there was no reason a solution could not eventually be found although Britain would await Iranian guarantees of acceptable working conditions for British employees before reopening the talks.

Stokes flew to London as Britain called on her lawyers to take over the dispute which diplomats have failed to solve.

Legal experts prepared an appeal to the International Court of Justice at The Hague for a "definite judgment."

Difference In Practice

Denouncing leaders "behind the scenes, dreaming up impracticable Marxist-Lenist" nationalization theories, Stokes said these people have yet to learn "there is considerable difference between practice and theory" in application of their ideas.

Stokes said the main obstacle to breaking the deadlock was how to handle the British staff at Abadan, world's largest refinery.

Britain wants working conditions guaranteed by a British management. Iran, on the other hand, insists that the British oil staff be directly responsible to the projected National Iranian Oil Company.

Britain, meanwhile, is keeping a big stick behind her back to protect the several hundred British oilmen she has instructed to remain indefinitely at the Abadan oil refinery.

The Foreign Office said that "the necessary measures" will be taken to protect the lives of Britons in Iran if the Iranian government fails to do so. Britain has warships anchored only 40 miles from Abadan, an air fleet in neighboring Iraq and a brigade of paratroopers on the eastern Mediterranean island of Cyprus.

At the same time, the Foreign Office reiterated Britain's willingness to resume negotiations aimed at a settlement of the nationalization issue "at any time."

Royal Family To Travel More

LONDON, Aug. 24 (Reuters)—The tour of Canada which Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh will make in October is just one of many Commonwealth visits likely to be paid by the Royal Family in coming years, it was learned today.

"Thanks to speedy travel facilities, the days of 'once-in-a-lifetime' royal tour are over," a well-informed source said.

"It's probable that before long members of the Royal Family will think no more of attending some function in a Commonwealth country than they now do of going to Wales or Scotland."

He said that in the past such visits were planned on the assumption they would not be repeated, and therefore required exhausting itineraries taking in every possible centre in the country concerned.

Now it is feasible to make return trips during which any districts originally missed could be visited.

3,000 Guests To Attend Glittering Party In Venice

VENICE, Aug. 24 — (AP) — Venetians are preparing for Europe's most fabulous party cince the war.

It will be the Sept. 7 housewarming for the 18th-century Labia Palace, now being restored to its ancient splendour.

Three thousand guests have been invited to dress in expensive 18-century costumes and dance, watch entertainment and dine on rare delicacies through the night.

Almost all of the guests will be descendants of 18-century nobility. They will include the Aga Khan, members of the French royal houses of Bourbon and De Guise, surviving members of the Hapsburg and Hohenzollern families and the Duke and Duchess of Windsor.

The host is wealthy Spanish-born Don Carlos De Bestegui of Paris, who bought the palace two years ago for $500,000.

He is said to be spending $6,250,000 restoring the 18th-century splendour of the place.

Eviction notices have been served on a few poor families who had been living in the palace basement and top floor since they lost their own homes in the war.

But while the international set dances inside the palace, Bestegui will give a fiesta for the population of Venice on the grounds of the estate. Wine and cake, in 18th-century style, will be served and there will be fireworks and music.

Bestegui has a reputation as colorful as the party he is planning. Recently he bought an $80,000 motor boat, which he keeps moored on the Canareggio that runs by his palace. He is always accompanied by his own French waiter, a cook and a butler.

Prisoner Escapes Out Train Window

BARRIE, Aug. 24 (CP) — A 27-year-old prisoner who leaped through a window of a standing train Thursday night made a clean getaway.

Police said that Guy Copeman shook off two guards and leaped from the train at nearby Allandale while being escorted to Burwas industrial farm.

Copeman is believed to have stolen a car in Allandale. The vehicle was found in a ditch this morning.

900 Workers Stage Strike

SHAWINIGAN FALLS, Que., Aug. 24. (CP)—Nine hundred employees of the Aluminum Company of Canada's Shawinigan Falls plant walked out early today following failure of a last-minute effort to settle their contract dispute with the company.

The men, members of the National Syndicate of Aluminum Employees, went on strike at 2:35 a.m. EDT, in support of their demand that the company accept the recommendation of an arbitration board.

Company spokesmen said they were ready to accept all clauses of the unanimous report with the exception of those dealing with grievance procedure, job-evaluation and seniority rights.

Shortly before the walkout, the union rejected a company offer for settlement on the basis of reducing the duration of the contract. The company offered to have the contract expire in February, 1953, instead of February, 1954.

Red Letter

The wording was intended to put the next move up to Ridgway.

Top UN command officials made no comment on what Ridgway might do.

Some observers said there seemed almost no way that the UN commander could give a "satisfactory answer" to the Reds on the incident which he already has called "a frame-up, staged from first to last."

The Communists must be well aware of this, these observers said. In their view, the message of Kim and Peng would be merely another devious step designed to place responsibility for the collapse of truce talks on the UN command.

If there is a permanent breakdown, news dispatches from New York said the United Nations Assembly may have a try at settling the Korean impasse. The next regular Assembly session starts in Paris Nov. 6.

An information bulletin released by UN command headquarters described the Communist charges as "an attempt to win back some of the face lost by their own blunders."

Baggage, personal effects, letters, clothing and parts of bodies were strewn over the area but most of the bodies were found in the ravine at the foot of the hill.

Three hours after the crash 13 bodies had been recovered and placed in ambulances.

The weather bureau said visibility at the time of the crash was about six miles.

Photographer Paul Strong of The Associated Press San Francisco bureau flew over the scene a short time after the crash and said heavy fog had settled over the hilltop. His pilot said he had never seen such demolition in a crashed airplane.

Meet Spanish Chiefs

MADRID, Aug. 24 (9P). —The United States Military Mission to Spain visited military and naval centres here today and met the Spanish chiefs of the general staffs for the army, air and navy. The mission, headed by Gen. James Spry, arrived Wednesday in connection with the setting up of American air and naval bases in Spain.

The Natural Method of Child-Planning

Now couples can plan to have children when they want them by a simple method that doesn't violate the scruples of any religious group.

In September Reader's Digest, Dr. Morris Fishbein explains how and why this new method works.

There are only about two days each month when a woman can conceive a child; Dr. Fishbein tells how the great majority of women can learn when they can conceive by keeping a record of their daily temperatures.

West Germans Scrounge For Precious Coal

Six years after VE day, German civilians face another winter with dread because of shortage of coal. These scenes outside a steel plant near Mannheim—of German men women and children combing cinder piles for precious bits of unburnt coal — are common throughout the industrial Ruhr. Rejection by the international Ruhr Authority board of German demands to cut coal exports, together with US stoppage of coal shipments to Germany, has put a double squeeze on coal supply. Result will be cold houses and possible mass unemployment in West Germany this winter.

WHOLE FAMILIES comb cinder piles to salvage tiny hunks of coal. It means warmth next winter

THE GLEANER. Every charred bit counts

THE DAY'S HARVEST—to be stored against winter's cold.

Red Cross Sends Aid To Jamaica

MONTREAL, Aug. 24. (CP)—An RCAF North Star plane left here today on the first leg of a Red Cross mercy mission to storm-ravaged Jamaica.

The four-engined transport attached to No. 426 Squadron at Lachine, Que., will carry 6,000 pounds of relief supplies. She is scheduled to land at Kingston, Jamaica, Saturday after an overnight stay at Tampa, Fla.

The aircraft originally was scheduled to make a stop at Toronto before heading south. However, an RCAF Dakota expected to arrive here from Winnipeg on Thursday night with supplies was grounded at North Bay, and the Montreal plane will transfer the cargo there before continuing to Toronto.

The Winnipeg plane carried 3,000 pounds of supplies consisting of food, medical supplies and blankets.

Alcohol Impairment Charge Dismissed

A charge of driving while his ability was impaired by alcohol against Victor J. Ward, Lakefield, was dismissed today in police court. But he was fined $10 with costs of $11 on a second charge, careless driving.

Both charges arose out of an accident on Water St. at Park Hill Road on August 7 when Ward ran into the rear of a car, owned by Gerald Payne, 130 Hilliard St., which was stopped for the red light.

Robert Carley defended Mr. Ward on both charges and was complimented by Magistrate R. B. Baxter, of Cobourg, who said "the accused was very well defended by Mr. Carley who made his first appearance before me."

BIG CROP OF OATS

George McLaughlin of Elmcroft Farms, north of Oshawa, was a spectator at the judging of Holstein cattle at the Exhibition on Thursday. He said he has the biggest crop of oats in 18 years, according to actual records of the farm.

Western Oils Lead Market

TORONTO, Aug. 24 (CP) — Western oils broke into the lead in early afternoon dealings today as the Exchange's index of 15 selected issues jumped 2.02 points to a new high of 110.98. The previous high of 109.60 was reached Aug. 21.

Industrial stocks climbed briskly to a new high of 339.29 in the first hour of trading. The former record for industrials was 338.62, set Feb. 12.

Steels formed the strongest industrial section as nine issues traded for gains ranging up to a point while only one stock, Steel of Canada, showed a fractional loss. Refining oils climbed as constructions, textiles and manufacturing companies were firm. Papers utilities and liquors were mixed. Agricultures and retail stores weakened while foods, banks and miscellaneous industrials dipped mildly.

Western oils climbed in active dealings. Long Island Petroleum, Mid-Continent, Security Free and Superior added as much as 25 cents as they traded heavily. Anglo-Canadian, Atlantic Oil, Calmont, Federal Petroleum Jupiter, New British Dominions, Jupiter, Pacific Petroleum and Royalite showed good gains. Devon-Leduc and Okalta eased.

Base metals showed little trend. A majority of leaders advanced moderately. Trading was heavy in a few selected issues. Consolidated Smelters, Golden Manitou, International Nickel, Labrador and New Calumet edged upward.

Senior golds were mixed while secondary issues held gains and losses in balance.

"Rigid Rules" For Conference

NEW YORK, Aug. 24 (AP) — The New York Times said today the United States has drafted a "rigid" set of rules for the Japanese peace treaty conference "designed to prevent any filibuster by the Soviet Union and its allies."

A Times Washington dispatch by James Reston said the rules "are expected to touch off a major debate immediately after the opening of the conference in San Francisco Sept. 4."

The rules now are being discussed with other governments, and must be approved by the conference before adoption.

The rule draft under discussion would forbid amendments to the treaty, the story said.

Sent To Settle Row 2 Gov't Men Have Tiff

LONDON, Aug. 24—(Reuters) —Two British emissaries sent to Bechuanaland to sort out a tribal squabble returned Thursday with a squabble of their own. They weren't on speaking terms.

Daniel Lipson, former independent member of parliament and Socialist Herbert Bullock, had a public disagreement in the tribal territory. Lipson wanted supporters of the exiled regent, Tshekedi Khama to be heard in the tribal palaver but the tribesmen refused.

Bullock told him: "You are being ridiculous." The private squabble started there.

The idea of the trip was to advise the government whether Khama should be allowed to return to Bechuanaland.

Severe Dynestery

Doctors have said the disease responsible apparently was contracted in Mexico, among a party of 62 Mennonites from the district who made a vain attempt to reach Honduras where they wished to set up new homes.

The party comprised 30 adults and 32 children under 16 years. They travelled 16 hours a day, had no milk for the babies, and no proper food. Mexican authorities turned back the caravan at Mexico City because the Mennonites' papers were not in order.

After further attempts to get proper papers at New Orleans, the Mennonites returned to Canada. Two of the children who died in Hague district had not been on the trip.

Starts Campaign

Dr. Dale described conditions in the Mennonite settlements in a telephone interview with the Saskatoon Star-Phoenix.

He said he has started a campaign to instruct the Mennonites on preventive measures against disease. The Saskatoon sanitary inspector and a district health nurse would be in the district today isolating cases and improving sanitary conditions.

The doctor said he travelled 120 miles Thursday, "from one shack to another, from bush hovel to bush hovel, from filth to more filth."

Call Special Meeting

Dr. Dale called a special meeting of the rural municipality council. Plans were made to stem further outbreaks.

District schools will not open at the usual date next week, but remain closed perhaps a fortnight.

Dr. Dale said that 99 per cent of the Mennonites who made the southern trek are suffering from dysentery or had it previously.

"Their aunts, brothers, cousins have caught it from contacts at church and at meetings—a very large circle is affected.

"We expect many more cases before it is checked.

"The greatest trouble is that these people—the minority Bergthal group of Mennonites — are below normal in their standards of education, living and beliefs."

190,000 To Get Pension Cheques

TORONTO, Aug. 24. (CP) — About 190,000 persons in Ontario will get pension cheques for the first time when the universal $40-a-month payments go into effect Jan. 1, says Welfare Minister Goodfellow.

In addition, some 93,000 Ontario residents now receiving the means test pension will automatically be transferred to the universal pension lists.

ISLAND CULTIVATION

Farm lands make up 85 per cent of the area of Prince Edward Island.

Personally we're inclined to accept the idea of a correspondent who says he lays strips of aluminum foil between his vegetable rows. He reports this discourages the weeds, keeps the soil moist, and reflects the sun's rays to the plant.

There are so many uses for aluminum that the list fills a good-sized book, and is always growing. At present we can't supply Canadian manufacturers with all they want. But we're busy building new plants and powerhouses so that you may be able to buy more of the aluminum articles you would like to have. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan).

WOMAN USES CHAIN TO STOP MAD BULL ATTACKING HUSBAND

Mrs. Lucien Bédard, of St. Justine de Newton, Que., saves farmer's life by tackling enraged beast

1. Farmer Lucien Bédard was busy repairing a fence — blissfully unaware that he was about to be the star of an almost tragic, real-life drama. For, suddenly and without warning, he was attacked from the rear by his bull. The huge animal had somehow become enraged . . . and chose its owner as the target for a series of repeated, vicious attacks. The farmer cried out in pain.

2. Inside the house, Mrs. Bédard heard her husband's frantic shouts for help. Running to the barnyard, she took in the situation at a glance. The farmer was lying on the ground, trying in vain to ward off the bull's continued assaults. With quick presence of mind, Mrs. Bédard grabbed the only weapon at hand — a chain — and, rushing to the animal, began to flail him with it.

3. Finally the courageous, determined woman succeeded in winding the chain around one of the bull's horns. Surprised, the animal stopped and turned its head. This gave Bédard a chance to get up. Although injured, he was still able to get the bull under control. To Mrs. Lucien Bédard, whose bravery undoubtedly saved her husband's life, we are indeed proud to present The Dow Award.

Earning Power Less Than $12 Claims Benefits

Charles J. Carson, 343½ George St., was fined $15, with costs amounting to $11, in police court Thursday on charges of taking unemployment insurance money under false pretences. He was given a week to pay the fine and costs or spend 20 days in jail.

First called by W. B. Gordon, acting for the Unemployment Insurance Commission, was John F. Carre, now manager of Huffman's furniture store. Although not in charge of the store when Carson was employed there, Carre identified cheques paid to Carson in October when Carson was drawing funds from the National Employment office.

Wilfred Jones, 643 Lundy's Lane, an officer in the Peterborough office's claims department, identified a claims payment card. He testified that Carson had said, when he took the weekly payments, that he was not working, and was capable and available for work.

Jack Ryan, RR 10, Peterborough, supported Mr. Jones' evidence.

Carson, acting in his own defence, called Eric Naylor, Belleville, an investigator for the Unemployment Insurance. In reply to a question Naylor explained why the case took so long to come before the magistrate.

Carson, while on the stand, said that he was under the assumption that as long as he earned less than $12 a week he could draw unemployment insurance funds.

He added that the money had been paid back.

First Reunion In 59 Years

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 24 — (ENS) — Mr. and Mrs. George Morison of Queen Street, Campbellford, had as their guest during the past week, Mr. A. F. Rev. N. Bosko Named To Campbellford

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 24 — (ENS)—At a church conference held in Toronto, it was announced that the following changes will be made in the pulpit of the Free Methodist church in Campbellford.

Rev. Donald White, who has been the minister here for the past five years is leaving to take charge of the parishes in Clarendon and Mississippi in Eastern Ontario.

Rev. Nicholas Bosko has been named to replace him in Campbellford. Rev. Bosko, born in Russia, came to Canada in 1918 and has been a minister in the Free Methodist Church for the past 25 years. Lately he has been a resident of Picton, and has one daughter in Toronto and a small son.

It is expected he will arrive in Campbellford this week, and will take up residence in the Free Methodist parsonage.

Tourists Still Ask For Car Ferry Trip

COBOURG, Aug. 24. (ENS)— Many tourists who formerly took the boat trip from Cobourg to Rochester, still are not aware that the car ferry service has been out of business for almost two years. Attendants at the chamber of commerce tourist office here frequently receive queries about the car ferries. The last enquiry came from a lady this week who hurried up to the tourist office and asked if she had time to catch the ferry.

"You are more than a year late, Madame," the clerk said, and went on to explain that the car ferries were no more.

Six Killed

CHICAGO, Aug. 24 (AP). — A family of six was killed on Thursday night in a head-on truck-automobile collision south of Chicago. Police identified the dead as Robert D. Bowers, 45, of suburban North Lake City; his wife, Irene, 40, and their four children, Judith, 10, Alice, 8, Ruth 6, and James 4. The truck driver was not hurt.

To Hold Elections

BOGOTA, Colombia, Aug. 24 — (AP).—The government announced Thursday Congressional elections, postponed in June, would be held Sept. 16. The election will be the second under a state of siege in force since the bloody revolt of April, 1948, following the murder of Liberal party leader Jorge E. Baitan. The Conservative party controls the government.

No Arrests Yet Made In Attack On Woman

COBOURG, Aug. 24. (ENS) — No new developments have taken place in connection with the rape of a young Port Hope married woman which occurred Tuesday night on the outskirts of Port Hope. The investigation is being conducted by Provincial Constable W. Baluk. So far no arrests have been made. There are two theories. One is that the attacker had been surprised while going through the car for something to steal. He hid in the back seat when the woman and her sister-in-law returned to the car and when the Port Hope woman was driving back alone after dropping her sister-in-law off at her home, seized the opportunity to attack her. However, police have learned some details since the affair which would indicate the possibility that the attacker had planned the offense.

Try For Just Treaty Soviet Press Promises

BERLIN, Aug. 24—(AP)—The Russian-controlled press here said today that the Soviet Union's delegation is going to San Francisco to demand a "really just" peace treaty for the Japanese and oppose American plans to "gain control of all Japan as a base for aggression against China and the Soviet Union."

A sharp attack on the US-prepared treaty to be presented at San Francisco was published in the Soviet-controlled National Zeitung. It was accompanied by reports in other Russian-controlled papers proclaiming China's "justified" opposition to the peace conference, from which Red China has been excluded.

The article accused the United States of "arbitrarily" drafting a treaty for Japan and "unilaterally" calling the San Francisco conference.

has been clear from the start and this 'peace treaty' is part of the plan" said the Zietung. "All American moves have served one goal—to create a base for aggression against China and the Soviet Union. Japan is assigned the role of advance base—just as West Germany is assigned that role in Europe.

Kitchener To Have Transformer Station

KITCHENER, Aug. 24—(CP)— The Ontario Hydro Commission is building a $3,900,000 transformer station to serve the Kitchener area, Chairman Robert Saunders said today.

He said the project was started six weeks ago and is expected to be in service by June of next year.

"The $3,900,000 hydro transformer station is designed to effect further important improvements in service to hydro consumers in the Kitchener and Waterloo area," he said.

The new station is three miles west of Kitchener.

Mr. Saunders said the big installation will form part of the trunk transmission network now being established, with the 480,000 horsepower Des Joachim generating station on the Ottawa River as a starting point, to give Ontario hydro customers maximum service and protection.

Lower Costs, Tax Cuts Lure NZ Voters

By ERIC BENTON

WELLINGTON, NZ, Aug. 24 (AP).—The two major political parties of New Zealand—Labor and National—promise voters tax cuts and lower living costs as they campaign for a general election Sept. 1.

How can New Zealand cut taxes and at the same time increase subsidies to keep down living costs? Prime Minister Sidney G. Holland says the Government has been collecting more in income and other taxes than it expected.

In 1935, New Zealand was the first country in the Commonwealth to elect a socialist government. In the general election of November, 1949, the people voted Labor out of office.

Holland's Government had 46 seats to Labor's 34 at dissolution.

The National party Government has been a liberal, free-enterprise government. It was entitled to stay in office another 14 months.

Removed Controls

In its first year, the National Government removed control of currency and credits, virtually abolished import controls, lifted many price controls, and reduced subsidies substantially.

Then it faced its greatest crisis —a huge strike, with Communist influence behind it. For 22 weeks, longshoremen, supported by coal miners, seamen, and men in freezing works tried to paralyze New Zealand.

The Government put service men to work, fostered new unions, and won through. When Parliament reassembled at the end of June, Labor opposition based a motion of no confidence in the Government on its handling of the strike.

Holland then said he would seek a dissolution of Parliament, and a mandate from the people.

Reds Lagging

Four Maori representatives, and the 76 "European" representatives will stand for election. The Communist party is putting up only four candidates among the 80 seats in four city electorates—seats that the Labor party looks certain to win.

Communism is being pushed into the background by the cost of living. Labor has hammered on this theme, and has said little about the strike.

Both parties adhere to the principle of the welfare state. The National party claims there is room for private enterprise within the welfare state. Labor claims the welfare state is paramount.

There is little real difference on foreign affairs. Both National and Labor pledge support to the Commonwealth and United Nations.

LABOR UNIONS

The Trades and Labor Congress organized in 1886 was the first attempt at federation between unions in Canada.

$93,200,000 On Ontario's Highways This Year

In this district and many other parts of the Province highways are being built where no roads existed before; county roads are being transformed into highways; gravel roads are being paved. Never before throughout the Province has there been such a spate of highways building, not even in pre-election weeks. The work is being solidly done, it seems, and Ontario's highways systems are becoming the pride of the driving populace, the envy of other Provinces, and the subject of study by students and engineers of other nations.

* * *

In this district alone the following work is in progress: Number 28 south towards Port Hope is being widened, levelled and resurfaced; Number 28 north towards Apsley is being remade; Number 36 between Burleigh Falls and Bobcaygeon (the Bobcaygeon end of it) is being re-cut and transformed. Number 7 west towards Lindsay is being resurfaced; Number 7 east towards Madoc is being relaid. (Number 7 is of course the route of the Trans-Canada through Peterborough.) Even 7A is undergoing work. Our local catalogue should include the extension of the dual highway from Oshawa east to Newcastle and eventually Port Hope.

* * *

Peterborough and district drivers are very pleased that this work is being done. And they are grateful that it is being accomplished with very little disruption to traffic. As far as the general public is concerned, this consideration for drivers and their cars during road-making is one of the chief improvements in highway engineering during the last decade. A dozen years ago the knowledge that a route was being repaired or re-made occasioned consternation not offset by the realization that after it was all done the new road might be a joy. Highway work used to mean long and difficult detours, a day or a week's blockade, and a general nuisance all around for months on end. Now a short stretch of road may be blocked for a day or two, but a convenient, graded detour is made ready. And lo! where a week ago were trees and rubble, cars next week may drive along at a good speed over a new stretch of road properly gravelled for temporary use until the final surface is put on.

* * *

All this road-building costs money. In the Provincial Budget for this year 1951-52, $46,000,000 were allotted to the Department of Highways for ordinary expenditure. Even the ordinary account item of $46,000,000 makes the Department of Highways the second largest spender of Provincial money (the first is the Department of Education). Together with the amount provided for capital expenditure the Department has at its disposal—for this year alone—$93,200,000.

* * *

Such a large amount of money calls for, we feel, wider publication and more details of the ways it is being spent. The audited public accounts are not easily available to the general public. Nor has there been detailed discussion of the spending in the Legislative Assembly. We have seen no printed Annual Report of the Department of Highways such as other Departments issue.

* * *

We are not here doubting that road engineers are doing an economical, efficient job, that big firms to whom contracts are let are fully qualified to do the best work for the least money; that small local firms on sub-contracts do the work entrusted to them well and at the market value for such work. We are not here imputing that political patronage or wasteful extravagance is rife in the Department of Highways. We are merely asking that more information be given the public. For instance, what was the cost a yard, and the total cost of building the stretch of highway from the Lakefield turn to Buckhorn? How much a sq. yd. is Bobcaygeon roadwork costing? What is the cost, by comparison, of the roadwork on Number 7 and Number 28? How do such costs compare with roadwork being done in New Brunswick, Quebec, Alberta, Michigan or France? On what basis are contracts let? It is more information we want, and which we think the public should have as it sees its $93,200,000 blossoming out in new or improved highways.

There is a golf course in New South Wales where balls are so frequently stolen by crows that some players carry guns. This, of course, has nothing to do with the golfing feat called "shooting a birdie."

Ontario Women Sports

For the benefit of those among our readers who are too frivolous to look at our sports pages or even front page news reports about athletes and athlettes, we wish to call attention to two young Ontario women who have won laurels that would not discredit Olympus.

Mrs. Winnifred Roach, aged 25 of North York (suburban Toronto) became the first Canadian woman to swim the English Channel. She placed second among women contestants in a race; a well-deserved second, for only a few hundred yards from the English coast strong currents washed her three hours back to sea again. Even with this offset Mrs. Roach accomplished the 40-m. cold swim in 13 hours and 55 minutes.

Miss Marlene Stewart, aged 17, of Fonthill, Ontario, near Welland, this season won the Ontario Ladies Golf Championship, and last week in Montreal went on to win the tournaments for Canadian Ladies Closed and Open championships. She is the first Canadian to win all three of these top honours in golf since 1933.

North York and Fonthill (population 1,000) are both celebrating, and have proud reason to put out bunting.

So The Workers Want Peron And Madame?

A mid-week despatch in this newspaper told a story of five million members of the Argentinian central labour organization—which is Government-sponsored—laying down their tools in a mass demonstration. The demonstration was arranged to demand that President Juan Peron continue in office for the next six years (an unprecedented second term in succession). They also want Madame Peron to run for Vice-President. We have heard of such "spontaneous" labour demonstrations before: in Hitler's Germany, in Mussolini's Italy, in Communist Hungary, and even in Russia. A sure sign of a thorough dictatorship is given when industrial workers, involuntarily under the pressure of propaganda, or impelled by fear, demonstrate for a government and leader. In true political democracies people stage mass demonstrations against their government, or, if the government does not dissatisfy them inordinately, they never demonstrate at all: they attend ball games or go fishing. It seems that President Peron and his wife are moving from personal dictatorship to a family despotism.

To Think Truthfully, Rather Than Usefully

Pragmatism, the school of philosophic thought established by William James, holds that what is important and indeed true is not the reality of a thing or the ideal concept of it, but its use—how it works, its practicality. That is a rough and inadequate statement of the core of pragmatism, but it is such a conception of the philosophy which has filtered into American and Canadian ways to become a justification for debased thinking. A closing paragraph in Albert J. Guerard's recent biographical study of Andre Gide, the great French writer and moralist who died a few months ago, sharply points the danger to American society of a loose, pragmatic attitude:

"We have become pragmatists on a monstrous scale, and are much closer than most people think to the world of Orwell's 1984 where what ought to be is "honestly" mistaken for what is. The pragmatist's truth (which Gide hated more than anything else) has gradually come to seem more true than fact. The mechanisms of propaganda grow constantly more powerful, and with them our capacities for self-flattery and self-delusion. It is hard to see how, in the years that face us, young people will learn to think truthfully, rather than to think usefully or patriotically. In such a world, we can be sure, there will be few demoralizers to combat the radio, the newspaper, the communique, the leaflet. These few may seem merely decadent, and Gide himself the product of a dead culture and leisure class. Yet perhaps only these few demoralizers shall save us."

"To think truthfully, rather than to think usefully or patriotically": that is basic to life and civilization. Those who mistake use or national need for truth are self-flatterers and self-deluders, and preys to propaganda. They are eventually destroyers of truth and of those who seek and love truth.

King Farouk's Life Threatened

Yesterday's report that French police on the Riviera are on the alert for two would-be Egyptian assassins of their King Farouk does not surprise us. The French police are pretty alert fellows, and King Farouk is as good a subject as any for assassination, if there must be assassinations. This royal gentleman of Egypt—a country where a few men not only control but possess nearly all the wealth while the bulk of the population lives in distressing poverty—is taking a honeymoon on the French Riviera. Last week, in two nights, he lost $157,000 at the gaming tables. Each night he has a private table reserved for him, and he gambles from about two in the morning until dawn when he goes back to his bride and his royal suite to consume spaghetti and to get a bit of sleep, perhaps to dream of other ways of wasting his people's money.

NOTE AND COMMENT

A performer in a Kansas air show was killed while giving a demonstration of "how not to fly." No doubt his action drove the point home as nothing else could.

Notes And Queries

By ALPHA

Questions are solicited for this column particularly those relating to local lore and tradition.

SIR: In the poultry section of the Peterborough Exhibition, hens, geese, and ducks are exhibited. There are sub-categories: hen, cock, pullet, cockerel. That is all right for hens, but it seems to me wrong to apply the terms to geese and ducks. Isn't a male goose a gander, not a cock; a male duck a drake, and young ducks ducklings?

ANSWER: The words hen, cock, pullet and kerel apply to all domestic fowl and not only to the common one. A hen is both a hen (egg-laying female of the common chicken) and the female of any poultry and even other undomesticated birds—for instance, guinea-hen, pea-hen. I have even heard the word 'hen' applied to the female of the human species.

If 'hen' is used to refer only to the adult female of the common domestic fowl, its opposite is rooster. If it is used generally for the female of any domestic fowl (and it is so used at the Exhibition) the opposite is 'cock.'

A CENT OUT: A Norwood philatelist and reader of this column has properly twigged my ear for a mistake in last week's note about the Mackenzie King three-cent stamp. It's the four-center which bears W. L. Mackenzie King's image; the three-cent has Sir Robert Borden's, another (but a Conservative) Prime Minister among those whose faces had not heretofore appeared on our stamps. I should have known this, and would have, were it not that all my mail goes by carrier pigeon—faster and more reliable these days.

Incidentally, the local Post Office has had objections from others beside the gentleman I mentioned last week. One lady huffily bought four one-centers, rather than take the King stamp—or even a Borden three and a one-cent: 'I want the real King or no King at all,' she said. I notice that the frontispiece of a Canadian mail-order catalogue circulated nationally has a picture of an envelope ready for mailing to the company. The stamps shown on it are a Borden three and a one-center, not a King four. Department store playing politics?

DEAR ALPHA: Here is an odd question for you. Maybe you can't answer, if you are not interested in the theatre. How on earth do the Summer Theatre actors learn so many lines? They learn a play a week.

ANSWER: I attend the Summer Theatre as regularly as I can and have met Mr. Sadlier, the director. So I put your question to him. He did not say how actors learn their lines, only that they had to and that they did. Apparently there is a great variation in the ease with which actors memorize lines. William Needles, one of the most accomplished actors in Canada today learns his slowly and has to work very hard over them. Miss Kate Reid, on the other hand, picks hers up quickly and accurately, after two or three readings.

It used to be said in schools that memorization trains the brain. It does not, except in one facility: to memorize. People who have to memorize a lot acquire a special facility in memorization. The brain is not necessarily tutored thus in other ways. Mr. Sadlier remarked that at the end of a strenuous season such as Summer Theatre actors have, their ability to learn lines quickly is increased beyond what it was at the first of the season.

The first and essential requirement of a stage actor is that he learn his lines. In professional theatre, such as the Summer Theatre, an actor must be able to memorize his lines; that is the basic assumption. No manager would hire even a ham actor who had to be molly-coddled into learning lines, any more than an orchestra director would expect to have trouble because a violinist could not read and play his notes.

TONS FOR ARCHIVES: Miss A. S. Boyd of Bobcaygeon, daughter of the late Mossom Boyd of the Boyd Lumber Company, and her family, have decided to give the fine old, spacious shingled office to the village of Bobcaygeon as a library and hall. It is a building with several small rooms, complete with shelves, several fireplaces, and a main room with high old office desks. It will make an admirable library and community centre. The Boyds are having the place redecorated before giving it to the village, and old office files, from which nothing apparently had been removed, are being cleared out. In these files are ledgers, diaries and other documents of great value to historians. The Dominion Archives were invited to send down a representative to look over the papers and books. A woman came from Ottawa, sorted with alert, quick eye, and two and a half tons of books, files and papers are being sent to the Federal Archives. The remainder will be thrown out, and that amounts probably to another two or three tons.

The second Mossom Boyd was the gentleman who attempted, with limited success, to cross-breed cows and buffalo; to produce an animal which would give milk and good beef, but not have to winter indoors. This special herd was kept on Boyd's Island, Pigeon Lake, across from Bobcaygeon. Mr. Boyd got first generation cross-breeds, but these would not themselves breed successfully.

Incidentally, "Mossom" has become rather a common Christian name in Bobcaygeon, a tribute to the Boyds, I presume. There are several Mossoms in the village and district who are unrelated to the Boyds.

Most of the Boyd interest was transferred to B.C. when the bottom fell out of lumbering in this area at the end of the last century. There they have timber limits and a company. Now only Miss Boyd lives in the big house, and much of it is closed up.

ALPHA: Does the Peterborough Exhibition carry any rain insurance?

ANSWER: A director of the Fair told me that rain insurance had been found, after trial, unsatisfactory. It is expensive, restrictive in terms, and tied up by conditions. For instance, 20 minutes rain at seven o'clock keeps people away in droves, but 20 minutes at ten p.m. hardly matters financially (to the Fair people) at all. Yet in both instances the same amount of rain may have fallen. How can the Fair Board or an insurance company adequately assess that?

✧ ✧ ✧

BARRED AIR STATION: Aviation authorities have become "security" conscious. A friend of Alpha (he has a few, believe it or not) in Ottawa the other day, wanted to pay a call on an old haunt of his airforce wartime day—Rockliffe airdrome. He drove up with wife and family. A great barrier closed the entrance road. Sentries, assorted field pieces and small arms mounted guard. He spoke to one of the sentries. The sentry was very firm: No Admission Without A Pass. "But I'm a former pilot; I am in the Air Force Reserve now." Sentry: "Got a card or discharge paper to prove it?" No, the ex-RCAF type hadn't, so the sentry would not lift the gate. The discussion continued, the sentry remaining resolutely forbidding. Then he said: "There's another road a half mile away and no gate or guard on it. Try that." So my friend drove along the back road without hindrance, and with the utmost freedom sped right to the very hangars and runway. Nobody accosted him, asked if he were a Russian spy or if he carried an A-bomb in the glove compartment of his car. He believes, however, that when an unofficial car like his is seen to drive in by that back road, somebody telephones the information to somebody else, just in case anybody at the post should be interested.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE BURNHAMS: I have not yet sorted out the branches of the Burnham genealogical tree, so that the promised information must wait another week. Incidentally, there were two doctors George Burnham, one who lived in the house behind the library (the only one left standing in the block now); and the other of another generation whose house was at the north-west corner of Water and London streets (the site now occupied by the Harstone home). This house was moved several lots north along Water before the Harstone house was built.

✧ ✧ ✧

FOR THE RECORD: The best road-sign giving a village or town's farewell to motorists that I have seen in this district is at the edge of Apsley: "Good-bye, Safe Journey". No nonsense about Thank You. Come Again. Apsley apparently is not distributing its thanks holus-bolus; and as a matter of fact most villages which sport a 'Thank You' sign have nothing to thank speeding passers-by for except dust and wear and tear on their roads. As for 'Come Again'—well, Apsleians make their invitation indirectly, and dependent on the visitors' own impressions of the village and its lakes. I like their 'Safe Journey': it's a homely, honest wish which any visitor leaving Apsley should appreciate since he undoubtedly has a long drive ahead of him from the north of the county.

Hearst's Influence on Canada

(R. A. FARQUHARSON IN TORONTO SATURDAY NIGHT)

NOT a single Canadian editorial tear marked the death of William Randolph Hearst, yet no other man had so profound an effect on Canadian newspapers. Few other men so influenced the Canadian way of life as the unwept founder of the Hearst publishing Empire.

Hearst's basic contribution to newspapers was the substitution of hard-boiled business thinking for the old doctrine of editorial responsibility. His goal was to sell more papers; nothing stopped him, not even involving his country in a war with Spain in a jingoistic battle to excite readership.

The comic-strip age in which we live, where popularity of the comic-page is more important in governing size of a newspaper's readership than soundness of its reporting, is largely the outgrowth of Hearst's agile brain. He was involved in a fight with Pulitzer for possession of "The Yellow Kid," first of the comics, thus giving the name "yellow" to the type of journalism he so successfully practised all his long life.

In the years following "The Yellow Kid," Hearst developed more comics than all his competitors and his strips now dominate the comic pages across Canada. It is a reasonably safe assertion that Canadians daily spend more time reading this output of the Hearst factories than they spend on any other type of reading. And as the comic strips no longer pay much attention to humor but turn their specialized abilities to the whole field of sex, crime, politics and even international affairs, Hearst has played a major role in the Canadian educational system. For a generation the Hearst influence has been noticeable in the popular slang of the day, the "English" of the younger set. . . .

HEARST methods have called for lavish expenditures which is perhaps one reason why newspapers in small, non-competitive cities have escaped the Hearst influence to a greater extent than large papers in keenly competitive centres.

Hearst led in front paging sex, in creating such terms as "love nest," in bringing to full flower the type of pictured femininity photographers label "cheesecake," in getting circulation flavor out of crime and scandal. And as newsprint is the major cost in producing a newspaper, there was not room for a continuous daily presentation of serious news, which, Hearst felt, had only a minimum readership anyway. Hearst's methods have always been decried, but even in Canada the Hearst influence can be seen in the dwindling of serious news whenever a keen circulation battle develops between rival papers. Canada's morning papers have escaped the Hearst influence to a greater extent than the evenings. Perhaps the fact that in no Canadian city now is there morning competition has been a factor in this escape.

Hearst was a crusader—for circulation—and his crusades in his early red hot years invariably were successful in accomplishing just that. His exposes provided big red headlines; gave the opportunity to tell about running the life stories of innumerable prostitutes.

No paper in Canada has ever followed the pattern in the Hearst manner, but from time to time there has been just enough of what might be termed the headline expose to make serious readers realize that the Hearst influence did not stop at the border.

Hearst has been one of the reasons why many editors do not like talking about the "freedom" of the press. To his school "freedom" meant the licence to depart from the rule of law governing other business enterprise. It meant the shameless invasion of personal privacy, slanderous attacks on individuals whether in public or private life. The Hearst methods undoubtedly kept many good men out of public service and led to the unthinking use of that snide phrase "politics is a dirty business."

CIVIC government used to be regarded as cleaner, more efficient than other governments because it was so much closer to the people. After more than a generation of Hearst methods, it is harder to get men with established reputations to run for civic office than ever before. If we complain about the mediocrity of the civic fathers in the larger centres, we can certainly put some of the blame on the success of the type of journalism which Hearst introduced to this continent. . . .

Hearst achieved the distinction of having his papers barred from Canada during the First World War. In 1916 it became an offense for which a reader could be sent to jail for five years or fined $5,000 to have a copy of a Hearst paper in Canada. The British Government at the same time banned the mails and cables to Hearst reporters as Hearst gloried in ugly stories about the British. As The Winnipeg Free Press remarks, "it takes more than skill in journalism to make one forget an offense of this magnitude. Hearst's criticism of the British Empire rivalled in industry though not in imaginative malevolence the drum-beat of hate kept up through the years by the Chicago Tribune." . . .

One of the encouraging facts about newspapers is the way cycles change and there are indications that new influences are at work in the news rooms. After fifty years the Hearst formula is growing wearisome and editors themselves are tiring of "leg art" and "pretty blonde" criminals. The American Society of Newspaper Editors and the Canadian Managing Editors' Conference are focussing discussion on ways to make important news interesting in an effort to be commercially successful and still fulfil the responsibility that is definitely theirs.

Tomatoes And Frost

(Fort William Times-Journal)

A short item from London, England, was published in The Times-Journal yesterday, telling us that botanical experts there have perfected a new cold-weather tomato plant tested to withstand up to eight degrees of frost.

Here is a bit of news of unusual interest to residents of Northwestern Ontario. Were the strain adaptable to the climate in this region, we could grow enough for all domestic requirements. A big percentage of tomatoes bought here are imported. That means higher prices, and because of that the deprivation of an excellent food for a number of citizens.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Look not every man on his own things, but every man also on the things of others. Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus. (Phil. 2: 4, 5.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Ye are the salt of the earth: but if the salt have lost his savour, wherewith shall it be salted? it is henceforth good for nothing, but to be cast out, and to be trodden under foot of men.

Ye are the light of the world. A city that is set on an hill cannot be hid.

Neither do men light a candle, and put it under a bushel, but on a candlestick; and it giveth light unto all that are in the house.

Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven. (Matt. 5: 13-16.)

Letter To The Editor

U.E. MATTERS

Sir: Your recent editorials in connection with our Union, UE, prompts me to ask for space in your paper to set out some of the facts in this regard you (for reasons better known to yourself) failed to tell the citizens of this community.

On Tuesday, August 7th, you chose to write on the finances of the UE, and speculated on the possible misuse of our funds. The article was carefully written in such a way as to lead the citizens to believe our financial transactions may be carried on in secret and not in keeping with the wishes of the membership.

So far from the facts was your editorial that our Members, in substantial numbers, demanded that we call upon you with a view to explaining the democratic operation of our Union, and particularly the way in which the funds are safeguarded and used on the instruction of membership decisions.

We arranged such a meeting with you, and to the very best of our ability we explained the above mentioned points and asked you to bring the facts to the citizens of Peterborough through your paper in equal prominence as did you publish incorrect information about our Union.

On Monday, August 13th, you wrote another editorial wherein you published the facts regarding our Local financial arrangements. You failed, however, to tell the public that the funds of our International Union are safeguarded and administered with the same scrutiny as those of our Local.

You chose to make false and incorrect statements about two of our International leaders, and resorted to the age old tactic of red-baiting.

This you do on the pretext that you and the Peterborough people are concerned about our Union being tainted with communism.

You failed to tell the public that we explained to you that if we were to subscribe to the policies of the CCF Party in Canada and the Democratic Party in the USA, we would not be outside the Labour Congresses you appeared so worried about. That if we would turn our Union over to these political parties and refrain from fighting for higher wages and better working conditions, we would no longer be called communist. That we will never turn our Union or its funds over to any political party. On this principle we stand, and name calling will not change our policy and principles on demanding the right of our membership to any political belief they choose.

On the issue of red-baiting, you should understand that the workers of CGE have been subjected to this sort of thing ever since we had a Local Union. In the past two years we have heard it and read it from all the professional red-baiters that could be mustered from Canada and USA, but it did not deceive the CGE workers—it did not succeed in having CGE Workers desert the UE as it was designed to do.

If you are genuinely interested and worried about our Local, let me end your worries by assuring you of the following facts.

The men and women who work in the CGE Peterborough Works, are intelligent men and women. They are capable of making decisions in their best interests, which of course are in the best interests of Peterborough and the rest of Canada.

These men and women built Local 524 UE. They, in majority, have fought to maintain their UE Union. They did so because of their experience and knowledge of the value and calibre of our UE Union.

Surely after these intelligent people have, after many years of first hand experience with UE, made this choice, they should be given the credit of knowing more about their affairs than those outside our UE Union, and who must rely on material published by some who do so for their own selfish ends.

Yours sincerely,
GEORGE WALLACE,
President,
Local 524 UE.

(Ed. Note: The "two of our International leaders" to whom we and the writer of this letter have referred are: U.E. Secretary-Treasurer Julius Emspak, and U.E. Director of Organization James Matles. They were summonsed before the American Congress House Committee on Un-American Activities and appeared December 5th and 6th, 1949. As a result of this hearing Emspak was convicted of contempt of Congress. His case as we believe, is still under appeal.)

Ormiston Of Brooklin Takes Seven Firsts For Holsteins

Roy Ormiston of Brooklin, recent fieldman for the Canadian Holstein-Friesian Association, celebrated his appearance in a local show-ring with an impressive collection of ribbons at the Peterborough Exhibition Thursday. He paraded the senior and grand championship bull in which he has secured a half interest; and in the female title: reserve senior and grand; junior championship and reserve junior.

Mr. Ormiston took seven first honors; and prominently behind him were Stewart Nelson of Keene, and J. H. Jose & Sons, Newcastle, each with five first-prize awards.

Nine breeders of the district brought out 77 head of the Black and White cattle. The fraternity would have set up a new record if all those who had been expected of late had been able to make the trip. Harvest work interfered with that prospect, and naturally claimed prior attention on the home farms.

Maintain Quality

Fred Hubbs, of Bloomfield, was judge, completing the work about 5 p.m. Quality of the cattle indicated that Central Ontario breeders are maintaining that essential.

The exhibitors were/and number of cattle: J. H. Jose and Sons, Newcastle, 10; Stewart Nelson, Keene, 15; Stanley Wood, 8; Norman McConkey, 17; Roy Ormiston 8; Earl Doris, 3; Coughlin Brothers, 14; Fred J. Bolton, 1; and James Shaughnessy and Sons, 1.

Day's Results

The day's results were as follows:

Bull, 2 yrs. and over: 1 F. Roy Ormiston, Brooklin, and O. Parks & Sons, Picton, on Park Acres Rag Apple Historian; 2 Fred J. Bolton, Indian River RR 2; 3 Stewart Nelson, Keene.

Bull, one year, J. H. Jose & Sons, Newcastle.

Senior bull calf: 1 Stewart Nelson, on Keendale Lodge Sovereign Repeat; 2 Coughlin Brothers, Peterborough RR 9; 3 Roy Ormiston; 3 J. H. Jose; James Shaughnessy & Sons, Peterborough RR 2.

Junior bull calf: 1 and 3 J. H. Jose & Sons; 2 Stanley Wood, Peterborough, RR 10.

Senior and grand male championships went to Ormiston and Parks. Reserve senior to Fred Bolton.

Junior championship and reserve grand to Stewart Nelson; and reserve junior to J. H. Jose & Sons.

Cow, 4 years and over, in milk: 1 Roy Ormiston on Segis Posch Lochinvar; 2 and 3, N. W. McConkey; 4 and 5 Stewart Nelson; 6 J. H. Jose and Sons; 7 Coughlin Bros.

Cow, 4 years and over, dry: 1, 2, 3 and 4 Norman W. McConkey, the winner Kenmore Mona Supreme.

Cow, 3 years in milk: 1, 3 and 5 Stewart Nelson; 2 and 4 N. W. McConkey; 6 Coughlin Bros. The winner was Supreme Lochinvar Pietje.

Cow, 3 years, dry: 1 Roy Ormiston on Ormsdale Duchess Inka; 2 McConkey; 3 Nelson; 4 Coughlin.

Cow, 2 years, in milk: 1 J. H. Jose and Sons, Thamescrest Governor Carol; 2 and 6 McConkey; 3 and 4 Coughlin Bros.; 5 Nelson.

Cow, 2 years, dry: 1 McConkey; 2 Jose; 3 Coughlin; 4 Stanley Wood; 5 Nelson.

Best uddered female: 1 Stewart Nelson on Supreme Lochinvar Pietje; 2 McConkey; 3 Jose; 4 Wood; 5 Nelson.

Senior yearling heifer: 1 and 2 Ormiston; 3 Jose; 4 and 5 Coughlin; 6 and 7 Nelson; 8 McConkey; 9 and 11 Stanley Wood; 10 Coughlin Bros.

Junior yearling heifer: 1 Roy Ormiston on Rag Apple Supreme Hermes; 2 Wood; 3 Ormiston; 4 Nelson; 5 McConkey, 6 Coughlin.

Senior heifer calf: 1 and 2 Stewart Nelson; 3 and 7 McConkey; 4 Earl Doris; 5 Coughlin Bros.; 6 Jose.

Junior heifer calf: 1 Earl Doris on Doriscroft Stirling Pansy; 2 McConkey; 3, 5 and 9 Wood; 4 Jose & Sons; 6 and 7 Coughlin Bros.; 8 Doris.

Junior get of sire: Ormiston on the get of Glenafton R. A. Craftsman; 2 Stewart Nelson; 3 J. H. Jose & Sons; 4 Coughlin Bros.; 5 S. Wood; 6 Earl Doris.

Junior herd: 1 Ormiston; 2 Nelson; 3 Jose & Sons; 4 Coughlin Bros.; 5 S. Wood.

Senior and Grand female champion: N. W. McConkey on Nellie Duchess Cruiser winner of the class for dry cows, four years and over.

Reserve senior and grand: Roy Ormiston.

Junior female champion: Roy Ormiston on Segis Posch Lochinvar.

Reserve junior: Roy Ormiston on the junior yearling heifer Rag Apple Supreme Hermes.

Women Teachers Want Single Salary Schedule

TORONTO, Aug. 24—(CP)—A single salary schedule for elementary school women teachers was unanimously approved in principle Thursday at closing sessions of the 33rd annual meeting of the Federation of Women Teachers Associations of Ontario.

Eva Parry, of Toronto, said the schedule was an incentive to further training since under it the amount of training was the major factor in determining salary.

The 300 delegates also approved an extension of the federation's goodwill project which has used donations from members to make seasonal gifts to women exchange teachers from Great Britain. This year monetary assistance also will be given to some public school women pensioners in Ontario.

Officers elected included:

President, Mrs. Ruth Clarke, Port Hope; honorary president, Edna Calder, Sault Ste. Marie; first vice-president, Margaret Bennie, Leamington; second vice-president, Alice Ogden, St. Catharines.

Additional members of the board of governors of the Ontario Teachers' Federation, with which the FWTAO is affiliated, elected: Olive Pedley, Brantford; Margaret Thompson, North Bay.

231 Executed

TOKYO, Aug. 24 (AP).—The execution in Peiping Wednesday of 231 persons was announced by Peiping radio. The broadcast, monitored in Tokyo, said the 231 either were secret agents or landowners who opposed the Communist program.

Negro Commissioner

NEW YORK, Aug. 24 (AP). — William Leon Rowe, Pittsburgh Courier theatre editor, was sworn in Thursday as the city's first Negro deputy police commissioner.

Aids Lung Cancer

LONDON, Aug. 24 (Reuters).—Cigarette smoking at work may be responsible for increasing lung cancer, said a letter in Thursday's British Medical Journal from Dr. J. R. Esplen of Liverpool. He said increasing numbers of cigarettes had been held in fingers contaminated with dyes, oils, solvents, and other chemicals. Some of these might be cancer-producing.

Elephants Paint Town

LOUISBURG, NC, Aug. 24 — (AP).—Seven circus elephants, led by a three-ton performer named Myrtle, were back in tow today after they had bolted a parade through Louisburg. The elephants took off, observers said, when a dog nipped at the heels of Myrtle who was leading the parade. No one was injured.

ZBM BERMUDA—Bermuda's sole radio station—ZBM—is staffed chiefly by Canadians. Gerry Wilmot, right, manager of ZBM, is a former CBC war correspondent from Vancouver. He also spent some time with the BBC. Assistant manager is Walt Staskow of Toronto, formerly with CJCS, Stratford, the Canadian Army and the BBC.

Canadians Staffing Radio Station Serving Bermuda

HAMILTON, Bermuda (CP).—Gerry Wilmot manages the only radio station on the tiny islands of Bermuda, where a leisurely pace is followed amid the flowering Hibiscus and Oleander hedges.

The Bermuda leisure doesn't apply to everything around the radio station, of course. It has to work to program schedules like any other outlet. Broadcasting on 1240 kilocycles with 250 watt power, ZBM brings news and entertainment to Bermudians and their cosmopolitan visitors.

Five Canadians are working at the radio station, including Wilmot, former war correspondent of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation. The station has up-to-date equipment and a library which includes a collection of calypso songs that many a station would envy.

ZBM is the only station in the world, outside of the United States and Canada or their possessions, that is affiliated with the U.S. networks, ABC and Mutual.

Its sole means of revenue is commercial advertising. Strangely enough, Bermuda had an annual radio licence fee of about $1.50 in former years but since it got its own radio station the licence fee have been abolished.

War Veterans

Chef announcer is Bill Williamson of Hamilton Ontario. Attached to the Royal Canadian Navy during the war, Bill worked in Ottawa radio for four years following his discharge. Among other programs he handles the night "Welcome Visitors" program.

Walt Staskow of Toronto started in radio in Stratford, in 1940. He joined the army in 1941 and worked with army radio before geing to the British Broadcasting Corporation in England, from where he came to Bermuda.

Miss Bette Morrison, a former Winnipeg girl now in charge of traffic and scripts, also does some programs. She was well known in Toronto radio circles and decided to remain here after coming for a holiday.

The fifth Canadian is W. A. Bud Pearson, 21, originally from New Brunswick. He also came on a visit, since his married sister lives in Bermuda, but he tried out for an annuoncer's position and was promptly accepted.

Clarence Mann Collects All Female Ayrshire Titles

W. Clarence Mann of Smith collected all the female championships in the judging of Ayrshire cattle at the Exhibition Thursday. The junior champion bull was shown by Stewart Meiklejohn of Peterborough in "Walla-Bray Danny Boy", the name indicating the Brayley breeding at Indian River. The other top titles all went to the strong Mann herd.

His grand champion female was "Glynwood Shirley," tracing to Clarence Coons' work at Glynnwood Farm, Lakefield. It was also senior champion and the best uddered female. Mr. Mann's champion female was "Germandale Dandy".

Takes Second Prize

Calf club members should be interested in the induction of Jim McMullen of the west Peterborough dairy calf club. He showed his club calf "Cedar Hedge Jewel" in the junior heifer calf class of the show, taking a second prize to his uncle's first.

Jim McMullen is a grandson of J. Gordon Mann, now retired from the Ayrshire show ring. He is also a student at Peterborough Collegiate Institute and Vocational School.

List Awards

The prize awards by Joseph Lanphier of Leitchcroft Farms, Gormley, were:

Bull, 1 year—1 Stuart Meiklejohn, Peterborough.
Senior bull calf—1 S. Meiklejohn.
Junior bull calf—1 W. Clarence Mann; 2 S. Meiklejohn.

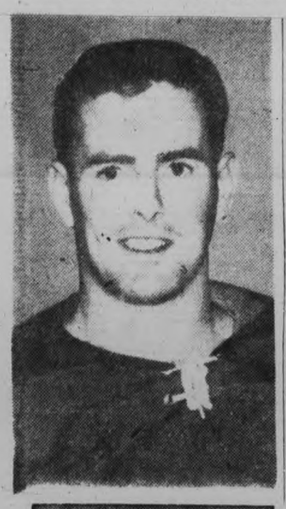
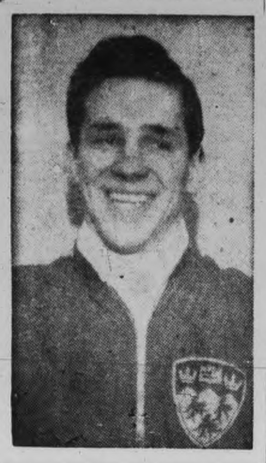
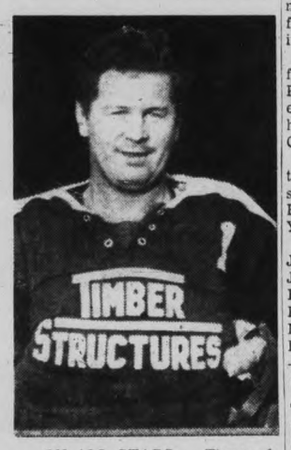
Petes Place Three Men On Lacrosse All-Star Team







ON ALL-STARS — Three of the Petes' senior lacrossers were voted on the mythical first OLA all-star squad for 1951 by coaches of the group. They are shown above, top to bottom: Defenceman Jerry Fitzgerald, forward Harry Wipper, and goalie Moon Wooton. Voted a place on the second all-star team was Bobby Thorpe of the leading Petes.

TORONTO, Aug. 24 — (CP)— Five out of seven league coaches Thursday night picked high-scoring Don McPhail, centre for Mimico Mountaineers, and Merv McKenzie, rearguard bulwark for the Hamilton Tigers, for membership in the Ontario Lacrosse Associations all-star team. The team, a strictly on-paper squad, was announced by league secretary, Chuck Rowan.

McPhail, who led the league scoring this year, was the only player to break a Hamilton Tiger, Peterborough Pete monopoly on the first-string squad. Tigers and Petes each placed three men on the team.

Besides McKenzie, Hamilton men on the all-star crew are Blain McDonald, rover, and Jack Dorney, forward. Peterborough was represented by goalie Moon Wootton, defenceman Jerry Fitzgerald and forward Harry Wipper.

Fitzgerald and Wootton polled four votes, McDonald and Dorney three and Wipper two.

In an accompanying vote Joe Cheevers, St. Catharines Athletics, was named coach of the year.

On Second Team

Chosen for the league second team were: Doug Favell, Hamilton, goalie; Archie Dixon, Mimico, and Steve Oneschuk, St. Catharines, defence; Al Garbutt, Brampton, and Ken Dixon, Mimico, tied for rover; Bobby Thorpe, Peterborough, centre; Max Woolley and Bill Nelson, both of St. Catharines, forwards.

Wootton was named the player most valuable to his team in the Mann Cup finals last season playing for Owen Sound Crescents he played a major role in the defeat of New Westminster Adanacs. After stopping shots for several seasons for Owen Sound minor and senior squads he joined the Petes this year.

Wipper and McKenzie are both pupils of the St. Catharines minor league. McKenzie played in the minors for Orillia and turned out for Mimico Mounties before joining Hamilton.

McDonald and McPhail came from Toronto district leagues. McPhail has been with Mimico since entering senior ranks. McDonald has been on both Mimico and St Catharines rosters.

Dorney has made the round of the loop. He started in the lakeshore leagues and has played for Etobicoke, Weston, Toronto West Yorks and Hamilton.

The teams were selected by: Joe Cheevers, St. Catharines; Jerry Kendall, Brampton; Art Harrison, Mimico; Don Crowe, Peterborough; Hec McKenzie, Fergus; Don Holden, Toronto; Doug Cove, Hamilton.

Schomberg Crushes Haliburton 12-4

SCHOMBERG, Aug. 24.—A 15-hit assault—10 for extra bases — plus a five-hit pitching job by Ken Ellison, earned Schomberg Sodbusters a 12-4 victory over Haliburton Huskies here in an Ontario Rural Softball Association first-round tilt. The win gave Schomberg the series in two straight.

Don Marchant, Murray Edwards and Walt Thompson all cashed in homers for the winners in the heavy hitting. Joe Iles had two hits to top the Haliburton hit list.

Oshawa Beats UEW In First One

Oshawa Duplates took the opener of a best-of-three intermediate "A" OASA playdown series over UEW Thursday night at the motor city by a score of 9-2 behind the steady twirling of Jack McConkey, ace hurler of the motor squad. The second game is scheduled for Saturday night at eight at the East City Bowl.

Reg. Gordon opposed McConkey over the route and apart from a bad second inning pitched a good ball game, despite a few costly errors by his usually reliable mates.

Just Seven Hits

McConkey scattered seven UE hits, one a double by Jake Wade in the second and was never in difficulty save in the visitors' seventh when the Dalton boys registered two runs on Wade's walk and bingles by Robson and Walton. But UE were unable to add further as Duplates fielded faultlessly except for one miscue at third that caused no damage.

The second stanza, however, Toople and McConkey drove in a pair of runs for the winners with Walker ann and Czerewaty each one. Gordon and Herb Casey drove in single runs for Howie Dalton's boys. Second baseman Spencer handled seven clean chances to star for Oshawa with shortstop Vann who had four, while Vann, Morey, Czerewaty and Walker each had two hits. Howie Dalton had two for four to lead at bat and fielded perfectly for UE. A good crowd attended.

UEW: Casey 2b, Thompson 3b, Dalton ss, White lf, Wade cf, Robson rf, Castle 1b, Walton c, Gordon p.

Oshawa: Price 3b, Smegal cf, McConkey p, Loople rf, Morey lf, Czerewaty 1b, Spencer 2b, Walker c, Vann ss.

Umpires: Smith, Peterborough; Hobbs, Oshawa.

Minor Lacrosse

Americans ousted UEW last evening in their PMLA tilt 4-1, scoring twice in the first quarter, once in the second and each side clicking for one in the third. Seabrooke tallied a pair for the winners, with J. Sutherland and Batley getting one each, and Johnson an assist. Allen counted both goals for UEW, Farley aiding on one. Teams:

UEW: Crough, Allen, Farley, D. Sutherland, J. Hobart, Orde, Braniff, Saunders, McIlmoyle.

Americans: Simmons, B. Hobart, J. Sutherland, Johnson, Seabrooke, Batley, Bloom, Chapman.

Arnold Steel and Cherney's fought it out to a 1-1 tie in their game, darkness intervening. It will be replayed again with the winner meeting Americans for the city title. Scriver and Curtis were the scorers last night. Teams:

A. Steel: Hobart, Scriver, Galley, Roode, Lynch, Jones.

Cherney's: Simmons, Curtis, Woodgate, Orde, Holbrook, Brioux.

To Defend Title

LINDSAY, Aug. 24.—Dorothy Hurst and Scott Nelles of the Toronto Tennis Club will defend their 1950 championship at Kawartha district mixed doubles tournament at Hotel Thurstonia courts. Over 20 pairs from Oshawa, Cobourg, Toronto, Peterborough and Lindsay are expected for the two-day tourney, which opens today.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Grid Orfuns are having open workouts nightly in Morrow Park next week again, and meantime the executive meets each Tuesday night to get things rolling for the season. Dr. Roger Chenoweth is president, Don McGillis Sr. vice-prexy, Dr. Wilf. Preston secretary, and Jeff Ginrod the treasurer. Dr. D. Aitken is manager, Gord Young his assistant, Dave Wilson booster chairman, Stan McBride in charge of publicity, Leo Deadey coach, Gord Beatty players' representative, and Harry Yudin, Harv Bamforth and Bud LaBranche other committee members. Ducats on sale now, a car raffle on, players and equipment being checked, and the ORFU schedule opening in September.

* * * * * *

Junior lacrossers see action tomorrow eve at 8.45 here in Miller Bowl, Mimico vs. Lou Vitarelli's hustling young huskies. Latter lead the group race, but Mimico has a chance of overhauling them — a good chance — if they should win here Saturday. The best-of-five junior "A" playoffs of the OLA will be betwixt these clubs, but the one finishing first in the schedule gets the first and third (fifth, too, if necesary) on home grounds, so that's an important item. Winner of the "A" playoffs goes after the Minto Cup and Canadian title, the series being in the East this year. The boys rate support tomorrow.

* * * * * *

Fergus and the Petes

With their senior lacrosse series squared at a win apiece, Fergus Thistles and the Petes clash tonight at 8.45 in Miller Bowl, weather being right. Third of their best-of-five, with the next one in Fergus tomorrow. Kazarin and his teammates are full of fight now and showed it Wednesday by earning a 7-5 win at home against the leaders. It should be another fine playoff scrap, quite important to both sides, and no doubt will pack the fans in. The Petes, by finishing the schedule on top, have a choice of taking a bye into Eastern Canada finals or taking on either of the quarter-finals' survivors in a semi-final series. They're pretty well agreed on taking that bye if they get by Fergus.

* * * * * *

Word came through this a.m. that three of the Petes were voted on the first OLA all-star squad, goalie Moon Wootton, defenceman Jerry Fitzgerald and forward Harry Wipper. Sound judgement by the voting coaches, as these three are really tops. Others named were Merv McKenzie of Hamilton, Jack Dorney of Hamilton, Blain McDonald of the Tigers and Don McPhail of Mimico. On the second all-star team are: Doug Favell, Archie Dixon, Steve Oneschuk, Al Garbutt and Ken Dixon tied, Bob Thorpe (also of the Petes), Max Woolley and Bill Nelson. Picked as top coach of the season was Joe Cheevers of St. Catharines.

Dadson Takes Another

Lefty Bill Dadson came up with another neat hurling chore in Toronto last gloaming as the Petes downed Kingsways 6-3. Ed Whitehill's bunch broke loose for all their runs in one inning, same as the K's did, in a tight game otherwise. Bill Huntley was plenty potent at the platter once again with four for five. George Brabin had two hits and Al Menzies a timely triple, which drove in two runs. The Petes play Croftons twice (one a four-pointer) in Toronto on Sunday to wind up the Viaduct Loop schedule. If they win these, they've first place clinched and will open league semi-finals—best-of-five series—here next Tuesday night 'gainst Kingsways, other games being Aug. 30 and Sept. 1. But more later.

* * * * * *

In Oshawa last evening, the local UEW softballers dropped a 9-2 decision to the Duplates. It was the first of their best-of-three OASA intermediate "A" playdowns, second game being at eight p.m. at the Ashburnham Bowl this Saturday. Reg Gordon pitched fair ball for UEW but his mates were quite loose afield, and Jack McConkey of Oshawa was stingy with hits. Howie Dalton got two for four to lead the losers. Men's city finals resume Tuesday night in the Bowl, Orphan vs. UEW. And speaking of Bowl softball, Ashby's turned back Marines with a good showing last e'en to even the girls' city intermediate finals at a win each. Next of the three-in-fiver will be Monday at seven p.m. followed by a PWSU junior playdown opener between Kingston and Woollens. Latter edged Westclox in an exhibition last night. The Clockers see PWSU intermediate action next Wednesday when Toronto comes here.

Dese, Dem and Dose

More horse races tonight and tomorrow at the Ex., the free-for-all going Saturday night. . . . UEW soccer team has a game in Belleville tomorrow. . . . Sailing regatta at Chemong at two is tomorrow for the championship of the Kawarthas, some two dozen competing, with maybe 15 from Stony Lake. . . . Kawartha and Quaker Clubs mix it this weekend in finals of the Kawartha Tennis League. . . . Americans await a winner of A. Steel and Cherney's for the PMLA finals, UEW being eliminated last evening. . . . All senior lacrosse contenders swing into action again tonight. . . . Emmett Creighton has been clicking neatly for the Petes lately, eh? . . . RCEME School gridders, of ORFU intermediate calibre, have lined up exhibitions with Queen's and Cobourg, and would like a game with the local Orfuns any time now. . . . Write Capt. K. H. Berkeley, RCEME School, Kingston. . . . Revoy's are readying up for CNE softball action and also OASA senior "B" playdowns. . . . And Terry Woods is resting his money flipper for the city finals. . . . Already hockey rumors persist and we're not out of the summer woods by any means yet. . . . And the gridiron game hasn't even started here so far. . . . Ah, wurra, wurra, wurra!

Here and There In Sport

Ottawa's Lowe sisters captured three titles Thursday in finals of the Ontario junior tennis championships at Toronto.

Diana Lowe won the junior ladies' singles by beating Gloria Stanford of Toronto 6-1, 6-0, while her young sister, Penny, defeated Toronto's Donna Kennedy, 6-2, 6-2, in the junior girls' final.

Diana teamed with Joan Batterton, also of Ottawa, to defeat Penny Lowe and Carol Turcotte, Ottawa, 6-1, 6-1, in the junior ladies doubles final.

Middleweight champion Randy Turpin of England, and Sugar Ray Robinson, the ex-titleholder, Thursday signed official contracts for their 15-round return bout at the Polo Grounds, Sept. 12.

The Ross Gold Trophy amateur swimming competition scheduled for Saturday at the Canadian National Exhibition has been postponed until Monday at 10 a.m., Exhibition officials said Thursday, because of the low temperature of Lake Ontario.

Entries are expected from London, Fergus, Peterborough, Montreal, Watertown, NY, Welland, Kingston, Detroit and Quebec.

The 1950 British Empire Games at Auckland, NZ, showed a profit of $64,120, it was announced Thursday. The money will be handed over to the New Zealand Olympic and British Empire Games Association.

Mickey Mantle, prize rookie outfielder of New York Yankees, is not physically qualified for military duty under present standards, selective service headquarters reported Thursday. Mantle is en route to join the Yankees in Cleveland today.

Mantle has a leg ailment which has been diagnosed as osteomyelitis.

Viskings Edge Pavs Move Into Finals

LINDSAY, Aug. 24.—Visking moved into the Lindsay men's softball league finals here Thursday night by whipping Greenhurst Pavs 6-3, behind the four-hit pitching of Don Lucas. It was the second straight setback for the Pavs, who went undefeated in 12 schedule games.

Don Richmond, making his first start on the hill for Greenhurst, gave up six safeties but eight walks and three errors made the difference. Catcher Harv Heatlie sparked the winners, smashing out singles in both their first and third inning rallies. Lloyd Eberts lined out two for four for the losers. Lucas, in hurling his fifth straight win, fanned seven, stranded 10 and spaced four hits.

Visking next meet the winner of the Silverwoods vs. Omemee best-of-three series for the league championship.

Petes Fashion 6-3 Win Over Kingsway

TORONTO, Aug. 24 (Special)— A six-run outburst in the fifth inning at Millen Stadium here last night gave the leading Petes of the Viaduct Major Baseball League a 6-3 victory over the third-place Kingsway Lumbermen before a fair-sized crowd of fans. The Petes can clinch top place here Sunday if they take two ends of a double bill over the trailing Croftons. The first game Sunday will be a four-pointer.

This weekend concludes the schedule and, if Peterborough finishes in first place, they will open at home against Kingsways next Tuesday, return game being in Toronto Aug. 30 and third of the best-of-five semi-final series back in Peterborough on Sept. 1. Oshawa will be going against Staffords in the other bracket.

Scored Three

Last night, four hits, a walk and an outfield error gave Kingsways three runs in the second inning. After that, Lefty Bill Dadson settled away to hurl a fine game, never being in trouble again. The Petes broke out in the fifth for six runs on three miscues and some solid clouting by Bill Huntley, George Brabin, Al Menzies and Bill Dadson. Young Bob Verner pitched pretty fair ball but Craig Robertson relieved him in the eighth and finished strong.

Bill Huntley fattened his batting average with four for five. George Brabin getting two in five trips, and Al Menzies a ringing triple. One of Huntley's blows was a two-bagger. McKillop topped the losers with two safeties in four times up. Box score:

Omemee Ousted

OMEMEE, Aug. 24. (ENS) — Omemee Combines bowed out of the Lindsay Softball League last night when Silverwoods won their second straight play-off game in the village with a score of 13-11.

Ritchie pitched for the victors allowing 17 hits. J. Parsons was on the mound for the Weir-Whitmore crew. He yielded 14 hits.

Omemee's eight errors proved costly to them and almost all the players had an off-night in the field. Roy Crawford led the Combines at bat with four for five, one being a homer. Hickson had two hits for six, one a long homer with two on. Pogue collected two hits in five trips.

'Dugger' Loucks swung a wicked bat with four for five. Ritchie helped win his own game by collecting three for five. Daynes got two hits in four trips.

Kawartha Wins In Tennis Over Port Hope

Kawartha Club defeated Port Hope 4-3 in the semi-final match of the Kawartha and District Tennis League. Kawarthas now play Quakers in the final, the latter having eliminated Cobourg 4-3. The three Kawartha lost were by narrow margins, and their victories were easy ones for the most part. The two best ladies' singles players in the district staged a fine match which went three sets for over an hour and a half. It was the first reverse for Mrs. Fletcher in two seasons of play here. League finals will likely be Saturday and Sunday at three in home and home matches. Results:

Lyn Paul of Port Hope won from Rose Fletcher in ladies' singles 6-3, 3-6, 6-4. Willard Elmsley of Kawartha won the men's singles over Bob Tosh 6-0, 6-1. Kawartha's Don Lamont and Ron Lye won over Ted Fulford and Owen Lent in men's doubles 10-8 and 6-0, as Fulford and Gord Colborne of Port Hope took the second men's over Trevor Clarke and Peter Thompson 5-7, 6-2 and 6-3. First mixed went to Maurice Charlton and John Fetcher of Kawartha 6-0, 6-1, and second to Agunes Bubik and John Faguy of Kawartha over A. Armstrong and Tom Moffatt 6-2, 6-4. Ladies' doubles went to Port Hope's Esther Martin and Doris Jennings over Joan Lye and Marg Adamson 6-4, 7-5.

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press

Armed, famed golden gelding of racing, was sent back to the green pastures of his Kentucky birthplace three years ago today. The animal was proclaimed the "Horse of the Year" after earning $773,750 in six years of racing. Ben A. Jones, manager of the Calumet Farms' racing interests, decided to retire Armed when he failed five times in six starts.

Ashby's Tie Up The Series With Marines

Ashby's downed Marines 9-3 at the Bowl last night to even their best-of-five girls' city intermediate finals at a win each. They meet again at seven p.m. Monday. The junior Woollens, who play Kingston here Monday, won a nifty exhibition game 8-7 from Westclox last night. The Clockers have Toronto here in PWSU playdowns next Wednesday.

Though held to seven hits by H. White, Ashby's bunched blows with the odd walk and four Marines' errors to earn their win. Homers were hit by L. Jordan and J. Dunk, the former also having a single. J. Dunk and E. Brown shone afield for them. E. Whittaker turned in some fine relief flinging for Marines and M. Behan led at bat with four for five. Eight of the winners went down on strikes. D. Thompson and J. Dunk reeled off a double-play in the ninth. Teams:

Marines: M. Behan, ss; V. Page, 3b; E. Whittaker, rf, p; M. Gillen, c; A. LaPointe, cf, 3b; E. Mantley, lf, cf; H. White, p; M. Carr, rf, lf; B. McMahon, 1b; R. Leal, 2b.

Indians Down Yanks 2-1 Taking Opener In Vital 3-Game Series

By RALPH RODEN, Associated Press Sports Writer

Cleveland Indians, steaming three games ahead in the bristling American League pennant fight, have the world champion New York Yankees set up for the kill in the American League. The Indians widened their first-place margin to three games Thursday by taking the opener of a vital three-game series 2-1. Bob Lemon turned in a superb three-hit job in outpitching Vic Raschi for win No. 15. And the way the Indians are clicking on their familiar home grounds, they have high hopes of blunting the Yankees' bid for a third straight flag. Thursday's triumph was Cleveland's 16th straight at Municipal Stadium this season and the 19th in their last 23 starts.

Early Wynn (14-11), a tough guy when the chips are on the line, will go against the Yankees tonight before a crowd of about 70,000.

The Yankees are gambling on Stubby Overmire (2-7). For the Saturday finale Lopez has Mike Garcia (17-8) ready to go against Ed Lopat (16-7).

Yankee manager Casey Stengel selected Overmire for the important second game because both of his previous choices, Allie Reynolds and Bob Kuzava, are out with injuries.

Must Win Two

The Yankees must win the next two games in order to stay in the running.

The Yankees scored first in the third inning when Hank Bauer came home on the front end of a double steal. The Indians tied the score with a run in the fourth on a walk to Dale Mitchell, singles by Bobby Avila and Harry Simpson. Dale Mitchell doubled home Jim Hegan with the winning run in the fifth.

In other American League games Philadelphia Athletics defeated Chicago White Sox 6-3; Boston Red Sox humbled St. Louis Browns 9-3 and Washington Senators shut out Detroit Tigers 10-0. St. Louis Cardinals downed Brooklyn Dodgers 4-2 in the only National League game.

Toronto-born Dick Fowler with help from Carl Scheib pitched the Athletics to their third straight victory over Chicago. The A's wrapped it up with three runs in the first inning against Randy Gumpert.

15th Victory

Mel Parnell coasted to his 15th victory as the Red Sox downed the Browns. Parnell chipped in with four singles to help his own cause.

The Senators whacked out 14 hits while Bob Porterfield blanked the Tigers on four singles. The Senators clinched the game with six runs in the sixth inning.

Lefty Max Lanier scattered seven hits in beating the Dodgers to end a 14-game Cardinal losing streak at the hands of the Brooks. Roy Campanella belted his 27th homer for the National League leaders in the ninth.

Wolf Whistles Are Out Chief Declares

Drivers, if you should see a pretty girl on the street don't use a wolf whistle to show your appreciation, for it can be costly.

The wolf whistles will be considered taboo on Peterborough's city streets. Other cities in Canada and United States are also clamping down on the whistlers which work off the vacuum, the same as the windshield wipers.

Recently in Kitchener a boy was fined $5 and costs for showing his appreciation of a pretty girl walking along the street with a wolf whistle. The charge was laid under the Highway Traffic Act which covers any device which would tend to confuse or mislead drivers.

Thought It A Siren

A Kitchener motorist testified in the case that he pulled over to the curb when he heard it, thinking that it was a siren.

So for any drivers who have wolf whistles or are planning to buy one, Chief John Thompson warns that there are two particular clauses under which you can be charged.

The first is that which requires every motor vehicle to have a noise muffler (city police have been cracking down on muffler-less cars) and no other contrivance for releasing any sound that may be operated from any seat in the car.

The second clause says that no vehicle other than ambulances, fire or police department vehicles may have a siren or horn producing a sound which resembles a siren or horn which will deceive or confuse.

So fellows, confine your appreciation to warm thoughts or just a slow, soft natural whistle.

BRONCHIAL COUGH

Are you kept awake by a nerve-racking bronchial cough? Is phlegm so tightly packed in your bronchial tubes, no amount of coughing seems able to dislodge it? Templeton's RAZ-MAH capsules are especially made to loosen phlegm, so it comes away easily and you are relieved of coughing and wheezing. Get RAZ-MAH for quick relief. 65c, $1.35 at druggists. R-56

Junior Homemakers Stage Best Show In History Of Exhibition

"One of the best shows the Junior Homemaking department has ever had at the Peterborough Exhibition," commented Miss Florence Eadie, Ontario supervisor of junior extension with the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Miss Eadie was present for the judging of the exhibits, displays and other activities of the Junior Homemaking department which took place in the market hall Thursday.

Miss Jean Noble, home economist for the counties of Peterborough, Haliburton, Victoria and Durham was in charge of the day's program. She reported that there were 108 girls taking part—eight more than in the 1950 exhibition.

Also judging were Miss L. Row, Toronto; junior extension clothing supervisor; Miss Elsie Irwin, Napanee, home economist for the counties of Hastings, Prince Edward, Lennox and Addington and Frontenac; Miss Jean Steckle, Toronto, summer home economist.

In this department prize money is awarded on the group basis for individual work. There are three groups.

For the first group a girl must have completed four homemaking projects, attended 75 per cent of the club meetings during the previous year and receive more than 80 per cent on her work at the exhibition.

For the second group three projects must have been completed; 75 per cent of the meetings attended and a total of 70 per cent received on work at the exhibition.

The third group consists of all girls who have only two projects completed, or attended only 60 per cent of the meetings, or received less than 70 per cent on the work at the exhibition.

Sulphur Shortage May Curb Newsprint

CLEVELAND, Aug. 24 —(AP)—Lack of sulphur threatens to cause another newsprint shortage, an official of the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association warned Thursday.

Douglas W. Ambridge of Toronto, chairman of the Association's executive board, said much of United States sulphur is being diverted to Europe in the program to rebuild war-torn countries.

Canadian newsprint producers, who have been getting most of their sulphur from the US, now are exploring new sources, Ambridge said.

Ambridge spoke before a group of publishers and industrialists here.

Teen-Age Drug Addicts

In 14 to 30 days a teen-ager can become a heroin addict. Then, though dope no longer gives him pleasure, he'll steal—or worse—to get it to end the agonies he suffers.

September Reader's Digest reveals the shocking facts about this terrifying trend among youth.

Read how a typical addict starts; the tell-tale symptoms that warn a parent his youngster's using drugs; and the typical course of an addict's short—and horrible—life.

Weighty Steers Drop 50 Cents During Week

TORONTO, Aug. 24 — (CP).—Prices for weighty steers dropped 50 cents to $1, while other cattle grades held steady on the Ontario Livestock Market here this week. Calves and hogs were steady, while lambs dropped from $1-$2.

Cattle receipts for the week were 7,000, with 1,900 of them mostly stockers. Held over from last week were 500 cattle.

Weighty steers were plentiful, and some of the loads were unsold.

Top choice weighty steers sold for $34.75, with others from $34.50 downward to $31. A few good light steers sold up to $34.50 with common downward to $28. Good heifers were $32.50-$33. Good to choice fed yearlings sold from $34-$36.50. Medium to good cows were $26-$28, with canners from $17-$22. Good heavy bulls were $28 to $29 and common light bulls sold at $24-$27.

Stockers were steady for better quality. Medium to good stockers were $30-$33.50 and good stock calves sold up to $35.

Calves totalled 2,000 head, and were steady at $35-$36 for choice vealers, with common to medium lights and heavies ranging from $26-$33. Light stock calves sold at $30-$37.

Hogs totalled 1,700 head, with the market steady at $35.75 for Grade-A. Sows were $26 dressed.

Sheep and lambs totalled 1,400 head. Lambs were from $1-$2 lower at $34 for good ewes and wethers; bucks were $33. Culls were mostly $30. Common to medium sheep sold at $10-$15, and good light sheep were $18-$22. The final sales for local lambs showed $33 for good ewes and wethers, with bucks at $32.

ALEXANDER LUCAS

MARMORA, Aug. 24—(ENS)—Alexander Lucas, 52, died about 6 p.m. on Wednesday at the home of his brother, John (Pete), in Marmora township, following an illness of a few months.

He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Lucas, and was born at Cannifton. His parents resided in Marmora township for a number of years before their deaths. In turn, he worked for the Deloro Smelting and Refining Company Limited, the Canada Cement Company at Point Anne, and the Frankfort Pulp Company.

Surviving are his widow, the former Marjorie Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Amzy Mitchell of Point Anne, and one daughter, Evelyn; also surviving are the following brothers and sisters: John and Earl, Marmora township; Percy and Owen, Malone; Mrs. James George (Helen), Belleville; Mrs. Leo Provost (Annie), Marmora township; Miss Pearl Lucas, Toronto, and Miss Gladys Lucas, Marmora township.

The funeral will take place this afternoon, leaving the residence of his brother John for service at St. Paul's Anglican Church at 2.30 p.m. Burial will be in Marmora Protestant cemetery.

MRS. GERALD McALLISTER

WARKWORTH, Aug. 24 (ENS) —Funeral service for Mrs. Gerald McAlister of Norham, a mile south of Warkworth, was held Thursday in Castleton United Church. The Rev. J. E. Griffith officiated and interment was in Stone's cemetery, Norham.

Mrs. McAllister, who was in her 34th year, died following a long illness. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melbourne McGregor, Castleton, and she had lived most of her life in this district.

Junior Farmers Given Prizes At Dinner

Junior farmers and girls from homemaking clubs in the dozens attended the Thursday night dinner given for them by the Canada Packers firm.

The dinner is an annual affair at which prizes won by the junior farmers and the girls' clubs are awarded.

High man in the junior farmers' senior competition was Bill Curle, of Campbellford, winning the prize for the second year in succession. Tops in the junior competition was Archie Davidson, of Keene.

In inter-county exhibits by the girls' clubs, clubs of four counties placed in the first group (competitive prizes are not awarded in homemaking club competition). Clubs in the first group were Keene (Peterborough), Wooler (Northumberland), West Huntingdon (Hastings), Bethany (Durham).

In the garden exhibit, clubs from Bowmanville (Durham) and Seymour West (Northumberland) placed in the first group.

Present Prizes

Prizes were presented to the girls by Miss Florence P. Eadie, supervisor of junior extension for the Department of Agriculture, and to the boys by R. G. Bennett, Associate Director of Agricultural Representatives.

Following the dinner a singsong was led by Clarence Corbett, and several numbers on the accordion were played by C. Trusselle.

Chairman was Jim Goldie, and acting as host for Canada Packers was Lionel Browne. Frank Paterson introduced the head table guests, and greetings from the Fair Exhibition Board were extended by Board President Norman McConkey and Director Don Milburn.

Head table guests were: Don Milburn, Lionel Browne, W. McMullen, Miss Lula Row, Miss Florence Eadie, Frank Paterson, James Goldie, J. McPherson, Miss Jean Noble, Norman McConkey, R. G. Bennett, H. Hanna, John Kitney, and Ed Starr.

Individual awards in the first group of girls' competition went to counties of Hastings (4), Northumberland (19), Prince Edward (2) and Peterborough (1).

In the second group awards went to Durham (2), Hastings (6), Northumberland (6), Peterborough (8), and Prince Edward (3).

In the third group prizes went to Durham (4), Hastings (6), Northumberland (4), Peterborough (5), Prince Edward (2), and Victoria (13).

Following are prize winners from the junior farmers' contests: Livestock judging, senior: 1 Merrill VanCamp, Nestleton; 2 D. N. Moffatt, Orono; 3 Bill Curle, Campbellford; junior—D. A. Sherwin, Orono; 2 Clifford Bristow, Campbellcroft and Lois Schroter, Dunsford (tied); identification contest, senior—1 Bill Curle, Jack Pearson, Uxbridge (tied); 3 (tied) Keith VanCamp, Nestleton, James Stark, Uxbridge, Neil W. Motor Killing Charge Withdrawn

Campbellford's Mayor Will Face Charge Of Dangerous Driving

A charge of motor manslaughter against Mayor J. E. Ayrhart, Campbellford was withdrawn in magistrate's court here Thursday afternoon. The dangerous and careless driving charges arising out of the same accident were adjourned until September 24.

The charges were laid following an accident on July 14 near Norwood when John J. Meincinger, RR 3, Indian River, died in Peterborough Civic Hospital as the result of a car-truck accident.

With the charge of motor manslaughter was bail of $5,000 which Thursday was placed with the lesser dangerous driving charge.

E. A. Richardson of Toronto, for the defence was ready to proceed with the preliminary hearing but was satisfied with the adjournment asked by Acting Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry. Both the defence and the crown were agreed on the September 24 date for the start of the hearing.

Mr. Richardson said that Willis Edwards, Toronto, a passenger in the Ayrhart car, was still in the hospital and may not be available from one to two months yet.

The accident occurred one mile north of Norwood at the bound-

Small Muskie: $20

A muskie cost one visitor to the Stony lake area about $1 an inch in police court today. George Brown, 119 Ash St., Whitby, entered a written plea of guilty for keeping a muskie less than 30 inches in length. He was fined $20 with costs of $2.50. Brown was fishing on Stony lake on August 6 when R. H. Trotter, Apsley, the Lands and Forests department officer, caught Brown with the small muskie. To be a keeper, the fish must measure 30 inches from the tip of the snout to the centre of the posterior of the edge of the tail.

Delivery Horse Classes Given Awards

Of all the heavy horses being judged at the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition, the ones that probably deserve the most respect are the ones we see every day, but seldom think of as show horses. They are horses that pull the bread and milk wagons around the city, servicing the homes from day to day.

The delivery horse class was outstanding at the exhibition this year, with the horses in remarkable condition, considering the work they do. No one firm monopolized the ribbons. The red and blue tickets went to a number of the dairy and bakery firms in the city.

In the carriage and roadster classes, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Barden of Hillsburg, Ontario, made an excellent showing with their entries. Mr. and Mrs. Barden show their horses at the CNE and the Royal Winter Fair, Jacal Express, Golden Charm and Frina Smiles, not to speak of the famous K. T. Lee, are the Barden horses making the best showing this year.

Will Increase Floor Space By 122,000 Square Feet At City's Biggest Industry

Contract For Two New Buildings Let Work Will Commence As Soon As Contractor Moves In Equipment

Canadian General Electric Company has let a contract to A. W. Robertson Construction Co. for two additional units to their local works which will provide an additional 122,000 square feet of floor space for increased manufacturing accommodation. That 122,000 square feet means that if a one-storey building was erected on a city block it would occupy the entire block where the new city hall is being built and still would be short 22,000 square feet of space.

Erection of these two buildings will be begun just as soon as the contractor moves in constructional equipment.

One of them is for a new and enlarged carpenter and pattern shop on the recently vacated parking lot at the northwest corner of the company's property, at Monaghan Road and Wolfe St.

Centrally Located

The other building is more centrally located just west of the big motor assembly building which was completed several years ago in the comparatively recent enlargement of the CGE plant.

J. E. Girven, assistant works manager, told the Examiner today that these new capital investments were required to provide more manufacturing floor area.

The carpenter shop contributes 66,000 sq. ft., and the other unit for structural steel and punch press extensions will add 56,000 sq. ft.

When this work is completed, Canadian General will have occupied their entire block bounded by Park, Albert and Wolfe Streets and Monaghan Road, with the exception of the broad lawn on the extreme west side reaching from Albert St. at Monaghan Road to Works Ave. which runs from the Park St. gate to the Monaghan Road gate.

The carpenter-pattern shop is being laid out on the north side of Works Ave., between Monaghan Road and the cafeteria building, and extending northerly to the Wolfe St. front of the property.

Dimensions of this unit are 120 ft. by 275 ft. and will be of two storeys. Its main entrance will front on Works Ave. A central tower will house an elevator shaft. A ramp at the southeast corner will permit truck access.

Sprinkler systems and fluorescent lighting are details of the plan.

"When the carpenter shop moves into its new quarters, additional employees will be needed, and several new machines will be put into use. This department will then be able to handle a lar-

Keene Man Gets Month For Thefts

Patrick Curtin, Keene, was given a month on two charges of shoplifting today in police court. He pleaded guilty to charges of stealing two pairs of socks from one Peterborough five-and-ten-cent stores and an alarm clock from another. The sentences will run concurrently.

Constable Wilfred Perry said that on August 17 he was called to the F. W. Woolworth store where two employees were holding Curtin. One held an alarm clock which he accused Curtin of lifting.

When Constable Perry took Curtin to the police station, he found two pairs of new socks in Curtin's possession.

The constable said that Curtin had been drinking but was not drunk.

Curtin, in his own defence, said that "drinking is my downfall" and "it's been four years since I have been before you."

He asked for a short sentence so that he could enter the bush to work for the winter, as he does every year.

Magistrate Baxter said, after viewing Curtin's previous record, "you must know a lot of magistrates according to this."

Curtin said that he planned to join Alcoholics Anonymous.

Attendance Lags For Second Day, Receipts Are Up

Attendance showed a drop for the second day of the Peterborough Exhibition. Thursday's figures were 1,305 below the attendance on the exhibition's second day in 1950.

Again, due to increased admission prices, the receipts were up, $4,315.35 compared to $4,197.90 in 1950.

Weather could not be blamed for the drop in attendance; Thursday was clear and warm, and today started out slightly cloudy, but mostly sunny.

Here are comparative figures for the second day this year and last year:

	1950	1951
Attendance	8593	7288
Children	1273	1109
Adults	7320	6179
Grandstand ..	3168	2162
Receipts....	$4,197.90	$4,315.35
Gate	$2,752.95	$3,255.35
Grandstand	$2,144.95	$1,059.50a

(a) Not including downtown sales

The second day's attendance showed a drop of more than 2,000 from the first day: 9,625 against 7,288.

Junior Farmers

Much of Thursday's activity was centred around the work of the junior farmers. High man in senior competition was Bill Curle of Campbellford, with 431 points of a possible 500. Top man for the junior competition was Archie Davidson of Keene, with 420 points.

At the Market Hall downtown, the girls from the home making clubs (sponsored by the department of agriculture) were conducting their competitions.

Thursday night both boys and girls attended at dinner at the Empress Hotel, sponsored by Canada Packers, at which prizes were awarded.

Today is Ladies' Day at the exhibition, and special preparations have been made in the Home Department and Art building.

Music Festival Dates May 14-20

The syllabus for the 1952 Peterborough Kiwanis festival will be printed and distributed by the first week in October.

This information and the festival dates — May 14 to 20 — were released today by the Festival committee.

For the 1951 Festival, the syllabus was not distributed until January. The committee believes that making the syllabus available three months earlier will benefit both competitors and their teachers.

This syllabus is being compiled by W. B. Rothwell, who has been associated with festival work for many years. He is director of competitions for the Kiwanis Festival of Greater Toronto, and drafted the Peterborough festival syllabus in 1949 and 1950.

The 1951 syllabus was compiled by Dr. Healey Willan, nationally known composer and organist.

The festival committee also reported that 20 shields from the 1951 festival are being delivered to the winners this week. The majority of the shields will stay in Peterborough and district, but two will go to Aurora and two to Port Hope. All but one of the shields are for winners of group choral work. The one shield was won by the PCVS band.

Plan Concert Sunday Night

Sunday evening's program at Nicholl's Oval will be a combined concert by the Peterborough Citizens' Band and films.

Librarian William Graff, will be master of ceremonies for the film program and the band will be under the direction of Bandmaster Wallace Parnell. The program is co-sponsored by the Recreation Commission and the Film Council.

The three films that will be shown are: Winter Carnival, A Mile Below the Wheat and Algonquin Waters. All are colored films.

The band concert will include a concert solo, Zelda, played by Assistant Bandmaster Earl Johns.

The other numbers on the program are: March—Band of America; Overture—Festival King; two popular selections—Hawaiian War Chant and Teddy Bears' Picnic; Waltz—Thoughts; Selection—Serenade; Overture— Pancredi; Concert March—My Hero.

How Comes That President McConkey Gets Mixed Up With Shorthorn Cattle?

Norm McConckey,
President,
Peterborough Fair.
Dear Norm:

I saw your pitcher in the newspaper the other night with some other fellers trying to hold a shorthorn. I thought you was a holstein breeder. How come? I said to the Old Woman that the worried look of you must have been due to all the troubles of the big Fair.

Our family never misses going to Peterborough twice a year, the Fair and the Orange Walk (I've never seen YOU at the Walk.)

This week we started off from our farm at Troutfly Lake, come sunrise, the ten of us, me and the Old Woman and the two babies on the front seat of the wood truck and the other eight kids on a load of logs behind. You see, I'm pretty smart for a feller from the back country and I had to pay for the trip and family fun.

After selling the logs we went down to the grounds and some smart guys at the gate sent us over to the midway. Now, you know us well enough for that. Do we look like a family of freaks, or something?

You've got yourself quite a fair together this year. I'd like to have some of that shiny machinery up on my rockpile; perhaps I could get the land in some shape to grow something but it looks right pretty now covered with pink fireweed.

All those gadgets in the tents and buildings were really something. This here ee-lectricity is a great rig, eh Norm. We liked the grandstand show, those stage people, the races, the slick buggy turnouts and, say, that clown would kill you, wouldn't he?

We got tired luggin' the babies around but we had to hunt up the older ones who headed for the midway, straight off. Gave them 50 cents apiece, too. They were all waiting for us at the big shiney archway, wantin' more money. The cost of everything is going up, isn't it?

Well, we all gave the midway a whirl and it's surprising how nice those folks in the little tents are; they fairly insisted that we gather around at each one. I kind of got off alone to have a look at the koochie girls but the Old Women trailed right after me and, dang it, they was just going to start their high kicking. Won a couple of nice ee-lectric lamps at bingo and although we can't hook them up at home they'll look right fetchin' in the parlor on top of the organ.

Guess you don't want to hear any more from a rube like me but I wanted to tell you it's the best Fair the city has ever put on. You boys must have been busier than steers in fly time.

Yours truly,
PURLY GATES.

ONE NEW CASE

Board of health officials reported one more case of poliomyelitis today. The new case is a 27-year-old man. Peterborough and district's total number of cases is now 27.

Four Drunk Cases Fines Total $90

A few beers for four men brought a total of $90 in fines and court costs today in police court.

Edward Desautell, Indian River, was fined $50 with $2.50 costs, a second offender, for being drunk on Chambers St. August 16. He was given the alternative of 20 days on the hill.

Three others were fined $10 with costs of $2.50 each: Henry Sweeney, 295 King St.; Harold Brooks and Robert Rex, both of 139 Rubidge St. They had the alternative of 10 days in jail.

Original Work, Less Copying Found In Fair's Art Exhibit

This year's art exhibit and display of handcraft at the Peterborough Exhibition drew many admiring glances from visitors and a good deal of pleased comment from directors of the exhibition.

Probably the kindest words for the painters came from the judge, George Foord of Toronto.

Of the show in general, he said "It is most encouraging to see more original work and less copying. While there is pleasure to be gained from copying, the greatest satisfaction undoubtedly is to be derived from really creative work."

A number of pictures were singled out for praise by Mr. Foord. Among them were a landscape in pastels by Mrs. Helena Munroe and an oil landscape by Jack Hamer. Mr. Hamer's large landscape of spring snow won the $10 prize for the best painting of the exhibit.

Charles Saunders, chairman of the fine arts department, remarked that while more good pictures were being submitted each year, there were still a large number of those " not so good".

"But it will help the 'not so good' painters a great deal to see their work alongside that of other, good painters," he commented.

Exhibition directors were particularly pleased with the way in which Mr. Saunders has built up the art department over the two years of his chairmanship.

Donald Milburn expressed the general feeling when he said he thought Mr. Saunders was doing a "splendid job."

A newcomer among the exhibitors of paintings was Margaret Florence, Elias Ave., who won firsts in the portraits and figures, and still life classes of the original oils.

The display of handcrafts caught the eyes of a good many visitors, who seemed particularly interested in the work of several of the exhibitors who were "throwing" pottery on a wheel in the handcraft booth.

Union Members Told To Learn Machine Work

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 24 (AP) — International Typographical Union members were told Thursday they must "learn to operate these things" if the ITU is to cope successfully with the problem of teletypesetters — machines which set type from perforated tape.

The 93rd convention of the Union of Printers and Mailers adopted a committee report which defined operation of teletypesetters as "composing room work."

And President Woodruff Randolph said ITU would insist on jurisdiction over all teletypesetter operation except service furnished by Associated Press, United Press or International News Service.

But he warned members that the problem of jurisdiction over the new process of setting type is one which must be solved by the membership at a local level. "We have several newspaper teletypesetter chains operating with union help," he reported, "but we've had to convince some ITU members that they should do the work."

The three news services have contracts with the Commercial Telegraphers' Union (AFL), whose members long have sent news over teletype circuits from perforated tape. The CIU members now perforate similar tape which also can be sent over wires and when received at a distant point, fed directly into a typesetting machine.

Seek Meeting Of Union, Howe

WINDSOR, Aug. 24 — (CP) — Mayor Arthur J. Reaume tried Thursday to arrange a meeting of union and automobile industry leaders with Production Minister Howe.

The mayor met with officials of United Automobile Workers (CIO) in a closed meeting called to discuss the announcement Tuesday that 2,000 Ford of Canada employees will be laid off Aug. 31.

Later, the mayor said, he would ask Mr. Howe for an appointment to discuss Windsor's unemployment problem.

The layoffs announced Tuesday will bring to 3,460 the number of moved from Ford's payroll since federal credit restrictions began last spring. It will mean a payroll drop of about $250,000 a week.

A telegram to Prime Minister St. Laurent, asking him to take steps to relieve the city's growing labor crisis, was sent by Thomas MacLean, UAW assistant regional director.

The telegram, sent also to cabinet members and members of parliament from Essex county, said Windsor faces "economic chaos."

"The mass layoffs which C. D. Howe and other top ministers assured the UAW-CIO would never happen in Windsor, have happened," the message said.

Crosses Uprooted In Shrine Cemetery

MIDLAND, Aug. 24 — (CP) — Crosses have been uprooted and signs torn down recently in the cemetery at Old Fort Ste. Marie, part of the Martyrs' Shrine.

Pranksters in their latest raid tore down many of the historical signs and threw into the Wye River the stone marker from the only white man's grave in the burial ground.

Two 18-foot wooden crosses which served as markers for the site of the Indian chapel and the cemetery, oldest Christian burial ground in Canada west of Quebec, were uprooted. The cemetery was discovered last year by Wilfrid Jury, University of Western Ontario archaeologist.

Both Roman Catholics and Protestants are aroused over the acts. Police are investigating and a reward has been posted.

READY FOR THE SEA—Tugs push the US battleship Iowa toward a new berth at the navy's San Francisco shipyards after the big battlewagon to be recommissioned this month was moved out of drydock. The Iowa was taken out of mothballs several weeks ago and part of the veteran warship's new crew already is aboard.

Sargent Brothers Win Junior Jersey Title

Sargent Brothers of Cavan Township, the three young sons of Bruce Sargent, won the junior female championship in the Jersey class of the dairy cattle judging at the Exhibition Thursday. That signalized their introduction as Jersey exhibitors. Their junior calf is Sanragon Basil's Warda.

The veteran Garnet Kerr of Campbellford, takes home all the other titles. Thomas Carew of Roseneath also showed in the Jersey ring.

Mr. Kerr's grand champion bull was also the junior champion Burnside Noble Basil Boy, and his senior and grand male was Burnside Rowers Rosie.

The results were:

Bull, 1 year—Garnet Kerr.
Bull calf, senior—1 Garnet Kerr.
Bull calf, junior—1 G. Kerr; 2 Thomas Carew.
Cow, 4 years or over in milk — 1 G. Kerr.
Cow, 4 years or over dry—1 and 2 G. Kerr.
Cow, 3 years in milk—1 G. Kerr; 2 T. Carew.
Cow, 3 years dry—1 G. Kerr.
Cow, 2 years in milk—1 G. Kerr.
Cow, 2 years dry—1 G. Kerr.
Junior yearling heifer—1 G. Kerr; 2, 3 and 4 Sargent Brothers.
Senior heifer calf—1 G. Kerr.
Junior heifer calf—1, 3 and 4 Sargent Brothers; 2 G. Kerr.
Graded herd—1 G. Kerr.
Junior herd—1 G. Kerr.
Progeny of dam—1 G. Kerr.
Junior get of sire—1 G. Kerr.
Best uddered female—1 and 2 G. Kerr; 3 T. Carew.

TARGET OF TERROR—Soldiers inspect the charred remains of an Army truck, hit by a flaming T-33 jet trainer which crashed after taking off from McGuire Field. The plane hit the truck at Fort Dix, N.J., and killed 11 soldiers in or near the truck. The two men in the plane also died.

Your Garden:

Important Garden Notes For August

By HENRY PREE, (NEA)

Care should be exercised in mowing the lawn this month. Grass grows 1% less rapidly in hot weather and, therefore, the lawn needs to be mowed less often.

It is important, too, that the lawnmower should be set rather high, leaving the grass at least an inch and a half high. Close clipping restricts the root development and consequently the volume of soil from which moisture may be obtained.

There is always danger of burning the grass if fertilizers are used now. It is especially important not to use sulphate of ammonia unless in a device which mixes it with water carried through a hose.

Oriental poppies are supposed to be indestructible in well-drained soil although, even in light soil they have shown a tendency to be short-lived. In fact, four or five years was about the limit of their duration until the old gardener showed me the cause of the trouble.

Observation since then verifies his statement that old plants develop crowns which collect and hold moisture during the rainy months, causing the plants to rot. This fault is overcome by divisions of the old crowns, which should be done after the coming of the dormant period in July.

Confirmed also has been his assertion that most gardeners do not plant their oriental poppies deep enough. His practice of putting the crowns three inches below the surface has added years to the lives of his plants and has made the need of frequent division or propagation from root cuttings less urgent.

Japanese irises should be divided every three years on the average. This work should be done when the plants are dormant, which is soon after the blooming period, that is in late July or early August. The roots are entirely different from those of the bearded irises, being fine and wiry and less readily pulled apart. It is often necessary to use a sharp knife to separate them.

They should be planted at a depth of three or four inches. Although the Japanese irises require an abundance of moisture, they also require good drainage. It is fatal if water freezes around the crowns in winter. For that reason, it is well to place a little mound of sand under each bulb when it is set.

Many gardeners clip their hedges in such a way that they are wider at the top than they are at the bottom. This is wrong. It invariably results in the bottom of the hedge becoming thin and straggly, because the width of the top part shuts off the life-giving sunshine from the lower part.

Always clip the hedge so that it is narrower at the top than at the bottom. With regard to the shape of the hedge at the top, it may be flat, rounded or peaked. The choice is a matter for individual preference and has little, if any, bearing on the success of the hedge as a hedge.

Another mistake that is frequently made in connection with pruning a hedge results when the owner, impatient to have his hedge achieve a desired height, neglects to cut it back often enough in the early stages.

Consequently, the hedge is thin at the bottom and does not present that solid face which is considered desirable. These remarks apply especially to hedges of deliduous material.

Gardening Questions

Q: Is there any way I can store geraniums in my cellar for the winter months?—E.C.

A: Two methods are used commonly and with success in this district. One is to take up the plants in fall, without any earth, and hang them from the cellar ceiling to keep them dry and out of light. In the spring, take them out and plant them, watering well. The second method, which I have found more successful, is to pack the plants in a bucket or box, throw some earth around the roots, water them not too much, and store in the cellar away from heat and light (the fruit cellar is an excellent place). Water them occasionally, say once a month. In the spring the plants look like dry dead sticks. Before planting put the bucket or box—freshly watered—in the sun for a few days, to accustom the plants to light again. When planting the roots, you can subdivide them as you wish.

Q—What is meant by the numbers which are printed on fertilizer bags? Those on mine read 4-12-4.—L.P.

A—Complete fertilizers are made up of three essential plant elements, nitrage, phosphorus and potash. The first number stands for the percentage of nitrogen, the second for that of phosphorus, and the third for that of potash.

Q—What soil mixture is best for rooting Japanese yew cuttings?—V.N.

A—A mixture of equal parts coarse sand and peatmoss. Sand alone may be used. The cuttings should be treated with a hormone preparation, before insertion in the sand. The cuttings should be watered immediately after and the rooting medium should never be allowed to become dry nor permitted to become water-logged.

Sought By Police

MONTREAL, Aug. 24 (CP). — Quebec provincial police Thursday were looking for Jean-Serge Parthenais, 43, of nearby St. Francois de Salles, president of the Western Credit Association, a collection agency, who allegedly defrauded employees and customers of more than $50,000.

New Drug Failure

VANCOUVER, Aug. 24 (CP)—Krebiozen, a new drug introduced in Chicago last year as a cure for cancer has been found ineffective, it was reported by a medical team at Vancouver General hospital research centre. No favorable effect was produced in treatment of four patients with different types of cancer.

New Tests

ITHACA, NY, Aug. 24 (AP). — Cornell University reported on Thursday that three-month tests with rats had indicated that protein could be injected directly into the body through the abdominal walls. It said such feeding might become a possibility in the medical field.

Has Biggest Load

PORT COLBORNE, Aug. 24 — (CP).—The Colonial Steamships freighter Scott Misener Thursday cleared Fort William with the biggest load of wheat ever carried on the Great Lakes. The ship's load is 660,056 bushels, almost 9,000 more than her previous record, set only a few weeks ago.

Find Radium Bomb

POOLE, England, Aug. 24 — (Reuters).—A missing radium "bomb" capable of killing anyone who remained near it for any length of time was found Thursday night a few yards from where it is usually kept in the British Electricity Authority's power station here.

FINANCIER DIES — J. P. Bickell, Toronto mining financier, died in New York at the age of 66. Long an influential figure in Canadian mining circles, he possibly was best known for development of the McIntyre Porcupine Gold Mine. During the Second World War he was a member of a team that directed aircraft production in Britain. Mr. Bickell was visiting New York when he suffered a fatal heart attack.

Alouettes Defeat Eskimos At Montreal

MONTREAL, Aug. 24—(CP) — Montreal's 1951 edition of the Alouettes provided 21,863 fans with a successful football preview Thursday night when they defeated Edmonton Eskimos 28-21 in an exhibition game.

George Ratterman, former New oYrk Yankee passing ace, hurled four touchdown passes in a brilliant aerial show. Ex-Montrealer Frank Filchock was the big gun for the westerners as he made a bold bid to keep pace with his young successor, hitting three touchdown receivers. →

Ratterman completed 15 of 18 tosses and Filchock 15 of 20.

The victory avenged Montreal's 11-6 defeat at Edmonton last fall.

Frank Aschenrenner, former Chicago Hornet halfback, and little Joey Pal scored two Montreal touchdowns each and Pete Thodos got the other.

Ron Miles, 21-year-old negro, Harry Bunting and Bill Briggs registered majors for the Eskimos and playing coach Annis Stukus used his talented toe to boot three converts and a 35-yard field goal.

Jim Ambrose converted two Montreal touchdowns while Gene (Choo-Choo) Roberts, ex-New York Giants halfback, scored on one of his three tries.

Waste No Time

In the first quarter, Montreal took five plays to march 75 yards as Ratterman whipped four straight passes to Aschenbrenner and Roberts. Aschenbrenner snared another toss on the Edmonton 20 and raced the rest of the way for a touchdown. Roberts converted.

Midway through the second session, Filchock started the picture play of the game. He fired a 15-yarder at Normie Kwong, the former Calgary Stampeder, on the Montreal 20 and Kwong raced to the four-yard stripe where he lateralled to Briggs while sliding on his knees. Briggs made it easy the rest of the way. Coach Stukus' convert evened the count 6-6. Edmonton recovered their own short kick on the Montreal 35 and Stukus booted a placement.

With only 15 seconds remaining in the quarter Ratterman peeled off his second payoff pass to Pal from the Edmonton five. The convert missed.

Edmonton Ahead

In the third quarter, Filchock flipped a short pass over centre to Bunting for a major that moved Edmonton ahead. Stukus converted to make it 15-11. It was later in the stanza before Ratterman hit paydirt again, hitting Pal with a short pass while parked on the Edmonton five-yard line. Again the convert went astray.

Aschenbrenner raced 70 yards in the final quarter after snaring Ratterman's 10-yard pass to score Montreal's third major. Less than five minutes later Ratterman again pitched his deadly pass to send Aschenbrenner to the Edmonton four on a 35-yard run. Thodos dashed around right end for the touchdown. Ambrose kicked both converts.

Brilliant Performance

Filchock then came up with a brilliant aerial performance, hitting Prather, Howie Hansen and Miles with three successive passes before firing his touchdown pass at Miles from the Montreal 10. Stukus kicked the extra point to complete the scoring.

Edmonton made nine first downs on 36 ground plays good for a total of 180 yards. They went 209 yards through the air and Don Lord and Miles punted 376 yards, averaging 37.6 yards a kick.

Alouettes rolled up 246 yards on ground plays for 10 first downs. They did better in passing, registering 13 first downs and a total yardage of 363. Montreal intercepted three passes. Rod Pantages and Roberts shared the kicking chores, gaining 365 yards on 10 kicks.

Edmonton lost 50 yards on three penalties and Montreal was pushed back the same yardage on five penalties.

IN THE SMALL HOURS of the morning last Wednesday came Edmonton football players and executives to Montreal. Well-hatted top officials of the club are being welcomed at Dorval Airport after stepping from a Trans-Canada Air Lines North Star. Left to right: Al Anderson, Edmonton manager; Billy Wray, former Alouette vice-president and now an official of the Canadian Rugby Union; Walter Sprague, Edmonton president, and Myer Insky, CRU prez. On steps are Frankie Filchock, left, and Annis Stukus, the latter coach of the Eskis.

Martin-Lewis Team Cuts Appearances

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 24 (AP).—Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis, hottest performers in show business today, will be cooling off in the future, as far as their public appearances are concerned. The reason: Lewis' health.

The pencil-thin, brush-topped young comic is not as ill as some accounts have pictured him. But he did suffer a breakdown in Chicago near the end of the team's record-breaking theatre tour.

"It scared me; I was so tired I couldn't walk," said Lewis.

Lewis said it was his third breakdown. The first was at 16, the second three years ago.

"You see I'm the hyper—what is it? — hyper-sensitive type," he said. "The work doesnt bother my partner Dean because he's stronger. He has his golf, which relaxes him. But I like to keep busy with my photography and my friends. Also, I handle all the business of the act-hiring mucisians, getting arrangements, and so forth . . . "

The pair claim they will play no more night clubs and will also cut down on their theatre appearances. They will limit themselves largely to movies, television and radio.

Capsule Review

"Saturday's Hero" is a well-made film, dealing with over-emphasis of college football. The plot concerns a poor boy whose football prowess gets him fancy offers for higher education. He finds glory, but bitter disappointment, too, as his world collapses. John Derek measures up to the demanding role as the grid star and does his best work to date. The film adds power with a fresh-looking cast and a sharp, dramatic approach.

13 Breeders Exhibit At Fair As Guernsey Cattle Gain Favor

That Guernsey cattle are gaining in favor and numbers within the ranks of the dairy breeds was demonstrated by their substantial increase in this year's Peterborough Exhibition.

Thirteen breeders were represented in a strong class of the "golden cattle." They were: Ernest Crossland, Newmarket; Mrs. N. R. Gale, Lindsay RR 1; Ralph Sills of Holloway; Jack Stewart, Otonabee; Norman W. McConkey of Lifloc Farm; Dr. R. S. Robertson, Cobourg; Alex Vandervoort, Trenton RR 7; J. E. Wilson, Garden Hill; Harry McIntyre, Otonabee; A. E. Budd & Son, Ingersoll; Elmer Huggins, Rosslin; Mrs. Archie Palmateer, Belleville RR 7; T. Leach, Bancroft.

The grand champion bull was also the senior champion, McDonald's Imperator, owned by Ernest Crossland of Newmarket. He was bred at McDonald Farms, New York State.

The grand champion female was from the herd of Alex Vandervoort, near Trenton.

Judge was Andrew M. Telfer of Paris who went on from Peterborough to judge Guernseys at Ottawa Exhibition.

Bull, 2 years or over — 1 Ernest Crosslands on McDonald Imperator; 2 Ralph Sills; 3 Mrs. N. H. Gale.

Cow, 4 years or over in milk — 1 Ernest Crossland; 2 Mrs. Gale; 3 J. Stewart.

Burma Rejects Draft Of Peace Treaty

RANGOON, Burma, Aug. 24—(Reuters). — Burma has rejected the final draft text of the Japanese peace treaty and declined the United States' invitation to the San Francisco conference, it was announced Thursday.

Burma told the United States recently that any peace treaty which did not provide adequate reparations was unacceptable to her.

Damage to Burma caused by the Japanese War has been officially estimated at 18,298,000,000 rupees ($3,841,000,000).

Senate Asks Cutoff Of Trade With Czechs

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP) —The Senate Thursday joined the House of Representatives in calling for a cutoff of trade with Communist Czechoslovakia until Associated Press correspondent William N. Oatis is freed from a Czech prison. Oatis was sentenced to 10 years on charges that his news reporting constituted espionage.

A resolution passed by the Senate is not a law, however, and the executive branch of the government is not compelled to comply with it unless it wishes to.

Craft Work of Playgrounds Receiving Much Attention

Peterborough city playgrounds' craft display has been playing to a big audience at the Exhibition since opening day.

Situated in the home department and art building two girls have been kept busy constantly answering questions about the 600 odd exhibits, situated just inside the door.

Alex Sinclair, recreational director was on hand when The Examiner visited the display and explained that the work of approximately 200 youngsters was represented. There have been from 1,500 to 2,000 children attending the playground sessions this summer. They range in age from five to 15.

Plaster Moulds

The first group of craft work that comes in view is the painted plaster moulding. This group includes plaques, animal, Indian heads and figurines.

From thereon there isn't anything in craft work that isn't on display. Such articles as felt purses, painted macaroni jewellery, paper bag masks, clay jewellery, stuffed dolls to mention only a few, show what children can accomplish with a little initiative and competent supervision.

Two of the more complicated and interesting exhibits are models of Riverside and King Edward Parks — complete with swings and other playground equipment. Even the trees haven't been missed. The King Edward park playground children claim that every tree in the park has a replica on the model.

Puppet Cast

Another versatile exhibit is the complete puppet case for the production of Hanzel and Gretel.

Along a different line are the model airplanes made by the Plymouth Aero League — a model aircraft club, also sponsored by the recreation commission. The models in this display have wingspread measurements of ¾ of an inch to five feet.

Five gas-powered motor models are continually catching the eye of the mechanically-minded youngsters with not a few adults glancing over their shoulders. Gliders and rubber - powered planes and replica models are also included in the display.

On duty all the time at this exhibit is Marney Hollingsworth, director of playground crafts. She explained that she visits each playground at least once a week and starts the work that the playground supervisors carry on.

Two Cars Collide Three People Injured

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Aug. 24 —(CP)— Three Fort Erie residents were injured Thursday night when the car in which they were riding collided with another and overturned. Injured were Mrs. Annie Hunt, Mrs. Olive Hicks and M. C. Seabrook.

The women, who suffered from shock, cuts and bruises were passengers in a car police said was driven by Mrs. Florence Hayes, 50, of Fort Erie. Police said the other car in the collision was driven by William Morris, 20, of Kingston.

Damage to the two vehicles exceeded $1,200.

Happy Mixture In Play 'Claudia'

"Unpredictable as a June morning, and twice as rare," is a description of Rose Franken's "Claudia" which will be presented at the Peterborough Summer Theatre next week, starting Monday, August 27, at the Queen Mary. When "Claudia" was first presented on Broadway, such people as Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt were quoted as saying, "I found "Claudia" the pleasantest play of the season offering that happy mixture of laughter and tears which audiences always relish."

Claudia, known to millions, is a gay light-hearted child-bride, physically a woman but mentally still a trial to her mother, Mrs. Brown and adoring husband, David. In the space of 24 hours, Claudia is forced to face reality through three major crises which she passes and eventually surmounts.

First Claudia tries to arouse jealousy in David by flirting with an attractive English author, Jerry Seymour; second, she discovers she is having a baby, and third she overhears a telephone conversation and learns that her mother has only a short time to live.

Claudia will be played by Kate Reid, David will be portrayed by Bill Needles; Betty Leighton comes back to us to play Mrs. Brown, and Frank Perry will be Jerry Seymour. The cast includes Pat Atkinson, Ann Murray, Jean Robb, and Cal Whitehead.

Claudia will be the last production in the Queen Mary for this season. The following week, Castle In The Air will be presented in the Collegiate.

HAY FEVER?

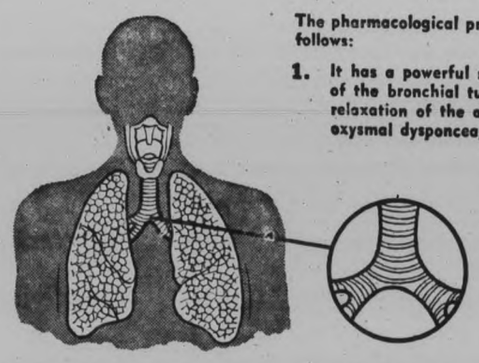
Stop Sneezing! Use EPHAZONE

Enjoy this Summer. Get rid of sneezing spasms — sore, runny nose — red itching eyes!

EPHAZONE Lets You HAVE FUN in the SUN!

Here's How . . Hay fever is brought on by being unusually sensitive to animal hair, feathers, and pollen. An invisible veil of fine pollen and dust from these objects fill the air in summer, clogging the sufferers' air passages, causing violent sneezing, watering eyes, and continual irritation in the nose. Don't let summer find you unprepared. Take a bottle of Ephazone on your holiday! Keep a bottle handy always! Turn warm weather months into a time of pleasure instead of sneezing, itching misery. Get Ephazone at your local druggist's now!

PROPERTIES OF EPHAZONE



The pharmacological properties of Ephazone may be briefly summarized as follows:

1. It has a powerful spasm-relieving and soothing effect on the muscles of the bronchial tubes and bronchioles. As a result there is a rapid relaxation of the air passages, with consequent prompt relief of paroxysmal dysponcea, such as occurs in asthmatic conditions.
2. It softens and liquifies thick, tenacious secretions in the bronchial tubes and air spaces, so that mucus can be more easily coughed up.
3. It relieves congestion of the blood-vessels in the air passages and air-space, thus assisting resolution of inflammation.

Allan H. Clark Sec'y-Treas. Of Fire Chiefs

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 24 (CP)—Chief Secord Robinson of Kapuskasing was elected by acclamation president of the Dominion Association of Fire Chiefs here today at the final session of the 43rd annual conference.

Before delegates headed for home after a busy four-day round of business sessions, social activities and listening to speeches they picked Saint John, NB, as site of their 1952 conference.

They also elected for the 1951-52 executive Chief C. [illegible] Burnett, Ottawa, first vice-president, and Chief Francois Premont of Arvida, Que., second vice-president.

London Fire Chief R. C. McRonald was appointed director, following terms in the past two years as president and past president. Chief Allan H. Clark of Lakefield was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Chief Premont nosed out Chief John Shafton of Niagara Falls in the only contested election for second vice-president. Other officers moved up from their position last year on the executive.

Chief W. H. Short of Lethbridge, Alta., became past president.

Directors are Chief McRonald; Chief R. T. Brindle, Victoria, BC; Chief A. J. Spence St. Boniface, Man.; Chief J. S. Thibault, Rouyn, Que.

Carl Lenentine of St. Thomas, R. Rollins of Woodstock and James Arnott of Toronto will represent manufacturers on the board of directors.

Officers were installed by Chief Robert Day of Pembroke, a past president and one of the oldest members of the association.

Vancouver Clerk Given Movie Role

VANCOUVER, Aug. 24 (CP)—The Vancouver hotel clerk who nearly threw Bing Crosby out of his hotel will do it all over again for the movie cameras, his daughter said Thursday night.

Art Cameron, who was on the point of refusing a room to a bearded, roughly-clad stranger at the plush Hotel Vancouver until a bellhop put him wise, arrived in Los Angeles Thursday night to appear in "Son of Paleface" with Bob Hope, Jane Russell and Roy Rogers.

His daughter, Sheila, said her father would play the part of a hotel clerk and re-enact the Hotel Vancouver scene. Naturally, Hope got him the job.

Obituary

MRS. FRED HARNDEN

WARKWORTH, Aug. 24 (ENS)—Funeral service for the late Mrs. Fred Harnden of Colborne, formerly of this locality, was held in Colborne United Church on Wednesday, and was largely attended. The Rev. Brown officiated.

Mrs. Harnden was the former Lizzie Gummow, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gummow of Percy Township, and sister of Mr. George Gummow of Percy Township. She was well known in this district, having lived here all her life until moving to Colborne in 1929.

Mrs. Harnden died suddenly, in her 68th year, in Cobourg General Hospital Monday following a stroke suffered the previous day.

Surviving are her husband; also one brother George Gummow of Warkworth, a brother James Gummow Toronto, and a sister, Mrs. David Harnden of Colborne, and several nieces and nephews.

Those who served as pall-bearers were all nephews: Burnett, Russell and Kenneth Harnden, Cecil Fletcher, Morley Gummow, and Lawrence Gummow.

Interment was in Warkworth Cemetery.

Children Learn Pays To Give

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 24—(AP)—The 47 girls at St. Elizabeth's home for orphans today learned a great and timeless lesson—it is better to give than to receive.

Two weeks ago they heard a radio appeal for funds to help Kansas flood victims.

The girls talked with Nuns of the Sisters of Mercy, who operate the home and camp, and decided to donate their candy money and do without candy for a while.

A collection was taken up. One girl gave a penny. That was all she had. Another had two cents and she gave one. Altogether they collected $10.44.

The girls today received a letter and a package fro Topeka, Kans.

In the letter, Ned Fleming, chairman of the Topeka Flood Relief committee, thanked them and said committee members thought they should still have their candy.

So, along with the letter came a 25-pound box of chocolates and 15 boxes of candy bars.

The girls had a party today.

Clothes Line Snaps Woman Fractures Leg

LINDSAY, Aug. 24 — Just a year after Tony Bovie, of Lindsay, was badly injured in a car-train crash, at the Lindsay Street crossing, Mrs. Bovie was removed to the Ross Memorial Hospital, with a badly smashed leg, the victim of a freak accident on her own back porch.

Mrs. Bovie was hanging laundry on the line, when the line broke. The line is a long metal one, and it whipped around Mrs. Bovie's ankle, throwing her off the porch. Mrs. Bovie sustained a badly broken leg, and in addition the ankle was wrenched from its socket and the tendons torn.

On August 2 last year, Mr. Bovie was night watchman on duty at the Lindsay Street crossing. He was swinging his lantern while a train was moving over the crossing, when a car from the south crashed into him, throwing him into the side of the train. He returned to work just two weeks ago.

CGE Pipe Band To Visit Kinmount

A most ambitious program has been prepared by the organizers of the Kinmount Fair to be held on Sept. 1, and if everything goes as planned, all they will need to make the affair a great success will be a fine day.

There is to be a harness race, with a purse of $200 (every heat a race) and a saddle race with two purses of $120 and $80. Three prizes will be awarded in the Drawing Match, and four prizes for the decorated teams in the parade. There are a great many classes for exhibitors of horses, cattle, pigs and lambs, for turkeys, chickens, and vegetables; for home cooking and handwork, and there are several classes for the children.

The CGE Pipe Band will provide music during the day, and a merry-go-round and races will provide special amusement for the youngsters.

Falls Off Ladder Woman Breaks Wrist

MARMORA, Aug. 24—(ENS)—Mrs. M. J. McGarvey suffered a double fracture of her right wrist and sustained bruises to her head and arms when she fell off a ladder in her store Thursday afternoon.

She was standing on a short step-ladder while placing some goods on a shelf. In someway, her foot slipped and she plunged to the floor.

After Dr. H. G. Parkin had reduced the fracture, she went to Belleville for an X-ray, later returning to her home where she will be inactive for some time.

3rd Car Theft Blamed On Jail Breaker

BELLEVILLE, Aug. 24 — A slippery young man, blamed for three car thefts, was still at large Thursday after escaping from a locked room in the Trenton police station.

He was being held for questioning by Constable Bruce Westfall after the officer spotted him in a car which had been reported stolen. While the constable and another officer checked the man's story by phone, their captive climbed out on a back window and disappeared.

Late Wednesday night Ernest Alhey, Consecon, reported his car stolen from behind the Trenton postoffice and witnesses said they saw a man answering the description of the escaper driving away in the vehicle.

When picked up for questioning, the man, approximately 26 years old, gave the name of John Lodge of Toronto. He produced an ownership card in Lodge's name for another car. Police learned that Lodge had reported his car stolen in Toronto, Aug. 20.

The car the man was driving when picked up had been stolen from Cornwall four days ago. The wanted man was trying to sell the spare tire and tube from the Cornwall car to a Trenton service station operator.

North Bay Anticipates New RCAF Station

NORTH BAY, Aug. 24 (CP)—This whole city is looking forward to the RCAF moving in Sept. 1. On that date a jet fighter squadron will settle down at the Department of Transport airport here.

An attractive, full-scale village of 170 houses with a modern six-room school is almost ready for the servicemen and their families. The village adjoins the airport which also has seen major changes.

Hangars and administration buildings are under construction, runways are being lengthened and a line of barracks for single men is going up.

RCAF officials say the place will be a second Trenton in size. It is a strategic mustering point for northern defence. In an emergency the airport would respond to calls from radar stations which are being built to screen industrial areas further south.

French Bishop Denounces Exploitation Of Lourdes

By HAROLD KING

LOURDES, France, Aug. 24—(Reuters) — The Bishop of Lourdes, site of the world-famous miraculous Grotto of Saint Bernadette, has made a strong protest against commercial exploitation of this place of pilgrimage.

"We do not want any commercial exploitation of the water of the Grotto," said Msgr. Pietro Maria Theas. "We do not want hawkers around the Grotto selling bits of soap and candy.

"It is intolerable for example that a statue which is sold for 350 francs (about $1) without any Grotto water, should cost an extra 70 francs (about 20 cents) when it contains Grotto water. I know that the people of Lourdes suffer like myself from these incursions of Satan into the City of Mary."

Hundreds of thousands of pilgrims in wheel chairs and on stretchers keep souvenir sellers prosperous.

But to this rather sordid side of the famous Grotto town must be added, to complete the picture, a little-advertised side of devotion and unselfishness.

Get No Pay

Most of the sick who come to Lourdes in the hope of relief are poor. They are met on arrival by volunteer attendants who will carry them to their lodgings and to the Grotto for religious services.

The corps of stretcher-bearers, called L'Hospitalite de Notre Dame de Lourdes, includes members from all walks of life.

The order of stretcher-bearers, who come from all over the world, is carefully organized. Ten thousand of them spend some time in Lourdes every year. They receive no pay.

According to the rules of the order, their role is to render to all pilgrims, especially to poor pilgrims, all the spiritual and material services which charity inspires and which prudence permits.

Deny Any Knowledge Of Big Plane Plant

OTTAWA, Aug. 24. (CP).—Defence production officials said on Thursday they had no knowledge of any giant aircraft industry being planned for the Simcoe area of western Ontario.

They were commenting on a Toronto dispatch in which Toronto real estate brokers said such an industry is planned for Simcoe where a multi-million-dollar land deal is reported being negotiated.

Officials here said the department itself is not planning erection of any plants in that area and they knew of no aircraft industry planning expansion of plants in that district.

Corroborate Theory Meteor Made Crater

TORONTO, Aug. 24 —(CP)—Dr. V. Ben Meen said Thursday night that a six-man expedition to the Chubb crater in northern Quebec has corroborated his theory that the big hole was made by a meteor.

Dr. Meen, 40-year-old director of the Royal Ontario Museum of Geology and Mineralogy, returned from his second trip to the Ungava crater he helped to discover last year.

The group spent four weeks exploring the teacup-shaped crater, which is 2½ miles in diameter and holds an 850-foot-deep lake. Dr Meen said the party found no meteorite frament but, exactly where several authorities had said a meteorite body should lie beneath the rock on the east side of the crater, a magnetometer indicated a substantial quantity of magnetic deposit.

Make Parachute Jump Sept. 2—McFadden

NEW YORK, Aug. 24 (AP). — Bernarr MacFadden, 83-year-old physical culturist, has selected the Sept. 2 weekend for his parachute jump into the waters below Niagara Falls.

An associate said Thursday MacFadden and A. L. Newcomb, Detroit parachute expert, will drop several dummy-carrying parachutes below Niagara Falls this Saturday and Sunday to determine water and air currents.

Edward Bodin, managing editor of Physical Culture Magazine, said MacFadden had selected the waters where the "Maid of the Mist" sightseeing boat sails below the falls as his landing place. A power boat will be stationed at a strategic spot to pick him up.

MacFadden made his first parachute jump near Dansville, NY, two years ago on his 81st birthday.

Noted Painter Thinks He Has Art Treasure

RUMSON, NJ, Aug. 24 (AP). — Michel Jacobs, noted painter and author, said Thursday he believes a painting he purchased last April for $65 may be one of the world's great art treasures.

Jacobs, who made the purchase at an auction gallery in New York said he believes it to be the original of Franz Hals' 17th-century Dutch masterpiece, the portrait of Malle Babbe, known as "The Witch of Haarlem."

If experts decide the painting is authentic, Jacobs said, it may be worth as much as $500,000.

Alberta Board To Decide On Gas Export

By JOHN DAUPHINEE

EDMONTON, Aug. 24—(CP)—Is Alberta ready to export natural gas? An important hearing of the Provincial Conservation Board will be held in Calgary next month to try to find the answerd to that question.

The key factor in the decision is the size of known reserves in the province.

As the Edmonton Journal puts it, Alberta's natural gas is the magnet drawing giant industries to the province.

A $50,000,000 chemical plant is being built in a 500-acre wheat field on Edmonton's eastern outskirts for Canadian Chemical Company. Sherritt Gordon is going to locate a metals refinery somewhere in Alberta. Reports have been circulating that Canadian Industries Limited plans a big plant just outside Edmonton.

Cheap fuel will attract other similar projects.

The Alberta government has said it plans to guarantee sufficient gas for all possible expansion in the province before it permits large quantities of gas to be exported elsewhere. Permission has been granted for relatively small sales to Montana, for use by war industry. But there has been no permission for large-scale pipe-line delivery of gas to other provinces. There is a minor 17-mile outlet to Dawson Creek, BC, in the Alberta-BC Peace River block.

Early this year the conservation board said known reserves at that time were not sufficient to meet the estimated needs of the next 30 years in Alberta. Since then additional reserves have been found.

When the board meets in Calgary it will be given information on the amount of new gas located this year. Simultaneously, it probably will get new estimates of the potential demand inside Alberta.

The board will deal with the five applications for export permits. But it sems likely that the question of adequate reserves will be disposed of before any further consideration is given to pipeline routes.

Last June, Mines Minister Tanner said the government's policy is to follow a conservation program which will "prevent any unnecessary waste, and give the greatest benefit to the greatest number of people, over the longest period of time." He added:

"It would be in the best interests of the people of Alberta to make surplus gas available for sale outside the province."

The significant word in that statement is "surplus."

Pipeline delivery of gas to other provinces depends on whether the conservation board decides a long-term surplus position now has been reached.

Consumer Goods Not Affected By Rearmament

MONTREAL, Aug. 24—(CP)—Canada's rearmament program so far has had more noticeable effect on the growth of basic productive resources and on the flow of foreign trade than on the supply of consumer goods, so says the Bank of Montreal in a review on the Canadian economic situation.

The review also deals with "the conflict of inflationary and anti-inflationary forces" at present interfering with "the smooth functioning of the economy."

The review sees the "lag of defence outlays behind the budgetary forecast and the appearance of an exceptionally large government surplus" as "a central feature in the current picture."

While government disbursements for defence will likely accelerate in the months ahead, federal taxation "for the time being is withdrawing more from the spending stream than is being added to it by government outlays, with consequent anti-inflationary effects on the economy in general."

Great Expansion

Although defence production so far has fallen below expectation, "an extraordinary expansion of the nation's productive capacity has been under way . . channelled toward the essential industries on which a rearmament program must necessarily be founded."

The review says capital investment outlays in 1951 will total $4,561,000,000, according to a survey, and adds:

"A capital expenditure program of this magnitude, in generating additional consumer spending power without adding immediately to the supply of available consumer goods, is undoubtedly exercising an inflationary influence."

Turning to the trend of Canada's external trade, the review finds this reflects "the vigor of Canadian demand in general and the extent to which the capital expansion program is dependent on outside sources of productive equipment and components."

Merchandise exports at the end of June were 45 per cent higher in value than during the first half of 1950 while imports registered a gain of 22 per cent in the same period.

Cyclist Is Injured Collides With Truck

George Neillands, 309 Caddy St., Thursday suffered a cut right hand and injured groin when his bicycle and Foster's ice truck met in collision on Water St. at the laneway into the Empress Hotel.

Neillands was riding south on Water St. and was almost past the ice truck when it started to turn into the laneway. The front of Neilland's bicycle and the rear right fender of the truck collided. Neillands was thrown to the pavement, cutting his right hand and injuring his groin on the handle bar.

There was slight damage to the front of the bicycle and no damage to the truck.

Printing Houses Said Backing Stock Frauds

TORONTO, Aug. 24 — (CP) — The Ontario Legislature's crime committee heard Thursday where high-pressure stock peddlers obtained some of the thousands of circulars with which they flooded the mails in their swindling campaigns against United States customers.

O. E. Lennox, Ontario Securities Commission chairman, testified that, in at least three cases, broker-dealers were backed by printing houses. In each case, the commission eventually cancelled the broker's licence.

One printing house not only ran off the promotional literature for a stock pusher, but also handled the replies brought in by the promise of overnight wealth from investment in the stock issue.

Doesn't Give Names

Mr. Lennox, who avoided naming the printing companies, said one firm gave a stock broker $50,000 credit. Another extended $25,000 credit to a broker making his first venture into the shadowy world of expensive "sucker" lists, alluring mailed enticements and chatty long-distance conversations with the gullible.

The commissioner said the mailing lists of prospects were available to swindlers from concerns in Chicago and New York. The shady operators dealt chiefly with US residents to escape detection and prosecution for fraud.

Many of the voices going out over the long-distance lines from Toronto "bucket shops" were those of smooth-talking Americans, Mr. Lennox said.

"I think the Americans like to hear someone with their own accent."

Dismiss Count Against Blair

A charge of careless driving against James Blair, Reaboro, was dismissed in police court Thursday when Magistrate W. R. Philp ruled there was insufficient evidence to warrant a conviction.

The charge was laid by the provincial police following an accident July 12 on Highway 7 at the Chemong Road junction. A car driven by Earl Sage, Bridgenorth, crashed into the guide rail, breaking off a post and damaging the front of his car.

Sage said he was going home from work, after 5 p.m., and first noticed Blair's car about a half-mile from the furn. When there Sage said the car went off the highway, part way on the gravel shoulder.

"When I swung to pass, he (Blair) swung to the left about three-quarters the way across the road. I swung further hitting the guard rail and damaging the front bumper, the axle and the fender."

Sage testified that the Blair car "never came to a complete stop."

Al Anderson, a passenger in the Sage car, supported Sage's evidence, saying that the two right wheels of Blair's car were on the gravel shoulder.

A. Conners, a second passenger in the Sage car, failed to recall seeing the Blair car pull over and said that he thought the Sage car could have passed or turned towards Lindsay on the curve.

Robert Carley, counsel for defence, questioned Blair who said that he had pulled to the right side but didn't go off the pavement "at any time."

Blair in recalling the scene prior to the accident said that he glanced out of the mirror to see if any cars were following.

"I didn't see any so stopped there."

Blair explained that he had planned to let out a hitch-hiker but just then the "Sage car passed swerving." The Blair passenger, a boy about 12 years, stayed in the car for a few minutes after the accident and then left.

"I have never seen him since."

Atcheson Teaches Marine Why He's Fighting In Korea

By SAM SUMMERLIN

INCHON, Korea, Aug. 24 (AP) —A young American marine who learned personally from Dean Acheson why the United States fights in Korea said today he is convinced the secretary of state is right.

But Cpl. John B. Moullette says he had to come to Korea to be convinced.

"When I get back I hope to go down to Washington to see Mr. Acheson in person," said the 24-year-old marine from Camden, NJ.

"I'll tell him he is doing a good job and ask him not to let them put him out of office."

Last January, Moullette was a confused marine stationed at Camp Pendleton, Calif. He wanted to know why the United States was fighting in Korea.

He asked this question in a letter to his father, who forwarded the letter to Acheson.

Made Headlines

Acheson answered on March 17, and the story made newspaper headlines.

Moullette said today he wasn't "bowled over" at first by the secretary of state's letter.

"But," he added, "when I reached Korea soon afterwards, Acheson's words hit me like a slap in the face."

"And I believe it woke the people up in the States.

"The gist of his answer was that the United States is trying to (1) build up the kind of world we want to live in and (2) ward off aggression.

"Our fighting here in Korea has shown the Communists that we won't put up with aggression any longer."

The marine said the morale of the soldiers was low at the time he wrote the letter.

"But today," he declared, "the spirit of the Allied troops over here is wonderful."

Canadian Pipers Get Top UK Picture Play

LONDON, Aug. 24 — (AP) — Canada's visiting Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders today took top picture display in British newspapers.

Four morning newspapers and one evening paper carried front-page pictures of Princess Elizabeth chatting with members of the regiment's pipe band, including Lt.-Col. J. A. Farmer, Commanding Officer, and Lieut. G. L. Nielson, who led the 1st Argylls in Korea.

Most popular shot showed the princess doing some brisk handkerchief work on the nose of her daughter, Princess Anne, while Col. Farmer and Lieut. Nielson looked on.

The photographs were taken after a command performance at Aberdeen, Scotland, by 26 pipers, all from Hamilton.

The princess, who is the regiment's colonel-in-chief, had invited pipers to her holiday home in Aberdeen. The Canadians have been staying at Stirling Castle since competing in the overseas pipers' championships and attending the clan gathering at Edinburg Saturday.

Ladies' Day at Ex. Featuring Draws

Special features for Women's Day, Friday, at the Peterborough Exhibition are draws—and how the women love them. About 12 booths in the Manufacturer's Building are offering prizes for the women visitors. The winners will be decided about nine thirty this evening when Mrs. Max Swanston, Mrs. Norman McConkey and Mrs. Harold Scott make a tour of the building and draw tickets from the ballot boxes.

The weatherman is being particularly nice to the women and he is favoring the Exhibition Board with a forecast of sunny and warmer weather on Saturday.

This afternoon's grandstand crowd was given a showing of harness classes with lady drivers, these events held over for women's day.

Other things on the grounds of special interest to women are the cooking school, a class starts this evening at seven thirty—the exhibits of the Home Department, cooking, fancy work, handicraft, art, and a live bee display in the honey section.

Alligator Shoes Feature Of Exhibit

Reptiles are leading the parade in shoe fashions this fall and a local store is displaying at the Exhibition the shoe that is 'way out in front.

Leaving no doubt as to the genuineness of the leather, the vamp of each shoe is decorated with a baby alligator's head — mouth open. It will cost the Peterborough lady just $50 to add a pair of these to her wardrobe. The beautiful polished tan shade will harmonize well with fall brown and rust tones, and she may wish them to team with an alligator handbag.

There are a few of the latter in town which have the head and body of a tiny alligator on the flap. Some have been brought by soldiers and sailors from alligator-infested countries where the costly accessory in America was secured in exchange for a few packages of cigarettes.

Other highlights in this shoe exhibit are the fabrics. Elegant velvet with vamp inset with silver mesh and a dress-up pump of allover tucked taffeta will greatly enhance this winter's special occasion dress.

Silhouette for Every Type In Varied Paris Fashions

PARIS, Aug. 24 — (Reuters) — In the varied new Paris fashions for fall and winter wear, every woman can find a silhouette becoming to her type.

One after the other, Jacques Fath, Jacques Griffe, Jean Lanvin, Jean Desses, Christian Dior and the others presented their collections and Paris is literally humming with fashion talk.

The general trend shows a tendency toward longer hemlines. But this is not a revolution like the post-war "new look." Fath, Griffe and Christian Dior drop the hemline one or two inches, depending upon the individual dress.

Silhouettes stress the natural curves of the body. Waistlines are nipped over rounded hips, emphasized by short peplum and basque jackets. Other waistlines are moulded and swathed in wide draped cummerbunds.

Full skirts demand the contrast of whittled waists. Jacques Fath likes this type and drapes them in contrasting fabrics with wide sashes or belts. Dior cuts the waist in slim princess lines, marked at the hips and bustline with cuffs or yokes. This is the central theme of Doir's collection.

Daytime skirts at Fath's are full or accordion pleated, and measure yards around the hemline. They are shown over stiff buckram or horsehair petticoats, which prop out the hipline and the skirt.

One expects anything from Schiaparelli and this season her biggest innovation is seen in barrelled hemlines. Harem skirts, straight from the Pasha's wives, are exploited in coats, jackets, day and evening dresses. Schiaparelli calls this line "the shape."

Another innovation is the kangaroo pouch, a pleated drape placed squarely on top of the stomach.

Carven goes to darkest Africa, taking the jungle theme which is exploited primarily in the "giraffe silhouette." The giraffe's heights is duplicated in high stand-up collars which hug the throat.

Marlene Wins Adds To Laurel

KINGSTON, Aug. 24—(CP)—Marlene Stewart of Fonthill, Ont., added the Cataraqui Golf and Country Club to her list of victims Thursday, when she set a record for women for 18 holes in the qualifying round of the Eastern Provinces Open Ladies' Golf Tournament and international invitation open. She posted a 75, two under the regular par, and three-under Thursday's par, to beat her closest opponent, Daintry Chisholm from the Royal Montreal Club, by four strokes.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Whole Wheat Bread Recipe Receives Reader's Praise

Question: Your recipe for whole wheat bread printed some time ago was the best ever, and up to about three weeks ago was in constant use.

I remember putting it away purposely so it wouldn't be mislaid in the confusion of moving. I apparently did a very good job as I haven't found it as yet.

If it is not too much of an inconvenience I would appreciate having the recipe again.—A Constant and Appreciative Reader.

Answer:

Barbara's Whole Wheat Bread

Eighteen cups 100% whole wheat flour, fluffed up with the hand as you measure so that it is not packed; put in a very big bowl. Scald 4¼ cups pasteurized skim milk, then cook to lukewarm. To it add 3 tablespoons peanut oil or 4½ tablespoons melted margarine, ½ cup powdered skim milk, 2 tablespoons salt, ¾ cup barbardos molasses, 3 eggs. Beat all of this together. Dissolve 3 packages moist yeast in 1½ cups lukewarm water and 1 tablespoon molasses. Let stand 10 minutes after stirring. Add this to milk mixture and mix into the flour. This is sticky and a bit messy to knead, but knead it anyway the first time in the bowl, until it is well mixed Cover and stand in a warm place to rise. When it is pressed lightly with the finger it leaves a dent in the dought — this is about 2 hours later. It rises from 2½ to 3 times its original bulk. Then punch the dough down, loosen it from sides of bowl, put on a floured board and knead it till it is quite satiny —about 24 turns of the dough.

Divide dough in 5 equal parts, and fold these under to make even looking loaves. Put in greased loaf pans and cover and let rise again till when dented with light touch of finger, dent remains; this requires about ¾ hour if temperature of room is ideal, — however this time it is important for the dough to rise sufficiently.

Bake in moderate over of 365 deg. Fahr. till bread is free from sides of pan. Do not put it on bottom shelf of oven or bottom of loaf will burn. It requires about ¾ hour. When done, remove from pans at once and place on rack to cool.

NOTE.—Barb uses whole wheat flour to flour her kneading board.

Question: I am a constant reader and I have a problem which must be common to many farm wives of this district where meat is slaughtered on the farm — that is, how can I serve headcheese to make it appretizzing? I have a neat stack of this meat stored in my freezer and no one in my house will eat it as is. Both my husband and I grew up where there were crocks of it to be eaten in short order as there was no refrigeration. Now we cannot face this dull grey mass. Surely there must be ways it could be disguised and combined with other foods to make it more interesting. If you could work out a few recipes using this meat hot or cold I would be truly grateful. City wives should be interested too, as it is comparatively cheap — 55c per lb. on our market. Hope you can do something with this problem.—Mrs. W. E. M.

Answer: A peach of a question, Mrs. W. E. M. It had me puzzled for a while until I remembered my days in Missouri where almost nothing but pork is served for a meat course. They served what they call "scrapple" — it is one of the versions of this Southern dish.

Missouri Scrapple

Two cups (about 1 lb.) headcheese, 2 cups boiling water or pork broth, ½ cup cornmeal, ½ cup whole wheat flour, ¾ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon fresh ground black pepper. Make a porridge of the water or broth, cornmeal, wheat flour and salt and pepper in top of double boiler.

When porridge is thick add the headcheese and cook covered in top of double boiler for 30 minutes. Pour into loaf pan to mould and chill. When cold slice in ⅜-inch thick slives and fry in hot fat until brown and crusty on both sides.

Now that I have been thinking about your headcheese, I have had plenty of ideas, but since I have reached the bottom of the column I am continuing this in Tuesday's column August 28, so please look for more recipes using up headcheese that day.

Oppose Work For Children On Vacation

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (CP). — New Zealand's Education Minister R. M. Algie has declared strong opposition to high school pupils working during holidays.

"I was not pleased to read that large numbers of pupils were going to seek employment in the next vacation," he said.

"I should issue a word of warning. The vacations, of which there are two in each year, are given partly for rest and refreshment and partly to enable scholars to review for coming examinations the school work they are doing."

Mr. Algie said both these objectives were defeated if the pupils go out to active employment. "Such work is unsettling in it seffects. I agree the position may be different during the summer holidays but I hope parents will take all the factors into consideration and that they will give due weight to the educational interests of their children. These should be paramount at this stage of their careers."

The holiday system here is different from Canada, since the seasons are reversed, with Summer starting here at the time Winter starts in North America. New Zealand chools have a vacation of two or three weeks in the Fall, a similar one in the Spring, and the "long vacation" of six to eight weeks in Summer.

With the current labor shortage it has been easy for children to get temporary work at high rates of pay during their vacations. More than 50,000 children attend full-time secondary schools and half as many more get part-time technical education.

Some teachers and educational authorities disagree with the Education Minister's view. They say that light work in the cities, or open-air work on farms, is a good change from school work and that pupils return from such jobs just as fit to resume studies as those who spend the holidays in recreation.

This section maintains there is no reason why pupils should not get valuable experience of the working world and at the same time earn some pocket money when the opportunity offers.

Emigrants Missed Mother's Cooking

LEEDS, England (CP). — Mrs. Nellie Cliff's four sons left the family hearth in this Yorkshire city eight months ago, to try their luck in New Zealand. Now she's going to join them.

Mrs. Cliff made up her mind to travel to New Zealand after getting a forlorn cable from the boys, who said they sadly missed mother and her "delicious cooking." She's packing up and taking a supply of her own favorite pots and pans.

BRIDE BY MAIL—Rose Moss, 29, formerly a bus conductor in England, arrived at Montreal en route to Spirit River, Alta., where she will marry a man she has never seen. Her fiance, Ray Cook, 35, was introduced to Miss Moss through a mutual friend and the romance was conducted entirely by mail.

FUNNY BUSINESS -- By Hershberger

"Sorry, sir, but that's your competitor's floor wax you slipped on!"

THE EXPERTS SAY:

Egg Recipe Suggestions Help Housewife on Budget

Eggs are regarded with reverence at breakfast these days. Small wonder, when they can't be bought under 70 cents a dozen in many places; when they're as high as 87 cent in Toronto.

Mother no longer tosses half a dozen eggs into an angel-cake for the church picnic. The family seldom sees an omelet any more. In other words—eggs have become a delicacy.

That's why—with tongue in cheek—we commend to Canadian houswives a little brooklet issued from Ottawa, by the consumer section of the agriculture departmens marketing service. It's tinted a bright egg-yolk yellow.

The title: Eggs.

There's a suffle recipe requiring four of the dainties. One—for an omelet—also requires four. Both are excellent. Even if you can't afford to try them now, file them away for the day when eggs are cheaper.

But in one way this pamphlet is timely. It contains hints on egg buying, valuable to the homemaker who wants to get the most for her money.

Grade Mark Important

In buying eggs, look for the grade mark "which must appear either on each end of the case, at the top of the carton or on a tag if the eggs are displayed in bulk—as in baskets."

Whenever possible, the pamphlet sugests, buy eggs from merchants who keep them under refrigeration. Eggs exposed to room temperature soon drop in quality.

After you've bought them: keep eggs in a cool place, preferably the refirgerator; keep them away from highly flavored food; do not wash eggs until just before using; leave eggs in the carton or keep in covered container.

French Toast

This is one of the less expensive recipes the booklet contains. It makes a good breakfast dish when you're wondering how to stretch two eggs among three persons.

Ingredients: two eggs; one cup milk; one tablespoon sugar (optional); ½ teaspoon salt; pepper; 6 ½-inch slices bread; three tablespoons butter.

Blend together slightly beaten eggs, milk, sugar, salt and pepper. Dip both sides of each slice of bread into the mixture. Melt butter in frying-pan, brown slices of bread on both sides in hot fat. Place on a hot platter and serve at once. Yield: six slices.

This is particularly good if served with honey, maple syrup, or corn syrup and bacon.

One-Egg Cake

Here is a personal recipe for an inexpensive medium-sized cake.

Ingredients: ½ cup butter (if using shortening use slightly less and add ½ teaspoon salt); one cup granulated sugar; one egg; ¾ cup milk; 1½ cup flour (sifted); two level teaspoons baking-powder.

Use a fork to mix this cake. Cream butter and sugar. Add egg and cream all together. Sift dry ingredients and add alternately with the milk.

Bake in a square (eight-by-eight inch) tin which has been greased to prevent sticking. Time: 35 minutes in a moderate oven.

This can be flavored or iced as desired. For orange cake add grated rind of one orange to mixture. Ice with mixture of icing-sugar and one tablespoon butter plus as much orange juice as required.

Long Distance Romance Not Reliable

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: A boy friend who recently went overseas gave my address to one of his buddies. We corresponded quite regularly, then he wrote that he loved me. I thought I loved him, too, and told him so. Now I have met a paratrooper, whom I like a lot, and I'm wondering if I should tell my correspondent about him. I really don't know much about the boy overseas.

MICKEY

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Mickey, you are just suffering from an overabundance of love and lovers. The best solution to the problem, at your tender age, is to clear the deck completely and begin all over. It's very doubtful if you love any of your service sweethearts, and the wisest thing is to tell them so. Keep them for friends —the more the merrie—but don't let the glamor of a uniform lure you into a marriage you're not prepared to handle.

Dorothy Dix

Deserve Your Decision

Write your overseas friend that inasmuch as you really have never met, you don't care to make a commitment on the state of your affections. He'll probably be quite satisfied. As for your paratrooper, save your declaration of love until you're sure he's the one and only. When memories and dreams of all other boys fade completely into the past, when you look for his letters and his only, when you plan your future around just one man—then you know it's love!

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: My husband has been a heavy drinker for several years. I thought he would get some sense as he grew older, but he has gotten worse. A few days ago he told me he intended to go his way and for me to do the same. My children are fed up with him and say I would be a lot better off without him. We have our own home and he wants me to sell it. I think we should keep it as, at our age, we will need a home, or if he leaves, I will need it. Some friends say I should rent it. I know if I sell, the money will soon go and I won't even have a home.

HEARTSICK

ANSWER: Keep your home if it is at all possible! You have little enough security, and the assurance that you own the roof over your head if a tremendous comfort in time of need. If you don't have, or can't earn, enough money to carry the house by yourself, you can always rent rooms and let the place pay for itself. It's a wonderfully independent feeling to own your own home, and one not to be lightly discarded.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I have been married thirteen years yet do not have a marriage. I have tried hard to please my husband but he has hurt me so many times, my heart has stopped functioning. I've suggested a separation (we have no children); he considers his pleasant surroundings and decides to try again. We don't have one mutual taste, opinion or emotion by now. Is it right for us to continue this way? We are both young enough to readjust.

LIZA

ANSWER: Judging from your letter (here condensed), I gather you and your husband are both intelligent, well-adjusted people, suffering only from incompatibility. You are both dissatisfied with the existing condition, and since you would like to remedy a bad situation, I suggest a consultation with a marriage counsellor. A frank discussion of the entire problem will give you a better understanding of each other.

5 Jell-O Jewels
Thrifty enough for any day!

SPICED JELLIED PEACHES
Famous Jell-O economy makes this spicy salad easy on the budget, as well as a feast for the eyes.
¾ cup canned peach juice
¼ cup vinegar
½ cup sugar
12 cloves
1 stick cinnamon
12 canned peach halves
1 package Orange Jell-O (Its flavor is pure fruit from real oranges)
6 maraschino cherries, diced
Combine peach juice, vinegar, sugar, spices; bring to boil. Add peaches. Simmer 10 minutes. Remove peaches, strain syrup; add hot water to make two cups. Dissolve Jell-O in hot liquid. Chill until slightly thickened. Add cherries. Arrange peaches in individual moulds. Cover with Jell-O mixture. Chill. 6 servings.
CHEESE CUBE RELISH
The pure fruit flavor from real limes makes this Lime Jell-O relish so tangy—delicious out of all proportion to the time and money it takes! Prepare 1 package Lime Jell-O. Add ½ teaspoon salt, 4 teaspoons vinegar. Chill. When slightly thickened, fold in 1 cup cheese, (cut in small cubes), ½ cup finely chopped sweet pickles. Half-fill individual moulds, and chill. 12 servings.
GRAPE ZIP
With fresh-tasting Jell-O, this delightfully zestful dessert is so good, yet exceptionally economical. Dissolve Lemon Jell-O in 1 cup hot water. Add 1 cup grape juice. Chill. When slightly thickened, set in bowl of ice water; beat with rotary beater until thick. Chill in dessert glasses. So tangy, so tasty—because the flavor of Lemon Jell-O is pure fruit from real lemons. 6 servings.
FROSTED JELL-O
A dessert that can't be equalled for results, with such speed and ease! Make it with any one of Jell-O's seven delicious "locked-in" flavors. Dissolve 1 package Jell-O (any flavor) in 1¾ cups hot water. Chill. When slightly thickened, add 1 pint vanilla ice cream, cut in pieces. Beat with rotary beater until of whipped cream consistency. Chill. 6 servings. A delightfully different "surprise" dessert!
CHERRY JELL-O DELICIOUS
Prepare 1 package Cherry Jell-O. Turn into shallow pan. Chill. Cut into cubes; combine with 8 diced marshmallows, ½ cup diced canned pineapple or other fruit, ½ cup cream, whipped. Chill in dessert glasses. 8 to 10 servings that are tempting as all desserts are when made with Jell-O Jelly Powders.
JELL-O
NO OTHER DESSERT CAN BE SERVED IN SO MANY WAYS!

UN Mediator Meets Nehru For 3rd Time

NEW DELHI, Aug. 24 (AP) — United Nations mediator Frank Graham met with Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru today for the third time in 12 days to discuss India's dispute with Pakistan over the mountain border state of Kashmir.

Graham is on his third round of talks with the leaders of the two neighboring countries. Thus far he has been unable to get either Nehru or Pakistan's premier Liaquat Ali Khan to budge an inch from their demands for control of the disputed state.

Swedish Government Rejects Polish Request

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Aug. 24 (Reuters)—The Swedish government today decided to reject a Polish request for the extradition of 12 mutineers from a Polish minesweeper.

Earlier this month the mutineers seized the ship from their officers in mid-Baltic, put in at Ystaad, South Sweden, and asked for asylum as political refugees.

The men have already received permission to live in Sweden as refugees and have been provided with Swedish identification papers.

MARTHA THE MONKEY with her new son 'Pete.' The youngster was so called because he was born during the Peterborough Exhibition. Art Shaler, manager of the monkey show, who attended the birth, says mother and baby are both doing fine.

Baby Monkey Named Pete

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. A. Monk of Monkeytown, Bernard and Barry Shows, Midway Peterborough Industrial Exhibition grounds, a son, Peter.

Anything is liable to happen at the Peterborough Exhibition. About 9 p.m. Wednesday, a baby monkey was born, the first such event to take place in the city for some time. The population of Monkeytown, an exhibit of monkeys on the midway at the Exhibition, was increased from 26 to 27.

Mr. Art Shaler, manager of the monkey show, named the little fellow "Pete' because he was born in Peterborough. He says mother and baby are both doing well.

McCallum Silent On Intentions

TORONTO, Aug. 24 (CP) — Mayor Hiram McCallum today declined to confirm or deny reports that he will run for a fourth term in 1952.

He said: "I can't tell anyone at this time which way I'll go. This is not the time to talk about it."

But of Alderman Nathan Phillips, an announced candidate in the Dec. 3 voting, the mayor said: "I don't care what he says about me. If he gets tough with me, I'll blast him off the face of the earth. Attacking the city's government, when there is absolutely no basis except his own anxiety to advance himself, is another matter."

The alderman Thursday criticized recent board of control decisions. He also had an unkind word or two about Mayor McCallum personally. The mayor's remarks today were taken as a reply.

Will Increase

ger volume of work and its pattern section will produce both wood and metal patterns."

Completion of the carpenter shop will bring back to the Park St. works two departments which have been necessarily separated from it. The carpenter shop and its box-making section will be brought together on the ground floor, and the flex-a-power and current and potential transformer department will be returned to the second floor from Sealright manufacturing plant at Aylmer and Perry Sts., which had been temporarily occupied on lease.

Second Unit

The second unit to be built is described as providing 56,000 sq. ft. of floor space for structural steel and punch press extensions.

It will be constructed northerly from the end of the present building to Works Ave. with a span of 80 ft.

Enlargement of structural steel is required for the manufacture of switchgear and control equipment, "and to give temporary relief to the space requirements of switchgear for the assembly of manufactured structures. The eventual expansion of the department's heavy plate operations is also an underlying reason for this extension. The lengthening of punch press will give additional space for the location of production equipment, and for the storage and slitting of material."

"The area south of Works Ave. between motor generator assembly and switchgear divisions will be built up by extensions to punch press and structural steel, and by the erection of a new building between motor-generator assembly and punch press divisions, north of the present brass foundry."

This project covers the entire area in five bays, from Works Ave. back to the present building line. Buildings now in that location will be demolished.

"A part of this second new building which is numbered 10C will be set up as an area for the production of generator rim plates. The automatics department will occupy the remainder after being moved from its present location to give small motors more production room."

"A large number of machines will be relocated in this area, as well as much new equipment to be purchased, including a new crane for each of the five bays. The cranes will range in capacity from five to 25 tons."

Those are details of enlarged production accommodation which these two new plant units will furnish.

Ottawa Makes No Report On Pollution

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP) —The State Department has had no report from the Canadian government on its investigation into alleged contamination of Rainy Lake on the Minnesota-Ontario boundary.

Jack McFall, assistant secretary of state, advised Senator Edward Thye (Rep.-Minn.) that Canada promised last month to check into the matter but has made no report.

Thye wrote the State Department several months ago about reports of the pollution of Rainy Lake. He said it appeared the trouble was due to the Steep Rock Mining Company, Limited at Steep Rock Lake, Ont.

Thye quoted the Minnesota Water Pollution Control Commission that the effect of the contamination is a serious menace to public health, to the water supply, to fish life and the scenic beauty of the lake.

No Report Yet

McFall told Thye that the American embassy at Ottawa brought the matter to the attention of the Canadian government July 6. The Canadian Department of External Affairs advised the American embassy July 19 that the case was being investigated and a report would be made.

"The embassy has continued its efforts to obtain action by the Canadian authorities, but thus far no reply to this government's urgent representation respecting this matter has been received, setting forth the result of the investigation," McFall said.

"In the event the Canadian government does not take action to terminate this pollution of boundary waters consideration will be given to having the matter referred to the International Joint Commission for consideration. . ."

Present Arms To Italian Gov't

NAPLES Aug. 24 (Reuters) — Canada today formally presented Italy with arms and equipment for an infantry division as "proof of Atlantic solidarity."

It was Canada's third contribution of arms for European divisions. Similar shipments have been made to a Belgian and a Netherlands infantry division. In addition, Canada has supplied the equipment for a Luxembourg regiment.

The arms, which arrived Thursday aboard the Canadian freighter Montrose, were handed over to the chief of the Italian general staff, Gen Efisio Marras, by S. G. MacDonald charge d'affaires at the Canadian embassy in Rome.

The equipment ranged from rifles to field guns and armored cars. It will put on a war footing one of the 12 divisions Italy hopes to have ready by the middle of next year.

Speaking from a platform draped with Canadian and Italian flags, MacDonald said "Canada has offered this material as a symbol of the united purpose of the North Atlantic treaty nations and as a bond of friendship between our two countries."

Committee Men Have Much Arranging

Livestock committees have been putting in a great deal of time on the details of arranging accommodation for exhibitors and in assisting the judges.

Dairy cattle men busy Thursday and previously, were Charlie Moore, vice-chairman, Lorne Reynolds, Howard Clark, Stan Wood, Clarence Cons, Norman McConkey and Clarence Mann.

Mr. Mann is chairman, but he and Mr. McConkey and Mr. Wood were more or less interested as exhibitors.

The sheep and swine group are: Frank Savigny, chairman, Milton Clark, Clayton Sanderson and Jack Matchett.

Everett Birdsall is chairman of the beef cattle committee which took over this morning for the judging of Herefords Shorthorns and Aberdeen-Angus.

Dual purpose Shorthorns are being judged today.

ary line of Dummer and Asphodel townships. The Ayrhart car was travelling east approaching the intersection where it was going to make a right turn to proceed south to Norwood, then to Campbellford through Hastings. The Meincinger truck was travelling north and the two vehicles reached the intersection at the same time.

Meincinger, a farmer, died four hours after the accident after suffering facial lacerations, a fractured skull, and internal injuries. He never regained consciousness.

Edwards received a broken hip, shock and body bruises and lacerations. Mr. Ayrhart ascaped with only a shaking and a few bruises.

Two Canadians Tangle In Semi-Finals

WINDSOR, Aug. 24 —(CP)— Two members of Canada's Davis Cup team and two hot shots from the United States see action today in the semi-finals of the men's singles at the 60th annual Canadian Lawn Tennis Championships.

Today's pairings send Brendan Macken of Montreal against Seymour Greenberg, Chicago, and Lorne Main of Vancouver against Tony Vincent, Long Island, NY.

The same situation holds true in the women's singles semi-finals with two Canadians and two top-ranking Americans seeing action. But here a Canadian is certain to be in the finals.

Pat Macken of Montreal will face Pat Lowe of Toronto and Doris Popple, Des Moines, Iowa, will meet Lucille Davidson, Lee's Summit, Mo.

Brendan Macken and Miss Popple are the tournament's defending champions.

Both Brendan and Pat Macken had tough struggles winning their quarter-final matches Thursday.

Brendan was forced to go all out before defeating Lawrence Barclay, young Vancouver star, 6-1, 4-6, 6-3, 7-5.

Pat had to come from behind to oust Sara Mae Turber, Evansville, Ind., 2-6, 6-3, 7-5. In the last set she trailed 5-1, but staged a terrific rally to overcome the hoosier netter.

Main handed his opponent, Robert Dixon, of Ann Arbor, Mich., Michigan State singles champion, a terrific beating, 6-0, 6-0, 6-0. Dixon was seeded No. 3 among foreign entries.

Seymour Greenberg, former US clay courts champion, scored a comparatively easy victory over Henri Rochon of Montreal, another Canadian Davis Cupper, 7-5, 6-3, 6-1.

DAUTHUILLE IS DEALING to Hairston in the sixth round of their recent fight in Montreal which ended in a controversy over the judges' verdict. "Dotwheel" at the left, seems to be bothering Hairston judging by the grim expression on the latter's face. Tommy Sullivan is the referee. The Frenchman won a split decision over his "silent" rival.

Hamilton Fans Have Eyes On Football Title

By TOMMY MOORE

HAMILTON, Aug. 24 CP). — Hope run high in Hamilton for the city's first Big Four football championship since 1935.

Victories over two rival clubs in pre-season exhibition play stamp the Tiger-Cats club as strong contenders in Eastern Canada's major loop. They start the campaign with a night game here Aug. 29 against Montreal Alouettes.

The emphasis Coach Carl Voyles put on speed on the 1951 campaign has paid off with a 17-11 victory over the defending champion Toronto Argonauts at Buffalo and a 38-17 conquest of Ottawa Rough Riders here in Hamilton.

Last year Voyles stressed power, rather than speed, and it brought the Tiger-Cats within striking distance of the title. They wound up the regular schedule one point ahead of the Argonauts but went down 35-19 in a two-game total-points playoff.

Can They Keep It Up?

For this red-hot football city, the only question is whether the team can keep up its exhibition-victory pace when Voyles cuts his American imports to the seven allowed under Canadian Rugby Union rules. He had 12 for the two exhibition games and since then has looped one—back Peter Zinaich—from the club roster.

The task of picking the seven best Americans won't be easy. Voyles has four back from last year—Vince Mazza, Jack Carpenter, Ralph Sazio and Vince Scott. Mazza appears a certain choice for an outside wing job.

Custis Top Man

Top man among the newcomers is Bernie Custis, Negro quarterback from Syracuse University, who seems to have the pivot job in his hand. Last year's quarter, Stan Heath, was late coming to terms and then suffered a shoulder separation. Zeke Martin hasn't lived up to advance notices.

Other imports are: Paul (Spinder) Gibson, former Buffalo pro who played with Ottawa last season; Ned McNeill, a back with a Pittsburgh Steelers pro background; Hal Waggoner and Joe Shinn, a pair of fleet-footed backs from Tulane University.

Six young Canadian players who may hit star status this year provide another bright spot. A 190-pound six-footer, Floyd Cooper scored touchdowns in each of the exhibition games. He is just out of junior ranks. Others are Doug Gray and Blake Taylor, from the University of Western Ontario Mustangs; Tip Logan from Queen's; Vincent Colizza from McGill; and Peter Newman of St. Catharines, just out of high school ranks, who is being groomed for an outside wing slot.

Kitchener Dutchmen Sign 5 New Players

KITCHENER, Aug. 24—(CP)—Kitchener - Waterloo Dutchmen have signed five players for their 1951-52 entry in the Ontario Hockey Association's senior "A" league, manager "Punch" Scherer has announced.

Eddie Stankiewicz, formerly of Toronto Marlbororoughs in the OHA major series, heads the list. Three years ago he was a member of Lloyd Gross' Greenshirts, Ontario junior "B" champions. He went from this Kitchener team to Windsor Spitfires where he took second place in the OHA junior "A" series.

The Dutchmen have also signed four holdovers from last year's squad, "Boat" Hurley, Don Oberholtzer, Art Hurst and Jim Pernfuss.

Girls Split Pair

HAVELOCK, Aug. 24 (ENS)—The girls' softball team of Havelock went down to defeat at Warsaw on Wednesday night by a score of 15 to 10. The fine performance of Warsaw's pitcher, Jean Munroe, was mainly responsible for her team's success. To Virginia Ellis of the local team went the honor of getting the only home run of the game. The umpire was Randall Ellis of Havelock.

Havelock: Dorothy White c, Jean Castle and Virginia Ellis p, Helen Oliver 1b, Norma Ellis 2b, Annie McIntyre 3b, Rhoda McArthur ss, Lorraine Thompson rf, Barbara Brooks cf, Jean Castle and Virginia Ellis lf.

Warsaw—Joyce Freeburn c, Jean Munroe p, Norma Payne 1b, Edna Nelson 2b, Julia Little 3b, Barbara Eddy ss, Della Darling rf, Marlene Darling cf, Wilma Freeburn lf.

On Monday night the Warsaw girls visited Havelock when the local girls defeated them by a score of 13-6. Due to darkness Havelock were unable to have their last inning. However, all the players put on a good performance and it was a neat game for both sides.

Warsaw girls will play here again on Wednesday of next week.

Dawe Fans 20 As Cobourg Wins

COBOURG, Aug. 24.—Sleep Dawe set a local record for softball strikeouts here Wednesday night when he fanned 20 and held Pickering juveniles to four hits as Cobourg won the first OASA playoff game 26-4.

In the riot of hits, against two Pickering pitchers, the locals rolled up 24 blows, five of them by Rollie Campbell who had a perfect night with three singles and two triples. Other hitters were Stu Lingard, with two singles and a homer; George Spalind, with a single, double and triple, and Dawe a single, double and home run.

Only two balls went to the outfield for the losers, a double by Richards and a single by Jones disturbing the otherwise fine work of Dawe.

Demon Hanover Wins TrottingChampionship

WESTBURY, NY, Aug. 24 (AP) —Demon Hanover, heavily-backed favorite, won the sixth $25,000 American Trotting Championship by a half-length over Darn Flashy with Pronto Don third a neck behind at Roosevelt Raceway Thursday night.

Time of the race was 2:03 1-5.

Pronto Don, driven by Clint Hodgins, of Clandeboye, Ont., and second choice at 8-5, challenged Demon Hanover on the outside while Darn Flashy closed fast on the rail to provide the thrilling finish.

Demon Hanover's victory, worth $11,250, brought his total lifetime earnings to $170,750.

Jimmy Brewer Winner In 2:18 Class

Jimmy Brewer, owned by F. Conlin of Oshawa—a popular horse with many city and district followers of the harness horse races—took three firsts in the 2:18 class at the Ex here last night. He showed plenty of drive in the stretch, particularly in the last heat, to win out. H. Ingles' Luella Guy of Brighton had two firsts and a third in the 2:24 evening pace, while James McIntyre's local Turnabout romped home three times in front in the afternoon 2:21 class.

Officials for the four-day meet, under chairmanship of Charles Quinlan, are: Judges, D. A. McGillis and Wm. McQuigge; timers, Stan Lowe and Jack Thompson; course clerk, Dave Fleming; starter, Alex McDonnell of Hamilton; and announcer, Alex Mellon of Caledonia. The results:

2:21 Class

Turnabout (J. McIntyre, Peterborough)	1	1	1
Flicka the 2nd (B. C. Samons, Cobourg)	2	2	2
Chuck Serlis (A. Brown, Oshawa)	3	3	3
Banner Boy (H. Ingles, Brighton)	4	4	4
Laurel Prince (H. Lemoire, Peterborough)	5	5	dr

Times—2:15, 2:16½, 2:18.

2:24 Class

Luella Guy (H. Ingles, Brighton)	1	1	3
Buddy C. Grattan (C. G. Budd, Woodville)	2	2	1
Sheila Lee (J. Findlay, Arnprior)	4	3	2

Wings Subdue Bisons 6-2, Cubs Nip Royals

By The Associated Press.

Jackie Collum, little lefthander of Rochester Red Wings is a prime example that you don't have to be a strapping six-footer to get ahead in baseball.

The five-foot-eight-inch 160-pound Collum turned in his 13th International League victory against one defeat Thursday night as he pitched the second-place Wings to a 6-2 triumph over Buffalo Bisons. Collum became the first lefty to beat the Bisons in their own ball park this season.

He limited the Wings to four singles and clinched his own game with a two-run homer—his fourth of the year—in the sixth inning Jay Van Noy also homered for the Wings.

Beat Royals

Frank Lamanna, another good hitting pitcher, hurled the last-place Springfield Cubs to a 9-3 decision over the league-leading Montreal Royals. The Cubs' 13-hit attack against Tom La Sorda and two relief pitchers included five doubles and four triples.

Syracuse Chiefs nipped Ottawa Giants 2-1. Bill Baker drove in both Syracuse runs with a bases-loaded single in the ninth. The triumph was the Chiefs' fifth straight.

Ferrell Anderson smashed a two-run homer in the 10th inning to give Toronto Maple Leafs a 4-2 victory over Baltimore Orioles. Mike Goliat belted a two-run homer in the eighth to account for Baltimore's markers.

Won't Allow Liberals At Inquiry

Duplessis Refuses Opposition Part In Bridge Probe

QUEBEC, Aug. 25. (CP) — Premier Duplessis Friday replied to a request for official Liberal representation at a public inquiry into the collapse of the $3,000,000 Three Rivers bridge with the statement that it will be conducted "impartially as it should be."

George Marler, Liberal opposition leader in the Quebec legislature, requested in a letter Aug. 20 that his party be represented by counsel at the inquiry Aug. 27, in Three Rivers. Leon Methot, legal adviser to the inquiry commission, is a Union Nationale "supporter," Mr. Marler claimed.

"Mr. Marler seems to forget the inquiry will be held and conducted by two well-qualified and competent persons — Magistrate Rene Lippe of Montreal and J. Lucien Dansereau, former chief engineer for the federal department of public works in Montreal."

Have Opportunity

The premier told his weekly press conference that the Liberals had the opportunity to discuss the bridge collapse at the last session and would have another opportunity when the forthcoming session opens Nov. 7.

The premier announced plans for a $15,000,000 hydro-electric development in Northwestern Quebec and for a phosphorous plant, near Montreal, in which initial investment will be $5,000,000.

He said a group of business men have also put before the government a plan to set up an "important" mineral refining plant and this will be studied by the cabinet.

A government informant indicated last Monday zinc refineries may be established in Quebec somewhere along the St. Lawrence River.

The 50,000 horsepower electricity development will be undertaken by Quebec Hydro-Electric Commission at No. 2 rapids on the upper Ottawa River.

Largest Crater

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—(AP) — Chubb Crater, in northwest Quebec, has been established as the largest meteor-gouged scar on the earth's surface, the National Geographic Society reported today. The society said Dr. Victor Ben Meen, Toronto geologist, had determined the meteoric origin of the gigantic lake-filled hollow in the sub-Arctic wasteland between Hudson and Ungava Bays.

Korean Testifies Canadian Threw Grenade

SOMEWHERE IN KOREA, Aug. 25 (Reuters)—A Republic of Korea army corporal told a Canadian general court martial today British and Canadian soldiers threw a hand grenade into a room, after vain attempts to rape two Korean women, and killed an ROK officer and two civilians.

The corporal, Sung Ip you, first prosecution witness at today's session of the trial, said the grenade's delayed blast gave him time to run to a nearby Korean military police station.

Being tried separately for the murder of ROK Lieut. Ee Chong sung, March 17 at Chung Woon myon, Kyong Ki Province, are Pte. Donald M. Gibson, 22, of Ottawa; Pte. Glen R. Blank, 27, of Winnipeg; and Pte. Alan R. Montgomery Davis, 24, of Vancouver. All are of the 2nd Battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry.

Given Room

In a prosecution statement at 10th Canadian Field Punishment Camp headquarters, Capt. L. M. Hanway, the battalion's legal officer, said Ee gave his sister-in-law and her girl friend a room in a house where his small ROK army group was billeted.

Commonwealth troops arrived at the billet later from a nearby party, Hanway said, and saw the visitors. Three Canadian and two British soldiers began molesting the girls, whose screaming started Ee on his way to them.

But blank threw a grenade into Ee's room, Hanway said. The two civilians killed were Pak Soo pong and Kim Pyong Kak, both attached to the ROK army.

Sung, prosecution witness, told the court the assault on the girls apparently failed and the men went away after throwing the grenade.

4 Men Held In Attempted PO Robbery

Gun Battle Staged On Yonge Street As Thieves Flee

TORONTO, Aug. 25. (CP)—A man known to police by four names was killed in a gun battle near Bloor and Yonge streets in the heart of Toronto today. Four others were arrested after the shooting duel which developed when a police cruiser disturbed an attempt to rob a post office.

John Joseph Sarosky, 39, was killed by a bullet from the gun of Constable Ken Cole. He was also known to police as Matthew Sarosky, Jake Herman and John Black. He was out on $10,000 bail on a shop-breaking charge on which he was arrested just two nights ago.

Larry Edgar Shirley, 24, who refused to tell police his home address, had his wrist cut in the affray, possibly as he banged his way through a plate glass window in an effort to escape the police who approached the building in a cruiser on a routine check.

Attempted Murder Charge

Shirley was charged with attempted murder, shopbreaking and carrying concealed weapons. Police said five bullets had been fired from the gun they found on him. He was arrested not far from the scene after a chase. He was wanted for questioning in a bank robbery at nearby Bradford July 26.

Three were arrested in their rooms later: William Lovejoy, 34, Edward Valiquette, 24, and Herbert Taylor, 26. They were charged with breaking and entering the post office.

Sarosky, wounded in the spine when he made a break from the building, died in hospital.

Police said Shirley leaped through a window and raced north on Yonge St., firing from his .38 calibre automatic as he went. He was caught three blocks away.

Police said one of the suspects eluded officers when he ran up a back alley and the other made his getaway in an automobile.

When a squad of officers barged into the small office they found a wrecking bar and other burglars' tools.

Hunks of plaster had been torn from the wall beside a vault, containing only $1,000 in cash and money orders.

Details of the shooting were still meagre but police gave this story:

Talks Up To Reds Ridgway Says In Tough Reply

TOKYO, Aug. 25. (AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway today sent a blistering message to top Red commanders in Korea and left it up to them whether armistice talks would continue in Kaesong. The supreme Allied commander said he was willing to resume negotiations, halted by the Reds. But he rejected as "malicious falsehoods" Communist accusations that United Nations forces violated Kaesong's neutrality. The Reds broke off the talks two days ago. They demanded a "satisfactory" answer to their charge that a United Nations plane attacked Kaesong to murder the Red delegation.

Ridgway's reply said the charge was "so utterly false, so preposterous and so obviously manufactured" that it did not merit a reply.

The next step was up to the Communists. Ridgway's scathing message gave them a hard choice.

Harshly Worded

The harshly-worded reply was sent to Kim Il Sung, North Korean Premier, and Gen. Peng Teh-huai, commander of the Chinese Red Forces in Korea.

The last paragraph left the door open—just a crack—for a resumption of talks.

Ridgway said, "When you are prepared to terminate the suspension of armistice negotiations . . . I will direct my representatives to meet with yours, with a view to seeking a reasonable armistice agreement."

Ridgway's reply, in tone and content, came as no surprise to observers here.

They said he could hardly apologize for incidents he had already branded as "manufactured in advance."

Nor, the observers added, can the Reds accept the blast as the "satisfactory" answer they demanded.

May Continue

It is possible, said the observers, the Reds will agree to continue negotiations, and try to convince the world they are doing so for the sake of peace.

Ridgway pulled no punches.

He told the Reds:

"This most recent addition to alleged incidents . . . so utterly false, so preposterous and so obviously manufactured for your own questionable purposes does not, in its own right, merit a reply.

"Nor do the incidents you have cited . . . When not fabricated by you for your own propaganda needs, these incidents have proven to be the actions of irregulars without the slightest connection . . . with any forces or agencies under my control.

5,000 A Day Applying For $40 Pension

OTTAWA, Aug. 25. (CP)—Canada's aged are applying at a rate of more than 5,000 a day for a Federal pension of $40 a month starting next January.

About three weeks ago, the Federal welfare department asked Canadians 70 and over, not now in receipt of a government pension, to apply if they wished to receive a pension under a new universal program. So far about 160,000 applications have been received.

It is estimated there are 400,000 Canadians 70 and over, not now in receipt of a government pension. There are another 315,000 in receipt of old-age pensions. Those already receiving a pension will have their records transferred from provincial government offices to federal offices and automatically will be brought under the new program next January.

200,000 Target

The welfare department hopes to reach a target of 200,000 applications by Sept. 1. This would leave it an additional 200,000 to receive and process in the four months before the pensions become payable.

Of applications so far received, 800 have come from Newfoundland; 6,700 from Nova Scotia; 1,700 from Prince Edward Island; 3,500 from New Brunswick; 37,000 from Quebec; 65,000 from Ontario; 7,500 from Manitoba; 8,500 from Saskatchewan; 7,000 from Alberta, and 20,000 from British Columbia.

Under the new plan, the Federal government will pay pensions of $40 a month to all persons 70 and over, regardless of means, provided they have lived in Canada for at least 20 years.

At present pensions of $40 a month are paid to persons 70 and over who have lived in Canada for 20 years and who can prove their need for such a pension. The Federal government pays 75 per cent of the cost of the pensions and the provinces the remainder.

2 Trucks, 2 Cars In Smashup, 6 In Hospital

NAPANEE, Aug. 25 (CP). — A traffic smashup involving two transport trucks and two automobiles five miles east of here Friday night sent six persons to hospital.

Bert Steinberg, an RCAF member who had hitch-hiked a ride was pinned in the front seat of one of the cars for 45 minutes before he was freed. His legs were broken and his face cut.

Police said the chain-reaction crash started when an eastbound transport truck driven by Clovis Gordon of Prescott developed engine trouble and slowed down before pulling off the road.

Rammed By Car

The truck was rammed from behind by a car driven by Sherman Gauley, an engineer with the Ontario Hydro Commission, officers said.

Steinberg was a passenger in the Gauley car.

Then another eastbound truck, driven by Joseph Marcil of Montreal, pulled up behind the wreck as Marcil stopped to offer help. Before Marcil could set out a flare behind his truck, his vehicle was rammed by a car police say was driven by Harry Seeley of Odessa.

Gauley suffered a broken leg and head injuries.

Seeley suffered head and arm injuries and his wife and two children were less severely injured.

US Sabres Win Jet Battle

US EIGHTTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Aug. 25. (AP) —Flashing US F-86 Sabres won a 51-jet sky fight over northwest Korea today—the second in two days.

The 21 Sabres damaged at least one Red MIG-15 in a brief but aggressive action with 30 enemy jets near Sinuiju, northwestern Korea border city.

Friday night 26 Sabres tangled briefly with 40 MIG-15s over Sinanju, midway between the border and the North Korean capital of Pyongyang. The Sabres shot down two MIGs.

So Sabres were reported lost in either action.

Friday night's fight occurred when the 40 MIGs tried to interfere with a strike by B-29s on Sinanju's rail yards.

Thirty-five B-29 Superforts Saturday bombed marshalling yards and railroad facilities near Rashin in far northeast Korea for the first time in more than a year.

Lightning Sets Off Blast 8 Killed By Dynamite

WONDERVU, Colo., Aug. 25. (AP)—Eight men were killed and 10 hurt Friday when lightning touched off a dynamite blast at a dam site and searchers still checked today to see if there were other casualties. The explosion sent a rain of boulders and debris smashing down on the site of a $12,000,000 dam project in South Boulder Creek Canyon. The dam site is about 35 miles northwest of Denver. Between 50 and 60 men were working in the area when the lightning touched off the dynamite which was to have been fired when the day shift went off duty at 5 p.m. The blast was at 4:40 p.m.

T. L. McDonald, job superintendent for the Macco Puget Sound Co., project contractors, said 10 or 12 cases of dynamite were discharged by the lightning. Four men working on top of the canyon wall were killed almost instantly, he said. Four others, he added, died under a mass of rock that crashed down on the canyon floor.

Approximately 250 men are employed on the project between Eldorado Springs and Pinecliff, six miles into the front range of the Rockies.

Rock walls of the canyon rise to a height of 365 feet on both sides of south Boulder Creek. At the crest of the canyon walls it is 750 feet across.

Crushed By Boulder

Vernon Bushcn, 21, driver of an earth moving machine, said he saw a rock half the size of a car crush a man.

Rock driller John Zeren, 30, of Boulder, said when he regained consciousness "I was dangling on the end of my leather safety belt. It was tied to a pin driven in the rocks. It saved my life."

Some of the men were loading powder holes drilled on both sides of the canyon. Others were in the bottom of the chasm cleaning up rock from previous blasts. The lightning apparently hit both sides of the canyon and touched off charges about 60 feet above the bottom.

Noble L. Benson, 29, of Nampa, Idaho, operator of a heavy earth-moving machine, said "there was a roar like thunder" as the dynamite was touched off. "Both sides of the canyon caved in." Noble's heavy equipment was covered by debris but he escaped serious injury.

Plane Crash MayBe Sabotage

OAKLAND, Calif., Aug. 25 — (AP)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation and civil aeronautics officials today opened investigations into the crash Friday of United States newest-type airliner, as searchers went over a hillside 20 miles south of here for the last of 50 broken bodies.

Object of the FBI investigation is to determine whether sabotage caused the DC-6B to plow into the fog-shrouded hill a few moments from the end of its transcontinental flight early Friday.

The FBI, in announcing the investigation would not elaborate or comment whether it was routine.

United Air Lines said Friday night searchers quit after bringing down 41 bodies, most of them on horseback. They were to return today for the other nine—or whatever can be found of them.

Pass On Hill 6 People Hurt

CLOYNE, Aug. 25—Six persons were injured in a two-car collision on Highway No. 41, just north of this vilage, Friday. Two doctors attended the injured at the roadside before an ambulance and two cars took them 55 miles to Belleville General Hospital.

The accident occurred when a southbound car crashed head-on into one northbound, while attempting to pass on a hill.

Injured in the southbound car were James Wiggins, of Kirkland land Lake, driver , badly cut by broken glass; his sister, Mrs. E. J. Sparling, of Hamilton, both legs broken and head injuries; George A. Wiggins, 83, of Hamilton, broken right leg and cuts.

Injured in the northbound car were the driver, Thomas Deacon, of 21 Alexandra Wood, North York, who received a broken nose and head cuts; his son, Thomas, 15, and David Rodgers, 15, of Pembroke, minor injuries. Mrs. Deacon was uninjured.

Dr. Ernest Richardson, of nearby Northbrook, and another man identified only as Dr. Phillips of Toronto, were called to the scene to treat the injured. Dr. Phillips is holidaying at a nearby cottage.

Both cars were wrecked, according to Police Constable Lummis of the Madoc provincial police detachment, who investigated. In addition to the ambulance, a car driven by A. E. Northey, of Northbrook, and a taxi took the injured to hospital.

Gale Near Channel May End Swimming

DOVER, England, Aug. 25 (AP) —A gale reported brewing in the English Channel today virtually closed the 1951 channel swimming season.

The season ends usually by Sept. 1. If the weather stays bad, none could try the swim with any hope of success by that date.

Florence Chadwick, 32, San Diego, Calif., typist, who hoped to swim from England to France, said she would await weather reports tonight before deciding definitely whether the attempt was off.

She swam the channel last year from France to England in the then record time for women of 13 hours 20 minutes. She had hoped this year to become the first woman ever to swim the channel in both directions.

Phillip Mickman, 20, of England, who first swam the channel when he was 18, has been training here for three months for the swim the hard way, from England to France. He said he would wait and see how the weather turns.

Police Find Driver In Swamp

MADOC, Aug. 25 (CP).—Eight provincial policemen Friday surrounded and captured Leo Ryan, 24, in a swamp near here. They arrested him on a warrant charging dangerous driving and leaving the scene of an accident.

The warrant was issued after a panel truck careened off a country road here two days ago and pinned Lance Beer, 8, of Belleville, against a wire fence.

The boy is recovering in hospital at Belleville.

US Cars In Ontario Set Record In July

TORONTO, Aug. 25. — More American cars entered Ontario in July than in any single month before, Travel Minister Cecile announced Friday. The number was 309,637. The previous record was 296,761—12,876 less—set in July, 1950.

For the seven months ended July 31, vehicle entries to Ontario totalled 700,162, an increase of 9.2 per cent over the same period in 1950.

Most tourist areas have been enjoying greater business, in some places greater by as much as 25 percent, Mr. Cecile said.

Sander Ready To Try Falls

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Aug. 25—(CP)—Leslie Sander has made a bet with death—a foolish bet.

He'll try to win it today. He has bet that he can go over Niagara Falls in a twin-hulled 12-foot steel barrel and keep his life.

Friday night in a Niagara Falls, N.Y., rooming house, he told reporters that he is determined to make the 165-foot drop into the swirling green cauldron below the horseshoe falls—but he did not tell them about his arrangements for making it.

He was said to have a team of handlers primed to spirit the torpedo-shaped barrel to an unnamed point on the American side of the river—out of the jurisdiction of Ontario's Provincial Police who are determined to stop Sander from making his stunt.

Surplus Of $408,979,159 Piled Up By Government

OTTAWA, Aug. 25 (CP). — The Federal government piled up a surplus of nearly $409,000,000 in the first four months of the 1951-52 fiscal year, a year in which the surplus was not expected to be more than $30,000,000.

In his budget speech April 10 last, Finance Minister Abbott forecast revenues of $3,730,000,000 and expenditures of $3,700,000,000 for a surplus of $30,000,000. But Friday a report from the treasury disclosed that the first four months of the year ending March 31, revenues totalled $1,202,991,533 and expenditures $794,012,373, leaving a surplus of $408,979,159.

In the first four months of the 1950-51 fiscal year, the surplus totalled $252,000,000. The government ended the year with a surplus of $203,000,000, although only $15,000,000 had been forecast.

Canada's record surplus was compiled in 1947-48 and totalled $670,000,000.

The treasury report said the increased revenues reflected some of the higher taxes imposed last year and some of those in the 1951 budget.

The revenues of approximately $1,203,000,000 for the four-month period compared with $861,800,000 for the corresponding period of last year, an increase of $341,200,000.

Leaped Out Of Train Burwash Man Caught

ALLANDALE, Ont., Aug. 25 — (CP)—Guy Copeman, 27, convicted burglar who escaped Thursday night from a moving train, was captured Friday by provincial police near Beeton, 23 miles south of here.

Copeman was being taken to Burwash industrial farm near Sudbury when he slipped off his handcuffs and leaped out the window of the train at Allandale, a small station on the outskirts of Barrie.

Police said Copeman, sentenced to two years for burglary, will face an additional charge of escaping.

Harriman With Tito To Discuss Aid Plan

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Aug. 25 —(AP)— President Truman's roving trouble - shooter, W. Averell Harriman, arrived here today to talk with Premier Tito about Yugoslavia's basic needs in the way of military and economic assistance.

En route home from Tehran, Harriman looked wan and weary from his long efforts to break the deadlock in the now-suspended negotiation between Britain and Iran over oil nationalization.

Harriman said his mission to Yugoslavia was to talk to Tito about "various assistance programs" both military and economic.

He flew to Brdo, Yugoslavia's summer capital in the Slovenian Alps, to meet the Yugoslav marshal.

Foes Of Iranian Premier Speaking Up As Talks Fail

TEHRAN, Aug. 25— (AP), — Iranian foes of Premier Mohammed Mossadegh are speaking up again, now that oil talks with Britain have collapsed for a second time.

Trouble threatens in the political field. Elections are coming up this fall and there will be a battle for control of Parliament.

The frail, stubborn-willed Nationalist has staked his popularity on refusing an oil deal with Britain despite almost certain economic troubles.

But the breakdown of talks with Britain this week means more than money trouble for the man who won power by nationalizing property of the influential Anglo-Iranian Oil Company.

Collapse of the negotiations has spurred Mossadegh's enemies, ranging from moderates to the wealthy landowners in parliament. They fear the governing national front will make big gains in the November-December election if Mossadegh controls the ballot boxes.

The growing political strife, unemployment and business slump is bound to stir up Iran as a result of the loss of oil revenue —source of half the government's budget.

Only the underground Communist Tudeh Party and Russia, Iran's northern neighbor, stand to gain. Western diplomats fear a continuing oil crisis will soften Iran for Communism.

Nationalizing Anglo-Iranian's operations made Mossadegh the hero of the hour in a country which blames most of its troubles on the real and fancied intrigue of the British company.

Any parliament deputy voting against oil nationalization would be committing suicide as surely as voting against the Koran.

But so far, the nationalistic premier has not made good on his promise of a "life of ease and comfort" for Iran's 15,000,000 persons now they control their own oil riches.

Desperate attacks—even leading up to an attempt to defeat Mossadegh's government on a vote of confidence in parliament —may be expected within a month. Under Iranian law, arrangements for the election should be completed by September 23.

Mrs. MacLean Missing Britain Investigates

LONDON, Aug. 25 (Reuters)— The Foreign Office is enquiring into reports that Mrs. Melinda MacLean, American-born wife of the missing British diplomat Donald MacLean, has disappeared from the French Riviera where she went last week.

A Foreign Office spokesman said today that enquiries were being made after reports that the woman had vanished from the villa in the woods where she has been living in isolation with her children.

Her husband, Donald MacLean, left London with another Foreign Office official, Guy Burgess, last May 25 and their destination has never been discovered.

Press reports from the south of France have stated that Mrs. MacLean has not been seen for more than 48 hours since she left the villa near St. Topez where she was staying with her three children, her mother and sister.

Stock Market Sets 2 Records Within Week

By DICK BAIDEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

The Toronto Stock Market set two records this week.

Industrials, which had been edging upward for the last few months, displayed a sudden burst of power late Thursday and early Friday to reach a high of 339.29 on the exchange's index of 20 selected issues. The previous high was set February 12 when the index hit 338.62.

Market observers had been predicting for some time that accumulating strength would push industrials over the top. Breakdown of negotiations in Korea stimulated war stocks in New York Thursday anl the shbsequent reaction in Toronto provided the needed impetus.

Western oils broke their August 21 record of 109.60 as they climbed 1.38 points on the index to 110.98. Failure of a settlement in Iran was seen as a significant factor as activity picked up sharply Friday.

Investment opinion of the international situation was reflected in steels, manufacturing companies, and refining oils as well as leading western oils. On the Toronto market Friday, 16 steel issues traded for gains while only one showed a fractional loss. Manufaaturing companies, such as Aluminum Company of Canada, strengthened while several gains of more than a point led refining oils higher.

Golds Lose Gains

Golds, which dominated the market last week in a brief, two-day flurry, lost all their gains this week. Announcement that Canada would seek a better deal for the industry at the September meeting of the International Monetary Fund had prompted heavy buying. Support weakened steadily throughout the week.

The week opened brightly in Toronto as the market displayed signs of strength. The early rally fizzled, however, and prices closed mixed. Papers showed the best gains in Montreal as they gained more than 11 points. Industrials were firm.

New York had difficulties with its high speed ticker Monday as it limped through a slow and slightly lower session.Rails were the heaviest losers, but declines were not extensive.

Slip Sharply

Prices slipped sharply in the final hour Tuesday. Foreign news unsettled the market Wednesday and losses exceeded $2 in leaders.

The break in the Korean talks stirred New York war babies on Thursday. Prices made general progress as steels, aircraft, copper mining, and oils made the best showing.

Mines and aircrafts advanced Friday. Rails and utilities eased.

From Friday to Friday, the Toronto Stock Exchange indices showed industrials up 2.39 at 339.09, golds down 2.70 at 83.59, base metals up .51 at 184.35, and western oils up 1.75 at 110.67.

In the Montreal averages, banks were off .14 at 28.83; utilities unchanged at 86.5, industrials up 4.3 at 235.2, combined up 2.8 at 185.6, papers off .53 at 814.33, and golds off 1.09 at 64.37.

In New York, the Associated Press average of 60 stocks dropped 88 cents to $96.10.

Labor Leader Says Union Pact Illegal

PORT ARTHUR, Aug. 25 (CP) —A left-wing labor leader claimed Friday that a union agreement, signed in Toronto earlier in the day and said to affect 20,000 Ontario bushworkers, is illegal.

Bruce Magnuson, secretary of the Canadian Union of Woodworkers, charged that the Lumber and Sawmill Workers' Union, which signed the contract with 19 Ontario pulp and paper companies, does not represent the bushworkers involved.

The Woodworkers' Union was formed when executive members —including Mr. Magnuson — of Port Arthur Local 2786, Lumber and Sawmill Workers, were ousted by the parent body, the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners (AFL), for alleged Communist activities.

Mr. Magnuson claimed that the reorganized Port Arthur union local—Local 2786—which had represented a large number of Northern Ontario's bushworkers —no longer does so since the suspension of the executive members.

RED LIGHT FOR PLANE—The private plane of a Dayton, O., businessman, Robert Simons, rests on Miami's Biscayne Boulevard after it made an emergency landing on the busy thoroughfare. Simons and three passengers were en route to Dayton when the engine quit, but the highway provided a safe landing strip.

Campaign on Many N.Z. Election Issues

By J. C. GRAHAM

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (CP).—The New Zealand general election to be held Sept. 1 sees the opposing parties campaigning on different issues. That's one of the things that make this election one of the most unusual in New Zealand history.

Since modern party government was instructed 60 years ago it is the only election to be held before it is legally due. Every other New Zealand parliament has either run its full three-year term or else has had its tenure extended because of war or economic conditions.

The last election was in 1949 and the next wasn't normally due until 1952. In the House just dissolved, Prime Minister Sidney G. Holland's National Party government had 46 seats, against 34 for the Labor opposition.

Both the National Party and Labor are contesting all 80 seats in the coming vote. The Communists are running a few candidates but all these are expected to lose their deposits, as they have done in every recent election.

New Platforms

For, the first time in two decades the central issue of Socialism versus Private Enterprise is not the dominant theme in the present campaign. The National Party government is asking the electors to endorse its crushing of the industrial upheaval which gripped New Zealand for five months this year, while the Labor Party as its chief platform is attacking inflation and high living costs.

Both Prime Minister Holland and Opposition Leader Walter Nash have proposed substantial income tax reductions, and extensions of the big social security structure. Both steps are considered practicable in view of the present buoyant state of New Zealands finances.

Other point's in the government platform are reduction in prices of bread, flour, butter, tea, gas and gasoline, and an increase in universal superannuation payments. These are payments to persons over 65 regardless of income. Eventually they will replace old age pensions, now paid to persons of limited means, which are higher than the present superannuation payments.

Labor's platform includes tax reductions, increases in many social security benefits, free dental and optical services, a return to building state houses for rental only, rent reductions on present state-built homes, re-imposition of import controls on goods which can be produced in New Zealand, and maintenance of the civil airways as a state concern. The airways have been offered for sale by the present government.

Surprise Election

The election announcement was a complete surprise but the Labor Party rallied vigorously and declares it is confident of regaining power. For the time being at least the breach between industrial and political sides of the Labor movement has been healed, and trade unions are giving Labor canidates their full support.

Underlying the whole campaign is the handling of New Zealand's biggest industrial dispute in many years, which began with a strike of longshoremen in February, spreading to miners, seamen and sections of the transport and meat workers. It ended in July with the complete defeat of the strikers.

Moderate trade unions sided with the Government against the strikers throughout, but poltical Labor attacked the government's handling of the dispute and termed emergency powers taken to deal with it as anti-democratic and "Fascist."

The Government's attitude was that the strike was part of a world-wide Communist conspiracy and that drastic measures were necessary to deal with it. Several prominent trade union leaders widened the gap with the Labor Party by asserting their agreement with the government view, that the strikes were Communist-inspired. These differences have been healed for the moment.

The Labor Party was in power for four years until it lost the 1949 elections. It opened a strong assault on government methods used to settle the strike when parliament assembled recently. A series of non-confidence motions however were easily beaten down by the government majority. But Prime Minister Holland seized the opportunity to call the election on the strike issue.

Teresa M. Heffernan RCAF Airwoman

OTTAWA, Aug. 25 — An airwoman from Peterborough, Teresa M. Heffernan, 517 Cambridge St., was among the first 75 airwomen to graduate from the RCAF's Manning Depot at St. John's, Quebec. The graduates left St. Johns Thursday to begin specialized training at the air force training schools at Aylmer, Clinton, Trenton and Rockcliffe, Ont. On completion of these courses the airwomen will be posted to air stations across Canada for duty. Some of the girls will remain at St. Johns for training as physical training instructors.

On the graduation parade, which included a march past and general salute, the airwomen were congratulated by Wing Commander Charles A. Willis, office commanding the manning depot, on their enthusiastic response to their training.

64 Americans

TAIPEH, Formosa, Aug. 25 — (AP)—The United States embassy said today there are 664 Americans on this Chinese Nationalist headquarters island — 265 military personnel and 399 civilians. The embassy said it announced the figures to correct inaccurate reports abroad.

KAESONG WALKOUT—Lt. Gen. Nam Il, chief delegate of the Communist side at Kaesong, leaves the truce conference house after a meeting. The Reds broke off the meetings, charging the Allied forces bombed Kaesong, although UN officials denied the charge. It was not definite if the interruption in talks would be permanent.

'Ex' Director Designed Memorial Gate

Architect of the R. A. Morrow memorial gate at Morrow Park was Clarence Bacon, a director of the Exhibition, "and one of the most helpful" in G. A. Gillespie's rating.

"Mr. Bacon is a very valuable member of the board," the manager said today. "He designed the gate and followed it through to the finish. I liked the idea that we had a director who could do that, and get the approval of the members of the Morrow Trust. Mr. Bacon is also chairman of the committee that arranges the grandstand features. He came over from the flower show committee, and he has done a fine job all the way.

"It would be easy to bring in an exceptionally high class group of entertainers, but we are restricted by costs and other expenditures. With the allowance he received from the directors, Mr. Bacon arranged a good program this year.

"The directors are like people, they like to keep their nose above the water, and this year they built the Park St. fence, the new Morrow gate, the office, three lean-to sheds for sheep and cattle, and did a lot of other work that involved expenditure."

The park never looked better than this summer, Mr. Gillespie said.

Removal of the fences seemed to have increased its spaciousness. And the seeding of some years ago in the sandy soil of the eastern block of the park has become established leaving only small bare spots here and there. That was one of Mr. Gillespie's contributions from his agricultural experience.

Arrest 700 Mining

HONG KONG, Aug. 25 (AP)—Hong Kong police have arresteed 700 persons charged with illegally mining wolfram. Wolfram, from which tungsten is derived, is found in the mainland territories belonging to Hong Kong. Police said persons flocking to dig the ore without licences were creating a dangerous situation on the border with Red China.

Free Publisher

LIMA, Peru, Aug. 25—(AP)—The Supreme Court has freed a publisher serving a four-month sentence for having reproduced a Life Magazine article about Eva Peron, wife of the Argentine president. The court, in its decision, ruled, however, that publisher Leonidas Rivera must pay the state 3,000 soles ($210) for damages. Rivera is publisher of the weekly Buen Humor (Good Humor).

Girl Sparks

OSLO—(CP)—Unni Holmsen of Barum is one of the youngest female "sparks" in the world. The 17-year-old girl recently qualified as a wireless operator in the Norwegian merchant marine.

Music Arranger Louis Waizmann Dies In Toronto

TORONTO, Aug. 25 (CP) — A legend in Canadian musical circles has ended with the death of Louis Waizmann who brought an inheritance of centuries of musical tradition when he came to Canada from Europe years ago. A musical arranger for the CBC, he died Friday in hospital. He was 86.

Mr. Waizmann was born in the house once occupied by Mozart, in Salzburg, Austria, world-famed for its musical festivals.

He was librarian with the Toronto Symphony Orchestra for 23 years, joining it on its inception. It was as a violist he joined the new group and later it was his custom to hand the conductor his baton for each performance.

As a music teacher he numbered among his pupils such internationally-known composers, conductors and musicians as Percy Faith, Bob Farnon, Samuel Hersenhorn and Paul Scherman.

Trained in the Mozarteum, Salzburg, he later went to Munich wher he studied with Dr. Joseph Rhineberger and numbered among his fellow-students composer Richard Strauss.

Joined CBC

He joined the CBC as an arranger in 1933 and continued working until his death. His habits were as fixed as the tick of a metronome.

He habitually rose at 6 a.m., rain or shine to arrive at the broadcasting studios at 8. At 11.15 exactly he went to the cafeteria for lunch, invariably two cheese sandwiches and a raisin square. Promptly at seven minutes to five he donned his coat and joined the five-o'clock-rush.

Evenings he spent reading detective stories and once a week went to the same movie theatre where his seat always was reserved for him.

He was predeceased by his wife two years ago. He is survived by two daughters Mary and Florence.

Plan Golden Piers In New Rail Bridge

QUESNEL, B.C., (CP).—A new bridge to be built by the Government-owned Pacific Great Eastern Railway may prove to be a "golden" investment.

Piers for the bridge on the Cotton-wood River will be "gold-filled." Gravel which will go into their construction is being dug from pits along the river bank and it shows traces of gold. Oldtimers who can remember the gold rush days of the north panned some of it. One shovelful yielded about a half-cent in colors. When that one shovelful is multiplied by several million, the bridge piers may really be worth something.

Enter Back of Building

Black and Shirley gained entry to the building through a rear window. The others were posted as lookouts.

The men in the post office dashed from the scene when a police cruiser approached on a routine check of the neighborhood about 2 a.m.

Constable Cole jumped from the cruiser as Black crashed through the ground-floor window and shot him before he hit the ground.

Sage Advice

LONDON—(CP)—Mrs. Francis Wainwright says the best way to live to a ripe old age is "work hard, get married and have lots of children." Mrs. Wainwright, who has just celebrated her 105th birthday, has a family of 14, including an 80-year-old daughter.

Heavy Theft

BELFAST, Ireland — (CP — Thieves who broke into the family vault of the late Viscount Dungannon carted off a 500-pound lead coffin. Police believe the thieves plan to sell the lead, now worth £160 a ton.

BOY TAKEN TO TORONTO

Bill Murphy, 2½-year-old son of Sergeant and Mrs. Leo Murphy, 1027 High St., was taken to Riverdale Isolation Hospital, Toronto, Friday. The boy has been under treatment at Civic Hospital from poliomyelitis since Sunday. Department of Health officials also reported one more suspect case under observation at hospital.

More People Living In City And District Yet Ex Attendance Has Dropped Steadily

Something is wrong at the exhibition.

Although the city has grown, and more people are living in easy reach of Peterborough, attendance at the annual exhibition has dropped steadily for the past two years.

Exhibitors are asking each other: "What is it? Are you getting as many people interested as you did other years?"

A lot of them say they're not.

Judging by crowds alone, the midway isn't doing the business it did other years. Again the question, why? is introduced.

Grandstand crowds are about the same, indicating comparatively more people have come to see the grandstand show than last year.

The answer to the question, say quite a few exhibitors and booth operators, lies in the cost of living.

One booth keeper said: "I think it must be the money angle that's keeping them away. For instance, take one ring-throw booth at the midway. It sold its rings for a nickel. Other games were 10 and 15 cents.

"I'd say that people are really beginning to notice the difference between spending a nickel and spending a dime. That one ring-throw booth had more customers than two or three of the other games put together."

Crime Increases In Both Wales, England

LONDON (CP).—More crimes of violence were committed in England and Wales last year than at any time since 1939, it is shown in a newly-issued government Blue Book.

The report lists a total of 6,249 such cases in a survey of crime statistics for 1950. Of these, 125 involved children between the ages of eight and 14, while another 536 were in the 14-21 age group.

Juveniles up to 14 years were also the greatest offenders for breaking and entering, with more than 7,000 arrests. Next to the age group over 30 they were also listed as the most frequent lawbreakers involving larceny.

More than half the offenders who committed 461,435 indictable offences during the year escaped punishment, but 116,021 were convicted.

122 Murders

The authorities investigated in all 122 murders. Thirty-eight of the suspects committed suicide before they could be arrested, while 24 were convicted. Of this number 14 were executed, eight death sentences were commuted and two wre certified insane.

Suicides in 1950 totalled 4,324 with nearly twice as many men as women involved. The report disclosed that more men of 60 years and over committed suicide than any other age group.

It also disclosed that offenders given corporal punishment for acts of violence wound up with worse records than those receiving other forms of pumishment. Of 224 cases who were flogged, 52 per cent after being released from prison committed other crimes. Against this, 55 per cent of those not flogged remained on the right side of the law.

But of the 66 who escaped flogging and subsequently were convicted of other acts of violence, four were hanged for murder and two convicted of attempted murder.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, Aug. 25 (CP) — Coarse grain prices showed a steady undertone in a moderately active session on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange Friday. Some buying appeared to result from unfavorable harvest weather in the grain belt. Some concern was expressed that continued wet weather would damage grades.

Collects Art Reward For Fellow Pupils

TORONTO — (CP)—Twelve-year-old John Chudzik of Brandon, Man., is coming to town to collect $100.

John will be a guest of the Canadian National Exhibition and the $100 goes to his fellow students at David Livingstone School, Brandon, for their prize winning mural, "This Is Where I Live."

The mural topped entries from schools across the Dominion. It shows the development of the oil industry in Canada and was produced by 30 grade six pupils.

John, who has never previously been to Toronto or the CNE, was chosen by his principal to accept the prize money on behalf of his fellow artists.

File Claims

BOSTON, Aug. 25 (AP).—The survivors of seven fishermen lost with the New Bedford dragger Theresa A. in an Atlantic hurricane Sept. 12, 1950, filed claims totalling $659,900 in federal court Friday. The claims are against the estate of Capt. Frank Airhart, owner and skipper, who went down with the vessel.

16 Beef Cattle Die Of Poison

SAULT STE. MARIE, Aug. 25 (CP)—The recent plague of tent caterpillars in this district have been blamed indirectly for the death of 16 young beef cattle worth $5,000 on the farm of Wray Stewart, it was learned Friday.

Dr. William Brisbane, district veterinarian and Dr. J. H. Henderson of Ontario Veterinary College said cattle had eaten second-growth cherry tree leaves which contained prussic acid. The acid, normally present in mild quantities, became lethal in second growth after the caterpillars had killed off first growth earlier this year.

Down Went Wool

A year ago raw wool was pushed to fantastically high prices because military and civilian buyers competed against each other for it. The armies of the West, particularly the United States military, were clothing expanded forces and stock-piling against expected further defence needs. Commercial users of wool were stock-piling against anticipated shortages and higher prices. The bubble burst a month ago and now British Commonwealth wool producers are suffering woefully. Wool has tumbled to a third of its price a few weeks ago. Clothing manufacturers and retailers, loaded to the ceilings with supplies, are now trying to reduce their stocks, and the wool producers themselves are looking for ways to circumvent other such unabalancing price whirlwinds.

* * *

Their trouble is that they did not begin early enough to keep prices in equilibrium. They were quite contented to ask and take exorbitantly high prices six months ago and let wool price itself right out of the market. So the market disappeared. Wool producers cannot expect to have only the boom and none of the bust. Traders themselves were at fault. The law of supply and demand may operate satisfactorily under normal conditions, but if they whip it with their fears and greed, that economic law becomes so erratic that it causes hardship and disruption. As the Montreal Star remarks, "the quick profit, the smart deal, the gouge of the other fellow, sooner or later presents an account for payment at the other end."

Condominions, Etc.

The British Empire has become the British Commonwealth of Nations, and now the Commonwealth of Nations. Before other changes are made—which seem both to enlarge its nature and to weaken its fibre—we wish to set down here a few geographical, political and population facts about this group of nations on which the sun never sets. Some of them are not well-known in this part of the world. For instance, one Commonwealth item in Asia is Bahrain Islands. They are a Protectorate of 1,400 square miles and a population of 120,000. The Anglo-Egyptian Sudan in eastern Africa is listed as a Condominion, a good-sized Condominion it is too, with 969,600 square miles inhabited by 6½ million people. The United Kingdom itself has only 94,279 square miles. Another Condominion is the New Hebrides. They are no more at the north of Scotland than New South Wales (area 309,433 square miles, pop. 3,100,000) is at the west of England. The New Hebrides are in "Oceana" in the South Pacific, a thousand miles or so north of New Zealand, and next door to New Caledonia, a French possession.

The Commonwealth, as now constituted, includes republics—the Republic of India but not the Republic of Ireland; Dominions like Pakistan and Canada; Condominions; self-governing colonies like South Rhodesia; colonies like Jamaic, Cyprus and Basutoland; Colonies and Protectorates like Kenya and Nigeria; Protectorates like the British Solomon Islands and Bechuanaland; Trusteeships like New Guinea and the Cameroons; and "Dependencies" like Ascension Island and Tristan da Cunha (which, by the way, is in the Atlantic Ocean). And it of course includes the home lands of England, Wales, Scotland, Northern Ireland, the Isle of Man and the Channel Islands. Thus is the Commonwealth far-flung politically as well as geographically.

This political agglomeration totals 73 entities variously called nations, dominions, republics, colonies, protectorates, trusteeships, condominions and dependencies (not counting assorted "other Pacific Islands" and the various branches into which such protectorates or colonies as the Federated Malaya States are broken). There are eleven geographical regions, from the United Kingdom to Central America and Oceana. Incidentally, all parts of the Commonwealth seem to have special designations (as Dominion, Colony) except the home islands.

The Commonwealth covers a fourth of the world's land surface—13,022,758 square miles, and according to the latest census and official estimates, includes one-fourth of the inhabitants of the world. The total population of the Commonwealth is said to be 597,600,479 by the 1951 edition of the World Almanac. The trailing figure 9 at the end of that calculation of millions must long since be out of date.

Confining The Governor-General To Barracks

Rideau Hall in Ottawa is the official residence of our Governors-General. It is the home that Canada provides these distinguished noblemen during their terms of office. We recently took a look at the place—the exterior of it. Rideau Hall is the ugliest large house we have ever seen; a disgrace to Canadian hospitality, taste and conscience.

The exterior as seen from the west front is four-square in its main block. This is built of coarse stone, looking for all the world like the front of a big cement-block cheese factory. But the factory mode gives place to Victorian armouries style, for squatting over the whole is a gross pediment enclosing in its triangle a florid, heavy sculptured device of armorial bearings and trailing leaves. This main block, from the front, is pseudo Georgian in style (although no building so graceless should be dignified by the word 'style'), bloated Victorian in conception and stolid Canadian military in execution. It shows what happens when a Greek design reaches Ottawa via the Italian Renaissance, Georgian adaptations, Victorian British banking prototypes and Canadian dollar pomposity.

Sometimes monstrosities can be impressive because they are uniform in their big ugliness; but not Rideau Hall. Attached to the central garrison block are two front wings. These are lower and in some sort of stucco or plaster; not in stone. They reinforce the garrison headquarters impression of the main block; they look like soldiers' barracks.

We have tried to describe the front view. From all other sides Rideau Hall looks like the mess of building it is: additions here, abutments there, corners and crevices in all directions, shapes and all kinds of building material. It has no rhyme, reason or design. On the other hand, it has not the charm or gaiety which some haphazard, hodgepodge mansions acquire. It might be, in another setting than the gracious parks and lawns around it, the back-alley view of a small factory whose offices and workshops had multiplied as the business expanded. The secondary buildings in the Rideau Hall estate are a conglomeration of brick, stone, frame, stucco and shack. There is one red-brick building a hundred feet from the main residence which looks like a small-town fire-hall.

We are told by a competent initiate that the interior of Rideau Hall is as bad as the exterior.

This is the building which our Governors-General must call 'home' during their five years in Canada. The present incumbent, Viscount Alexander, is used to putting up with whatever is available and to garrison life. As a subaltern at the beginning of his illustrious military career he probably lived in barracks as ugly. (Aldershot, one of the chief British military centres, is a hideous town.) But is it fair to require this distinguished soldier at the height of his career to live in ugly barracks, and in peacetime and in a decent country like Canada to endure a home as stark and unlovely in appearance as any in which he may have put up during arduous military campaigns?

Governors-General are not expected to complain about their living conditions; it is time somebody complained about Rideau Hall on their behalf. The place is an affront to vice-regal families who have to inhabit it and to all Canadians who have ever seen its exterior. It is painfully ugly and, we suspect, annoyingly unhandy. Yet that is the establishment we proudly label "Government House".

C.G.E. Expansion

The announcement that the Canadian General Electric Company will immediately build two new factory units to add to its Peterborough Works indicates both the expansion of the company and its confidence that this city continues to be a good base for industrial operations. The two new units will provide 122,000 square feet of floor space additional to the millions which this gigantic plant already has in Peterborough. A one-storey building of this size would overflow an entire city block.

Although Peterborough has had few new industries in recent years, existing ones have been given sizable extensions so that what it does not gain one way it does another. Last year, for instance Peterborough had no new industries but Brantford got three. All told, however, these three factories have floor space of only 18,000 square feet, employ 60, and represent an investment of only $275,000. This is small potatoes compared with the additions which are to be built on the C.G.E. grounds. Brantford also had last year various extensions to existing industries but these added only 45,000 square feet of factory floor space to that city's industrial capacity.

Size is not the only criterion. Brantford's advantage in getting new industries—and Peterborough's disadvantage in not getting any—is that new industries provide diversity in jobs and products, which is often a saving factor in disjointed economic times. For instance, during the Depression, Peterborough weathered the years better than most industrial cities because it had a sound diversity of manufacturing. When one shop was slack another was going full tilt. Too heavy a dependence on one industry is not always healthy, as Oshawa knows.

The Eclipse Of Lenin

By WALTER KOLARZ

(B.B.C. Staff Writer in a recent Broadcast)

THE Presidium of the Supreme Soviet of the USSR has decreed that January 22—Lenin Day—will cease to be a public holiday as from next year. The 22nd January not only commemorated Lenin's death but also the revolution of 1905. Together with May Day and October Revolution Day it was the chief public holiday of the Soviet Union for over a quarter of a century.

The decree of the Supreme Soviet points out that the abolition of Lenin Day as a public holiday was done "in response to numerous suggestions and requests of trade unions and other public organizations." These organizations, said the decree, justly pointed out that the commemoration of the death of Lenin as a holiday and rest day did not correspond to the event which this day commemorated. This rather cryptic statement probably means that a 'day of mourning should not be a day of rest. This may be true, but why did it take 27 years to find out such an elementary truth?

* * *

THERE are two sides to the abolition of Lenin Day. In the first place the peoples of the Soviet Union will have one rest day less and one working day more. As a matter of fact the Lenin Day is the third public holiday to be abolished in the Soviet Union during the last four years. After the war the day of victory over Germany—8th May—and the day of victory over Japan—2nd September—had been introduced as public holidays for a short time. The Soviet Government soon regretted its generosity. The Presidium of the Supreme Soviet by two decrees of May and December 1947 respectively abolished these holidays again. As a compensation New Year's Day was made a public holiday instead. The concession was more apparent than real. After having celebrated the New Year people never did much work anyhow on 1st January and not much was lost from the point of view of production by making New Year's Day an official holiday. As far as Lenin Day is concerned, many workers had to work either on the Sunday preceding it or on the following one to compensate for the loss of working time. From now on no such roundabout methods will be necessary everybody will have to work on Lenin Day itself.

* * *

ONE may, of course, approach the abolition of Lenin Day also from an ideological angle. The Presidium of the Supreme Soviet hardly intended to commit an act of blasphemy against Lenin's memory but the new decree is, nevertheless, of some symbolic importance. It is a generally recognized fact that in the 27 years which have passed since Lenin's death the living Stalin has more and more overshadowed the dead Lenin. In the twenties Stalin appeared in the light of official propaganda as the pupil of Lenin. In the thirties Lenin and Stalin were presented to the public as two giants of equal status. The new Soviet generation of the forties is inclined to consider Stalin as something quite apart and to lump Lenin together with the two other "classics" of Communist theory, Karl Marx and Frederic Engels.

* * *

THE Stalin cult has assumed proportions which the Lenin cult had never had. Even Lenin's 50th birthday in 1920 was celebrated in a modest and intimate way while the 50th, 60th and particularly the 70th birthday of Stalin has given rise to nation-wide noisy manifestations. It is also a noteworthy fact that the literary works of Stalin have recently been surrounded with greater publicity than those of Lenin. Stalin's complete works have been translated in languages in which those of Lenin have not been published.

* * *

EVEN Lenin Day has been very largely used for the glorification of Stalin. This has been the case particularly in recent years when the Lenin Anniversary speech of 22nd January was delivered by such uncritical admirers of the general secretary of the party as Suslov or Pospelov. These speeches have become primarily a tribute to the great continuer of Lenin's work and his policy while Lenin himself faded into the background.

The abolition of Lenin's Anniversary Day has thus become a very logical step which has long been overdue. It remains to be seen whether the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet will decree in due course the celebration of a Stalin Day on 21st December, the birthday of the Generalissimo. Losses in production could be made up by work on the following Sunday.

Opening For British Capital

(Edmonton Journal)

Efforts to enlist the aid of British capital in the development of Alberta oil have been strengthened by Mines Minister N. E. Tanner's address to the British motoring editors who visited Edmonton last week. While there are restrictions on the export of capital from Britain at the present time, and for good reasons, Albertans and Canadians generally will hope that some of it can yet be freed for the attractive prospects available in this province.

British investment will unquestionably be welcomed. As Mr. Tanner said:

I am convinced that we have only scratched the oil resources.

There is room for British capital in large amounts if it is interested in carrying on in the interests of Canada and the British Commonwealth. We have encouraged British capital. We have not discouraged US capital. If it had not been for US capital, I wonder how far we would have got with our development, and I do not say that in any feeling of criticism, I want to repeat that British capital is welcome here.

The minister's conviction that there is plenty of oil yet to be found is fully borne out by the continued discovery of new pools and by the confidence which the oil trade expresses through ever-increasing exploration activity.

It is to be hoped that special attention will be given in Britain to Mr. Tanner's point that investment here would provide a valuable return in Canadian dollars. This should be an attractive angle from the Old Country's standpoint.

The outstanding, if not unlimited, possibilities of Alberta oil have been urged upon British investors frequently of late, both by visiting Canadians of prominence and by Old Country newspapers. Mr. Tanner's message will undoubtedly be carried back home with enthusiasm by the touring editors of British motor trade journals. It should help along the good work.

Ulster Speaks

(St. Catharines Standard)

On their visit to Belfast, Ireland, officers, cadets and ratings of Royal Canadian ships received a welcome they will never forget. Belfast City fairly shot the works in hospitality, civic authorities, harbor commissioners, the Overseas League and the Festival of Britain committee joined to give the crews a grand time, every minute of their stay. The frigates La Hulloise and Swansea and the destroyer Crescent paid the courtesy visit. It remained for the Prime Minister, Sir Basil Brooke to say the appropriate word. He declared:

"We in Ulster are Empire and Commonwealth people. We have spared no effort in men, money and industry to fight the battles in which the Empire and Commonwealth have been engaged. Ulster is part of the United Kingdom because the Ulster people wish it. Just as you are welcome here today in peace, if the British Empire should unfortunately be engaged in another war you Canadian people and our other allies will be welcomed by us and we will do all we can to help. When you go back to Canada, tell them that Northern Ireland is as determined as ever to play her part in the defence of peace and right."

And wherever Ulstermen emigrate, whether it is Canada or more remote places in the world, they never forsake their own clear concepts of right and duty. They are a pretty stern race of people, of strong character and rugged faith.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, (and we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father), full of grace and truth. John bare witness of him, and cried, saying, This was he of whom I spake, He that cometh after me is preferred before me: for he was before me. And of his fulness have all we received, and grace for grace. For the law was given by Moses, but grace and truth came by Jesus Christ . . .

The next day John seeth Jesus coming unto him, and saith, Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world. . . . And John bare record, saying, I saw the Spirit descending from heaven like a dove, and it abode upon him.

And I knew him not: but he that sent me to baptize with water, the same said unto me, Upon whom thou shalt see the Spirit descending, and remaining on him, the same is he which baptizeth with the Holy Ghost. And I saw, and bare record that this is the Son of God. (John 1: 14-17, 29, 32-34.)

Give unto the Lord, O ye kindreds of the people, give unto the Lord glory and strength. Give unto the Lord glory due unto his name: bring an offering, and come into his courts . . .

Let the field be joyful, and all that is therein: then shall all the trees of the wood rejoice before the Lord: for he cometh, for he cometh to judge the earth: he shall judge the world with righteousness, and the people with his truth. (Ps. 96: 7, 8, 12, 13.)

Letter To The Editor

FARMERS' TAXLESS TRACTORS

Sir: It's just about time someone protested about the tractors running on our city streets and on our highways. They are a real menace.

There are three reasons why they should be prohibited: 1. They pay no gas tax on tractors—a tax which goes to maintain our highways. 2. They pay no vehicle tax. 3. They pay no trailer tax in cases where trailers are used.

In the city there are persons selling wood and delivering grain and other produce from around Peterborough with tractors and trailers.

As usual, the farmer is going to squawk about this comment—but let them buy trucks for highway haulage, the same as others in business.

Present-day traffic demands every precaution and here is one menace that should be taken off our streets and highways.

Sitters Too Young

(Saint John Telegraph-Journal)

Baby sitting is becoming a social menace. Too many parents are either entrusting their children to the care of other children, or are allowing their children to be baby sitters at too early an age.

Children as young as 12, 10 and even seven years of age are hiring out—or are being hired out by their parents—to cope with responsibilities their elders are shirking. Some of them are kept on the job until midnight and later, alone in other people's houses with other people's babies.

What run-of-mine child of 12, 10 or seven is competent to meet such emergencies as fire, accident, illness and burglary?

Novle old Noah; he didn't intimate the odd jobs around the house that needed doing.

With a terrific sunburn, spider bites and my pants cuffs full of huckleberry leaves, I return, somewhat reluctantly, to the hurly-burly of the Fourth Estate with the knowledge that there are only 50 more weeks until the next holiday.

To those who have asked me where I went and what I did, the answer is, "Not a great deal of anything." A spot of fishing, one rainy night at White Lake, a canoe trip up Eel's Creek and some outboard motoring. Nothing was planned ahead of time and each small venture went off perfectly. Great fun while it lasted.

A stack of mail a foot high claims my attention. Here are some of the highlights in it.

O, Say Can You See??

An irate visitor to the Kawarthas — he has Cavan Blazer blood in his veins and signs his letter CANADIAN — writes a stormy two pages about American cottage owners in the Kawarthas flying the Stars and Bars on their flag poles without displaying the Union Jack above them. He says:

♠ ♠ ♠ ♠

"I'm surprised that some patriotic young Canadian has not by this time secured a Swede saw and cut down the poles, thereby teaching them a lesson in international courtesy."

CANADIAN claims that he has seen this issue criticized in the press from time to time, but apparently this courtesy has not sunk in. He thinks the Stony Lake Cottagers' Association might take action by distributing a leaflet pointing out the action. Good idea.

It's hard to say how violent CANADIAN would get if he saw the constant stream of visiting American cruisers on the Trent that fly Old Glory at the stern instead of our country's flag.

Fly Boys Eye Crystal Lake From Afar

A letter from Cpl. Don Matticks, U.S. Army Air Force, based at Lakenheath, England, states that he and four other Fly Boys wish to acquire property in Canada as soon as the world situation eases up. Knows what he wants, too. Lot 27, Concession 10, Galway Township, 38 acres on the shore of Crystal Lake, including an island, six miles from Union Creek P.O., 11 miles from Kinmount.

Am writing Don at greater length, but am most interested in knowing where he acquired all this accurate information to date and also where he got my name; it's spelt correctly, for a change.

Conscience Is The Guide of Some

From Bucaneer Bay, B.C., a letter from contemporary Eric Cameron wants my opinion of fishing and hunting guides in the Kawarthas. I know a great number of them round about and will say, for the most part, they are honest chaps who try to give their temporary employers their moneys worth.

One lad who has been at the game for years told me on the street the other day that he had stopped guiding because it was not always possible for him to produce fish daily to meet the demands of tourists. If he is that conscientious he should quit. And perhaps we are beating the big drum about wonderful fishing in the Kawarthas too loudly and tourists are being educated to expect big limits daily.

Yes, Eric, I think the old-type cigarette-and-whisky caging guides are just about through. The present generation, though, would profit no end from the mooted course that the Lands and Forests department are developing. Hope it takes shape soon.

Trent Forestry Memo

Lush growth everywhere this year has created a fire hazard in the sturdy fern cover and foresters, noting the sumacs turning to brilliant scarlet, warn everyone who travels the Kawartha playground to be extra careful about fires and smoking. The least dry spell, even for a half day, will create a terrific fire hazard . . . Mrs. River on the bank of the Burnt River, Kinmount way, is growing beaver fodder, she finds. Some flat-tailed engineers have made off with seven prize cabbages.

Before I could answer the Hon. Harold Scott's querry at the Ex the other night about fishing in the Kawarthas, he launched into a story of some fabulous fishing he had had last weekend up Hudson Bay way. He got so tired of lifting out five-pound speckles at the mouth of the Weenusk River that he stopped fishing. He stayed overnight with the priest at the RC Mission who listened to Mr. Scott's fish story without enthusiasm; it was old stuff to him. There was something else on the trip about the Minister and a suit of mislaid red flannels. Autumn drawers on, in the North.

Early Story Of A Mighty River

Indian River of Old a "Father of Waters" Funneling Otonabees Between Its Banks

By RICHARD F. CHOATE
Instalment II

The Indian river, an integral part of the Trent Wateryaw system, and once itself "THE Trent", flowed past the backdoor of the writer's boyhood home in Warsaw.

The Squaknegossippi (Sweet Water), as the Indians named it, was a pleasant stream in those days, its waters providing all that any river can be expected to provide for youth—opportunity for work and play, spiced by adventure, in an environment of natural beauty.

Here were all the infinitely varied delights which filled the life of the observant, many-faceted Thoreau at his beloved Walden Pond—and more. For the Ontario climate with its wider range of seasonal mutation provided a plus of interest over that of the Down East woods.

But life along the Indian river could not long remain engrossed in local immediacies. The natural phenomena of the district presented constantly a challenging aspect to which no inquiring mind could remain insensible. In every swirl of water, in every weathered rock, in every tree was written the history of a great past—the history of ages in which cosmic forces of inconceivable power had given to nature a perpetually changing countenance. Even to the immature mind of youth it was clear that, in every square foot of the river area was implicit an unknown something far beyond itself. Clear it was, too, that he who would come to terms of intimacy with the Trent of there and then could do so only by broadening his understanding of the moving forces of the great unknown Trent which had brought it into being.

Studied By Dr. Ami

Happily enough, light from an unexpected quarter was thrown into the dark corners of youthful perplexity. By great good fortune the writer in earlier boyhood was privileged to sit at the feet of that great scientist, Dr. H. M. Ami, then dominion geologist.

Dr. Ami, staying at the family home while visiting the Indian river in course of a reconnaissance of the limestone formation stretching up to Peterborough from Kingston, would return each evening after his sortie of the day into the Quarry Lake area just above Warsaw. Usually laden with fossils and specimens of this or that from the realm of flora and fauna he was prepared to relax comfortably in an armchair and chat about his experiences afield.

None of the world's wonder tales from the pens of imaginative writers can compare in intensity of interest with the recital in plain unvarnished language of ecological fact, as objectively observed, by the argus-eyed geologist. Then and there were veils lifted, permitting a youthful mind a first glimpse of some phases at least of the great unknown Trent.

Staggering to the imagination, indeed, was the scientific account of the evolution of the waterway since the ancient days of glacial damming when it might have been counted with the world's mightiest rivers. What a transformation! Here in the bed of a gentle meandering stream which was a playground used by the youngsters of the day for swimming boating, fishing, skating—even cave-exploring in the manner of Tom Sawyer—had rushed a veritable St. Lawrence, of the earlier ages.

Little Peterkin Repeated

Something like the wonder and awe evoked in my youthful consciousness by Dr. Ami's description of the Indian river as it was in days of old might well recur if Little Peterkin, aged 10, in his Peterborough classroom, were asked by his teacher (as a test of imaginative power) to visualize the Peterborough townsite (Scott's Plains) as it might have been had it been the bed (which, of course, it never was) of a river a mile wide rushing impetuously between Armour Hill on the east and say the Smithtown Hill on the west, a river of sufficient depth to submerge the tallest buildings of today. How many Otonabees funneled into one would have been required to make a "Father of Waters" like the Indian river of old?

Lake Peterborough

The Otonabee river valley, as a matter of fact, never knew a large-scale inundation such as that of the Indian river. A lake named by the scientists Lake Peterborough was formed near the present townsite by drainage largely diverted from the Indian river by differential uplift. Drift hills between Peterborough and Rice Lake, blocked the drainage from the lake, in which were deposited laminated clays, delta sands and gravels. Later a narrow valley cut through the drift hills and for a short time the Otonabee valley, somewhat larger than it is today, may have carried a small part of the flow from the ancient Lake Algonquin. The Indian river valley, however, remained the main outlet, as it was long before Lake Peterborough and its later narrow Otonabee drainage channel were formed.

Whence issued this colossal tumult of the waters in the era of glacial damming? The proximate source of it all was, of course, the ancient Lake Algonquin (so-called by the scientists) the almost inconceivably vast body of water which overspread the basins of Lakes Superior, Michigan and Huron, and adjacent regions including Lake Simcoe. On the receiving end of the water flowing from this inland sea was Lake Iroquois, the scientists' name for the ancient body of water which overran the Lake Ontario basin with a shoreline at Quay's, a considerable distance north of Port Hope. Fanning out in a heart-shaped bed from the Brighton-Trenton area, this lake overspread the sites of the present Campbellford, Healey's Falls and Trent river as far as Rice Lake. Rice Lake itself owes its existence, according to the geological findings, to drowning of a large valley by uplift of the outlet. The lake, it is explained, could not have existed prior to the uplift which took place by the deformation of the Lake Iroquois beach, unless the water body occupying the Rice Lake basin was an embayment of Lake Iroquois. The delta formed at the mouth of the Indian river at Keene is correlated with the Indian (called by

CGE and Other Industries Come to Town: Cozy Days When Tax Rate Was 15 Mills

By HOWARD PAMMETT, MA

In rural and village schools in the 90's enrolment decreased generally, although average attendance remained about 50 per cent (but only 35 per cent in Haliburton). Peterborough teachers increased from 104 to 115, Haliburton teachers from 55 to 56, while in Victoria and South-east Muskoka (grouped together) the teachers decreased from 196 to 168. Salaries in 1890 and 1900 averaged: Peterborough: male—$364 and $320; female—$270 and $231; Victoria: male—$373 and $342; female—$246 and $231; Haliburton: male—$296 and $342; female—$204 and $204. The village high schools also lost pupils, while costs were soaring. One reason was introduction of continuation schools and classes in village and rural schools: by 1900 these were operating at Lakefield, No. 4 Otonabee and No. 3 Drummer in Peterborough; at Bobcaygeon, Fenelon Falls, Woodville, No. 8 Mariposa, No. 1 and No. 8 Eldon, No. 1 and No.4 and No. 6 Fenelon in Victoria; with none in Haliburton. The effects of wider educational opportunity are shown in the fact that district literacy rose from 75 to 90 per cent in the decade.

Of value also were the libraries, which increased from 6 to 18 in these ten years; of these, only three (Lindsay, Lakefield and Millbrook) were free libraries, but fees were small in the others. They averaged about 110 members except Lakefield (1188), Lindsay (746), Millbrook (284), and Peterborough (241); the smaller ones were—Hastings, Norwood, Haliburton, Minden, Bobcaygeon, Cambray, Coboconk, Fenelon Falls, Kinmount, Little Britain, Manilla, Oakwood, Omemee and Woodville. They brought good books into rural homes, often for the first time.

Space prohibits description of many interesting Kawartha events and personalities, but two noted women require mention. When Mrs. A. G. Foley died in 1892, she left a bequest from which the annual interest of $1,500 is still used to aid widows and orphans in Peterborough County. Mrs. Catharine Traill in 1893 had, in addition to her Lakefield home, a cottage on Minnewawa Island in Stony Lake, and was granted by the Dominion Government (at the suggestion of Sir Sandford Fleming) Polly Cow Island just south of Young's Point; in 1894 her last book, "Pearls and Pebbles", consisting of nature and autobiographical essays, was published, and two years later she became Honorary President of the newly-formed Peterborough Historical Society. After a long fruitful life, she died in 1899 at the age of 98 years, fourteen years after her famous sister, Susanna Moodie.

Between 1850 and 1900 the backwoods Colborne District grew into the prosperous populous Kawartha District. From 26,893 to 74,577 people, from 4,230 to 15,688 families, from 3,027 (mostly log) to 15,440 (mostly brick and frame) houses, from 46 to 232 churches, from 94 to 270 schools, from a few villages up to two towns and 85 villages, from 57 industrial establishments with about 120 workers to 229 with 6,258 workers, from 2,967 farmers occupying 339,897 acres to 7,836 occupying 1,133,663 acres, from farms (and produce) valued at $14,3000,000 up to $41,440,252,- the record is one of consistent advancement. Wire fences were replacing the rail fences which superseded the stone and stump fences; horse-drawn buggies and wagons and modern bicycles on gravelled streets and roads had replaced ox-carts on corduroy and mud roads (and were soon to be replaced by gasoline vehicles); electric lights were replacing the candles and coal-oil lamps, and electricity would soon revolutionize industry and agriculture; fast trains were replacing the stage-coaches and steamers; telephones and telegrahps and daily papers hot from the presses brought news and knowledge to people, and speeded up business. Improved machinery of all kinds, from sewing machines to grain mowers, from machine lathes to gang-saws, made work less laborious and more rewarding. The people of the Kawarthas in 1900 were ready with the broad experience of 80 years' pioneering to go ahead in the twentieth century toward new heights of progress and prosperity.

Industry-Conscious

Peterborough in the 1890s was very industry-conscious, and this was reflected in every civic election; mayors elected were: 1886-91, James Stevenson; 1892-95 and 1900, James Kendry; 1896-97, William Yelland; 1898-99, A. L. Davis. After James Macdonald and John Cobb served three years each as town clerk, S. R. Armstrong in 1893 began 47 years in that post. While the population rose from 9,717 (in 1,937 families) to 11,239 (in 2,353 families), town assessment went up from $4,137,905 to $4,617,550; the tax-rate in 1890 was 15 mills Public School and 16 mills Separate School, and by 1900 was 17 mills for all, indicating sound administration. In 1892 all civic employees were given the 9-hour day, with standard laborer's wage $1.25 a day. In 1894 the curfew-bell began ringing at 9 p.m. to clear children from the streets. In 1895 the old brick sewers along George were replaced after 44 years' service. When the Nicholls Trust bought part of Block P in Ashburnham as a public park in 1894-96, it was annexed to Peterborough and exempted from taxation; Nicholls Oval was laid out with picnic grounds, tennis courts and a bicycle track. In 1897 Council set up a Charity Board to handle relief cases. Next year the first granolithic pavements were laid along George Street, but on other streets the dirt roads and wooden sidewalks remained.

The demand for a full-time fire brigade increased after the loss of Denne's flour mill in 1891 (latest of four mills on Scott's first mill-site, all burned), and Mann's woollen mill on Dickson raceway in 1892; several incendiary fires were set in the latter year, and after the Royal Hotel burned four firemen were arrested on arson charges, but subsequently acquitted. Some serious fires followed: 1893, Turnbull's drygoods store; 1896, Hiliard mill properties opposite Auburn (loss $160,000); Donnel's planing mill and Green's pump factory on Dickson raceway, plus shingles and lumber, visible 30 miles away in Millbrook (loss $25,000); three months later, in 1897, the Consolidated Milling flour mills on Dickson raceway (loss $70,000); 1898, McDonald's sawmill, replaced by the Red Mill moved down from Nassau; 1900, China Hall and Matthews Company in Bradburn Block, corner George and Simcoe Streets (loss $30,000). There were dozens of smaller fires each year. The Water Company in 1893 bought a site on the west bank a mile above Auburn where a timber dam and a pumphouse were erected; with a Hamilton pump bringing capacity up to 2½ million gallons of water daily; by 1900 there were about 15 miles of water mains and 100 hydrants, and a second pump had boosted capacity to 4½ millions. When people complained of excessive fire destruction, Council blamed it on low water-pressure and inflated rates ($50-$60 a year per hydrant). As a result, Council by an Ontario Act of April 1, 1899, was authorized to purchase the waterworks and also to develop its own municipal power, but these steps were still delayed, to the general dissatisfaction.

Under authority of the 1890 Act allowing bonuses to industries, the Brooks Manufacturing Company was lured to Peterborough in 1890 by a $6,000 bonus, but within a few years had closed down and defaulted its mortgage to the town. Peterborough was more fortunate with the Edison General Electric Co., which came to town the same year at the suggestion of John Langton, Jr., and with the influence of Cox and Stevenson; the town gave the Company free sidings, site, sewer and water, and tax exemptions for 20 years, and the Company promised to employ 200 "hands," making incandescent lamps and fixtures, beginning operations in 1891. Reorganized as the Canadian General Electric Co., in 1892, with head offices in Peterborough, the plant was enlarged several times in the decade; in 1900 the CGE was given additional exemption for 10 years because they were building another plant and an electric power line from Nassau. Several local promoters competed to get the street railway charter, but the atataaaa aaiooi oioioioi oiiiiiiiiii Council gave the franchise to the CGE, which agreed to lay two miles of track and to sell stock to citizens. The Peterborough and Ashburnham Street Railway (under President T. Bradburn) began to run cars in August, 1893, from barns on King near George Street with tracks on George from Lansdowne to Smith, across and north on Water Street to Auburn dam; another line went west on Charlotte to Reid and south to Park at Townsend Street, near the CGE plant. Later a branch was extended down Lock Street to the river, but Ashburnham did not get a line as Hunter Street bridge was considered too light to bear the weight. In 1898, although tickets were reduced to eight for 25c, the Company was losing money and stopped running cars, offering to sell out to the town (which refused).

Telephone Competition

In 1890 local financiers organized the Ontario Telephone Co. to compete with the Bell Co., and an awkward dual telephone service resulted; by 1892 there were 666 telephones in town, 356 BTC and 310 OTC, and in that year the Bell, by cutting rates, forced the OTC to sell out to the Bell. A new larger exchange was opened at 332 George Street, and by 1900 there were about 800 telephones. There were also two telegraph systems: CPR Telegraphs at 322 George, and Great Northwestern Telegraphs at 433 George Street. J. Petes Trounce Fergus, 14-5 To Take 2-1 Lead In Senior Lacrosse Playdown

Flashing their true form in the last half here last night, the Petes pounded out a 14-5 victory over Fergus Thistles before a big crowd to take a 2-1 lead in their best-of-five senior lacrosse playoff series. The same squads tangle tonight again in Fergus, with the fifth game if necessary here on Monday.

SOLID GAME—Ike Hildebrand came up with another solid effort here last night as the Petes beat Fergus 14-5. Ike scoring three goals and aiding on three more, as well as checking effectively throughout.

The locals took a 2-0 lead in the first quarter and, after a 2-2 second chapter, they roared down the pitch to pile up a 6-1 edge and lead in the game 10-3 going into the 4-2 fourth frame. Play was generally free of penalties, though marked with hard-checking playoff lacrosse, considerable slashing and interference being ignored on both sides. Dootch Vitarelli had to retire in the third quarter after being cut on the face by Harry Kazarian, who drew a major penalty for the offence.

In on Seven

Top scorer for the winners was lanky Harry Wipper (all-star selection) with four goals and three assists. Ike Hildebrand also shone with three goals and two assists, and Russ Slater was prominent up front with four points. Three each went to hard-working Curly Mason and Bobby Thorpe, and two markers were notched by Don Ashbee. Single points were gained by Coach Don Crowe, Ross Powless and Jerry Fitzgerald. Good again in the home cage was chunky Moon Wootton.

The visitors' goals were tallied by huge Jim Halls, speedy Don Campbell, scrappy Harry Kazarian, Don McWhirter and Frank Chambers. An assist each went to Smith, Halls and Kazarian. The Thistles made it a real game the first half, but slowed up some as the score mounted in the late part. Ralph Speck came up with many fine saves again in this encounter, an interesting game till the dying minutes when the verdict was a foregone conclusion.

Petes Sharp

The Petes played up to form once they got rolling and, unlike their showing in Fergus last game, they were sharp on their shooting. That was the big difference, since they missed a lot of scoring chances away that game with poor shots. They flipped the ball around neatly on passes, tore in fast and blazed bullet drives at Speck or past him. A number of the goals were counted on practically slap shots, taking a pass on the run and slamming it home in one continuous motion. Slater, Hildebrand and Wipper proved most adept at this, but the whole crew was clicking well going both ways. There were no cheap goals scored on either side. Teams:

Fergus — Goal, Speck; defence, Killingbeck and Halls; centre, Harris; wings, Kazarian and Lumley; rover, Black; alternates, Smith, Campbell, Chambers, Hill, Foote, McWhirter and McKenzie.

Petes — Goal, Wootton; defence, Fitzgerald and O'Hearn; centre, Thorpe; wings, Vitarelli and Creighton; rover, Ashbee; alternates, Crowe, Wipper, Mason, Slater, Hildebrand, Powless and Magee.

Referees—A. Jeffries and P. Bain.

The summary:

First Quarter

Petes—Hildebrand (Wipper) 12:02
Petes—Ashbee (Thorpe) 12:47
No penalties.

Second Quarter

Fergus—Halls 1:18

Third Quarter

Fergus—McWhirter (Halls) 2:23
Petes—Crowe (Hildebrand) 3:39
Petes—Slater (Hildebrand, Powless) 6:55
Petes—Wipper (Slater) 7:45
Petes—Wipper (Slater) 8:34
Petes—Hildebrand (Mason) 13:02
Petes—Hildebrand (Wipper, O'Hearn) 14:07
Penalties—Lumley, Kazarian.

Fourth Quarter

Petes—Wipper 4:09
Petes—Slater 6:06
Fergus—Kazarian 6:35
Petes—Thorpe (Fitzgerald) 8:12
Petes—Mason (Wipper) 11:13
Fergus—Campbell (Kazarian) 14:50
Penalties—Chambers Wipper.

Tigers Down St. Kitts 9-3, Mounties Win

By The Canadian Press.

Hamilton Tigers, Peterborough Petes and Mimico Mountaineers all managed smashing victories Friday night in playoff games in Ontario Senior Lacrosse Association senior playoffs.

In Hamilton, the Tigers evened their best-of-five quarter-finals series with St. Catharines Athletics at one game each by a 9-3 victory. They wrapped up the win in the first quarter when, paced by Blaine McDonald and George Masters, they fired three goals against the visitors' goose-egg.

The game was never in doubt. Hamilton increased its 3-0 lead of the first quarter to 5-0 at the half and had the count reading 6-1 at the end of the third stanza.

Luckless Brampton Excelsiors never got into the picture Friday night with Mimico Mountaineers. The Mounties led 4-1 at the end of the first period, unleashed a 10-goal offensive in the second quarter and held a 19-4 advantage after three quarters.

The Mimico sextette eased up in the final stanza to let the Excels outscore them 5-1. Final score, however, was 20-9.

Victory gave the Mounties the best-of-five quarter-final series in straight games and earned them a spot in the semi-finals against either St. Catharines Athletics or Hamilton Tigers.

Smoke Spoils Hopes Of Cobourg Electrics

COBOURG, Aug. 25— Milford Smoke, a fastballing lefthander, pitched Wilson Motors back into the contention in Series C of the Cobourg and District Softball League here when he whipped CGE, 6-4. Each team has won a game in the best-of-three series.

Smoke was sailing along on a shutout performance when he ran into trouble in the eighth inning started by Scotty McSporran's two errors at first base. A walk and two hits along with the miscues gave the Electricians three runs.

Don Platt went the distance for the CGE. He was tagged for only eight blows, but one of them was a double by Smoke in the third with the bases loaded. The hit scored three runs and gave the winners a 5-0 lead.

Lowers Record

YONKERS, NY, Aug. 25 (AP).—Prince Adios lowered his season's record by 1 2-5 seconds on Friday night in winning $5,000 Tuckahoe Pace before 21,370 Yonkers Raceway fans. The three-year-old colt was timed in 2:04 3-5. Driven by Clint Hodgins, Clandeboye, Ont., reinsman, the horse paid $3.80, $3.30, and $2.50. Casanova was second and Garrison Hanover third.

Oshawa Horses Win 2 Races On Friday's Card

The William Sharpe stables of Oshawa monopolized first place in the 2:17 and the 2:28 trot and pace at the Exhibition on Friday. Dale Whitbey, driven by D. Dawson, swept the top money in the 2:17 class in the three heats while Peter M. Grattan placed first twice and was second in the three heats of the 2:28.

Harry Ingles, Brighton, had horses in both races also capturing four seconds with Chattanooga Grattan second twice and fourth once in the 2:17 and Texas Lee, first and two seconds in the 2:28.

In the final heat of the 2:28 Texas Lee moved from a dismal fourth at the half to a close second at the wire. Another foot would have seen a photo finish. Peter M. Grattan led the field throughout in the race.

Tom Royal, owned by C. Hodgson, of Haliburton, took two firsts and a second in the afternoon in the 2:22 pace. Wanda Harvester of Port Perry stepped off the first heat in 2:14, the second being reeled off in equal time, but Tom Royal won by a neck in the third in the good time of 2:13.

2 Hot Americans Meet For Title

WINDSOR, Aug. 25 — (CP) — Two red-hot Americans, Seymour Greenberg, of Chicago, and Tony Vincent, of Long Island, NY, were scheduled to clash here this afternoon for the men's singles title of the 60th annual Canadian lawn tennis championships.

Two Canadian Davis Cup team members who were their semi-final victims Friday, Brendan Macken of Montreal and Lorne Main of Vancouver, will have one last chance to get even when they meet Greenberg and Vincent for the Canadian doubles title.

The women's singles final will see Pat Lowe, of Toronto, matched against Mrs. Lucille Davidson, of Lee's Summit, Mo.

And in an all-American women's doubles final, Doris Popple, of Des Moines, Iowa, last year's singles champion, will team up with Mrs. Davidson against the top-notch team of Mary Hernado, of Ann Harbor, Mich., and Joan Johnson, Detroit.

Greenberg, 31-year-old former US Clay Courts champion, and Vincent, former University of Miami champion, turned in great singles performances to defeat their opponents easily. The weak opposition put up by Macken and Main in the two semi-finals disappointed the galleries.

Greenberg defeated Macken, defending champion, 6-2, 6-1, 6-1, while Vincent took a little longer to subdue Main, 6-1, 6-4, 6-3.

Bethany In Finals

BETHANY, Aug. 25—(ENS)—Blackstock beat Bethany 2-1 earlier this week and Bethany later took a 6-1 win in finals of the North Durham League. Griffin, Hayes and Dysart proved the main sluggers for Blackstock, with Ross McGill hitting a homer and Ray Stewart and Edmunds doubles for Bethany. Stewart, Smith and Rowan shone afield. Edmunds hurled for the home team, despite a back injury. McGill relieved him in the fourth, but was wild, and Edmunds returned to fan the last two. The date of the deciding game has not been announced yet. Teams:

Bethany—Edmunds, p, lf; Reynolds, C; Rowan, 1b; R. Stewart, 2b; Ryley, 3b; Ginn, ss; McGill, lf, p; Stewart, cf; Smith, rf; Jackson, rf.

Blackstock — McTaggart, p; Cawker, c; Dysart, 1b; Marlow, 2b; Bailey, 3b; Dysart, ss; Hayes, lf; Griffin cf; Grieves, rf; Cochrane, 2b.

Umpires—Borland and McGill.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

A couple of good sports' attractions here tonight, if the weather behaves, at two Bowls. The one at Miller Bowl is the OLA junior joust between Mimico and the local lacrossers, a tilt the latter have to win to clinch top spot in the group race. It's an 8.45 touch. Over at the Ashburnham Bowl at eight, Oshawa Duplates meet UEW in the second scrap of their best-of-three OASA intermediate "A" playdowns. UEW dropped the first one in the Motor City and must take this one tonight or they're out of provincial competition. Tuesday eve in the Bowl sees Orphans and UEW wind up the city loop finals with one or two games, Orphans lead the best-of-seven by three games to two.

* * * * * *

Moving without hesitation over to girls' softball, we note where Monday is a large night at the Bowl o'er Brooklyn way—in a manner of speaking. Marines and Ashby's clash at seven in the third of their best-of-five city intermediate finals, each having won a game. The nightcap that p.m. will see Kingston belles in against Woollens to start their two-of-three PWSU junior playdowns, and the local lasses might go far this semester. Wednesday finds Westclox at home to Toronto in the PWSU intermediate quarter-finals, and the classy Clockers hope to hurdle this obstacle and go after an Ontario title.

Senior Ballsters On Top

End of the schedule for the baseballic Petes comes up Sunday in Toronto when the Whitehill hustlers take on Croftons in a twin bill, one being a four-pointer. If they win both—and they should—they'll open Viaduct Loop semi-finals against Kingsways here on Tuesday night, a three-in-fiver. Then back to Toronto on Aug. 30 and here Sept. 1. If they don't finish the schedule in top spot (heaven forbid!) other arrangements will have to be made. This club deserves much credit for a swell showing all season. They've led the league—including Oshawa and all its USA imports—since the early days of the campaign. But don't slow up now, fellows, when the chips are down.

* * * * * *

An interesting item came out through AP the other day. 'Twas NHL prexy Clarence Campbell being questioned in N.Y. by a government board on salary stabilization in the States, dealing now with pro sports. Ty Cobb, former star Detroit ballster, is a member of the board. Campbell argued (and maybe with success) that incentive payments are very important in sports. That is, bonuses on top of salaries for outstanding efforts or feats. It interested us that Canadian athletes frequently are affected by USA government decisions. The NHL is made up almost 100 per cent by Canadian players, yet four of the six clubs are in the States. And, as a passing thought, it occurred to us that NHL players in New York, Boston, Chicago and Detroit get paid in USA dollars, which are worth some five cents more than the dollars paid to Maple Leafs and Canadiens.

Plucking The Thistles

It was 14-5 for the Petes' lacrossers o'er Fergus here last e'en and the Crowe-Creighton crew looked that much better. After a rather close first half, that is. A close-checking joust, fairly rough, but not dirty—though Dootch Vitarelli got cut up—with the refs not too strict but quite impartial. After all, it's playoff lacrosse and not a pink tea party. The Petes were sharp on their shooting and they passed well, besides checking effectively for the most part and getting good goaltending once again. The Thistles no doubt will be tougher tonight on their own floor, but we think the Petes should wrap it up ere Sunday. If not, the next one is here Monday p.m.

* * * * * *

In other lacrosse playoffs last night, Hamilton Tigers took St. Kitts 9-3 to even up their series at a win each, the first game ending in a tie. And Mimico Mounties lashed Brampton 20-9 to take that set in three straight. The Petes, if they oust Fergus, have a choice of taking a bye to the eastern finals or going into the semi-finals. We don't think they'd be wise to move into semi-finals. The advantages would be more gates and more practise for the big playoffs ahead. But the disadvantages are a possibility of being knocked out in the next round and the chance of injury to players with the big series coming up. A week's rest, with regular workouts, might put them into further playoffs at their peak.

1,115 Managers Lead Browns To 5-3 Victory

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 25 —(AP)— With 1,115 grandstand managers calling the signals for them, St. Louis Browns outmanoeuvred Philadelphia Athletics 5-3 Friday night in the latest of Bill Veeck's stunts.

The grandstand managers—more than half of them women—proved to be quite a brain trust. The Browns line-up was determined by their ballots and included catcher Sherm Lollar and first baseman Hank Arft, who had been riding the bench recently.

Each drove in two runs, Lollar sparked the St. Louis attack with a homer, double and single, and scored three of the runs himself.

Seated behind the Browns dugout, the managers voted on tactics to be used with "yes" and "no" signs. Large signs suggesting possible moves were held up in front of them.

In most cases, their decisions proved to be the right ones. Veeck, owner of the Browns who has come to be known as baseball's master showman, called it "our great experiment."

No Forfeit

Jimmy Dykes, manager of the Athletics, threatened just before the contest started to ask for a forfeit if the grandstand managing delayed the game too much. Actually, the game required only two hours and 11 minutes.

After the game, however, Dykes expressed the belief that the grandstand managing did not affect the outcome.

"It was a good game," Dykes said.

Veeck had to abandon plans for using two fans as base-line coaches. American League headquarters refused to approve the contracts offered the two St. Louis men selected for the jobs.

The contest drew a total of 7,185 spectators, including the managers. Paid attendance was 3,925.

As for manager Zack Taylor of the Browns, he spent the game in a box adjacent to the club's dugout, resting in a rocking chair and sipping a cool drink.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

At the conclusion of the Provincial Lawn Bowling Association's championship games this evening, the competitors, and officials of the association are being entertained at dinner in the club's parlors on McDonnel St., through the courtesy of the Examiner.

Last night winning rinks were skipped by A. McDougall, Joe Adams and A. Mauder.

Below we have the rink games that are scheduled for Monday night:

H. Freeman vs. C. Jay; J. Fitzpatrick vs. E. Ross; K. Sloane vs. D. Callan; R. Dyer vs. H. Clegg; R. Gamble vs. J. Adams; R. F. Downey vs. P. Bartley; A. Black vs. F. Martin; B. Jeffries vs. P. Johnston; W. Saunders vs. W. Perks.

Marylebone Likely To Win Test Match

VANCOUVER, Aug. 25 (CP)—With a lead of 128 runs and four wickets still to fall in their first innings, the touring Marylebone cricket team seems assured of winning the test match against an all-Canada eleven.

The two-day match, the first test ever played in Canada, will conclude today at Brockton Point.

After putting Canada in to bat when skipper R. W. V. Robins won the toss, and dismissing them for a paltry total of 94 runs, the tourists Friday compiled 222 runs for the loss of six wickets before stumps were drawn for the day.

Skipper Robins was the chief contributor, taking seven wickets for only 22 runs, then scoring a brilliant 64 runs himself in 36 minutes through lovely strokes all round the wicket. M. M. Walford also batted magnificently in compiling 86 and was unlucky not to reach his century.

Woodling's Homer Spoils Indian Victory, Yanks Beat Cleveland 2-0

By RALPH RODEN, Associated Press Sports Writer

Gene Woodling, 29-year-old outfielder with New York Yankees, is waging a one-man drive to prevent the Cleveland Indians from winning the 1951 American League pennant. Woodling, one-time member of the Tribe, has belted the Yankees right back into the thick of the fight just when the Indians thought they had the defending champs on the run. The veteran outfielder put the Yankees back in business Friday night as he poled a two-run, two-out homer in the seventh inning off Early Wynn to lead the Yanks to a 2-0 triumph. The conquest moved the Yanks to within two games of the Indians.

Woodling's dramatic homer was his fifth decisive four-bagger against the Indians and his 13th of the season. He also collected a single and two walks to give him a total of 15 hits in his last 20 times at bat a .750 average.

The payoff homer struck before 71,768 fans, largest night game crowd of the season, overshadowed some brilliant pitching by Stubby Overmire and Joe Ostrowski, obscure lefthanders of the Yanks.

Overmire, entrusted with only three previous starting jobs, lasted until the fifth when he complained of a pain in his pitching arm. Ostrowski took over with runners on first and third with one out and got out of the jam.

Ostrowski received credit for the victory, his sixth against three losses.

Chicago Edges Boston

In other American League games, Chicago White Sox edged Boston Red Sox 3-2, St. Louis Browns defeated Philadelphia Athletics 5-3, and Washington Senators clubbed Detroit Tigers 10-7.

Ed Robinson singled home Ray Coleman with Chicago's winning run against the Red Sox. Lou Kretlow limited Boston to five hits.

Ned Garver hung up his 15th victory for the tail-end Browns with the aid of batterymate Sherm Lollar, who pounded out a homer, double and single, drove in two runs and scored three. About 1,000 grandstand managers directed the Browns in another of owner Bill Veeck's promotions. Gus Zernial accounted for all of Philadelphia's runs with his 28th homer.

Mike McCormick clouted a grand-slam homer and Sam Mele and Joe Haynes homered with the bases empty to lead Washington to victory over Detroit.

Nip Cubs

In the National League Brooklyn Dodgers nipped Chicago Cubs 1-0, New York Giants beat St. Louis Cardinals, Pittsburgh Pirates defeated Philadelphia 5-1, and Boston Braves took a twi-night double header from Cincinnati, 5-1 and 2-1.

Ralph Branca blanked the Cubs on three hits and fanned 10 as Brooklyn retained its 7½-game lead over the Giants.

The Giants beat the Cards with two runs in the ninth, scoring on three singles and Dave Williams' ground ball. Al Dark and Whitey Lockman homered for the Giants and Billy Johnson and Del Rice for the Cards.

Murry Dickson posted his 17th victory for the Pirates in beating the Phils. Dickson allowed only two hits including a pinch-homer by Del Ennis in the ninth. Gus Bell smashed a grand-slam homer for the Pirates.

Warren Spahn turned in his 16th victory for Boston in the opener against Cincinnati. Sibby Sisti tripled home pitcher Chet Nichols with the payoff run in the ninth of the nightcap.

Foresters Win

Foresters defeated Grant & Loucks 9-7 last night to tie up the best-of-three Civic Softball League playoffs at a game each. The winners got two runs in the first, three each in the fourth and sixth, and one in the fifth. The losers tallied one each in the first and third, two in the fifth and three more in the sixth. Conroy and Goodfellow banged out homers. Teams:

Foresters: Parnell, Walling, Doughty, Collins, Mortimer, Davison, Henry, Mathison, Ferguson, Tyndall.

Grant & Loucks: Little, Treen, Goodfellow, Carpenter, Smith, Conroy, Harrison, Leahy, Robertson.

Marlene Wins Two Rounds At Kingston

KINGSTON, Aug. 25 —(CP)— Marlene Stewart, Canada's trim little golfing sensation of the year did the expected Friday.

She breezed through the first two rounds of match play in the eastern provinces open ladies golf tournament at Kingston's Cataraqui Golf Club, taking the first 7 and 5, the second 5 and 4.

After seven holes in the morning round, the freckle-faced miss was only one up on Dot Rigney of Kingston. Then she settled down to some real golf and took the next six consecutive holes.

In the afternoon Marlene was four up on Mrs. W. D. Stewart of Kingston at the end of nine holes. She whizzed through the next four, halving the 11th for the match.

Four low handicap players who finished Friday's elimination will pair off today in semi-final matches.

Mrs. N. J. Carlson of Toronto defeated Mrs. W. J. Leonard of Kingston Cataraqui 7 and 6 in the morning and played one under par golf for 11 holes in the afternoon to win 7 and 6 over Doug Wright, also of Cataraqui.

Farm League Teams Charged $45 A Day

LINDSAY, Aug. 25—The rental fee to the two American League farm teams which will occupy the Lindsay Arena for a month this fall has been set according to Ald. Vincent Cote, arena committee chairman at $45 per day.

In addition to the rental fee, Ald. Cote says the arena committee has been guaranteed a $70 gate for the first two of any exhibition games played and 50 per cent of the gate for all remaining games.

Ald. Cote estimated that between 100 and 125 players will be on the two farm teams.

Bethany Personalities

Days Of Horse and Buggy Dr.

By VIOLET M. CARR

Dr. Charles Herbert Brereton was the first physician to settle in Bethany in 1868. He was well known and beloved throughout the township and indeed through all Durham county. He was fine example of the family doctor of horse and buggy days. A friend was he to all and sundry. Many tales are told of his coming to this new district and finding his way on horseback to isolated homes. He was born on January 8, 1845 in the township of West Guilliambury, Simcoe County, the eldest son of Cloudesly and Charlotte Brereton. His father, who was a scion of the old English family of Brereton Hall, Cheshire, England and a descendent of the British Admiral, Sir Cloudesley Shovell, emigrated to British Guiana and later came to Canada where he marrried and settled in Simcoe County. Dr. Brereton began the study of medicine at the age of 19, graduating in 1868 from the Victoria University School of Medicine, Toronto. He continued to practice medicine in Bethany for 40 years when ill health forced him to retire. In 1881, the doctor successfully contested the Conservative seat in East Durham riding, made vacant by the death of John Rosevear, MPP. In 1883 he was re-elected, but owing to indifferent health and the pressure of professional duties, he was unable to continue longer in political life and retired before his term was completed. He was a member of the Church of England and for years was president of the local branch of the British and Foreign Bible Society. He took an active interest in the educational and cultural life of the community and was a Free Mason, in which order he rose to considerable eminence. For a number of years he was a first lieutenant in the Durham Field Battery.

In 1876 Dr. Brereton married Eliza Lydia Proctor, who came from Bond Head, Ont. Of this marriage there were eight children: two died in infancy, the eldest Halford (Hally) died at the age of 14 years. The remaining three sons and two daughters are living: Wilfred Proctor: graduated in engineering from Toronto University, was city engineer of Winnipeg for 30 years, is now retired and living in British Columbia. Thomas Cloudesly: graduated in medicine from Trinity Medical College, Toronto and began the practice of medicine in Carnduff, Sask. Later he took a post graduate course in pediatrics and has been practicing for over 30 years in Winnipeg. Winnifred Margaret: graduated from Toronto General Hospital Training School for Nurses and was matron of the Daughin General Hospital. Later she was head nurse of the Toronto General Hospital maternity buildin, The Burnside. She married the Rev. Harry Hoodspith, an Anglican clergyman. Since the death of her husband, Mrs. Hoodspith resides in Vancouver, BC. Lilian Myra: attended Havergal Ladies College, Toronto and also graduated from Albert College, Belleville, specializing in music and elocution. She married Dr. Andrew A. Lockhart of Carnduff, Sask. Since her husband's death, Mrs. Lockhart also resides in British Columbia. Lloyd Randolph: matriculated from Albert College, Belleville and graduated from Toronto University in engineering. He enlisted with the Canadian Engineers on the outbreak of World War 1, served overseas with them, later transferring to the Royal Air Force. He served as a pilot until wounded while flying over Europe. He is now employed as chief chemist, metallurgist and foundry superintendent by the Riverside Iron Works in Calgary.

The Brereton's were a happy family. Mrs. Brereton shared her husband's interests. Their home was a welcome haven to many who travelled long distances in all sorts of weather, often under trying conditions, to consult the doctor. Dr. C. H. Brereton died on September 6, 1908. On the death of her husband, Mrs. Brereton moved to Toronto where she died on November 24, 1910. Both were laid to rest in the family plot in St. Mary's Cemetery, Manvers.

Dr. T. George Brereton, a brother came to Bethany a few years later and from there on they were spoken of as the "Old Doctor" and "Young Doctor". He too, shared his brother's interest in the community, served on the school board and was interested in advanced education for boys and girls. It was Dr. T. G. Brereton who had the first "horseless carriage" and proud were those invited to ride in his new automobile. It was predicted that such an invention would never last, they would be of no use in hilly country etc. It was a great curiosity and when "the machine" was heard approaching, people rushed from their homes to see it. Dr. T. G. Brereton and his wife had a family of four; Fred, Charles, Lily and Frank. Charles graduated in medicine from Trinity College, Toronto and practices in that city. The great fire of 1911 destroyed the office and dwelling of Dr. Brereton and in helping try to put out the fire, caught a severe cold from which he did not recover. He died in December 1911.

Dr. John Joseph Hamilton began the practice of medicine in September 1907, in his native village. He is the son of Francis Hamilton and Mary Jane Ingram who established their first home in Bethany. Francis Hamilton was the son of John Hamilton, who with his parents had set sail from Ireland for Canada in the early eighteen hundreds. The story is handed down, how soon after they left Ireland, authorities boarded their ship to search for men eligible for service in the war wrich was then being waged against Napolean, and although John was only about sixteen he was forced off the boat and "pressed into service" as the saying was at that time. He was put in the navy and fought in the battle of Trafalgar. Soon after the battle of Waterloo the navy was searching the seas for prize ships as England was preventing other countries from trading with Europe and the sailors were promised a share in any prize their ship would seize. John's ship seized a valuable cargo of indigo, but he was discharg at Quebec and when the division was made he would not return to claim his share of the booty. He was also given a grant of 200 acres of land anywhere between Toronto and Kingston, but as he would have had to walk to Toronto to make his claim he did not do so, and instead settled on a farm in Cavan township. Here he married and had a family of five, of which all but Francis died at an early age. His wife was Mary Jane Ingram the daughter of William and Elizabeth Ingram. They also sailed from Ireland to Canada and were three months at sea in a sailing vessel. Mary Jane was born three days after their arrival in Quebec and was baptized on the Plains of Abraham. Later they moved to Manvers and took up farming. Francis Hamilton bought a hotel in Bethany, there he and his wife carried on the business for 19 years, when he sold to Duncan McKinnon and lived retired in the village for 20 years. He was well known as a kindly and generous man, always ready to help anyone in need. He died in 1913 at the age of 75. His wife lived 18 years longer and died in 1831 at the age of 81. Mr. and Mrs. Francis Hamilton had a family of five. At the time John was three years old they lost two children, one older than John who died on a Friday, and one younger, who died the following Sunday from diphtheria. There was no toxoid then! Later a daughter Margaret Anne and son Hector were born.

John Joseph graduated in medicine at Toronto University in 1905 and went to Chicago for a year in contract practice in lumber mills. He came to Bethany in September 1907 and has practised medicine here for 40 years. In 1946 he sold his practice to Dr. G. M. Longfield and was supposed to retire. However he is often called upon to help out and so once again Bethany has one "Older Doctor" and "Younger Doctor". He recalls many occasions of real hardships . . . . days and nights of driving over poor roads, nights without sleep when he was so busy he did not know where to go next. The territory was large, many of his patients being at the far end of the township and his practice was begun in the days when there were no telephones. Much could be written of Dr. J. J. Hamilton and his interest in his birthplace. He has lent a helping hand with every community project; installed the first telephone system in his own home; has figured prominently in offices in St. Paul's Anglican Church; manager of the famous Bethany baseball team for many years and held in turn every office in the Athletic Association. He played in the Bethany band; a member of the Loyal Orange Lodge; was instrumental in having the highway constructed through Bethany. His value as a doctor was great, but his value as a citizen even greater. He often boasts of having doctored five generations of one family, four of which are still living. He and his wife, the former Susan Hutchinson had two children: Ruth, who gradulated as a nurse from Toronto General Hospital School of Nursing in 1934, later training as a missionary and going to Aklavik in the Arctic. She married George Paterson and lived in Waterways. Her untimely death at the age of 27 in April of 1937 was a great shock to her parents and to all who knew and loved her. Frank (Charles Francis) holds a position in Montreal with the Bank of Toronto and spent four years in the army during the Second World War.

Of recent date is Dr. G. M. Longfield, who came to Bethany purchasing the practice of Dr. J. J. Hamilton in 1946. Dr. Longfield was born in Mt. Brudges and is a graduate of University of Western Ontario.

Dr. Albert E. Sutton came to Bethany in 1912 establishing his first practice here. His sister Meda taught in the public school. The following year the doctor married Miss S. Gibbons. In 1915, World War 1 interrupted his plans and he volunteered for service, going overseas that same year and serving in England and France. During the time he was overseas, his wife and his father, who resided with them, carried on the drug store business and ran an ice cream parlor. Dr. Sutton was wounded in France and sent home, receiving his discharge in 1917. In 1918 he returned to England to take a post graduate course and the family moved to Toronto. He and his wife died in a motor accident in 1941.

Happy School Days Return Once Again

By NANCY CLEAVER

"School days, school days,
Dear Old Golden Rule days,
Readin' and Writin' and 'Rithmetic
Taught with the aid of the hickory stick."

The first days of September bring to mind the old song about school days. Most adults look back at their own childhood with rosy colored spectacles. Mothers who are busy getting school wardrobes ready, are somewhat relieved that to quite an extent "the hickory stick" has gone out of style. They want their boys and girls to have, not only a successful, but also happy time at school. What parents sometimes fail to realize is that a child's happiness at school is not wholly dependent on the teacher! Fathers and mothers, too, have their part to play in helping make school a satisfying experience — a time which will be fondly remembered. What can parents do to make their wish of "happy school days" come true for their children?

Every child should be in the best possible health. A check-up by the family doctor at least once a year is a good plan. Regular visits to the dentist, and to the eye specialist if the doctor advises this, are also important. The family allowance has put payment of medical care within the reach of many families, who formerly looked on this as an "extra." In the long run, it is an excellent investment to prevent sickness, rather than wait until a child is ill before consulting a doctor.

Boys and girls should start off to school with a good breakfast in their stomachs and with an adequate and appetizing lunch, if a noon meal must be carried. They should get up early enough so that they do not need to be "rushed" or nagged in order to get them off to school. Any child, who is old enough to read the time, can take partial responsibility for watching the clock and getting off to school in good time. Hot school lunches are an excellent plan and if this plan is not in operation, parents do well to forward its adoption for the school children in their district.

Children hate to be too "different" in appearance from their school mates. It is a wise mother who dresses her children in a similar manner to their chums. Small boys, especially hate to feel too "dressed-up." They dread being teased by the older boys. Practical, simple clothes which can be washed are worn by most Canadian school children, and mothers seldom make mistakes in school clothes after the first grade beginning of school event.

Mothers and fathers can do a great deal to make "happy school days" come true for their children by their own attitude to the school, and especially to the school teacher. There are far too many critical remarks, personal, even unkind comments, about the teacher made in the hearing of the scholars. There is far too little appreciative comment on the teacher's character and accomplishments. No one is perfect — (not even our own children!) and the teachers, on the whole are a fine class of people.

Throughout our Dominion there is still a shortage of qualified teachers. This is particularly true in outlying rural elementary schools. One of the possible reasons for this is likely the attitude of many parents to teachers. Another factor is that salaries, in some areas, are inadequate to attract the right type of young person in sufficient numbers to supply the need. Do you know what salary your child's teacher receives? Is it anywhere near this standard, and if it is not, can something be done about it? Properly paid, respected, well-adjusted individuals are likely to create the kind of atmosphere which produces "happy school days" for the scolars.

Happy school days are the right not just of our children but of all boys and girls in our land. It is a goal worth keeping in mind. In your own community, in the condition in which you send your child to school, in your attitude to the teacher, in your co-operation with the Home and School Association (if there is one in your area or any similar group) are you "pulling your own weight?" The years of childhood training influence the whole life of most grown-ups.

"Happy School Days" are a vital part of any "brave, new world" in any country, but particularly in a democracy! The kind of school and of teacher should matter not only to parents but to every good citizen. This is a matter of first importance! The school bells ringing once more this Autumn after the long vacation months remind us, one and all, not only of our own early years but of the school in the life of the child, of the community and of the nation.

PETERBOROUGH EXAMINER

VOL. CIII. No. 46 — SATURDAY, AUGUST 25, 1951 — PRICE FIVE CENTS

"NEIGH, NEIGH," neighed Dobbin in the horsebarns of the Peterborough Exhibition, "bring back those blinkers, little girl." Actually, Carol Hollingsworth of Chemong Rd., was peering through a fancy draught horse's bridle when one of W. G. Shea's prize horses looked out the window of its stall.—(Examiner Staff Photos)

Fair Visitors Decline For 3rd Day

4,604 Fewer People Pay Admissions To Annual Exhibition

Attendance figures Friday for the exhibition show a drop of 1,340 from the same day of last year's fair.

Fair officials declined to reveal gate and grandstand receipts, but it was obvious that receipts were up from Friday of last year's exhibition.

Friday's attendance totalled 9,052 against 10,392 for the same day in 1950. Receipts for last year's third day were $4,847.50. Estimated receipts for Friday were $5,558.75.

Drop in attendance over the three-day period was 4,604; 30,569 for three days in 1950 and 25,965 in 1951.

Comparative figures for Friday, 1950 and 1951 are:

Perfect Weather

Weather continued clear and warm Friday, making for perfect exhibition weather.

Reason for the continued low attendance was the subject of a theory advanced by more than one visitor to the exhibition. In three words, it is "cost of living."

Said one man: "If a man and his wife and two children come to the exhibition, it costs him $1.30 to get in. There's a big bite out of $2. If they have a hot-dog and a soft drink each, there goes another dollar.

"Figure three or four dollars more if they go on the grandstand and have a fling at the midway. Five or six dollars gone, and they've still got to pay for groceries. To the average man, it's too much. People can't afford to spend that much money in one night."

MAIN ST. TOPICS

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

Capt. Garnet Brown, Peterborough Fire Department, was taken to the Civic Hospital Friday from his home, 765 George St., with coronary thrombosis. He was reported resting comfortably today.

SUPT. A VISITOR

F. A. Lashley, new Ontario superintendent of farm and agricultural societies, made his first visit to Peterborough "Ex" Friday. The man he succeeded, John A. Carroll, Assistant Deputy Minister of Agriculture, was also a caller on his way from Ottawa.

FEDERATION PUBLICITY

Vivian S. Milburn, secretary of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, was a visitor to the Peterborough Federation's booth at the Exhibition Friday. The Toronto man congratulated W. W. Dawson and Wellington Sutton who were at the booth for the enterprise indicated by this means of publicity. Mr. Dawson said a lot of farmers called from other counties.

U.S. Mother Dies In Attempt To Aid Daughter Who Had Fallen Into River

Water, Food Combine To Cause Blockage In Woman's Bronchial Tubes Causing Death Due To Strangulation

A 40-year-old American woman tourist died from suffocation on the bank of the Otonabee river, two miles north of Peterborough, Friday afternoon. Mrs. Ernest C. Johnson, Arnold, Pennsylvania, died in an attempt to aid her three-year-old daughter Lindy Lee who had fallen in the water.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson and their two daughters, Lindy Lee and Relda, 16, were vacationing at the Tonabee cottages, when the fatality occurred.

Children staying at the cottages were having a party on the dock at the river's edge, when the Johnson's daughter fell in the water. Five-year-old Judith Ann, daughter of the proprietor, and owner of the cottage resort, Walter Killoran, ran to the Johnson's cottage, which is about 250 feet from the river, to tell Mrs. Johnson.

The children who were there all told the same story: that the mother rushed frantically to the spot and jumped into the river after the child. No adults were at the scene until Judith Ann again ran for help when she realized that Mrs. Johnson was also in trouble. This time she ran to her parents who were in their home approximately 300 yards from the bank.

Rushed To River

The youngster blurted out the story to her mother, Mrs. Killoran, who called her husband and then rushed down to the river.

Mrs. Killoran arrived on the spot first and immediately jumped in and brought the child out. Killoran, who was right behind her waded in to where Mrs. Johnston was floating face down in about five feet of water and carried her to shore.

"The youngster was floating on her back with her head down in the water," Mrs. Killoran told the Examiner. "I picked her up, and turned her over to get the water out of her lungs she had taken in. Almost immediately she began to cry. It was then that I knew she was all right. I took her up to the cottage and phoned the fire hall."

But Mr. Killoran had a different story to tell. "I thought the mother was dead as soon as I reached her. She was floating with her face in the water about 20 feet down the river from the dock. I waded out and brought her in. Then applied artificial respiration until the firemen arrived about 15 minutes later. But she never seemed to take any air in."

Captain of the Peterborough fire department, Bert Mason reported the same difficulty. "We couldn't get air in with the respirator."

Operations were also held up when Dr. Donald Aiken thought the victim was on the other side of the river and drove up the River Rd, instead of highway 28. Lockmaster, Ed Parberry immediately went over in a rowboat to bring the doctor across the river.

Must Release Blockage

Dr. Aiken said that a tube had to be inserted into the throat to release blockage which kept air from going into her lungs.

Firemen and two doctors, Dr. Hugh Gaskell, Lakefield, assisting Dr. Aiken, worked over the woman almost an hour and a half without results.

Soon after Coroner Dr. Herbert Young arrived and pronounced death due to suffocation.

"It was suffocation from combined water and food in the bronchial tubes and lungs," the coroner said.

He explained that examination led him to believe that the woman had just eaten. Because of that and the excitement of seeing her caused her to vomit after run-youngster in trouble in the water ning into the water and probably swallowing some of it. The food blocked her bronchial tubes and as well as keeping her from swallowing very much water also made it impossible to get air into her body until the tubes were cleared.

The husband of the dead woman arrived on the scene 10 minutes after Killoran had brought her out of the water. He and his older daughter had been fishing about a quarter of a mile away. He watched as firemen and doctors struggled vainly to safe his wife's life.

The Johnsons arrived here August 18 and were planning to return to their home Sunday.

In addition to her husband and two daughters who were with her, Mrs. Johnson leaves two sons, Harold and Norman who live in Pennsylvania.

The body was forwarded from the Hendren funeral home by train today to Arnold, Pennsylvania where funeral services will be held Tuesday.

Present Awards To Finalists Musical Series

Peterborough and district musical talent proved one of the major attractions of the exhibition grandstand show Friday night.

The four winners of the Canada Packers scholarships, Helen Hajnik, Peterborough and William Perry, Lindsay, both vocalists, and pianists, George Ingham, Millbrook, and Ronald Buck, Peterborough received enthusiastic applause for their performances.

The winners were picked following a seven-week radio broadcast series in which there were 28 entries—14 vocal and 14 piano.

Miss Hajnik and Mr. Ingham won $50 scholarships for placing first in the vocal and piano series. Scholarships for $25 were won by second place winners Mr. Perry and Mr. Buck.

Friday night's performance was also broadcast.

During the broadcast, T. J. Allen, one of the judges for the scholarships, commented on the series. He said that with two or three exceptions the judges found the standard of performance and musicianship high throughout the series. The other judges were Christopher Gledhill and Mrs. Alicia Langley Perry.

George Batley, representing the series' sponsoring company also spoke and congratulated the winners.

Semi-finalists and runners-up in the competition were John Moore, Reaboro, and Eric Freeborn, Lindsay, who placed third and fourth in the vocal series and Faye Schwartz, and Mary McBride, both of Peterborough, who placed third and fourth in the piano series.

The runners-up each received $10.

Accompanist for the vocalists Friday night was Gwen Craw, vocal series accompanist.

Sleeping Woman Loses Her Bobby-Pins When Bolt Of Lightning Strikes

LINDSAY, Aug. 25.—A bolt of lightning which drew the bobby-pins from the hair of a sleeping farm woman miraculously did no serious injury to herself, her husband or her young son.

The incident occurred on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Emmerson Bonham at Tory Hill, Haliburton county, north of here. The lightning bolt struck the chimney of the farmhouse at night, passing through the upper bedrooms and the downstairs living room before it was finally grounded. Electric wiring was ripped from the walls by the shock.

Mrs. Bonham, from whose head the bobby-pins were drawn, said she was awakened and felt as if she was on fire. Her husband said simply: "Thank God we're alive." Wife, husband and their young son were all asleep when the bolt struck the house.

J. Alfred Finlay Of Norwood Drops Dead At Exhibition

John Alfred Finlay, prominent Norwood man, collapsed and died almost immediately while watching the show from the grandstand at the Exhibition Friday night. Mr. Finlay's death is the second one to occur at the Exhibition this year. Mr. Finlay was taken to the St. John Ambulance tent on the grounds where he was pronounced dead by Dr. Warren Gamble. Some slowness in summoning the ambulance men who were on duty caused a delay in getting Mr. Finlay to the tent.

Mr. Finlay was born in Norwood 79 years ago, son of the late John Finlay and Mary Ann Wilson. He lived in the village all his life and was actively engaged in managing the Finlay Manufacturing Company, Norwood's sole industry, until a fire destroyed the factory about six years ago.

He was married twice, to the former Ida Brethen and Mrs. Ella Duke, who together with his only son, Everett Finlay, predeceased him. He leaves one daughter, Mrs. Armar Weir (Vera) of Norwood, and a grandson John Weir and granddaughter Miss Yvonne Finlay of New York city.

Mr. Finlay was a member of the Norwood Board of Education for 40 years and a lifelong member of Norwood United church where he sang in the choir for many years.

Funeral service will be held from the family residence on Monday at 2:30 p.m. The Rev. R. D. Duncanson of Norwood Presbyterian church will officiate. Burial will be at Norwood cemetery.

Butcher Beaten By Two Thugs

THORNTON, Ont., Aug. 25 — (CP) — A 60-year-old butcher store proprietor was badly beaten and his wife was shot at Friday night by two young gunmen who tried to hold up the man on his return from making deliveries. Thornton is about 60 miles north of Toronto.

Police said Audrey Londry was attacked when he was putting his car in the garage. He was beaten about the head. His wife, attracted by the noise, opened the rear door of the house. One of the bandits fired a shot wildly at her. The bullet smashed the kitchen window and embedded itself in the wall. The men then fled.

Taken to hospital at nearby Barrie Mr. Londry's condition was described as "poor."

Parked Car Damaged Hit And Run Driver

A hit-and-run accident involving a parked car was one of three reported Friday to the city police.

Edward F. Harrison, 473 Aylmer St., told police that he parked his car and went into the house. He heard a loud crash and upon inspection of his car found that it had been hit on the rear left fender. The car or truck didn't stop.

On Morrow St. William S. Davis, 27 Park St., was backing out ofa laneway when his foot slipped from the brake and the car struck a transport. Ralph Pollock, 796 George St., had just parked the truck there.

At Friday noon cars, driven by Dr. Harold E. Hersh, Allentown, Penn., and James Weir, 85 Benson Ave., collided at George and McDonnel Sts. Considerable damage was done to both cars, which were insured.

4 Killed By Train

CHICAGO, Aug. 25 (AP). — A housewife was driving to the train with two of her children to meet her husband Friday night when the train struck her automobile. The woman, her two sons and a neighbor's little girl were killed.

Sixty Employees Affected Work Week Cut

Well-stocked shelves have forced the Western Clock Company to reduce the working week one day for 60 of its employees, John H. Vernor, general manager, announced today.

"We have too much stock and we have to pull in our horns," said Mr. Vernor.

He explained that the foreign trade has fallen off. This is a similar situation to last year when the foreign trade slumped due to the countries not having sufficient dollars to pay for the clocks and watches.

The Western Clock Company depends upon the foreign trade for one-quarter of its business because Canada has not the population to handle the full production.

Shortage No More

Another reason for the short-time week is the full stock rooms, especially those with the more expensive clocks and watches. The shortage of clocks and watches that once existed is no more, said Mr. Vernor.

The general manager explained that the company will continue to produce some of the expensive variety. He added that the firm has enough work in some models to keep production going until next year.

The one-day-a-week cut was made in the departments which produce the Big Ben, Baby Ben and travel alarm clocks. The move was made to "balance production."

Mr. Vernor said that the company's business usually picks up after the Labor Day holiday and is good then until December.

Second Cut

This is the second time since the depression that the Western Clock Company has been forced to ask workers to accept a short work-week. A year ago about 150 girls and men accepted the short week in May and worked under those conditions until after the factory holidays in July.

Besides the slump in the foreign trade at that time, the low-priced clocks and watches were not selling as fast as the more expensive variety.

Obituary

JORDON ORLANDA CROWE

Jordon Orlanda Crowe, 74, died at the residence of his brother, William Crowe, RR 2, Lakefield, today following a lengthy illness.

He was born in Dummer township, son of the late William Crowe and Margaret Jane Hunter and was a farmer for 40 years before moving to Warsaw eight years ago. He was a member of Warsaw United church.

He leaves three brothers, Thomas, Douro; John Andrew, Warsaw and William, RR 2, Lakefield and one sister, Mrs. Thomas Gannon (Bessie), Ennismore. His wife, the former Laura Moore Hamilton predeceased him.

The funeral will be held Monday at 1:30 p.m. from the Anderson funeral home, Lakefield. The Rev. George Dyson of Warsaw United church will conduct the service. Burial will be in St. Mark's cemetery, Warsaw.

Two Youths Sent To Reformatory

COBOURG, Aug. 25 (ENS).—Eugene Valois, 19 and Charles Bergin, 23, both of Toronto, were sentenced Friday on joint charges of car theft and breaking and entering. The pair stole a car on Aug. 14 at Brighton, the property of Benjamin Socol. On Aug. 21 they broke into the cottage of Mrs. Grace Payne near Campbellford and stole a pair of blankets. The approach of Provincial Constable Don Erskine frightened them away and they left an old model car in the vicinity which led to the identification of the owner, Eugene Valois.

Valois was sentenced to a year definite and six months indefinite in the reformatory on the car theft charge and one year definite and six months indefinite, to run concurrently, on the breaking and entering charge. Valois has a record. Bergin, who has no record, received 12 months definite and six indefinite on the car theft charge and 12 months definite and three indefinite to run concurrently, on the other charge.

Bruno Iolenti, 20, Toronto, was charged with theft of a car and some personal belongings from his employer, Mrs. Maude Zimmerman of Carrying Place and received a year definite and six months indefinite on each charge, to run concurrently. He has an extensive record and was warned by Magistrate R. B. Baxter that he might be classed as an habitual criminal and jailed for the rest of his days, if he didn't halt this criminal career.

Hugh Dunbar, 18-year-old Brighton township youth, one of a family of ten, was sentenced to 15 days in jail for stealing chickens.

The court was told that the youth's mother cleaned and dressed the chickens and his sister peddled them.

Film, Call Of The Kawarthas Will Be Shown In England

The film, Call of the Kawarthas, left Peterborough Friday for England as part of a project to publicize the city and draw industries.

City Clerk E. A. Outram said today that he has sent the film to Ontario House, London, England. The final decision to send this film was made in a conference held in Toronto Thursday when His Worship Mayor Swanston and Mr. Outram discussed the matter with Dick Stapleford, one of the head officials of Ontario House.

Mr. Stapleford approved the plan and agreed to take the film himself to Peterborough, England, for its first showing.

Ontario House has projectors and the film will be taken out for showing at places which will do the most good for Peterborough.

The film is a 25 minute survey of the city. It is colored and accompanied by commentary.

Quaker Plants Divide $68,347 Bonus

In Saskatoon and Peterborough on Friday employees of the Quaker Oats Company of Canada received their annual bonuses from the company's profits for 1950-51. The employees, about 970 in both the Canadian plants and the sales force, divided $68,347.56.

A spokesman for the company said today that the bonuses were mailed out to the employees on Thursday and that most of the cheques would reach their destinations either Friday or today.

About two-thirds of the $68,347.56 went to employees of the Peterborough branch which is considerably larger than the Saskatoon plant.

3.2 Per Cent Bonus

For the past several years the Quaker Oats Company has been sharing the yearly profits on a percentage basis of the fiscal year, June to June. This year 3.2 per cent of the wages or salaries for the past year were paid in the bonus and if on an hourly rate, the bonus would mean an increase in pay for last year from 3 to 4½ cents an hour.

At present the prospects for next year's bonus looks good. The company spokesman said that the Peterborough plant in many departments is working at full capacity. He pointed out that with the western wheat harvest only a month away they expect the flour mill to be at full capacity this year with a better crop than last year. In 1950 the western wheat was nipped by frost.

Miss Eva McCormack

Funeral service for the late Miss Eva McCormack, of 858 George St., who died on Wednesday in hospital following a short illness, was held on Friday at the Kaye funeral home. The Rev. Henry Cotton, of St. Andrew's United Church, officiated, and pallbearers were Joe and Rolly Detcher, Edgar Boland, Ernest Reid, Jack Campbell and Walter Thornton. Burial was at Ray's cemetery, Lakefield.

Sheet Steel Collapses

DETROIT, Aug. 25 (AP). — Thirty-five tons of stacked sheet steel collapsed on a group of factory workers Friday night, killing one man. Four others were injured. The steel, packed in five-ton lots, fell at the Budd Company plant.

Received By Tito

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Aug. 25 (Reuters).—Duncan Sandys, British member of parliament and chairman of the international committee of the European movement, was received Friday by Marshal Tito, Yugoslav Prime Minister, at Brdo, Slovenia, and afterwards dined with him.

Horsemeat Store

MONTREAL, Aug. 25 (CP) — Quebec province's first horsemeat store is scheduled to open for business today in suburban Montreal South. The shop, which obtained permission from municipal authorities, will feature filet mignon at 83 cents a pound, steaks at 63 and hamburg at 43, considerably below beef prices.

No Obligation To Architect Until Contract Is Signed

Many people hesitate to ask an architect about his services because they fear their inquiry will place them under obligation. This is an unfortunate and totally incorrect impression—no obligation of any kind is incurred until a contract is signed with him.

The title "architect" is a legal one, indicating that he has proven himself professionally competent by examination and is recognized in similar fashion to members of the legal and medical profession Draftsmen are employed by architects to design and to make drawings necessary for construction purposes.

Because an architect thoroughly understands design, construction and business procedure involved in building, his services make the building of your house an efficient operation, assuring you of the most house for your building dollars. Your choice of an architect should be governed by (a) recommendations from satisfied clients and (b) the type of design which an architect favors — his tastes should agree with yours.

Contact those architects who have designed the type of homes you particularly favor.

Cost of engaging an architect will vary depending on a number of circumstances and in which province you are building. Architect's fees may be included in the evaluation of a house for NHA loan puposes.

Here are some of the advantages of building your house with the aid of an architect—in order of procedure.

(a) He will analyze your family's needs and relate them to your building budget.

(b) He will visit your lot to determine the best location for your house and its orientation.

(c) Preliminary working drawings will then be prepared for your approval, showing general arrangement of the plan and appearance of the house.

(d) Preliminary working drawings for estimates of costs, if requested, are prepared next.

(e) Next comes the preparation of working drawings and details with exact dimensions for floor plans, exteriors, structural details, mechanical installations. From these drawings are made the blueprints.

(f) Detailed specifications are next in order—this details every item of material selected and describes the work to be done by listing all the necessary building operations under major classifications such as concrete work, carpentry, plumbing, etc. Specifications must be checked very carefully. Items forgotten or omitted purposely in listing become "extras"—you pay for them over and above your contractor's contract price.

(g) Next is the preparation of contract forms relating to the work of the general contractor and inspecial cases to that of subcontractors.

(h) Very important, your architect will advise on the selection of a reputable contractor. If competitive bidding is asked, the architect will take bids and analyze them for you. The lowest bid will not necessarily be the most economical in the long run.

Services Of Supervising Architect

Unless you give the responsibility of the entire construction job to the contractor at this point, your architect will follow through with the additional services as follows:

(i) Supervision of construction to see that all work is done in accordance with plans and specifications. He will also assist in the selection of lighting fixtures, hardware, etc.

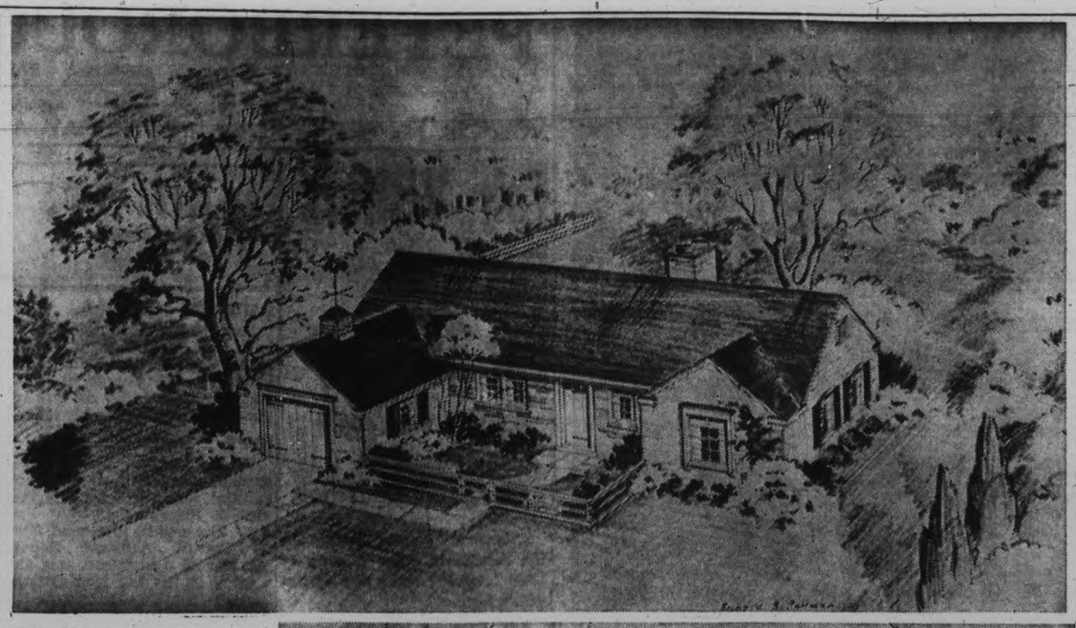
(j) Examine requests from owner, contractor and sub-contractor for changes and substitutions of materials. Written recommendations will be made to the owner for approval of proposed changes and, on approval, orders issued.

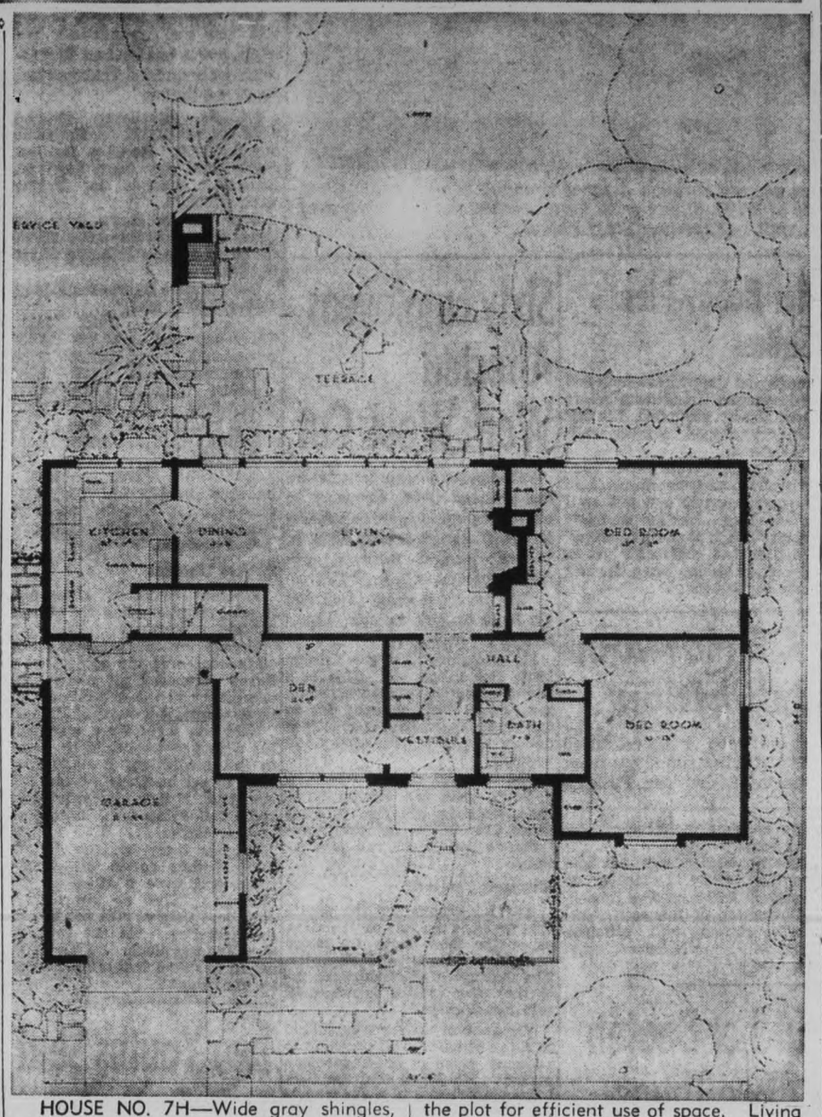
(k) Check requests from contractor for payments and keep accurate accounts.

(l) Finally, make a final inspection to be sure the job is completed satisfactorily, ascertain that all bills are paid and no liens exist and issue orders for final payment.

During construction, if owner and contractor disagree, the architect (if he supervises construction) becomes the arbitrator —owner and contractor reporting their dissatisfactions to him. In fairness to your architect, don't expect that all decisions will be made in your favor.

Always remember that the architect's business is not simply to "draw blueprints"—but to perform a service to the owner. He sells his services by designing a house and supervising construction. Blueprints and specifications furnished by him remain his property.





HOUSE NO. 7H—Wide gray shingles, blue and gray ledgerock, white trim and dark blue roof is the colour scheme of this design. The effect, very sparkling, against a background of well planned landscaping and colourful flowers. This small colonial home boasts a lot of living space within its 1,011 square feet of floor area. Particularly noteworthy is the small den which so many families find a necessary part of living. The closet off the den is a large storage closet leading to the attic where little used articles can be put away. A full basement has been planned for this home. The living-dining room has a panelled wall with a large fireplace and bookshelves. The outside wall has three large picture windows flanked with glass doors leading out to the outdoor living area. On restricted lots it is always advisable to plan the plot for efficient use of space. Living yards and service yards can easily be separated by trellises, planting, etc., so that their use is much more desirable. A low fence enclosing a flower garden at the entrance always creates a friendly welcome and can add a lot for little cost. If you like this home, we have a ¼" scale full colour, cardboard model available at $3.00. The model comes knocked down, in a large envelope, die-cut for easy assembly and can be put together in a short time. Also in the envelope is furniture drawn to the same scale as the floor plan for you to cut out to see if your present furniture will fit in your new home. Complete building blueprints and specifications are also available for this home at $6.00 per set. Write Home Building in Canada, 372 Bay St., Toronto, for further information.

Clear Title Most Essential When Building or Buying

Unless clear title to the building lot is obtained by the prospective home-owner, he may be faced with added expenses and possibly court action arising from hidden encumbrances against the property or improperly defined land boundaries. The buyer should never take for granted the assertion of the seller in a real estate transaction. Mistakes may have been made in the title and repeated many times because a search was never carried out by a solicitor or notary. At the outset the purchaser should obtain a surveyor's certificate which provides a proper description of the lot to be included in the mortgage deed and title. If the land has never been surveyed, the purchaser should have this work done at his own expense. The surveyor may require descriptions of the property as contained in previous deeds for reference purposes and these should be procured by a solicitor.

The services of the surveyor will also be of value in staking out the location of the house for excavation of the foundation. This will ensure that local requirements concerning the amount of set back of the house from the street and the side boundaries of the lot are properly observed.

Legal advice is most important in acquiring property. The lawyer will draft the technical description of the lot, examine the title of the vendor, register the deed at the local registy office and study all documents to assure the purchaser of clear title to the land. He will inform the purchaser of any existing easements or financial encumbrances such as tax liens or other outstanding debts.

If the prospective home-owner wishes to take an option on a lot before buying, he should have this document drafted with legal assistance since it should contain all the stipulations of the deed of sale.

Arrange Conference On Unemployment

OTTAWA, Aug. 25—(CP)—Arrangements were being made here Friday for a conference between authorities and civic and union officials from Windsor on unemployment in the automobile city.

It was expected the conference might be held late next week, depending on when key ministers were available. It would be attended by officers of the United Automobile Workers of America (CIO-CCL), who asked Thursday for the meeting, and Mayor Arthur Reaume of Windsor.

Premier Breeder Banners Go To Pimmett and Ruth In Beef Cattle Judging

Winners of the premier breeder banners in the beef cattle classes at Peterborough Exhibition Friday were:

Herefords: George Rodanz, Stouffville.

Shorthorns: M. H. Pimmett & Son, Indian River.

Aberdeen-Angus: Malcolm Bailey, Stouffville.

Dual Purpose Shorthorns: Edmund Ruth, Omemee.

The bulk of the prize money was divided among the following breeders:

Shorthorns: M. H. Pimmett & Sons; Louis Cadesky of Louada Manor Farm, Harvey township, Peterborough; Newton Taylor & Sons, Burketon.

Herefords: Rod MacAlpine, Fenelon Falls; George Rodanz, John R. Walsh & Son, Skibbereen Farm, Otonabee.

Aberdeen-Angus: Ronald Marquis, Sunderland; R. C. Baker, Stouffville; Malcolm Bailey.

Some of the cattle shown here Friday are going to the CNE. Incidentally, Andrew Telfer of Paris, Ontario, who judged Guernsey cattle here this week, called at Morrow Park Thursday night on his way back from Ottawa. He reported only 40 of that dairy breed there, as compared with the 80 head in the strong local competition. Mr. Telfer said that the top Peterborough Guernseys were better in quality than those at Ottawa.

Everett Birdsall, chairman of the beef cattle committee, faced a problem of management when he learned that most of his assistants were missing.

He recruited help from several of the men who had spent Thursday looking after the dairy class competitions, including Lorne Reynolds and Howard Clark. H. W. Hawkey of Indian River, a beef breeder, volunteered. Bill Mood of Birdsall was another who was pressed into service as a helper. So, without any fuss, the show went along smoothly, and Col. Birdsall was deeply grateful to those who stayed with him on the job until 6 p.m., an all-day chore.

Statistics Filed On Newsprint Needs

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25—(AP)—The International Raw Materials Conference reported Friday it had ended hearings called to learn of the newsprint needs of western countries.

An announcement said a 13-country pulp paper committee now has filed and examined statistics on newsprint problems which have come in from 70 governments.

The committee announcements gave no indication if and when a plan to allocate newsprint might be recommended.

Makes Strong Plea For More Newsprint

GENEVA, Switzerland, Aug. 25—(Reuters)— A strong plea for a fairer distribution of the world's newsprint was made Friday at the UNESCO by Indian delegate T. T. Krishnamachari.

He urged that the organization should not slacken its efforts in this direction.

"While some nations literally trample newsprint, other countries are starved of paper and even the education of children is suffering from a lack of school books." Krishnamachari said.

Revenues In Quebec Set Record Figure

QUEBEC, Aug. 25—(CP)—Provincial Treasurer Gagnon reported Friday Quebec Province's revenues rose in the last fiscal year to $238,713,729, a record figure exceeding all estimates.

The province's ordinary expenditures, also beyond estimates, were reported at $200,707,228, leaving an ordinary surplus of $38,006,501.

Capital expenditures amounting to $33,825,174 were paid for out of ordinary income, instead of by borrowing, and the province showed overall surplus of $4,181,326, Mr. Gagnon reported.

Brig. J. Pangman BC Commander

OTAWA, Aug. 25 (CP) — The Army announced Friday the appointment of Col. J. E. C. Pangman, DSO, 43, formerly of Toronto and Kingston, as Commander of the British Columbia area, with rank of brigadier.

Brig. Pangman, who takes over his new command Monday next, succeeds Col. E. C. Brown, 44, of Ottawa, who has been acting BC area commander since April. Col. Brown has been selected to attend the next course at the National Defence College at Kingston, beginning early next month.

Until recently, Brig. Pangman was senior army officer on the directing staff of the Defence College.

NEW BC COMMANDER—Brig. J. E. C. Pangman, 43 of Toronto and Kingston, has been promoted brigadier and will take over command of the British Columbia Area later this month. He succeeds Col. E. C. Brown, acting commander. Until recently, Brig. Pangman was senior Army officer on the directing staff of the National Defence College at Kingston.

Doubts Inquiry Burwash Need

TORONTO, Aug. 25—(CP)—C. F. Neelands, Ontario deputy minister of reform institutions, said Friday he doubts that an inquiry into conditions at Burwash industrial farm is needed.

However, the final decision would be up to Reforms Minister Foote, who will be out of town until Sept. 1, he said.

A public inquiry was asked by J. B. Salsberg, Communist Labor-Progressive member of the Ontario Legislature for Toronto St. Andrew, who said he had received letters from six persons charging that on three occasions men who were mental cases had been flogged at the prison farm near Sudbury.

Mr. Neelands added that the Burwash superintendent, Gerald Wright, "is a good administrator, there is plenty of evidence of that." A. P. Wilcox, the assistant in charge of custody and discipline, was a padre during the war and "that speaks for itself."

Chess President

VANCOUVER, Aug. 25 (CP)—Henry Loose, of Weston, Ont., has been named president of the Chess Federation of Canada for the coming year. The new executive for 1951-52 was announced Friday. The federation decided to raise a fund to send overseas a Canadian team to compete in the next international chess Olympiad at Helsinki, Finland.

The amount of freight carried over British railways in 1950 totalled 281,300,000 tons.

Dynamite Job Moves Quickly

TIMMINS, Aug. 25 —(CP)—Removal of 22 tons of dynamite from underground at the strike-bound Hollinger mine here continued Friday slightly faster than scheduled, union and company sources said.

The explosive, left in the mine when miners went on strike July 9, was ordered removed by government inspectors who feared that dampness would create an explosion hazard.

From 400 to 500 cases were taken out of the mine Thursday, fourth day of the removal operation. The rate of removal is expected to drop as the men, working from the bottom up, approach the surface levels where the dynamite caches are more widely spread out.

Marmora News

Mrs. Thomas Dixon and daughter Karen returned to Beaverton on Friday after spending a few days with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Potts.

Mrs. C. H. Shelton and Mr. and Mrs. John Shelton of Toronto spent a few days recently with Miss Laura O'Sullivan and Mr. James O'Sullivan.

Miss Ida Gillen of Toronto is spending a vacation with her sister, Mr John Doyle and Mr. Doyle.

Funeral Service For Alexander Lucas

MARMORA, Aug. 25. (ENS)—The funeral of Alexander Lucas was held on Friday afternoon, leaving the residence of his brother, John, in Marmora township for St. Paul's Anglican Church where a goodly sized congregation of relatives and friends assembled.

The Rev. H. C. Secker, rector of Stirling, officiated assisted by W. J. Cottrell, lay reader. The hymns by request were "Rock of Ages, Cleft For Me," and "Abide With Me". Burial took place in the family plot in Marmora Protestant cemetery. Pallbearers were Frank Wiley, George Fox, Gordon Jones, Alexander McCoy, Edward Robinson and Wilbert Moffatt.

Union Predicts Long Strike

SHAWINIGAN FALLS, Que., Aug. 25 —(CP)— Officials of the National Syndicate of Shawinigan Falls Aluminum Workers (CCL) Friday told striking employees of the Aluminum Company of Canada's plant here to prepare themselves for a long strike.

Rene Harmegnies, CCL organizer, told the 900 strikers the strike may last as long as three months.

He said union officials now have decided to demand full benefits of a non-binding Quebec Labor Board arbitration report before any contract is signed.

The workers walked off their jobs early Friday following a five-hour meeting with company officials.

The company already accepted wage, hour, holidays and other recommendations included in the report, but refused those dealing with grievance procedure, job-evaluation and seniority rights.

Lords Move Into The Atelier Giving Fashions New Sound

Animal? Vegetable? Or mineral?

You won't get it in 20 questions—what has inspired Dame Fashion in her style edicts for fall 1951. The panel of expert fashion writers has been continually using terms of botany, zoology and ornithology to describe the new clothes. Finally comes the headline: "Fashionable Women To Look Like Bird."

If Milady wishes to be right up with her Paris in autumn and winter wardrobe, her dress will have a backward thrust recalling a bird's profile, and it will jut or round out in front by way of funnel-shaped panels, pyramid-pointed necklines or cocks-comb revers. Incidentally, the shoulders will be cut in a "half moon."

And that's not all.

She will top it with a hat inspired by a chicken's foot, a beehive, a wasp's nest or a tea-cozy. Millinery chic from the farm yard even includes a ribbon-trimmed tom-cat. And the old standby "pancake beret" goes airy with a "side wing."

Winter coats have pretty well "gone to the dogs" as a hairy fabric with a French poodle curl becomes the choice in the high style bracket. "Poodle cloth" will also be made up in the bird silhouette, and the woman inside the stiff, shaggy surface may tend to look as though she were in the doghouse.

Magpie-tail panels are to feature the new short jackets, and it is a good guess that the designer is a man whose drawing board is surrounded by chattering "crows."

In furs it is Br'er Rabbit who is king this year, nuzzling right into society without any nom de plume. Rabbit is rabbit in coat or evening wrap or after a spectacular trip to the dye pot to emerge as red pants, blue skating skirt of a white shirt teamed with black skirt.

But colors mostly get "down to earth". A Paris collection is in tones from sand to the blackish brown of damp soil, as well as coal black. New York is going in heavily for "grape glory," an intoxicating shade.

Why all this new vocabulary in the fashion world?

It's human psychology, that's all. Prices are rising, as goodness everyone knows, and people don't like to pay more for the same type of garment. So, make it look—and sound—basically different and the woman will pay.

And to further allure the Man Animal she is trying to please with her bird-like, shaggy dog look, there will be a last-minute touch from the vegetable kingdom. Apple essence is to be used as a base for perfume, and the name is a natural: "Eve".

Buttons Discovery Of 14th Century

This year buttons are once again in the fashion news, but from the prehistoric bone pin to the present day plastic, buttons have always had an interesting story. For thousands of years, plain thorn, bone, wood and ivory pins were used to fasten clothes together. It wasn't until 6000 BC, that man discovered metal, and some fashion-conscious woman discovered that pins could be worn for decoration as well as for more practical reasons. Brooches and pins, some with rare and costly jewel settings, remained the only clothes fasteners until the Middle Ages. (The phrase "Pin Money" originated because husbands gave their wives allowances to purchase this luxury item.)

Finally, sometime in the 14th Century, a German goldsmith discovered that cloth, jewels and other materials could be mounted on buttons, and we have them till this day.

One button-custom that has endured through the years is that of putting buttons on men's sleeves. It is said that Frederick the Great originated this when he had buttons sewn on his soldiers' jackets to cure their distressing habit of using their sleeves as handkerchiefs.

Used as Gifts

Another interesting custom used in the past, was that of giving buttons as gifts. Henry the Eighth's betrothal present to the ill-fated Anne of Cleves was a set of "great buttons of diamonds, rubies and Oriental pearls." And at the court of Louis the Fourteenth, buttons set with priceless gems were high fashion.

Buttons seem to be more popular than ever this year. Women who sew are choosing a wide variety of buttons for trimming, because buttons are still one of the easiest ways of adding a distinctive and decorative touch to a home-sewn garment. And the latest word from Paris is that designers are using buttons on everything: hats, shoes and gloves as well as on dresses, and suits.

Young Actor Quite Candid About Brawl

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 25 (AP)—This week's news in Hollywood produced another nightlife brawl but this one was different.

It concerned a young actor who was given a beating by three assailants. But the actor later surprised everyone by admitting that he couldn't remember what he had done and suggesting he might even have deserved the lacing.

This set a new record for candor in Hollywood news. This extraordinary frankness could start a trend. Who knows?—we might even be treated to such news events as these:

Clyde Cut-Up, the clever comic, is aboard a crowded airliner zooming across the Atlantic. As the plane nears Ireland, it develops engine trouble and the passengers are panicked by the chance of a crash.

So does Clyde stand on his seat and calm the others by snappy jokes? Not on your life. He cowers in a corner, mumbling "I'm too young to die!"

More Candor

Minerva Mango, the glamor queen, announces that her contract with her studio is at an end. But she doesn't claim that she asked out of her contract because she wasn't earning enough money. Oh, no. She calmly remarks:

"They fired me. It seems my pictures weren't making any money" . . .

Renee Rancid, the dramtic star, announces an end to her marriage, long considered "Hollywood's most perfect match." And is she still "the best of friends" with her ex-husband?

"Don't be ridiculous," she snarls, "I hate the bum" . . .

Bernard Barefoot, the boy producer, creates a picture which does poor business at the box office. Asked for an explanation, he does not assert that it hit the market at the wrong time or that it was too good for the public or that the stars were not drawing well.

"It stinks," he shrugs.

These stories could happen in Hollywood. But—sigh—they undoubtedly won't. Perhaps it is just as well. The shock might be too great for the Hollywood Press Corps.

Israel Visitor Enjoys Steaks On Canada Visit

VANCOUVER — (CP)—One young woman visiting Vancouver has not been complaining about the cost of meat. Mrs. Arthur Goldbery from Israel has had a steak a day since she arrived in Canada, and hopes to continue on that menu until she and her husband of seven weeks return to Jerusalem.

This is Leumith Goldberg's first trip away from her home country. In Israel all food is rationed and each person is allowed a half-pound of meat per month.

"Back in Israel," she said, "all food is tightly rationed and we still have to line up, and even then it is difficult to obtain."

Leumith fought side by side with men and women of Israel in the battle for independence.

She fought with the underground, helped train troops and when the Israeli army was formed officially, served for 16 months and wound up a corporal. She obtained her discharge from the army to get married.

Army Women

Women as well as men are obliged by law to serve in the army. Every unmarried girl between ages of 18 and 26 must do a two-year hitch.

Her husband, a 25-year-old Vancouver man, brought his bride from Jerusalem to visit his parents here. He plans to live in Israel and help build up the country's tourist industry.

He left the University of British Columbia to go to Israel over a year ago. With him went a fleet of cars—first U-Drive autos in Israel. Now he has a franchise for a bus line. He is an RCAF veteran.

Sharman Douglas Back To England

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 25 (AP)—Sharman Douglas, movieland's most glamorous press agent, leaves Monday for England, but not to spin in the international social whirl.

She's going back as a working girl.

The onetime favorite of Britain's Royal Family resigned her job in the publicity department of RKO studios here to take a new one with Alexander Korda Productions in London. She starts work Sept. 1.

The 22-year-old blonde worked six months in the Hollywood publicity mill and rated praise from her associates at RKO.

She said she took the Korda job because she has been yearning to return to the country where she reigned as glamour girl of the US embassy. She is the daughter of former ambassador Lewis Douglas.

DOROTHY DIX

Should Working Wife Help Support Family Home?

DEAR MISS DIX: We have raised a large family and have one daughter, 24, at home. My husband has been very sick the last year, and had a serious operation. Although far from well, he is back at work. All of a sudden we seem to have serious money troubles. I went to work about a support the family, at least until he gets on his feet. He also demands that our daughter pay for her room and board. I say my money is mine as I earn it, and he is supposed to support us.—M. K. T.

Dorothy Dix

ANSWER: Small wonder that nations cannot get along when the family, which should be the very seat and foundation of cooperation, can be as widely divided as this one. Just as long as the almighty "I" comes first in peoples' lives, so long will we wait for peace and unity!

Remember Your Vows

Have you forgotten, M. K. T. that you took your husband " in sickness" as well as health? You are certainly bound by every code of morals and ethics to care for him in his illness, even if it means using some of your hard-earned wages to clear off the debts incurred with doctors and hopsital.

Your daughter is equally bound to help her father. If she is living at home, she should, in any event, be making some contribution towards the family welfare. It is my firm belief that every working child is a responsible member of the family and should make a regular, stipulated contribution towards the family finances. Such evidence of financial responsibility should not be payment for room and board. Room and board may be had from any stranger, but the privilege of belonging in a family should be highly prized. The family unit is a most sacred thing, and can only be preserved through the joint efforts of all members.

Too often a situation arises where illness strikes one person in a family, and the rest go scurrying away as far as possible to avoid all share in the physical or financial burden.

Don't let this happen to your household. If you let your daughter acquire the selfish attitude you have that whatever money you earn is yours alone, you are doing her a great wrong. At 24 her ways are undoubtedly quite set, but if it is possible to give her a realization of filial duty, do so!

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 20 and my boy friend is 23. We love each other very much but he has a heart condition that prevents him from getting a good paying job. He claims he cannot support a wife with the job he has now. He leaves me for one or two weeks so I will be able to forget him—but he always comes back. Should I try to forget him or make a go of things the way they are?

J. A. B.

ANSWER: If your friend really loves you and is sincere in his desire to get a good job and marry you, the first step is for you both to have a frank talk with his doctor. Learn, yourself, exactly how serious and incapacitating his ailment is. Heart conditions in the young are frequently outgrown, and usually are not as crippling as the sufferer believes.

Your friend may also be having trouble making up his mind to the great adventure of matrimony. His physical condition may be an excuse to cover his real indecision—and he wouldn't be the first person to resort to such subterfuge.

If you find he can work at a harder job, and still make no attempt to change, your course is clear—get a new boy friend.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My boy friend is in the army and since he left we have moved to another town. I have let him know where we live. Do you think he will come to see me when he gets home?

BOOTSIE

ANSWER: If he likes you, Bootsie, of course he'll come to see you. Soldiers are used to travelling. Don't worry about him; make new friends yourself, then if he doesn't come to see you at least you'll have consolation in new interests.

MISS CLARICE ATKINSON, LEFT, of Roseneath will leave in September for France from where she will go to Sudan Interior Mission in French West Africa to serve as a missionary, while her sister Betty and her husband Bruce Cole LOWER will leave in the fall along with their 16-month-old son David TOP RIGHT for LaGrita a mountain town in Venezula, South America to also serve as missionaries.

Two Roseneath Sisters Plan To Serve As Missionaries

ROSENEATH, Aug. 25 (ENS) —Two sisters from this community Miss Clarice Atkinson and Mrs. Bruce Cole, nee Betty Atkinson, will leave this fall for foreign missionary work.

The elder of the two, Miss Atkinson will leave for Paris, France, in September to take a language study course before beginning work in the Sudan Interior Mission, Maradi, Niger Colony, French West Africa. Mrs. Cole, her husband and their 16 months old son, David expect to leave in the late fall for LaGrita, a mountain town in Venezula, South America.

Formerly a school teacher in Roseneath and other local schools, Miss Atkinson graduated from Briercrest Bible Institute, Caronport, Saskatchewan in April, this year. She was accepted by the Sudan Interior Mission Board June 1 for foreign mission work in French West Africa. She will be supported by the Brent Baptist Church, Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Cole also graduated from Briercrest Bible Institure in April. They took a linguistic course at Caronport, Saskatchewan and spent some time at the headquarters of the Evangelical Alliance Mission in Chicago. They are being supported by two churches, Cobourg Fellowship Baptist Church and The Peoples Church, Toronto, and are under the appointment of the Evangelical Alliance Mission, Chicago.

The two sisters are following the example of their mother, the late Mrs. Warren Atkinson and former Ada Payne, who was a missionary in Tokyo and Yokahama, Japan for several years.

All four, Miss Atkinson, Mr. and Mrs. Cole and their son, David, are staying with their father, Warren Atkinson, Roseneath, until they leave for the mission fields.

Princess Picks Two New Colors

LONDON, Aug. 25 (AP) — Princess Elizabeth has picked two new textile colors — Edinburgh Green and Elizabethan Rose — to commemorate her forthcoming tour of Canada and Washington with the Duke of Edinburgh.

The British Color Council, announcing this today, described Edinburgh Green as "the color of the silver spruce, a tree known equally well in Canada and Scotland."

Elizabethan Rose is "a rose color with a warm glowing undertone."

The council co-ordinates textile color and design in Britain. The names of the two shades will be adopted as official by all its members.

While she was at it, the council said, Princess Elizabeth decided to sponsor two colors for children: Cupid Blue, "a clear turquoise," and Mayflower, "a gay clear pink."

What's Right?

You are taking leave of your hostess at the end of the evening.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Readers' Column Conducted By Mary Moore

QUESTION: Seeing that the cherry season is here, I am interested in knowing how to prepare maraschino cherries . . . Would you also tell me how to retain the natural color in canning certain fruits like raspberries and strawberries.—Mrs. D. A.

ANSWER: Since the time you wrote your letter the recipe for maraschino cherries has appeared in these columns. I have printed it here four times this season, so I am taking it for granted that you have seen it since you wrote.

As for retaining the color in red fruits, the whole fruit canning industry wants to know that answer and research workers in laboratories are working on it constantly. I do not know and until the research chemists have success we will have to patiently eat and like the faded red fruits.

QUESTION: I wonder if you can help me out. I would like a recipe for sweet gherkins, We have a small garden, and only get a jar or so of cucumbers at a time, and I would like to do them down as I get them . . .. also would you have a good recipe for choke cherry wine.—Mrs. J. P. V.

ANSWER:

Sweet Pickled Gherkins

Clean three hundred very tiny gherkins (if 3 inches long you need only 200). Place in preserving kettle, sprinkle 2/3 cup salt over them and pour over boiling water to cover. Let stand overnight. In the morning drain well, and dry each gherkin. Boil the following mixture: One-half gallon vinegar, ½ cup mixed pickling spices, 4 tablespoons mustard seeds, 4 tablespoons white sugar. Cool mixture, then pour over the gherkins. If desired ¾ teaspoon alum may be added at this stage to keep pickles crisp. Stand in cool place. Weigh 4 lbs. white sugar, and each morning add 1 cup of this sugar to the pickles, stirring it in, until all is used up. Keep in covered crock. When sugar has all been added transfer the pickles to sterile jars and seal and store in cool place.

Choke Cherry Wine

Wash and stem 24 lbs. choke cherries. Bruise them with wire potato masher but leave the stones whole. Let stand 24 hours. Strain through jelly bag and to each quart juice add 2 cups sugar and let stand another 24 hours. Pour into clean wine cask and let stand until fermentation ceases, which will take 2 or 3 weeks, then bung it closely and let stand 6 months, at end of which time bottle it.

QUESTION: I just ran across one of your mustard bean pickle recipes, and we really enjoyed them, and I would like any recipes on pickling especially cucumbers or tomatoes—anything. I'd appreciate any one of these if you have them.—Mrs. Raymond H.

ANSWER:

Chunk Pickles

(This is a great favorite, so I hope readers who intend to do some pickling this fall will clip this now.)

Seven pounds dill-size cucumbers cut into 1½-inch chunks; soak these in brine strong enough to float an egg for 7 days. Drain and soak in fresh cold water for 24 hours. Boil 7 minutes in 1 quart vinegar, 2 quarts water and piece of alum size of small egg. Drain. Make a syrup: Boil together 1 quart vinegar, 3 lbs. sugar, 1 oz. spices mixed including whole celery seeds, whole allspice, cassia buds. Pour this syrup over the pickles. On second day boil syrup again and pour back over the pickles. Pour into sterile jars and seal.

Watch the cookery column for pickles every week from now on.

LITTLE IODINE by JIMMY HATLO

Movie Designer Denounces Fads In Female Garb

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Designer Edith Head would like to see a law barring women from entering a dress shop unless accompanied by some responsible adult, such as a husband.

"Furthermore," says the Oscar-winning chief designer for Paramount "I am offering a bounty on all fat women over 40 who wear rompers or pinafores."

Miss Head, a size 12 herself, is warring against the "Little Girl Look" for females over 10 years of age.

She's also on the firing line against salesgirls who come up with: darling, that makes you look sexy."

That's why she wants husbands to accompany their wives on shopping sprees. For unmarried women, leave the boy friend at home.

"He's only a 'yes man' until you get him hitched," comments Miss Head.

If clothes make the man, says Miss Head, they revolutionize the woman.

As an example, she cited Shelley Winters in "A Place In The Sun" based on Dreiser's "An American Tragedy."

Clothes Make Difference

"Shelley had to be transformed from the sexy character she always has played to the drabbest of factory girls. I toured the bargain basements and second-hand stores and bought $10 worth of clothes for her.

"Clothes did it," said Miss Head. "The make-up department didn't have to do a thing extra."

Shelley's fans will find the transformation quite startling.

Despite her tirade against the "Little Girl Look," Miss Head believes there is no "clothes age" for women.

"The grandmother of 55 can wear the same dress as her daughter of 25 providing it is becoming."

She cited Marlene Dietrich and Gloria Swanson as well-dressed grandmothers.

"And I bet you'll never see Swanson wear a romper play suit," adds the designer."

Barrel of Flour, Blankets Authorized For Pauper

By W. J. COTTRELL

A plea for pity often softened the hearts of councils in other days. Marmora was an example of this.

In the minutes of the 1873 council there are recorded two cases of the council taking pity on unfortunates.

Terrence Fitzpatrick's taxes for 1872 were returned because his home fell prey to fire. Those of William Jones were returned on his becoming blind.

After this occurred at the March 15 meeting, the council turned its mind to more practical matters and discussed the sale of mineral rights on the part of the road allowance between the 8th and 9th concessions of the township. A bylaw legalizing the sale was passed at this session.

But nobody bought them or offered to buy these mineral rights until 1874, when a Toronto man offered $75. Council turned him down.

Wanted $400

At this time council instructed the reeve to sell these rights for no less than $400. Another offer fell short of the mark not long after.

The 1874 council was no less kind-hearted. The reeve was authorized to send a pauper one barrel of flour and one pair of blankets.

Later in the year, that same council passed a motion "that in the opinion of this council an industrial farm conducted on scientific principles would be a benefit in the sustenance of paupers, provided that the expenses be not greater than the present manner of giving charity to the paupers."

A by-law for acquiring certain lands in the township of Marmora for the purpose of a public cemetery was passed.

Philip Woolman received $22.81 for providing new steps to the town hall and a resident was ordered to replace a sidewalk which he had torn up.

Short distance telegrams must have been resorted to with some relish before the advent of the telephone.

At the meeting held on Sept. 6, "the clerk laid a telegram on the table from the council of the united townships of Belmont and Methuen, which stated that the council had granted on the boundary line south of Boyd's (one of the old settlements at the western extremity of Marmora township) the sum of $50, asking this council to grant a similar sum."

The request was complied with and "Edward Maloney was appointed commissioner to work out the $25 and the reeve (Solomon Johns) appointed to spend the $50."

Councillors seem to have been in good mood at the December meeting for, for the first time, a motion such as the following was carried: "That the thanks of the council be tendered to Solomon Johns, Esquire, Reeve, and William Phillips, township clerk, for their uniform kindness and courtesy in conducting the business of the council for the past year."

In 1874, Thomas Peter Pearce became the reeve and his associates on the council were two veterans, each an ex-reeve, Solomon Johns and Hugh Jones, and two newcomers of pioneer stock, Charles Clairmont and Michael O'Connor.

At the February meeting, the council, by bylaw, divided the township into three polling divisions.

A petition was received from A. W. Carscallen and others praying that the council would repair the fire engine belonging to the municipality and $50 was granted for that purpose.

The council assembled on Oct. 3, appointed Edward Maloney as returning officer for Poll 2 and Simon Armstrong for Poll 3. With respect to Poll 1 there is no mention.

Before taking farewell of this old minute book, mention of the payment of a few accounts have perhaps a little interest. April 5, 1862 for five cords of wood delivered by William Paget to town hall, $7.50. Sept. 6, 1873, to Thomas Warren for making a coffin for James Rodgers, $6. Feb. 7, 1874, to clerk (William Phillips) for having band placed on stove at town hall, 1 dollar.

REMINGTON READS OF REVERSAL—William Remington, former US Commerce Department employee who was convicted of perjury, reads the news to his children that the US Court of Appeals had reversed the verdict. His case will be retried. With him in Whitingham, Vt., are his daughter, Gail, 7, and son, Bruce, 9.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

The exhibitions are over. Western football today starts what may be the wildest scramble for play-off space the prairie provinces have ever seen.

Winnipeg, Calgary, Regina and Edmonton—the Western Interprovincial Football Union — all boast the strongest teams ever. They play their first league games after an exhibition series that knocked predictions into a cocked hat.

General Lee III Friday won the 2:22 trot or pace at the Woodstock fair. Coming off the fast pace of Royal Linda, Stew Stimpson of Alvinston drove him to victory in the final heat.

The General's time of 2:13 3-5 was the fastest of the day.

Leaders at the end of the first round in the Canadian chess championships at Vancouver:

M. Fox, Montreal, Dr. F. Bohatirchuk, Ottawa, and J. M. Taylor, Vancouver, one point.

M. Jursevskis Vancouver, drew a bye. Three games were adjourned.

Nova Scotia's Twit, a sailing craft with some of the grace and fleetness of the great Bluenose herself, Friday won the international Bluenose class championship at Halifax.

Skipper Alex Guildford of the Armdale Yacht Club was presented with the trophy Friday night after racking up 7,534 points, highest score in the five races against Canadian and United States yachts.

Jim Ferrier, Canadian open champion, shot his second straight 66 Friday to lead after the second round of the $15,000 Fort Wayne open golf tournament.

His 132 was one stroke under Thursday's leader, Glen Teal, of Knoxville, Tenn., pro, who soared from a record 63, nine under par, Thursday to a 70 Friday. Ferrier, an Australian, now makes his home at San Francisco.

South Africa will not allow any non-white boxers—Asiatics or Negroes—to enter the country to fight, Interior Minister T. E. Donges announced Friday.

He made the statement in a letter to Vernon Shearer, a member of parliament who had made representations on the subject two months ago on behalf of two Indian boxing promoters in Durban.

Al Balding of Toronto's Islington Golf Club Friday won the Canadian assistant professional golf championship at the Montreal Beaconsfield Golf Club with an even-par 36-hole total of 144.

Balding had rounds of 71 and 73 to finish 13 strokes better than his nearest rival, J. P. Alary of Montreal Municipal.

Jake Mintz, manager of former heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles, paid a $500 fine Friday to end his suspension by the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission.

The commission fined and suspended Mintz for squabbling over the choice of judges prior to the title bout Charles lost to Jersey Joe Walcott here last month.

Cubs, Ottawa Split Twin Bill As Chiefs Down Royals Twice

By The Associated Press.

Springfield Cubs have been floundering around in last place for most of the season, but that's no fault of Bill (Speck) Padget.

The 26-year-old righthanded hurler came through with his 14th victory Friday night against 11 setbacks, when he halted Ottawa Giants 8-3 in the second game of a doubleheader.

The seventh-place Giants captured the opener 5-3 in eight innings, and Padget's triumph in the nightcap enabled the Cubs to remain only two games behind Ottawa in their quest to vacate the International League cellar.

Padget, in his third year of organized ball, allowed eight hits and walked none. He won 42 games in his first two seasons and is the property of Chicago Cubs.

Ottawa's first-game victory broke a seven-game losing streak. A walk, a pair of singles and an error in the extra frame provided the winning margin.

Boost Wins

The rampaging Syracuse Chiefs boosted their winning skein to seven as they downed the league-leading Montreal Royals, 4-1 and 6-2. Art Hartley gave up six hits to win the opener and then came back in a relief role to save the second contest for Jack Robinson. Hank Workman walloped a pair of homers for the Chiefs in the nightcap.

Buffalo Bisons edged Rochester Red Wings 9-8 in 11 innings. Ten pitchers yielded 33 hits, including five home runs, for 66 total bases. Fren Hancock, Frank Carswell and Wally Post slammed four hits apiece for the Bisons and Russ Derry propelled two home runs for Rochester.

Jack Brittin twirled a five-hitter as Baltimore Orioles blanked the Toronto Maple Leafs 2-0. The Orioles tallied their runs in the second inning on hits by Russ Kearns, Al Cihocki and Eddie Oswald.

Dr. Stanton Captures Largest Share Of Purse

BATAVIA, NY, Aug. 25 (AP)— Dr. Stanton, owned and driven by W. L. Fraser of Forest, Ont., won the second half of the two-dash Buffalo invitation pace here Friday night and collected the largest share of the $10,000 purse at Batavia Downs.

In the earlier mile event, Ferman Hanover, given a brilliant drive by McKinney Lawhon, overtook Dr. Stanton and won the first half, setting a track record of 2:03 4-5.

Dr. Stanton's second and first places easily topped Ferman Hanover's first and seventh for the summary triumph.

Hastings Victors

HASTINGS, Aug. 25—(ENS)— Hastings Juniors looked like a different team last night as they downed Keene 9-2 in Hastings Park to even their best of three series at a game apiece.

West was on the mound for Hastings and had his fast one really hopping, as he gave up but five hits, and set down six on strikes. His support was almost airtight, Holmes in particular standing out. Kelly, Fife, West and Wilson were best with the bat, with two hits apiece, one of Wilson's being a four-bagger, while Kelly and Fife hit successive triples.

Warr went the route for Keene and pitched steady ball, giving up 10 hits, and striking out five but a lot of the hits went for extra bases. Nelson and Mather went best in the infield, while Stewart in left field made a story-book catch that stopped a Hastings' rally cold.

The deciding game will be played Tuesday in Keene at 6:15 p.m.

WI Donates Prizes For Percy Fall Fair

WARKWORTH, Aug. 25 (ENS) —The White School Branch of the Women's Institute met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Blair Huycke. Mrs. Owen Finlay, president, opened the meeting.

A donation was made to the Percy Agricultural Fall Fair in the form of special prizes in the class for "Ladies Over 70 Years of Age," and for the local ball games.

Quilt patches were donated with Mrs. M. Skinkle volunteering to cut them.

Mrs. George Grills was convenor for the following program: reading, Mrs. Stanley Brenton, entitled "Institute Day"; community singing was held and several games of bingo were played.

The proceeds from the "Travelling Apron" amounted to $10.27, Mrs. Blair winning the apron by having given the highest donation.

Lunch was served by the hostess and the lunch conveners, Mrs. Carmen Nelson, Mrs. Clifford Finlay and Mrs. Ed. Huycke.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Hoskins and boys have returned to Toronto after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Fred Morrow.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert Ryder and children returned to Windsor after visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Metcalfe.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Beamish returned to St. Catharines after spending several days with relatives here. They were accompanied by the former's sister, Mrs. V. Oliver and Mrs. H. Morrow and their nephews Lloyd Oliver and Murray Beamish.

Snack At Bedtime May Aid Sleep

Many persons wonder whether that snack before going to bed is a wise thing or not. Some believe a snack makes them go to sleep more easily. Others say it keeps them awake and causes digestive disturbances. The answer is obvious . . . if one is hungry at bedtime, he should eat.

That bedtime "hunger" may not be hunger at all, however. It might be just the body's attempt to entice the sleeper into putting something in his stomach to help divert blood from the brain and thus promote sleep.

Fenella Choir Sponsors Ball Game And Social

ROSENEATH, Aug. 25. (ENS)— At an ice cream social held in Fenella Community Hall on Wednesday evening, under the auspices of Fenella choir, $65 was realized.

The object of the social was to raise funds to assist in re-decorating the interior of Fenella United Church.

Early in the evening a ball game was held at Fenella ball field where Fenella team defeated the Reforestation team 12-11.

The program was in the community hall, with the pastor, the Rev. R. C. White, as chairman, and included the following numbers: instrumental duet, Carmen and Murray Whitney; vocal solo, Valda Hutchinson; vocal duet, Misses Margaret Duncan and Gene Waldie; reading, Shirley Ferguson; piano solo, Carolyn McKee; vocal solo, Lorraine Murphy; reading, Mrs. W. I. Montgomery; vocal solo, Mrs. Donald George; piano solo, Miss Audrey Down.

Lunch was served by the members of the choir and concluded with an ice cream dessert.

What A Farmer Does

Recent concern over the drafting of young men from farms for the military services tends to emphasize the complexities of farming and skills involved. As set down by the US Labor Department for the guidance of Selective Service Boards, a farmer—

"Performs without supervision a wide variety of the following skilled tasks in commercial agricultural production where applicable to the particular type of farm on which he works; or supervises workers of lesser skill; prepares soil for planting by plowing, harrowing and fertilizing; seeds, cultivates and harvests crops.

Plants, sprays and prunes fruit trees. Cares for livestock. Operates, repairs and maintains farm implements and mechanical equipment, such as tractors, electric motors, combines, gang plows, ensilage cutters, corn and cotton pickers, milking machines, hay bailers, used in the production of crops such as grain, vegetables, hay, fruit, cotton and/or livestock, poultry and their products.

Repairs farm buildings, fences and other structures. On specialized farms, such as dairy or livestock farms, performs such tasks as scientific feeding and selective breeding, rotating pastures, operating and maintaining dairying equipment, sterilizing containers and equipment, and maintaining sanitary conditions in barns. Knows over-all operations including when, where, and how crops should be planted, cultivated, sprayed, and harvested. May determine when and where products will be marketed. Trains and supervises casual and seasonal workers during planting and harvesting.

"This looks like, and is, a formidable fund of knowledge to accord young men of draft age. However, it must be remembered that these farm boys have grown up in it, gaining their experience as they go along. They are not like their city friends who from the age of 18 to 25 are just completing their education or beginning to learn the trades and professions.

It would take many seasons in an "agricultural boot camp" to train replacements in what a farmer does.—From "Better Crops with Plant Food."

Cold Wave In West

EDMONTON, Aug. 25 (CP) — Cold Arctic air moved into the prairies' rich grain belt Friday, bringing some risk of frost damage to a record billion-bushel crop. The next week or 10 days is the critical period in much of the west. The crop is 10 to 14 days late in development. Sharp frost now would ruin or severely hurt still-moist, unripened heads of wheat and other grains.

Indian River

the scientists Algonquin) river and Lake Iroquois, indicating that for a time at least Lake Iroquois was contemporaneous with an early stages of Lake Algonquin.

The Indian (Algonquin) river with which we are here mainly concerned, flows from Gilchrist's Bay, Stony Lake, to Keene, on Rice Lake. At several points it broadens, forming small lakes, such as White Lake, adjacent to Gilchrist's Bay and Quarry Lake, caused by damming for a now defunct millsite about a mile above Warsaw. Here a large part of the old dam still exists with remains of the flume and tailrace. Nearby are limestone quarries from which stone was taken at a time of activity some sixty years ago for St. Joseph's Church, Douro; the CPR bridge at Peterborough, and other structures at Warsaw and elsewhere. It is interesting to note in passing that the defiling of the quarry by the dumping of refuse has been corrected recently through the public-spirited action of the Warsaw Women's Institute, which sent a tractor to assist in a clean-up.

Quarry Lake

In the interesting geological history of the river the most fascinating page is that concerned with Quarry Lake, which takes its rise in deep chasms a little below the Warminster bridge, at the junction of the "Rock Road" and the "Middle Road" from Warsaw to Stony Lake.

Something of the skill of a mountaineer is required to make one's way among and over gigantic rocks, each of incalculable tonnage, which were tossed about in confusion in the ancient days of this massif—in those days when it was battling grimly to hold its own against the assault of the waters as they churned through the gaping abyss from the more placid area above. Tangles of living and fallen trees beset the visitor on all sides. Vegetation runs riot. Here paths would be obliterated before they could become clearly marked. Sloping sides of the stratified limestone, which provide only precarious foothold, would baffle the dexterity of the most sure-footed mule or mountain goat.

power to the CGE and others. In 1892 there were 75 street lights costing $75 a year each, but competition did not reduce power rates in this case.

Another new industry in 1891 was the B. F. Ackerman Leather Company, which in 1897 built the three-storey building at the corner of George and Dalhousne Streets. When the Ontario Canoe Co. plant in Ashburnham burned in 1892, it was reorganized as the Peterborough Canoe Co. and rebuilt at the corner of Water and King Streets the next year; the Canadian Canoe Co. began operations in 1893 also, first at Brock and Water Streets, then at George and Dalhousie Streets. Robert Hamilton made boats at 184 George Street, and canoes were made also by English Canoe Co. (182 Charlotte Street) and by John Stephenson, Lake Street in Ashburnham. T. Croly in 1893 made ice-boxes at 66 Auburn Street; there were also such odd concerns as the Steam Biscuit Works on Simcoe Street, which made cenfectionery and handled cigars as a sideline. W. Green began his Dickson raceway pump factory in 1896, was burned out the same year, moved to the Lindsay-Seldon plant in Ashburnham, was burned out in 1898, and continued in the old Whyte foundry on McDonnel Street W., making mill machinery. In 1899 James Kendry and associates organized the Peterborough Underwear Co., which later developed into the Colonial Weaving Co.; the same year the Stanley Piano Co. was offered a free factory site.

From 1894 there was talk that the Dickson sawmills were closing down, and seven fires on the raceway led the Dickson Co. in 1898 to sell its timber limits to the Howrey Co. of Minneapolis for $298,200 and to spend $70,000 improving the raceway and the power plant ((at eastern end of London Street dam). The death of President T. G. Hazlitt in 1899 led to further curtailment of lumber operations; in 1900 the American Cereal Co. of Chicago bought the Dickson properties on the west bank from Hunter to Waterford Streets, on the east bank from Elizabeth Street nearly to Auburn, subject to existing leases. The company was given a fixed assessment of $58,700 for 42 years, and erected a large flour mill and elevator employing 200 workers.

Quebec Bread Up

QUEBEC, Aug. 25. (CP)—The Quebec and District Bakers' Association announced Friday the price of bread will go up one cent for a two-pound loaf effective Monday. The rise will bring the retail price to 24 cents, and the wholesale price to 21 cents. The increase, "due to higher costs of ingredients," will not affect one-pound loaves at 14 cents.

Courtesy Call

HALIFAX, Aug. 25 (CP)—The United States destroyer Roberts, first of 14 American warships to visit Halifax between now and Oct. 8, berthed Friday on a three-day courtesy call. The Roberts is sailing out of Norfolk, Va., on a two-week training exercise.

Only a Scare

CRANBERRY PORTAGE, Man., Aug. 25 (CP)—Six Americans, including two children and two women, plunged down a 10-foot waterfall in a small boat Friday and nobody suffered anything more than a scare. Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Wolf of Kansas City, Kas., their son, his wife and two children were fishing in a small boat on Lake Athapapaskow when the boat went over the dam into Rat Creek.

Police Hint Murder Solved

DRESDEN, Aug. 25 — (CP) — Police Friday night hinted an early solution of the slaying of 37-year-old Grant Wallace, whose strangled body was pulled from the Sydenham River Aug. 17.

Provincial police, whose search for the slayer has concentrated in this area, said fresh evidence had been uncovered but added they were not ready to disclose its nature. They said an early break in the case "should not be far off."

Inspector Wilford Franks, of the CIB, used for the first time the word murder in connection with the death of Wallace.

"It was definitely murder," the inspector said.

2 Soldiers Guilty

FRANKFURT, Germany, Aug. 25 — (Reuters) — Two American soldiers were found guilty on rape and assault charges against Germans by an army court. Pte. Harold L. Frye, 22, was sentenced to 20 years' hard labor for raping 21-year-old Thea July, and Pte. James C. Johnson, 20, was sentenced to five years at hard labor for threatening girls with a gun.

Exchange Visits

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP) —President Truman said Friday he hopes every state will send students to neighboring countries to promote education and international goodwill. He made the informal statement to 31 Kansas junior high school students who had just completed a 10-day study tour of Canada. They won the right to visit Canada with essays on American-Canadian relations.

Woman Tossed Into Back Seat By Car Impact

COBOURG, Aug. 25—Mrs. Caroline Thompson of Kingston was the victim of her own caution in an unusual accident Friday.

Mrs. Thompson, after driving through here, decided to be on the safe side. So she stopped at the CNR crossing, a mile to the east, although the warning signal was not in motion.

Just as she stopped, she was rammed by the car following her, knocked out of her shoes into the back seat by the jolt, shunted ahead 94 feet and hit head on by a truck.

The truck driver, Kenneth Kuney, of Toronto, jumped from his cab to see if she was hurt. He found Mrs. Thompson back in the front seat putting on her shoes, uninjured except for bruises. Her car was damaged beyond repair.

Driver of the car which hit Mrs. Thompson's car from behind, Roy Boucher of Detroit was charged with careless driving. He received a broken rib in the accident and his daughter, Carol, was bruised.

Provincial Constable H. Wolldridge, who investigated, said Mrs. Thompson was very lucky to escape uninjured. "She could easily have got a broken neck when she went over the seat," he said. "She must have been relaxed when she was hit."

Fly In Drugs

EDMONTON, Aug. 25. (CP)—An RCAF mercy plane left Yellowknife, NWT Friday carrying life-saving durgs and diphtheria anti-toxin to three Eskimo villages north of the Arctic circle. An Indian health services physician—Dr. A. Laurent-Christensen—is at Gjoa Haven on King William Island, about 1,200 miles north of Edmonton treating Eskimos with sore throats. They are believed to be suffering from diphtheria. Three Eskimos have died in the epidemic.

Prairies Sending Out SOS For More Help From East

By The Canadian Press

It's the biggest want-ad in Canada—needed 3,000 men.

With a bumper crop in the fields, the west today looked anxiously to the east for Harvest help.

Good wages—for skilled and unskilled farm help—are not attracting enough regular workers to do the job. As a result, the Prairie Provinces have asked Ontario and Quebec to send 3,000 men to help bring in the harvest.

The first group of an expected 1,200 Quebec harvesters left for Winnipeg this week. But it's doubtful whether the west will get its expected quota from Ontario where a heavy grain crop is leaving few harvesters for duties outside the province.

Quebec sent 1,182 workers west last year and officials say the figure may have to be increased this year to offset Ontario's labor shortage.

In Alberta, harvesting starts next week in what is expected to be a record crop. Needed immediately are 150 men—for 150 farms.

Could Use 1,500

Last year 738 easterners invaded Alberta to help bring in the crops. This year the Alberta agriculture department has asked for 1,000 eastern workers but could use 1,500.

Construction, oil and other industries have siphoned off much of the province's own labor force. Things are so tight, in fact, that consideration is being given to the idea of recruiting school children in large numbers for the harvest.

The bumper crop is producing another headache in Alberta. The education department says that the prosperity on farms may discourage farm housewives because the extra family income may not be wanted.

Manitoba has asked for 600 men, although crops in the province have been retarded somewhat by poor weather.

The Manitoba manpower situation is expected to be eased by the arrival within a week of 120 displaced persons from Germany. The DP's are coming to Canada under a special arrangement between the federal and Manitoba governments.

Wages Higher

Wages for harvesters are expected to be slightly higher than the average $6 to $8 daily plus board paid last year. Skilled help handling machines will get up to $1.25 an hour. Return rail fare is paid for the easterners.

Eastern Canada is not without its own problems. At least 1,000 more potato pickers are needed in New Brunswick. A good hay crop in the Maritimes plus fewer workers means that haying will not be completed until the end of August.

Nova Scotia's apple orchards were hit by spring frost this year with the crop cut from a normal 4,500,000 boxes to 1,500,000. This means fewer pickers and processors will be needed. Grain crops in Nova Scotia present no labor problem.

Ontario looks forward to record hay and grain crops. The province's farm service officials report a shortage of skilled labor but it's not serious. The grain crop might top the 1918 record by 213,356,000 bushels. The Ontario tobacco industry with wages of $9 to $14 a day, drains off many farm laborers who might otherwise head west.

Exhibition Notes In Review

"The friendliest directors I ever met," was the compliment of Mrs. Glen Jacobs of the Exhibition booking office, Springfield, O. "They took us for a trip around the city and up to Armour Hill Friday morning. The girls with our show were delighted. That never happened to us before in my experience anywhere." There were 15 of the visitors in the touring party.

H. W. Hawkey of Indian River commented to the Examiner that Francis Walsh's champion market steer looked good enough to win at the CNE in the market steer class. "Even if the entries at Toronto are up in the hundreds."

Sisters of the dietary staff of St. Joseph's Hospital sat in for awhile at the cooking school Friday afternoon.

G. A. Gillespie said some one should mention that the manufacturers, merchants and others put on "the best display ever" in the old drill hall at the "Ex." He said they contributed a splendid feature, and with more room that part of the show could be made bigger.

John Rickard was judge of the Shorthorn cattle Friday. He was accompanied by his wife and two sons, and also by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rickard. They went on to Paudash Lake for the weekend.

The men in charge of the display of farm implements must be kindred in spirit of small boys. Youngsters sat in the seats of tractors and other machines most of the week, and nobody appeared to be shooing them off, not even when some of them were running down batteries. . . .

President Norm McConkey warmly congratulated Col. Birdsall on his radio interview of George Rodanz, who recently returned from the Hereford breeders' meeting in Herefordshire, England. It was interesting publicity for the cattle show that is relegated to the far southeast corner of the grounds. Mr. Rodanz said he was still "mike" conscious, although he spoke in radio broadcasts from England to Holland.

The new paved road through Morrow Park paid off in a large dividend of relief from dust. Fancied objections that used to be voiced about cattle slipping on it, and other pretexts just didn't materialize. The road is a new asset to the "Ex." It will again be part of George St., when the temporary gates come down.

Clare Collins has been stressing "ladies day" at meetings of the board of directors. As they say, "he's got something there," something that can be enlarged without much difficulty.

The big hangover of the harvest, work which many farmers had not caught up, kept many rural folks home during the afternoon. As Fred Kylie, retired from Otonabee, remarked: "If you had a couple of fields of grain to bring in, would you knock off and come to the Exhibition or stay home and get the work done while the sun was shining?" Rural directors must have extra help or they got the job done early —or they may have to pay up for it next week.

Plane Nosedives

Norton Abrasives Appointment

ROBERT E. YULE

Mr. C. W. Fell, Sales Manager of Norton Company of Canada Limited, has announced the appointment of Mr. R. E. Yule, B.Sc., P.Eng., as sales representative in Eastern Ontario, effective September 1, 1951. His territory will extend East from Toronto to the Quebec Border, and North to Ottawa, and he will take up residence in Peterborough.

Mr. Yule was born in Tweed, Ontario, and is a mechanical engineering graduate of Queen's University. He is a member of the Association of Professional Engineers of Ontario, and a junior member of the Engineering Institute of Canada. Mr. Yule served Overseas with the Cameron Highlanders of Ottawa.

Milking Parlor Serves Need Of Dairymen at Exhibiton

Among the more interesting displays at the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition this year is the De Laval tent, where milking operations are carried out night and morning, to display the company's equipment. At 7:30 each morning and evening, the cows in the enclosure are led into the "milking parlor." This is an elevated platform on which the animal stands while the milking machine is in operations. The cows are led in one at a time. The milk is weighed and tested in a sealed container right on the platform. It is then let off through stainless steel pipes, through filter and cooling system into a sealed eight-gallon milk can. The can is situated in a refrigerated container.

The booth is usually crowded with interested bystanders during the milking hour. The arrangement is something new in dairy farming, with the one "milking parlor" serving the purpose of the older style milker with the numerous outlets.

The "milking parlur" appears to have everything in comfort for the cows. One thing surprised us, however. There is no radio in the parlor.

Kevan Fitzgerald of the De Laval Company is in charge of the booth situated at the west end of the grounds.

Wants Brokers Curb Promoters

TORONTO, Aug. 25 (CP)—The former head of the Ontario Seeurities Commission said Friday that legitimate Toronto brokers are in a better position than the commission to discipline fraudulent stock promoters.

C. P. McTague, counsel for the government - created Broker - Dealer Association, told the Legislature's Crime Committee that brokers who do not belong to the Toronto Stock Exchange must be members of the association. If a broker is expelled from the association, he cannot legally trade in securities.

Mr. McTague said the association could act more quickly than the commission in sweeping Toronto's financial district clear of smooth-talking salesmen who have been using the mails and long - distance telephones to swindle United States citizens.

Her friends presented Marjorie with a beautiful radio and extended best wishes for her success in her new profession.

Korean Type Of Battles Not Pattern For New War

By BILL BOSS

WITH THE CANADIANS IN KOREA, Aug. 25 (CP)—Is the Korean fighting a preview of the kind to be expected in any future war?

Is the day of the long, armored thrust, or of the massed tank battle gone? Has warfare put the soldier back on his feet for good? And does Korea's emphasis on fieldcraft mean, perhaps, a step back towards the trench fighting of the First World War?

The answers all around are probaly "no."

Apart from any ideological reasons involved, army officers here are beginning to consider Korea as another Spain—but only partly.

Where the Spanish revolution of 1936 served as an experimental ground for battle drills and as a proving lab for weapons, Korea so far is discharging only the latter function.

Tactically, experiences here of the United Nations forces have served only to confirm lessons already in the book.

Mountain Problem

In mountain-ridden Korea the principal problem is mountain clearance.

It is useless to send out long armored thrusts along main roads if the hills commanding them remain occupied by the enemy. The "front" is vulnerable from behind, the lines of supply are open to attack and often-difficult pockets of resistance are left behind to clear up, dissipating the commander's forces.

That was a lesson learned by the UN Command in Korea last year.

Only in rolling hill country in some parts of Korea and in a few plains, such as that northeast of Seoul, is the country suitable for armored deployment in mass. And wherever the land is suitable, it abounds today in the burned-out carcasses of enemy and UN tanks, indicating that both sides have exploited the opporunity.

As a field for police action, and for the clearance from a country of an aggressor, Korea's very nature has demanded the type of infantry warfare now being waged here.

But it is not the type of warfare, nor the sort of battlefield, in which the West could fight a showdown battle with world Communism — should such a showdown ever be forced.

Not Suitable

In the event of a major stand against Communism, it is thought here, Korea would be abandoned.

It just does not permit the maximum mass deployment of the West's power, the only way to win wars speedily and with minimum cost to life.

"Fire and movement" win today's wars, both as high-powered as the land allows.

Almost anywhere else in the world but Korea that means, tanks, self-propelled artillery, strong mobile columns of infantry and air superiority.

But even in Korea, the application of fire and movement has kept the front flexible enough to advance solidly and resilient enough to absorb enemy offensives—and, except from what clearly are intended to be "last-ditch stands," a far cry from the trenches of Flanders Fields.

Woman Held For Murder In Shooting Husband, Father Of Four Children

Roy Thompson, Scrap Dealer Dies On Bedroom Floor With .22 Bullet In Heart

Police Bring Forward No Explanation For Saturday Night Shooting In Southend Businessman's Home

The friendly trade of a .22-calibre rifle for an electric saw three months ago marked the start of a trail that led to tragedy and death Saturday night. Charged with the murder of Roy Thompson, 579 Howden Ave., is his widow, Lillian, 35. The shooting is alleged to have taken place after an argument over the husband using the car. She appeared in court today, bewildered and numbed; unable to realize, police say, that her husband is dead and she is charged with his murder. Magistrate W. R. Philp remanded her in custody and without bail until Friday.

Refused To Make Statement

Police say that Mrs. Thompson has so far refused to make a statement. She is lodged in the county jail, after her brief appearance in magistrate's court.

The shooting is believed to have taken place about 9:40 p.m. Saturday. Neighbors said Thompson had been drinking earlier in the evening and had wanted to go to a party.

As a final, ironic twist, Saturday was Thompson's 37th birthday.

The Thompsons have four children: Beverly Ann, 12, Kenny, 14, Nancy 11, and Roy 15. They have been taken to stay with relatives in Orillia.

Thompson was a sergeant and later a lieutenant with the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment during World War Two and took part in campaigns in Sicily and Italy. He was wounded at the battle of Campobasso. After the war he was for a time head of the city sanitation department.

Early this summer, he started his own scrap metal business and was making a success of it, neighbors said. Before, he and a brother-in-law had been partners in a similar business.

"He wasn't rich yet," said one neighbor, "but he made enough that he could give his wife just about anything she wanted."

Heard Someone At Door

Shortly before 10 o'clock Saturday night, Mrs. William Jamieson, 584 Howden Ave., heard someone at her front door.

Ask Increase In Rates For Telegrams

OTTAWA, Aug. 27 — (CP) — Canada's two telegraph companies today applied for permission to increase their rates on messages sent within Canada, except Newfoundland.

They asked the Board of Transport Commissioners to authorize an increase of 10 cents on the basic full-rate telegram of 10 words, with varying increases for other types of service.

The companies—Canadian National Telegraphs and Canadian Pacific Railway Company—asked that the boosts become effective Oct. 1. They contended the higher rates are necessary because of increased costs of labor and materials.

The last previous increase—a general one of 15 per cent—went into effect in July, 1949.

Proposed Increases

Here are the proposed increases, with existing rates bracketed:

Canada Prepares Economic Weapons To Halt More Shipments Going To Reds

OTTAWA, Aug. 27. (CP)—Administrative machinery by which Canada may engage in economic warfare against Communist states should the need arise was announced today by the Trade Department. This was done through the imposition of a system of import controls under which the department will have power to clamp down on the movement of goods into Canada from any specific source.

The department, at the same time, took action to plug loopholes in the export of strategic materials by revising export permit regulations "to provide more precise and effective scrutiny of the ultimate destination for all Canadian exports."

An official explained that the system of import controls was imposed "as an express means of waging economic warfare if the need arises."

He would not disclose at what specific countries Canada may aim its economic guns, but it was generally understood that Canada will follow the lead of the United States.

Reversal of Policy

This is a direct reversal of government policy on foreign trade with Communist stages. Previously, it had been indicated that Canada, for instance, did not wnat to injure trade with Red China in non-strategic goods. A trickling of goods has come in, too, from Communist countries in East Europe, including Czechoslovakia.

This trade may be gradually cut down under the new system of controls.

The import regulations, passed by Order-in-Council under the Federal Export and Import Permits Act, also will act as a cer-

Police Foil Niagara Stunts

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Aug. 27—(CP)—Tourists watched Niagara Falls closely last weekend, but police were on hand to make sure they saw nothing unusual.

Police and tourists alike were brought to the bank of the Niagara River by the announced intentions of two and possible three men to defy death in stunts in the vicinity of the falls.

Here's what happened to the candidates for Niagara notoriety:

Leslie Sander — police seized the steel barrel in which he planned to shoot the Horseshoe Falls. Just to make sure, immigration authorities turned him back at the United States border.

Bernarr Macfadden—took his parachute jump as he said he would, but into the Hudson river, not the Niagara.

Sander said he now plans to tackle the American falls considered tougher than the more spectacular Horseshoe because of the heavy mass of rock under the cataract. He said:

"After all, if I am going to take a risk, why fool around with a small thing like the Canadian falls—I'l take the tough one."

Didn't Show Up

Hank X—didn't show up for his Falls-shooting try. Police, half-convinced he was a figment of somebody's imagination, were primed for him in case he turned out to be real.

The only man who contributed any excitement did it by accident. A soldier from Camp Borden, Ont., suffered a painful fall over the edge of the Niagara Gorge.

Police and firemen rescued Pte. Shelton Henshaw from a clump of brush 250 feet below the top of the cliff, more than 12 hours after he fell Saturday night.

A 25-man human chain passed the Nova Scotia-born soldier up a narrow, dangerous path, lashed to a stretcher. He suffered serious injuries.

Flying In One Lesson

CAPETOWN, South Africa, Aug. 27. (Reuters) — A 17-year-old boy took a small airplane today and learned how to fly and land it in one lesson. He got it off the ground but couldn't get it back. After watching him circle for two hours, officials sent up another plane which displayed large instructions on a blackboard telling him how to land. The boy landed safely but was taken home suffering from shock.

Quebec Starts Inquiry Into Bridge Collapse

THREE RIVERS, Que., Aug. 27 (CP).—Inquiry into the collapse of the Duplessis Bridge last January opened here today under Judge Rene Lippe of Montreal.

Representing the provincial government were Public Works Minister Lorrain, Deputy Minister Vallee, and Robert J. Clark, secretary of the court.

The mile-long bridge collapsed with the loss of five lives. Four persons died when the steel and cement link sunk into the St. Lawrence river, and a tractor driver died several days after his vehicle crashed through the ice while trying to recover an automobile from the river bed.

India Will Sign Separate Peace

NEW DELHI, Aug. 27 (AP).—Prime Minister Nehru told parliament today India will sign a separate treaty with Japan rather than attend the Japanese Peace Conference at San Francisco next month. Nehru said the treaty proposed by the United States carried "the seeds of future dispute and possibly conflict in the Far East."

He said the Indian Japanese treaty will be signed as soon as Japan has achieved independent status. He did not explain whether he thought "independent status" would have been gained after the signing of a treaty in San Francisco between Japan and most of the countries she fought in the Second World War or whether such a status could not be, in his opinion, achieved until after the withdrawal of occupation troops.

Parliament broke into cheers when Nehru said one reason India would not attend the conference was because the treaty does not propose return of Formosa to Communist China.

India attaches "the greatest importance to the treaty providing that the island of Formosa should be returned to China," he said, but added that the time, manner and of such a return "might be

Reds Reject Allied Answer

TOKYO, Aug. 28 (Tuesday)—(AP)—The Communist high command today bitterly rejected the Allied reply on the alleged Kaesong neutrality violation but, at the same time, left the doors open to a possible resumption of the Korean armistice talks.

The Reds broke off the stalemate talks Aug. 23, alleging that an Allied plane had attempted to "murder" the Communist delegation at the Kaesong conference site.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme United Nations commander, told them Saturday their charges were "malicious lies" but that he was willing to resume the armistice effort.

In a reply broadcast early today by the Peiping radio, North Korean premier Kim Il Sung and Chinese Red Gen. Peng Teh-huai said Ridgway's statement was "entirely unsatisfactory."

They accused him of manufacturing incidents to break up the truce talks and of "slandering" the Communists.

Family Gathers To Discuss Tragedy In Thompson Home

"He was quiet, but always had a smile for everyone and was never downhearted," Mrs. Pearl Clark, a sister, said at her home, 922 Hurley Ave., on Saturday night, following the shooting of her brother, Roy Thompson, 37, of 579 Howden Ave. Close relatives about 12 in number, had gathered in the Clark home and were discussing the tragedy. All were of the opinion that the Thompsons were "getting along fine" and no one could recall any serious trouble between them. Thompson was working hard at his business, which he had started less than two months ago, on Erskine Ave., south of Lansdowne St.

On Friday night, Mrs. Clark said they were at the exhibition and from reports of members of the family, who saw them, "they were having a grand time." They appeared "very happy."

Mrs. Clark added that her brother was in the "best of spirits" on Saturday morning for her husband had seen him at the scrap yard.

"He was in a happy mood then," she said.

Proudly they all recalled Thompson's war record with the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment in the Second World War. He served overseas for six years, as a sergeant and later a lieutenant.

They recalled Thompson's return home and taking a job with the city. Later he went into business with a brother-in-law who operated a scrap business.

"Only two months ago he decided to go into business for himself," said Mrs. Clark.

Someone mentioned that it was 1 a.m. and that his parents had not been notified. His mother was in St. Catharines and all wondered how they could contact her. The father, John Thompson, Erskine Ave. Peterborough, also had not been told his son was dead.

Along with the parents there are three brothers and four sisters surviving. John Foster of Peterborough, Ernest who recently returned to England with his wife, Gordon who is now in Korea with the Princess Pats regiment and sisters Mrs. Lottie McGrath, Mrs. Annie Peacock, Mrs. Pearl Clark and Mrs. Hilda Burfield, all of Peterborough.

Five-Year Farm Plan For Iran's Jobless

TEHRAN, Aug. 27 (Reuters) — The Iranian government has drafted a five-year agricultural plan in an attempt to absorb some of the thousands put out of work by the collapse of the oil industry, Agriculture Minister Zia Farmand said today.

He reported there were about 15,000 unemployed Iranians in the oil province of Khuzistan, formerly employed by the old Anglo-Iranian Oil Company building roads and houses.

Farmand warned that evacuation of the fields, now almost complete, will increase unemployment.

Painting a gloomy picture of Iranian agriculture, he said there was pestilence in eight-ninths of the country and drought in the northern wheat-growing areas. About 2,000 unemployed will be put to work on irrigation projects, and it was hoped, he said, to employ the rest on growing new products, such as sugar cane, rubber and linseed oil. Peasants would be allotted state-held land and helped to farm it.

2,000 Fleeing Flood Get Food By Plane

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 27 — (Reuters)—Two thousand persons who fled from the flooded town of Soto La Marina on Mexico's east coast are living today in nearby hills on food dropped by military aircraft.

The flood is an aftermath of the hurricane which swept the Tampico area last week and was followed by torrential rains. Flood waters, still rising, are expected to cause more damage than the hurricane.

Damage to date is estimated at about $4,000,000. Road and rail communications to the port of Tampico have been cut. The city is under martial law and has no electricity.

Vowed To Help Find Killer Man Held As Cousin's Slayer

DRESDEN, Ont., Aug. 27 (CP). —A man who promised to help police "get the man who murdered my buddy" was charged Sunday with murder in the strangulation-slaying of Grant Wallace, 37, his cousin.

Lyle Wallace, 33, was taken into custody at the home of a sister on the outskirts of this southwestern Ontario town. He will appear before Magistrate I. B. Craig today in Chatham, 15 miles south of here.

The body of Grant Wallace, 37-year-old Second World War veteran, was recovered 10 days ago from the Sydenham river. His head bore a mysterious bump. An autopsy substantiated suspicions that he had died violently and a second autopsy showed he had been strangled.

Three police officers launched an investigation that included questioning of more than a score of district residents.

One theory on which they were reported working at the outset was that Wallace had been dead 24 hours before he was thrown into the river.

As the inquiry got under way Lyle Wallace told reporters he would help police in every way in their efforts to find the slayer.

Wallace's body was found stripped to the waist and standing upright near the middle of the river half a mile west of this East Kent county community. The arms were bent and the fists closed and only the top of the head was above water when two boys in a boat spied it.

Police said at the time that Lyle Wallace apparently was the last person to see his cousin alive.

Grant Wallace, a widower with five children, was said to have left his own home on the western limits of Dresden about 8 or 9 p.m. Aug. 14. He is reported to have gone to a Dresden hotel, where he met Lyle Wallace and two other men. At midnight he left the hotel with Lyle and one of the other men and went to Lyle's shanty. Lyle later told police that Grant left the shanty about 2:30 a.m.

Think Gunfight Means End Numbers Gang

TORONTO, Aug. 27 (CP).—Police think a gunfight Saturday spelled the end of Ontario's notorious Numbers Gang, blamed for a series of bank robberies and armed holdups during the last year.

They also believe they have captured its elusive leader, described by witnesses of its raids as a cool, fair-haired strategist. He had slipped through police fingers on several occasions.

A police bullet in the spine killed John Black after police surprised five men at a branch post office on mid-town Charles and Yonge Streets in the early hours of Saturday. Black was slain at a window of the post office as he prepared to leap. Four other men were arrested after a police chase punctuated by shots.

Larry Edgar Shirley, 24, of Winnipeg, was charged with the attempted murder of a police officer, with having an offensive weapon and with breaking and entering. Theodore Valiquette, 24, Herbert Taylor, 26, and William Lovejoy, 31, all of Toronto, were charged with shopbreaking.

Worked On Search

Some of the officers assigned to question them had worked on the search for the members of the Numbers Gang, so-called because of the habit of using numbers in football quarterback style to signal each other at various stages of robbery. The officers had a description of the leader, given them by two of four men arrested during the last few months in connection with the gang's operations.

Two veteran officers said they saw a facial resemblance between the black-haired Shirley and the long-sought blonde leader of the Numbers Gang.

Shirley just laughed and pointed to his jet-black locks.

"The man you want is blonde," he told the policemen.

Then a police analyst snipped off some of Shirley's hair and tested it in his laboratory. He announced that Shirley's hair originally was blonde but had been dyed black.

Said Detective Inspector William Mace:

"He's the man we've been looking for a long time."

Shirley said:

"Well, I fooled you guys for a couple of hours anyway."

Shirley will be placed in a police headquarters lineup today to face witnesses of the $6,000 robbery July 26 of the Canadian Bank of Commerce branch at Bradford, Ont.

Young Canadians Killed In France

AMIENS, France, Aug. 27 — (Reuters). — Two young Canadians on a motorcycle holiday in France, were killed near Abbeville Saturday when a truck crashed into them, police said Sunday night.

Police identified them only as Gerald Ross Riddell, 21, and George Wilson, 20, of Ontario, who has recently been living in London.

Windsor Man Killed In Police Chase

WINDSOR, Aug. 27 (CP) — A 22-year-old Windsor man was shot and killed in a fusilade of police bullets here early Sunday when he attempted to run away from a break-in when surprised by police.

A companion escaped.

Malcolm Mochoruk, Windsor, died in hospital half an hour after he was admitted.

The youth has a police record dating back to 1945 and includes 14 charges and eight convictions. He was well known to police.

Two other local youths, Allan Murphy and William Napier, are held by police for investigation in connection with the break-in at a construction shack where tools were stored.

Macfadden Misses Rocks

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (AP). — Physical culturist Bernarr Macfadden, who celebrated his 83rd birthday with a 2,000-foot parachute jump into the Hudson River Sunday, said he is "good for things like this for 10 more years."

"I recommend this for everybody," he added, "it's a damn good thing to do. I could do it every day in the week."

When Macfadden was fished out of the Hudson after his jump Sunday, he said:

"I feel like a million. I feel 25. Next year I'm going to jump over Niagara Falls."

Macfadden's parachute leap was for the dual purpose, he said, of demonstrating that "old age is just a habit" and that United States paratroopers need have no fear of landing in water.

Narrow Escape

But the publisher of health pamphlets and romance magazines almost failed to accomplish the second purpose. A wind caught Macfadden and almost dashed him into the rocky palisades.

Then he narrowly missed a clump of trees on the cliff, and finally landed in the river only 20 feet off the New Jersey shore, near Alpine and opposite Yonkers, NY, just north of New York City. From both banks of the Hudson, thousands of onlookers watched as the octogenarian jumped, his ski suit looking like red flannel underwear.

Macfadden had intended to jump near the George Washington Bridge, but New York City authorities sent up a police helicopter to shoo him away.

Will Hold Inquest Into Miner's Death

TIMMINS, Aug. 27. (CP) — An inquest into the death of Rene Maheux, 38-year-old miner, will be held Wednesday, police said today.

Maheux died Sunday from injuries suffered last week when struck by a truck at the strike-bound Hollinger Gold Mines here. He suffered two broken legs and severe shock.

No charges were laid against the driver of the truck, Robert Fleming, 22, of Porcupine.

OBITUARIES

FRANCIS PETHERBRIDGE

Francis Petherbridge, 57, of 517 Bolivar Street, died Sunday in hospital after an illness of seven months. Since he came to Peterborough 27 years ago, he has been working in the polishing department of the Peterborough Lock Company.

Born in Beaminster, England, he was the son of the late Charles Petherbridge and Elizabeth Edwards. Before coming to Peterborough, he lived some time in Toronto.

A veteran of the infantry in World War One, he went overseas with the Canadian Expeditionary Force in 1916 and was discharged in 1919. He was a member of the IOOF, Otonabee Lodge No. 13, and of the Red Patch Club.

Surviving are his widow, the former Florence Maude Adlam, two sisters, Miss Kate Petherbridge and Mrs. Norman Reid of Toronto, and one brother Frederick of Toronto.

Funeral service will be conducted at the Nisbett Funeral Home at 2 p.m. Tuesday by the Rev. Henry Cotton of St. Andrew's United Church. Burial will be in Little Lake Cemetery.

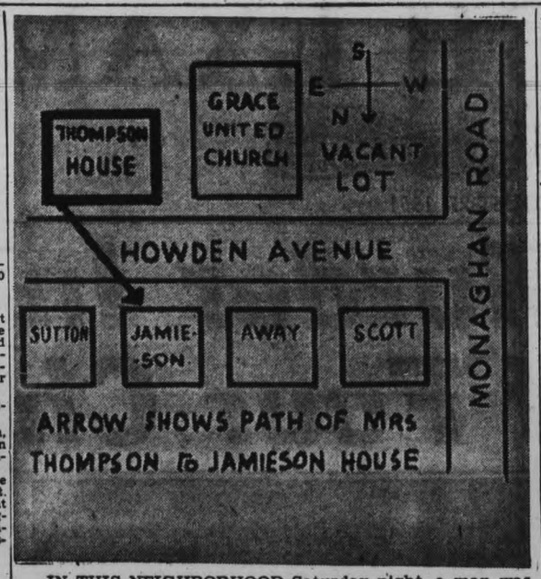
MRS. WILLIAM FAIERS

A resident of Peterborough for more than 50 years, Mrs. William Faiers, formerly Jane Rothenburg, died in her 78th year today in hospital.

She was born in Stratford, England, daughter of the late William Rothenburg and Mary Brooks. Her home in Peterborough was at 829 Lansdowne Street, and she was a member of Park Street Baptist Church.

Mrs. Faiers is survived by her husband, seven sons, Ernest of Aurora, Jarry, William, John and George of Peterborough, Frederick of Sudbury, and Thomas of Bradford. There is one daughter, Mrs. Sidney West of Lindsay, and one sister, Mrs. M. McGovarin of Peterborough.

The Rev. E. J. Whan will conduct the funeral service Wednesday at 2 p.m. in the Nisbett Funeral Home. Burial will be in Little Lake Cemetery.



IN THIS NEIGHBORHOOD Saturday night, a man was killed, shot in the heart by a .22-calibre bullet. Roy Thompson, 37, of 579 Howden Ave., was the victim, and his 35-year-old widow, Lillian, is charged with his murder. ABOVE, their house is shown, heavily outlined, in this sketch by an Examiner staff artist. From the Thompson home an arrow points out the path Mrs. Thompson followed as she ran to tell a neighbor, Mrs. William Jamieson, 584 Howden Ave., of the shooting. Beside the Thompson home is Grace United Church.

THE BODY OF ROY THOMPSON, 579 Howden Ave., was found in the bedroom of his home in a pool of blood Saturday night after his wife, Lillian, 35, told a neighbor of the shooting. An X in the above sketch, drawn by an Examiner staff artist, shows the spot where his body was found. A black dot marks the kitchen table on which the gun and an open box of .22 ammunition were lying. At the bottom of the sketch an arrow shows the path of Mrs. Thompson as she ran to tell a neighbor. Mrs. Thompson is charged with murder.

15 People Injured When Cars Collide

NORTH BAY, Aug. 27 (CP) — Fifteen persons were injured when two automobiles, loaded with passengers collided head-on 26 miles east of here Sunday.

Hospitals in North Bay, Hull and Noranda were used to take care of the injured, none of whom was seriously hurt.

Police said the accident occurred when Oscar Thomas, 20, of La Cave passed another car on a hill and met another auto coming down, driven by Rene Maheau of Montreal.

Liquor Cases Clutter Court

Morgan Pinch, 36, of 547 Armour Rd., today pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while his ability was impaired by alcohol. Magistrate W. R. Philp fined him $50 and costs.

Bert Coulter, 44, Minden, was fined $10 and costs when he pleaded guilty to being drunk in public. Also fined on similar charges were: George Dwyer, 35, 494 Park St., Mervin Jacobs, 20, Curve lake.

Fined on charges of illegally consuming liquor were: Alfred G. Fuller 44 70 Robinson St $10 Reginald Ellis, 36, RR 10 Peterborough, $10. Raymond McIlmoyle, of Apsley, pleaded guilty to illegal possession of liquor and was fined $15.

Charged with being drunk in charge of his car, Volney Woodcock, 33, of Wellington St., was sentenced to seven days in jail. His car was ordered impounded for three months.

Duress Charge Halts Evidence

SEOUL, Korea, Aug. 27 (AP)— Charges of duress in the murder trial of Pte. Glen Roland Blank today prompted the prosecution to withdraw from evidence a purported statement by the Winnipeg soldier that he was at the scene of the crime.

Testimony of an investigating officer was stricken from the record of a Canadian general court-martial by Prosecutor Captain I. B. Hanway of Amherst, NS, after defence counsel, Lt.-Col. J. A. Hutchins of Regina, charged that the investigating officer forced the statement from Blank.

Blank, 27, is one of three privates, members of the Princess Patricias, accused of murder in the death of Lieut. Ee Chong Sung, one of three South Korean soldiers killed March 17 when a grenade was thrown into a Korean house in a village near Chipyong.

Leaving future of Formosa "undetermined in spite of past international agreements does not appear to the government of India to be either just or expedient," he said.

Explaining the negotiations between India and the United States, Nehru said that India's suggestions for changes were made in a "spirit of frank and sincere friendship for the government and people of the United States."

Despite disagreement over the Japanese treaty, Nehru said his government would continue to cooperate with the United States and other governments to achieve peace in the Far East "in such a manner as may be open to them consistently with the principles on which their foreign policy is based."

tificate of good faith by Canada in ordering strategic goods from other countries, the department said.

For example, Canada, before exporting essential materials and metals to European points, requires a certificate by the governments of those countries that the exports will not be reshipped to Russia or a Communist satellite country.

Canada, under the new regulations, will in turn give European countries the same certificate that the goods will not be trans-shipped.

A trade official emphasized that some action under the import regulations may be taken soon on a "few goods." This will not affect imports from democratic countries.

New Orders

Tightening up on exports of strategic goods, the department made these orders:

1. Exporters must have documentary evidence to prove that the ultimate destination of the shipment is in accordance with their application to the department.

2. If there is any doubt, or where the final market for the goods cannot be ascertained, then no export lihence will be granted.

3. No shipments may leave Canada in the name of a foreign exporter. Shipments must be made by a Canadian resident and the applicant must actually be the shipper of the goods.

4. All previous exemptions to the regulations are cancelled. Henceforth permission will have to be obtained to cover shipments to government offices outside the country, casual gifts and personal effects.

5. All shipping documents will undergo more detailed customs scrutiny. All customs officials, both in Canada and trans-shipping countries, will be required to make sure all documents concerned with a shipment agree and contain complete information before clearance is granted.

In Cobourg Hospital

COBOURG, Aug. 27 (ENS.) — Two Cobourg women, Mrs. Bessie Blodgett and Miss Georgina McBride were slightly injured in a motor accident last night near Baltimore. They were taken to Cobourg General Hospital.

Roy Thompson

"Mrs. Thompson was there: 'Call a doctor, I've killed him'," Mrs. Jamieson heard her say. "I said 'Who? Your husband?' and she said yes."

Mr. Jamieson, a shoe salesman, rushed upstairs from the cellar where he had been using an electric saw. He said he and Mrs. Thompson ran over to the Thompson home and found Thompson lying on the bedroom floor in a three-foot pool of blood.

"I felt his pulse. There wasn't any," said Mr. Jamieson. "Then I looked at the kitchen table and saw the rifle. It was the one I had traded him three months before for an electric saw.

"Mrs. Thompson grabbed the gun, and I took it from her. I ran over to my house with it and called a doctor and the police."

The bullet pierced Thompson's heart a post mortem conducted on Sunday revealed.

Never Heard A Quarrel

Neighbors divided opinions as to the happiness in the Thompson home. Some said they'd never heard of a quarrel. Others, including Bill Jamieson, said they knew of some arguments, and quite a bit of "kibitzing around."

Saturday night the Thompsons had had an argument. Neighbors told how Thompson had been seen at the home of a neighbor about 6.30 p.m. They said Thompson and the neighbor got in a car and were about to drive away when Mrs. Thompson walked over and said her husband wasn't going anywhere.

Bill Jamieson said that after that he heard the Thompsons arguing. "He was going to take the car out and she didn't want him to. She said he was in no condition to drive. They were standing right on the doorstep, and later on they went back in the house.

"After that, I didn't pay much attention to it. Not until Mrs. Thompson came over to our house," said Mr. Jamieson.

Upstairs in the Thompson house at the time of the shooting were two girls: 12-year-old Betty Thompson and 14-year-old Nancy Scott, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Scott, 596 Howden Ave.

Nancy Scott told her family she heard some talking downstairs in the one-and-a-half storey Thompson home. Then, she said, she heard a door slam twice and then a bang, that sounded like a picture falling.

Sent To Scott Home

A few minutes later, she said, Mrs. Thompson came upstairs, got the girls out of bed and sent them over to the Scott house.

Mr. Scott said he heard nothing; he had been at home at the time of the shooting. Another nearby resident, Ivan Sutton, 580 Howden Ave., said he had driven home shortly after the shooting and knew nothing of it. Mrs. Sutton, who had been at home, said she heard nothing.

One theory that was advanced as to the reason for the shooting was this:

During the argument, Mrs. Thompson, who is expecting a fifth child next month, said she was going to kill herself. Thompson loaded the rifle for her and said she was afraid to shoot herself. "You're too yellow even to shoot me," he is supposed to have said.

But today police said Mrs. Thompson had made no statement.

One-Man Dog

Roy Thompson's dog, Nigger, a big, black hound, was away from the house at the time. Mr. Jamieson said that Nigger was a one-man dog; it wouldn't let anybody but Thompson near it.

Sunday, the dog was tethered in a backyard two houses east of Thompson's on Howden Ave. It was pacing restlessly up and down the short yard, stopping every now and then to howl, with its nose pointed to the sky.

Bill Jamieson told the story of his trade with Thompson briefly.

"I'd had this rifle, a .22 repeater, for quite a while. But I've got two kids in the house, and one of them's a boy two-and-a-half. I didn't want the gun around the house," he said.

Eventually the trade was made. "When I took the gun over to Roy's, he met me at the door and said he'd have to hide the gun from his kids, so they wouldn't find it. And sort of kidding, he said, he'd better hide it from his wife. He was laughing when he said it," Mr. Jamieson said.

"When I heard Roy had been shot, I thought about that gun right away. It's an awful thing."

Ridgway In Korea

TOKYO, Aug. 27 (AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway flew to Korea today to confer with the United Nations cease-fire negotiators. There was no immediate indication of what was discussed. The UN's supreme commander returned to Tokyo tonight, after less than four hours in Korea.

Russian Jet Snatched By Allied Team

LONDON, Aug. 27 — (AP) — The story of how a team of Britons, Americans and South Koreans snatched a Russian jet plane from its watery grave 100 miles inside the Communist lines in Korea was told here today.

The plane, a MIG-15, now is under study at the Wright-Patterson air experimental base in Daytona, O. There, United States experts will dig out the secrets of construction and design which have made the Russian fighter in some respects superior to any Western plane now flying.

The account of its recovery was made public by the Admiralty.

The MIG-15, shot down in a dogfight, was ditched by its pilot in shallow water off the west coast of Korea.

Planes from the Royal Navy carrier Glory fixed its exact position. Then a US helicopter dropped a buoy to mark the spot.

The task of grabbing the plane was assigned to Capt. W. L. Brown and the Royal Navy frigate Cardigan Bay.

He enlisted a US navy landing craft equipped with a lifting crane and a South Korean motor launch.

The Cardigan Bay then led the two smaller vessels to within a few miles of the enemy coast—as close as the frigate could go in the shallow water.

Aircraft from the Glory set up a covering screen against enemy air attack. The British cruiser Kenya screened the ski...

A motor boat from the Cardigan Bay guided the US landing craft and the South Korean launch to the ditched fighter.

The men of three countries set to work fixing a sling under the plane so that it could be lifted.

On the following day the Russian jet was lifted from the water and the fleet steamed away with its prize.

Industrials Continue Last Week's Advance

TORONTO, Aug. 27 — (CP) — Industrials continued last week's advance today as they climbed to a record high for the first hour, pushed higher until noon and then eased to about the earlier level. Trading was moderately active.

Steels and refining oils spearheaded the advance. Liquors, manufacturing companies and miscellaneous industrials pushed upward while agricultures, textiles and retail stores remained firm. Utilities weakened.

Western Oils climbed to break their former record set in the first hour of trading today. Selective buying maintained a wide list of active issues.

Base metal leaders climbed while the majority of stocks remained mixed. Consolidated Smelters, Labrador, New Calumet, Normetal, Sherritt-Gordon and United Keno Hill edged ahead as Falconbridge, Hudson Bay and Steep Rock slipped slightly.

Senior Golds turned mixed after early weakness. Hollinger, Sima and Wright-Hargreaves showed small gains. Giant Yellowknife, Kerr Addison and McIntyre dipped. Secondary issues showed a majority of losses.

Dollar Down

MONTREAL, Aug. 27—(CP)— The American dollar today opened at 5 9/32 per cent premium to the Canadian dollar, down 3/16 from Friday's close. That is, it took $1.05 19/32 Canadian to buy $1 American.

The pound sterling was $2.95 11/16, down ½ from Friday.

Five Companies Willing Take Hydro Plan

By CRAIG ARMSTRONG

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 —(CP)— Five private utility companies are willing to take over the redevelopment of hydro-electric power on the American side of the Niagara River.

The firms, which now supply 90 per cent of New York State's 15,000,000 population, will start work on the project immediately if they receive permission from the United States government. It would be the largest utility project carried out by private capital in a single operation.

The president of one of the firms, the Niagara Mohawk Power Corporation, Earle J. Machold, told a Senate public works subcommittee in Washington last week that the five companies are ready to proceed immediately with the project if they get the go-ahead from the government.

He said they will organize and finance a company to carry out the project which will cost about $400,000,000. It would add 1,132,000 kilowatts, or 13.7 per cent, to the generating capacity of New York State's output.

Consider Proposals

The Senate sub-committee has been considering proposals for government development of the power project. One provides for development by army engineers, the other by the New York State Power Authority.

Machold said that "private enterprise is not only ready, willing and able but best qualified to construct and operate the project."

Machold said he was speaking for Consolidated Edison Company, Rochester Gas and Electric Company, the New York State Electric and Gas Corporation, Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation, as well as his own firm.

New York financial circles are drawing comparison between the financing scheme proposed by the five utility companies and the formula used in developing iron-ore deposits in Quebec and Labrador.

In the development of the iron-ore project, six American iron and steel companies and three Canadian units set up the Iron Ore Company of Canada with a capital of $200,000,000, half of which is equity money to be supplied by the mine-owning companies.

To make the project mortgageable, the subscribing steel companies contracted to take certain annual amounts of ore. On that guaranty, 19 insurance companies bought $100,000,000 worth of bonds.

Youth Rescued

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Aug. 27 —(AP)—Manuel Torres, a 17-year-old construction worker was rescued Sunday after more than 40 men worked for 2½ hours to keep him from being suffocated in a pile of shale. The youth, slipped off the shale pit rim and fell 18 feet into a conical pile of finely-crushed rock. He sank up to his neck.

No Clues Available In Port Hope Rape

COBOURG, Aug. 27—(ENS)—Provincial police, investigating last week's reported rape case in Port Hope, admit that they have unearthed nothing conclusive which would assist making an arrest.

A Port Hope young mother of three children, told police that a man hid in the back of her car and suddenly confronted her with a demand to drive to the outskirts of the town on Tuesday night. He ordered her to stop in a lonely spot and then raped her, she said.

Provincial Constable W. Baluk of Cobourg is investigating.

Carnival Draws Good Crowd

COBOURG, Aug. 27—(ENS)—The Rotary carnival held during the weekend drew a good crowd in spite of cool weather. Proceeds are to go to the crippled children's fund.

In the Rotary year ending June 30, 1951, a total of 184 cases were treated through the committee, ranging from congenital hip to the ordinary cases of tonsils and adenoids. In all, Cobourg Rotary spent a total of $2,414.74 in the past year and in five years a total of $13,548.50 was devoted to crippled children's work. Doctors and nurses, including specialists, gave their services without fees.

Following were the winners in the big draw: N. A. Sweetman, Toronto, electric refrigerator; Mrs. A. Calnan, Grafton, lazy boy chair; Mrs. J. Gallagher, Cobourg, portable radio; Mrs. G. Goddard, Cobourg, mixmaster; Donnie Leonard, Cobourg, toaster and Bernard Flesch, Cobourg, child's sulky horse.

Two Cars Collide On Clonsilla Ave.

Slight damage was done to two cars Sunday night at 8:30 when they collided at Clonsilla Ave. and Sherbrooke St. Wilbert J. Frankish, Lakefield, was driving north on Clonsilla and three-quarters of the way across the intersection when the cars collided.

Driver of the other car was William A. Jamieson, RR 3, Peterborough. Jamieson said he had stopped at Clonsilla, and started out again. When he saw the Frankish car, he swung right to avoid it, but couldn't.

Slight Interruption

ISTACHATTA, Fla., Aug. 27—(AP)—A four-foot blacksnake slowly wriggled down the aisle of the Baptist Church during the sermon at a recent service. As it reached the foot of the pulpit, the Rev. Fletcher Weston threw a hymn book but didn't stop the snake. Several women raised their feet off the floor. One left. But she came back with a good sized rock and handed it to the minister. He killed the snake and resumed the sermon.

Ford Union Asks 40-Hour Pay For Shorter Week

WINDSOR, Aug. 27 — (CP) — Ford of Canada workers, faced with a 2,000-man layoff at the end of the month, voted Sunday to demand 40 hours' pay for the 32-hour-week scheduled which will go into effect at the same time.

The men, members of Ford Local 200, United Automobile Workers (CIO), rejected a second proposal also advanced by the union executive—that the company be forced to maintain a 40-hour work week.

A union spokesman said the first proposal was adopted unanimously in a standing vote.

The union negotiating committee will advise the company today of the decision.

The company had said that maintenance of a 40-hour work week would involve the layoff of an additional 1,000 men.

The union last week asked federal help to relieve Windsor's growing labor crisis.

It said 2,200 men already had been laid off at Ford of Canada in a curtailment attributed to slack sales largely brought on by credit curbs. Another 2,000 were due to be laid off at the end of the month, 1,500 were reported scheduled to be laid off at Chrysler of Canada in mid-September and the jobs of other thousands in feeder plants are becoming increasingly insecure.

25,000 Left Homeless After Jamaica Storm

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Aug. 27. —(Reuters)—Jamaica needs every penny it can get to repair the ravages of last week's hurricane, Governor Sir Hugh Mackintosh Foot said Sunday night.

Foot, outlining relief measures in a radio broadcast, warned there will be little home-grown foodstuffs for the next six months. The bulk of the food on the island had been destroyed.

The next year would be one of "great strain and difficulty," he said.

Poles Celebrate Battle Of Warsaw

WINDSOR, Aug. 27—(CP)—A Polish gathering from Detroit and Windsor Sunday celebrated the famous battle of Warsaw, Aug. 15, 1920.

For the 2,000 Poles, festivities brought back into dramatic relief the 1920 struggle at the gates of Warsaw, the capital of Poland, when Polish forces stopped marching West Soviet armies.

The event is not commemorated in Poland now under Communist rule.

Collide In Lakefield

LAKEFIELD, Aug. 27 (ENS)—Two cars driven by Wm. Corby, Lakefield and George Fletcher of the Maples, suffered minor damages Saturday night about 7.30 when they met head-on at Albert and Concession Sts.

Chief Garnet Samis investigated.

Rangers Broken Up

FORT BRAGG, NC, Aug. 27—(AP)—The United States Rangers of the Second World War are being broken up as a unit by the army and assigned to individual infantry missions. It is the end of an era for the Rangers, trained along the same lines as British Commandos in the last war. There still will be Rangers, but they will be trained and assigned as individuals and not as units.

Arrest 100 Suspects

JAKARTA, Indonesia, Aug. 27 —(AP)—Military police have arrested 100 more suspected subversives bringing the total to 2,000 jailed in three weeks. About 25 of those picked up Sunday were members of the Mushumi Moslem party—Indonesia's biggest government group. It was the first time all suspects arrested were not left-wingers. Eighteen members of parliament have been jailed. Three have been freed.

18 Fatalities Reported In E. Canada At Weekend

By The Canadian Press

Two deaths from police bullets, a jet plane crash, a murder and a death from mysterious head injuries accounted for five of the 18 fatalities reported in Eastern Canada during the weekend.

A Canadian Press compilation showed that of the other 13 persons who met violent death during the weekend, nine died in highway accidents, three were drowned and one died after a fall down a flight of stairs.

Eleven of the fatalities occurred in Ontario, six in Quebec, and one in New Brunswick.

In Toronto, John Sarosky—also known to the police by three other names—was shot and killed in a gunfight which developed when police surprised him and three other men in attempt to crack a post office vault.

Twenty-two-year old Malcolm Mochoruk of Windsor, died in a fusilade of police bullets when he was attempting to run away from a break-in at a construction shack on the outskirts of Windsor.

Flt. Lt. Don Brown, 31, of Toronto, was killed when his RCAF Vampire jet aircraft crashed and burned 20 feet from a house in Toronto's suburban North York township.

Roy Thompson, 35, a Peterborough scrap dealer, was killed in him home by a .22-calibre rifle bullet which pierced his chest. Police arrested his wife and charged her with murder.

Found Beside Road

Near St. Raymond,Que., just west of Quebec City, Aurele Godin, 49, was found semi-conscious beside a side road. He died shortly after from head injuries, the cause of which is not known.

Ronald Bridges, 19, of Guelph, died of injuries received in a motorcycle crash near Guelph. Allan Lloyd Hunter, 38, of Byron, Ont., and Leonard Lyman Welsh, 3 months, of RR 1, Dutton, Ont., were killed when cars in which they were riding left the road and plunged into ditches.

At Orillia, Cecil Merrit, 33, Orillia garage mechanic, was killed when his automobile collided with another car.

Drowned were: Vincent Lefebvre, 30, of Windsor, when he suffered a heart attack and toppled out of a boat near his summer home at Amherstburg, Ont.; Bill Powlis, 17, of Burlington, Ont., when he fell off a cement breakwater near his home and Donald Saunders, 45, of Jarvis, Ont., when he fell off a pier at Port Dover on Lake Erie.

In Montreal, Brian Wattier, 22, was killed in a motorcycle accident; Gertrude Chartrand, 18 months, was killed when her father's car collided with a truck and Richard Durand, 14, died of injuries suffered when he fell down a flight of stairs. All three persons came from Montreal.

Fernand Robert, 21, of Beauport, Que., died in an automobile accident on the Island of Orleans and Robert Forcier, 39, was killed when the automobile he was driving went out of control and smashed into a tree near Three Rivers.

In the Maritimes, Mrs. Walter Jensen, 25, was fatally injured near Plaster Rock, NB, when a door of her husband's truck opened on a curve and she was thrown to the road.

Five Reunited After Long Trip

MAPLE, Ont., Aug. 27. (CP)—Five persons who travelled a long and dangerous trip across the closed boundaries of Europe only to be separated again for more than a month by the Atlantic Ocean had a joyous reunion in this village 30 miles north of Toronto, Sunday.

The five are Mr. and Mrs. Josef Shillih, daughter Jane, 27, son George 25, and their German shepherd dog, Perra, 4.

Perra, who led the family across the mountains to escape from Yugoslavia, arrived in Canada first, more than a month ago. Landing at Dorval, Que., by plane, she broke away and was missing more than 10 days. She was recaptured and sent to kennels here to recuperate.

George H. Corson On Way To Convention

TORONTO, Aug. 27 — (CP) — George Hebden Corsan, 94, apparently recovered from a fall in which he broke his neck last May, is off to Wisconsin for a convention of fellow nut-growers.

His wife, a retired Toronto teacher in her 60s, is doing the driving on the trip. One of Mr. Corsan's last acts before he left was to climb the walnut tree from which he fell while climbing last spring.

JOLIET, Ill., Aug. 27—(AP)—Pte. Hubert Reeves, 19-year-old quadruple amputee of the Korean war, will be married Sept. 9 to an 18-year-old girl he met through letters she wrote him while he was in a hospital. The bride-elect is Beverly Jean Hall of Wilmington, Ill.

Third Mass Pardon

TOKYO, Aug. 27—(AP)—The Japanese government today announced the third mass pardon of former military war criminals. It was aproved by the occupation authorities. The group, slated for freedom, totalled 21,130. It included 361 colonels and 388 Navy captains.

Courtesy Call

TOKYO, Aug. 27 — (AP) — Emperor Hirohito today made a courtesy call on Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway. It was the Emperor's second visit to the Supreme Allied Commander's residence since Ridgway replaced Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Children's Day At Toronto Ex

TORONTO, Aug. 27. (CP) — This is Children's Day at the Canadian National Exhibition. Five cents will get a boy or girl into the big fairgrounds and another nickel will take him or her on almost any midway ride.

Cloudy skies were forecast with temperatures a few degrees below the 80-degree mark reached Saturday when 16,000 veterans of three wars marched in the Warriors' Day parade.

However, the scheduled drop in temperature, coupled with the influx of thousands of excited children, was expected to push up the attendance—perhaps beyond the Saturday figure of 274,500.

Four hundred persons were treated Saturday by the St. John Ambulance Corps, most of them for heat and exhaustion and others for minor burns, cuts, bruises and blisters. Scores of children were lost and found — and lost again — and police reported one man looking for his "lost wife."

Today likely will be the fa biggest day for lost children. b tradition, youngsters usually become "lost" almost as soon as they reach the 350-acre grounds and later are found feeding on ice cream and cookies at the special lost children's building where worried parents eventually apply.

Wilf Carter And Band Play For Street Dance

NORWOOD, Aug. 27 (ENS)—The Norwood Branch of the Canadian Legion held a very successful street dance on Friday evening.

The main attraction was Wilf Carter and his band and the Trent Valley Rambler's who were accompanied by Uncle Tommy Mitts, champion square dance caller and three vocalists.

They provided the music for round and square dancing.

For those who did not dance the Legion provided plenty of entertainment in the form of bingo, numerous wheels and other games.

The gate prize was drawn by Wilf Carter and won by Mrs. Kenneth Kavanagh, Norwood.

Absent 27 Years

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 27 — (ENS)—A former resident of this town, Booker Nadoo, of Washington, DC, has returned to Campbellford after an absence of 27 years.

Mr. Nadoo operated a pool room on Front St. 30 years ago. He is presently employed by the Western Union Telegraph Company in Washington.

Defensive Bloc With Tito Harriman Aim

By ALEX SINGLETON

BLED, Yugoslavia, Aug. 27 — (AP)—Formation of a strong defensive bloc against Russian imperialism in south-eastern Europe is believed here to have been the aim of W. Averell Harriman's weekend visit to Marshal Tito.

Harriman, President Truman's top-ranking diplomatic troubleshooter, paused in Yugoslavia Saturday and Sunday en route from Tehran, Iran, to London.

It is an open secret that the United States, Britain and various other Atlantic Pact countries would like countries in this area —Yugosalvia, Greece, Turkey and perhaps Italy—to draw together in a military alliance.

Collectively they could mount enough strength in fighting men and material to challenge, with American help, Soviet hopes of obtaining a controlling position in the Mediterranean.

Yugoslavia has an army second in size only to Russia's on the European continent. The Greek army has been toughened by its experiences in the recently-ended civil war and is equipped by the U.S. The Turks always have proved formidable foes.

The United States dreamed of such an alliance as long ago as 1946. At that time, Tito still was allied with the Kremlin.

Support for the alliance was demonstrated by Congressional passage of the Greek-Turkey aid bill which bolstered anti-Russian morale in both countries.

With the split between Tito and Stalin the situation improved further.

Yugoslavia, while insisting on a neutral position, had to turn to the west for economic aid and military equipment no longer available from its one time Communist allies.

All these factors were brought out over the luncheon table Saturday where Harriman and Tito sat talking for five hours.

Passenger Hurled Through Windshield

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 27 — (ENS) — Hurled through the windshield of a companion's car early Saturday morning, Charles O'Rourke, 22, of the Campbellford district, received multiple head injuries and facial lacerations requiring 27 stitches to close.

Howard Clark, 20, driver of the car, escaped uninjured. The car, a 1936 model, went out of control on the Hastings Road about one miles west of this town, and crashed into a hydro pole. It was badly damaged.

Dr. W. W. Baker, of Campbellford, attended the injured man at the scene, and removed him to Campbellford hospital, where he was later released after treatment. Constable W. Erskine, of Campbellford, investigated.

Gladioli Garden Popular At Marmora

MARMORA, Aug. 27 (ENS) — William Aunger's gladioli display in the garden of his home on No. 7 Highway about three miles west of Marmora is again attracting attention.

He grows 100 different varieties and has extended the floral plot this year. Blooms from one variety "Joe Shibert" secured first prize at the CNE last year. Another variety is named after the waters near which he has lived most of his life, "Crowe Lake".

Need More Workers

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27—(AP)—The Director of the Labor Department's Women's Bureau estimates that approximately 1,500,000 persons "not normally in the labor market" will be required in the American defence program by the end of 1952. "The largest proportion" of these, Miss Frieda S. Miller said "are housewives and other women who do not ordinarily hold down jobs outside the home."

THE GROVE SCHOOL
LAKEFIELD

The new Memorial Building, nearing completion, will facilitate the enrolment of a number of DAY PUPILS from Peterborough and the surrounding district.

The course of studies is that laid down by the Department of Education and the matriculation forms are inspected each year by the Department. The curriculum includes organized games and Naval Cadet training.

Next term starts on Wednesday, the Twelfth of September.

Applications should be addressed to the Headmaster.

Swimming, canoeing, rowing, sailing, fishing—these enter into most vacation plans. But too often, holidays bring tragedies—over 1000 Canadians drown each year.
The Canadian Red Cross Society water safety rules are printed here in the hope that both adults and children will learn them, respect them, and obey them.

RED CROSS Rules for Water Safety

1. Learn to swim safely. Join a swim class sponsored by Red Cross or other recognized organizations. Know your own limitations as a swimmer.
2. Learn artificial respiration. The briefest delay in applying it may cost a life.
3. Where to swim. If possible, swim in a supervised area. Investigate unknown water before swimming or diving. Respect "DANGER" signs.
4. When to swim. Late morning and afternoon are the safest hours in which to swim.
5. Temperature and time. Between 70° and 80° is best (warmer water relaxes too much, colder exhausts) 30 minutes is long enough in the water for the average swimmer.
6. Swimming after eating. Wait at least 2 hours after eating a regular meal before swimming.
7. Panic contributes to most accidents. Learn to scull and tread water. Novices must stay in shallow water while learning to swim.
8. Exhaustion. Avoid over-activity before a swim. Over-exertion while swimming, and extremely cold water also contribute to exhaustion.
9. Always have a companion when fishing, swimming or boating. Never swim alone.
10. Reaching aids. Learn how to use all reaching aids; how to use floating objects to support yourself; how to throw headline and ring buoy.
11. Cramps. If hit by stomach cramps, scull to support yourself and call for help. To ease leg cramps, take a deep breath, submerge, and raise cramped muscles with thumb and fingers of one hand, pressing through the muscles to meet those of the other hand.
12. Currents. Never buck a current. Swim diagonally across and with its flow. If unable to reach shore, drift to save strength and call for help. If caught by an undertow, go with it and swim diagonally upwards to the surface.
13. Weeds. Use gentle, slow drawing and shaking movements to get out of weeds. Swim with the current, not against it, until freed.
14. Boating. If capsized, hang onto the boat and call for help. Never enter a canoe unless you are an experienced, competent swimmer.

The Third Discovery Of The West

The Canadian West has had three ages of discovery, exploration and exploitation: the Fur Age; the Wheat Age; the Oil Age; it is now well into the third. Hudson's Bay Company and others of historical fame sent men into the West to discover and capitalize on its rich store of furs. That era was pushed towards the West's fringes when settlers followed the voyageurs and fur-traders and began to cultivate the soil. With them came the marvellous development of wheat farming. Now in the midst of a grain field an old well is spurting, and the wheat fields are dotted with drills and piping equipment. In many places in Alberta oil derricks are now as common a sight on the horizon as granaries. Thus the West has a glittering series: the golden fleece, the golden fields of waving wheat; the oil more precious than gold.

* * *

Because of the western petroleum developments Canada now ranks tenth as the largest producer in the world, and the fourth largest in the Western Hemisphere. During the first half of 1951 Canadian oil production increased 59.1 per cent. over the same period of 1950. The average daily output this year is estimated at 108,000 barrels as compared with 67,900 last year. Here is the recent heirarchy of oil producers: 1) U.S.A. 6,062,000 barrels a day. 2) Venezuela 1,672,000 barrels a day; 3) Russia 790,000 barrels; 4) Saudi Arabia 671,000; 5) Iran 665,000; 6) Kuwait (Arabia) 442,000; 7) Mexico 204,000; 8) Iraq 170,000; 9) Indonesia 150,000, and 10) Canada 108,000 barrels a day.

Old Age Assistance And Old Age Security

It is an anomly that the universal pension of $40 a month for all people of seventy and over is a fixed and sure thing yet no legislation or Act of Parliament has yet been introduced or passed to give it any reality whatsoever. On the other hand, pensions for needy people between the ages of 65 and 70 for which legislation has been made, are still hazy and few know much about them for certain. There are adequate reasons for this curious state of affairs.

"Old Age Security"—by which the Government means pensions as of right for everybody of 70 or more who applies for them regardless of their financial circumstances—have been promised by the Prime Minister and other Cabinet Ministers. All major political parties in the House of Commons have expressed their approval of the principle. They have agreed that Ottawa should foot the whole bill. Application forms for this new $40-a-month pension have been issued. The pension is certain of payment beginning next January; yet not one word of legislation has provided for it. The reason is that the Government has not yet decided how the money to pay for the universal pension will be provided—about $250 million a year. Will it be taken out of general funds? Will special taxes be levied for it? If so, where and how? This is a very important matter, and the answers to the problem could not be found in the short time available at the end of the last session of Parliament (June).

On the other hand, Parliament has passed a Bill (called "An Act to Provide for Old Age Assistance") to give pensions to those between 65 and 70 needing them. This Act was passed on June 23rd. Why then is there public ambiguity about this phase of the new pensions policy? The reason is that "Old Age Assistance" is to be a joint Federal-Provincial undertaking—not as with "Old Age Security" (the $40-pensions for all of seventy and over), only a Federal payment. Each province has to agree on terms with Ottawa.

To enable the Provinces to take action, the House of Commons at Ottawa passed the "Act to Provide for Old Age Assistance." It is an enabling Act. It starts the ball rolling to the Provinces. The Ontario Government has already picked it up, and a special session of the Ontario Legislature is being called in September only to deal with this matter. The Ontario Minister of Welfare said last week that the Ontario Government will introduce legislation providing old age assistance to needy persons aged between 65 and 70 on these terms: single persons over 65 who quality will get $40 a month and will be permitted to earn $240 in addition. Couples will be permitted to earn (including the pensions) a total of $1,200 before they are disqualified for the full pension. Ottawa and Toronto will share the costs equally.

This is precisely in line with the Ottawa policy of assistance to those who have reached the age of 65. Bill Number 395 passed June 23rd states: (a) that any such person who has lived in Canada for the last twenty years can get the pension—not exceeding $40, if, unmarried, his income inclusive of pension assistance is not more than $720 a year; or, married and living with his spouse, their combined income inclusive of pension assistance is not more than $1,200. A single person getting a $40 monthly pension, has through it $480 a year; he is therefore allowed to earn up to $240 a year extra and still qualify for the full $40 pension. If a man and his wife, both 65 or over, get the pension, their income from this source is $960. He or she may have an income up to $240 additional, and still qualify for the full pensions.

It is likely that other Provinces will follow Ontario's lead in this and pass similar legislation, in agreement with the Ottawa bill. The fact is that the whole matter of old age pensions has been discussed long ago between Ottawa and the Provinces, and agreements reached. With the passing of the June 23rd Bill at Ottawa and the similar legislation which the Ontario Legislature will pass at its special session, the uncertainty is ended about the financial assistance to persons between 65 and 70 years of age in Ontario.

The only uncertainty now about the whole matter is: how and where is the money to be found? Will Ontario set up a special fund? Will Ottawa earmark some tax for the Old Age Security? At the Fall session of the House of Commons this will be made known. The likelihood is that some existing tax or some new tax will be especially earmarked for the old age pension fund. If a new tax is introduced, some present tax is likely to be dropped or lessened. Ottawa now has enough taxing capacity to provide the money this year. What it apparently wants to do is to ensure that any and every year a specified tax field will yield the pensions money required. If such a new tax field is opened, then some existing taxes will probably be reduced or dropped so as not to increase the present surplus.

British "Utility" Wins Its Spurs

Ten years ago under the pressure of war and the strain of providing for it the British Government set up "Utility" standards—and fixed the retail prices—of manufactured domestic goods. This was done in order to avoid waste, to cut out luxuries and frills, to assist the rationing scheme, and to keep goods within the incomes of the people. So were made and sold utility dining room suites for newly-married couples, utility prams, utility corsets, utility hats, utility suits for men (no trouser cuffs, no pocket flaps, no lapel). From stem to gudgeon, from John o'Groats to Land's End, all was Utility. Britons moaned and groaned and apologized ("It's only Utility, but, you know, it's all we could get"). Ten years later, in this 1951, Britain still has 'Utility' and it is now the most popular legacy of the war years.

The system has evolved slowly and undramatically, adapting itself gradually to changing circumstances. 'Utility' is not as austere as it was, for instance: frills are allowed in carefully measured centimeters. Apart from food, drink and tobacco, it accounts for a third in value of all the goods sold over shop counters. More than half the cotton or linen clothes bought are Utility, and as much as 90 per cent. of the furniture, 97 per cent. of the shoes and 85 per cent. of the socks or stockings.

"Utility" goods have gone far from the "standard clothing" and "standard shoes" suggested to the Cabinet in 1940. The British are not a standardized people, and even the most austere Utility stuffs produced during the war had a large variety. That variety in fabric, design and price has been increased. Some Britons do still bewail 'Utility', though they are glad to have it, for the prices are reasonable (sometimes subsidized) and non-utility goods are expensive.

A Canadian young lady with an eye for good materials and cut bought a complete costume of Utility goods this summer when she was visiting in Britain. One of her hostesses, seeing her in this new garb said enviously: "Oh, you Americans! Your clothes are so smart and good; you come over here dressed as none of us can dress. But you have the goods in abundance and the money to spend. We have less to spend, and 'Utility'." The English lady was astounded when told that every item of clothing which she was admiring on the Canadian was British 'Utility.'

The Government no longer can allot cloth nor can it force a manufacturer to produce a given percentage of his output in Utility clothes. But the manufacturers still go on making Utility at controlled prices because it is popular and sells at half the price of non-Utility goods. Utility clothes and furniture can be sold free of the heavy purchase tax.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Politics is a pursuit in which the path of glory leads but to the gravy.

A British scientist says that late hours are good for one. Many young couples are sure that they are good for two.

When estimating the number of people who succumb to heat prostration, some attention should be paid to the morons who are knocked down by those whom they ask if they find it hot enough for them.

Canadian of 113 Proven Oldest

By DR. HARVEY GRAHAM
(in Illustrated London)

MR. A. is a hundred. He attributes his good health and old age to the fact that he does not smoke and is a teetotaller.

Mr. B. is also a hundred. He attributes his good health to the fact that he has smoked an ounce of tobacco a day since the age of 12 and has been drinking beer or spirits ever since he could hold a tankard.

✧ ✧ ✧

FOR every 100-year-old who says his ripe old age is due to something, it is easy enough to produce another centenarian who credits the same result to something entirely opposite. There seems to be no common denominator, no outstanding reason why people should reach three figures. Old age, therefore, becomes an absorbing study for the scientist and the physician as well as for the economist.

In Batley, a little Yorkshire town, where he employs 1,600 men and women to make woollen cloth in Blakeridge Mills, lives Theodore C. Taylor who celebrated his 100th birthday last year. Every morning he is up at six o'clock to drive 40 miles from his home to Grassington to the mill and start work. He could have retired 40 years ago and yet he is still on the job, neat, brisk and efficient.

✧ ✧ ✧

PERHAPS Mr. Taylor has much in common with Sir Moses Montefiore, who built up a huge business empire and created a famous hospital in New York. He said his old age was due to retiring early from work and never getting excited. But long after his 100th birthday he was in his office every day, getting excited about new projects and leading an army of employees, many of whom were a quarter of his age.

A tablet in Westminster Abbey tells us that Thomas Parr lived to the age of 152. He died in 1635. Henry Jenkins died in 1670 at the age of 169. It says so on a tombstone in Bolton Churchyard, which refers in glowing marble to "temperance, a life of labour, and a mind at ease."

Had she not been so foolish as to climb a cherry tree at the age of 140, the Countess of Desmond might well have beaten Thomas Parr's total. She fell off and she died. Moving farther afield, there was Numas de Cugna, a native of Bengal, who died in 1566 at the reputed age of 370. He had grown four complete new sets of teeth in his astonishing lifetime and he had outlived, with malicious glee, 700 wives.

✧ ✧ ✧

TOMBSTONES and tablets record not the truth but whatever was firmly believed by the bereaved relatives. Relatives will believe anything. But even the relatives demurred, when in Chave Priory, Worcestershire, one villager's age was carved on the tombstone as 309. This was chiselled in by a mason who had never had to write 39, but knew how to write 30 and 9.

Leaving on one side the unsupported fabulous ages, there are a lot of people today who reach the true age of 100. The span of life has been increasing steadily and a lot more is known about the question of how to live to be a hundred.

First of all, it is better to be born a man than a mouse. Generally speaking, small animals are shorter lived than large ones. Mice and guinea pigs and rabbits come quickly to maturity and have a short life. Men and elephants mature slowly and live longer.

✧ ✧ ✧

SECONDLY, it is better to be born a woman that a man. There are four to five times as many women centenarians as men.

Most gerontologists—the experts on old age—will accept as proved the case of the Canadian citizen who lived to 113. Anything more than this is suspect. But all old-age experts look forward to interviewing the first man or woman to reach the proved age of 120.

Thirdly—and probably most important—anyone who wants to live to be 100 should select their parents with the greatest possible care, beause old age does run in families.

Existing records of long-lived families are being carefully studied by experts like Dr. V. Korenchevsky, of the Gerontological Research Unit at Oxford. He is one of the leading authorities on old age, and his unit is largely financed by the Nuffield Foundation.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE Foundation is interested in obtaining information about a real problem which is now arising. The Royal Commission on Population say that in two or three years' time Britain will have a group of more than 6,000,000 older people—men over 65 and women over 60. By 1975 it will be over 7,000,000 and by 1985 just under 8,000,000—or just about the same as the number of children under 15.

This is a formidable load for the wage-earning population to carry. The answer, of course, is obvious. There are scores of men and women who work well and effectively long past the arbitary normal retiring age. Old men and women are happier and live longer when they continue at work.

Everybody knows active men and women who have retired at some statutory age limit, stopped work, lost interest and died after only a few years.

As it is certain that there are going to be more old people, it is important to find out all we can about old age. We need to know first, how and why people live to the age of 100. Secondly, how they can be kept active and useful and in good health for as much of their long lives as possible.

Royal Mountain

(Ottawa Citizen)

A mountain is to be named in honor of Princess Elizabeth during her visit to Canada. Everyone will approve the sentiment. The choice should be a peak presently without a name; otherwise there will be a risk of repeating the mistake that was made a few years ago in selecting a mountain to honor General Eisenhower. In that case, the government saw fit to change the name of Castle Mountain west of Banff, which is one of the most famous landmarks in the main range of the Rockies. If ever a mountain was aptly named in the first place, it was that ponderous and buttressed mass of limestone.

The old-timers were unhappy over the change. Many Calgarians and others who travel through the Rockies still ignore the official designation; to them it is still Castle. And they mean no offence at all to a great man. Some other way could have been found to show "Ike" how well we think of him.

Established place names, whether of rivers, lakes, mountains or cities, are not to be tampered with lightly. This should be a guiding thought for those who cast about for an appropriately royal mountain.

KILLJOY WILL BE THERE

Wrong Farm Policy Yardstick

(WINNIPEG FREE PRESS)

THE submission to the federal government presented by the recent convention of prairie farm unions contained one remarkable paragraph which was opposed unsuccessfully but with vigor and good sense by a minority of delegates. This section read as follows:

"During the emergency of World War II, our farmers co-operated wholeheartedly in the national effort. It is not improbable their co-operation may be needed again. We wish respectfully, but earnestly, to warn you not to take for granted that such co-operation may be so readily given in future, unless the basis of present western agricultural dissatisfaction is removed . . ."

The record of the convention does not make clear the origin of this resolution. But assuredly this farmers' union movement is due for early failure, along with so many similar movements in the past, if it really means what this resolution purports to say.

The clear suggestion here is that this group of farmers are not citizens of Canada and will not bear the burdens of citizenship unless rewarded to their satisfaction. Hence the threat.

In talking like this the farmers' union, as all right minded farmers will realize, is suggesting that a part of the community, if it so chooses, could sit back in splendid isolation, and accept or reject offers for its services when the nation is in peril.

This country, as a democracy, does not wage wars of aggression. It goes to war when its security as a nation is threatened. It goes to war to protect the freedom of each and all of its citizens and in doing so it asks us as citizens, to play our part according to our individual means. Some give their lives—all give of their substance.

In war there is but one yardstick for policy. Does the particular policy help beat the enemy and save the state? Claims are being made on the behalf of farmers for compensation for the prices paid under wartime price control for wheat in the last war. Such claims ought never to be sanctioned by responsible farmers just as they will never be allowed by the federal parliament. And the reason is that wartime prices were fixed not with an eye to economic fair play but only with a view to winning the war. Any sacrifices entailed in such control obviously are but a part of the common sacrifice of all, including the supreme sacrifice of the battle fields.

The position of the farmers in peace time is of course quite different. They are clearly entitled in the sale of their produce to the full returns which that produce will bring. The plain fact is that under the marketing policies of the past few years they have not received those returns. They are therefore justly incensed and have every right to make their protests heard.

This being the case it is unfortunate that the Regina delegates chose in their submission to include a paragraph which is bound to bring comfort and encouragement to enemies abroad and which is entirely unworthy of the farmers of the west.

Just As Young As You Feel

(Hamilton Spectator)

At best, they are a nuisance, these hitch-hikers; they're highway panhandlers. At worst, they're thugs, killers.

Few editions of any newspaper fail to carry reports of motorist Good Samaritans being robbed or murdered by the man who a few miles back had "hitched a ride."

Pointing to the potential dangers to the too-kind motorists and the fact that many a criminal has eluded them with the unwitting aid of ride-giving drivers, police warn: Don't pick up strangers.

Surely an exception could be made, however, of the man who hitch-hiked from San Diego, Calif., to Reno, Nev., recently. The drivers who stopped for the dusty old codger with his 30-pound pack probably didn't believe the yarns he had to spin about the old days. Certainly, the police who picked him up after he had collapsed on a street in Reno were sceptical.

Old John Boyer told them he was bound for Carson City, Nev., seeking his last of kin, a great-great-grandson to whom he had sent his military papers. He told them that, as a veteran of the Civil War, he wanted a military funeral. That was the reason for his long trip and search for kin.

He also told police that he was 104 years old.

And the U.S. War Department confirmed the old hitch-hiker's story. John Boyer had been discharged as an 18-year-old lieutenant in the 184th Pennsylvania Volunteers on March 2, 1865.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Now a certain man was sick, named Lazarus, of Bethany, the town of Mary and her sister Martha . . . When Jesus heard that, he said, This sickness is not unto death, but for the glory of God, that the Son of God might be glorified thereby . . . . Then when Jesus came, he found that he had lain in the grave four days already . . . .

Then said Martha unto Jesus, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died . . . Jesus saith unto her, Thy brother shall rise again. Martha saith unto him, I know that he shall rise again in the resurrection at the last day.

Jesus said unto her, I am the resurrection, and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live: and whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die. Believest thou this? . . . .

Then they took away the stone from the place where the dead was laid. And Jesus lifted up his eyes, and said, Father, I thank thee that thou hast heard me. And I knew that thou hearest me always: but because of the people which stand by I said it, that they may believe that thou hast sent me.

And when he thus had spoken, he cried with a loud voice, Lazarus, come forth. And he that was dead came forth, bound hand and foot with graveclothes: and his face was bound about with a napkin. Jesus saith unto them, Loose him, and let him go. (John 11: 1, 4, 17, 21, 23-26, 41-44.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Arise, shine; for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee. For, behold the darkness shall cover the earth, and gross darkness the people: but the Lord shall arise upon thee, and his glory shall be seen upon thee. And the Gentiles shall come to thy light, and kings to the brightness of thy rising. (Isa. 60: 1-3.)

Unconsidered Trifles

"My girl often compares me with Van Johnson," said the dark-haired Soph.

"But there's no comparison," objected his pal.

"Yeah, that's what my girl says."

"Major, I see two cocktails carried to your room every morning, as if you had someone to drink with."

"Yes sir; one cocktail makes me feel like another man; and, of course I'm bound to treat the other man."

In a discussion on women's styles in an American quiz show, an elderly man was one of the contestants. He was asked: "I suppose you are old enough to remember wasp waists?"

"Remember 'em," he exclaimed bitterly. "That's when I got stung."

"What is the secret of success in life?"

"I don't really know but I fear it is connected with work!"

Father took his small son to church. At one stage of the service the clergyman announced: "We shall now sing hymn number two hundred and twenty. 'Ten Thousand Times Ten Thousand.' Two hundred and twenty."

The puzzled youngster nudged his father. "Dad," he whispered, "do we have to work this out?"

Federation Of Three African Territories Proposed

(British News Letter)

A report recommending a federation of three territories in Central Africa—Southern Rhodesia, Northern Rhodesia and Nyasaland—was published recently as a Command Paper in the UK House of Commons.

Presented jointly by the Secretaries of State for Colonies and Commonwealth Relations, the report was drawn up by the London Conference on Closer Association in Central Africa which met in March this year. It proposes a federation of the three territories under the designation of 'British Central Africa' with a central Federal Government which would be responsible for matters of common concern to the area as a whole, such as External Affairs, Defence, Immigration, Economic Development, Planning, External Trade, Communications, Electricity, Customs and certain other matters. There would be a cabinet of about six ministers and a single-chamber legislature of 35 members (17 representing Southern Rhodesia, 11 Northern Rhodesia and 7 Nyasaland).

Stressing the urgency of the problem of closer association, the report expresses the strong belief that the only policy which can succeed in present conditions is that of economic and political partnership between Europeans and Africans. It proposes that matters most closely affecting Governments should remain under the control of the territorial governments and that a federal minister for African interests be appointed who would act as chairman of a special African board on which Africans would be represented.

In presenting the report, Britain's Secretary of State for the Colonies states that neither the United Kingdom Government nor the other governments concerned are at this stage committing themselves to acceptance of any of the particular proposals in the report, which is published as a basis for consideration and discussion.

Report Actress Can't Vote Hearst Stock

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 27 (AP) —Special administrators of the estate of William Randolph Hearst declared Sunday that a supposed agreement giving the late publisher's long-time friend, Marion Davies, voting control of Hearst's enterprises "has no more effect than if it never existed."

Published reports were that Miss Davies, former actress whose real name is Marion Douras, and Hearst signed an agreement Nov. 5, 1950, under which they were named the only two trustees in a voting trust for the stock of the Hearst Corp., holding company for the enterprises.

The reports said that ownership of their stock in the corporation were pooled for voting purposes and that in the event of the death of either, the other should vote the entire stock for his or her lifetime.

The published story said Miss Davies would receive no pay as trustee.

The statement Sunday was given in the name of the two special administrators, Randolph Apperson Hearst, one of Hearst's five sons, and Henry S. Mackay Jr., personal counsel for the publisher.

The published story said Hearst owned all the 100,000 shares of Hearst Corp., common stock and that he owned 170,000 shares and Miss Davies 30,000 shares of its preferred stock.

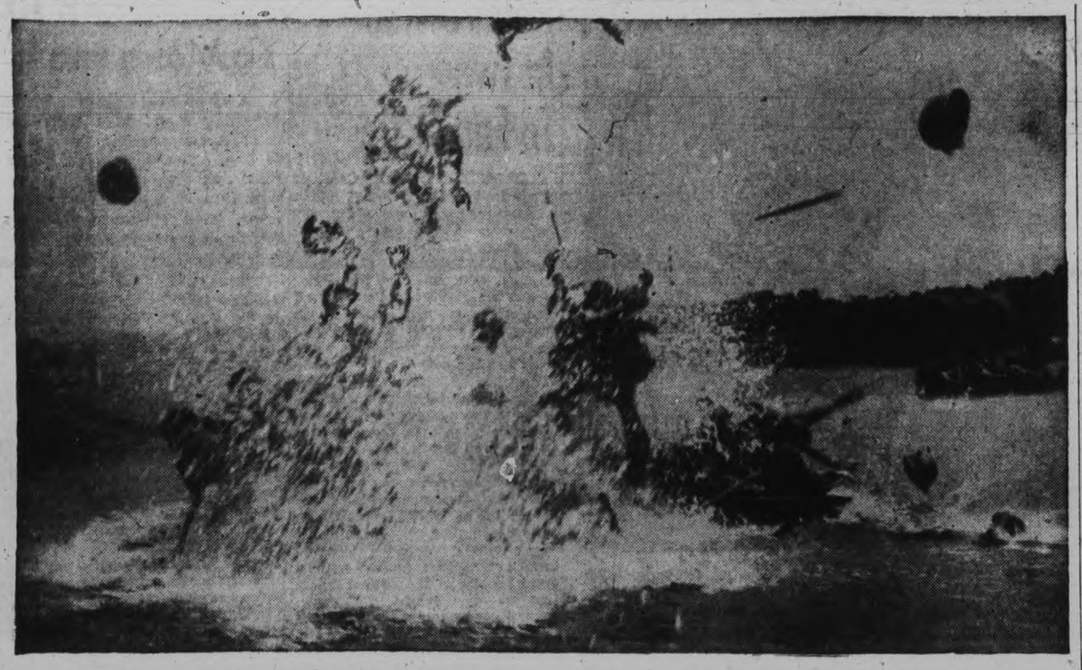
Gift Revoked

Miss Davies, who stepped from a convent to the New York stage as a dancing beauty in 1916, starred in the movies in the 1920s by Hearst-controlled film companies. She had been the publisher's confidante for many years. A codicil in Heart's will said he had given Miss Davies the Beverly Hills, Calif., mansion, where he died, but another codicil revoked the gift.

Miss Davies' lawyer, said she originally purchased the house, deeded it to Hearst and he gave it back to her.

The will established three trusts, one for the benefit of Hearst's widow, Mrs. Millicent Willson Hearst, from whom he had long lived apart; another for the benefit of his five sons and a third for charitable and similar enterprises. The five sons and eight business associates, including Mackay were named as trustees.

Randolph Hearst and Mackay then were named special administrators at least until a hearing on probate of the will is scheduled in Los Angeles probate court.



MEN AND EQUIPMENT HURL SKYWARD in this startling, on-the-spot photograph of an assault boat that accidentally hit an underwater demolition charge during a training exercise of the 47th Infantry Division at Camp Rucker, Ala. The accident resulted as the charges drifted under water into the path of the boat. Ten men were injured in the freak mishap but none was killed. The force of the explosion blew the soldiers and their heavy equipment high into the air in a cascade of spray. Witnesses said it was "almost a miracle" there were no casualties.

Hec Boudreau Found Dead Sitting In Chair

MARMORA, Aug. 27 (ENS)—Calling for gas at Sunset Cabins on No. 7 Highway close to the Deloro turn about 10 p.m. on Friday, a passing tourist found the proprietor, Hec Boudreau, dead in his chair in the refreshment booth adjoining his home. Mrs. Boudreau was away in Marmora at the time and the tourist seeing no one else there, went to John Clemens, a neighbor, to summon aid. Mr. Clemens having no telephone hastened to Marmora to advise Dr. H. G. Parkin, who on arrival pronounced life extinct. Mr. Boudreau has been for some time suffering a heart ailment.

The son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward Boudreau, Hec as he was known to many because of his former baseball associations, was born at Farnham,Que., on June 29, 1894. He entered the employ of the Deloro Smelting and Refining Company Limited in 1921, working in the engineering department until ill health forced retirement on pension early in 1950. In 1924, he was married to Nellie Brown, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Phillips of Marmora township. He was the catcher on the Deloro baheball team for several seasons and was proficient at batting. He was with the team when it won the intermediate championship in 1926.

Hec's general nature assured him a host of friends who will deeply regret his death. Surviving are his wife, a step-son Albert (Bert) Brown, Marmora township; and three sisters, Mrs. Corine Fontaine and Flora, Cohoes, NY, and Mrs. Philip Jette, Farnham, Que.

Having seved in the First World War, he was a member of Marmora branch No. 237 Canadian Legion, under whose auspices the funeral takes place on Monday afternoon leaving his late residence at 2.15 p.m. for St. Andrew's United Church, Marmora, where service will be held with the Rev. George D. Young, BA, BD, officiating. Burial will follow in the Veteran's Plot in Marmora cemetery.

Yoshido Urges Japanese Long Remember Dulles

By ROBERT EUNSON

TOKYO, Aug. 27—(AP—"The nation should long remember the painstaking efforts of Ambassador Dulles and the good will of the United States.

It was Premier Shigeru Yoshida, 72-year-old leader of Japan's 8,000,000 people, telling his countrymen how the peace treaty he intends to sign Sept. 8 in San Francisco.

Yoshida appeared before the Diet—Japan's house of representatives—a slight little man wearing the pince-nez glasses, cutaway coat and striped trousers of a diplomat.

"I wish to express here deep gratitude to General Douglas MacArthur and General Matthew B. Ridgway, who have inspired hope . . ."

Many Japanese had thought that MacArthur's dismissal as commander of occupation forces meant the end to their hopes for a peace treaty. But Rdigway—the fighter—proved to be a diplomat as well.

He stepped agilely into MacArthur's shoes and sent for John Foster Dulles, Republican foreign affairs expert, to return and reassure the Japanese. Dulles had worked with MacArthur on earlier phases of the treaty.

Dulles Real Star

Now Yoshida could mention MacArthur and Ridgway in the same breath but Dulles was the child in Japan knew it.

man who wrote the treaty and virtually every man, woman and

Japanese probably will long remember Yoshida, too.While Dulles travelled afar, getting other nations to agree to the terms of a treaty, Yoshida worked hard at smoothing over any open objections by opposing factions in Japan.

The first feelings of guilt that followed the surrender six years ago—the days of hari-kari—passed quickly.

U.S. mail order houses have done land office business in the last six years as saddle oxfords and print dresses replaced kimonos.

Common sights are American soldiers and Japanese girls walking hand in hand down the Ginza —Tokyo's main drag—jitterbugging in approved dance halls, or shopping in the stores. About 3,000 Japanese girls have married American soldiers.

The occupation has been probably the most benevolent in history, and the Japanese know it.

Union Lays Charges Of Member Raiding

PORT ARTHUR, Apg. 27 (CP) —One Canadian Congress of Labor union Saturday levelled raiding charges against another.

C. W. Doucett, secretary of Local 11 of the Marine and Shipbuilders' Union, said the United Steelworkers of America are carrying on a "full-scale raid" on Marine Union members in lakehead shipyards.

An emergency meeting of the Marine Union Friday night passed a resolution declaring that it would "strongly refuse to participate in any vote" on union jurisdiction in the shipyards, Mr. Doucett said. The workers now are represented by the Marine Union.

Ask For Eyewitnesses Held Solve Crash

OAKLAND, Calif., Aug. 27 —(AP)—Civil Aeronautics officials Sunday appealed for eyewitnesses to speak up and help them determine what caused Friday's United Airlines crash which took 50 lives. All bodies were recovered Saturday.

Ralph A. Reed, chief of the Bureau of Safety and Investigation for C.A.B., said it was believed the airliner was visible from the ground for at least a mile before it plowed into a hillside 20 miles southeast of here.

A public hearing is expected to be held by the CAB in about 10 days.

Youth 21 Held Wounds Officer

DETROIT, Aug. 27—(AP)—Waldo Moon, 21, was held without charge for questioning Sunday in the shooting and wounding a policeman on guard at the home of a top official of the United Auto Workers (CIO).

Police said Moon, an employee of a private detective agency, pulled a revolver Saturday night in attempting to serve a circuit court paper on Emil Mazey, secretary-treasurer of the UAW, in connection with a strike at the Wolverine Tube Division of the Calumet and Hecla Consolidated Copper Co.

Mazey, was not at home at the time of the shooting. He has reported receiving death threats at various times since the assassination attempt on UAW president Walter Reuther in 1948 and Reuther's brother, Walter, also a UAW official, a year later.

Moon said he thought the plainclothes patrolmen were union bodyguards.

Divorce Final

CUERNAVACA, Mexico, Aug. 27 (AP)—Barbara Hutton's divorce became final Saturday when her fourth husband dropped his fight against the decree. Prince Igor Troubetzkoy withdrew his appeal against the divorce to put an end to the six months of legal action.

Says Economic Crash Coming For Canadians

STRATFORD, Aug. 27—(CP)—Sky rocketing costs of living are heading the nation's economy for a crash, Fred Dowling, Toronto national director, told a convention of Ontario unit Packinghouse Workers of America council. The council convention was held at the Canadian Legion Hall here during the weekend with nearly 200 delegates from all over Ontario attending.

Mr. Dowling attacked rising living costs and the lack of a federal government policy of price control; but at the same time he told delegates that an increase in union contracts of 26 cents an hour during the past year put the packinghouse workers among the highest paid group in the country now.

Fear Thieves Have Bank Vault Plans

TORONTO, Aug. 27 — (CP) — Detailed plans of the arrangement of vaults and strong-boxes in 15 Ontario banks may be in the hands of the person who stole a late-model maroon panel truck here Saturday night.

The truck's owner works for a Montreal electrical company that instals alarms and wiring systems in banks and he used the blueprints of the bank interiors in his work. However, police say they do not think the thief took the truck to get the blueprints.

More Jobs In RCAF

WINNIPEG, Aug. 27—(CP)—Some 200 former members of the Canadian Women's Army Corps were told Saturday night why the RCAF has put its women's division on active service before the army. Lt.-Gen. Guy Simonds said the RCAF has many more jobs that women are better qualified to do. He spoke at a dinner during the second annual reunion of former CWAC members.

World Press Service

BONN, Germany, Aug. 27 (AP) —The West German government plans to set up a world-wide press service to serve its foreign missions with domestic news and excerpts from the daily German press, a governmental spokesman announced Sunday. The press service is to be operated similar to the British London Press Service and the United States State Department Press Service, the spokesman said.

Frost Hits Crops

EDMONTON, Aug. 27 (CP)—Light frost threatened late-ripening grain crops in east-central Alberta Sunday night. Elsewhere on the Prairies, clouds and fairly strong winds were expected to ward off any frost danger. Frost is not the only worry of anxious Prairie farmers. Fairly general rain, practically all of it unneeded now, fell over Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba during the weekend.

Approve Hydro

WASAGA BEACH, Ont., Aug. 27 (CP)—Village ratepayers Saturday voted 92 to 32 in favor of having the Ontario Hydro Commission supply the village with electricity. They also approved a proposal to issue $96,000 worth of debentures to buy electrical equipment and to set up a maintenance fund.

Drew Asks Controls On Consumer Goods

HAMILTON, Aug. 27—(CP)—George Drew, national leader of the Progressive Conservative Party, Saturday called for immediate price controls over consumer goods.

He told 1,500 persons attending a Hamilton and district party association picnic that runaway inflation could be halted in the long run only by increased production.

But in the short run, he said, it could be checked by price control at the consumer level.

Plan Power Plant

REGINA, Aug. 27—(CP)—The Saskatchewan Power Corporation is investigating the possibility of establishing a power plant, using natural gas as its fuel, in the Lone Rock area. This was revealed in an interview with J. W. Tomlinson, corporation general manager. He said the prospectitve demand for power in the immediate Lone Rock area is being studied.

Morgan Heads Program

LONDON, Aug. 27 (AP)—Lt.-Gen. Sir Frederick Morgan, 57, was selected by the ministry of supply Sunday to head Britain's atomic energy program. He succeeds Lord Portal, who resigned effective Oct. 1. During the war, Morgan commanded the British First Corps in 1942-43 and was deputy chief of staff to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as supreme commander in 1944-45.

Oshawa Loses To UEW In Fine Game

Howie Dalton's strong UEW men's softball nine came back Saturday night here at the Bowl to defeat Oshawa Duplates 8-6 and even their best-of-three intermediate OASA playdown series at one game apiece. The deciding game is in Oshawa Tuesday.

Reg Gordon, ace twirler of the city loop's leading team, gained revenge over Duplates for defeat in the opener last Thursday; but credit must go also to his mates for brilliant fielding and timely hitting to ensure victory.

Got More Hits

Duplates outhit UE by a good margin but when hits meant runs, the boys from the lake were unable to click as efficiently as the locals, who made each opportunity count. The visitors erred afield too, in a complete reversal of their opening form and this partly accounted for the difference, small but vital, in the summary.

It was a good, hard-fought game to the finish with UE holding an edge all the way—slight but enough—for playoff ball.

Andy Czerewaty slammed the only homer of the night. Castle, McConkey and Spencer conked triples for the only other extra-base clouts. The fielding of Jake Wade in centre for UE was a thing of beauty, with five sparklers; Tom Walton caught a fine game again and Dalton, Thompson, Castle and Casey played up to form. Robson and White grabbed everything they could reach. For Oshawa, Smegal hit four for five and scored a pair to lead the enemy attack and he, Spencer and Loople were best afield.

Oshawa—Spencer, 2b; Price, 3b; Smegal, cf; McConkey, rf; Loople, ss; Morey, lf; Czerewaty, 1b; Walker, c; McKee, p.

UEW — Casey, 2b; Thompson, 3b; Dalton, ss; White, lf; Wade, cf; Robson, rf; Castle, 1b; Walton, c; Gordon, p.

Racer Balks Driver Injured

A crash in the first heat of the 2:27 trot and pace class Saturday afternoon at the exhibition sent Russell Fair, RR 3, Indian River, to the Civic hospital. He was later discharged.

Miss Bell Grattan, a mare owned by F. Conlin, Oshawa, balked on the turn at the start of the first heat. She swung the sulky on the track and Flash Grattan, owned by James Herr, Hastings, and driven by Fair, ran into her, upsetting Fair.

Glendale Banker, owned by Miller Wray of Schomberg, won the heat in 2:17 and the third in 2:23. In second heat Bonda Grattan, owned by C. J. Budd of Woodville was first.

Summary:

One-Time Cowboy Will Bet $50,000

LONDON, Aug. 27 —(AP) — Ray Bell, one-time cowboy and manager of Louis B. Mayer's racing stables, has $50,000 which says his two-year-old Windy City can whip any American turf juvenile on a British track.

Bell's Irish-trained two-year-old won the six-furlong Gimcrack stakes at York last Thursday for his fourth successive victory. He claims he is the fastest two-year-old in Britain.

The Beverly Hils owner challenged any American turfman to send a horse over here to race against Windy City either as a two- or a three-year-old.

If a match could be arranged, it probably would be the biggest draw in international horse racing since Papyrus, 1923 winner of the derby, was shipped to the United States to race against Zev 28 years ago.

Juniors Clinch Top Spot With A Victory

Miller Bowl was the scene of a rousing junior OLA battle on Saturday night as Lou Vitarelli's battling Filter Queens handed Mimico a 14-12 defeat in the final clash of the season for the locals, prior to play-offs.

Filter Queens have finished atop their group in a sizzling race with a record of 13 wins, four losses and a tie game for a point total of 27. Mounties can creep to within three points by copping their two remaining games.

Victory on Saturday in the finale (which incidentally was definitely a preview of things to be when play-offs start between these strong rivals) came as a result of a great sustained drive both ways in the final quarter by Filters, after the teams had played on even terms for 45 minutes in a grand two-way show.

Three Apiece

Rock Batley, who notched three along with Lou Nickel and Jerry Heffernan, broke the ice at the seven-minute mark in the fourth on a Rock-angle special; and Nickel followed suit on a lovely finish to a play set up by Gary Robinson, two minutes later. Batley hit the twine again on a neat solo at 13:08, after the teams had battled on fairly even terms for five minutes during which goalie Nicholls made some amazing stops. The work of Bill Nicholls in the final frame was a decisive factor. Meeke scored the final Mimico tally with a few seconds to go.

Leading the scoring parade with three apiece, Batley, Nickel, and Heffernan were followed by the Robinson brothers, Jerry O'Reilly, and Carl Brioux with one apiece; while Heffernan, Grant Burns, and Steve Morrissey assisted once. For Mounties, it was Milhilsen, Sandford, Hart, Meeke, and Lubbock for first honors.

Mimico — Goal, Tomchisen; defence, McNeil, Lubbock; centre, Baragar; wings, Kelly, Hodsdon; rover, McIntyre; alternates, Milhilsen, Riley, Sandford, Meeke, Harte, Rock, Mitchell.

Filter Queens — Goal, Nicholls; defence, Groves, Nickel; centre, Powell; wings, Brioux, G. Robinson; rover, B. Robinson; alternates, O'Reilly, Burns, Morrissey, Heffernan, Batley, Farley, Fitzgerald, Simmons.

Referees—Jim Davidson, Mimica, Sandya Milne, Port Credit.

Hastings Winners To Even Up Series

HASTINGS, Aug. 27 (ENS).—Hastings intermediates evened their best-of-three series with Marmora Saturday night as they trounced them 16-2 on the Tweed diamond. Smoke, on the mound for Hastings had almost a perfect game. He gave up one hit in the first inning, and that coupled with only two errors gave Marmora their two runs. From then in, he shut them out without a hit and McComb took over in the eighth and except for a walk, set them down in order. Hastings showed a complete reversal of form from their first game and after the first inning there was no doubt of the outcome. Crowley showed his old form at bat. In the second with the bases loaded, he hit a long homer, then banged out another homer in the eighth. In the sixth Sullivan hit a four-bagger with bases loaded and Beavis hit a long round-tripper in the eighth.

Holmes was pressed into service as receiver and did a good job, but the entire team looked well though the outfield never had a fly all night.

McInroy started for Marmora and was hit hard and Trumble took over in the sixth, but fared no better, as the Hastings boys were suffering strictly from hunger. G. Leonard got the lone hit for them. The third and deciding game is to be played in Tweed Monday night under the lights, and the winner goes against Pickering Wednesday night at Marmora or Hastings.

Hastings: Phillips lf, Crowe rf, Scriver 2b, Sullivan 1b, Richardson cf, Beavis ss, Holmes c, Smoke p, Crowley 3b, McComb p.

Marmora: Trumble cf, p; Stewart ss, E. Leonard 2b, G. Leonard 1b, Maynes 3b, McInroy p, cf, Darrah ss, Thomilson c, Drummond lf, Moss c, Parnuik ss.

UEW Victorious By 6 to 0 Over Belleville

The UEW soccer squad took an easy 6-0 win over the North-Easterners in Belleville on Saturday, and now need but three more points to assure them of the Eastern Ontario soccer championship. Next week they meet Kingston United (1950 champions) here in their toughest test.

UEW dominated play all through and the issue was never in doubt from Holt's early goal on a cross shot from the right. After many shots went in and around the goal area, A. Smith tore in close to make it 2-0.

The teams changed ends at that score and again Peterborough put on the pressure. The uneven ground made it hard to control the ball but further goals were scored by Holt, with two more for the hat trick, Smith and Cotton. The final whistle brought the UE total to date to 16 victories and one defeat. The teams:

A. Smith, Holroyd, Titshall, Allan, Mundy, Cotton, Craig, Davis, Holt. Robertson, Strong; alternate, Ward.

St. Kitts Dump Hamilton 6-3

By The Canadian Press.

St. Catharines rose to a 6-3 win over Hamilton Tigers in their up-and-down senior lacrosse playoff series Saturday night. The game gives St. Catharines a 2-1 lead, with their first game tied.

St. Catharines, undaunted by a defeat in their Friday night contest, held back a determined Tiger drive. It was a one-goal night for scorers of both teams. Bob Melville, Tony Damico, Ken Croft, Max Woolley, Don Frick and Doug Smith scored for St. Catharines while Elmer Lee, Blaine McDonald and Merv McKenzie each got one for the Tigers.

The fifth and, possibly, deciding game is slated for Hamilton Monday night.

Mrs. Graham Pyke Wins Golf Tourney

KINGSTON, Aug. 27 (CP). — Mrs. Graham Pyke of the Whitlock and Royal Montreal Golf Clubs Saturday won the eastern provinces open ladies golf tournament and the third annual international invitation ladies open at the Cataraqui Golf and Country Club here.

She defeated Daintry Chisholm of the Royal Montreal and Whitlock Clubs 3 and 2 in the final round. Mrs. Pyke had won two up over little Marlene Stewart, Canada's ladies open and close champion from the Lookout Point Golf Club at Fonthill, Ont., in the semi-final round Saturday morning.

Miss Chisholm reached the final with a two-up victory on the 18th in her morning match with Mrs. N. J. Carlson of Toronto Rosedale.

Marylebone Visitors Defeat Victoria

VICTORIA, BC, Aug. 27 (CP) —The touring Marylebone Cricket Club Sunday defeated a Victoria XI by 136 runs before a large crowd at Beacon Hill Park.

The MCC ran up a score of 231. Victoria scored 95.

Batting first, the visitors' Walford and Powell put on 63 for the first wicket before the latter was bowled by Jack Payne for 31. Walford's patient 45, which took 90 minutes, was ended by Jack Sparks who held a hard return. On the next ball, a misunderstanding between R. W. V. Robins and J. R. Thompson led to Thompson being run out.

Feminine softball at the Bowl d'Ashburnham is a feature tonight, if the weather behaves. Marines and Ashby's are at it at seven in their third city intermediate final, each having won a game, and this is followed by Kingston vs. the local Woollens. Latter is the first of a best-of-three PWSU junior playdown series, return one later this week in the Limestone City. So, that's a classy colleens' twin bill for the customers. On Wednesday night on the same diamond, Toronto and Westclox open their two-of-three PWSU playdowns, and this, also, should be well worth seeing. Summer schedules are o'er and it's all playoff stuff now, with sudden endings for certain teams.

Howie Dalton's UEW male softballers realized that they had to do or die here Saturday, and they didn't die. Beat out the strong Oshawa Duplates 8-6 to sew up their OASA intermediate "A" playdown set, forcing a deciding game in the Motor City on the morrow. Though outhit by a goodly margin, the scrappy UEW crew made their bingles count, and cashed in on some loose Oshawa fielding. Reg Gordon pitched in steady style with runners aboard and had fine support in the field. Castle, McConkey and Spencer hit triples for the winners. They hope to oust Oshawa on Tuesday and go into the next round. Meantime, the men's city finals between Orphans and UEW will be settled on Thursday night in the Bowl, Orphans leading three to two.

Both OLA Clubs Won

While Lou Vitarelli's OLA juniors were downing Mimico here Saturday neatly to clinch first place, the senior Petes rubbed out the Thistles at Fergus 16-9 to advance into Mann Cup semi-finals. They take the bye into the Eastern Canada finals, but will practise on Tuesday and probably Thursday night. 'Twas a redhot joust at Fergus as a big and belligerent crowd rooted the desperate Thistles to a showdown fight. Cutting, slashing, punching, the teams fought a rip-snorter of a see-saw playoff game, with the Timbermen clicking in the fourth to earn the decision. Refereeing was impartial but below par, the players full of fight, and the fans extra rabid.

* * * * * *

The Crowe crew deserve a rest after a rather gruelling series. Curly Mason got a nasty cut on the noggin and some of the others are nursing bruises. Wootton helped the cause plenty against a hot Fergus team in two periods. Fitzgerald, Thorpe, Wipper, Hildebrand and Slater were all prominent on the attack, with the others going well, too. Kazarian, Harris, Mason and Wipper were hurt in rough play, the latter being slashed, slugged and then jumped upon by J. J. Hill. Took the police to keep order in the sin bin at times, and no one bothered to sweep up the debris thrown by the fans. A paper cup of pop caught one ref right in the face. Ah, well, you enjoy winning those kind right before a sullen crowd. Speck, Killingbeck, Hill, Kazarian and McKenzie looked good for the battling losers.

Oshawa Meets Petes

Oshawa Merchants open senior baseball playoffs against Petes here tomorrow eve at eight in Riverside. Here's the setup: The Petes beat Croftons 8-0 in a four-pointer in Toronto Sunday but lost the next game to them 4-3. Doug Plunkett threw a four-hitter in the first fray and had a two-run homer, Lowrey also hitting a circuit clout and Brabin coming through with two hits. But errors hurt Bunny Maeson's effort in the other half of the twin bill and Croftons pulled an upset victory. Golden and Huntley had two hits each for Ed Whitehill's crowd in this tussle. So that left the schedule over and the Petes and Oshawa tied for first place.

* * * * * *

The Viaduct Loop officials want Oshawa and Peterborough to stage a three-game series to settle things, third tilt (if necessary) in Toronto. The OBA wants these two clubs to get busy on their OBA playdown series—since the Viaduct Loop also insists on putting a Toronto team in OBA playdowns. So, Oshawa and the Petes have pretty well decided to go ahead with a best-of-seven series to declare an OBA winner, opening here for sure tomorrow night and in Oshawa Wednesday. The two clubs will get together on the morrow here to deal further with the matter, but in any event they'll begin a playoff series in Riverside at eight p.m. Tuesday, barring rain. Don't pass this one up.

Australians Capture Forest Hills Doubles

FOREST HILLS, Aug. 27 (AP) The futility of trying to equal the Australians at doubles suggest that the United States' Davis Cup selectors might do well to forget about that phase of the team matches next winter and concentrate on finding an unbeatable singles combination.

The Aussies dominance in doubles was strikingly brought home to a throng of more than 9,000 here Sunday as Frank Sedgman and Ken McGregor, the "old firm" from Melbourne, defeated Mervyn Rose and Don Candy, the newest of a seemingly-endless stream of fine pairs from down under, 10-8, 6-4, 4-6, 7-5.

Because of rain at Brookline, Mass., it was necessary to transfer the match to the scene of the national singles championships.

Doubles, to paraphrase lightly, can be beautiful, and the Australians are masters of the craft. John Bromwich, their greatest wizard, has retired after dominating the world for a decade with a variety of partners, but the Aussies don't miss him.

Petes Divide In Two To End In Tie

TORONTO, Aug. 27—Croftons upset Peterborough Petes 4-3 in a thrilling nightcap after the Petes coasted to an 8-0 victory on the four-hit pitching of Doug Plunkett in the opener at Toronto Sunday. The loss for the Petes means the viaduct major baseball leadership is deadlocked with Oshawa and Petes finishing the regular schedule with the same wins and losses.

President Orvall Wyckoff has ordered a special three-game series with the opening at Peterborough on Tuesday, Wednesday at Oshawa and the final contest here on Thursday, if necessary to decide the top spot.

Plunkett stole most of the thunder in the early tilt. His pitching arm in complete control throughout, he never passed a batter and fanned five. His homer with a mate aboard in the second frame just about clinched the game. Later in the contest credit for his third RBI's resulted after a walk. Joe Lowrey also was a key man in the attack getting three runs batted in with a homer. George Brabin chipped in with two safe ones to ease the Pete's cause.

A Tight Fray

A determined Crofton club took the field for the second affair. Southpaw Jimmy Scott went along on a three-run lead, hurling no-hit ball until the fifth when Milne and Huntley combined with bingles to garner the initial score. Scott showed signs of weakening in the next frame as Golden led off with a single and Brabin strolled. Manager Dean then lifted him for Tommy Huntley, who also served in relief in the opener. Bill Huntley's second hit filled the bases and Al Menzies walked to force in the second Petes' counter. Bill Ashbee saved the game for Croftons in the seventh after Joe Lowrey singled, stole second and Fred Garvey lined a ball to short that looked like it was going for a safety. Catching the ball Ashbee doubled Lowrey off second. Golden followed with a single, stole second, scoring after Brabin's single to right. On the throw in to the plate, firstbaseman Stephens cut off the throw and ran down Brabin for the third out.

Eddie McGarry chased home the first two Crofton counters with successive singles in the first and third frames. The climax of the game, rated the best played at Millen Stadium this season, came in the seventh after Bill Ashbee got a life as the first batter, when Bunny Maeson hit him with a pitched ball. Johnny Gray bunted and Andy Milne tossed the ball into right field. Meanwhile Ashbee was touring the bases. On the throw to the plate, Menzies dropped the ball.

Timbermen Rub Out Fergus To Make the E. Canada Final

A seven-goal outburst in the fourth quarter at Fergus on Saturday night gave the Petes' Timbermen a 16-9 senior lacrosse win, sending Fergus into the discard by three games to one. The victory puts the Petes into Eastern Canada finals, as they now wait a week or so to meet the Mimico-Hamilton-St. Catharines survivor. Tied at 9-all to end the third quarter (and behind 9-8 shortly before that), Don Crowe's classy crew had to serve up their best wares to stop the fighting Fergus outfit before a huge and rabid crowd. But the visitors clicked in the fourth to earn the verdict handily and receive the losers' congratulations, and silence the belligerent crowd in the arena. The homesters went down battling to the bitter finish.

Caught Fire

After the Petes had built up a 5-1 first quarter lead, the Thistles took fire to outscore them 5-3 in the second heat and 3-1 in a scrappy third chukker. It was hard lacrosse, which got away at times from the referees, with injuries, arguments and rough checking by the players and a cascade of roars and paper cups, etc., from the rows of red-hot fanatics. Curly Mason came out of the deal with a bad cut on top of his head. Only 11 penalties were handed out, six to the losers.

High on points for Peterborough were Jerry Fitzgerald with a goal and five assists as he set up plays in canny fashion, Bob Thorpe with five, Harry Wipper with four, Ike Hildebrand with four and Russ Slater with three. Two points each were garnered by Dootch Vitarelli and Don Ashbee, as Ross Powless got one. Leading Fergus were Harry Kazarian and Jay Hill with three points apiece, Hec McKenzie counting two smart goals, as single points were added by Don McWhirter, Jack Foote, Jim Halls, Don Campbell, Russ Black, Frank Chambers and Ralph Speck. Both goalies made a flock of fine saves in the wide-open game.

Battle Royal

While play was hard and a bit rough the first half, there were few untoward incidents. But the last half was a battle royal. Fergus claimed a goal once and, when it was not allowed, had the goal judge removed as fans showered junk and juicy epithets at the refs. Both Harris and Kazarian left the game temporarily for repairs and later Harris returned to lay Mason's head open with his stick. He was given a two-minute penalty, despite the blood drawn, and Curly got a five-minute misconduct for arguing too hotly about it. The Petes bitterly protested this.

As the Petes started whipping passes around in the fourth and clicking for the winning goals, Fergus fought fiercely and it was rough going. Hill slashed Wipper over the head, following through with a punch on the jaw and then jumping Harry as he lay sprawled on the ground. He was pulled off and given a minor penalty. Wipper trying to reach him to pay it back. Chambers drew two slashing penalties as the score piled up and a sullen crowd booed the winners at the gong. Some of the Thistles, however, shook hands with their tired but elated victors. Teams:

Petes: Goal, Wootton, defence, Fitzgerald and O'Hearn; centre, Thorpe; wings, Vitarelli and Ashbee; rover Creighton; alternates, Wipper, Powless, Mason, Slater, Hildebrand, Crowe and Magee.

Fergus: Goal, Speck; defence, Killingbeck and McWhirter; centre, Campbell; wings, Halls and Harris, rover, McKenzie; alternates, Black, Smith, Hill, Foote, Chambers, Lumley and Kazarian.

Referees: H. Morton and G. Claverly, St. Catharines.

Giants Sweep Twin Bill From Chicago Cubs To Chop Brooklyn Lead

By RALPH RODEN, Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Giants' sensational 14-game winning streak today projected the National League pennant race smack into the limelight with the American League's tight flag chase. Manager Leo Durocher's pennant-hungry giants swept a doubleheader from Chicago Cubs Sunday 5-4 and 5-1 to chop the once-imposing lead of Brooklyn Dodgers to six games. The Dodgers split with the tail-end Pittsburgh Pirates, winning the nightcap, 4-3 in 10 innings after blowing the opener 12-11.

Meanwhile, the American League race remained status quo. Cleveland Indians held their one-game lead over New York Yankees by splitting a doubleheader with Boston. The Red Sox won the first game 5-0. The Indians took the second 2-1. The Yankees divided with Chicago White Sox, losing the opener 3-2 and winning the nightcap 8-6.

In other American League games Washington Senators swept a pair from St. Louis Browns, 9-3 and 9-1 and Detroit Tigers blanked Philadelphia Athletics 6l0. In the National League St. Louis Cardinals and Boston Braves and Philadelphia Phils and Cincinnati Reds split doubleheaders. The Phils edged the Reds 2-0 after Cincinnati won the first game 4-2.

Two home runs by Wes Westrum and one by Don Mueller accounted for all of the Giants' runs in their first-frame triumph. Westrum won the game with a two-out homer in the ninth.

Limits Cubs

Jim Hearn limited the Cubs to six hits in the nightcap as the Giants compiled their longest winning streak since 1936.

Brooklyn blew a 9-2 lead in dropping the opener to the Pirates. The Bucs jumped on Don Newcombe and Clyde King for eight runs in the seventh inning. Bill Howerton climaxed the rally with a three-run homer.

The Dodgers averted defeat in the nightcap when Andy Pafko homered in the ninth to tie the score. Jackie Robinson won the game in the 10th with a homer off Ted Wilks.

Ewell Blackwell checked the Phils on five hits in the opener at Philadelphia. Rookie Niles Jordan, making his first major league appearance, shut out the Reds on three hits in the nightcap.

Red Schoendienst batted in four runs on a homer and two singles to lead the Cards to victory in the opener at Boston. The Braves broke up a hurling duel between Al Brazle of Hyscards and Jim Wilson with an eight-run rally in the seventh of the nightcap.

Blanks Indians

Bill Wight blanked the Indians on five hits in the opener at Cleveland. Bob Feller, gunning for his 21st victory, went down to his sixth defeat.

The Indians collected only three hits off Leo Kiely and Ellis Kinder in the nightcap but two were home runs by Luke Easter and Sam Chapman. Bob Lemon, with help from Mike Garcia, was the winner.

Ed Robinson and Nellie Fox ruined the Yankees in the opener at Chicago. Robinson homered in the eighth to tie the score 2-2 and Fox doubled home Don Lenhardt with the winning run in the ninth.

The Yankees piled up a 5-0 lead in the three innings of the nightcap. Late-inning homers by pinch-hitter Bert Haas and Don Lenhardt threw a scare into the Yanks but relief pitcher Allie Reynolds saved the game for rookie Art Schallock.

Sid Hudson gained his fourth victory in the opener at St. Louis. Don Johnson breezed to a four-hit victory in the finale.

Fred Hutchinson shut out the A's on three hits in the single game at Detroit.

Americans Win Singles Titles In Windsor Play

WINDSOR, Aug. 27 (AP). — American net stars walked off with the men's and women's singles titles here Saturday as the 60th annual Canadian lawn tennis championships wound up its six-day stand at Jackson Park Tennis Club.

Tony Vincent of Long Island, NY, won the men's singles title by scoring a 7-9, 7-5, 7-5, 6-2 victory over Seymour Greenberg of Chicago in a match which took 3½ hours to complete.

Mrs. Lucille Davidson, school teacher from Lee's Summit, Mo., copped the women's singles championship by defeating Pat Lowe of Toronto, 8-6, 6-1.

This was the first time that Vincent or Mrs. Davidson had entered the Dominion net championships, and they came through with flying colors, losing only one set each since play started last Monday.

They replaced Brendan Macken of Montreal, and Doris Popple of Des Moines, Iowa, as Canadian singles title-holders.

Win Double Title

Two members of the Canadian Davis Cup team, Macken and Vancouver's Lorne Main, won the men's doubles titles with a 6-0, 6-4, 6-1 victory over Greenberg and Vincent.

The women's doubles title went to Mrs. Lucille Davidson and Doris Popple. They ousted Mary Hernando, Ann Arbor, Mich., and Joan Johnson, Detroit, 7-5, 6-3.

Miss Popple teamed up with Paul Willey, Vancouver, to win the mixed doubles title. They defeated Mrs. Davidson and Lawrence Barclay, Vancouver, 10-8, 2-6, 6-4.

Veteran's men's singles title went to William McBrearty, Detroit. He stopped Jim Currie, Windsor, 6-3, 8-6, in the final event of the week-long meet.

Greenberg and Vincent were no match for Macken and Main in the doubles. The Davis Cuppers, fresh after being eliminated from singles play on Friday, walked away with their match over the tired Americans.

They'll Do It Every Time — By Jimmy Hatlo

Chiefs Subdue Royals In Doubleheader

By The Associated Press.

Take a look at the International League statistics today and they will show Bob Keegan's pitching is one of the reasons the third-place Syracuse Chiefs have won 12 of their last 15 games.

The tall right-hander received credit for winning both games from the league-leading Montreal Royals Sunday to run his string of victories to four straight.

Keegan fashioned an impressive five-hitter in the opener as he subdued Royals, 5-2. Then in the nightcap he hurled two scoreless innings in relief and knocked in the winning run in the eighth inning to give the Chiefs a 5-4 verdict.

The double victory gave the 30-year-old twirler his fourth consecutive triumph and brought his season's record to 12-7. This marked the second time that a Syracuse pitcher won two games this year. Art Hartley accomplished the feat against Springfield June 17.

Syracuse collected 12 hits in the first game to whip Dan Bankhead. In the second game losing pitcher Ross Grimsley's error set up the deciding run, which scored on Keegan's fly ball. Johnny Welaj batted in all Montreal runs, three counting on a circuit smash.

Sweep Twin Bill

Rochester Red Wings swept a twin bill from Buffalo Bisons, 4-3 and 2-1. Bob Habenicht and Jack Faszholz chalked up the victories for the second place Wings. Russ Ferry and Jay Van Noy poked homers for Rochester in the afterpiece.

Springfield Cubs whipped Ottawa Little Giants 5-1 behind the slants of Al Ihde, who won his eighth against as many setbacks. The victory enabled the cellar-dwelling Cubs to move to within two games of seventh place.

Baltimore Orioles and Toronto Maple Leafs battled to a 1-1 tie, which was called at the end of 11 innings to permit both clubs to make train connections. Each club obtained six hits. Toronto tallied its lone marker in the fourth frame and the Orioles knotted the count in the eighth.

Pony Classes Bring Out Heavy Entry

Entries in the children's pony classes at the exhibition this year were quite heavy, with spectators turning out in large numbers to ... s to races and judging. Ponies owned and shown by Edmund Ruth of Omemee made a particularly good showing, capturing two each of the first, second and third place tickets.

Spectators appeared to garner as much entertainment from the pony races, as they did from the carriage and roadster classes.

In the carriage and roadster classes, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Barden of Hillsburg continued to monopolize the ribbons, capturing a number of firsts and seconds in the various classes of judging.

Using "Friendship"

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—Citing "the historic friendship of the people of Czechoslovakia and the people of the United States," a group of Washington newspapermen Saturday called on the Czech government to release Associated Press correspondent William N. Oatis, now serving a 10 year sentence for espionage. A resolution passed by the executive board of the Washington Professional Chapter of Sigma Delta Chi added that Oatis "is not guilty of any crime."

Shipping Service

LEGHORN, Italy, Aug. 27 (AP)—The first shipping service between this Northern Italian port and cities of the North American Great Lakes will start during the first 10 days of September. The French Fabre Navigation Company said Sunday night its ships would sail between Leghorn and the river and lake ports of Montreal, Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago and Milwaukee.

Two Shot By Police

MONTREAL, Aug. 27—(CP)—Two men—one at present under police guard in hospital and the other a passerby—were felled by police bullets in downtown Montreal Sunday. Shot in the leg when he broke loose and attempted to escape after being taken into custody was Leo Donachey, 20. Police say he will face charges of disturbing the peace and resisting arrest. The bystander was Russell Date, 39, struck in the jaw by a ricocheting bullet. Hospital authorities report his condition good.

Lumberman Buried

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 27 (AP) Funeral for George A. Bridge, 80, retired Maine and Michigan lumberman, was held at Trinity Episcopal Church Sunday. Bridge, who died Friday, will be buried at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich. Born in Guelph, Bridge was educated at the University of Michigan.

Attempted Arson

COLLINGWOOD, Aug. 27 (CP)—A former employee of Kaufman Furniture Company, Joseph Lazio, 44, Sunday was arrested on a charge of attempted arson after an attempt was made to set the plant on fire. Lazio was fired by the firm 10 months ago.

Dies At 112

CASABLANCA, French Morocco, Aug. 27 (Reuters)—Anita Buxaderas Peres died in her home at Tetuan, Spanish Morocco, Sunday, aged 112. Until a few days ago, she did her own housekeeping.

PETERBOROUGH EXAMINER

VOL. CIII. No. 47 — MONDAY, AUGUST 27, 1951 — PRICE FIVE CENTS

Fair Attracts 11,889 On Last Day

Four-Day Attendance Total Is 37,854 Decrease of 6,004

Attendance at the Peterborough Exhibition dropped Saturday for the fourth successive day. But it was the first day of the 1951 fair that attendance reached into five figures.

Saturday's total was 11,889, compared to 13,289 a year ago.

Four-day attendance for 1951's exhibition was 37,854 against 43,858, a drop of 6,004 from the year before.

Saturday was closing day of the exhibition, and exhibitors were starting as early as 5 p.m. to move out their displays. By Sunday noon, the grounds were deserted, except for Jack Ridyard's perennial crew of cleaners-up.

They had quite a few tons of scrap papers and toffee-apple sticks, pop bottle caps and general refuse to pick up around the grounds.

Midway Moves Out

Midway workers started knocking down the carnival booths not long after the show closed Saturday night, and by Sunday morning tents, games and animals were for the most part packed away.

Bob Dimma, who calculated attendance figures for the exhibition, said Saturday's crowd at first looked to be a record-breaker, but there was not the expected rush in the early evening. After 6 p.m., the crowds moved into the memorial park steadily.

Grandstand attendance reached its peak Saturday, with a total of 3,646 seeing the evening and afternoon performances.

These are the figures for attendance.

Track Record Clipped By 2 Seconds

Danny Direct Beats 2:08 Record Set At 1948 Exhibition

Danny Direct, a horse with a record of 1.59, broke the three-year-old track record, at the Exhibition grounds Saturday night. Owned by Alex Parsons, of London, Danny Direct clipped two seconds off the previous record of 2.08, held by Blacklock, then owned by Fritz of Brighton.

Throughout the four-day racing meet, out-of-town and Peterborough stable owners expected Danny Direct to tie or break the record. This horse is entered in the $7,000 race at Thorncliffe.

Feature Race Of Day

The record of 2.06 minutes was set in the first heat of the free-for-all, the feature race of the meet, and put Danny Direct ahead of Silk Grattan, owned by Clayton Hodgson, Lindsay.

Danny Direct then won the next two in slower times of 2.09 and 2.10, first edging out Silk Grattan once more and then the home favorite, Victory Hi, owned by Stan Blewett, Peterborough. Victory Hi placed third in the first two heats.

Off the mark in all three heats was Peter Aubrey, owned by H. Ingles, of Brighton.

Thor Grattan, owned by G. Hie, had two firsts and a second in the 2.20 trot and pace which was featured by fast times of 2.10, 2.11 and 2.13. Jim McIntyre's Turnabout gave Thor Grattan a race in all three heats, placing second twice and first once.

The summary:

Free-for-All

Danny Direct (Alex Parsons, London)	1 1 1
Silk Grattan (C. Hodgson, Lindsay)	2 2 3
Victory Hi (S. Blewett, Peterborough)	3 3 2
Peter Aubrey (H. Ingles, Brighton)	4 4 4

Times—2:06, 2:09, 2:10.

2:20 Trot and Pace

Thor Grattan (C. Hie)	1 2 1
Turnabout (J. McIntyre, Peterborough)	2 1 2
Rocket Hanover (Bone, Port Hope)	3 3 3
Jimmy A. Bingen (M. Wray, Schomberg)	5 4 4
Admiral C. Grattan (H. Ingles, Brighton)	4 6 5
Lee Mainsheet (C. J. Budd, Woodville)	6 5 6

Times—2:10, 2:11, 2:13.

Horse Meat Store Busy In Montreal

MONTREAL, Aug. 27—(CP)—Montreal's first horse meat store did a booming business during the weekend, and there's little likelihood of the shop running out of supplies.

More than 250 customers were served Saturday, and Donat Verronneau, the butcher, said that an abbatoir near St. Hyacinthe, Que., was slaughtering 300 horses a day to fill his showcases.

Dobbin was offered to customers as filet mignon at 83 cents a pound, round steak at 63 cents; rolled roast, 75 cents; rump steak, 63 cents, and horseburger 43 cents.

Roy J. Thompson Born In Bancroft, Funeral Tuesday

The funeral for Roy J. Thompson, 579 Howden Ave., who was killed Saturday night after an argument with his wife, will be held Tuesday from the Kaye funeral home, Major C. G. Everitt, Salvation Army, will officiate at the service at 2 p.m. Burial will be at Little Lake cemetery.

Mr. Thompson was born 37 years ago Saturday in Bancroft, but has spent nearly all his life in Peterborough. Here for three years he was superintendent of the sanitation department, and later a partner in a junk-dealing business. Two months ago he opened a business alone.

From 1939 until 1945 he served with the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment, most of that time overseas. He was a member of the executive of Branch 52, Canadian Legion.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Thompson, his children, Phillip Roy, Kenneth George, Beverley Ann, and Nancy Jean; his brothers, John of Peterborough Gordon of Korea, Ernest of England; his sisters, Mrs. Lottie McGrath, Mrs. Annie Peacock, Mrs. Pearl Clark and Mrs. Hilda Burfield, all of Peterborough.

Mayor To Suggest Applying For 50 To 75 Houses Under Government Scheme

Continuing Demand For Houses In City Makes It Necessary For Plans To Be Made To Enter Ontario Scheme

City council is coming to the end of its summer schedule of meetings. Finance committee and board of works tonight will precede the first of the September meetings next week. Somewhere in the discussions it is expected that Mayor Swanston will propose action to secure 50 to 75 houses within the plan proposed by Premier Frost at London several months ago. One site that has been mentioned for expansion is the Dickson farm on the east side of Armour Road in its stretch from the canal to Downer's Corners.

Mayor Swanston may recommend that the Board of Education and Utilities Commission be called in for consideration of the factors that should be anticipated in looking toward development in that section of the city.

Informed sources report a continuing demand for houses, among the applicants being some of the immigrant groups who have been arriving into this part of the province.

At any rate the housing project is something that may come to the attention of the Council next month.

Reference to the Utilities Commission and Board of Education would be for the purpose of consulting their interests and estimated requirements and cost of expansion on that far east side of the city.

Stony Lakers Capture Chemong Races

Stony Lake Yacht Club members dominated the Chemong Lake sailing races Saturday by sweeping the 14-foot dinghy class and the Chemong lake open classic.

Stony Lakes's Sue Slater placed across the finish line first in both events as all boats, 13 from Stony lake and four from Chemong lake, were pushed by a poor wind. To cover the three-mile course the dinghies took between two and two-and-a-half hours.

Doug Reid, Stony lake, took second place in both races while Fred Huycke, also of Stony lake, placed third in both.

Cancelled On Sunday

No wind Sunday morning cancelled the 14-foot challenge cup event. This may be held sometime later this summer.

This year the Chemong Park Cottagers' Association undertook to sponsor the annual races. The purpose in the annual two-day meet is to promote dinghy sailing in the Kawarthas.

The Stony lake boats and crews were towed Saturday through the chain of lakes to Chemong Park. The crews were guests of the Chemong park cottagers Saturday night.

Fifty attended a corn roast held at Gander Point for the entrants.

Small Children Blamed Starting Fire

LAKEFIELD, Aug. 27 (ENS)—Fire, apparently started by two small children setting fire to papers in the back yard of the Lakefield Cleaning establishment, did about $1,500 worth of damage at 12.30 on Sunday afternoon.

Fifteen firemen, with two trucks responded quickly to the call and played water on the roof and wall of the Cleaning building and Porter Company's store-room.

Not a great deal of material damage was done, said Fire Chief Allan Clark, who was in charge of the firemen.

Part of the back wall, part of the roof and the shed of the cleaning place was burned, and at the Porter company a window frame was burnt and the fire entered the storage part of the building.

R. D. Card is the proprietor of the Cleaning establishment and Judson Hull proprietor of the Porter Company.

The firemen did a speedy job of putting the fire out, and preventing it spreading, and merit a great deal of credit for their fine work.

Police Puncture Rear Tire When Driver Fails To Stop

Police fired five shots Sunday night to halt the driver of a car who went through the stop-light at Charlotte and Aylmer Sts., drove west on Charlotte St. on the south side of the road and was finally halted on Hawley St. west of Monaghan Rd. When the car was finally stopped, with a bullet-pierced right rear tire, Sgt. William Aggas and Constable Claire McGillen arrested Clarence Seabrooke, 670 Little St.

Seabrooke is held on charges of drunk driving and careless driving.

Constable McGillen said the car was first spotted from the police cruiser as it was east of the Aylmer St. intersection on Charlotte St. It went through the red light, and from Aylmer to Park St., was driven along the south side of the roadway.

The officers followed, trying vainly to stop the driver. Once on Charlotte St. and once on Monaghan Rd., Sgt. Aggas spotted the spotlight into the driver's eyes. He wouldn't stop.

At Monaghan Rd., the car swung south, with the cruiser following. At Chamberlain St., it turned west and Sgt. Aggas fired five shots at it, hitting the right rear tire. The car stopped on Hawley St. An unopened case of beer was found.

Lakefield Man Struck By Car

LAKEFIELD, Aug. 27 (ENS)—John Sanderson, an elderly carpenter was hit by a car driven by William Bullock of Young's Point, at 8.30 on Saturday night and suffered head lacerations.

Mr. Sanderson who was crossing Queen St. from the Shell Service Station to Harold Hopkin's cabins, stepped out of the path of a north bound car, and in his confusion walked in front of a car driven by Mr. Bullock.

Although the car was practically stopped Mr. Sanderson was thrown 12 feet and suffered head injuries, a cut hand, and a bruised hip.

Dr. Hugh Gastle was called and had the injured man taken to Civic Hospital where his condition today was reported as fair.

Two Americans and service station attendants, eye witnesses to the accident said the driver of the car had done everything possible to avoid an accident.

Chief Garnet Samis investigated.

ANOTHER CASE

Peterborough and district's 28th case of polio was taken to the Civic Hospital from Campbellford over the weekend. It was definitely diagnosed as polio. There were no suspects reported.

Out In Semi-Finals

Bill Rashleigh, of Lakefield, advanced last week to the semi-final of Ontario Open Junior Boys' tennis championship. In the semi-finals played at the weekend in Toronto he lost out 6-3, 6-3 to Terence Penner of Trinidad, who went on to win the Ontario title. Penner is competing this week in Ottawa for the Canadian Junior championship. Bill Rashleigh is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Rashleigh of The Grove School, Lakefield.

Suspended Sentence For Forging Cheque

Pleading guilty to a charge of forging his father's name to a $10 cheque, Fred E. Blaby, 23, of 554 Romaine St., was today given two years' suspended sentence and a talking-to by Magistrate W. R. Philp.

The magistrate asked Blaby's father where the accused was living. The father, Fred Blaby, said Blaby was living at home.

Blaby had told court he had not been working regularly for "a few months."

Said Magistrate Philp to the father: "You're not doing your son any kindness by keeping him around home. Why doesn't he go out and get a job?"

"He's trying to," accused's father answered.

Blaby interjected that "jobs are pretty scarce right now."

"You can't tell me that," said His Worship. "Don't make yourself ridiculous."

Couple Suffer Slight Injury

A man and a woman were slightly injured Saturday evening in a two-car collision on Park St. at Sherbrooke St.

Hurt were Mrs. Eric Miller, 744 St. Mary's St., nine stitches to the head; John T. Parks, 768 Orpington Rd., one stitch on the head.

Parks told police he was driving west on Sherbrooke, stopped at Reid St., went on through and failed to stop before crossing Park St. A southbound car driven by Dominic Memmo, 500 Wolfe St., struck Parks' car on the right side.

Mrs. Miller and her husband were passengers in Memmo's car.

The radiator, left front fender and light were smashed on Memmo's car, and the right front window broken, and right side damaged on Parks' car.

Constable D. M. Stark investigated.

20,000 Gladioli In Colorful Garden

The 20,000 gladioli in the garden of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Storey, Maria Street, presented a mass of lovely color to the several hundred visitors Sunday afternoon from the Peterborough Gladiolus Society.

Basket floral arrangements were demonstrated by George Clark of Wallace Point, Clarence Porter and Bud Lloyd. Mrs. Chris Plunkett of Keene and Mrs. Gavin Shearer of Indian River, members of the ladies' division of the society, arranged table decorations.

In the junior section, Miss Roseanne Connelly and Mr. H. Jackson showed the members how gladioli can be artistically arranged for a flower show.

JUDGE AT LONDON FAIR

Roy Ferren of Cavan township has been engaged to judge Percheron and Belgian horses at Western Fair, London, Sept. 10 to 15; and John Baty of Brooklin will decide the winners in the classes for Clydesdales, heavy draft and wagon classes.

2 Planes Join In Lake Search

TILLSONBURG, Aug. 27 (CP)—Two radio-equipped aircraft from Centralia joined a search today for two men missing since they set out Sunday to cross Lake Erie in a 12-foot boat.

Archie Knowles, 32, and his brother, Wilfred, 19, left Port Burwell Sunday morning to cross 65 miles of water to attend a baseball game at Cleveland.

A search was started when Mrs. Knowles failed to receive a promised telephone call from her husband Sunday night.

A federal government tug set out from Port Burwell Sunday night to look for the men who had only a short paddle in the boat, no coats, blankets or food. They had expected to make the trip in five hours.

Archie Knowles won the boat in a raffle a month ago. This was their first long trip in it.

Two 20-Pound Lunge Caught In Rice Lake

ROSENEATH, Aug. 27—(ENS)—Two lunge, both weighing at least 20 pounds were caught off Sandercocks' Point, on Rice lake, three miles from Roseneath, Sunday night and today.

Fred Kerr, Cobourg, hooked and landed a 20-pound muskie, 42 inches long and 17½ inches in girth Sunday night just off the point.

At 8.30 a.m. today Miss Laura Schwartz, Sharron, Penn., staying at the Sandercocks' cottages, hooked a 21-pound muskie while trolling off the same Point. In 10 minutes the fish was in the boat. It was 42½ ins. long and 18 inches in girth.

IN MEMORY OF MARGUERITE BOURGEOYS—A monument to Blessed Marguerite Bourgeoys, first woman teacher of Ville Marie and founder of the Notre Dame Congregation in Montreal. On the left side of the monument shown above was unveiled recently in the gardens of the Mother House, are Norman O'Brien, supreme commander of the Order of the Alhambra which donated the monument; and J. A. Filteau, general chairman of the Order's biennial convention winding up this week-end.

Junior Red Cross Sends Aid To India

TORONTO, Aug. 27 (CP)—Food shipments to famine-stricken areas of India, the gift of the Canadian Junior Red Cross, are expected to arrived in Bombay in September, Red Cross officials said today.

Dried milk, infant cereal and vitamin tablets worth $10,000 were donated by the Junior Red Cross after an appeal by Indian delegates at a League of Red Cross Societies conference in Switzerland in May.

Only the vitamin tablets were sent from Canada. The remainder of the shipment was purchased by the league elsewhere and shipped independently. The supplies will be distributed by the Indian Red Cross.

Hold Funeral Service For Mrs. W. A. Mowry

The funeral was held Saturday of Mrs. William A. Mowry, 189 River Rd., who died Wednesday. She was buried in Little Lake cemetery.

The Ven. Archdeacon C. W. Balfour officiated at the funeral service in the Comstock funeral home.

Pallbearers were Edward Curtis, Robert Starr, Edward Hollingsworth, Fred Bell, Chester Mowry and W. G. Shiner. Flower bearers were Donald Bell, Ted Doughty, Jack Mason and R. B. Mowry.

Native Priest Made New Zealand Bishop

AUCKLAND, NZ—(AP)—For the second time in the history of the Church of England in New Zealand, a native Maori priest has been appointed a bishop.

He is the Rev. Wiremu Netana Panapa, who becomes Bishop of Aotearoa, the Maori name for New Zealand. The bishopric covers Maori church activities in the whole of New Zealand.

Bishop F. A. Bennettwn who died last year, was the first Maori to be appointed a bishop in New Zealand. There were some misgivings when the post was created but he held the office with great success. The decision to appoint a successor shows the faith of the church authorities in the ability of Maoris to hold high offices in the church.

Bishop Panapa, 53, has been a priest since 1923. He served for many years in Maori mission activities and during the Second World War was a chaplain with the armed forces. Since then he has been vicar of parishes with predominantly Maori populations.

Power Station For Rural Users

A distribution station for rural hydro consumers has been opened about two miles west of Fowlers' Corners and one mile south at a cost of $50,000.

Robert Aspinall, manager of the Peterborough rural operating area, said that the 2,000 kilowatt station will be reducing 44,000 watts down to 8,000 watts. It will relieve the load on other stations, presently suppliyng the areas of Emily, Ennismore and North Monaghan townships.

It will not only improve the service but the voltage.

The new service station is the major part of the rural construction program for the Peterborough district this year. It was started in March by the hydro construction workers and completed in the past month. On August 16 the station was opened to service the people.

It is known as the Best Distributing Station.

Mr. Aspinall said that besides this new station the construction work this year included building various smaller lines to service new consumers.

Bethrothed Lost Job So She's Gets Beating

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., Aug. 27—Instead of ending up at the altar making his vows, 24-year-old Grant Howard of Peterborough landed in court Saturday where he pleaded guilty to assaulting his bride-to-be. He was fined $50 and costs.

The complainant a local girl, told the court that she had known Howard for six years and they planned marriage shortly.

"When I told him I had lost my job and that we would not be able to get married for a while, he struck me across the mouth, blackened my eye and cut the inside of my mouth," the girl told Magistrate Harold Peterson.

Howard was found to be absent without leave from his Royal Canadian Signals Regiment unit at Petawawa. He was ordered returned to his camp under military escort.

CARS DAMAGED

Two cars were damaged Saturday night when they collided about 200 feet east of the centre of Hunter St. bridge. Ernest H. Connors, RR 1, Ennismore, was driving east on the bridge, and his car was in collision with one driven by William Jenkins, 719 Bethune St. The left sides of both cars were damaged. Constable C. J. McGillen investigated.

Fine Second Brother On Drunk Charge

A brother act sneaked into court today, but one brother was absent.

William Spence of Lakefield, up on a charge of being drunk in public, was told by Magistrate W. R. Philp that he had been in court not so long before.

"No, sir. That was my brother," said Spence. "I haven't been here for 14 months."

Spence pleaded guilty and was fined $10 and costs.

Frisky Young Fox Family's Pet

TORONTO — (CP)—There's only one letter's difference between "pet" and "pelt," but it's a big difference to 13-year-old Audrey Hinds.

Audrey, who lives in suburban Willowdale, has a pet fox called Freddy and she is getting a little weary of people telling her Freddy would make a better pelt than a pet.

Freddy was found playing with the Hinds' two dogs on their lawn four months ago. Older sister Pat captured the fox and gave it to Audrey.

Although he takes the occasional nip at strangers, and has eaten the family's pet rabbit "Snow White," Freddy is there to stay and has no intention of running away.

He knows Audrey's affection for him is more than skin deep.

Where Do Bright Ideas Come From?

Sometimes they come in a flash (science can't explain it); geniuses like Mozart, Keats and Edison relied on such inspirations. Is there a way you can get bright ideas, too?

Mary June Heigh Becomes Bride Of K. A. Parsons

A background of beautiful gladioli and dahlias was at the altar of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church Saturday for the wedding of Miss Mary June Heigh to Mr. Kenneth Alfred Parsons, which was performed by the Rev. C. G. Boyd.

The bride is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Heigh and the groom son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Parsons, all of Peterborough.

Given in mariage by her brother Mr. Gordon Heigh, the bride was gowned in white taffeta with an overskirt of nylon net trimmed with Chantilly lace topped with a lace jacket and mittens. Her veil was also of lace fastened to a tiara of tulle with orange blossoms. She carried a cascade of red roses and gladioli. Only attendant was her sister Mrs. Frank Achison who wore ice blue satin with lace mittens and a shoulder veil fastened to a tiara of matching shade. Her cascade bouquet was of pink roses and gladioli.

The groom was attended by his brother Mr. Jack Parsons.

Wedding music was played by the church organist, Mr. Christopher Gledhill.

A reception was held at the bride's home, 508 Water St. Her mother was receiving, gowned in navy taffeta with matching hat and wearing a corsage of red roses. The groom's mother who was assisting, wore shell pink nylon with a white hat and her corsage was yellow roses.

When leaving later for Toronto and Hamilton the bride was wearing a dress of blue frosted nylon with white accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Parsons will live in Peterborough.

Wilcox-Smith Nuptials At Bride's Home

HAVELOCK, Aug. 27 (ENS).—A pretty house wedding was solemnized Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Smith, when their daughter Althea Edith became the bride of Mr. Keith Walter Wilcox of Saskatoon, Sask. Asters, gladioli and ferns decorated the rooms. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. E. Toombs of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, Campbellford, under an archway decorated with pink and white streamers and white bells. Wedding music was played by Miss Naomi Hartnup of Hamilton. Miss Evelyn Iles sang "The Lord's Prayer" prior to the ceremony and "The Wedding Prayer" during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a gown of white slipper satin, with long lace sleeves coming to a point over the hand, lace yoke, full skirt, and tiny satin buttons fastening the bodice in the back. Her floor length veil of net fell from a nylon net cap. She carried a Bible with a shower bouquet of pink roses and stephanotis and pink sweetheart roses.

Miss Dorothy Smith was bridesmaid for her sister and wore a gown of pink taffeta fashioned on princess lines with short puff sleeves. She wore matching mittens and her headdress was a wreath of pink artificial flowers. She carried a bouquet of pink sweetheart roses and yellow gladioli with rainbow ribbon streamers.

Mr. Denis Wilcox of Saskatoon, Sask., was groomsman for his brother and the ushers were Mr. Vincent Jennison of Toronto and Mr. Clare Irwin of Winnipeg, Man.

For the reception, the bride's mother wore a gown of medium green crepe with natural straw hat, and gloves and corsage of cream roses. She was assisted by the groom's mother who wore a black velvet gown with matching accessories and corsage of pink roses.

For a motor trip to Quebec the bride chose a travelling dress of rose taffeta with black velvet accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilcox will live in Kingston.

Bigwin-Alexander Bridal Couple On Trip To Gaspe

ROSENEATH, Aug 27 (ENS) —A very pretty August wedding was solemnized Saturday in St. Paul's Anglican Church, Arden, when Ellen Frances, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Alexander, was united in marriage to Elmer Alton Bigwin, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. James Bigwin, Jr., Alderville.

The Rev. E. Hall, rector, performed the ceremony. The church was tastefully decorated with a profusion of late summer flowers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an ivory satin gown with long pointed sleeves and train. Her finger-tip veil of tulle illusion was held in place by a coronet of pearls. She carried a white prayer book with a cascade bouquet of red roses. The bride's only ornament was a gold wrist watch, the gift of the groom.

Attendants were Mrs. Ted Pankhurst, matron of honor, Miss Beth Alexander, sister of the bride, and Miss Lois Bigwin, sister of the groom, bridesmaids, all gowned in hostess blue taffeta with eyelet inserts, matching mittens and blue halo headdresses with blue flowerlets. Each carried a basket of multi-colored sweet peas.

The groom was attended by his cousin, Mr. Glenn Crowe, Alderville. Ushers were Mr. Tom Hughes, Arden, and Mr. Lorne Simpson, Toronto.

Miss Helen Alexander, Kingston, cousin of the bride, played the wedding music. The soloist, Mr. C. Cartner, sang "The Lord's Prayer" preceding the ceremony and "O Perfect Love" during the signing of the register.

A reception of about 100 guests was held at Camp Kennebec.

The bride donned a maize gabardine suit with brown accessories for a honeymon trip to Gaspe Peninsula and the Eastern States.

On their return they will reside in Welland.

Westerner Finds UK Crowded Trade Link Weak

LONDON — (CP)—An overpopulated Britain and weakness in commercial ties with Canada were salient impressions carried by K. M. Reynolds of Edmonton, Alta., after a holiday in the United Kingdom. It was his first visit to his homeland in 27 years.

In a letter to The London Daily Telegraph, Mr. Reynolds said he had been struck by the overcrowded conditions in the countryside gradually being absorbed by the cities with little room to breathe or expand.

"I think of our Canada, with its many natural resources still undeveloped, its vast spaces and varied climate, its population of about 14,000,000 and its need for British settlers," he wrote. "There is no lack of opportunity in Canada for any young person with pluck and willingness to work."

Reverse Trade

With Britain formerly the Canadian farmer's best cutomer, Mr. Reynolds found it hard to understand why there were no Canadian foodustuffs in the British shops, although there were plenty from the United States and South American countries.

"And what sense is there," he asked, " in the British Government selling beef to Canada when Canada produces beef for export and the people of Britain are kept so short of meat?"

"It is annoying to Canadians, like myself, who have been sending food parcels to Britian for well-nigh 12 years to be offered at home tins of British beef at a high price on which postage has to be paid to send it back to the people who should have been allowed to eat it fresh killed."

Home In Woods, Natural Foods Beat Housing

BOLTON, Ont. (CP). — The housing problem doesn't bother Art Scholes, Olympic runner of the 1920s, who has left both the running track and the beaten track far behind.

Art took to the woods near this town and pays a farmer $1 a year for rental of a wooden shack on the banks of the Humber, not far from Toronto. He and his collie pup live there all year round.

His few wants are provided by Nature. He traps and fishes, has an ample supply of wild berries and makes his own maple syrup. During his 20-year stay in the woods he has acquired wide knowledge of wildlife and woodlore.

He earns enough money for his few needs from civilization by helping district farmers during harvest season and by selling skunk oil to stable hands for $1 a quart. The oil is one ingredient in a rub-down mixture for horses. Art, incidentally, found that skunk stew, flavored with wild carrot, is as "tasty" as rabit.

Former Athlete

The woodsman, known here as the "Hermit," won early fame as an athlete. He ran in the 1920 Olympic five-mile event and in 1928 defeated the famous Indian runner, Tom Longboat, at Scarborough Beach, Toronto.

After working his way through a $12,000 inheritance without "retaining a souvenir" Art went to work in a factory. Punching a time clock was the "bane of his existence" so, after his wife died, he decided to "start the kind of life I had always wanted."

He first went to the Far North but soon returned to this area. "There is much less chance of a fellow getting bushed down here," he says.

He is close to but invisible from the highway, so that he can have as little or as much contact with the world as he wants. Only 40 miles from downtown Toronto, his trap line provides him with all the mink, muskrat, fox and raccoon fur he needs.

Those who meet him often depart questioning the push-button, chromium existence of city and town life. Art, at 61, recommends his life for tired business executives. "I feel like 20, sleep like a baby and couldn't be happier," he says.

Marilyn Jean Cavano Wed In Manvers United Church

Manvers United Church decorated with tall standards of gladioli, asters and dahlia in autumn shades formed a lovely setting for the wedding on Saturday of Marilyn Jean Cavano, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Cavano, Manvers, to Ronald Vernon Pomeroy of Peterborough, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarke Pomeroy, Bethany.

The Rev. Claire Kellogg of Janetville officiated in the double ring ceremony. Miss June Hutchinson of Peterborough, cousin of the bride, played the wedding music, "Love Divine," before the bride entered the church, and Bach's "Jesu Joy of Man's Desiring" during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father the bride was lovely in a pure white gown with skirt of net over taffeta, strapless bodice of lace with a bolero jacket of matching lace made with Peter Pan collar, long sleeves forming lily points over the hands. Her chapel length veil was of tulle illusion bordered with lace and caught to a tiny lace cap. She carried a cascade of deep crimson roses.

Mrs. John Stubbins of Montreal was her sister's matron of honor wearing a gown of apple green taffeta fashioned with fitted bodice, scalloped bertha neckline with shirred trim and shirred hipline. The bridesmaid, Miss Beverley Pomeroy of Bethany, sister of the groom, wore a similar style gown of rose colored taffeta. Both wore bonnet-type hats of matching material and carried bouquets of carnations.

Mr. Laverne Wright of Janetville was the groomsman. Ushers were David Ingram of Peterborough and Ray Challice of Ida.

The reception was held on the lawn at the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Cavano receiving the guests in a gown of navy faille with grey top and matching navy jacket, navy hat and accessories. She wore a corsage of pink roses.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Clarke Pomeroy also received wearing lime green crepe with black hat and accessories and corsage of talisman roses.

On their wedding trip through the Muskoka district, the bride travelled in a suit of steel grey gabardine with Kelly green hat and gloves and black accessories, corsage of yellow roses. They will live in Peterborough.

Shortages Badly Hamper Cooked Snail Trade

By CARL HARTMAN

BARR, France (AP)—A supply crisis is creeping up on the French snail industry, and it's no joke to Adolphe Willm.

He's the "Snail King" of Northeastern France, and his factory supplies processed snails as far as Paris and Lyon. It is one of the big money earners in this town near Strasbourg.

Many tourists take at least one stab at eating snails, always drenched in garlic. They cost between $1.10 and $1.40 a dozen in restaurants.

Although snails are prepared in France, they are mostly imported alive from Germany—3,000 or 4,000 tons a year. For 19 years, Willm says, German law has protected the supply by declaring a closed season part of each year.

"Unfortunately," Willm said, "A lot of Germans asquired a taste for snails in the four years they occupied France. We used to get all we needed from Wurttemberg and Baden. Now we have to bring them from all over Western Germany, and the price is going up all the time."

Purchasing Agents

Purchasing agents in German towns send their supplies to a central snail depot at Kehl, just across the Rhine from Strasbourg. From there they go largely to Willm, or the the snail canneries of Burgendy.

During the season, which runs from October to March, Willm eats snails three or four times a week. He recommends them with a nice cold Riseling wine, which he makes himself and sells as far away as San Francisco.

At 54, Willm has always been in the wine-and-snail business. His 27-year-old son is in it with him, and a grandson, he hopes, will follow.

Careful Process

The snails are starved for 10 to 15 days to remove impurities. Then they are plunged into boiling water to kill them and get them out of their shells. Shells and snails then part company, to meet again only at the end of the process.

A strong broth is brewed from the snails, for which Willm claims great virtues. It is highly seasoned, with herbs and a lot of garlic. Meanwhile, the shells have been sterilized. The holes are repaired with a kind of cement Willm prepares from crushed shells. Repairing the shells requires a specially-made brass instrument like a syringe.

The snails are then stuffed back into shells—naturally not the ones they originally came from. The sauce is added and the opening of the shell corked with a pat of butter.

They are delivered fresh to restaurants, where they need only be heated before serving. The ultimate consumer pulls the snail from the shell with a special two-pronged fork and mops up to sauce with bread. Willm says some food fanciers don't even bother with the snail—it's the sauce that counts.

Atkinson-Arthur Vows Pledged Roseneath Manse

ROSENEATH, Aug 27 (ENS) —The marriage was solemnized on Saturday at the United Church Parsonage, Roseneath, of Margaret Hilda Arthur, younger daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Arthur, Fenella, to Warren Ambrose Atkinson, elder son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Atkinson, Roseneath. The Rev. R. C. White was the officiating clergyman.

The bride wore an ankle length gown of shell pink Chantilly lace over faille taffeta, with matching picture hat and white accessories, and she carried a cascade bouquet of lacy white asters and blue baby's breath.

Mrs. Frank Cameron, Grafton, was matron of honor, wearing a gown of grey crepe with inserts of Chantilly lace, with matching hat and black accessories, and she carried a shower bouquet of pink asters and white baby's breath. Mr. Cameron was the groomsman.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Arthur, Fenella. Mrs. Henry Haynes, Port Hope, a niece of the bride, received the guests wearing navy sheer with white accessories. She was assisted by Mrs. John Goodfellow, Codrington, eldest daughter of the groom, wearing yellow faille taffeta.

During the reception, Mr. Ambrose Atkinson sang "Bless This House"; the Atkinson sisters, Mrs. John Goodfellow, Miss Clarice Atkinson, Mrs. Bruce Cole and Miss Carolyn Atkinson, sang "I Am Listening"; Miss Evelyn Atkinson played a trombone solo, "Just a Song At Twilight"; the Arthur sisters, Misses Lois, Blanche, Joyce and Linda Arthur sang "Take Jesus With You."

A buffet luncheon was served to the guests by Misses Marlene Cowling, Joyce Arthur, Doris Roberts and Linda Arthur, under the supervision of Mrs. Kenneth Small, Hamilton, and Mrs. Leo Timlin, Roseneath.

For travelling, the bride chose a navy taffeta dress with matching hat and a grey shortie coat. On return from their honeymoon the bride and groom will live on the Atkinson homestead, five miles east of Roseneath.

Guests were present from Toronto, Trenton, Grafton, Cobourg, Peterborough, Port Hope, Bancroft, Smiths Falls, Camborne, Codrington and Roseneath.

Natives Shifting Homes In South Seas

By J. C. GRAHAM

AUCKLAND, NZ (CP)—Three groups of Pacific Ocean islanders have made mass migrations to new homes. One venture has proved an unqualified success; one is still in the doubtful stage and the third has just begun with high hopes and a spirit of initiative which augers well for its future.

Widely varying reasons were behind the uprooting of these islanders from their ancestral homes. The natives of Ocean Island, almost on the equator, were shifted because their island was too rich in a commodity needed by civilization—phosphates.

The people of Niua Fo'ou in the Tongan group left because volcanic eruptions overwhelmed their chief village and threatened others.

Buying On Time

And the inhabitants of Pukapuka in the Cook Islands are buying a new home on time payment because their island is too poor to support the entire population any longer.

The first migration was from Ocean Island, a large part of which is pure phosphate. Extraction of the phosphates to supply the fertilizer needs of Australia and New Zealand meant that the workings were gradually encroaching on the living space of the natives. The South Pacific commission suggested that they migrate to Rambi, in the Fiji group, which was large, beautiful and abundantly fertile. The commission agreed to pay travel expenses and if at the end of two years the natives were not happy, it would take them back to Ocean Island. The natives agreed and went south, with their sailing canoes lashed to the decks of steamers.

Like Home

In a country and climate that was strange to them they had much to learn, but when a member of the commission conducted a secret ballot, only 13 per cent of the natives wished to return. When offered the chance to go, none accepted.

Far different was the case of the people of Niua Fo'ou, known to philatelists all over the world as Tin Can Island, because mail was taken out to passing steamers in tin cans by swimming mailmen. Volcanoes on the island are frequently in eruption and in 1946 a major outbreak destroyed the chief village and all government buildings. The Tongan government decided that for their own safety the people must be moved, although they were reluctant to go.

They were shifted to Eua, the most fertile island in the Tongan group, but the 1,100 people of Tin Can Island are homesick. Many of them want to return to their old home, volcanoes and all.

The third migration was initiated by the natives themselves and points to a new attitude of self-reliance among the natives of the Pacific in efforts to raise their standard of living. The 700 people of Pukapuka, which lies not far below the equator, decided their island could not support the growing population. They looked to fertile but uninhabited Nassau Island, in the same region of the Northern Cook group, and asked the New Zealand government which administers the area if they could buy Nassau.

Paying For Land

Before the war Nassau was worked by a trading company which made extensive coconut plantations there. The company left before the advance of the Japanese during the war and it sold the island to the New Zealand government for $6,000. The plantations have been neglected since then but they are young trees and with clearing will produce substantial quantities of copra for many years. New Zealand agreed to sell Nassau to the people of Pukapuka for the price it paid. The natives raised $3,600 from produce sales as a down payment.

Now a party of 100 people from Pukapuka has moved in, built a community shelter, and started clearing the plantations, preparing to make the island their permanent home. They will pay off the balance of the purchase price from sales of copra from the plantations.

New Zealand's Minister of Island Territories, F. W. Dodge, says: "This is a very fine example of self-reliance and community effort. Practically all the organizatin and negotiations were carried on by the people of Pukapuka themselves."

Patterson-Kingan Wedding Followed By Extensive Trip

By candlelight, at the altar of St. John's Anglican Church, Saturday evening, the marriage vows of Ruth Catherine Kingan and Frank Howden Patterson were pledged before the Rev. H. R. Howden, rector of St. Michael and All Angels' Church, Toronto, cousin of the groom.

Miss Kingan is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gordon Kingan, and was given in marriage by her father. Mr. Patterson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Dillon Patterson, and all are of Peterborough.

Preceding the bridal party the boys' choir entered the church singing "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden." During the signing of the register they sang "O Perfect Love," and afterward they formed a guard of honor on the steps of the church. Presiding at the organ for this occasion was Mrs. Robert Neale.

White gladioli, snapdragon and roses decorated the church.

The bride's attendants were Mrs. J. H. Hiland as matron of honor, Mrs. Donald Lamont and Mrs. J. G. Pierce as bridesmaids. Groomsman was Mr. John Patterson and the ushers were Mr. Bob Maybee and Mr. Walter Howell.

A gown of imported French Chantilly lace made over blush satin was the bride's choice. It was designed with Victorian neckline, basque bodice and long tapering sleeves. The lace skirt parted at the waist in scallops revealing the underskirt of satin. Her veil was of white bridal net, floor length, capped with white coq feathers and she carried a cascade of Leading Lady white gladioli.

The frocks worn by her attendants were of aquamarine nylon sheer over ice blue taffeta, styled identically with shirred strapless bodice and bouffant skirts. They had matching stoles and mittens and their headdresses were princess bandeaux of aquamarine, coq feathers, individually designed. They carried cascades of Picardy gladioli cups.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Kingan wore a gown of smoke blue Swiss silk sheer, a matching ostrich plume headdress and corsage of pink Sweetheart roses. The groom's mother chose her gown in blush rose sheer crepe and wore a small dubonnet velvet hat and corsage of violet sweet peas.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 46 Kingan Ave., and afterward the couple left on their wedding trip to the Canadian West and California.

For travelling the bride wore a British blue wool two-piece dress with coffee brown accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Patterson will live in their new home at 44 Kingan Ave.

Of Interest to Women

DOROTHY DIX

Nearly Blind And Lonely Woman Needs Consolation

DEAR MISS DIX: Two years ago I began to lose my eyesight and am now nearly blind. I am a widow, 46, and can see enough to do my housework and cooking, but all my friends and relatives seem to have deserted me. No one comes to see me or calls me up, and it puzzles me because I've always gotten along with people. I have a small pension and receive assistance from a daughter, so I don't need financial help, but I so love to have people come in.

Dorothy Dix

GERTRUDE

ANSWER: So often people who are chronically ill or incapacitated in some way write me letters along this line. The answer to the problem usually has two parts—cause and effect.

Whenever I am asked to lay down general rules for happy living I stress the importance of making and keeping friends—something that anyone in this world can do! Friends acquired in youth seldom desert in middle age. Keeping friendships requires effort—it is no easy job but certainly a worth-while one. Thus, if you have laid the foundations of friendship while you were younger, you should have companionship now unless—and here we come to Part II of our problem.

Don't Be A Martyr

There is one thing that will, almost without exception, discourage the most devoted friend. That is the spirit of martyrdom that so frequently accompanies a long illness. Most invalids, or handicapped persons, arrive at the conclusion that nothing in the world is so imoprtant as their own ailment, and this topic becomes the subject of a monologue that is told and retold, over and over, to each and every visitor. Heartless as it may seem, it becomes frankly boring and soon only the most pressing sense of obligation brings a visitor to the door. The invalid then has further cause for considering herself a martyr, and adds another complaint to an already burdened list.

It is hard to bear with an incapacitating affliction, or lasting illness, but for the sake of patient, family, and friends, cheerfulness must be the keynote of living.

When you do have a caller, keep conversation completely away from yourself. Discuss her problems, her family—even if necessary (and friendship can go no further) her diet !Show fervent interest in other people, and I assure you, they'll come back very soon.

You might also get in touch with the local association for the blind. Through them you will meet folks in circumstances similar to yours and you will also be aided in learning some handicrafts.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a young mother in my early twenties with two children, aged 3 and 1. I'm in love with a single man, who also loves me. What bothers me is, should I love my husband and children? I know my husband won't let me have the children. I seem to face unhappiness either way—living with my husband or living away from my children. My husband is a good provider. Is that more important than love?

TESS

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Being a good provider may not be better than love, but it certainly is more substantial. If you can, for a moment, tear yourself away from this absorbtion with "love," which seems to have kept you flitting from one man to another for most of your tender years, give a thought to your children. They need you and they deserve an unbroken home. Don't cheat them as you have cheated the men in your life, and as you will surely cheat yourself if you continue this restless pursuit of so-called happiness. You have a good husband. He's done his best for you; you do your best to make something of your marriage.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: Recently, after spending several weeks in a hospital after a major operation, I became very much attached to a student nurse, one of a number who attended me. She seemed to like me, and since my discharge I have been thinking of her constantly. She is 19, I am 21. I am now working and taking special courses so I may enter college in the fall. Though I don't have much time to go out, I would like her to know my feelings towards her, and wondered if it would be proper to send her some flowers.

BILL

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: You have a perfectly good excuse to send flowers to your little nurse. As a token of appreciation for her care during your illness, they would be quite proper.

Don't be discouraged if her response is not as euthusiastic as you might wish. Remember, nursing is a hard profession and she, too, may have little time for recreation.

Monotonous Diet For Many Greeks Years After War

By JOHN VAN DRUSEN

OTTAWA (CP)—Boiled leaves and beans with a pinch of salt—that's the monotonous diet for many in Greece, six years after the Second World War ended.

A grim picture of starvation and malnutrition in Northern Greece was unfolded here by Dr. Otta Hitschmanova, executive secretary of the Unitarian Services Committee in Canada. She had just returned from a two-months tour of battle-scarred Europe.

This was the sixth annual fact-finding visit for the red-haired social worker. She welcomed the press in a cubby-hole office swamped with letters from grateful mothers across Europe.

Along one wall were pinned pictures in crayon by children of these mothers, and by children without mothers.

In a small cabinet beside her desk, carefully wrapped in cellophane were two beautiful tablecloths embroidered and loomed by girls at the committee's training centres.

Main Interest Greece

The trim, uniformed woman described her 15,000 mile trip through France, Austria, Italy and Greece, but her main interest lay in the troubles of Northern Greece, where she said $30,000 "is needed now to help them."

Dr. Hitschmanova spent 12 days travelling through Grammos, Vitsi and Palas mountains in Northern Greece. She told of 700,000 refugees who returned home in 1949-50 to find 472 villages destroyed.

In one village the mayor said: "we would eat anything a little softer than rocks; our lives are in your hands."

She showed pictures of children, stomachs bloated with hunger—"because in many villages they are fed only one meal, consisting of boiled leaves and beans." She told of a woman who, for lack of anything better, was attempting to cultivate fields with an ax, and of a woman who had nothing but a loaf of bread between her and starvation.

Must Have Help Soon

"These people in Greece will surely die if aid does not come soon," she said.

The Unitarian Service is a voluntary relief organization now assisting victims of the Second World War in France, Austria, Italy and Greece. Help is given regardless of creed or nationality. Since 1946 the committee has shipped more than 1,000,000 pounds of supplies overseas.

Dr. Hitschmanova soon will leave on a cross-Canada speaking tour to raise funds to further the committee's work.

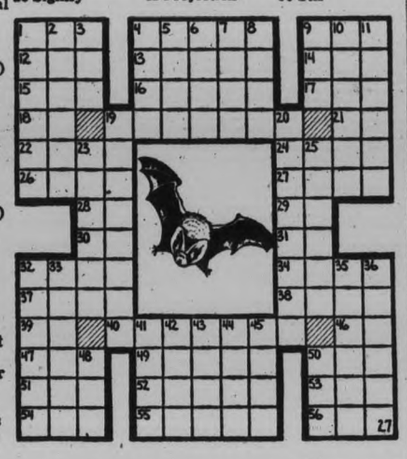
Answer to Previous Puzzle



MARY MOORE SAYS:

Pickle Season Has Arrived Plenty To Do In Kitchen

While you people all seem to be eager to make pickles, I'm trying to watch out the front door for Pete, who has crossed the major part of the continent in 57 hours. I had a telephone call from him at 7:30 a.m. saying he would be here at noon as he had only 200 miles more to cover. In view of the fact that he had his wallet stolen in a hotel room in Ontario, Oregon on Friday evening and had to wire him funds, it looks as if he had hitched a ride on a plane.

Well, back to pickles and my duty to my steady-going pickle-making readers.

✧ ✧ ✧

Salt Pickles (or cured or brine pickles)

Pickle manufacturers take this "curing" step to process cucumbers before they follow it with any other treatment.

Select small, very fresh cucumbers; wash and dry them and pack in a 4-gallon crock and cover with 6 quarts brine made by adding 1½ lbs. salt to 6 quarts water. Cover with a board to keep cucumbers submerged and keep in clean, cool place. At the end of the first week add ¼ lb. salt, and at end of each succeeding week for 5 weeks, add ¼ lb. salt, placing it on top of the covering board, where it will dissolve without coming into direct contact with the cucumbers. Ready to use in 2 months, when cucumbers take on a translucency and change color to an olive green. These will keep indefinitely if kept cool.

NOTE: In the curing process the brine becomes acid. To make acid test dip blue litmus paper in it. It will turn pink if brine is sufficiently acid.

Sweet Cucumber Pickles

Using pickles cured as described above, place them in a stone or glass jar; cover with 40 or 60-grain vinegar (this strength will be printed on the bottle) and let stand 10 days. Drain. Cover with a syrup made of 6 cups of the vinegar just drained from them, 2 cups sugar and 1 tablespoon each mace, whole cloves, and 2 tablespoons stick cinnamon. Boil this vinegar syrup 10 minutes, then pour over the pickles. Next morning drain off vinegar-syrup and boil 10 minutes, and again pour over pickles. Let stand 2 hours. Boil pickles at end of this 2-hour period for 10 minutes until they become clear and bright. Cool as quickly as possible in flat covered dishes; then pack into sterile jars and cover to overflowing with the spiced syrup and seal.

✧ ✧ ✧

Bread and Butter Pickles

Slice medium-sized washed and dried cucumbers paper-thin. Measure 1 gallon. Mix these with 8 small white onions sliced paper-thin, 2 shredded green peppers and ½ cup salt. Add enough ice that when it melts they will be nearly submerged and let stand 3 hours. Drain thoroughly. Bring to boiling point 5 cups each sugar, and vinegar, 1½ teaspoons turmeric, ½ teaspoon cloves, 2 teaspoons mustard seed, 1 teaspoon celery seed, then add the sliced vegetables and bring to boiling point again quickly. Let simmer about 4 minutes, but do not let cook until cucumbers soften at all. Pack immediately into sterile jars and seal. This is a very popular pickle.

I would be grateful if readers would let me know what pickle recipes they would like to see in this column.

MOVIE COLUMN

Top Model Once Severe Polio Cripple

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 27 (AP)—Mari Blanchard, recently New York's top model of bathing suits and now a promising movie starlet, was walking down a studio street and evoking whistles from admiring males.

"You'd never suspect," remarked a bystander, "that she was once crippled by polio."

Mari, a vivacious, shapely girl who has all the physical assets for Hollywood stardom, told me her story as we lunched at the Brown Derby.

"I was nine when polio struck," she related. "I was paralyzed below the hips, in my right arm and the right side of my face. My mother—thank God—was a physical therapist and she had been working for years on the treatment of polio along the same lines as Sister Kenny. She wouldn't let the doctors put me in a cast. Instead, she started me exercising.

"She drew a line along the ceiling of my room and told me to imagine I was a soldier marching along the line. She had me chew three and four packs of gum at a time, to keep the facial muscles working. She bought a small canvas pool, put it in the back yard and gave me massages in it.

Muscles Working

"Everything was designed to keep the muscles working. Her theory was that whatever part of the body we do not use will wither and die."

"In a couple of years, I had recovered enough to start learning to walk again. First I had two crutches, then one, then I walked unaided. My mother told me: 'You have two legs, use them!' in three years I was back in school."

At first she was intent on a career in international law and studied at university. She decided she had to earn a living and got work with an import firm as file clerk. But she was earning more money in part-time modeling work and decided to hit the big time—New York.

Bubble Bath Torture

Once she suffered all day through a bubble bath while posing for a photographic ad. The photographer cheered her with: "This job will get you a movie offer: the ad will be printed in the Hollywood trade papers."

He was right, she left the sniffles behind to take a Paramount contract. After a year of nothing but taking lessons, she left the studio and is now freelancing. She has done two films at Columbia. "10 Tall Men" and "The Brigand."

Her success is due to her mother's words: " never give in to polio."

What's Right?

A weekend guest is packing to leave.

WRONG: She hurriedly packs her bag and tells her hostess, "If I leave anything you can mail it on."

RIGHT: She pack carefully, so that he doesn't leave any of her possession behind for her hotess to have to go to the trouble of wrapping an dmailing.

Shower-Proof Material Shaken Dry

BRADFORD, England (CP)—A shake is all that's needed to dry the latest thing here in shower-proof clothing.

Materials treated with a new process, developed by the Bradford Dyers' Association, should banish the old bugbear—a waterproof carried over the arm. Dresses can be processed for only a few shillings, and stand up to a cloudburst.

"The scientists turned a hose-pipe on the dress I was wearing," said a girl tester. "They gave me a thorough drenching but after a few shakes, and a wriggle, there wasn't a damp spot or a crease anywhere."

It's handy too for the latest cocktail and evening dress. If someone spills a drink, it can be shaken off with a smile. And the proofing is not affected by dry-cleaning. Garments were tested six successive times.

Only limited supplies of the materials are reaching the market at present as processing depends on import of a short-supply chemical. Scientists, however, hope supplies will be adequate by spring.

"Notice any difference in the tea, Jane?"
"I sure do, it's Mother Parker's, isn't it?"
"Yes, but come now, Betty, you couldn't really tell."
"Oh, yes, I could! Didn't I have my family after me for a month to get Mother Parker's for them?"
"Well—I was a long time coming to it—but one day John was shopping with me. He picked up a package of Mother Parker's—read the money back guarantee printed right on the label. 'Here,' said he, 'let's try Mother Parker's—we can't lose.'"
"And are you glad you did try it?"
"I'll say I am—Mother Parker's is simply delicious—we rave about it to everybody."

Your Garden:

Charming Christmas Rose Gives Garden a Lift

By HENRY PREE,
NEA Service.

The Christmas rose is an unusual perennial, desirable for its attractive evergreen leaves and interesting early blooms. If you are contemplating adding some to your garden, now is the time to order them.

Botanically listed as helleborus niger latifolius, it is a member of the buttercup family and in no way a rose as we consider roses.

Since blooms appear in winter, many fascinating stores have been written associating them with the Christmas holiday. One of the best is Selma Lagerlof's "Legend of the Christmas Rose."

The divided foliage now is bright green, providing an excellent ground cover for a shady situation. The Christmas rose is one of the few plants asking for real shade, ample water in summer, and lots of sun during the winter months.

The large alluring white flowers, with prominent yellowish stamens, resemble those of the anemone or some of the wild roses. If the flowers are wanted for cutting plants should be grown in the cold frame. If it is desired to force them for indoor or greenhouse use, strong specimens should be potted and brought indoors before frost time.

The flowers last well when cut.

The Christmas rose is ideal for dooryard gardens, planted in groups among ground covers such as ivy, myrtle or pachysandra. They are delightful used in the foreground of a planting where they can be seen from the house windows.

An expert grower of Christmas roses says that three or four years are required to produce a saleable plant. Once established they require little care and no cultivation and should be left severely alone, as they resent being disturbed.

Healthy plants go to make large and abundant flowers; blooms measuring over three and one-half inches across on stems eight to 10 inches high are not rare. It is wonderful to see old plants carrying 100 or more flowers and buds surrounded by a luxuriant growth of the ever green leaves.

A moist and sheltered position is best for the Christmas rose, at the north side of the house or at the edge of shrubbery where the foliage provides shade but does not exclude light. Do not plant too close to tree roots.

Coming as they do at a time when there are no other flowers outdoors, Christmas roses are heartily welcome.

Gardening Questions

Q—How can I get rid of toadstools infesting the lawn — and where do they come from?—G.A.

A—Toadstools and mushrooms develop during moist, warm weather from some decaying organic matter in the soil. It could be that a rotted tree stump is the cause. Loosen the soil in the infested area with a spading fork and soak the ground with a Bordeaux mixture. Apply the solution three times at weekly intervals.

* * *

Q—When should seed of foxglove, Canterbury bells, sweet williams and other biennials be sown?—L.K.

A—July and early August are considered the best times. This gives a fairly long season to produce good-sized plants for blooming the following year. Hollyhocks, for extra-heavy plants, are best sown in June; but pansies and forget-me-nots are best sown in August as very large plants of these may winter-kill.

* * *

Q—My perennial Baby's Breath grows and the foliage is beautiful until it begins blooming. Then, instead of being white, it appears grey. Can you tell me what causes this and what can be done to remedy it?—S.G.

A—Baby's Breath is a lime lover and it is possible your soil is too acid. Try applying ground limestone to the soil in the vicinity of your plants at the rate of ½ pound per square yard and cultivate it well into the soil.

Seek Two Men Trapped In Cave

RAVE, Wales, Aug. 27 (AP) — Relays of rescue workers searched huge Ogof Ffyddu cave today for two men trapped underground by the flash flood of a subterranean river.

There was a chance that four other men might have been caught deep in the earth with the missing pair two days ago.

Those known to be inside were Lewis Railton, 40, one of the foremost speleologists—cave research workers—in Britain, and William Little, 30. Both are members of the Birmingham Cave and Crag Society.

They went into the cave, which was discovered two years ago, Saturday morning. Mrs. Railton waited nearby for their return.

Soon after Railton and Little went underground, four young men asked Mrs. Railton about the cave. She did not notice whether they went inside.

An hour later a cloudburst struck the area and the river Byfyre, which flows into the cave, rose sharply.

When Railton and Little failed to reappear, Mrs. Railton went for help.

Singing Mayor Has New Style

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask (CP)—Mayor J. M. Cuelenaere sang "If you've got the money, honey, I've got the time" to resources Minister Winters at a recent banquet.

The mayor jokingly adopted the new approach in a reference to civic attempts to get certain construction projects approved by the federal government.

Mr. Winters replied it was a "beautiful sentiment," but he was glad the mayor had left the word "if" in the serenade. "It's all a matter of taxes," the federal minister said. "You know how the people like to pay additional taxes."

The first American Civil War battle was a victory for the Confederates at Fort Sumter, SC, in 1861.

Ash Tree Saves Car In Fall, Driver Escapes

HASTINGS, Aug. 27 (ENS).—A six-inch ash tree brought to a halt the wild flight of a late model car just as it was about to topple over a five-foot bank. The car had gone out of control and flipped over on its side rounding a curve on a narrow side road two and a half miles west of Hastings, late Saturday afternoon.

William Lown, Toronto, the driver and only occupant of the car, stepped out without a scratch.

A call for assistance was put through to Sullivan's garage at Hastings, but before they could act they had to await the arrival of Provincial Police.

Mr. Lown hiked a ride to Hastings, and was waiting at the garage when OPP Constable Erskine arrived.

As the police car stopped at the garage, Mr. Lown approached and after one look, Constable Erskine said "been drinking."

"Had a couple," Mr. Lown replied.

"Never met one yet that had more than two," the constable said in a tone of disgust, as he stepped from the car. "Well, what happened?"

Lown then went on to explain the details to the officer. He had met a man in the hotel at Hastings and had agreed to drive him home. He only lived a couple miles out the road. The journey was successful one way, but on the return trip he had forgotten the details of the road as it was his first time over it. Just as he broke over a hill he came upon a sharp curve. The car was unable to navigate it and flipped over on its side, sliding into the little ash tree which stopped it from a further drop as it wedged against the windshield.

Constable Erskine advised him that if he had been found in the car he would have been charged with drunk driving.

Ask Truman Take Over Copper Industry

DENVER, Colo., Aug. 27 (AP) —The Independent International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers announced early today that it has asked President Truman to take over the copper industry.

The announcement came a few minutes after mediation talks in Washington broke up after more than 12 hours of continuous peace talks.

The union also announced that a countrywide strike of some 58,000 of its members in the non-ferrous metals industry will begin as scheduled at 7 a.m., local time, today.

The union said it asked presidential action "to end the strike scheduled to begin this morning and to stabilize conditions in the industry."

The IUMMSW said it wired the president a request to "use his good offices," to secure acceptance of a wage and contract settlement proposed by Cyrus Ching, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

To Avert Strike

A smelter workers' statement reported that the proposal was made at a Washington meeting aimed at averting a strike by it and AFL unions at the Kennecott Copper Company in Utah.

The terms of the government peace offer, expected to set a pattern for averting the strike or settling it, were disclosed for the first time by the union.

The smelter workers said Ching proposed wage increases averaging 16 cents an hour and a pension plan costing about 4½ cents an hour.

In Washington, mediation service officials said the meeting broke up after Kennacott officials turned down the government peace offer.

All UK Personnel Evacuated To Abadan

ABADAN, Iran, Aug. 27 (AP)—Evacuation of British personnel from the South Iranian oil fields ended today with the arrival here of field manager Peter Cox.

Britain ordered the men to leave the fields and concentrate at the Abadan refinery when negotiations over Iran's nationalization of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company's properties broke down.

Cox said the "evacuation was completed smothly and without a hitch . . . There was no hostility and the senior Persians (Iranians) seemed genuinely distressed . . . Everyone was extremely friendly and all were under the impression we would be back again shortly."

Great Turf Tales Revived By Ross' Death

TORONTO—(CP)—He was a tall man, conservatively dressed in a dark suit, homburg hat and black leather gloves. He often carried a cane and smoked cigarettes in a long white holder.

He donated money with a lavish hand, but he made money too, in the business world and at the race track. Like many others However in the end he couldn't "beat the horses".

He was a quiet man who did not explain his actions. He donated $500,000 to patriotic fund during the First World War, served as a destroyer commander and as captain of his own yacht on coastal duties as a torpedo vessel.

That was where he got the title Commander J. K. L. Ross. He is remembered for his place in the business world as director of various companies. But the racing world will long remember him as one of Canada's most colorful sportsmen.

The Montrealer won more money than any other stable owners on United States tracks in 1918 and 1919. It was in 1919 that his horse Sir Barton won the Kentucky derby, the Preakness and Belmont stakes, first triple crown winner in American racing history and the only Canadian horse ever to achieve this feat.

Went Bankrupt

The generous capitalist, son of one of the founders of the Canadian Pacific Railway, officially went bankrupt in 1928. It was the end of an inheritance that Ross, born in Lindsay, once estimated at "scarcely more than $11,000,000."

His creditors were a syndicate dealing in blooded horses.

From that time he had faded from the public view until his death last month at the age of 75 at his adopted home in Jamaica, where his ashes were buried beneath the water of Montego Bay.

Bigesh Canadian Bettor

His death served to revive fabulous tales of the track.

Milt Dunnell, sports editor of the Toronto Daily Star, quoted Tom Bird, famous clocker, as saying that Ross "bet more money than any Canadian ever bet." Bird was trainer of the Ross stable at one time.

Dunnell recalled that the Commander once tried to set a reporter right on the matter of his wealth. Ross was asked if it was true that his father left him $14,000,000. The commander protested that, all things considered, his inheritance was "scarcely more" than $11,000,000.

Ross also wanted to correct a common belief that his racing stable cost him large sums. Dunnell remembers that Ross estimated it hadn't cost him more than $60,000 per pear over a seven-year period.

Could Run

Owen McGillicuddy, a veteran reporter with the Toronto Globe and Mail, is quoted in sports editor Jim Vipond's column as saying the one horse in Ross' stable that he liked to recall was Billy Kelly. "You never saw a scrawnier-looking beast," says McGillicuddy. "It was small, shaggy, never groomed properly, but it could run.

"Billy Kelly was left at the post in its first start but won its second race by three or four lengths. People thought there was something funny about that race but changed their tune as he developed into one of the fastest sprinters ever to race in this century."

Sports columnist Jim Coleman tells of the time, before the running of the Kentucky Derby in 1919, when the late Abe Orpen of Toronto received a cable from Cmdr. Ross saying "Bet $20,000 my entry sp."

The "sp" puzzled Abe so he telephoned a big New York bookie who had received a similar cable. The two decided it meant to bet $20,000 straight and $20,000 place. They did and Sir Barton paid $7.20 to win and $6.70 for place. His stable-mate Billy Kelly ran second.

Orpen prepared to pay the commander $99,000 through a Montreal agent but Ross said "nonsense. Those letters sp represent the English abbreviation of the words 'starting price.' I intended only to bet $20,000 to win."

And at the commander's insistence, Orpen and the New York bookie divided the $47,000 profit on the place tickets.

Jockey Replaced

But the commander's most surprising action came in 1920 when he took the jockey Damon Runyon immortalized as the "handy guy named Sande" off Sir Barton just before he ran against Man o'War at the old Kenilworth Jockey Club in Windsor, Ont., for $80,000 and Orpen's $5,000 gold cup.

Earl Sande, contract rider for the Ross stable, was flabbergasted when Willie Keogh replaced him. Cmdr. Ross released him from his contract. As it turned out, Man o'War beat Sir Barton by seven lengths.

Despite the fame Sir Barton won, the Commander said Hallucination was his greatest love, Cudgel was another and Boniface and Marine.

"Mr. Ross told me one day he had bet $10,000 on Cudgel at Saratoga," trainer Bird recalled. "He won by a nose."

2 More Sailors Down With Polio

HALIFAX, Aug. 27 — (CP).—Two more crew members of the aircraft carrier Magnificent have been stricken with poliomyelitis, a naval spokesman announced on Sunday night.

AB Jack Goodfellow of Trenton, and AB Albert Hatfield of Truro, NS, bring to five the number admitted to David Bruce Military Hospital in Malta since the Mediterranean cruise began August 7.

Both were reported in "favorable" condition.

Others admitted to hospital were LS N. M. Marner of Toronto, AB T. D. Lawrence of Burycompton, Que., and OS Samuel B. Pretty of Cornerbrook, Nfld.

The Magnificent, Canada's largest warship, is on a 2½ month cruise with naval forces in the Mediterranean area.

Ragweed Invades North Ontario

TORONTO, Aug. 27 (CP)—The Ontario Department of Agriculture said today that Northern Ontario, once a haven for hay fever suffers, is fast being invaded by ragweed.

K. E. Fallis, fieldman for the department's crops branch, said that if the weed's spread remains unchecked, it may cost the province many thousands of dollars of tourists' money.

Mr. Fallis said that if tourists know ragweed is around, it may tend to keep them away, particularly in late summer.

He suggested cultivation as the best means of controlling the pest, blamed for 80 per cent of the hay fever suffering in Ontario. Unseeded stubble fields should be cultivated immediately following harvest, and cultivation continued as late as possible.

Says Prince Philip Frowns On Crew-Cut

TORONTO—(CP)—Leslie Higgins, Liverpool-born barber, says the Duke of Edinburgh likes his hair "A bit long, but neat."

And it suits him perfectly, says the 45-year-old hair snipper. He should know—he cut the Duke's hair in England for 14 years.

Higgins, once barber to the Duke of Kent and the Duke of Gloucester, and to King Carol of Romania and Paul of Yugoslavia, now is working in a Toronto Barber shop.

He plans to offer his services to the Duke during the Royal tour in October.

"It would be nice to get back to the artistic side of hair-cutting," he says. 'Canadians just jump into the chair and shout: 'Short, front and back.'"

Cricket Clubs Enjoy Unique Match

By C. H. IRESON

A type of civil war in the cricket match at the Oval Saturday when the two teams forming the Peterborough-Whitaker Club met in play. A team of players interested in the century-old Peterborough Club met a team of the Whitaker Club or adherents and it proved quite a success, ending in a win for the Whitaker team by 71 to 37.

The Peterborough troop fared badly batting against Archie Hamilton and Frank Dyer, only a newcomer, R. Olssen, a lefthanded batsman, hitting freely for 19. Archie Hamilton won five wickets for 14, and Frank Dyer had four for 21. The latter played for Peterborough in 1924, was captain in 1926 and again in 1931, to hold the office for 18 consecutive years until the local clubs amalgamated.

An oldtime veteran on the Peterborough side was Gordon Langley, president in 1925, with R. N. Stuart vice-president and Charlie Thorpe captain.

Whitaker's fared badly at first against Peterborough and lost six wickets for 29 runs. Then R. Dyer joined A. Hamilton, who had gone in No. 4 and the pair took the score to 39 on a winning total when Dyer was out for a valuable eight. Jack Wild (13) joined Hamilton and they took the total to 71, leaving Hamilton with a match-winning score of 21 not out. The most successful bowler was R. Nolan with five wickets for 17. The scoring:

Peterborough — Batting: F. Booth 2, S. Jennings 5, W. Freeman 0, R. Passey 2, R. Fraser 7, R. Olssen 19, G. R. Langley 0, B. Nolan 0, K. Illingworth 0, C. Boardman 0, R. Harvey 0 not out; extras 2; total 37. Fall of wickets: 1 for 5, 2 for 5, 3 for 7, 4 for 11, 5 for 35, 6 for 36, 7, 8, 9 and 10 for 37. Bowling: F. Dyer 4 for 21, A. Hamilton 5 for 14.

Whitakers—Batting: H. Dibben 6, D. Pagett 0, A. Laboval 5, A. Hamilton 22 not out, D. Dyer 0, F. Dyer 3, G. Haig 2, R. Dyer 8, J. Wild 13, R. Harding 0, A. Driscoll did not bat; extras 12; total 71. Fall of wickets: 1 for 5, 2 for 15, 3 for 15, 4 for 18, 5 for 24, 6 for 29, 7 for 39, 8 for 70, 9 for 71. Bowling: C. Boardman 1 for 9, B. Nolan 5 for 17, F. Booth 2 for 12, K. Illingworth 0 for 16, R. Olssen 1 for 5.

Two Chess Finalists Each Have 3 Points

VANCOUVER, Aug. 27 (CP)—Miervaldis Jursevskis, young Vancouver player, today was even with Frank Yerhoff of Regina in the leadership of the Canadian chess championship here.

With play starting in the fifth round today, both have compiled three points each.

Jursevskis has three wins, while Yerhoff has two victories and two draws.

In an adjourned match last night, W. Holowach, of Edmonton, resigned to Jursevskis on the 63rd move. In the only other match, defending champion Maurice Fox, of Montreal, resigned to Dr. N. Divinsky, Winnipeg, on the 65th move.

Police Raid Park Seize Red Magazines

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 27 (CP) — Provincial Police seized a magazine entitled "The Soviet Union" Sunday night when they walked in on a picnic meeting at Springbank Park here.

Acting on a report of the Communist gathering at the park, Provincial Constable C. E. Mitchell found about 50 persons holding a picnic discussion and in possession of a large amount of literature.

The group, mostly imigrants from Central Europe, police said, told Mitchell they were the "labor picnic committee" holding an annual event. Police took their names but did not interfere.

While Touring France Ontario Boys Killed

AMIENS, France, Aug. 27 — (CP)—George Wilson, 20, of Toronto, and eGrald Ross-Riddel, 21, of Walkerton, Ont., were killed near Abbeville Saturday when a truck swerved into their motorcycle, police announced last night.

The two youths, who had recently been living in London, were on a motorcycle tour of France. According to a witness, the truck barged into the road without a signal and hit the Canadians' motorcycle, throwing the two against a wall.

Police are holding the driver on a manslaughter charge.

Here And There In Sports

By The Canadian Press

It appears unlikely the Russians will set the world afire when they join Olympic competition next year at Helsinki unless they come up with stronger teams than they presented at the world youth student games here this month.

In the track and field, the Soviet's best bets appear to be their women—especially the muscular gals in the shot put and javelin throw.

The festival managers announced 43 "world student records" were established during the East Berlin games, most of them by Russians. But all the men's track marks at the festival are well below the Olympic records.

Some of the Russian women, however, were credited with performances which shade existing Olympic records.
